Mental depression, headache, and nervous debility, are speedly remedied by that excellent blood purifying tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters. The Editor of the Mitchell Recorder states, that he was cured of biliousness, liver derangement, and sick headache, by the use of this medicine. 20-2t

Cingalese is the name of a widely and favourably known hair restorer which is not recommended to do utterly impossible things, but then nothing is better for keeping the hair in good condition and restoring it when lost. If the scalp is capable of being toned up, to exert its proper functions, sold at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists. 19-8t

It is reported at Washington that the British Minister has received papers containing the full charges against Tynan, Sheridan and Walsh; and that Tynan will turn informer under a promise of immunity, and expose certain irregularities in connection with the use made of the Land League funds that were a violation of the neutrality laws.

"He that prays harm for his neighbor, begs a curse upon himself." He that recommends Kidney-Wort to his sick neighbor brings a blessing rich and full both to his neighbor and to himself. Habitual costiveness is the bane of nearly every American woman. Every woman owes it to herself and to her family to use the celebrated medicine, Kidney-Wort.

The States of Illinois and Wisconsin have been visited by a terribly destructive cyclone, which has wiped out hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property, and destroyed scores of lives. In the former State, so far as known, over sixty persons were killed, while Wisconsin, where a portion of the town of Racine was laid in ruins, has a somewhat similar showing.

PERFECT, POSITIVE and PERMANENT are the cures effected by DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Relief in all cases of Kidney Disease is obtained after a few doses. See that your Druggist gives you DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Sold bs J. McKee, Peterborough. 19-8t

The Editor of the Grand River Sachem says:—"We are usually sparing in our encomiums towards patent medicines, but observation and enquiry has satisfied us that the preparation of Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., styled 'Burdock Blood Bitters,' as a blood purifying tonic is worthy of the high reputation it has established among the people." 20-2t

Six persons have been arrested at Ballina, Ireland, on a charge of threatening to murder landlords, the evidence on which the charge was based having been furnished, it is believed, by an informer. An infernal machine and a quantity of firearms were also seized.

A MAD MURDER.

A SON SLAYS THE SIRE.

A shocking murder was committed on Saturday evening near Williamsford station, in the county of Gray. The victim was a farmer named George Lambert, who was deliberately shot in the back by his son as he was washing his hands. A second shot was subsequently fired by the murderer, who then dragged his father's body into the garden, and began to make preparations to bury it. He was subsequently arrested, and a coroner's jury returned a verdict of "wilful murder" against him.

A TERRIBLE STRAIN.

Mr. David Lee, Derby, N. B., remarks as follows, the cause and cure of a sore back; "Some three years ago I was injured in the back by prying a rock out of the ground. The strain was so severe that I was confined to bed from its effect and for a year was unable to do anything. It was not until I had lost all hope that I resorted to Dr. Dow's Sarsaparilla Of Lisgar, and through its use I was completely cured and able to resume work."

Charlatans and Quacks

Have long plied their vocation on the suffering pedals of the people. The knife has paved to the quick; caustic applications have tormented the victim of corns until the conviction shaped itself—there's no cure. PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR proves on what a slender basis public opinion often rests. If you suffer from corns get the Extractor and you will be satisfied. Sold everywhere. N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Proprietors.

Thousands Say So.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaint. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.

If your druggist does not keep the remedy, send to headquarters and get the medicine by mail. Circulars and testimonials on application. 20-2t

Phosphates, very early in the history of medicine, have been esteemed of the greatest value in consumption and scrofula, diseases closely allied in their nature. They supply phosphorus to increase nerve force, and lime for the repair of ulceration or caries and necrosis of the joints and long bones; and in spinal troubles, especially rickets, they are of more service than all other medicines in use. In Wheelers' Phosphates and Caliaaya we have the most eligible form of these tissue elements yet orginated.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City

Rest and Comfort to the Suffering.

"BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA" has no equal for relieving pain, both internal and external. It cures Pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, Lumbago and any kind of a Pain or Ache. "It will most surely quicken the Blood and Heal, as its acting power is wonderful." "Brown's Household Panacea," being acknowledged as the great Pain Reliever, and of double the strength of any other Elixir or Liniment in the world, should be in every family, handy for use when wanted, "as it really is the live best remedy in the world for Cramps in the stomach, and Pains and Aches of all kinds," and is for sale by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle. 8-1y

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.—In these times of quack medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters will do as recommended. They invariably cure stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor and McDonald. 44-tf.

ROANTREE'S

GRIST MILLS,

NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

Nashville Students.

The celebrated plantation singers, the original "Nashville Students," will give one of their unique and delightful concerts in Bradburn's Hall, on Friday evening, June 1st. The weird sweetness of their rendition of plantation melodies is charmingly fine. The following testimony to their excellence is to be depended on:—

"ORANGEVILLE, May 18, 1883.

"We have pleasure in recommending the original Nashville Students to the favorable consideration of any party thinking of engaging them. Their concert here last night was one of the most popular ever given in our town. The bass and tenor voices are seldom excelled, and the soprano and alto are very fair. No one need be afraid of a "sell." Everybody was satisfied.

"On behalf of Presbyterian Choir."

A Thespian Treat.

Our play-going citizens enjoyed a rare dramatic treat in the performances presented in the Opera House on Thursday and Monday nights, by Madison Square Theatre Companies. The dramas were, "Esmeralda" and "Hazel Kirk." The plays were of thoroughly first-class order, both as to mounting and presentation. The scenery brought by the company was most effective. The performances were chaste and unexceptionable, and withal, so full of life, pathos, refined fun, and ran so smoothly throughout, that no more delighted audiences than the large ones of Thursday and Monday nights, ever left Bradburn's Opera House at the close of a theatrical performance. Madison Square companies are sure of a warm welcome whenever they come to Peterborough.

Confederation Life Association.

We have received the report of the proceedings of the eleventh annual meeting, which presents a most satisfactory showing of the operations and standing of the company, both in the interest of investors and assurers. During the past year the company issued 1,513 new policies, representing assurance to the amount of $2,510,337, and declined 114 risks, aggregating $216,000. The year closed with 6,357 policies, representing $9,909,246.19, in force. The cash account shows that $102,552.42, was paid to policy holders as profits. The safety of the investments of insurers is eminently shown, by the fact that they have a security of $142,898.87 over all liabilities. This substantial company is represented in Peterborough by Mr. Wm. Ross, as general agent.

It will be noticed in referring to the Midland Railway traffic returns, published elsewhere, that the line has recovered from the set-back of last winter's stormy season, and that the aggregate traffic has left the siding of deficit and shunted on the main line of surplus with an increase of nearly $2,000 over the corresponding period of last year.

The Canoe Association Meeting.

A meeting of the general reception committee was held on Tuesday night. About a dozen names were added to the general committee, which was subdivided into the following six committees: Finance and Membership; Music and Entertainment; Commissariat; Intelligence; Preliminary Works; Transport. These committees are to report to the general reception committee at a meeting to be held June 5th.

A Grevious Affliction.

Rev. Mr. Best, pastor of the Baptist Church here, has sustained a most grievous affliction in the death of his wife, which event took place at Chatham on Sunday last. About a month since Rev. Mr. Best went west to bring his wife to her new home, but death anticicipated him. In his bereavement the reverend gentleman has the heartfelt sympathy and earnest prayers of his flock here, to which even in his short acquaintanceship, he has deeply endeared himself.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

The Water-Works.

At the last meeting of the Town Council some of the members showed a disposition to depart from the promises made last January to the electors, and by virtue of which their election was secured. It seems that the by-law is the standpoint from which all dealings with the water-works company should be regarded by the people's representatives. Any private citizen, or set of citizens, can secure the services of the company by petition, payment to be made by a local tax. But the Council should set its face resolutely against any local interest being served at the expense of the general ratepayers unless the latter give their assent thereto by their votes.

Relics of the Red Man.

Last Wednesday afternoon some workmen digging post holes for Mrs. Watts, corner of Aylmer and Sherbrooke streets, unearthed a quantity of human bones, evidently those of the noble red man. Further excavation disclosed half a dozen skulls, several other bones and aboriginal ornaments of bone, including fish spears, bone heads, etc., etc. One of the skulls, that of a full grown Indian, contained the full complement of teeth; every blessed molar was as sound as a new dollar, showing that poor Lo was a stranger to—besides other blessings of civilization—the toothache. Mr. Jas. Stevenson has possession of most of the relics, and will present them to the Mechanics' Institute. If permission could be got to develop this dry bones mine, many valuable curiosities might be found.

Peterborough Boating Club.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of this Club was held in the club rooms on Friday night. There were present: the President, Mr. Lewis, in the chair, Rev. Mr. Clementi, Messrs. W. H. Badden, Secretary, N. D. Beck, E. B. Edwards, Captain, K. G. Loch, J. E. Hawkins, F. G. Cox, George Stevenson, John McClelland, R. E. Wood, E. Pearce, C. S. Shaw and R. B. Tait.

Rev. Mr. Clementi said it was impossible for him to pass by the resolution he begged to move, which was expressive of the regret of the Club at the sad accident that removed the late George C. Rogers from the rolls of the Club, and was also a tribute to the sterling qualities that had endeared him to every member.

Capt. Edwards, in seconding the resolution, said it was no formal one, but came from the hearts of the movers, who felt that George Rogers could not be replaced. They who had known him so well, could bear witness to his indefatigable exertions for the welfare of the Club. His assistance was always ready, and he could always be depended on. When he knew work had to be done he went on and did it, and in every way he was an invaluable member of the Club, and it was only fitting that such a resolution should be adopted heartily.

Capt. Edwards presented his report for the year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected:
President—Rev. Mr. Clementi.
Vice-President—R. E. Wood.
Secretary—C. S. Shaw.
Treasurer—A. Elliott.
Capt. of Club (re-elected)—E. B. Edwards.
Executive Committee.—Messrs. F. J. Lewis, W. H. Budden, John McClelland and J. E. Hawkins.
Rowing Committee (to assist the Captain).—Messrs. W. H. Budden, C. S. Shaw, A. Elliott and G. M. Roger.

Thirteen new members were elected.

Commodore Edwards cordially invited the members of the Club to join the Canoe Association, and cultivate canoeing.

Cricket.

There was nothing done at the meeting on Tuesday night, which was adjourned till Tuesday evening next, May 29th, at Messrs. Hatton & Beck's offices.

Confirmation Services.

At the confirmation services at Keene last Sunday His Lordship, Bishop Jamot, administered the rite to 53 candidates. Next Sunday he goes to Downeyville.

Robust Beef.

On Wednesday Mr. Joshua Smithson, of Otonabee, delivered to Mr. Wainwright, a four year old bull which weighed 2,545 lbs. The animal was a half brother to the 2,400 lbs. bull recently sold by Mr. Collins, and judges say he was not so fat, but that by extra feeding his weight might be increased by 300 to 500 lbs.

Obituary.

We regret to chronicle the death at the age of 79 years of Mr. Matthew Boyce, one of the pioneer settlers of Smith, which took place on Wednesday, May 16th. Deceased who came to Smith from Port Hope forty-two years ago, was one of the most respected residents of that place. He was a life long Reformer. He leaves behind him a widow, two sons—Chas. and Stephen—and one daughter, Mrs. Copeland.

Sproule's Studio.

The additions and improvements made to this previously first-class studio, this spring, calling for an expenditure of about $2,000, make it one of the best establishments of the kind in Canada. From the entrance to the operating room, on the third flat, the visitor is led through increasingly attractive surroundings. On the second floor are the office, finishing rooms and gentlemen's dressing rooms. On the third floor the operating room is fitted up superbly. A bright Brussels carpet covers the floor, 15 x 32 feet. The upper half of the north wall is of glass, set at such an angle with the sky-light, occupying half the ceiling, that the light is so combined that on the darkest day there is sufficient for operating purposes. The window ledge, the whole length of the room, is filled with rare hot house flowers, and all the appointments of the apartment are of the first order. Off this, is the ladies' dressing room Brussels carpeted, and furnished with walnut in green rep, with a seven feet plate pier glass. The dark room is clean and neat as a tea table, supplied with "city water," and everything is in the best condition for turning out the superior work for which this studio is noted. The camera is also of the latest improved make, and, in fine, nothing is wanting to make Sproule's studio a complete and well-equipped establishment for producing the finest specimens of the photographic art.

The Cow Nuisance.

The dilatory course of our Town Council in not enforcing the cow by-law, which nominally came in force last January, is more a matter of sorrow than surprise. The damage done the streets and private premises by these vaccine vagrants is very great. Boulevards are trampled out of shape, ornamental and shade trees are destroyed, lawns are invaded, and the work of years of some tasteful citizen in beautifying his premises, is often laid low in a single night. The street walks are rendered in places—not few nor infrequent—intolerably filthy. Where it is in the interest of one ratepayer to make a cow pasture of the public streets, it is in the interest of fifty that they be restrained. If any ratepayer should so conduct himself on the public streets as to make himself such a nuisance as the vagrant cow, he would be summarily brought before the Police Magistrate and fined. How much better is a cow than a man! It is to be hoped that the Council will deal promptly with the matter. The easiest way is the best way, and the Council will, by enforcing the present cow by-law, prevent the citizens from being to compelled to enforce section 95 of cap. 165 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario. This section forbids cattle to run at large on any public highway within half a mile of any railway crossing. This will apply pretty well to the whole town. Enforcement of the by-law will not be persecuting the "poor man's cow," for it appears that it is not the poor man's cow that does the most damage. The most obnoxious bovine bummer is the cow of the rich man, who is able to furnish pasturage for his animals without sponging on the grass of the boulevards or lawns of his neighbor.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Thomas Beavis on Saturday last was taken suddenly and seriously ill, but he is in a fair way to recovery.

Mr. Albert Shaw, of Pilot Mound, Manitoba, pleasantly surprised his friends by an unexpected arrival in town on a visit on Monday night.

Mr. N. Shaw, of Charlotte street returned home on Saturday night from Parry Harbour, where he has been employed the past seven months superintending the erection of extensive saw mills at that place.

A SUCCESSFUL PASTOR.

Sixty members have recently been added to the Queen-street Primitive Methodist Church, Toronto, of which Rev. T. W. Jolliffe is pastor. The income for the past quarter was the largest in the history of the church. All claims were met and a balance remains on hand. The sum of $100 was added to the minister's salary. On Sunday last Mr. Jolliffe preached the anniversary sermon for the Oddfellows in the Presbyterian church at Weston. A good collection was given for the benefit of the W. & O. fund.

A Popular Pastor.

The numerous friends of the Rev. R. N. Willoughby in this town, will be pleased to learn that he has so successfully and satisfactorily conducted the affairs of his Brampton pastorate, that the fact of his term being likely to close there this year, has evoked lively expressions of regard. Last Tuesday evening, we learn by a Brampton exchange, the congregation of Rev. Mr. Willoughby presented him with a handsome Persian lamb overcoat and a purse of $100 as a token of the high esteem in which they hold him, and his much appreciated services as their pastor. The gifts were accompanied by most affecting address, setting forth the many good qualities that had so deeply endeared to reverend gentleman to his flock. Complimentery remarks were also made by ministers of other denominations, and the whole occasion was a striking demonstration of Rev. Mr. Willoughby's popularity, and a telling tribute to his worth as a christian minister.

BORN IN BONDS.

On Thursday morning says the Kingston Whig, there was an unusual occurrence in the Kingston Penitentiary—the birth of a child. The mother, Mrs. Elliott, was convicted some six months ago of larceny, and hails from Lindsay. In ten years not more than four or five births have occurred in the penitentiary, all children being kept in it until the expiry of their mothers' terms. Baby Elliott is said to be very pretty.

THE REGISTRARSHIP STILL UNAWARDED

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Truth is a SOLID FACT, more solid than the granite rock; it is the richest coin of the purest metal, free from alloy of every description, the shaft of envy will not deface it; neither will the shots of prejudice enter it. It is surrounded on all sides by a thousand foes; but each and all, without exception, are mute beneath its piercing glance. It is a fact, as solid as the above, that

W. J. DEVLIN'S

Reputation as the leading harness maker of Peterborough, is as immovably and assuredly established as the Rock of Ages. TOWN COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting.

A Long Session, but no very Important Business Done—Exemptions—Street Watering—Independence of Council.

Council met in regular session on Tuesday night, May 29th. Members present—Mr. Menzies, acting Mayor, in the chair, and Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, Kelly, Paterson, Sawers, Yelland, Douglass, Denne and Hartley.

After routine,

COMMUNICATIONS

were received:

From the License Commissioners of the West Riding, with statement of moneys due the town.—Received and referred to Finance Committee.

From E. Pearce, County Treasurer, presenting an account of $55.60, for conveyance of prisoners, and asking that the Council pay their share of the account.—Referred to Finance Committee.

From Fitzgerald & Stanger, asking exemption from taxation for 10 years, on the ground that they contemplated expanding their business and and employing a larger staff of workmen, and they guarantee to employ 30 skilled workmen during ten years, if their taxes were remitted for that time.—Received.

From Wm. Forsyth, asking exemption from taxation for a term of ten years on his pump factory.—Received.

From Thos. Laplante, asking exemption from taxation on the ground that he carried on a large business, and agreeing that if exemption were granted he would do an export business of from $10,000 to $20,000 per year.—Received.

From Peterborough Lodge of Good Templars, praying that billiard rooms be closed at 7 o'clock on Saturday night, and that the petition of billiard room keepers be not granted.—Referred to License Committee to report.

From E. E. Henderson and others, asking that Charlotte street be watered from George street to Stewart street, and Aylmer from Charlotte street to Brock street.—Received.

PETITIONS

were presented:

From John Corkery, asking for an addition to walk on south side of Perry street.—Referred to Street and Bridge Committee to report.

From T. & W. McKee and twenty others, respecting the dilapidated condition of the approaches to the factories on Dickson street, and asking that the walk be extended from the Skating Rink to London street.—Referred to Street and Bridge Committee.

An account of R. Wainwright, of $3.70 for meat for Billings family, was ordered to be paid.

CHARITY.

Mr. Sawyers presented a detailed report of the expenditure of the Charity Committee.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that whereas Councillors Rutherford and Douglas had found fault with the expenditure on charity, the report referred to them to investigate.

Mr. Sawers said it was stated that the expenditure on charity this year was $625—something he could not understand—and he thought the matter should be investigated.

Mr. McNaughton charged that money had been spent on bribing electors in the name of charity. He advocated parties paying out their own money if they could not be elected on their merits.

Mr. Douglass denied that he had found fault; he only refused to vote payment of an item he had not full information about.

Messrs. Paterson and Hartley showed that something was wrong with the wood account.

Mr. Kelly made explanations of what charity he had ordered.

Mr. Yelland also made some explanations.

Mr. Denne thought that the matter should be investigated.

The motion was agreed to, with the fault-finding clause dropped, and the names of Messrs. Denne and Davidson added to the Committee.

STREET WATERING.

Mr. McNaughton moved, seconded by Mr. Denne, that street watering be done by local taxation, on the petition of those desiring it.

Mr. Davidson, in the absence of the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, explained that the Committee had had a conference with the Water Works Company, and the latter proposed that they would allow the use of all the hydrants at $40 a month, and he moved, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the proposition of the Water Works Company be accepted a month on trial, by a local tax.—Lost.

Mr. Kelly said the street watering was now done by a general tax, and badly done at that. Mr. Davidson's motion was out of order—the matter was referred to the Committee to report, and his resolution did not constitute a report. Three or four hundred dollars had been spent on water conveniences at Denne's Mills, and accepting Mr. Davidson's motion made this apparatus useless.

Mr. Denne said the apparatus had paid for itself three times over, and it would not be any waste to abandon it.

Mr. Yelland failed to see how the town team could attend street watering and be otherwise engaged.

Mr. Paterson said that the local taxation had already paid for all the expense in connection with street watering, and there was money to the credit of local taxpayers. He did not see how the watering could be done by local taxation.

Mr. Cahill spoke in favour of extending the area of street watering. Charlotte street was entitled as well as upper George street to the benefit. He favored taking advantage of the hydrants, a larger area could be watered and better value could be got for the money spent.

Mr. Smith, town teamster, said the deficient "rigging"—the water cart—was ricketty and required constant repairs. Good work could not be done with it.

Mr. Douglass said the question was the relative cheapness of the two available sources of supply. He favoured the use of the hydrants.

Mr. Kelly enquired what was the use of the hydrants without a cart?

Mr. McNaughton's motion was carried.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Paterson, that pending the presentation of the requisite petitions, the town teamster be instructed to extend his watering on George street to Sherbrook street, and on Charlotte street to the Midland station, and that the petition of E. E. Henderson be granted.

Motion lost on the following division.

YEAS.—Messrs. Cahill, Davidson and Paterson—3.

NAYS.—Messrs. McNaughton, Sawers, Kelly, Yelland, Douglass, Denne and Hartley—7.

MARKET SQUARE.

On motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr Sawers, the Market Committee was instructed to request the Town Commissioners to extend the platform around the market building, and make other necessary improvements.

PURIFICATION.

Mr. Paterson moved seconded by Mr. Kelly, that owing to the noxious and unhealthy condition of the river and Little Lake, the Health Committee be authorized to memorialize the Dominion Government, with a view to having nuisances removed or abated.

Mr. Denne said the Government had made an appropriation of $3,000 that would answer the purpose. Motion agreed to.

MISCELLANEOUS.

On motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Yelland, the account of Thomas Billings, painting bell towers, was ordered to be paid when certified to by the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton (who, however, disclaimed having done so), that whereas Councillors Rutherford and Douglass had admitted having business relations with the town, that the practice of Councillors entering such relations is disapproved of.

A good deal of discussion arose on the motion, some condemning the practice in a guarded way, and some claiming that a Councillor, a business man, had a right to dispose of his wares to the Council.

The motion was lost on the following division:—

YEAS.—Mr. Sawers—1.

NAYS.—The rest of the Council present—9.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that billiard rooms be allowed to keep open on Saturday nights till 9 o'clock. The motion was carried.

Council adjourned for two weeks.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES.

Some time ago the Winnipeg Sun sent out a circular to the leading farmers in all parts of Manitoba asking the following questions:—

1. Residence (ownership and county):
2. Number of acres held (homestead and preemption):
3. Number of acres broken and buildings erected:
4. Number of years' residence in Manitoba or N. W.
5. Quality of land in locality:
6. Drawbacks (if any):
7. Your opinion of the country as a home for farmers:
8. How does it compare with former home?
9. Crops raised last year:
10. Average yield of different cereals per acre:
11. Crops best adapted to the country:
12. Possibilities of fruit culture:
13. Are land regulations satisfactory?
14. What changes in land regulations would you recommend?
15. Experience of climate:
16. Would you advise your friends to settle here?

The first batch of answers has been published and the testimony is overwhelmingly in favour of the country every way. The settlers say, without exception, that the soil in Manitoba is the best in the world for grain and all kinds of root crops. Wheat yields from 30 to 40 bushels per acre; barley from 35 to 45; and oats 60 to 85. A large majority of the witnesses profess to prefer the climate to that of England or the Eastern Provinces of Canada, as they consider it more healthful and finer, excepting a few weeks in winter. They complain of the land regulations, and also in many cases of the want of schools, churches, and railway facilities; but these drawbacks will all disappear as the country gets more thickly settled, and a better Government rules at Ottawa that will give the settlers their rights. There is a lack of farm laborers, and wages run from $25 to $40 a month, with board.

PATHMASTERS' DUTY.

Judge Price, at the Division Court, says the Whig, at Odessa, heard some interesting cases. Amongst them was that of Storms v. Read. The plaintiff's horse got scared at some sheep on the road, wheeled suddenly, upset, smashed things generally and ran away. This happened last August. Plaintiff wanted defendant to pay the damages at the time because he was owner of the woolly animals. The Judge held that although, according to the township by-law prohibiting animals running at large providing a penalty of poundage, the sheep had as much right to have been scared at the horse as the horse had to get scared at the sheep. They should have brought the action against the pathmaster, as it was his duty to attend to animals at large. "Bring the pathmasters before me," his honor said, "and I will teach them their duty in this respect."

PETERBOROUGH PULP MILLS.

Production of Paper Pulp Described.

The Peterborough Pulp Mills under the new regime—the Peterborough Pulp Mills Company—have been in operation since the 16th of May, and, as the process of the manufacture of pulp has not been described, a description will not be without interest.

WOOD PULP,

made by the mechanical process such as is employed in these mills, for the manufacture of printing paper, is simply the fibre of soft woods, ground to an impalpable mass by appropriate and specially adapted machinery. The wood employed for the purpose in these mills is poplar and spruce. There is a plentiful supply of these woods in this part of the county, especially in the neighborhood of Burleigh and the back lakes generally. The company has about 150 cords in stock and this will last a little over a month, about four cords being used daily. The wood, which is cut into four feet lengths, is passed down a chute into the lower story of the mills. Here it is cut by a circular saw into strips one inch thick and 3¼ inches broad. Workmen, with drawing knives, then remove every particle of bark, and by means of a cross-cut circular saw every knot and dark colored spot is cut out. Here it may be mentioned that every care is taken that the spotless whiteness of the pulp, any impurity greatly deteriorating its value. Even the water which is used so liberally in the course of manufacture is carefully filtered. After the wood is prepared as described, it is elevated to the second floor, where it is "fed" into the grinding machines. These machines consist of hollow cylinders of stone, finely fluted on the inner surface and enclosed in a watertight boiler plate casing. These cylinders are centred on spindles set in box wood, and are made to revolve at a speed of 450 REVOLUTIONS PER MINUTE.

NOTHING SHALL MAR

Outside of all is a cast iron casing, the upper surface of which is pierced with iron standands, containing slots corresponding in width to the thickness, and in depth to the breadth, of the prepared strips of wood. In these slots the strips of wood are forced downward automatically by weights, and striking the internal corrugated surface of the hollow cylinder, at an angle of about twenty degrees, the fibre of the wood is ground off across the grain into so fine a condition that it is a mere jelly. Water is at the same time continuously admitted from above by four jets to each "stone," of which there are six in operation. The water is supplied by a direct action force pump of most excellent make, turned out at the Central Iron Works. The pulp, after grinding, is carried by pipes into a cylindical screen on the first floor, where, with the assistance of continuous jets of water from perforated pipes, it is deprived of the coarser particles (stringy portions of wood near knots that will not readily reduce to pulp), whence it is passed into a finer screen—16 meshes to the inch—where it is from all coarse particles. It then goes into a tank, in which it is, of course, largely mixed with water. Next it is conveyed by a rotary pump through a four inch pipe to the second story to the "wet" or finishing machine. Part of this machine consists of a large vat into which the pulp, with its liberal admixture of water pours, looking like so much greatly diluted butter-milk or lime water. In this tank revolves a cylinder 2½ feet in diameter, covered with extremely fine wire gauze—60 meshes to the inch—which allows water to pass through, but not the pulp. The cylinder has an opening at each end, and the out-flow of water produces a suction which causes the pulp to adhere to the gauze cylinder from which it is transmitted to a cylinder placed above, called a "coocher." From this the pulp is transmitted to a felt band about four feet wide, passing round the cylinder. At its further end this band, with its adhering layer of pulp, passes between two rollers. The upper roller, revolving against the pulp surface of the wide belt, surrounds itself with pulp, which is allowed to accumulate to a proper thickness. By a system of compound levers these rollers exercise a

COMPLETELY FREED

SQUEEZING POWER OF TWO AND A HALF TONS.

When the pulp has accumulated to the thickness of an eighth of an inch on the upper roller, a knife, four feet long, hung above and parallel with it, is brought down, cutting the layer of pulp across the length of the cylinder. The sheet of pulp falls on a table, where a workman folds it into a package of 10 x 28 inches, ready for the paper maker, who in the manufacture uses with it the proper proportion of rag pulp, to give the paper the requisite pliability and texture.

The north side of the factory building is within fifty feet of the company's siding from the Grand Junction, so that loading the pulp is conveniently done. A storehouse and office, the former within a few feet of the track, are now in course of erection.

The factory, when running at the full, will employ eighteen hands. The works are in charge of Mr. Chas. Allen, superintendent; who had charge of the first pulp grinding machine ever run in the United States, and who has followed the business for 16 years; he says that these mills in completeness and excellence, if not in size, are equal to any he has ever seen, and the pulp produced is equal to the best mechanical wood pulp made in the world. The water wheels and other machinery have been fully described heretofore in these columns.

The present enterprise is only a beginning; its complement of usefulness will be found in the natural adjunct of a paper mill, which may in the not distant future occupy a site in the neighborhood of the Pulp Mills.

Ladies looking for a pretty Hat or Bonnet, will find the newest shapes neatly trimmed at Turnbull's.

At a meeting of graduates of McGill University on Monday, a resolution was adopted in favor of the admission of women to the privileges of the institution.

Farrell, the informer in the Phœnix park murder cases, has received £1,000 from the Government, and Kavanagh, the carman, £250. They have both left Ireland. The two Careys will only receive small sums for their service.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BODY FOUND.

The body of Robert Tipps, who was drowned in Stony Lake last fall, has been recovered. It was found floating very near the spot in which he was last seen in his canoe. There was considerable decomposition. Dr. Bell, coroner, examined the remains and considered an inquest unnecessary. The body was interred at Young's Point cemetery.

CONCERT.

The concert held on the evening of the 24th proved quite a success in every way. Indian club swinging, which formed part of the programme, was novel and well received.

CRICKET.

A cricket match with Bobcaygeon is on the tapis for this week. Lakefield has a large club and will be able to form a strong team.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. C. Sanders' clerk of this village, arrived safe at Winnipeg last Saturday. He goes North-West some 400 miles prospecting.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

A Magnificent Pageant.

On Sunday last the Czar was crowned successfully in the Chapel of the Kremlin in Moscow. At nine o'clock the bells from the towers of the Kremlin burst forth, and the clergy, clad in rich vestments, bearing the crucifix and lighted candles, with bearers of holy water in vessels of gold, emerged from the royal door of the sanctury and descended the steps. All went toward the door leading from the palace to await the coming of the Emperor and Empress. From the other side, however were heard the deafening shouts of the people and the sound of music, mingled with the clangour of bells. It announced the approach of the Imperial family. They entered, followed by the officers of the imperial household, Ministers of State, and generals in uniform then entered and took up their positions, some in semi-circles back of the throne, others along the balustrades. From the outside near the palace another loud shouting reached us, with the strains of the Russian national hymn, "God save the Czar." There was renewed clangour of the bells of the cathedral; the sunshine burst through a window, lighting up the diamonds on the headdresses of the Russian court ladies. The shouting increased in volume every minute, while the dignitaries of the court and ministers entered bearing the coronation regalia. Among them were two crowns of glittering diamonds, that of the Emperor borne by Graf von Heyden, that of the Empress, smaller in size, by Count Kitoff. The clergy, who had been outside to await the Emperor, returned into the church, sprinkling the way with holy water. Then amid the deafening shouts of those outside, the Emperor and Empress arrived, walking arm in arm. They mounted the steps and stood before the throne listening to the chanting of the choir and the clergy. The emperor, a strong, broad-shouldered man, was nervously resting first on one foot and then on the other. The Empress was more at ease, was pale, but looking very lovely.

After the crown had been assumed and the insignia were given back by the Emperor, the Empress rose from her throne, and her train being borne by eight courtiers, knelt before the Czar, bending reverently her head, upon which the Emperor rested his crown for a moment, symbolizing her share of his glory and his woes. Then four grand duchesses approached the Empress and assisted in the placing of the small and beautiful crown upon her head, where it rested, a mass of sparkling light. Rising from her kneeling attitude, she approached the Czar and bent her head on one side to receive the Emperor's kiss, tears the while filling her eyes. The great strong man, deeply touched, and with moist eyes, too, bent down and kissed, lovingly and tenderly the white, earnest face that looked up to him, and that seemed so expressive of mingled happiness and tender anxiety. The musical part of the ceremony was in all points unapproachable. The Emperor placed the crown again on his head and took the septre and globe in his hand and received the homage of the clergy, and the ceremony within the church was over. The choir still sang "Long Live to the Czar, Many Years" with wonderful effect. Arriving at the church doors, the Emperor and Empress placed themselves under the baldachins, and amid the joyous clangour of all the bells of the Kremlin, the thunder of cannon, the shouting of half a million people, and the playing by countless bands of the national hymn, they passed along the raised and carpeted ways to the cathedral of the Archangel, where they stayed to pray before the sacred relics and graves of former Emperors. Then they went to the Church of the Annunciation, and then up a stairway to the palace. The passing of the Emperor and Empress through the vast assemplage of people was greeted with marvellous enthusiasm. Every head was uncovered, every Russian heart was full of joy, every Russian eye was moist with tears.

A MAGNIFICENT PAGEANT.

A correspondent who has witnessed the greatest pageants of the last thirty-five years says the spectacle culminating in the advent of their majesties crowned and robed was the most imposing and splendid he ever beheld. The cost of the coronation is estimated at ten million dollars, which will be covered by the issue of treasury bills.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. PETERBOROUGH, MAY 31, 1883.

Annexation of New Guinea.

Very recently the news that the large island of New Guinea had been annexed by the Governor of Queensland created great surprise in England. The circumstance is in one respect almost ludicrous, and reads absurdly. For the despatch stated that there had been sent across Torres Strait a single policeman, who took possession of the entire country! The circumstances which led to the movement, and the motives at work in bringing it about, are at present obscure, but so far as we can judge by the expressions in the English press, the Government at home are not enamoured of their latest colonial acquisition. In fact, so many heavy burdens now rest on English statesmen, that it is not to be wondered at if they thought nothing just now about a further extension of the empire. Egyptian affairs are not yet quite satisfactory; the Congo matter is still not arranged with Portugal; France is entering upon a new and adventurous policy in Tunis and Tonquin, and is also bent on mischief in Madagascar; the Ottoman Government is tottering and insecure, and this means danger to Europe—this long list of anxieties, coupled with increasing troubles at home, is quite sufficient for ordinary statesmen to bear, without having further acquisition of territory almost thrust upon them. Still, the Imperial Government are not likely to repudiate the act of their deputy at Queensland, although, no doubt, what he has done so far is merely provisional. Perhaps within the next century this important island may prove of immense service to England as a new field for colonists.

Next to Australia, New Guinea is the largest island in the world. It is, in fact, larger than France, being 1,500 miles long and over 400 broad. The land, so far as known, is reported as being exceedingly rich and fertile, unlike in many respects the unproductive, flat, and uninviting tracts so numerous in the adjacent colony of Australia.

Within its borders are found lofty mountains and extensive uplands, immense forests, and large navigable rivers which offer a means of communication with the interior. The island is, of course, largely a terra incognita; the chief travellers so far having been missionaries and a few enterprising naturalists, the latter being tempted to explore its flora and fauna, and to see for themselves the home of the far-famed bird of paradise.

It is hardly surprising that Queensland, lying so very close,—it is only separated from New Guinea by 90 miles of sea—should be tempted to possess this fertile island. The colony is enterprising and vigilant, and may fear the advent of some undesirable neighbor, especially if they choose to settle the island of New Guinea with convicts. France uses New Caledonia as a penal settlement, and the same thing might be done with New Guinea, if it were to fall into their hands. Such neighbors, especially when access is convenient, might result in great inconvenience to the Brisbane Government.

Nor is the evil much less if New Guinea remains unappropriated by any civilized power. For in that case it would become a refuge for the scum of the southern seas. In this case it is easy to realize the evils which might result to the adjacent colony from the proximity of such a retreat. A similar reason once operated to cause the reluctant annexation of the Figi Islands.

There may be difficulties in carrying out the exploit of Sir Arthur Kennedy, and it will be necessary for England to proceed with due caution in perfecting the details. Important questions have first to be settled. The Dutch, it is said, claim one-half of the island, and owing to the efforts of two Italian naturalists, their countrymen have established a sort of right of possession which they may not be ready to yield on demand. So that the whole affair, which bears too much the aspect of a filibustering raid, has to be considered calmly and dispassionately before we can say with truth, that the annexation of New Guinea is an accomplished fact, and that all claimants are satisfied Queensland should retain it.

John Brown, the Queen's body-servant who died recently, left an estate valued at over £20,000 personal property.

The Globe of Friday contained a brilliant summary of the work of the Dominion Parliament, that came to a close on Friday last after sixteen weeks' session. At the conclusion of its article it pays a well deserved tribute to the services of Hon. Edward Blake, the leader of the Opposition. No man, except he have all fair-mindness eliminated by the intensity of party rancour, can help endorsing every word of it. Any one who has found it a labor to follow even the debates through their weariness, must have been struck with the vigilant persistence with which Mr. Blake stood to his post. The Globe says:—

"A review of the work of this long session would be incomplete indeed which did not make fitting mention of the great services rendered by the leader of the Opposition to the country and to his party. Patient, vigilant, attentive to every duty, he was ever at his post, ever ready to assist the Government in doing what he believed to be good, every ready to resist by argument and remonstrance—the only weapons within his reach—what he believed to be unsound in principle or impolitic. Neither in the Government nor amongst its supporters, nor in the ranks of his own party, was there any one who worked so incessantly as he, or who was as competent, by reason of his tireless industry as well as by reason of his great ability, to deal effectively with every question that arose. No matter what the measure under consideration, no matter what the question discussed, no one was so thoroughly acquainted with its every detail, no one had so clear and accurate a perception of its scope and meaning. In one great speech he defended, with power seldom if ever surpassed, the rights of the Provinces and the principles of responsible government. In another—in which, taking no time for thought or consideration, for gathering or marshalling facts, or evolving argument from facts, but speaking as soon as Sir Charles Tupper had concluded his long and carefully elaborated railway statement—he electrified the House by the skill, the ability, the power of analysis and concentration he displayed, by the full and intimate knowledge of the subject which he showed, and by the lofty eloquence in which he clothed the dry facts of such an argument. Step by step he followed the Minister, replying to every statement, setting facts against every assertion that appeared to require refutation, exposing the fallacy of the Minister's conclusions and leaving absolutely nothing in that long speech unanswered. Few men living could without special preparation have so effectively reviewed, so successfully replied to, such a speech as that which Sir Charles Tupper had spent months in preparing. In the discharge of his duties as leader of the Opposition he was as prudent as he was able and industrious. If his followers found fault with him, it was only because in his zeal for the public welfare he did so much to reduce to proper shape several of the Government measures which as introduced were crude and misshapen. For many weeks the session dragged wearily on. The Government, requiring time perhaps to heal the dissensions in the ranks of their own party, had nothing prepared, and little or nothing was done. Business men, disgusted by this waste of time, left Parliament to attend to other duties elsewhere. The other leading lawyers of the House went away from time to time to attend the Courts or look after the interests of their clients or their own. He remained at his post. His patience was inexhaustible, his devotion to his public duty knew no bounds. The value of the services rendered by Mr. Blake are incalculable. It should be known that they are rendered at a great pecuniary sacrifice. Other men have entered political life to make money or to attain positions which they covet. Mr. Blake, influenced by the high sense of duty which is his chief characteristic, has withdrawn from the practice of his profession in order to attend to his public duties. His professional income was probably the largest ever earned by any man in Canada, and there is no position under the Crown in Canada which he could accept without a large loss in money. He has accepted a position which he believes requires him to sacrifice all that large income, and which brings him nothing in return but the love, the respect and the esteem of his fellow-countrymen. Mr. Blake is a man of whom Canada may well feel proud, because of his splendid abilities, his high character, his noble disinterestedness, his exalted patriotism; and say what a few rabid journals will, Canada is proud of him, the noblest of her sons.

Contemporaries' Opinions.

The Cobourg World and the Peterborough Review are having an interesting "spat"; ostensibly about the French Bleu attitude towards the Boundary Award ratification, but the argumentative element was speedily subordinated to a pretty free exchange of "pieces of mind." It must be admitted that the World has sized our local contemporary rather accurately, and in its last issue it not only indicts, but convicts the Review in the following robust language:

"Therefore, we convict him of an absolute, intentional, and deliberate falsehood, uttered for the purpose of misrepresenting a contemporary in a discussion, and fairly ruling its writer out of the pale of respectable journalism." * * * * "The Review is a perfect imbecile when he comes down to argue the real merits of this question; though he can quibble, and defame, and dwell on paltry points as well as the worst. He talks about "forgers" and "thieves," and "fraud," and "falsehood," as glibly as the ablest authority on such, which Billingsgate ever produced. We rather respect the man who gives his neighbor a sound drubbing, even using hard words, if he have some foundation for his attack. But when he drivels away with his hard names, and overlooks what ought to be the basis of his argument; and replies to an effort to recall him to the point by repeating the same old hard names, and runs away under the smoke and dust, we set him down at once as an idiot and fraud. As Artemus Ward used to say, we "disgust him." And we leave it to all the papers in this district who have ever had discussions with him, if the editor of the Peterborough Review is not just such a man. We do not like to have to talk in this harsh way about a contemporary; but when he can't discuss a subject, and make allowance for difference of opinion, without forever, irrespective of the slightest proof, yanking in his favorite words "forger," "thief," and "falsehood," he must not be surprised if even the most patient lose their temper over such twaddle. And now, we expect the brilliant points of his next reply will be that our article is a column and a half long, (I fact we will give a kindly thinking for "forgers" and "liars," (notwithstanding himself) and that we "confessed" losing our temper over his illogical abuse. But the question whether the alleged stealing of Macdonnell's letters made any difference to the character of the transactions which they revealed; or whether a private conversation between two conspirators against our rights, if carried no farther, could ever have had any effect as a "condition" in obstructing those rights, are matters so much below the scope of his transcendant genius, that their very discussion, in comparison with his favorite topics, is held in superlative contempt."

The Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge has issued a new hand book on Canada. It will be widely circulated throughout England.

The Ottawa Free Press is responsible for the statement, that certain affidavits have been sent to the Government, which if published, would reveal the whole of the circumstances attending the assassination of Mr. D'Arcy McGee.

Mr. Gladstone, says the Christian Union, has always been too much of a statesman to be very efficient as a politician, and the Liberal party is so full of independent men that it does not readily respond to the whip.

Twelve years ago the French Government borrowed $280,000,000, at 5 per cent. to settle the claims of Germany. France is now making a fresh loan at 3½ and 4 per cent. to pay off her old obligation, and to reduce the annual charge for interest.

For some time a plan for the organization in Toronto of an Anglican Sisterhood something similar to the Sisters of Charity in the Roman Catholic Church has been maturing. The centre of the organization will be in Toronto, and there will be branches in the principal cities of the province.

A return asked for by Mr. McCraney, M.P., shows that the total expenses of the general election in June was: In Ontario, $67,393; Quebec, $37,561; Nova Scotia, $9,907; New Brunswick; $9,608; Prince Edward Island, $2,601; British Columbia, $3,740; Manitoba, $3,574; total $134.387, less deposits forfeited by candidates, $4,000.

Lord Alcester will get $100,000 and Lord Wolseley $100,000 as an honorarium for their services in the command on sea and land in the late Egyptan conflict. These are snug little fortunes, considering that all the time both the noble lords have been in receipt of handsome salaries. It pays to be a British commander.

The publication of American land advertisements in the Dominion Government's immigration literature has borne unexpected fruit, says the Hamilton Tribune. The Secretary of State (Mr. Chapleau) has purchased a magnificent ranche of nearly 12,000 acres at Los Angelos, California. Now, if a Liberal leader had made this purchase, what a howl of indignation from the Tory press of Canada would have echoed to the very heavens!

The Canadian Gazette of May 3rd says: "Last Thursday no less than four steamers again sailed direct for Canada from the Mersey, taking with them some two thousand emigrants. Of this number a third are bound for Manitoba and the North-West, and among them are as many as fifty farmers with capital, who intend to settle west of Regina. There can be no mistake now as to the extent of the movement 'Westward Ho!' which has set in from this side of the Atlantic."

The time allowed to Irish tenants to apply under the Arrears' Act has expired. The benefit of the Act will extend to about 136,000 holdings. The State contributes £810,000 to wipe out estimated arrears to the amount of at least £2,500,000. In over 1,000 cases tenants have applied for loans amounting to upwards of £32,000, to be applied to the payment of rent arrears. Up to date the actual payments on account of arrears exceed £250,000 and payment orders are being prepared to the figure of £500,000. Two thousand applications were rejected.

The colossal lying, remarks an exchange, about the great advantages of Dakota is just beginning to be exposed. Farmers who have gone there begin to send letters back telling the truth about the country, and disabusing the public mind of the impression that this territory is the land of promise. The fact is that the land is fair, the climate is severe, timber is scarce, water is not always good, and the disadvantages of all new countries must be endured. Whoever goes there expecting to find more or encounter less will be disappointed, and it is feared that disappointment will be the lot of far too many, who, deceived by the rosy accounts of paid correspondents, have hastily sacrificed their property in Canada and the older States to find homes there.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Speaking of Sir John's Liquor License Bill, Mr. J. Burr-Plumb regretted the the course the Senate was "compelled to take" in passing the measure so hastily. Who did the compelling? And what use is a legislative body whose only function is to register the decree of its master?

Notwithstanding the report of Mr. Stephenson in favor of the settlers of Dufferin county, Manitoba, whom the Pacific Syndicate sought to oust from their homesteads on the plea of irregularities, there is still a danger of the settlers being turned out of their homes at the bidding of a huge monopoly.

The bungling of Mr. McLelan, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who neglected his duties in his haste to visit England, has resulted in the failure of the steamboat Inspection act amendments. The result is that the terrible warning received by the Asia and other disasters has been ignored, and the law remains the same as formerly.

Conservative papers are going into hysterics because the Ontario Government proposes to insist upon its rights to control liquor license legislation. If Mr. Mowat thinks the Provincial Parliament has the right to regulate such matters, he would be very remiss in his duty to the Province if he surrendered the right before some competent tribunal had positively decided against his contention.

A cynical correspondent complains that the North-West is neglected as far as conferring the honor of knighthood on any of its distinguished statesmen is concerned. Seeing that it is about the only thing that can be admitted into Manitoba free of duty, we can see no reason for this seeming negligence. "Sir Edgar Dewdney of Pile of Bones Creek" would sound well in the vicinity of Regina.

Mr. Chapleau, Secretary of State, earned $400 in an easy manner a couple of nights before prorogation. Six dollars per day are deducted from members who fail to attend the session regularly, and those who do not put in an appearance get no pay. By walking across the floor of the House and taking his seat for a couple of minutes the other evening Mr. Chapleau was able to claim the amount referred to.

The Dominion at large is intently watching the course Mr. Norquay, Premier of Manitoba, intends pursuing, now that the Legislature, which opened on the 21st instant, is at work. His principal pledge to the people, in addition to minor ones, has been to condemn the action of the Dominion for the disallowance of railway charters, and take a determined stand for the provincial rights of Manitoba. As the Local and Dominion premiers are both in league in the re-enactment and disallowance game, we trust the representatives of the people will firmly stand by their local rights.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Fifth Parliament—First Session.

MONDAY, MAY TWENTY-FIRST.

In the House to-day the bill to authorize subsidies for the construction of lines of railway therein mentioned was passed through Committee, reported, read a second and third time and passed.

Several other minor Government bills were rushed through their final stages without discussion, after which the House went into Committee again on the bill to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. Gigault moved a lengthy amendment to the effect that local option should be adopted, which was carried.

As the bill made progress through Committee a number of its clauses were objected to by members from different Provinces, on the grounds that they interfered with provincial rights.

After midnight the discussion was conducted with an orchestral accompaniment of jewsharps, penny whistles, desk scrapings, and other accompaniments of a similar nature.

TUESDAY.

The House continued in Committee on the License Bill this morning until 4.45, when it was reported. The clause separating the sale of liquors from groceries was amended after considerable discussion. It was finally agreed to allow the sale to continue as it is in cities until 1890, and all other localities until 1887.

Foster again brought himself into prominence by refusing to vote. Mr. Ross argued strongly against the clause permitting the sale of liquor in saloons, but on division, despite the efforts put forth, it was retained. The House, as the morning advanced, presented scenes of great confusion and disorder. Members were kept up by the whips, who expected that possibly the bill might go through its last stages, and the Liberals to a man stuck to their posts. The contortions of Foster during the whole progress of the bill through Committee made him the central figure of observation, and brought down on him jeers and shouts of disapprobation. Even the most casual observer could not fail to see that he was ready to prostitute his principles to aid his political aspirations. No one not in the House could obtain any idea of the contempt which his course provoked, even among his political friends. A number of them say to-day that his actions, even from a political point of view, are ruinous. It only remains now for the Dominion Alliance to teach him that he cannot use his organization with it as a means of political elevation of his party.

Sir John next moved the third reading of the License Act.

Mr. Ouimet (Laval) moved in amendment that the bill be referred back to Committee to insert a clause conferring on the municipalities in the Province of Quebec power to restrict or prohibit the liquor traffic which they hitherto possessed.

Sir John, seeing the feeling that had been aroused, knew it was useless to struggle against it, and after some talk with Dalton McCarthy, he called out "Carried."

Mr. Blake at once insisted on the yeas and nays, and Sir John, seeing he was trapped into the acceptance of the principle, shuffled about and looked most unhappy. The vote was almost unanimous, only one member (Gilbault) voting against.

When the Bill was reported from committee with the amendment, Mr. Ross moved that it again be referred back to striking out the clause permitting the Sunday sale of liquor.

The vote on this motion was defeated by a majority of thirteen. Sir Leonard Tilley again showed that he had severed all connection with his professions of temperance by voting against the amendment. When he stood up to proclaim his abandonment of principle he was greeted with groans.

Mr. Blake then took advantage of his generalship in forcing a second on Mr. Ouimet's motion, by proposing an amendment, extending the privileges granted to Quebec to all the other provinces. It was clothed in exactly the same language as that which the House had almost unanimously agreed to in the case of that Province. The amendment is as follows:—

"That the Bill be not now read a third time, but that it be referred back to the Committee of the Whole to amend the Bill by adding to clause 46 that nothing in this Act shall affect the powers conferred on the municipal authorities of any other Province by the laws in force in such province at the time of confederation with Canada, to restrict or prohibit the sale of liquor within the municipality, and those powers are hereby confirmed and continued."

Mr. Blake said the motion was exactly similar to that one passed a few minutes before, and being the same in theory it was not necessary to say anything regarding that point. He merely asked that the other provinces be placed on an equality with Quebec.

Sir John seemed to be at a loss for a reply, and motioned to Dalton McCarthy to speak. This the latter did to very little purpose. The only excuse he could find for opposing was that it would interfere with the local option clause in the Bill.

Mr. Blake pointed out that it would not do any more in the case of the other Provinces than that of Quebec, which had been so unanimously agreed to.

Sir John at this point resorted to his usual tactics when worsted by facts or arguments, and grew quite wrathy, accusing Mr. Blake of a desire to destroy the measure and embarrass the Government.

Mr. Ouimet, who was so zealous for the rights of his own Province, felt that he would occupy a more inconsistent position in denying the privileges to others which he claimed and obtained for his own, and tried to excuse himself by saying their relations were different, as the municipalities enjoyed the right under the present law without the interpretation of the legislatures.

Mr. Lister replied very effectually to this argument by showing that the only reason offered for the introduction of this Act was that the Provincial legislation was void, and that the plea could not be set up by those who urged this as the reason for legislation that the old municipal laws were dead, and could not be re-vivified. According to their theory the municipal laws were merely dormant.

Sir John here interjected some exclamation, and Mr. Lister immediately turned his attention to him, and said the excuse that legislation is a necessity is a sham—that the real purpose was to carry out the threat made at Yorkville by the Premier, who was now endeavoring to hide behind this excuse. The idea was simply to punish Mr. Mowat, and he asked the members for Quebec, who had received the votes of his friends, to do his Province and the other Provinces similar justice.

The member for Cardwell, who seemed to feel the inconsistency of his position as much as Sir John, undertook to attack Mr. Blake, and did it so violently that the Speaker called him to order, and he had to withdraw the offensive terms.

After recess the vote was taken and resulted in exhibiting that the pressure put on had brought every Tory into line, and compelled their majority to say that there is one law for Quebec and another for the Provinces. Several amendments were next moved in rapid succession, and decisions taken on each.

Mr. White (Cardwell) moved, seconded by Mr. Haggart, that the local option clause be amended on making a petition signed by three-fifths of the electors necessary to submit the question of prohibition to a vote, and that it should take three-fifths of the vote polled to prohibit instead of a majority. The amendment was accepted by the Government, and was carried by a vote of 88 to 63.

Mr. Lister moved an amendment reciting the fact that the Provincial Legislatures have since Confederation exercised powers of control over the sales of intoxicating liquors, and matters incident thereto, and that the Appeal Courts of Ontario and Quebec have each decided in favor of the exercise of this jurisdiction; and the Appeal Courts of Quebec have further determined that the judgment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council does not decide that Provincial Legislatures have not this jurisdiction, that the questions, involved, which are now under consideration of the Supreme Court, will shortly be brought under consideration of the Privy Council, and the Parliament of Canada should not assume jurisdiction as proposed by the bill until the question is settled by the court of last resort. This amendment was lost by a vote of 99 to 43.

Mr. Robertson (Shelbourne), seconded by Mr. Fisher, moved an amendment affirming that the subject can be better dealt with by the Provincial than Federal authority. This amendment was declared lost on the same division.

The House then went into Committee of Supply and passed the further supplementary estimates.

WEDNESDAY.

The proceedings of the House to-day were of the usual prorogation character. A number of minor bills were pushed through the final stages. The Factory and Franchise bills were withdrawn, and the Supply Bill passed. The Speaker left the chair at 3 o'clock and resumed it at 9. The House then having no further business of their own to transact, sat for some time waiting reports from the Senate.

The Senate merely passed a number of unimportant measures from the Commons and then went into Committee on the Liquor License Bill. The Committee immediately rose and reported progress, and the Senate adjourned to meet again at eleven o'clock to-morrow.

In the House of Commons Sir John Macdonald made, and Mr. Blake seconded, a motion for a farewell address to His Excellency the Governor-General. Both speakers bore eloquent testimony to the ability and earnestness of purpose with which His Excellency has performed the duties of the high office, and the address was heartily concurred in.

When the news was received that the Senate had adjourned Sir John moved the adjournment of the House. Mr. Blake moved an amendment that God save the Queen be sung.

The House adjourned at 10.25. The national anthem was then sung in good style by the English members of the House, and was followed by the French members singing the Marseillaise and Bon Soir, Mes Amis.

Prorogation was announced for Friday at 3 p.m.

THURSDAY.

The Senate met this morning, and having spent an hour and a half discussing other matters, took up the License Bill. Not a line of the Bill was read, and not a single clause discussed. The whole thing was passed at once, and reported without amendment.

On the motion for its third reading, Senator Scott moved that its consideration be deferred until the question of jurisdiction—whether by Federal Parliament or the Provincial Legislature—shall have been first decided. The amendment was lost on a vote of 12 to 17.

Mr. Trudel then moved an amendment that nothing in the Act shall be considered as prejudical to the jurisdiction of the Local Legislatures. The motion was also lost.

Senator Plumb deplored the fact that time was not permitted to enable a full discussion of the Bill's details, and he hoped no injury would be inflicted by the hasty action the Senate was compelled to take.

Senator Alexander summed up his opinion of the manner in which the Senate was professing to consider the Bill, by characterizing it as a complete farce.

The Bill was then declared carried. The whole time occupied with the subject was an hour and a half, and it is safe to say that not five out of the 29 Senators present could correctly state the meaning of five clauses of the Bill, which covers 111 pages. An examination of the Bill distributed to Senators shows that it contains none of the amendments made on its third reading in the Commons, which exhibits another proof that the Senate went it blind.

The statement in the Mail to-day, of a rumor to the effect that Tupper will go to England as High Commissioner without a salary and remain in the Cabinet, turns out to be a fact and is confirmed. This arrangement was proposed on Saturday last, and at a Cabinet Council to-day it was definitely settled that Tupper will not retire. John A. found is impossible to fill the post without causing great discontent, and in his character as "old Solomon" has discovered this way out of the difficulty.

It is also said that John A. has again given Tupper a promise that he shall succeed him in the leadership.

Chapleau knows how many beans make five. Six dollars per day are deducted from members' indemnity when away from the House, while if absent the whole period of the session they get nothing. By returning the last day Chapleau gets four hundred dollars for simply taking his seat in the House.

FRIDAY.

This afternoon His Excellency the Governor-General proceeded to the senate chamber with the usual ceremony. The Commons being summoned, His Excellency was pleased to prorogue Parliament with the following speech:—

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate and Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I desire to thank you for the diligence and earnestness with which you have performed your duties during this protracted session. The large sums which the increased state of the revenue has enabled you to appropriate in aid of the construction of railways and the great works of internal improvement will be carefully applied and economically expended, and must contribute in a large measure to the prosperity and progress of the country.

The Dominion land bill, which embodies the results of the experience acquired during the last two years, will it is believed greatly assist and encourage the settlers now flowing in such unprecedented numbers into Manitoba and the Northwest territories.

The amendment to the laws respecting militia will tend to improve the discipline, training and military education of that invaluable force, the consolidation and amendment of the statutes relating to the management of the customs, while protecting the honest trader against fraudulent and dishonest competitors, will free the commerce of the country from some of the restraints imposed on it by the previously existing laws. The readjustment of the tariff and the reduction of the duties on raw materials used in our manufactures, together with the bounty granted on the production of pig iron must add to the further development of Canadian industries.

It is gratifying also to know that the financial position of the public treasury has enabled you to lower the pressure of taxation by more than a million of dollars.

The bill for the regulation of shop, saloon and tavern licenses must have the effect of preventing the unrestrained sale of intoxicating liquors in every province of the Dominion, and affords an efficient system for its successful operation, freed from the suspicion of political bias or control, while at the same time it will not unduly interfere with the rights of those who had engaged in the trade under the authority of legislative enactments.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I return you my thanks for the supplies you have granted for various public services.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate; Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I desire to thank you for the great honor conferred on me by the presentation of a joint address. The Princess and I have both been profoundly touched by your words, and the message of which you make us the bearers, comes, as we personally know, from a people determined to maintain the empire. The severance of my official connection with Canada does not loosen the tie of affection which will ever make me desire to serve this country. I pray that the prosperity I have seen you enjoy may continue, and that the blessing of God may at all times be yours, to strengthen you in unity and peace.

Remember This.

If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers &c.

WHY?

There are many reasons why H. LeBRUN, of the City Clothing Store, has now the confidence of the public, and some of them may be briefly stated.

FIRST.

The firm has had a business experience extending over 10 years.

SECOND.

The Establishment is the largest in Town, and the stock the most extensive.

THIRD.

The City Clothing Store sets the prices, which are always lower than any other house in Peterborough.

FOURTH.

The styles are always correct, for the reason that Mr. LeBrun employs none but the most skilful workmen.

FIFTH.

The fit, finish and durability of every garment made is perfect because all the details of the business come under the minutest inspection.

SIXTH.

H. LeBRUN City Clothing Store never allows a customer to go unless they are satisfied. The good reputation of the firm will be sustained in the selection he has made.

BOYS' SUITS.—The largest and best assorted stock of Boys and Children's Clothing ever shown in town at very low prices. TWEEDS for Children's suitings very cheap, and cut free of charge.

PETEBBOROUGH, MAY 31, 1883.

The Railway Subsidies.

It appears that the Dominion Government in their greed for centralizing, and not very gradually either, all power at Ottawa; in their anxiety to confirm themselves in their tenure of office by virtual bribes in the name of grants to public works, have as little respect for the rights of the provinces as they have for the duty of economical expenditure of public money. The action of the Government in appropriating over two million dollars to local railway schemes, shows both a desire to bribe certain sections of country and a clear disregard of what is a fair territorial distribution of the grant. The Province of Ontario, by virtue of its being essentially Liberal in politics, has incurred the enmity of the Government, which has been shown in a thousand ways. The latest is the unfair treatment Ontario has received in the matter of railway subsidies. A return prepared in the office of the Department of Railways and Canals, shows that the municipalities of Ontario have paid in bonuses $7,545,774 in aid of railways, while the corresponding amount paid by all the other Provinces of the Dominion amount, to only $793,500, or only a little more than a tenth of the amount contributed by Ontario. In contradistinction to this state of affairs, the distribution of the railway subsidy fund shows that of the $2,138,000 granted the past session, Ontario got only $80,000, while the other Provinces got the balance. This unjust treatment of this Province will be more apparent when it is recollected that Ontario, after paying out of her own funds nearly eight millions in aid of railways, has to pay much the larger share of the million and a half dollars voted the past session to railways in less enterprising Provinces. The principle of giving Federal aid to railways of merely local importance—and some only of importance as political factors, is wrong. But the unjust discrimination against Ontario is monstrously unfair. But when the public treasury is manipulated in the promotion of party interests, no other result could be expected, and it is appalling to anticipate where the ruinous course of extravagance and corruption pursued by the Tory Government will land us. Last year railway grants only amounted to $1,500,000, this year the sum is almost doubled, and there is no knowing where it will end. Mr. Tilley has a big surplus, ground from an over-taxed people, and Sir Charles is the man to spend it where it will do the most good, that is, where it will conduce most largely to his personal advantage, and strengthen the hold of the Tory party on the reins of power.

During the past two months over $200,000 worth of stock, largely first-class stock with pedigree, has been shipped from Klora, in the county of Wellington, for the Northwest. The last shipment consisted of eighty-five high grade shorthorn females and ten pedigreed Shorthorn heifers. Our farmers who have a fancy for breeding first-class stock, will have an unlimited market in the Northwest for years to come.

Ladies can scarcely realize that the Prints shown on Turnbull's counter are only 10 cents a yard.

Maritime Ontario.

The Province of Ontario has generally been regarded as an Inland Province; but, by the decision of the Boundary arbitrators, it has an ocean front of 160 miles on Hudson's Bay, or rather James' Bay, a prolongation of Hudson's. The Globe of Saturday, with characteristic enterprise so characteristic of that journal, devotes its twelfth page to a map and description of what it hopefully styles Maritime Ontario. Many persons will be surprised to learn that Ontario has sea-ports on its northern shores, not so far distant from the capital of the Province—Toronto—as Montreal, and much nearer than Quebec. This, hitherto, popularly speaking, terra incognita, has a large wealth of minerals and timber, and is fairly well adapted to agricultural settlement. The isothermal lines, which vary greatly from parallels of latitude, so far as the latter indicate temperature, are so distributed that potatoes are grown successfully, barley ripens well, and small fruits, such as currants, raspberries, strawberries, etc., grow wild in abundance on the shores of James' Bay, about 600 miles due north from Windsor, Ontario. The new light thrown on the territory of Maritime Ontario by the above mentioned article, invests the matter of the formal settlement of the boundary award with vastly greater importance. By means of a railway projected from the north shore of Lake Superior to James' Bay—a distance of about 150 miles, Ontario, especially the western and northern portion, would have access to Europe at least six months in the year, and could greatly reduce the vexatious exactions that railway monopolies, the result of possible amalgamations, may be in a position to make. The importance, in all respects, of the carrying out of the award of the arbitrators is so plain that it need not be urged, and it is time such people of Ontario, as are partly blind, should open their eyes to the great importance of unitedly demanding that this Province should no longer have such overwhelmingly important interests jeopardized by the machinations of party politicians.

The License Bill.

The much talked-of License Bill has become law, thanks to the subserviency of the Tory majority and the placing, by such representative Tory temperance men as Sir. Leonard Tilley, Prof. Foster, Senator Vidal, etc., of party before principle. Tory journals go into ecstacies over the excellence of the measure as a liquor license act. But any merit it may possess is chiefly due to its being a pretty faithful copy of the Crooks act. The only important difference there is, is, that the Crooks Act is a constitutional enactment whereas Sir John's retaliatory legislation is ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament. The measure may be all that is desirable but according to the confederation constitution, the Dominion Parliament have no more authority to pass such an act, than they have to amend the Mosaic laws. Mr. Mowat holds this view, the Reformers of Ontario have this view, and even a Tory like Senator Trudel saw in the act a danger to provincial rights. The fact is that the License Bill was conceived in spleen, brought forth in darkness, by the help of a partisan committee, and developed by the brute force of a numerical majority. Sir John conceived the measure as a method of venting his political hatred on "Mowat, that little tyrant," and was so ashamed of his undertaking that he turned over the preparation of the bill to a partisan committee, after vainly endeavoring to inveigle the Reform leaders to share the responsibility. The matter was staved off to the fag end of the session, and rushed through without adequate consideration. The bill was sent to the Senate at the last moment, and that body was compelled to act on it with such indecent haste that even the versatile Plumb was constrained to regret the action of the Commons in compelling the Senate to so hasty and perfunctory a consideration of so important a measure. So great was the reckless haste in the matter, that the bill sent to the Senate contained none of the amendments made on the third reading in the Commons, showing that that illustrious aggregation of incapables "went it blind." The worse than folly in pushing such legislation in face of the right—hitherto undisputed by competent authority—of the Local Legislatures to deal with liquor licenses, shows how far political rancour will carry Sir John. The result will be, in case of an attempt to enforce the new enactment, a serious conflict of authority, for Mr. Mowat is not the man to surrender a right which this Province has enjoyed for fifteen years without protest. Law suits will be engendered, and the only parties that will probably benefit by the new legislation will be lawyers and liquor sellers, the temperance party having, with the able assistance of the great temperance advocates, Sir Leonard Tilley, Prof. Foster and Senator Vidal, been "left out in the cold."

Tory Oppression.

The Dominion Government cares not for the rights or wrongs of the poor North-West settlers, when a political favorite's interest is involved. In the North-West scenes are enacted, that parallel in nonchalant heartlessness the eviction scenes of Ireland. Recently Mr. Metcalfe, M.P.P., of Kingston, in reward for political services, or subserviency was sent up to the North-West to sell by auction the Government lands within the mile belt on both sides of the C.P.R., which should never have been sold, but given to the actual settler. The wrong, as instanced by the scene described below, consists in selling out to speculators the land occupied by bona fide settlers, though they may be squatters.

A correspondent of the Globe gives an incident that took place at the sale:—

"When this man's half-section was offered at the sale at the up-set price of $5 an acre, he implored those present not to bid against him in the following distressing appeal, with bitter tears streaming down his cheeks: 'Oh! gentlemen, don't bid, this is my home, and I have worked hard on it for a whole year. I am not able to pay more for it. I am too poor.' To their credit be it said, the crowd refrained from bidding, though it was a choice piece, except two soulless speculators, and one of them McLennan, M.P. for Glengarry, I think, ran it up to $6.75, or rather the homestead half of it, and got it. After it was sold the settler thus outraged went up to him, and looked at him, saying, 'I want to know you when I meet you again.' The greedy M. P. asked him what he meant by such a threat. He replied, 'If a man robs you before your face what do you do the first chance you get?' The answer is easy. There can only be one inevitable result of such robbery, and that in plain English, will be bloodshed, if the Dominion Government persist in their iniquitous land policy."

The correspondent adds, that if the truth of this incident, which for the sake of humanity one would hope was incorrectly related, be doubted, he can get a dozen Tory witnesses to swear to it. This is another proof that the Dominion Government, in the administration of their trust, place the rewarding of political hangers-on before the rights of the people or the interest of the country.

The Pacific Syndicate still maintains the tyranny of rates, and the hopes that were entertained that the opening of the Thunder Bay branch would result in a cutting of rates between the C. P. R. and the St. Paul and Manitoba railway, and a substantial reduction of charges, are doomed to disappointment. These two roads evidently understand each other, and the reduction in rates of the C.P.R., so greatly crowed over by the Tory journals, merely consists in making their rates from Prince Arthur's Landing to Winnipeg the same in every particular as those of the St. Paul and Manitoba road from Duluth or St. Paul to Winnipeg. Those two roads have evidently conspired to exercise their power of bleeding the immigrant and settler ad libitum, and thus retarding the settlement of the Northwest by discouraging immigration. The results justify the warning given by Reformers at the ratification of the Syndicate contract, of the danger of intrusting an unscrupulous corporation with such tremendous powers for evil.

The Review denies our assumption that its last article on the T. V. C. was contributed. We give our cotem. the benefit of the doubt, and accept his denial. The force of the Review's rebuke of our disregard for journalistic anonymity, is gravely impaired by a recollection of the outrageous personal attack made by it last summer on the proprietor of this journal.

THE QUEEN'S ILLNESS.

ALARMING STATE OF HER MAJESTY'S HEALTH—AT TIMES ALMOST DELIRIOUS.

The Queen's condition is now known to be such as to warrant alarm even on the part of her physicians and personal attendants. The character of the illness has not been well defined beyond the point that it is of a nervous type and is not readily controlled by ordinary remedies. Her condition has been such that for days it has been difficult to get from herself any description of the symptoms to enable the physicians to act intelligently. Her Majesty's nervousness has become so extreme that she is frequently hysterical, and sometimes almost beyond control and bordering on deliriun. On the journey to Balmoral no cheering or exciting demonstrations were allowed. The accident to the Queen's knee is charged with resulting in the present illness. The knee sprain was secondary to the jar to the hip joint caused by the fall. The jar led to sciatica troubles, from which the royal patient suffered terribly. After all lighter means of relief had been tried the physicians were compelled to resort to hypodermic injections of morphine in order to secure Her Majesty any relief whatever. On many occasions, after great pain and loss of sleep, she has been temporarily quite beyond control. The fall, sprain, and inflammation allowed the gout, whose existence had long been known, to ascend to the hip, where the sympathy of the sciatic nerve was at once excited. Usually in persons who in other respects do not possess excellent health this is the fatal point in gout, and the physicians fear this may the case with the Queen.

PERSONAL.

Messrs. J. R. Dundas, M.P., and J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay, were in town on Wednesday.

Mrs. James' Elliot and family, of Smith, have left for Oregon, to join Mr. Elliott, who has taken up land in that State, and who, as his many friends will learn with satisfaction, is doing well.

Messrs. D. H. Bennett and George, Stewart, deputy-reeve of Otonabee, left on Monday of last week for Carberry, Man., to locate and invest in railway lands, provided the country suits.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, P.L.S., is one of the party of surveyors selected to assist in the survey of the ten new townsips which the Ontario Government have issued instructions to have laid out for settlement this year. The township of Boyd will be surveyed by Mr. Fitzgerald.

We were pleased to see Mr. Thomas Beavis at his usual post at the Council meeting on Tuesday night, quite convalescent, but still weak from his recent severe illness.

We are pleased to note that Mr. W. A. F. Campbell, of Messrs. Poussette & Roger's office, took a highly successful position in law at his first intermediate examination.

Hon. D. Healy, formerly of Asphodel, and educated at Norwood grammar school, gave us the pleasure of a call on Tuesday. He is a member of the State Assembly for the City of Rochester, and secretary of the Bureau of Statistics of New York State, and is visiting Ontario to inform himself as to our industries, prison management and other matters. He left this country fourteen years ago, and has been engaged in journalism, having been editor of the Labour Advocate, Rochester.

THE THIRD HANGING.

Michael Fagan Pays the Penalty.

HE PROTESTS THAT HE DID NOT HURT A HAIR IN BURKE'S HEAD—HIS POOR MOTHER'S UNANSWERED APPEAL.

Michael Fagan, one of the Phœnix Park murderers, convicted of killing Mr. Burke, was hanged Monday morning at Kilmainham jail. Since he received sentence Fagan had been very attentive to the instructions of the priests who visited him. In an interview recently with his relatives he declared that he had not hurt a hair in Burke's head. His mother was confident of his innocence and wrote to the queen repeating this declaration, but her letter was not answered. Canon Kennedy attended the condemned man this morning. The black flag announcing that the execution had taken place was hoisted over the jail at eight o'clock. A strong force of police and military were present, everything went of quietly. A small crowd collected outside the prison, a few of whom knelt in prayer for the repose of Fagan's soul. The condemned man was pale, but appeared resigned to his fate. Death was instantaneous.

Before mounting the scaffold Fagan told a priest who attended him that he hoped Irishmen would avoid secret societies.

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

ANNUAL PIC-NIC.

The annual pic-nic will be held on the 21st of June on "The Plains" at Bridgenorth. A most successful one may be expected, as the committee intend presenting and carrying out a series of amusements superior to any heretofore offered. This, with the location, should ensure the success of the event. For full particulars see posters which will be issued in a few days.

KILLED BY DOGS.

On the night of the 26th inst., fourteen sheep, belonging to Mr. John O'Brien, were attacked and killed by dogs.

MEASLES.

Measles are very prevalent in the north of this township, and one school is virtually closed.

LUMBERING.

Quite a business has been done in timber here during the past winter. Mr. Wm. Trennum has put about $3,000 worth of cedar on Pigeon Lake and Messrs. Blanco, Geary & Conway have placed over $1,000 worth of the same material on Chemong Lake. The greater part of this timber will be shipped to the States.

OBITUARY.

This week we have to record the death of Mr. Denis Lyons, better known as "Denney Lyons," an old East Indian and Crimean veteran, who departed this life on the 25th inst. Denney delighted to tell of his adventures at Balaklava, Kyber Pass and among the Himalayas. He had several medals in recognition of his services.

MANITOBA LEGISLATURE

[illegible] debate on the Address [illegible] has been discussed three days. Mr. Greenway made a strong attack upon the Government, showing its utter want of principle. [illegible] machinery plan [illegible] been ran, [illegible] was stop [illegible] and [illegible] tools of the Ottawa Government. He ridiculed the idea of Manitoba with its bankrupt treasury [illegible] for disputed territory. Mr. Norquay made a strong point of Sir Charles Tupper's recent remark, that the interests of Manitoba must be sacrificed to the policy of the Dominion, which implied that the North-west was to be a province of the Tory party. Mr. Norquay made a weak defence. He gave the lie to Tilley's statement that the [illegible] arrangement with for ten years, [illegible] the Dominion Government's view of the disallowance of railway charters, had [illegible] to re-enact the Manitoba & North-western charter, provided the road did not cross the boundary. Mr. Jackson (Independent) condemned Mr. Norquay for not borrowing four million dollars for draining and improving Manitoba lands, and for not protesting against the outrage of increased C. P. R. rates, and the Dominion sale of land. He moved an amendment to the address protesting against disallowance as an infringement of the rights and prerogatives of the Legislature, and declaring the intentions of the House to insist on its rights, as enjoyed by other Provinces, of constructing railways within any point of the Province. The debate was adjourned.

THE CIRCULAR IN EXTENSO.

FULL TEXT OF POPE LEO'S ANTI-PARNELLITE DOCUMENT.

The following is the full text of the circular addressed by the Holy See to the Irish bishops and despatched from Rome to each of them on the 17th of May:—

"Whatever may be the case as regards Mr. Parnell himself and his objects, it is at all events proved that many of his followers have on many occasions adopted a line of conduct in open contradiction to the rules laid down by the Supreme Pontiff in his letter to the Cardinal Archbishop of Dublin, and continued in the instructions sent to the Irish Bishops by this Sacred Congregation, and unanimously accepted by them at their recent meeting at Dublin. It is true that according to those instructions it is lawful for the Irish to seek redress for their grievances and to strive for their rights; but always at the same time observing the divine maxim to seek first the kingdom of God and his justice; and remembering also that it is wicked to further any cause, no matter how just, by illegal means.

"It is therefore the duty of all the clergy, and especially of the bishops to curb the excited feelings of the multitude and to take every opportunity with timely exhortations to recall them to the justice and moderation which are necessary in all things that so they may not be led away by greed of gain to mistake evil for good, or to place their hopes of public prosperity in the shame of criminal acts. Hence it follows that it is not permitted to any of the clergy to depart from these rules themselves, or to take part in, or in any way promote movements inconsistent with prudence and with the duty of calming men's minds. It is certainly not forbidden to collect for the relief of the distress in Ireland; but at the same time the aforesaid apostolic mandates absolutely condemn such collections as are raised in order to inflame popular passions, and to be used as the means for leading men into rebellion against the laws. Above all things they, the clergy, must hold themselves aloof from such subscriptions, when it is plain that hatred and dissensions are aroused by them, that distinguished persons are loaded with insults, that never in any way are censures pronounced against the crimes and murders with which wicked men stain themselves; and especially when it is asserted that the measure of true patriotism is in proportion to the amount of money given or refused—so as to bring the people under the pressure of intimidation.

"In these circumstances, it must be evident to your lordship that the collection called the 'Parnell Testimonial Fund' cannot be approved by this sacred congregation; and consequently it cannot be tolerated that any ecclesiastic, much less a bishop should take any part whatever in recommending or promoting it. Meanwhile, we pray God long to preserve your lordship."

Call early at Turnbull's if you want to secure some of those choice Pattern Prints for 10 cents. They will not last long at the rate they are selling.

Flies and Bugs.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

Decline of Man.

Nervous Weakness, Dyspepsia, Impotence, Sexual Debility, cured by "Wells Health Renewer." $1.

Rumours are afloat at Washington to the effect that startling developments are impending, implicating high military and civil authorities in gambling practices.

Very Well Known are the virtues of the Cingalese Hair Renewer, in restoring grey hair to its natural color and then preventing it from turning grey ever afterwards. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by J. D. Tully. 19-8t

The Blues.

We get many letters from druggists stating pleasant results from customers of Bilious temperaments having used Zopess.

Those subject to depression or low spirits, caused by Indigestion or Liver troubles will be surprised how rapidly and pleasantly it acts. It corrects the secretions, strengthens digestion. Usually a 10-cent sample convinces one of its value. For sale by J. D. Tully. 22-tf

A truce has been concluded between the troops of the Ameer of Afghanistan and the shipwarries.

Cingalese is the name of a widely and favourably known hair restorer which is not recommended to do utterly impossible things, but then nothing is better for keeping the hair in good condition and restoring it when lost. If the scalp is capable of being toned up, to exert its proper functions, sold at 50 cents per bottle by J. D. Tully. 19-8t

Of WILLIAM MANSON, Deceased.

Pursuant to a judgment of the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice, made in a certain action of Manson vs. Manson. The creditors of William Manson, late of the Township of Asphodel in the County of Peterborough, farmer, who died, in or about the month of November 1878, are, on or before the eleventh day of June 1883, to send by post prepaid to Mr. Wm. Mortimer Clark Esq. Solicitor, Toronto Street, Toronto, their christian and surnames, addresses and description, the full particulars of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of their securities (if any) held by them. Or in default thereof, they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefit of the said judgment. Every creditor holding any security is to produce the same before me, the undersigned Master in Ordinary of the Supreme Court, at my chamber in Osgoode Hall in the City of Toronto on the 18th day of June 1883, at eleven o'clock forenoon, being the time appointed for adjudication on the claims.

Dated the 18th day of May 1883.

21-3t (Sgd) THOMAS HODGINS.

Notice to Creditors.

The creditors of ROBERT WESCOTT, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, who died on or about the thirtieth day of April, A.D., 1883, are required, on or before the twenty-fifth day of June, A.D., 1883, to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Messrs. Poussette & Roger, solicitors, Water street, Peterborough, their christian names and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their accounts, and the nature of the securities (if any) held by them; and that in default thereof, and immediately after the said twenty-fifth day of June, A.D., 1883, the assets of the said Robert Wescott, deceased, will be distributed amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

This notice is given pursuant to section 34 of chapter 107 of the revised Statutes of Ontario.

Dated at Peterborough, 23rd of May, 1883.

POUSSETTE & ROGER,
Solicitors for Hannah Wescott, administratrix of the estate of the said late Robert Wescott. 21-td.

MIDLAND DISTRICT DASHES.

The Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

COBOURG.

Cobourg has thirty-three telephones.

The line boats now call here three times a week.

When the trees that have been planted spread their limbs, Cobourg will be one of the prettiest towns in Canada.

HASTINGS.

Mr. McClelland, of Peterboro', had a photograph gallery in operation here on the 24th.

Mr. C. Wynn, with a gang of workmen has commenced operations on the bridge, and as a consequence, travel over it will be suspended from 11 a.m., to 3.30 p.m., every day, Sundays excepted.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

Mr. Jackson McLean and Miss Wealthy Decker of this place, says the Past, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. John Ewing on the 16th inst. After the marriage ceremony the young couple were accompanied to Omemee by a number of their friends, where they took the train for Toronto, where they intend spending part of their honeymoon with their relatives who live near the Queen City. We wish them a pleasant trip and much happiness.

OMEMEE.

On Wednesday evening last a number of persons were confirmed by the Bishop in Christ Church.

William, second son of Mr. Coplin Laidley, of Omemee, has secured the position of press reporter on one of the Buffalo papers at a good salary.

Some seven or eight of the telegraph poles between Mount Pleasant and Omemee were struck by lightning on Saturday evening last and the "subtle fluid" came gliding into the latter office, making quite a report, which caused much consternation, but no harm was done.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Mumps, measles, and diarrhœa are three maladies which have affected, to the greatest extent, suffering humanity around this locality.

Another teacher will be required for the public school should the increase continue. In one of the departments there are sometimes eighty pupils.

The team of horses employed by the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, one day last week drew in one load 3,000 of green lumber. This is equal to over 4,000 feet of dry lumber—a very large and heavy load.

The new overseer of fisheries who is to protect the fish of the Trent, is Mr. N. Simmons, of Meyersburg. He received his papers of instruction in his duties last week, and is clothed with authority to prosecute all persons who violate the the fishery laws.

BOBCAYGEON.

A party of distinguished sportsmen, from Toronto, have arrived at the Rockland for a few days fishing.

On Tuesday of last week a Council of Royal Templars of Temperance was organised by P. M. Pattison, Grand Lecturer. It is to be known as the the Bobcaygeon Council No. 73.

The Gilmour drive is already in Pigeon Lake. It contains 13,000 logs and 600 pieces of square timber, out on the Galway limits and brought down Nogey's Creek. These limits have been worked for a number of years, and appear to be inexhaustible.

On Wednesday the Rev. Mr. Craigie was ordained and installed as pastor of the Presbyterian congregation. The services were witnessed by a good attendance. The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Bennett, the ordination was performed by Rev. Mr. Bell, who also addressed the people, and Rev. Mr. Clark addressed the minister. The singing by the choir, under the leadership of Miss A. Orr, was particularly good.

PORT HOPE.

The new band is making very satisfactory progress.

Twelve flat cars are in course of construction at the Midland shops.

Messrs. O'Brien, carriage makers, on Cavan street, are making and shiping to order to Montreal, a number of buggies.

The "Stars," of Port Hope, in their game of lacrosse at Bowmanville, on the 23th, were beaten in three straight games.

Dr. Puraiow, of Port Hope, has been unanimously elected to a seat in the Senate of Victoria University.

Mr. McLaren, the new band master, is a hero of the Zulu war. He spent four years in African campaigns.

Mr. John Helm has the prettiest flag pole in the province. It is 130 feet high and only four inches in diameter at the base.

Last Sunday evening a large Newfoundland dog created a marked disturbance in the galleries of the Methodist church. All efforts to get the brute out were unavailing.

A match game of cricket was played in Port Hope on Saturday last between Trinity College club, of Toronto, and Trinity School club, of that town, resulting in a victory for the Toronto club.

The contract for the new post office has been signed at Ottawa. Work will have to be commenced immediately. The building must be completed for occupation by November 1st, '84.

Mr. C. F. Powers has received a letter from his son George, in the North-West conveying the intelligence that he had his house had been burnt, and that his cattle, pigs, plows, harrows, feather and mattress had been consumed.

LINDSAY.

The celebration of the 24th in Lindsay was a grand success—a regular rustic reunion, full of fun.

Mr. W. H. Dean, third son of Judge Dean, of this town, graduated at Victoria University last week as B.A., with distinction, taking honors in some of the courses.

The newly organised Lindsay band serenaded the Post on Wednesday evening. The boys deserve credit. They have got together in an independent way, and we are once more to have a a local band. The corps are led by Mr. John Bates, who has given the members painstaking and excellent instructions.

Mr. Edward Flood, for some years editor of the Warder, and recently manager of a private bank at Prince Albert, N.W.T., returned to town last Friday. Prince Albert must be the healthiest part in the North-West, and abounding in ozone, judging from Mr. Flood's appearance. He spent the winter there, and has the same yarn about the cold there not being as cold as the cold here.

The steamer Eva is this season under command of our genial and good-looking young friend, Capt. McCallum, and has been considerably improved in various ways. She now leaves Bobcaygeon at 8 a.m., and returning leaves Lindsay at 3 p.m.

The Lindsay correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent says: "On Friday and Saturday the Madison Square Company presented Esmeralda and Hazel Kirke. Mr. Bradburn, since fitting up the Town Hall is endeavoring to get good companies here, but the Lindsayites have become so accustomed to Nigger Minstrelsy and Jubilee Singers that it will take some time to train them up to good dramatic productions. Two shows a month is enough for Lindsay anyway. The working classes can't afford more, and our blooming aristocracy are too poor."

A JOURNALISTIC DUDE.

Referring to the Mail's very cultured remark that Mr. Blake is "only an intellectual half-breed," the Telegram neatly observes: "It appears that he does not carry a book of quotations around in his coat-tail pocket, and that he fails to discourse learnedly about the classical productions of the ancient Greeks. Neither does he show an intimate acquaintance with the names of the various characters in the last new novel, while it is said that he has been heard to express a preference for the nineteenth century over the eighteenth. Altogether Mr. Blake is a very undesirable sort of person, and we advise the Liberal party to get rid of him with as little delay as possible. He may have been mixed up with half a dozen Pacific scandals, made money out of railway contracts, gerrymandered the constituencies by an electoral bill, or played the thirty-two thousand dollar trick to perfection, but all these would not compensate for the one thing lacking. He is 'an intellectual half-breed,' which is only one remove from being a journalistic dude."

REPUTED BRITISH SPIES.

A special cable despatch to the Boston Post from London Eng., says:—"O'Donovan Rossa and Peter J. Tynan, the London evening papers of to-day declare, are undoubtedly British spies under regular pay. These declarations are backed up by certain detailed statements, and have produced a genuine sensation among the Irish. Nearly all the members of the Irish Parliamentary party ridicule the statement.

UXBRIDGE BURNED.

A TERRIBLE VISITATION.

This village was visited by a disastrous fire early on Saturday morning. The flames originated in the market building, and so incendiarism is suspected. The losses amount to the considerable total of $34,000, while the insurance is only $19,800.

A Fair Exchange.

Will you exchange a chronic case of Dyspepsia, or agree to break up a Bilious Temperament—so give your torpid Liver activity, and thus strengthen your Digestion, regain energy, comfort, health and spirits, all for 75c? A single bottle of ZOPESA will do this. A few doses surprise those who try Zopesa. For Biliousness and Dyspepsia in their many forms Zopesa is a Panacea, and is warranted to cure them. It acts speedily and pleasantly. Try a ten cent sample. For sale by J. D. Tully. 22-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

An Anti-Jewish outbreak has occurred at Rostoff, in Russia, in consequence of a murder of a Russian by a Jewish publican. Several houses and shops occupied by Jews were robbed and burned, and the troops sent to the spot were unable to restore order.

Lydia Pinkham, a patent medicine proprietress, is dead. She began by manufacturing medicine in a tea kettle, and in a few years built up a business of $300,000 a year. She spent $180, 000 per annum in advertising.

The Pope is reported to be well satisfied with the result of his circular to the Irish bishops, as he expected far more opposition than he has met with. The circular is said to have seriously interfered with the prospects of the Parnell fund, subscriptions to which are now coming in slowly.

Lord E. G. Fitzmaurice, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, stated in the House of Commons that the Imperial Government had never entertained the idea of establishing a British resident at Rome, and that the Pope's circular to the Irish bishops had not been issued at the request of the British Government.

The Berlin Provincial Correspondence is doing its little best to help the Czar along by patting Russia on the back, apropos of the coronation at Moscow, which it declares to be a festivity of peace. This is exceedingly kind of the Berlin P. C., but there is lots of time yet for its festival of peace to be converted into what a penny-a-liner loves to call a carnival of crime.

During the festivities at Moscow on Wednesday, a portion of the parapet behind the church at St. Basil fell upon the heads of the people below, wounding several persons, some of whom are reported to have died since of their injuries. The event of the day was the proclamation by the heralds of the date fixed for the Czar's coronation, namely, on Sunday, at the Cathedral of the Assumption.

In spite of the veto of the New York and Brooklyn Fenians and Socialists, the opening of the Brooklyn bridge was successfully carried out on the Queen's birthday. The sister cities were handsomely decorated, the streets were thronged with eager sightseers, and even the sun had the temerity to shine, for which piece of bad taste it may expect to be "boycotted." Truly it looks as if the New York and Brooklyn Fenians and Socialists were in a minority, and a mighty small one at that.

Mr. Sales, of Kimballton, O., is a gentleman of the Chadband type, whose Christianity takes a decidedly aggravating form. At family prayers, which he holds three times a day, he is in the habit of pointing out all the great sins mentioned in the Bible, and applying them in a most unpleasant fashion to his wife. Mrs. Sales naturally resents this method of having her shortcomings impressed upon her sons and daughters, and has applied to the courts for a dissolution of the tie which binds her to her Habakkuk.

The festive fire-cracker did its business very effectually at Scotland, Ont., on the 24th. A despatch from that place states that a young man of weak mind was fatally burnt by his clothing catching fire from some fire-crackers he had in his pocket. There are a number of weak-minded young men who play with fire-crackers in this and other towns whom the community could easily spare. Also a few scores of imbeciles with a weakness for toy pistols, whom one could see without much regret going off in an apotheosis of glory and powder smoke.

An Enthusiastic Endorsement.

GORHAM, N. H., July 14, 1879.

GENTS—Whoever you are, I don't know; but I thank the Lord and feel grateful to you to know that in this world of adulterated medicines there is one compound that proves and does all it advertises to do, and more. Four years ago I had a slight shock of palsy, which unnerved me to such an extent that the least excitement would make me shake like the ague. Last May I was induced to try Hop Bitters. I used one bottle, but did not see any change; another did so change my nerves that they are now steady as they ever were. It used to take both hands to write, but now my good right hand writes this. Now, if you continue to manufacture as honest and good an article as you do, you will accumulate an honest fortune, and confer the greatest blessing on your fellowmen that was ever conferred on mankind.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife: pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

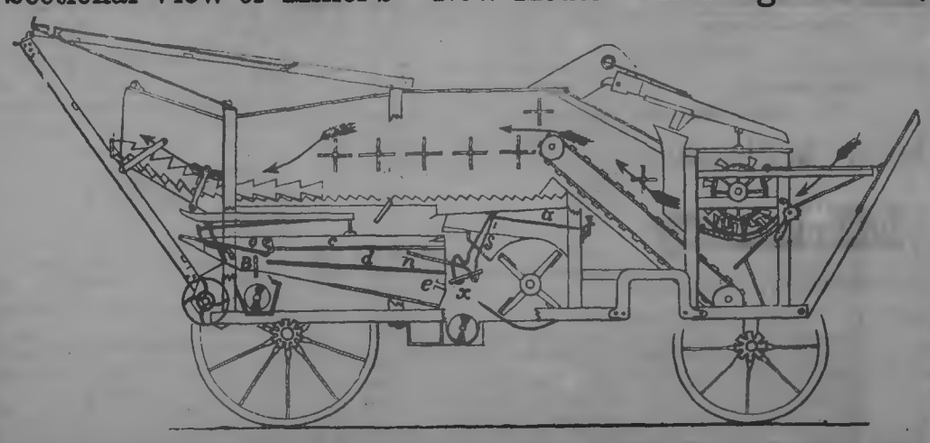
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher.



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly, HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 12th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery brought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly, JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing myself for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model is the best one I have ever seen or used.

Yours truly, THOMAS WETHERUP

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 12th, 1882.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had [illegible] machines if I had had [illegible] whom I had [illegible] Model" in this [illegible] ever had [illegible] farm.

Yours truly, JOSEPH SHIRK.

Be sure and examine the "New Model" before purchasing.

A SHORT SYNOPSIS

ONCE MORE, CLOTHING!

Clothing for Mens', Youths' or Boys' wear, for dress, business or school wear; for town, country or travel. Clothing that wears well, that fits well, that looks well, that's good, that's finished, that's stylish. That's our clothing all over.

If there's any manner of person, any sort of taste, kind of use, not provided for by us, we'd like to hear of it. We certainly can conceive of none.

From the staid head of the family, who don't bend enough to "knee" his pants, to the small boy with a liking for marbles and rough fences, the wants of all have been considered by us. We've provided for the entire convocation.

Strong stitches are put where they will do the most good. Ample pockets where they'll be of most service. Style and beauty of finish, where they'll be the most appreciated; and honest plainess, together with honest workmanship, where only these qualities are asked for.

Doesn't the above schedule of points all grappled with, strike you as legs in our favour? Course they do. Then act promptly and intelligently on our showing.

Put your eye on this platform. Deal with DOLAN & CO., a Thoroughly Reliable House, conducted on the Most Enterprising Principles. It never was beaten yet in Qualities and Prices. It never will be. Look at our goods. Look at our work, We like to be compared with any or all. The result is invariably in our favour.

SIMPLY miraculous is all I can say of the effect of DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE in my case. An elderly lady writes this from Antigonish, N. S., who had suffered from pains in the back for twenty years. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough 19-8t

Your pawnbroker is the model teetotaller. He never wearies taking the pledge.

ONE to SIX bottles of "Fountain of Health"—by cleansing the blood, improving the general health, and fortifying the system against taking fresh colds—will in all cases relieve, and in most cases cure ordinary catarrh. 21-2t

French troops have landed at Madagascar, carried several military posts erected by the natives, and secured a position commanding the land and water routes to the capital.

Many thousands of people yearly are saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in the matter of properly cleansing the system in the spring season, from the accumulated impurities which, if left undisturbed, breed disease. As a purifier Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits.

"How much better you look, Mr. S." "Yes, I have gained 32 pound on Hall's Catarrh Cure. Have not felt so well in 20 years. It has made a complete cure and is worth $50 a bottle to any one that has Catarrh." Sold by John McKee Druggist Peterborough.

To try to get money out of a miser is likely to be as successful as to light a cigar at a pump.

A PLEASANT ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—"I had sour stomach and miserable appetite for months, and grew thin every day. I used Burdock Blood Bitters with the most marvelous results; feeling splendid." MRS. JOSEPH JOHNSTON, Pittsburgh, Pa.

It does not always follow, though it sometimes seems to do so, when a person wears half mourning that her friends are half dead.

AN OASIS in the desert is no brighter light to the wandering Arab than a bottle of DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is to the unfortunate sufferer from Kidney Disease. It is a perfect, positive and permanent cure. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 19-8t

WHAT EVERY PERSON SHOULD KNOW.—The grand outlets of disease from the system are the Skin, the Bowels and the Kidneys. Burdock Blood Bitters is the most safe, pleasant and effectual purifier and health-restoring tonic in the world. Trial bottles 10 cents. 22-2t

A young man who was deeply in debt,
Began on horse races to bet,
But he felt much in doubt,
How his fate would turn out,
If a loss he should happen to get.

ONE OF MANY.—Mr. R. W. Carmichael Chemist and Druggist of Belleville, writes as follows:—"Your Burdock Blood Bitters have a steady sale, are patronized by the best families here and surrounding country, and all attest to its virtues with unqualified satisfaction. 22-2t

The merchant who advertises "new novelties" is soon to be married to the lady who furnishes "table board." The ceremony will be conducted by the clergyman who occasionally speaks of the "eternity of everlasting life.

PERFECT, POSITIVE and PERMANENT are the cures effected by DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Relief in all cases of Kidney Disease is obtained after a few doses. See that your Druggist gives you DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Sold be J. McKee, Peterborough. 19-8t

Last Thursday is the second anniversary of the Princess Louise steamboat collapse on the Thames at London, Ont., by which 183 persons lost their lives.

A MINISTERS EVIDENCE.—The all prevalent malady of civilised life is Dyspepsia. Rev. W. E. Gifford, of Bothwell, was cured of dyspepsia and liver complaint that rendered his life almost a burden. The cure was completed by three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. 22-2t

London Truth: "In the worst days of Rome the complaint was that the Roman grandees admitted gladiators to their feasts. Not many years ago many a British nobleman was proud of being numbered among the friends of the prize-fighter, and nowadays jockeys seem to be the rage."

The point on which the celebrated Abernethy most insisted was the stomach and through that important organ he maintained that all diseases could be cured. The truth of this observation is evident when we reflect that the whole aim of treatment in all forms of debility is to correct errors in nutrition arising from FAILURE OF THE DIGESTIVE APPARATUS TO CONVERT FOOD ENOUGH INTO HEALTHY BLOOD TO MAINTAIN THE DAILY WANTS of the system. For the cure of stomach troubles we have probably the most reliable remedy yet originated in Dr. WHEELER'S Phosphates and Calasaya.

CANADIAN THROUGH GRAIN ROUTE.

The Canadian Pacific is now taking over the Thunder Bay branch, thereby forming a through line, partly rail, partly water, from the prairie terminus of the road to the Atlantic seaboard. The company is now, therefore, prepared to move the wheat and other products of the North-West, and from their tariff we are enabled to see what the prairie farmer is likely to get for his crop. Port Arthur (Prince Arthur's Landing) is as good a lake port as Chicago, and grain is worth as much there as in the latter city. By the new tariff wheat will be carried in car loads to Port Arthur from Winnipeg for 24c. per 100 lbs., from Portage la Prairie for 37½c., from Brandon for 40½c., from Regina for 49½c., and from Moose Jaw for 51½c. Add adopting the minimum price of wheat, at the seaboard to be $1.10 to $1.20, the minimum value of wheat with open lake navigation will be at Winnipeg 71c., at Port la Prairie 68½c., at Brandon 67c., at Regina 62c., and at Moose Jaw 61c. A Winnipeg paper says that an average crop at the smallest of these figures will pay, while an average between the highest and lowest figures a large profit would be reaped, —Toronto World.

These are Solid Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness, Jaudice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or who ever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.

A Suggestion.

A day's pleasure at your disposal, instead of a day's agony. Everyone who has corns can testify to the constant discomfort they produce. "I could have enjoyed the ball, or the picnic, or some other social pastime; but, oh! how my corns ached!" No necessity now, for such complaints. Putnam's Painless Corn extractor removes the cause speedily. Try it. Beware of another article "just as good." Take only Putnam's. Sold everywhere. N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Proprietors.

A REMARKABLE FACT.—It is a remarkable fact that W. A. Edgar, of Frankville who was so far gone with liver and kidney complaint that his life was despaired of, was cured with four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. At one time he lay a fortnight without an operation of the bowels. 22-2t

Six more of the Dublin conspiracy prisoners were sentenced on Thursday, five to ten years each, and the sixth to five years. Matthias Brady, who was charged with threatening the life of the foreman of the jury which convicted his brother, pleaded guilty, but the Crown and person threatened consented to his discharge. The trials of Gibney and Kingston, who pleaded not guilty to the charge of charge of conspiracy to murder, were postponed until the next assizes. This closed the business of the commission, and the special jury panel were discharged by Judge O'Brien, who complimented them upon the manner in which they had performed their duties.

The most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany, or at least originate there. The most recent preparation placed upon the market in this country, is the GREAT GERMAN INVIGORATOR, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangements of the nervous system. ROANTREE'S
GRIST MILLS,
NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

Stock for the Back Country.

Captain Bridgewater of Anstruther has placed himself in the light of a public benefactor to the back townships, by making the first importation of thoroughbred animals with the view of improving the stock of the township. With commendable enterprise he has purchased for stock breeding purposes some splendid animals, including a young pedigreed Berkshire sow and boar—the "Black Prince," from stock imported by T. Blezard Esq., M.P.P. He has also bought of Henry Collins Esq., North Monaghan, a pure blood Durham bull 14 months old, sired by the prize monster bull "Cyprus," weighing 2,402 lbs. which was sold here to Mr. Wainright, and also a thorough bred heifer "Lady Durham" two years and a half old. Captain Bridgewater's purchases will give the farmers of Anstruther a capital chance for improving their stock.

Complimentary.

The following is from the Lindsay Post:—"We congratulate Mr. J. W. Nesbitt, who has for the last year or two had charge of the lumber business of Mr. R. C. Smith at Fenelon Falls, upon the excellent position his reputation has gained for him. Mr. Nesbitt has accepted the management of the affairs of the American Lumber Company, North Michigan, and leaves Fenelon falls to assume his new duties about the 1st July. The company can rest assured that their interests will be safe in the hands of Mr. Nesbitt, and that his business ability, commercial knowledge of the lumber trade, his thorough familiarity with mill equipment and routine will be invaluable. Mr. Nesbitt is one of the young men whom it is hard to get along without. He has had a great deal of experience, having for years handled the lumber business of Mr. J. Ludgate, of Peterborough and Gore's Landing, and later the same estate in the interests of the Ontario Bank. Socially Mr. Nesbitt will be an acquisition to any community, and he is an enthusiastic aoquatic sportsman. We predict for him unlimited success and probably some years hence we shall hear of him as a rising American representative man.

LITTLE BOWS TOPICS.

The police have abandoned their summer helmets.

The Pulp Mills began running "day and night" on Wednesday evening.

The police sells sentenced half a score of Italian navvies on Monday night.

Fowlds', of Hastings, drive of logs are tumbling over Dickson's dam at a lively rate.

The amount due the town from the license fund, for the license year of 1883-4, is $8,630.20.

Charlotte street Methodist Church is to be re-opened on the 10th June, Dr. Sutherland preaching the morning sermon.

If your watch stops take it to Hughan's New Watchmaker Shop. He can give you satisfaction. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

On Tuesday the morning mails were late, owing to the fuss of the boiler of the locomotive drawing the train, blowing out. The only damage was the delay.

The broken plates in the Cluxton Block building, in the absence of Messrs. T. Dolan and R. W. Huntcaster, have been replaced by new ones.

The drive of logs for Haslett's Mills is on the way, and as soon as it arrives—in a few days—sawing for the season will begin.

The Sanitating Committee of the Toronto Conference will meet here on June 7th, and sit till the meeting of the Conference on the 13th.

On the Queen's Birthday 62 Italian navvies arrived to work on the O. & Q. at Norwood. Forty-three were dropped at Millbrook to work on the line west of this place.

At the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge of Orange True Blues, at Cobourg, Mr. S. Weir, of Peterborough, was elected Grand Lecturer, and Mr. T. F. Weir, D.D.G.M. for Peterborough district.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham. 18-tf

On Friday last Mr. G. W. Fox, a carpenter engaged in building the new Pulp Mills storehouse and office, drove the blade of his adze into his leg, just below the knee, to the bone, making a fearful gash. A surgeon stitched the wound, and Fox resumed work at once.

Mr. G. A. Cox has this week fitted up the three shops on the east side of George street with handsome new fronts of iron pillars and plate glass. One shop is occupied by Carton Bros., Miss Jenkins will soon occupy the next, and Miss Sanderson occupies the third.

At the Council meeting on Tuesday night Councillor McNaughton originated an apothegm, that is worthy of record amongst the best of apothegmatic utterances. In criticising another member's oration, he prefaced his speech with the remark, "Talk is cheaper than common sense." Score one for honest John.

At its meeting on Tuesday night the the Town Council again ignored the matter of the enforcement of the cow by-law. Enough gas is burnt in unavailing discussion to pay the wages of a man to enforce the by-law, and thus elevate Peterborough, with its city population and importance, above the level of a country village.

Appreciated Abroad.

Last Friday Mr. Wm. English, canoe builder, Charlotte street, shipped via Quebec, a canoe to Newbridge, Kildare County, Ireland. The canoe is named "Norah"—the pride of Kildare—which it will be practically as well as lyrically, and its excellence of line, build and finish account for the reputation which Mr. English's work enjoys on two continents.

A Lightning Saw.

This spring a three feet circular saw has been added to Hazlitt's Mills to cut logs of a diameter two small for the gangs. The saw, which is running daily, revolves at a lightning speed, and walks through a log at the rate of about four miles an hour. The saw with its attachments, including the "Boss" dog, was supplied by Mr. William Hamilton, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the equipment of the mills.

The Nashville Students.

The music-loving public should bear in mind that the Original Nashville Students will appear in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday evening next. This company performed in Tilsonburg recently, and the Liberal speaks of them as follows:—The entertainment given by the Nashville Students, in the music hall, last evening was a musical treat. The concert was mostly a representation of the music of the colored people of the south, as it is expressive of a deep religious sentiment, while being odd and in quaint language. The programme was lengthy, but they sang several encores and one piece by request. The rendition of the various songs and choruses was good, and the appearance of the singers in plantation costumes and the gestures of the different actors created great outbursts of laughter. There was a large crowd present, and every one seemed pleased with the entertainment.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

How the day is celebrated.

The sixty-fourth anniversary of Queen Victoria's birthday was celebrated in town in a most melancholy manner. Of course it was a general holiday; flags were flying to the breeze, and the small boy and the festive, and too often fiery, firecracker were out in force. But owing to everybody—in a festival sense, being out of town, the place was as lonesome as a country churchyard between funerals. In the morning the Midland took out of town six or eight coaches crowded with pleasure seekers, a few going to Lindsay, a few, including the lacrosse lads, to Oshawa, and the remainder to Cobourg to witness the in that place. The home brigade turned out in force; and in the large and splendid procession of fire fighters, our contingent filled a creditable space in the ranks, and the splendid music of our band, here, as at other times, compelled the enthusiastic praise of those who heard its well rendered selections. The The band did not enter the band competition, the prize offered—$20—not being a very great temptation, and great was the disappointment of many who had hoped to hear some really good music. The day passed pleasantly with a single drawback; while it was glorious queen's weather aloft, it was Cobourg mud—the muddiest they make—under feet.

THE LACROSSE MATCH

at Oshawa, was what might be freely translated a fizz—no, mud-dle. When our boys arrived they found that the local club was not ready for the match, and numerous vexatious delays made it four o'clock before the ball was faced. The game, if it can be called a game, was played in a field ploughed last spring, and the water in places stood on the ground in deep puddles. The home team, in order to reach home had only an hour to play. Oshawa won the first game and Peterborough the second, for a wonder, for if so disposed, Oshawa might, as they did for a long time, prevent our lads from getting the rubber through. When the ball was near the enemy's goal, all an Oshawa player had to do was to put his foot on it, and down it went out of sight into the mud, and at a convenient opportunity it was pitched into the field again. The crowd two, in their plain sympathy for their home team did not by any means show our boys any favors, and by crowding in on the field greatly hindered the play. There is no doubt that on a good field three "straights" would have been scored, and not for the Oshawas either. Before the third game was finished time was up, and the home team had to make a scramble down town for tea and the train. The Oshawas did not thrust any officious hospitality on them, for they left our lads to find their way out of town alone. The Oshawa club seemed to have about as good an idea of playing lacrosse as of the duty of hospitality and courtesy towards a visiting team. When the Oshawa team visited us last year, they received the treatment due the gentlemen the home club considered them then, and the latter labored under a delusion till their recent visit to Oshawa.

DOWN THE OTONABEE.

The Golden-Eye on her first trrip had a slight passenger list, but in the afternoon she was loaded. At Hales' Bridge, in the regatta, Messrs. Shaw and Bennett won the double canoe race, and Masters Stratton and Sherwood the boys' double canoe paddle. The other events were postponed, to be finished hereafter. All the visitors arrived home safely, and there were very few hats that the next next morning did not receive easily the usual allowunce of head.

Mantles made to order. A choice selection of Laces, Gimps and Ornaments, to trim with, always in Stock at Turnbull's.

A Complete Retraction.

The Victoria correspondent of the Orillia Packet, who so gratuitously traduced Mr. Cox, by stating that he ordered the removal of a Mail advertisement and the substitution of a Globe placard at Victoria Harbor station, retracts as follows:—

"I have much pleasure in stating that I was misinformed in sending you the item which appeared in your issue of the 11th inst., and in justice to Mr. Cox, President of the Midland, in reference to his being here on the 3rd instant. My attention was called to the removal of the Mail pictorial advertisement in a jeering manner by a leading Grit of this village. As agent of the Mail, I asked the station agent (who is also agent for the Globe) for an explanation. The reply he gave was, that he had been instructed to take the advertisement down; he would not say by whom. Being told that Mr. Cox and staff were here in the 3rd instant., I inferred the instructions were given by some of the staff. My authority for stating that the President and staff were here is not a resident of this village. The statement in the Peterborough Review of the 18th inst., that the advertisements were only removed for cleaning and re-arrangement, is not correct. The Globe advertisement had only been received by the agent. It is true that the Mail advertisement has been placed in another part of the waiting room, and that of the Globe, claiming to exceed in circulation by many thousands any other paper in Canada, is where the Mail was before."

Peterborough Pulp Mill.

The Ontario Gazette contains the following notice:—

"Notice is hereby given that under the provisions of "The Ontario Join Stock Companies' Letters Patent Act," an application will be made to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in Council immediately after the expiration of one month from the first publication hereof, for Letters Patent granting a charter to Alexander Henry, of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox, Paper Manufacturer; John Russell Scott, of the same place, Paper Manufacturer; William Fletcher Hall, of the same place, Paper Manufacturer; George Albertus Cox, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Esquire; Thomas George Hazlitt, of the same place, Lumber Merchant, and Richard Hall of the same place, Merchant, constituting them, and such persons as may become shareholders in the Company thereby created, a body corporate and politic, under the name of the Peterborough Pulp Company."

"The object for which the incorporation of the said Company is sought is the manufacture of pulp and paper, and all other articles which usually are or can be made out of pulp.

"The operations of the said Company are to be carried on at the Town of Peterboro' in the County of Peterborough, or elsewhere in Ontario.

"The amount of the capital stock of the said Company is to be fifty thousand dollars. The said capital stock is to be divided into one hundred shares of five hundred dollars each.

"The first Directors of the said Company are to be the said Alexander Henry, John Russell Scott, William Fletcher Hall, Geo. Albertus Cox, Thomas George Hazlitt, and Richard Hall.

4000 yards of Fast Colored Prints, at 10 cents a yard, at Turnbull's.

A Good Pump.

On Friday a three inch ball dropped upon the upper deck of the pump in the pulp mills and the cylinder and was rounded by the pump into fragments. A new bolt was put in, and the pump, which must be a good one to stand such a test, and which was made at the Central iron works, went on working as if nothing had happened.

A Neat and Pretty Fit.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Cricket.

At a well attended meeting held at Messrs. Hatton & Beck's office, on Tuesday night, the Peterborough Cricket Club was organized for the season with the following officers:—

President—R. A. Morrow (re-elected).
1st Vice-President—H. T. Strickland.
2nd Vice-President—G. W. Hatten.
Sec'y (pro tem.)—Charles Brown.
Sec'y-Treas.—E. A. Peck.
Managing Committee—Messrs. W. A. Stratton, Max. Hamilton, H. B. Rogers, J. M. Ferris and H. Read.

The spirit of cricketing enthusiasm was noticeable, and the members present seemed determined to make up by energy for the lateness in organizing, and a match is negotiating between Lakefield and a home team, to be played this week. Six or seven new members were added, and the Chairman of the Managing Committee on Wednesday pushed the business of collecting fees with marked success.

Large Cattle Shipment.

Last Tuesday Mr. James Eakins, of Port Hope, shipped for Liverpool from the Midland Station, 100 head of fine cattle, some of them beauties, and 100 hogs. The cattle were bought at from 5 to 6¼ cents, with 5 per cent. off for shrinkage, from the following gentlemen:—Mr. D. C. Moore, Smith, who supplied 36 head weighing 56,680 lbs.; J. Archer, Smith; Geo. Hilliard, M.P., G. M. Roger, Peterborough; John Lang, Wm. Henderson, Mr. Shearer, Mr. Curtis, David and Henry Armstrong, all of Otonabee. Mr. John Newhall goes with the shipment as super-cargo.

Well Deserved Recognition.

Mr. W. M. O'Beirne, proprietor of the Napanee Express, has reason to feel proud and grateful that his journalistic lot has been cast with men of such sterling character as the reformers of Lennox. He knows by practical experience, that the virtue of political gratitude so rare in these degenerate times, in that riding, at least, a potential and pleasant fact. A few days ago the Reformers of Lennox met Mr. O'Beirne and presented him with an address, expressive of their appreciation of the valuable service which his newspaper had rendered to the Reform cause, and what is more to the purpose, especially with members of the fourth estate, they demonstrated the sincerity of their sentiments by associating with it the handsome and substantial endorsation of a purse of $450. These acts, are a graceful and praiseworthy recognition of the yeoman service which the Express, under Mr. O'Beirne's able management has rendered the cause of good government in this riding. The Reformers of Lennox evidently see below the surface of things, and do not ignore the value of the assistance, which a good, live, vigorous newspaper is able and willing to render its party. We congratulate the Express, on not only having such warm and practically appreciative political friends, but also on the more important fact that his energy, enterprise and zeal have made him worthy of the handsome recognition of his services with which he has been honored.

WEATHER NOTES.

During the month of May now gone many farmers have had anxious thoughts respecting the seeding of their fields, the month having been one of the wettest for a number of years. Rain fell on 20 days to the extraordinary depth of 4 and 65-100 inches; hail fell on the 9th and slight snow fell on the morning of the 12th, which we may count the last of the season. One thunder storm on the 4th with little rain, another on the 19th. Although little rain fell here there was a heavy storm in the adjoining townships with considerable hail. There has been white frost on several mornings, the severest being on the mornings of the 14th and 27th, each ranging 6° below the freezing point; the highest was 70° on the evening of the 25th, while our mean temperature for the month is 46 5-31 degrees. Owing to so much rain and keeping the ground cold, vegetation is very backward; plum trees are in blossom but apple trees are not, so the frost did little harm. Our natural forest is not yet full leaved, being the latest I ever remember, for I always find our forest in full leaf between the 13th and 24th of May. First swallows on the 10th, night hawks on the 13th, and whip-poor-wills on the 28th.

On Saturday last John O'Brien had 14 sheep killed by dogs, causing him a heavy loss, being a fine flock of sheep.

Always ahead for ready made clothing or clothing to order, Shirts, Scarfs, Ties and Socks, Boots and Shoes for Men Women, and Children; Fresh and Fragrant New Teas, Sugars, Spices, and Tobaccos. Another lot of splendid Bacon, Hams, and Lard. W. J. WALLACE, Lakefield. 23-4ins.

THE COMING CANOE CONGRESS.

Fourth Annual Meet at Stony Lake, August 10th to 24th.

The Programme—The Amended Sailing Rules—Special Rail and Steamboat Rates.

The following is the programme of the fourth annual meeting of the American Canoe Association, which will be held on Stony Lake, beginning August 10th and ending August 24th.

6. Paddling, Class 2, 12.00 m.

7. Upset race; all classes; under paddle, 12.30 p.m.

REGATTA NOTES.

Prizes.—Flags only are given as prizes in the regular regatta.

Distances.—In the paddling races the distance will be one mile unless otherwise stated; in the sailing races, one mile and a half to four miles and a half, according to strength of wind, &c.; and in the combined races, one mile under paddle and one mile under sail.

Simultaneous Races.—In the sailing races, Classes A and B do not compete against each other; there is a separate race for each class, but sailed at the same time. The canoes of the two classes muster together. Class B starts five minutes before Class A, and the finish of of the two classes is noted separately.

Juniors.—The term Juniors is used in sailing races to indicate those who have never won an A. C. A. sailing prize; in paddling races, those who have never won an A. C. A. paddling prize; and in combined races, those who have never won a prize in an A. C. A. sailing, paddling, or combined race. Unless otherwise stated, the races generally are open to all members who choose to enter—seniors and juniors alike. If a member winning a junior prize afterwards win a senior prize in the same kind of race—sailing, paddling, combined, or upset, being the four kinds intended—his junior prize shall then pass to the man who was next to him in the junior race; and if the latter also took a prize, it descends in like manner to his next man, and so on.

Limited Weight Races.—In these races the canoe, with ballast, rig, &c., must not exceed in weight 120 pounds in Class A., and 150 pounds in Class B.

Weather.—If there should be no wind on Tuesday or Wednesday, the paddling programme of Thursday will be substituted.

AMENDED SAILING RULES.

A canoe to compete in any race of the A. C. A., must be sharp at both ends, with no counter, stern, or transom, and must be capable of being efficiently paddled by one man. To compete in A. C. A., paddling races, it must come within the limits of one of the numbered classes, 1, 2, 3, 4; and to compete in in sailing races, it must come within the the limits of either class A. or B.

Class 1, paddling. Length not over 18 feet, beam not under 24 inches. Depth inside from gunwale to garboard streak, and at any part of the canoe, not less than 7½ inches.

Class 2, paddling. Length not over 16 feet, beam not under 26 inches. Depth (as above) not under eight inches.

Class 3, paddling. Length not over 17 feet, beam not under 28 inches. Depth as above not under nine inches.

Class 4, paddling. Length not over 16 feet, beam, not under 30 inches. Depth as in class 3.

Class A, sailing. Length not over 16 feet, beam, not over 28 inches.

Class B, sailing. Length not over 17 feet, with a limit of 28½ inches beam for that length. The beam may be increased ½ inch for each full six inches of length decreased.

The greatest depth of canoe in classes A. and B. at fore end of well, from under side of deck amidships to inner side of garboard next the keel, shall not exceed sixteen inches.

The length of limb has been increased in classes A and 2 to 16 feet, in order to admit the many existing Peterborough canoes known as single hunting canoes, measuring 15 ft. 6 and 16 feet by 27 in. This is a tentative measure to avoid a separate classification, and is not to be taken by members or builders as permanent until at least it be adopted at a general meeting of the A.C.A. Special races are provided in the programme for the 14 feet canoes of these classes, and from these the longer canoes are excluded.

Open canoes without rudders are allowed a foot extra in length in class B.

In centreboard canoes, the keel outside of garboard shall not exceed one inch and a quarter in depth, including a metal keel-band of not over one quarter of an inch deep. The total weight of all centreboards shall not exceed sixty pounds; when hauled up they must not project below the keel, and they must not drop more than eighteen inches below the garboard, nor, if over one-third of the canoe's length, more than six inches below garboard. Canoes without centreboards may carry keels not over three inches deep from garboards, and not weighing more than thirty-five pounds. Lee-boards may be carried by canoes not having centreboards.

Measurement.—The length shall be taken between perpendiculars at the fore side of stem and at the aft side of stern; the beam at the widest part not including beading. The word "beam" shall mean the breadth formed by the fair lines of the boat and the beam at and near the water line in the paddling classes shall bear a reasonable proportion to the beam at the gunwale. The Regatta Committee shall have power to disqualify any canoe which in their opinion is built with an evident intention to evade the above rules. As the minimum in class 4 coincides with the maximum in class B, a little latitude is to be allowed in measuring for these classes, in order that a canoe built to come well within one class may not thereby be ruled out of the other.

The "crew" of each canoe shall consist of one man only, unless the programme of the regatta states the contrary. Members must paddle or sail their own canoes and must not exchange canoes for racing purposes. A canoe which is not owned or used for racing by any other member present, shall be deemed to be the canoe of the member bringing it to the camp. In double canoe races the owner may associate any other member with himself.

Rule IV to be amended by striking out the words "and no other flag to be carried dur a race."

In rule VIII, after the words "in order to claim the race" add the words "unless disabled beyond the possibility of temporary repair.

In rule IX, at the words "in all cases where a protest is lodged on the grounds of foul sailing or paddling" change so as to read "on the ground of fouling."

In rule XI, instead of "if the stern of one canoe is clearly ahead of the bow of another" read "if the stern of one canoe is a canoe's length ahead of the bow of another."

In rule XIV, for the words "and no fixed ballast shall be carried below the keel-band," substitute "and not more than 35 pounds of ballast shall be carried below the garboards."

RAIL AND STEAMBOAT RATES.

Special arrangements have been made with the following railways, by which members and their families are carried on return tickets at one and one-third fares, canoes and outfits free: Grand Trunk, Chicago & Grand Trunk, Intercolonial, Passumsic, Canada Pacific, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Delaware and Hudson, Chicago & Alton, and Odensburg & Lake Champlain.

The Midland Railway will carry members and their families at one fare, canoes and outfits free.

The proprietor of Calcutt's line of steamers has generously offered to carry all members and their families free from Hastings or any point on his line.

The steamer Norsemen will carry on return tickets members for a fare and a third, canoes, etc., free.

The various local committees are pushing the matters of their respective departments vigorously, and so far, everything promises that the local arrangements will be such as to contribute greatly, as far as they are concerned, to the complete success of the meeting.

The gaps in Turnbull's stock of hosiery filled up this week with several new lines by express.

A PLAIN POSER.

J. M. Blauvelt sends a sum, which, he says, "was given at a teachers' Institute in our county some years ago by a School Commissioner, and out of fourteen pupils only two worked it alike. When I first glanced at it, I thought it was as 'plain as a pike-staff,' and tried it myself, but I became terribly 'mixed' in the debit and credit account. It has furnished much amusement in our own family-circle, and I give it to your readers with much pleasure. Here it is:—A liquor-agent of a New England town (where spirits were only sold by an agent appointed for the purpose) held the office for one year, at the expiration of that time he gave the following statement of his account, viz:

Amount of cash received on assuming office	$ 32 17
Value of liquor received at the same time	57 54
Cash received from sales during the year	102 97
Amount paid for liquor during the year	59 91
Amount of agent's salary	25 00
Value of liquor on hand at the end of the year	31 37

Does the town owe the the agent, or the agent owe the town? And if so how much?

A Fair Exchange.

Will you exchange a chronic case of Dyspepsia, or agree to break up a Bilious Temperament—to give your torpid Liver activity, and thus strengthen your Digestion, regain energy, comfort, health and spirits, all for 75c? A single bottle of ZOPESA will do this. A few doses surprise those who try Zopesa. For Biliousness and Dyspepsia in their many forms Zopesa is a Panacea, and is warranted to cure them. It acts speedily and pleasantly. Try a ten cent sample. For sale by J. D. Tully. 22-tf

See, Feel and Believe.

"Truth conquers," and PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR is the embodiment of truth. "Actions speak louder than words," and its action on corns of every discription has been the means of extending its reputation far and wide. The explanation of its success is that it performs all that it is claims to do, viz.: To remove the worst corns in a few days without pain. Beware of imitations and substitutes. LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CAPSIZED.

A butcher's waggon was completely over-turned the other day, while making too sharp a turn round the corner. Mr. Belcher and Mr. Geo. Strickland, who were close by, came to the rescue and no harm was done. We hope a lesson may be learned from the mishap.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Goodwin, the contractor on the T. V. locks, was in the village this week on business, we believe.

Mr. W. C. Sanders, clerk of the village, who was in the North West prospecting, arrived home Monday evening. We understand he is pleased with the country, and made an investment.

CRICKET.

Our boys who visited Peterborough last Saturday, to play a friendly match with the club there, came home feeling they had the worst of the game. We hope they may render a better account of themselves in the future.

CANOE AND BOATING CLUB.

The Lakefield Canoe and Boating Club met on Wednesday evening, 30th May. It was decided, that for the purpose of stimulating and increasing the local interest in the club, arrangements should be made for sports on Dominion Day. The amusements that may be anticipated, are a regatta in the morning, field sports in the afternoon, ending with a concert in the evening.

COURT OF REVISION.

Court of Revision meets on Monday, 11th inst., at one o'clock, in the Council Chamber.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The School Board meets on Tuesday evening, 12th instant, in the Council Chamber.

FORESTRY.

The Court meets in Union Hall, next Thursday evening.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

The annual meeting of the Norwood Mechanics' Institute was held here on Thursday afternoon last, at which there was about the usual attendance forthcoming at such meetings. The annual reports were received, all which shewed that the Institute was in a very good condition as far as its supplies were concerned. There have been added to the Library this year about 200 books, of the best works now published, at an expenditure of about $220. There are now about 700 volumes in the library, furnishing a very desirable treat to those of our community having a literary taste. The following gentlemen were elected officers and directors for the current year: President, Mr. J. A. Butterfield; 1st Vice-Pres., S. P. Ford, M.D.; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mr. R. W. Waters; Secretary, Mr. Thos. Burke; Treasurer, Mr. W. H. Stephenson; Librarian, Mr. W. H. Mullins; Directors, T. M. Grover, W. E. Roxbargh, John Clark, W. H. Stephenson, Dr. Massie, Dr. Pettigrew and Thos. Fraser.

At a meeting of the Directors, held immediately after the annual meeting, it was decided to expend during the year the sum of $75 on additional books for the library, which amount, together with the $2 equivalent given by the Ontario Government, furnish a splendid selection of reading pabulum for the subscribers of the Institute.

DOMINION DAY.

Dominion Day is to be celebrated here in regal style. There are to be races, athletic sports, a lacrosse match, a concert, and a great many other things too numerous to mention. Our hotel keepers have subscribed $45 towards the celebration fund, and our citizens generally have given the matter their substantial consideration. The Band and the Lacrosse Club have generally taken the celebration in hand, and from the earnestness with which they have gone to work we can augur a very enjoyable day in Norwood on the First of July next.

A RUMOUR

prevails to some extent that Mr. Robert Wilson is about to be gazetted a Justice of the Peace for this village. It is to be hoped the rumour will prove correct, as such an appointment will no doubt give general satisfaction. Such an official at any rate is much needed in our municipality.

DUMMER.

COURT OF REVISION.

Court met at the old Town Hall June 1. All the members present, who took the statutory oaths and organized.

There was but one appellant, Daniel McMullen, who happened to be away when assessor was at his place, and assessed him for a horse, among others, that was there temporarily. The horse was thrown off and his personal property reduced $50.

The Clerk was instructed to certify to the Roll, and the Court of Revision adjourned.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. On motion, David Rose was given a road contract under Pathmaster in Division No 19, to amount of a statute labor tax of $9, paid by him.

On motion a petition from John Northie was received and filed, and Council is to close the road across the corner of his land as soon as he has made the proposed road as good as the one at present travelled.

Mr. Kirk was empowered to procure a road scraper, for Boundary, provided Asphodel Council will pay for half of it.

The following Road appropriations were made:

Division No. 1, $100: under A. R. Kidd, Commissioner.
Division No. 2, $100; under David Kelly, Commissioner.
Division No. 3, $100; under Geo. Kirk, Commissioner.
Division No. 4, $100; under Jacob White, Commissioner.
Division No. 5, $100; under John J. Crow, Commissioner.

ORDERS GRANTED.

To James Robb, salary as assessor $15.00
To James Anderson, refund of statute labor tax of 1881, $1.00.

BY-LAWS PASSED.

Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 7, 1883.

Befriending the Mechanic.

The Conservative journals have denied in indignant terms that the Dominion Government gives assisted passages to old country mechanics. And Hon. Mr. Pope when cornered in the House tried to wriggle out of the fact that the Government extended any such assistance. But the following proves that the Government not only agrees to do so, but does something much worse and more unpatriotic. The following advertisement is clipped from the London Daily Telegraph of May 12th, 1883:—

CANADA and the United States.—The TEMPERLEY LINE of high classed, powerful STEAMSHIPS leave the VICTORIA (London) DOCKS for QUEBEC at short intervals during the season, and passengers can book through to all parts of Canada and the United States with the undersigned. Assisted passages are granted under arrangement with the Dominion Government to mechanics, farm and general laborers, their families and domestic servants. Next departure S. S. OCEAN KING, MAY 18.—Apply to Temperleys. Carter and Darke, 21 Billiter street, London, E. C.

The above advertisement shows that there is nothing narrow about the Dominion Government. They not only propose to export old country mechanics free to Canada to compete with our own mechanics, but they actually give assisted passages, according to the above advertisement, to immigrants destined to the United States. But little can be expected of a Government the members of which are so busy meddling with the internal affairs of the provinces and trying virtually to overturn confederation, that the ministers cannot attend to any intelligent understanding of the duties or requirements of their departments. Sir John Macdonald at election times adopts the entire race of mechanics and workingmen as his children. But when he has used their votes, and has no further present need of them, he not only forgets the promises with which he deluded them, but, as in the case of the Chinese, whom he allowed his pet contractor Onderdonk to introduce into British Columbia to compete with white labor, and in the later instance of paying opponents to mechanics to come to Canada, to supply if they can the places of Canadian mechanics, he actually does them a direct injury and injustice. It's a long lane that has no turning.

Ignoring Dominion Interference.

Ignoring the interference of the Dominion Government in the exclusively domestic affairs of the provinces, is, perhaps the best way to prevent the rights of the latter from being sacrificed. This would only be the natural course. Suppose a farmer with a hitherto undisputed title to his land, receives a notice from another farmer, a little richer and more powerful—a sort of agricultural Ahab—to the effect that the latter claims the former's possession. What does the farmer do? Simply nothing. He goes on in the same old way, sowing, reaping, and gathering in, and finds that the bucolic Ahab, disappointed in raising a lawsuit, by which he might get the start of his neighbor, and financially cripple and embarrass him, even if he did not succeed in robbing him of his farm, gives up his game of bluff, and leaves farmer number one in the usual possession of his rights.

So it will be, if the provinces quietly go on in the exercise of their rights, which have, till recently, never been usurped. Manitoba proposes to thus treat the invasion of her rights, as implied in the disallowance of her railway charters. The people propose going on and building the railway lines which they think they require, and they say they do not fear the enforcement of the bogus clause of the syndicate bargain.

The C. P. R. syndicate has received a check in Manitoba. They resisted local taxation on the ground that by their charter they were exempt from municipal taxation. But Judge Ryan, at Portage la Prairie, decided that they were not exempt in Manitoba, and the company submitted and paid their taxes. The Dominion Government could not exempt the Syndicate from taxation in the latter province and Ontario, because it could not rob the provinces of their right of imposing taxation. All the provinces have to do is to levy their taxes and collect them. So with railways; Manitoba, or any other province, has the right to pass a license law, but Ontario will go right on and enforce her license Act, the only valid one for her that exists, and the chances are that her right to do so will not be successfully if seriously contested. So with the disputed territory; Ontario can continue to maintain her claim and it will be for the Dominion to show that her claim is not valid. If the provinces yield their rights they may do so, and if they maintain them, they will not probably be seriously disputed. If they remain firm, Sir John, when he finds that his "game of bluff" does not work, will give up with the good grace with which long practice has enabled him to slip out of an untenable position. The Hamilton Times points out that "Sir John can give away what belongs to the Dominion, but he cannot give away what belongs to the provinces, unless the provinces are simple enough to let him. This may be treason, but we profess to be loyal to Ontario first, and to Sir John Macdonald, the usurper, a long time afterwards."

Notes of the Day.

Sir Charles Tupper will sail on the 16th June, in the Parisian, for England.

No wonder the weather has been cold down here. In Lake Superior there are still enormous quantities of ice floating around.

It costs 25 cents to carry 100 lbs. of grain from Chicago to the seaboard by rail, and 11½ cents to take the same quantity by canal. These are the present tariffs.

It is significant of the increased immigration to Canada that the number of immigrants who have arrived in New York thus far this year is fifty thousand short of the number of arrivals during the same period last year.

It appears that the actual amount of the testimonial to Sir Hector Langevin is only $17,000. The amount originally subscribed was $25,000, but the balance was never paid up by Sir Hector's enthusiastic admirers.

The N. Y. Tribune's London special says:—Lord Lansdowne's appointment as Viceroy of Canada is well received, the press of both parties agreeing that his position, ability, known courage, independence, and winning personal qualities fit him for the post.

The Emperor of Germany, it is said, although physically in fair health, is intellectually well nigh imbecile, so that whatever Bismarck desires is at once done. The Emperor simply registers Prince Bismarck's whims, and can no longer be said to have any of his own.

The Ontario Government, we have reason to believe, does not intend to hand over the control of the licenses to Sir John until he establishes his authority to take it, and there is as yet no official decision in favor of his view that the Dominion possesses the power that was understood at Confederation to reside in the Provinces.

Prof. Sumner, in speaking of the Willimantic Linen Company, says that when the times were good and the tax on linen high, they took all the gain in 20 per cent. dividends, and watered their stock three times in six years; and when the tax on linens was reduced, they protected themselves against any diminution of profits by reducing the wages of their employees by the amount of tariff reduction.

This year is proving to be one of great atmospherical disturbance. One more storm of extreme violence has swept through Indiana and Ohio, wrecking buildings, ruining forests and destroying lives along its path. While no dangerous storms have been felt so far, in Canada, the weather is still unseasonably cold and wet, and the crop prospects are becoming more and more gloomy.

The cause of Methodist Union is making effectual progress. An analysis of the voting to date in the Quarterly Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church shows that out of nineteen Quarterly Conferences held to date, sixteen voted for union, two against it, and in one the vote was a tie. The union sentiment is apparently so overwhelming that the realisation of the scheme may confidently be anticipated in the near future.

The second reading of the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill will be moved in the House of Lords by the Earl of Dalhousie on Monday, June 11. He has issued a circular to Peers, pointing out that every vote will be of the utmost importance, seeing that the majority against the bill last year was only four. In all probability, the measure will this year become law. It is a mere sentimentality that has prevented the reform from taking place long ere now.

The Montreal Journal of Commerce takes a very unfavorable view of the policy of the Government in granting subsidies wholesale to railway enterprises. It says: "We confess that we look with the greatest alarm on the proposition of the Government to grant subsidies to eleven lines of railway, aggregating in length about five hundred and seventy-two miles, and involving an expenditure of at least fifteen million of dollars, although it will in all probability be increased to more than twenty millions. The proposition is evidently based on the necessity of locating where there has been no railway to please various sections. Capitalists who have been induced to invest their means have been protected against those who have no idea of investing a dollar of their own money in works which will never pay. The alarming feature of the scheme is that the Government has encouraged an enormous expenditure of capital that will most assuredly produce disastrous results."

The woman suffrage movement is acquiring considerable momentum in England. One hundred and twenty members of the House of Commons, chiefly Liberals and Radicals, have sent a memorial to Mr. Gladstone, asking the introduction of a bill granting female suffrage in any franchise measure the Government may propose. Beside those signing the memorial, many members have pledged themselves to vote for a woman's suffrage bill, if the bill be proposed by some private member, and not introduced as a Government measure.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Dominion License Bill, as amended by the Commons, is not yet printed. It was passed by the Senate, in its blindness, apparently without that body knowing what was in it.

According to New Brunswick papers the exodus is largely on the increase from that Province this spring. A good many go to Manitoba, but by far the larger number go to settle in the United States. Like Mr. Secretary of State Chapleau, they seem to have more faith in the Republic than in the Dominion.

The Annapolis Spectator (Tory) correctly describes the management of the Intercolonial Railway by Sir Charles Tupper when it says that employees generally devote their abilities to the cause of political parties, and they depend rather upon those services than upon their legitimate ones for their retention and promotion.

When the protectionists, says the Chicago Tribune interpose a high tariff between the Manchester or Birmingham manufacturer and the Illinois and Iowa farmer, they say to the Englishman: "You shall not sell to us." When the American protectionist, with even less than the usual shrewdness of his selfish school, advises the British Government to shut its ports to American wheat, corn, beef, pork and butter, he recommends it to that extent to sacrifice its best market. This side of their theory they are careful never to state to their dupes.

Sir Charles Tupper is evidently determined not to lose his chance for the reversion of the Premiership, upon which he has for years had his eye. His determination to retain his seat in the Cabinet, so as to be able to circumvent the machinations of Sir Hector and Sir Leonard, each of whom is manœuvring for the inside track, indicates the amount of distrust and heart-burning among the Ottawa happy family, thinly concealed under the appearance of harmony. As the London Advertiser puts it, "he has no confidence in the Weed."

The Senate passed the License Bill after hardly an hour's discussion. The Senate's friends and upholders will have some work to do to justify the existence of that body from the present session. It has not been their fault perhaps. The Government's course in keeping back their important bills to the last compelled the Senate, no doubt against its will, to be little more than a register of the decrees of the Lower House. But on a matter of sumptuary legislation, exciting popular passions so much as the license question, the country had a right to expect a careful consideration of the measure from that branch of Parliament which is not exposed to the wrath of either temperance men or liquor dealers. Sir John's idea of the Senate, however, is that its main usefulness lies in keeping it in readiness to worry a Liberal Government.

TESTIMONIAL TO HON. S. C. WOOD.

GRACEFUL ACT OF GRATITUDE.

A meeting of some twenty or thirty of our leading citizens, says the Lindsay Post, was held in the Mechanics' Institute reading room, Lindsay, Monday evening week for the purpose of considering the advisability of presenting some suitable testimonial to the Hon. S. C. Wood on the occasion of his departure from town. There were present amongst others Mr. Mayor Wallace in the chair, Messrs. Adam Hudspeth, John McLennan, D. J. McIntyre, M.P.P., W. Needler, A. McDonnell, John Kennedy, J. D. Flavelle, Edmund Gregory, F. C. Taylor, A. O'Leary, C. D. Barr, H. O'Leary. The matter was informally discussed and it was thought better to make a presentation of plate rather than to entertain Mr. Wood at a banquet, as the former would be a lasting memorial. It was also deemed desirable to make the testimonial a county affair, and not simply a town matter, as there are many in the county who would no doubt wish to contribute. A committee consisting of Messrs. Adam Hudspeth, chairman; A. O'Leary, secretary; John McLennan, John Kennedy, Edward Gregory, J. D. Flavelle, S. A. McMcMurtry and Mayor Wallace was appointed to receive subscriptions and make further necessary arrangements. It is intended to purchase a handsome piece of plate (an epergne or something of that sort) and present it probably during the June session of the County Council, so that subscriptions should be all in not later than the end of this month. We may add that the idea meets with general approval, irrespective of party lines, and that a handsome sum was subscribed on the spot, the evening of the meeting.

CAN A JURYMAN'S PAY BE GARNISHEED?

The novelty of the case of Phillips vs. Austin, in the Eastern Division Court, Toronto, excited considerable interest. It appears Austin has owed the plaintiff $10 for about two years, which the latter could not collect. At the last session of the Assize Court Austin was on the jury, and shortly after he had been called to attend the Court the plaintiff garnisheed the money coming to him as a juror in the hands of the County Treasurer. The defendant's counsel held that the money was given the jurors not as wages but simply for their maintenance, and that it could not be garnisheed. Judgment was reserved.

ON A DISSECTING TABLE.

THE HORRIBLE DISCOVERY MADE BY A MEDICAL STUDENT.

A well-known physician of Northern Ohio gives the particulars of a heart-rending affair which ended in the incurable insanity of a bright young medical student.

The young man mentioned went to New York last fall to attend a course of medical lectures at a famous college. After a time he was called home by the dangerous illness of his only sister, a beautiful and intelligent young lady. After the death of the loved one the mother became delirous, and for two weeks her life was in danger. At last she became convalescent, and the young man returned to his studies.

He was sent to the dissecting-room, and assigned a subject. Fellow-students instructed him in the use of the scapel knife, and then, after wandering about among the tables covered with human bodies until the terrible odour was almost unbearable, he was about to leave the room when attracted by the remarks of two students upon a subject. One of them asked him whether he thought the dead person's teeth were genuine or false. With hesitation he stepped up to the table, then with a terrible shriek fell insensible to the floor. The body was that of his idolized sister.

Brain fever ensued, and for many weary weeks the stricken parents watched for some sign of recognition. In his delirium he struggled furiously to escape from his nurses, and then, becoming exhausted, would piteously ask:—"Why won't you let me rescue my darling sister?" He was reduced to a skeleton when the crisis came. One day he asked his mother, with apparent intelligence, for a drink of water. As she handed it to him he denied wanting it. The mother watched him closely and soon perceived that her fears were realized, and her son's mind had fled.

The broken hearted parents were at last obliged to place their afflicted son in a private insane asylum. At each of their visits to him he recognized them, but rebuked them for not allowing him to go free and rescue his sister from the harm that he imagines threatens her.

THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE DISASTER.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN TRAMPLED TO DEATH.

A terrible accident occurred on the new Brooklyn bridge on Wednesday afternoon. The bridge being much crowded from end to end, some ladies fainted and screamed. A panic ensued which, in the crowded state of the bridge, was like unto that in a theatre under an alarm of fire. Some fifteen persons were killed outright, and a great many more wounded, several fatally. The people on the bridge continued to crowd and trample one another to death until the military was called out to clear the bridge. More than half a score were dead when extricated from the throbbing heap, and others were more or less terribly injured. They lay six or eight or ten deep. Those in the lower tier were long dead. The clothes were torn from the bodies of more than one in the attempt to get them out; all were hatless, many shoeless; and on others the clothes hung in rags. Four women, all dead and trampled into a shapeless mass, were taken from the bottom of the heap. One of the women had been seen in the crush holding her screaming baby above the heads of the crowd as she herself went down. Some man had taken the baby, and it was not found when the mother was discovered in the charnel heap. Baby clothing scattered about gave evidence enough that weak infants had been in the crush. A small mountain of torn and abandoned clothing was gathered up by the police. That one first scream was the death-knell of many in that crowd. It grew at once utterly ungovernable, and so dense that a movement of any kind was utterly impossible. The crowd, forced from the constant pressure and accession from the Brooklyn side, went over the steps like a cataract and, once started, fell until the walk lay piled with bodies to the height of the steps, then they went over and fell down beyond it. A dead Chinaman, Ah Lee Sing, was taken from the bottom of the heap.

BABIES ON THE TRAIN.

EXPERIENCE OF A CUSTOMS OFFICER AT THE GATEWAY.

The Emerson Manitoban has an item said to have been contributed by Mr. J. Hayden, of the Customs' staff there, who says he had a terrible time examining the luggage. The writer says that the train on Sunday morning last from the south was one of the largest and most productive which ever entered Manitoba. It contained three hundred and twelve adult passengers and thirty-nine babies, some of whom were born on the cars, apparently from two hours to twenty months old. It would take even Tom Moore to describe the music that was made by this chorus of voices. The elderly people, judging from their fidgetting, were undergoing considerable uneasiness, although they were obliged to "look pleasant" and accept the situation. The Custom officers were puzzled for once to know if American babies were dutiable, which information was obtained by the Collector that all such new arrivals were certainly free. Manitoba can stand tains of this description every day.

Hanlan Repeats the 07-4off Tale.

The Canuck Captures Kennedy Like a Child.

The Record Beaten by [illegible]

[illegible] The three mile sculling race between Hanlan and Kennedy, at Point of Pines, last Thursday resulted in another hollow victory for the Canadian champion. The postponement of the day before reduced the attendance, which, however, was still very large.

THE RACE.

All day it looked as if another postponement of the Hanlan-Kennedy race was inevitable. A stiff gale from the southeast blew over the bay, curling up the surf in long rollers over the beach and making a sea in which no racing shell could live. Just before 5 o'clock a heavy thunder storm accompanied by a brisk rain came on, beating down the white caps and clearing the air, so that both water and weather were as favorable as could be. The contestants were ordered to their stations at 6.25. The signal was promptly given and Kennedy at once dashed to the front, leading a quarter of a length and pulling 38 strokes to the minute, while Hanlan was rowing a 36 stroke and rolling in his boat in a manner that seemed uncomfortable.

At the end of the first quarter of a mile Kennedy still led by the same distance, and was rowing 39 strokes to Hanlan's 34; time, 1.25.

At the half mile the boats were even, Hanlan rowing 36 and Kennedy 38; time 2.52.

At the ¾ mile buoy Hanlan was leading by three quarters of a length, pulling 33 strokes to Kennedy's 36; time, 4.25.

Hanlan's right shoulder was at this time going up in a suspicious manner, but he very quickly settled down to his work and at the mile buoy he was two lengths ahead and rowing 32 strokes to Kennedy's 35; time 5.58.

At a mile and a quarter Hanlan led by four lengths rowing 31 to Kennedy's 33; time 7.51. Both men now steered very wildly.

At the turn Hanlan led by five lengths. He was rowing 32 strokes and his time was 9.29½. Kennedy was pulling 33 strokes per minute and his time was 9.43.

At the mile and three-quarters Hanlan was a long way in front, rowing 28 strokes; time 11.21.

At two miles Hanlan led by fifteen lengths, rowing 28 strokes to his opponent's 31; time 12.26.

At 2½ miles Hanlan was rowing easily at a 30 gait, with Kennedy pulling gamely at a rate of 33 to the minute; time 14.11.

Hanlan passed the 2½ mile buoy in 15.37, pulling 29 strokes, while Kennedy was putting in good efforts at the tune of one in two seconds.

At 2¾ miles the same distance divided the boats and both had slightly quickened the pace, Hanlan rowing 30 and Kennedy 32; time 16.44.

Just before the finish Hanlan spurted at 32 per minute, while Kennedy, although a long way behind, hit her up again and went over the line in good style.

The winner's time was 19 mins. 4 sec., which is the fastest on record for a three mile race with a turn. Kennedy's time was 19.52, showing he was about twenty lengths behind.

THE TIME,

19.04, is the fastest on record by no less than 1 minute and 10½ seconds, the record previously having been 20.14½, credited to Charles E. Courtney in a race at Oswego Oct. 17, 1877. In a contest with Lee at Richfield Springs, N. Y., Sept. 1, 1882, Courtney is alleged to have accomplished the three miles in 19.31½, Lee being only 4½ seconds behind, but there being some doubts as to the genuineness of the performance, it was not admitted to the record. The time made by Hanlan is even 56 seconds faster than the best double scull record for the distance.

THE EARNINGS OF THE OAR.

The winnings of Hanlan in his boat races since 1876, exclusive of his last performance, in which he won $2,500, not counting the bets, have amounted in purses and bets to the tidy sum of nearly $60,000 over $8,000 per year, a sum about equal to the salary of a member of the Dominion ministry, and won much more honestly, too, in some cases.

Remember This.

If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails.

If you are costive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill, for Hop Bitters are a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

If you are wasting away with any form of Kidney disease, stop tempting Death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are sick with that terrible sickness Nervousness, you will find a "Balm in Gilead" in the use of Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequenter, or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malarial, epidemic, bilious, and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply, or sallow skin, bad breath, pains and aches, and feel miserable generally, Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, rich blood, sweetest breath, health, and comfort.

In short they cure all Diseases of the stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Bright's Disease. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

That poor, bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of health, by a few bottles of Hop Bitters, costing but a trifle. Will you let them suffer? 22-4t

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, chronic deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. ON THE EDGE OF THE MARSH.

IN NOVEMBER.

Dead stems and rusty gold
Till the year on the marsh is old.
Shadowed and bent, the sedges shrink
Back from the sea-pool's frosty brink.
Low in the west a wild-cloud lies,
Tossed and wild in the autumn skies.
Over the meadow, mournfully,
Drifts the sound of the restless sea.

IN JUNE.

Fair and green to the marsh in June:
Wide and warm in the sunny noon.
The flowering rushes fringe the pool
With slender shadows, dim and cool.
From the low bushes "Bob White" calls;
Into his nest a rose-leaf falls.
The blue-flag fades; and thro' the heat,
Far off, the sea's faint pulses beat.

MIDLAND DISTRICT DASHES.

The Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

[illegible] Notice is given of incorporation of the Campbellford paper mill, with a capital of $25,000 [illegible] in the Gazette.

Mr. D. Adams has purchased the thoroughbred Clydesdale stallion, Hair-at-law, imported from Glasgow a week or two ago.

Campbellford has a population of nearly 1700 souls, yet not one-fifth of these are to be found at church Sunday morning.

The residence of Mr. John Stillman, lot 6 in the 11th concession of Seymour, was struck by lightning during the storm on Monday morning last and badly shattered.

HASTINGS.

Mr. John Beavis, of Asphodel, has a calf which weighs 120 pounds, and is but nine days old.

The Norwood letter of the Star says that Mr. Blezard, M.P.P., sprained his ankle last week. Forgetting for a moment his dignity, and increased weight, he attempted some school-boy performance, with the above result.

The annual pic-nic of the Hastings Grange, took place on Tuesday, 5th June. The steamer Golden-Eye, with covered barge, was engaged, and made a trip up the lake, calling at the different landings and arriving at Idyl Wild for dinner. A good quadrille band furnished music for dancing, and every arrangement was made for the comfort and pleasure of excursionists.

NORWOOD.

Norwood was defeated in the lacrosse match with Madoc on the 24th.

Dominion Day will be celebrated here in grand style this year.

Last Saturday the bridge over the Ouse on Cedar street, near Finlay's Hub and Spoke factory, collapsed.

The cow by-law passed last summer is to be enforced this year. Last Friday Constable Hill made a raid and impounded no less than fifteen.

The Register learns from reliable sources that our esteemed townsman, Mr. Robt. Wilson, will shortly be appointed a Justice of the Peace. A better appointment could not be made, as Mr. Wilson is a gentleman of sound judgment, and is in every way well adapted for the position.

BOBCAYGEON.

The saw mill at Little Bob started for the season on Monday. It had been thoroughly repaired during recess, and is working as well as ever. Mr. Wm. Gildes superintends, and it will not be his fault if the mill does not make a big run.

A largely attended social was held at Mr. Wm. Kelso's on Tuesday night, in connection with the Presbyterian Church. About a hundred were present during the evening, and all enjoyed themselves immensely. The financial results, which were large, were placed to the credit of the manse fund.

Four famed anglers of renown from from Toronto went down the lake on Friday, and it was not an anyway extra day for fishing, either. The sportsmen returned home on Saturday, and took with them 350 bass to distribute amongst their friends in Toronto.

PORT HOPE.

Work is booming around the Midland railway shops.

Ex-Coun. King has been appointed by the Government to superintend the erection of the new post office.

Miss Williams, of Penryn Park, will shortly leave Port Hope for a lengthened visit to Mrs. Duckett, Ireland.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox, paid a visit to the work shops on Monday. He is well pleased with the appearance of things there. More new machinery will be added in a few weeks, and additional men employed. Mr. Cox gives his assurance that the question of the location of the workshops will be settled shortly.

Mr. David Marshall has received the position of Collector of Customs for Portage la Prairie, with a salary of about $1,500. Mr. Marshall will leave for the scene of his future labors on Monday. He does not intend taking his family to Manitoba for some months.

A number of interested persons in town are anxious to know the whereabouts of a citizen who has suddenly made himself scarce. One young man mourns his departure to the tune of $1,000.

LINDSAY.

The local lodge of the Sons of England propose holding a pic-nic at Washbourn's Island, on Monday, July 2nd.

Wm. Howe has just completed the gas fixtures for lighting St. Mary's church. Two large and costly reflectors, carrying 28 jets each, light up the body of the church.

Mr. F. C. Taylor and Miss Taylor leave in a couple of weeks for a trip to England and the continent. They may be gone a couple of months.

Forty-four members of the canoe club were on Monday called on by the Treasurer to contribute the membership fee of one dollar. Forty-fourgentleme nat once planked one dollar each without one refusal.

Messrs. E. W. Taplin and L. G. Drew, of Oshawa, recently purchased from Mr. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, nine head of Hereford cattle, comprising one aged cow, seven two and three year old heifers and one heifer calf, the cost of which was about $3,000. They intend breeding this class of cattle.

Timber trains are going south over the Midland very frequently. The timber is of more than average girth, although the sticks are not as long as many of last season's shipments. The trains are so heavily loaded that the officials of the road are almost liable to be fined for "cruelty to engines."

A meeting of the building committee of St. Paul's church was held the other day. The plans for the new church show a very handsome structure in Gothic style, facing Kent street, with spire and tower at the north-west corner. The arrangements are being perfected for the building of the church.

Oh, my Back!

Is there a miserable, weakening pain in the small of the back? Is urination painful? Do you have palpitation of the heart? Do strange, indescribable feelings creep up your back and sides? Does the least exertion weary you? Does your urine show brickdust or albuminous deposit? Does any sudden fright cause an intense, sharp pain in the small of your back? Do you have an aching in the groin? Is your memory impaired? Is your breath short? Are there shooting pains about your vitals? Are you becoming dropsical?

These are all symptoms of kidney diseases. Be on your guard against them. If let run it may end in Bright's Disease, which is sure death.

Your best course is to procure at once a bottle of SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS costing only 50c. It will cure any form of Kidney Complaint, except Bright's Disease, it will relieve the symptoms and defer the evil day sometimes indefinitely.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is a medicine as harmless as water. The world has not seen its equal as a cure for diseases which attack the Kidneys and for the complaints to which females are alone liable. It is of more value than any medical compound known to the medical faculty.

PETEBBOROUGH, JUNE 7, 1883.

The Second Pacific Scandal.

The keen interest taken in the Dominion elections of last year, and in the Ontario elections in February, by certain contractors of section B. (C.P.R.) can be explained by the startling unearthing by the Globe of what it calls a "Second Pacific Scandal." If the Globe's facts are as stated, one is furnished with a pretty comprehensive key to a course of political events that have otherwise been inexplicable.

The gist of the Globe's discovery is: That section B. of the Canada Pacific Railway has been in the hands of a contracting firm consisting of Alex. Manning, of Toronto, Peter McLaren, of Perth, John, (represented by James) Shields, and J. J. McDonald. Mr. John Shields is the gentlemon who at the instance of Sir John Macdonald' paid M. Butt Hewson $2,500 to secure the withdrawal of the suit by the latter against the Premier. He is the same Mr. Shields who was here and there and everywhere during the June and February elections, and who was particularly active in the Muskoka election. In short the Globe asserts that Mr. Shields is Sir John's right hand man, for certain business requiring to be kept from the light of the sun, and who has been known to boast that he had this hold on Sir John. Mr. Shields and Mr. Macdonald of the firm had the management of its business, and the Globe specifically charges that they advanced vast sums to assist the Tory party in the Dominion elections of 1882, and the Ontario elections of 1883, and that for this purpose they withdrew $40,000 in a single instance.

The generous contractors were to be recouped in the manner indicated by the Globe below:—

"First.—A remeasurement and a reclassification of the work were to be made in the interests of the contractors. The work had been in charge of an honorable and skillful engineer. Last fall he was sent out of the way—transferred to British Columbia. The remeasurement and reclassification were then made, and they are now returned to Ottawa, giving an increase of $300,000 to the contractors.

"Secondly.—The recent transfer of the unfinished line to the syndicate was made an excuse to agree to allow the contractors 15 per cent. for prospective profits on work taken off their hands, which percentage the contractors estimate as equal to another sum of $120,000 towards 'recouping' them.

"Thirdly.—There is an enormous loophole to be left in the final settlement for further 'recouping' by an arbitration clause in which the contractors are to be allowed to show damages to any extent against the Government for alleged delays on the part of contractors for other portions of the line.

"Fourthly.—The Canada Pacific Company has been compelled to take the contractors, plant over and pay $70,000 for it."

If forty thousand dollars was the total of the alleged corruption fund, then Shields and Macdonald were "recouped" with a vengeance. The betrayal of the plot was brought about by Mr. Manning, who is not a politican as Shields is, objecting to having his share of the subscription charged to him, and complaining that Shields and Macdonald have not fairly divided the profits of some of their transactions. Hence Mr. Manning sues his partners, and hence the expose. The Globe in the elaboration of its charges intimates that the $40,000 was charged on "travelling expenses from Rat Portage to Ottawa," and speaks of Mr. Wm. J. Jennings of the Rabbit Mountain who has removed to British Columbia to give place to pliant men who would make the required remeasurements.

Of course there was a chorus of indignant denial of these charges all along the line, and Mr. Shields publishes a letter to the Globe and denies the charges entirely and asserts: "No moneys have been taken from the firm except for the legitimate purposes of the business, and as this is a most serious and grave charge, I demand that you retract."

The Globe does not appear to be in a retracting mood, for in its comments on Mr. Shield's letter, it declares with the boldness and confidence of one who feels his ground secure:—

"No quibble, no shuffle can meet the broad accusation which we have formulated. There are, we admit, further details that the public demand and must have. As to the libel suit let Mr. Shields, let any member of the firm of contractors, let the Premier of Canada himself bring and prosecute an action of libel against the Globe for our disclosures of yesterday, and we promise to unearth a foul and reeking nest of corruption that will justify an hundredfold every word we uttered."

Sir John's course in the matter of these charges will be watched with interest, which will be intensified by the recollection of the circumstances of the Pacific scandal in Sir Hugh Allan's time. When those charges were made they were indignantly denied, but a Royal Commission fixed them on the parties concerned so unequivocally that they were driven from power. One could wish for the credit of the country that the past record of the Government would give the lie to the Globe's charges, but it does not. Tupper gave Onderdonk $200,000 more that the lowest tender for the Port Moody contract, and it does not require a very vivid imagination to fancy a portion of that sum finding its way to the Tory election fund. The Gerrymander bill was a monstrous political crime, and even the Streams Bill disallowance was in all probability made to do duty as a solid political factor in election times for Mr. Peter McLaren, of the B. firm is, is presumably the Peter McLaren in whose interest the Streams Bill has been three times disallowed. The public will await with intense interest the further developments which the Globe promises.

On Tuesday the Globe adds to its comments on the matter: "In the brief space of four days the Globe has dragged to light the main facts of a gigantic conspiracy on the part of the Dominion Government to rob the country of many hundreds of thousands of dollars. By the overwhelming directness of our charges we have forced the admission of their main features from most unwilling witnesses. A week ago the public were not aware that the Premier of Canada had sunk so low as to be again at the mercy of a firm of contractors; and, at their insolent dictation, to remove a faithful and upright official, who stood in the way of their rapacity.'

One member of the firm, Mr. Shields, denies that there was any remeasurement of the work on section B, while another, Mr. Manning, admits it, and and also makes this astounding statement,—"We demanded the removal of the (honest) engineer." This goes to show that the Government, by trafficking in political corruption funds with contractors, having placed themselves so greatly in the latter's power that they are in a position to demand the removal of a Government engineer, and presumably, the appointment of one whose measurements and reports will be made. in accordance with the contracting firm's interests, and, as a necessary result, against the interests of the public purse. This was one way in which the firm was to be recouped for corruption cash advanced, and another, as admitted by Shields in his letter to the Globe, is the allowance of 15 per cent. of prospective profit on the contract taken off their hands by the C.P.R. This concession is more extraordinary in the face of Mr. Manning's statement that the firm were actual losers by the contract.

The Globe closes a vigorous article on the subject in these words:—"None the less shall the Globe be found at its post of duty. We have an abiding faith that the great heart of the Canadian people beats in sympathy with a far higher standard of political honor and morality than prevails among their rulers at Ottawa to-day. The latter may disgrace themselves, but they cannot disgrace their country so long as a fearless press shall continue to uphold the right and denounce the wrong."

Rubber Circulars, with either adjustable Sleeves, Hoods or Capes, to be had at Turnbull's.

The Cobourg World says:—"A few weeks ago, Mr. H. H. Smith, of Peterborough, left for the Old Country,—it being openly declared that he had made it convenient to leave because he knew he might be wanted in some of the election trials about to come off. And now, we have it suddenly announced that Mr. R. R. Pringle, of this town, his associate in the Muskoka election escapades, has also started for England,—perhaps to see that Mr. Smith was sure to be back in time. Curious, isn't it? We shouldn't wonder if the coincident necessity for both of these gentlemen to leave the country were followed by urgent business, also, calling John Shields, of Section B. notoriety, Anderson, the rejected of North York, and other Muskoka operators, to the old sod. Perhaps some of the proceedings may have to be postponed until the return of these gentlemen.

The Census Romance.

The Review sparring with puny partisan ingenuity to brush the fabric of the exposure of the census bungling in our last issue. While the facts attempted to be denied are cunningly glossed over, a mode of explanation, in justification, that passes simple credulity, and in a complete, comprehensive and reliable register of the industrial condition of the country. The Review's denial does not explain why we are credited with no photographic establishments, and no marble cutting establishments. Perhaps they are grouped with soap-boiling or blacksmithing, or their existence is indicated in some equally plain and intelligible manner. Our contemporary's excuse of blundering will not deceive the public, who, from personal knowledge, know that our criticisms are justified by the facts, or rather want of facts, in the census returns. Such errors as we have pointed out are prima facie evidence of the rest of the returns being as full of errors, and there is abundance of direct evidence to show that the grossest carelessness has marked the collection and tabulation of the information purported to be given. The Ottawa Free Press has devoted considerable time to a study of the third volume, and it makes some astounding discoveries.

One would suppose that the quantity of land owned in the country would increase with the increase of population and the inflow of immigration, but in many cases the reverse is shown by the Census Returns, whose infallibility the Review vouches for. For instance, in fifty counties of the Dominion, the returns show that the acreage of lands owned has greatly decreased in the past decade.

In seventy towns and villages the number of lots owned has decreased, in some places, over a hundred per cent.

The number of houses in several counties has also decreased remarkably in the last ten years.

In over fifty counties, too, the number of shops and warehouses has dwindled down dreadfully, showing, according to those precious returns, that a large portion of the population must have burned their buildings and taken to peddling.

During the past ten years, also, thousands of barns and stables have disappeared in some unexplained manner.

Marine disasters have also been epidemic. In three counties the number of steam vessels owned have decreased in ten years from 36 to 1!

But, to quote the words of the Review, "we need waste no more time on such fabrications" as those presented by the third volume of the Census Returns of 1881. It is full of glaring mistakes, no doubt the result of the employment of political friends—otherwise incompetent—as enumerators, and the result shows how greatly the interests of the country has been subordinated in this, as it has been and is in everything else, to rewarding political henchmen. The Review is the first Tory journal that has had the effrontery to excuse the third volume of the Census Returns.

New Provincial Treasurer.

Mr. James Young, member of the Local Legislature for the north riding of Brant, has been offered and has accepted the position of Provincial Treasurer, rendered vacant by the resignation of Hon. S. C. Wood. This selection is certainly one that will be generally endorsed. The new incumbent is a gentleman of great natural ability, upright in life and well acquainted with financial matters; while his Parliamentary experience has been so extensive and varied that an additional guarantee is offered that the duties of the office will be creditably and faithfully discharged. His connection with active political life dates from Confederation. In 1867 he was elected to represent South Waterloo in the House of Commons. He sat for this riding during eleven years, having been re-elected in 1872 and 1874, but defeated in 1878. He was returned in 1879 as representative of North Brant, and re-elected last February by acclamation. Mr. Young's long connection with the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association will make him additionally qualified for the position of Provincial Treasurer, whose duties include those of Minister of Agriculture. The department of Immigration will also be under his care.

Mr. Young will seek, as Provincial Treasurer, the confidence of his constituents on June 16th, nominations on the 9th. According to usage he should receive from his opponents the courtesy of an unopposed return; but though opposition will be unavailing, Sir John may seek to continue his policy of harrassing and annoying Reform constituencies, by setting up some bogus candidate. The Tory journals can urge nothing against Mr. Young's personal integrity, ability and general fitness for office; all the fault they can find in the new appointment is implied in an appeal to sectional feeling. He was sworn in as Provincial Treasurer at Government House on Saturday morning, before the Lieutenant Governor.

The population of Cobourg, says the Port Hope News, is decreasing rapidly; the political corruptionists are digging out. Mr. Wm. Mulholland has quietly made tracks, so as to get beyond the reach of the penalty for having violated the election law. Others are preparing to leave. It may be a blessing in disguise to a respectable community that there is some law that makes it necessary for political rascals to search for a more congenial climate once in four years.

The Anglin Banquet.

If differing vehemently on their Hon. T. W. Anglin (that his promotion the citizenship of Toronto was highly appreciated, that the affair was a success and a gratifying one) have been recognized, the warm welcome he received at the grand banquet tendered him at the Rossin House on Tuesday, left no room for doubt. There was an immense attendance of representative liberals from all parts of the Province. If, in a material sense, the banquet was an unqualified success, it was no less so in the intellectual features it derived from the great ability and depth that marked the speeches of the evening. The honored guest in rising to deliver his maiden speech to a Toronto audience showed himself a tall portly gentleman with a clean shaven face except a pair of flowing brown whiskers. His address is animated and fluent. His speech was characterized by a statesmanlike breadth of view, and all who heard his speech felt an assurance that Mr. Anglin's eloquence, ability and sound Liberal principles, made him a tower of strength to the Liberal party in Ontario. And as a journalist the columns of the Toronto Tribune, since his accession to the editorial chair, show that as such he will perform a good work in that sphere also. Among the other speakers at the banquet were, Hon. Edward Blake, who gave a masterly review of the work of the past session of the Dominion Parliament and exposed the shortcomings of the Government party in his usual inimitable manner. Messrs. Fraser and Mowat also spoke strongly of Federal aggression on Provincial rights, and the necessity of combatting them. Altogether the Anglin banquet was a most pronounced success from every point of regard.

The date of the controverted election trials is not yet fixed, and it rests with the judges of the rota, who are this year Hon. Messrs. Cameron, Osler, Paterson and Ferguson, to decide when the trials shall take place. It is not at all probable that the date will be fixed for any term before September.

Later advices, however, assert that it is said at Osgoode Hall that the trial of Ontario election cases will be proceeded with at once, and that such petitions as are not tried during the present month will be tried early in September. With a view to speedy trial a new judge from each court is to be appointed on the rota, making eight in all.

COUNTY COURT.

A Brief Sitting.

The Spring Sittings of the County Court and Court of the Peace for the County of Peterborough, before His Honor Judge Dennistoun, were held in the Court House, this town, on Tuesday last.

The bar was represented by Messrs. C. A. Weller, D. [illegible] Henry, C[illegible] & Wood.

THE GRAND JURY.

Adam Hall, Foreman.

R. Rutland,	J. W. Bell,
T. E. Ball,	Jas. Byrne,
Jas. [illegible],	M. D. Crowly,
Michael Creagh,	James English,
Alex. Graham,	Wm. Hook,
R. Johnson,	Wm. Hoskins,
D. Kelly,	Wm. Lesser,
Sidney Payne,	Walter Robinson,
	Walter Renwick.

His honor briefly addressed the jury and said that as there were no criminal prisoners in gaol except one, charged with murder, a crime beyond the jurisdiction of this court, and as the jurors were not required, unless they wish, to visit the gaol, if they decided not to do the latter, he would discharge them, which he accordingly did, after the jury had made the following

PRESENTMENT.

To His Honor Judge Dennistoun:

We, the Grand Jurors appointed for this session, are pleased to find no cases before us. Being informed by your honor that a jail inspector has been appointed to inspect gaols and prisoners, we deemed it unnecessary to examine the gaol premises.

ADAM HALL,
Foreman.

The only case demanding the attention of the court was that of DUMBLE vs. BOYD.—An action on account, between D. W. Dumble and John Boyd. Verdict for plaintiff and $80. The jury found as to the facts only; questions of law having been reserved to be agrued in term.

Jas. Henry for plaintiff; C. A. Weller and C. W. Sawers for defendant.

CREDITABLE CROP OF ACADEMICAL HONOURS.

PETERBOROUGH STUDENTS AT TORONTO UNIVERSITY.

The following is a list of Peterborough students both in Arts and Law, who successfully passed their examination at the above University for the Academical year just closed:

FACULTY OF LAW.

Second year—Chas. J. Leonard.
Third year—D. J. Lynch,
Fourth year (LL.B.)—W. A. Stratton.

ARTS EXAMINATION.

Graduates,—B. A.—J. H. Burnham.
Third year—Arthur Stevenson.
Second year—J. L. Gilmour—W. Sanderson, Mr. Gilmour taking first class honours in Classics and Logics, and Mr. Sanderson, a like position in Mathematics.
First year—J. D. Graham—A. F. Chamberlain.—I. J. Metcalf—Miss. C. Fair—J. A. Fife.—E. C. Melburn and F. Sanderson.

In Mathematics, Messrs. J. A. Fife and F. Sanderson took first class honors, Mr. J. D. Graham, second class honors.

In English, French, & German, Mr. A. F. Chamberlain took first class honors.

Miss C. Fair and Mr. Milburn also took first class honors in French and second class honors in German and English.

The above creditable list, speaks volumes for the thoroughness of the training given at the Collegiate Institute where they all received their preliminary education. Sixteen successful candidates out of sixteen applicants, at an University examination with everyone taking an honor standingis a record for both the Institute and the town to be proud of.

VENNOR ON JUNE.

The following forecast of the "probabilities" for June appears in Vennor's Bulletin:

Friday 1st—Enters wet in most sections with windy weather; generally backward weather everywhere.

Sunday 3rd Generally rainy weather, with high water in northern sections; heavy rains 5th; thunder storms 7th and 8th; reports of damage by wind and rain storms.

Sunday 10th—More favorable weather; frosty 11th and 12th; heavy rain and wind in direction of Denver; cold weather this week in England and Scotland about 14th; wind and hail storms in western and south-western sections, Cincinnati and Ohio and adjacent parts; storms (cyclones) in Arkansas and Iowa.

Sunday 17th.—Sultry and stormy; cyclones in Iowa and adjacent states. Generally stormy and unsettled weather; very heavy rains in southern and south-western districts; wind storms in Iowa and Illinois again on the 22nd and 23rd; still cold, wet and backward weather in England.

Sunday 24th.—Heat and sultriness, with hail and wind storms; intense heat in New York and Middle States; severe storm in Dakota; great damage likely from hail storms; great heat and storms generally on the 25th and 26th; cooler and rainy closing days of the month.

Saturday 30th—Rainy and cooler; storms in western sections.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Weather in Canada generally more favorable, with more rain in Ontario than Quebec. The latter half of June will be the hottest, with frequent storms. Frost probable in Province of Quebec about 10th to 12th. (Written May 16th)

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

Editorial Notes.

The elections in Algoma will take place on the [illegible] the Tories [illegible] their candidate [illegible] themselves for the nomination.

The Reformers of Peel have unanimously recommended Mr. A. Dick, of the Peel Banner, for the vacant registrarship of that county. The Port Perry Standard says from personal knowledge that in point of merit and fitness for the position Mr. Dick has no superior.

Our local contemporary, in speaking of the new Provincial Treasurer, and not having any fault to find, cannot resist a thrust at Hon. Mr. Hardy, in respect of certain charges of suppressing returns. If the editor will only possess his soul in patience, he will have a chance to see whether he dares make such charges on the floor of the House.

A fortnight ago the Port Hope News announced that "Rod" Pringle was secretly preparing to visit England to secure absence from the witness box in the approaching election trials. This was denied with vigor, but the last issue of the News relates the fact of "Rod's" sailing for the Old Country. Commenting on this the News supplies the following vigorous comments:—

"Those who threw the mantle of their sympathy around the political scamp some months ago, because the News referred to him as the arch-corruptionist of the Province, can now quietly meditate upon his true character, and upon the way that Rod made fools of them. Two weeks ago Rod visited Meredith at London. Was it then arranged with the Opposition leader that Rod should vamoose the ranche, either at the public expense, or have the cost of his trip paid out of the general Tory corruption fund? Rod Pringle cast to the winds every principle of honor and honesty in his efforts to secure a purchased Tory majority in the Local Legislature. Rather than face his infamous record in the courts, where he would be branded as a political corruptionists of the most depraved character, he has hurried out of the country. Was ever such contemptible cowardice displayed! Surely there must be many honest Conservatives in the Province who cannot lend their approval to the conduct Pringle and his associates have been guilty of—conduct so scandalous that they have to get out of the country, so as not to be brought to book by the courts for their infamy.

Latest Novelties in Ladies' Neck wear, such as lace Fichus, Frillings, Collars, &c., by express, this week at Turnbull's.

KINMOUNT.

The iron mining interest, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, is warming up a little. There appears to be some intention of extending Miles' branch railway clear across the iron district, over as far as the township of Dungannon. Transport is the only difficulty at present, and this line would give access to Toronto or Midland city for shipment on the lakes, or taken direct to the furnaces in the States. That is the idea of Mr. Pusey, but Messrs. Parry and Mills are pegging away with the intention of smelting the ore on the spot; the bonus offered by the Government last session is a strong inducement and may be the turning point in the development of our mines. That we have mines, and large and valuable ones, is beyond a doubt.

OMEMEE.

On Friday night last Mr. Redmond Carey, had a narrow escape, with his family, from being burned to death in bed. His wife having been ill for some time past, it was necessary to keep a light burning all night, and the night of the explosion it had been left burning as usual, with the flame turned partly down. Some time during the night Mr. Carey was awakened by his wife screaming fire. Mr. C. managed to extinguish the fire, having his hands badly burned in doing so. It appears the fire had worked down below the burner of the lamp into the oil, and the flame was bursting out of the chimney when discovered. The heat was so intense that part of the burner was melted away. Almost every one of our exchanges (save the Millbrook Messenger), says the Herald, has now and then an account of a fire caused by a lamp exploding, and the exposure in nearly every instance appears to be caused either by having the light turned down or the lamp being filled too full of oil, either of which is very dangerous, though many are no doubt unaware of the fact, as the practice is almost universal of leaving the light burning with the flame turned down. The above incident will, we hope, prove a warning.

COBOURG.

President Arthur will visit Cobourg this season. He will make the Arlington his headquarters.

The Cobourg Y.M.C.A. are making arrangements with the G. T. R. for a cheap excursion to Toronto on June 19.

The contract for the enlargement of the Cobourg Congregational Church has been given to Mr. Henderson. Work will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Coleman, of Ottawa, was in town the past week purchasing horses for the Northwest Mounted Police.

Some time ago, says the World, we recorded the fact that a lady, over a hundred years old, was living in this town. We have now to make mention of another, Mrs. Rev. John Beatty, who resides on College street, and who, last Saturday, according to the most reliable records of her friends, celebrated her 101st birthday. Mrs. Beatty herself says it was but her 100th; but ladies never like to appear older than they are. In any case, 100 or 101, she is a most remarkably healthy and intelligent woman, with most of her faculties unimpaired, at peace with God and with all the world, and apparently in a very fair way to see many summers yet.

The Blues.

We get many letters from druggists stating pleasant results from customers of Bilious temperaments having used Zopess.

Those subject to depression or low spirits, caused by Indigestion or Liver troubles will be surprised how rapidly and pleasantly it acts. It corrects the secretions, strengthens digestion. Usually a 10-cent sample convinces one of its value. For sale by J. D. Tully. 22-tf

Peterborough Markets.

[Reported by W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer, and General Grocer, George Street.]

PETERBOROUGH, June 7th, 1883.

Grain is moving more freely, but the quantity offering is not large as yet. Prices are weakening. Spring is bringing $1.02 to $1.03, fall $1 to $1.01. Goose wheat 93 to 95c. There is every indication of lower prices, and an increased quantity offering. Nothing doing in barley or peas. Oats are bringing about 50c. Wool is commencing to offer and sold at 18c. per lb. The market looks flat all over. On the market butter is plentiful and selling from 14 to 17c. In lots, 14 cents is about all that can be get for it. Eggs are plentiful and somewhat higher, selling at 14c. to shippers. Potatoes continue to be plentiful and said to sell from 70 to 75c. per bag. Nothing much doing in other commodities.

Farm, Garden and Household.

"Love Lightens Labor."

A good wife rose from her bed once more,
And thought with a nervous dread
Of the pile of clothes to be washed and more
Than a dozen mouths to be fed.
There were [illegible] to get for the men in the field,
And the children to fix away
To school, for milk to be skimmed and churned,
And all to be done that day.

It had rained hard in the night and the wood
Was as wet as wet could be;
There were puddings and pies to make, besides
A loaf of cake for tea.
And the day was hot and her aching head
Throbbed wearily as she said,
"If maidens knew what good wives know
They would be in no haste to wed."

"Jennie, what do you think I told Ben Brown?"
Called the farmer from the well,
And a flush crept up his bronzed brow,
As his eyes half bashfully fell.
"It was this," he said coming near,
Kissed her cheek—and spoke low down,
"Mary the best wife in the town!"
And the fairest wife in the town!"

The farmer went to the field, and the wife,
In a smiling and cheerful way,
Sang snatches of tender little songs
She had not sung for many a day;
And the pain in her head was gone and the clothes
Were as white as the foam of the sea;
Her bread was light, and butter sweet
And golden as it could be.

"Just think," the children cried in a breath,
"Tom Wood has run off to sea!
He wouldn't I know if he only had
As happy a home as we."
The night came down and the good wife smiled
To herself as she softly said,
"'Tis sweet to labor for those we love;
'Tisn't strange that maidens will wed!"

Sunflowers.

The sunflower plant deserves greater attention than its receives. We have been accustomed to seeing a few plants occasionally around some of our farm houses, but very seldom any more. For two years past I have grown a small patch of sunflowers expressly for the seed, to fed my poultry, and would recommend the practice to all who keep hens. The seed is good, not only for poultry, but for cattle and horses as well, in moderate quantities. Their culture is easy, and they will grow well on moderately rich soil. An acre of good land, it is said will yield fifty bushels of seed, and each bushel will give a gallon of oil. So it may be readily seen that it is a valuable plant to grow, and I think it would be our interest to raise a small field of it yearly to feed our calves, poultry and other animals.

How to Prune.

In a recent work on the philosophy of pruning the following rule is given: "The system is based on the fact that, as wood is formed by descending sap alone, a wound made on a tree can only become covered with healthy new wood when its entire surface is brought into connection with the leaves by means of the layer of young and growing cells formed between the wood and the bark. To make this connection it is necessary to prune in such a manner that no portion of the amputated or dead branch shall be left on the trunk. The cut should always be made close to and perfect even with the outline of the trunk, without regard to the size of the wound thus made. This is the essential rule in pruning, and on its observance the success of the operation depends."

When to Plant Grape Vines.

It is customary to plant the grape quite early in the spring, but I have recently made a new departure from the old practice, and now plant the vine about the 1st of June. By this time the vine has made a growth of five or six inches) and new rootlets have been thrown out from the old roots. These new roots furnish a constant feeder for the vine. It properly set the vine can be planted at any time in the day without wilting, if the following directions are carefully adhered to: Take your vines up from the nursery and place them in a bucket of thin mud; be careful not to break the vine; have your ground well prepared; In planting be sure to have the roots evenly distributed; fill the pot one-third full, then pour in a sufficient quantity of water to wet the earth well; then fill the pit and press the earth firmly. If these directions are strictly adhered to 90 per cent. of the vines will grow, and in one week's time they will look vigorous and healthy and will not be retarded in their growth. In conclusion I would say be careful and plant no vines except strong and vigorous plants.

Other Farm Jottings.

Sunflowers are recommended for producing shade about the hives of bees.

It is claimed that no cow fed on ensilage during the winter has been afflicted with the garget or constipations.

Persons who desire a cheap luxury during the summer and fall should plant sweet corn at intervals of a week till the last of June. By that means they will have a supply of ears fit for the table till the occurrence of heavy frosts.

Farmers trying to make a living off wornout lands must stop selling their calves and pigs, and sell fat oxen and hogs instead, and they will soon see an improvement in the fertility of their land and their bank account.

Fifty years ago it was accounted wasteful and wrong to put manure anywhere but in the bottom of the furrow or under a thick covering of soil to make compost for meadows. Now, practical men and scientists agree in commending Nature's own way of making land rich solely by surface dressings.

An Indiana farmer planted cabbages in "missing hills" of corn and found they were not injured by the imported cabbage insect. This season he will locate his cabbage patch in the middle of his cornfield. He finds that the cabbage fly moves near the surface of the ground and prefers smooth soiling. He thinks that corn stalks will prevent it from moving through them.

In cold climates it is best to have fruit near the ground to promote the process of ripening. The earth radiates heat during the night and the fruit has the benefit of it. Apple trees have low tops, while grapes and tomatoes should be trained so that the fruit will be not more than a foot from the surface of the earth. Fruit on high branches and vines is very likely to be injured by the wind.

The Family Scrap Book.

Salt fish are quickest and best freshened by soaking in sour milk.

Lobsters boiled and served on toast make a dainty dish for lunch or tea.

Cold rain water or soap will remove machine grease from washable fabrics.

Fresh meat, beginning to sour, will sweeten if placed out of doors in the cool air over night.

Milk which has been changed may be sweetened and rendered fit for use by stirring in a little soda.

Coal oil will soften boots and shoes hardened by water, rendering them soft and pliable as new.

A tablespoonful of turpentine boiled with your white clothes will greatly aid the whitening process.

Plaid for labels is made by soaking glue in strong vinegar, then heating it to boiling and adding flour.

Boiled starch is much improved by the addition of sperm or salt, or both, or a little gum arabic dissolved.

Kerosene will burn clearer if the burners are boiled for five minutes two or three times a year in wood ashes and water.

Salt will curdle new milk; hence, in preparing porridge, gravies, etc., the salt should not be added until the dish is prepared.

If a little vinegar or some cider is mixed with stove polish it will not take much rubbing to make stoves bright, and the blacking is not likely to fly off in fine dust.

JUMPING A FIVE RAIL FENCE.

There is a great chasm between Inflammatory Rheumatism and jumping a five-rail fence, but it has been bridged over by Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. Mr. H. D. Beak, Mount pleasant, Ont., is a case in point; he says: "I suffered from inflamatory rheumatism for years, part of the time being confined to bed. I tried everything I could hear of but received no benefit till I used Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. I can now jump a five rail fence."

COSTLY REGALIA.

The regalia used at the crowning of the Emperor and Empress of Russia on Sunday represented a large sum of money. The crowns placed on the heads of the Emperor and Empress, the two collars of St. Andrew, and the globe and sceptre are said to be worth £400,000. The Emperor's crown was made for Catharine II., and has done service at five coronations; it is set with 50 large diamonds, and 4,878 brilliants, as well as 54 magnificent pearls. The sceptre is adorned with the famous Orloff diamond, and the globe was set with a sapphire of rare size and beauty.

THE JERSEY LILY.

There is a report that Mrs. Langtry is to be married to Mr. Gebhardt as soon as a legal divorce can be obtained, on the ground of abandonment on the part of her husband, Mr. Langtry. Mrs. Langtry is now staying at the Albemarle hotel, and a reporter handed her a slip containing the latest report affecting her most private and social interests. When she read it she smiled and returned the slip, but would not say whether the report was true or not. It is said Mr. Gebhardt's income is something like $40,000 a year, and Mrs. Langtry a private fortune is about $50,000.

M. DE GIERS' MISSION.

RUSSIA'S ASIATIC POLICY—THE RESULT OF THE EGYPTIAN WAR.

Le Temps (Paris) says the object of the recent journey abroad of M. de Giers, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, was to inform the powers that Russia was compelled to seek in Armenia an equivalent for British occupation of Egypt. Mr. Gladstone, by taking Egypt, not only lost the good wishes of France, but reopened the Eastern question and furnished Russia with a pretext affecting her immense projects, the last step in which will be the conquest of British India.

THE LETHAL SODA WATER.

Now that the merry days of the picnic are approaching, when "soft" drinks are indulged in, it will not be amiss to draw attention to the hidden danger that lies lurking in the innocent-looking soda and the festive sarsaparilla. A man named Howes died suddenly in London recently, it was supposed while under the influence of liquor. A post-mortem examination was made, when it was discovered that the man had died, not from alcoholic drink, but from pertaking of teetotal beverages, and the coroner assured the jury that a disease resembling alcoholism frequently attacked those who over-indulge in effervescing drinks. Here opens up a new field for investigation, and in escaping the Scylla of intoxication we must be careful to avoid the Charybdis of plain soda.

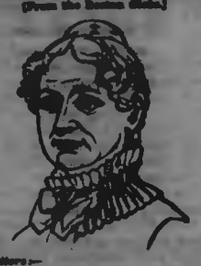
A Mr. Lynch is arranging for the establishment of a diary apparatus factory in Ottawa. The inducements offered by the corporation in the way of bonuses and exemption from taxation are attracting the attention of manufacturers, many of whom are at present in communication with the industrial committee.

Mr. Blanchard, vice-president of the New York, Lake Erie, and Western railroad, stated before the Channel Tunnel Committee of Imperial House of Commons, that he believed the construction of the tunnel would put an end to the diversion of American passenger and freight traffic to the European continent, which is now so markedly on the increase.

A NOTED BOSTON PHYSICIAN WOMAN.



Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who, besides all other business long ago truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Women," as some of her correspondents love to call her, she is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price in a sealed envelope, on 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

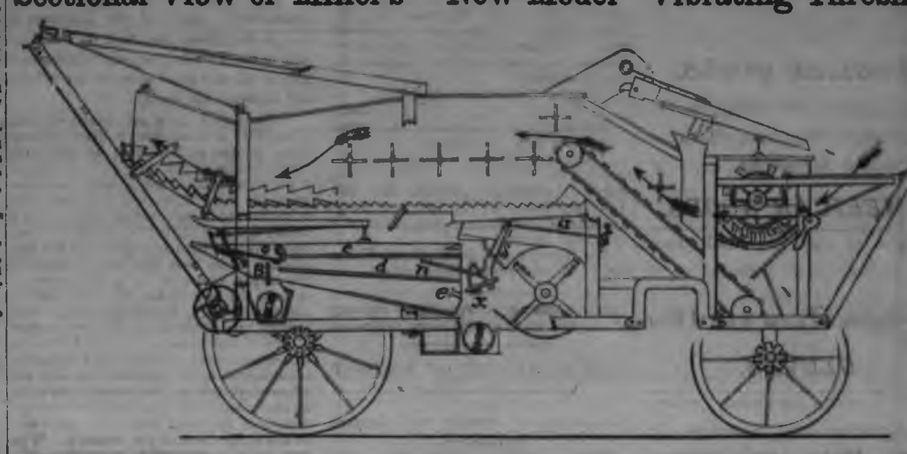
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing for the past eighteen years, and the Model is the best one I have ever used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last year. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed with it. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

A SHORT SYNOPSIS

ONCE MORE, CLOTHING!

Clothing, for Mens', Youths' or Boys' wear, for dress, business or school wear; for town, country or travel. Clothing that wears well, that fits well, that looks well, that's good, that's finished, that's stylish. That's our clothing all over.

If there's any manner of person, any sort of taste, kind of use, not provided for by us, we'd like to hear of it. We certainly can conceive of none.

From the staid head of the family, who don't bend enough to "knee" his pants, to the small boy with a liking for marbles and rough fences, the wants of all have been considered by us. We've provided for the entire convocation.

Strong stitches are put where they will do the most good. Ample pockets where they'll be of most service. Style and beauty of finish, where they'll be the most appreciated; and honest plainness, together with honest workmanship, where only these qualities are asked for.

Doesn't the above schedule of points all grappled with, strike you as laps in our favour? Course they do. Then act promptly and intelligently on our showing.

Put your eye on this platform. Deal with DOLAN & CO., a Thoroughly Reliable House, conducted on the Most Enterprising Principles. It never will pay you if Qualities and Prices. It never will. Look at our goods, Look at our work, We like to be compared with any or all. The result is invariably in our favour.

THE SECRET OF BISMARCK.

FRANCE CALLED UPON TO ROUSE HERSELF AGAINST IMPENDING DANGER.

Under the heading, "Le Secret de Bismarck," Figaro published an article declaring that France must arouse herself from the fetes and frivolities that absorb her undivided attention. "Never has France been menaced with greater perils than now; never before has she been surrounded by more powerful and more inveterate foes. Bismarck's plans and the secret of the triple alliance have at last been set in the blindness of truth before the eyes of President Grevy and his ministers, and we have reason to believe that such an impression has been created as will cause a change of Ministerial policy." Figaro asserts that the object of the triple alliance is to secure the vivisection of France, and that it is at the suggestion of Bismarck that the French forces are scattered about the surface of the globe, and frittering away their strength in Senegal, Congo, Madagascar, Tunis and Tonquin, and a blundering Government has fallen into the trap. The article attracts wide attention.

THE PENALTY OF HIS CRIME.

THE FOURTH OF THE PHŒNIX PARK MURDERERS HANGED.

Thos. Caffery, the fourth of the Phœnix Park murderers, was brought to the gallows and hanged at Kilmainham jail at 8 a.m. Saturday morning. During his farewell interview with his mother yesterday Caffery broke down completely. The crowd outside the prison was very small, numbering only about fifty persons. Among these were the mother and brother of the prisoner, and a woman who had been present at all the executions of the men convicted of the murder of Cavendish and Burke, and had prayed for the condemned men.

Caffery wrote a letter to his mother saying: "I hope you will never have cause to blush for my name. As I am paying the penalty of my crime in this world, I hope I won't have to suffer for it in the next."

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL TUNNEL.

EXAMINATION OF THE VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE ERIE RAILWAY AS TO ITS UTILITY.

Geo. R. Blanchard, vice-president of the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad company, was examined before the English channel tunnel committee, when he gave views as to the benefit to be derived from the construction of the tunnel. He said there had lately been a tendency on the part of passengers from America to go direct to the continent without passing through England. Shippers also send their goods direct to the continent. He believed the construction of the tunnel would tend to counteract that disposition.

THE ALABAMA SURPLUS.

MR. KENNARD'S RESOLUTION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The resolution relative to the disposition of the surplus of the Alabama award, which Mr. Kennard intends to move in the house of commons, says that "in view of the public utterances of eminent American statesman with reference to the destination of the undistributed moneys resulting from the Geneva award, the house is of opinion that an exchange of views between the English and United States governments on the subject would be conducive to the development of friendly relations between the two countries."

Cingalese is the name of a widely and favourably known hair restorer which is not recommended to do utterly impossible things, but then nothing is better for keeping the hair in good condition and restoring it when lost. If the scalp is unhealthy being toned up, to exert its proper functions, sold at 50 cents per bottle by J. D. Tully. 19-8t

OSCULATION.

He kissed me—and I knew 'twas wrong,
For he was neither kith nor kin;
Need one do penance very long
For such a tiny little sin?

He pressed my hand—that was not right;
Why will men have such wicked ways?
It was not for a moment quite,
But in it there were days and days.

There's mischief in the moon, I know,
I'm positive I saw her wink
When I requested him to go;
I meant it too—I think.

But, after all, I'm not to blame.
He took the kiss; I do think men
Are born without a sense of shame!
I wonder when he'll come again!

ONE OF MANY.—Mr. R. W. Carmichael Chemist and Druggist of Belleville, writes as follows:—"Your Burdock Blood Bitters have a steady sale, are patronized by the best families here and surrounding country, and all attest to its virtues with unqualified satisfaction. 22-2t

Many a woman who is so terribly weak that she wants a horse car to stop thirty feet from the corner can, walk nine hours on a shopping tour in which she doesn't buy a cent's worth.

PERFECT, POSITIVE and PERMANENT are the cures effected by DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Relief in all cases of Kidney Disease is obtained after a few doses. See that your Druggist gives you DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Sold bs J. McKee, Peterborough. 19-8t

The recent divorces and other scandals and troubles among the millionaire married folk go to show that "love flies out of the window" when other things besides poverty comes in at the door.

WHAT EVERY PERSON SHOULD KNOW.—The grand outlets of disease from the system are the Skin, the Bowels and the Kidneys. Burdock Blood Bitters is the most safe, pleasant and effectual purifier and health-restoring tonic in the world. Trial bottles 10 cents. 22-2t

Mr. Loretta, of Kingston, on Tuesday night wedded Miss Martinelle, of Toronto, the groom being 64 and the bride not 15. The old gentleman reconciled any objections to the marriage by a present of $2,000.

A MINISTERS EVIDENCE.—The all prevalent malady of civilised life is Dyspepsia. Rev. W. E. Gifford, of Bothwell, was cured of dyspepsia and liver complaint that rendered his life almost a burden. The cure was completed by three bottles of Burdock Blood Blood Bitters. 22-2t

Miss Isabel Macpherson, daughter of the Speaker of the Senate, is to be married to the Speaker of the Commons. The wedding will take place in England within a month. Mr. Kirkpatrick has sailed and his betrothed leaves on June 5th.

"Consumption."

Quick, complete cure, all annoying Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases. At Druggists.

It is said that John Bright does not want to marry, but is willing to make the sacrifice to test the question whether the law is valid that forbids marriage with a deceased wife's sister. It is another case of readiness to marry a wife's relation.

A VOICE FROM THE UNITED STATES.—I have suffered for the last 20 years with Dyspepsia and General Debility, and tried many remedies, but with little success until I used Burdock Blood Bitters, when relief was quick and permanent. 22-2t
A. LOUGH, Alpena, Michigan, U.S.

Not so new.—Squire: "Then you don't see your way to marrying my niece, young sir?" Young sir: "No, squire: I'm afraid I don't." Squire: "In that case, I shall strike you out of my will." Young sir: "Oh, don't do that, squire! I will marry your neice immediately; for as you know, where there's a will there's a way.

A REMARKABLE FACT.—It is a remarkable fact that W. A. Edgar, of Frankville who was so far gone with liver and kidney complaint that his life was despaired of, was cured with four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. At one time he lay a fortnight without an operation of the bowels. 22-2t

A young city fellow, dressed in a faultless suit and a pair of shoes that tapered into a point in the most modern style, was visiting in a rural district. A bright little boy looked him all over until his eyes rested on those shoes. He looked at his own clubby feet and then at the visitor's, and then looked up and said: "Mister, is all your toes cut off but one?"

Corns!! Attention!! Winning!!—These expressive words are often and properly applied to the fair ladies of our favored land, who keep their hair abundant and natural in color and lustre by the timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The Vigor is safe and agreeable; and its effects are very lasting, making it the most economical, and at the same time the most beneficial and elegant of toilet preparations.

Wendell Philips say: "The best education in the world is that got by struggling to get a living." How thorough the education of the masses must be, and yet how few appreciate the method of obtaining it. Most people would be willing to take their chances on the education obtained in college, and let some one else have the benefit of the struggle.

When man arrives at middle age it is time to take stock of the resources of energy remaining to run the machinery of the body. Many hard workers at that period find the system impaired or used up from the wear and tear incident to the active struggle for life. Examination may discover some latent disease requiring immediate attention to secure the vital forces from rapid waste. WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA possess special power to repair damage and invigorate weak organs, and its timely use may prevent much suffering and greatly prolong life.

The most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany, or at least orginate there. The most recent preparation placed upon the market in this country, is the GREAT GERMAN INVIGORATOR, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, langour, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangements of the nervous system. For sale by druggists, or sent free by mail on receipt of price, $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5.00. Address F. J. CHENEY, Toledo, O., Sole Agent for the United States. Send for circular. 22-2t

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

It takes an Irishman to turn a compliment. When he saw Jones, after having met the latter with Mrs. J., Pat McFlaherty said: "Ye are mooch younger than your wife, sur." Presently he met the wife, and remarked: "The idea of such a young woman marrying Mr. Jones!" The next day he met them together, but he wasn't at a loss for blarney. "Och," he exclaimed, "ye are both of yez too young for aich other."

An Enthusiastic Endorsement.

GORHAM, N. H., July 14, 1879.
GENTS—Whoever you are, I don't know; but I thank the Lord and feel grateful to you to know that in this world of adulterated medicines there is one compound that proves and does all it advertises to do, and more. Four years ago I had a slight shock of palsy, which unnerved me to such an extent that the least excitement would make me shake like the ague. Last May I was induced to try Hop Bitters. I used one bottle, but did not see any change; another did so change my nerves that they are now steady as they ever were. It used to take both hands to write, but now my good right hand writes this. Now, if you continue to manufacture as honest and good an article as you do, you will accumulate an honest fortune, and confer the greatest blessing on your fellowmen that was ever conferred on mankind.
22-2t TIM BURCH.

The Swedish Arctic expedition, with Prof. Nordensjold on board, sailed for Gothenburg Thursday.

ROANTREE'S
GRIST MILLS,
NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

LIVE HOGS WANTED!

Having erected in Peterborough a Pork Packing House, especially fitted up for the purpose of killing Hogs, and Curing Meats at all seasons of the year, I am now prepared to PAY THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE FOR LIVING HOGS, and hope to be able to purchase a share of the quantity required in this section of the Province. Farmers will find it to their advantage to fatten Hogs and sell them during the Summer season, as they take on flesh more rapidly than in cold weather, and that is a saving in Grain and labor.

Parties having Hogs to Sell can ascertain Prices from MR. GEORGE WEBBER or at the Packing House.

Depression

IN TRADE.

Owing to the great depression in the Dry Goods trade all over the Country for the past three months, Merchants are offering great inducements to their Customers in order to realise on the heavy stocks at present held by them.

To substantiate that such is the case, I am offering the following goods at extraordinary low figures:

10 pieces Debige Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Brocaded Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
15 pieces Colored Cashmere, 15c a yard.
10 pieces Langtry Cloth, 20c a yard.

Our 65c. Black Cashmeres, for 50 Cents.

50 pieces Fast Colored Prints, 5c a yard.
75 pieces Polka Dot Prints, 10c a yard.
100 pieces Dark Fancy Prints, worth 12½ cts. for 10c a yard.
30 pieces Bordered Prints, 12½c a yard.

Tapestry Carpets, 37½ cents.

10 pieces Hemp Carpet, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Heavy Twill Carpet, 15c a yard.
25 pieces Floor Oil Cloth from 20c a yard.
20 pieces Cretonnes from 10c a yard.
20 pieces Curtain Nets from 12½c a yard.
25 pieces Roller Towelling from 5c a yard.

Lybster Cotton Shirtings, 15c. a yard.

20 Doz. 2 button Lisle Thread Gloves 5c a pr.
20 Doz. Boys Cotton Socks, 2 pair for 5c.
10 Doz. Ladies Lace Ties, 5c each.
10 Doz. Ladies Linen Collars, 5c each.
10 Doz. Children's Colored Hose, 5c a pair.

50 Dozen Louise Corsets, 35c. a pair.

It is a well known fact that a great many Merchants advertise certain lines of goods, to deceive the public, which they never had in their store.

CAUTION!

To obviate this pernicious practice we would advise all parties to cut out such advertisements and bring them with them. To convince you that we have the goods, adopt the above principles and we are sure of your patronage.

JOHN HACKETT.

Local News Record.

A nice variety of Printed Muslins, to be seen this week, at Turnbull's.

Dr. Ryerson's Visit.

Dr. G. Sterling Ryerson, specialist in eye, ear and throat diseases, will be at the Oriental Hotel for consultation on the above diseases on Saturday, June ninth.

Journalistic Opportunity.

Mr. J. B. Trayes, of Port Hope, in offering the Times for sale, gives a good opportunity for the purchase of an excellent newspaper business. The printing department is well equipped, and the Times is a good journal, with only one fault, and that is its incurable and virulent Toryism. Mr. Trayes' reason for disposing of the Times is the attention demanded by the publication of the Craftsman.

Hymeneal.

We have the pleasure of announcing a matrimonial event, in which Mr. Theodore Ludgate, of the Peterborough Crown Timber offices, was a principal. On Wednesday he was united in marriage to Miss Aggie Orr, of Bobcaygeon, daughter of Mr. Alexander Orr. Our congratulations are due the newly wedded, and we beg to join our wishes to those of their many friends that the future of their lives may be a full realization of all the roseate dreams that brighten the halcyon days of the honeymoon.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

The Bicycle Boom.

A Bicycle Club is in course of formation in town. "Bikes" may be seen very frequently gliding silently and swiftly through our streets. Partics desirous of cultivating this gay and giddy mode of locomotion would do well to join the club, which can be done by applying to Mr. F. Kingan, Hunter street, who is agent for the best make of English machines. There are six or eight machines in town now. A meeting for the organization of the club was held on Wednesday evening. A large number express their intention of becoming members, and it is probable that the healthy sporting spirit that pervades the young men of Peterborough, will result in the formation of a creditable club. The club, we believe, intend celebrating Dominion Day by an excursion to Port Hope.

Funereal.

Last Monday Mr. John D. Curran, baggage master Midland station, suffered a severe affliction in the death of his second daughter, Clara, who died after three weeks illness, passed in perpetual pain, and borne with a patience beyond her years. The deceased was a pupil of the school of the Congregation de Notre Dame, and she was so well beloved on account of her amiable disposition, that it was no wonder that the affection of the good sisters found expression in the melancholy pleasure of attiring the beloved dead in a beautiful burial habit, and decking coffin and corpse with flowers. That of the deceased being the first funeral of a pupil in actual attendance at the school, the nuns sent a deputation of eight girls, members of the Sodality of the Angel Guardian, of which the deceased was also a member, to attend the remains from the house to the Cathedral, and from that to the grave. These were Misses Katie Simons, Emily Carew, Katie Grant, Minnie Weir, Joanna and Lizzie Donegan, Rosa Martin and Mary Frances Leonard, all class-mates of the deceased. They were dressed in black, with blue sashes and medal, the badge of the Sodality, and white illusion veils and white gloves. They attended on each side of the hearse to the Cathedral, where high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Conway, after which the body was laid to rest in the R. C. Cemetery.

Lace Gloves in Lisle Thread and Silk, by express, this week, at Turnbull's Band Concert.

The attendance at the promenade concert given by the band on Friday night was very thin. Yet there will be a "crowed house" when the boys give their open air concert on the Market Square next Friday night. The formality of an admission fee seems to break the charm of even the splendid music furnished by our band.

Brisk Demand for Horse Flesh.

The stock of horses in this vicinity is threatened with a vigorous depletion. In addition to the car-load shipped to Montreal on Tuesday, Mr. Niven of Port Hope, and another dealer named Green, are purchasing a lot of horses to be sent to Rochester for street car use. Their headquarters are at the Stewart House.

A Famine in Weddings.

The depressing effect of the melancholy weather of May had a depressing effect on even the matrimonial market. There was not a single marriage celebrated last month in town. Whether this indifference to marriage was caused by the weather or by the superstition that May marriages are unlucky, the melancholy fact remains.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

Peterborough vs. Victoria.

Decision has been given in favor of Peterborough in the suit respecting the responsibility of this county to pay half the cost of building the bridge over the Burnt River at Kinmount. His lordship decided that, as the bridge was wholly within the County of Victoria, this county could not be held responsible. The Lindsay Post, which publishes the judgment in extenso, says that Mr. Hudspeth, solicitor for Victoria, has appealed against the decision.

Tukes' Emigrants.

On Saturday night eight, and on Monday six, more Irish emigrants arrived here, having been sent forward by the Tukes' committee, to Messrs. Hackett and Kelly. Of course they were well and duly looked after, and all placed except one woman. In view of the large influx of immigrants expected here this season, the St. Vincent de Paul Society are erecting Immigrant Sheds on the church property in the west end of the town. The sheds will be about 100 feet long by 20 feet wide. The building will be ready for the reception of its inmates in a few days. Mr. Henry Carveth has the contract.

Bishop Jamot at Downeyville.

His Lordship Bishop Jamot paid Downeyville an episcopal visit on Sunday before last, for the purpose of administering the rite of confirmation and blessing the burial ground. His Lordship, says the Lindsay Post, arrived at Lindsay from Peterborough Saturday morning, and on Sunday morning, accompanied by Rev. Fathers Connolly and Sweeney, drove out to the Cross. The weather was very unpropitious, but in spite of frequent showers his Lordship was met at the boundary by a large number of members of the church, in carriages, and escorted to Downeyville. On arrival at the presbytery his Lordship entered and was vested in his episcopal robes. A procession was formed and all wended their way to the church. A fine arch of evergreens was erected at the entrance, and the interior of the sacred edifice was tastefully decorated with evergreens and appropriate mottoes. An address of welcome and loyalty was presented, to which his Lordship made a felicitous reply. The rite of confirmation was then administered to about 100 candidates. His Lordship addressed the class, and made the request that they take the temperance pledge for five years, which they all did, as well as a large number of the congregation. In the afternoon the burial ground at the Cross was consecrated by Bishop Jamot with appropriate ceremony. There was a very large attendance, although the weather was stormy. Father McEvoy was present at this ceremony, having driven over from Bobcaygeon. On Monday morning mass was said by Bishop Jamot for the repose of the souls of the faithful departed. Rev. Fathers Connolly, McEvoy and Sweeny assisted. There was a very large congregation.

Dominion Day.

At a meeting of citizens called by Councillor Menzies, acting-Mayor, in the Fire Hall on Tuesday evening, the following were named a committee to consider and report to an adjourned meeting to be held to-morrow (Friday) evening, as to the best manner in which to celebrate the coming 16th anniversary of Dominion Day, viz: Citizens—Messrs. Thos. Menzies, H. LeBrun, A. McNeil, John Brownlee, F. J. Jameson, E. Sailsbury, A. Moffat, Thos. Leplante, J. G. Macdonald, A. D. Browne, W. H. Robertson and Jas. English. Firemen—Messrs. Thos. Rutherford, J. Craig, F. Millar, J. Hayes, T. Clethero, T. Marks, R. Hamilton, J. Hill, J. Fraser, C. Rutherford, W. Turner and S. Clegg. The first meeting of the committee was held last evening, as we went to press. Although we are not yet in a position to state definitely what shape the celebration will take, it is probable the programme will be something as follows, if sufficient financial assistance can be obtained from the citizens and those likely to receive direct benefits from the day: Lacrosse match in the morning. In the afternoon, physical procession and athletic sports. In the evening, promenade concert, torchlight procession and grand display of fireworks. We trust the citizens generally will co-operate heartily with the committee, and promptly, too, for there is no time to be lost. It is due Peterborough that the natal day of the Dominion, of which all have a yearly increasing reason to be proud, should be celebrated in a befitting manner. The 24th passed quietly, therefore it is desirable that the Dominion Day celebration should receive double attention. Most of the surrounding towns and villages observed the 24th with appropriate demonstrations, and it is, on that account probable that there will be a large attendance of visitors, and they should not be disappointed in their expectation of seeing Peterborough do Dominion Day, as she does everything else, in first-class style.

Baptist Church.

Rev. J. E. Howell, of Toronto, will occupy the pulpit of the Peterborough Baptist Church next Sunday morning, and Rev. D. F. Gee in the evening.

Unprecedented Liberality.

Messrs. Fairweather and Co. are offering immense bargains in Dry-Goods, Clothing, Mantles, Millinery, House Furnishing, &c.; yet in spite of the great reductions implied in these bargains, they still further extend their liberality by offering to Methodist ministers and their families ten per cent reduction in addition, on all goods they buy during conference week.

Lacrosse.

The second team of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club, selected to play a match game with Norwood on Friday afternoon next is composed of the following players, captained by Mr. W. A. Sanderson:

J. Giroux	Goal.
E. Rogers	Point.
F. Fairs	Cover Point.
J. Risley	Field.
A. Mercer	Field.
W. McAvella	Field.
A. Mooney	Centre Field.
W. Callaghan	Field.
W. Welsh	Field.
J. Howden	Field.
R. Stevenson	Home.
W. Taylor	Home.
J. Carveth	Reserve Men.
R. Begley	Reserve Men.

Super-Æsthetical.

The local paragrapher of the Port Hope Times indulges in the following: "Peterborough is a great place for style. The band, which is a credit to that town, is strong in numbers, nobby in outfit and big in music. The instruments are all new and costly, and the strains emanating therefrom are characterized by excellent tune, but not sufficiently dolce to satisfy the super-æsthetical tastes of some of our musical critics." We, who are favored with frequent opportunities of hearing our band, can forgive the carping nature of the criticism given above as perfectly natural. By the doctrine of affinity the nature of the heads of the critics, demands soft strains.

Sudden Death.

We clip from the Orilla Packet, the following particulars in reference to the sudden death of a gentleman well known in Peterborough:—

"It is seldom we are called upon to record a death attended by such sad circumstances as that of Mr. G. W. Robinson, of the Turtle Mountain District, in our North West. Not feeling well, Mr. Robinson determined to pay a visit to his son, Mr. T. H. Robinson, of Orillia, and in hope that the journey might benefit him, he came from Duluth by boat, but the weather being cold, the effect was injurious instead of beneficial. To give his son a pleasant surprise, he sent no notice of his purpose of visiting him, and the first intimation of it received here was a telegram from a Barrie physician, Mr. Robinson sr., reached Orillia on Monday, and died the following evening at about half-past six o'clock. He was a native of Peterborough, where his father was one of the pioneer settlers. Mr. T. H. Robinson has the sympathy of the community in this sudden affliction."

Methodist Church of Canada.

The re-opening of the Charlotte Street C. M. Church is postponed for the present on account of the unavoidable delay in finishing the work. At the board meeting of the Peterborough charge it was decided that the Charlotte Street Church be made an independent charge. The present pastors, Rev. Messrs. J. Shaw and T. Manning were warmly urged to remain another year. Both reverend gentlemen are to be congratulated upon the marked success that has attended their ministerial labours; during their stay in town, they have deeply endeared themselves to their congregations. We hope the stationing committee will recognize the request of the latter, and secure for another year the residence amongst us of two christian gentlemen, who have so successfully won both the love of their flocks, and the esteem of the citizens generally.

Shipment of Horses.

On Tuesday Mr. Louis Larin of Montreal, shipped for that city as fine a carload of horses as ever left the town by the Midland Railway. There were seventeen horses all heavy draught animals. They were purchased by Mr. T. Cavanagh, who shows as much enterprise judgment and ability in gathering in a carload of horses as he does in the enlistment of a hundred men in the army of labour. The average quality of the stock may be estimated by the very fair average price paid which was $125. The horses were purchased from the following gentlemen:—James Donnelly, Smith, team; Mr. Edmison, Smith, team; Mr. Hopkins, horse; D. Ullyott, 1 horse; Mr. Robinson, South Monaghan, 1 horse; R. Jackson Otonabee, horse; T. M. D. Croly, Otonabee, team; R. Graham Smith, 1 horse; John Rogers, Lakefield, 1 horse; Wm. Buckham, South Monaghan, team; T. Cavanagh, team; Thos. Tully, 1 horse. Total 17.

Cricket.

Last Saturday afternoon the Cricket season was inaugurated by a match game between a home team and Lakefield. It is but justice, in view of the result, to state that Lakefield had not the best team the club could supply. Below is the score which shows that Peterborough won in one innings with a tally of 20 to the good:

Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Union School will take place on Saturday next. The Golden Eye will convey the party to Campbelltown at 9 a.m., and after spending the day in amusements, incident to such occasions, will return at 6 p.m. Teachers and their friends as well as ex-pupils are invited to join the excursion party. We are informed that the invitation extends to all the Ward schools.

Baptist Church.

Rev. J. H. Best, pastor of the Baptist Church, on account of the family afflictions and bereavements he has recently suffered, asked to be relieved of his pastoral work. A meeting of the congregation was held on Wednesday evening, and the meeting while deeply sympathizing with the reverend gentleman, unanimously resolved to request him to reconsider, his withdrawal. The clerk was requested to communicate with him with a view of a reconsideration before decided action was taken; and to state, on behalf the congregation, their willingness to wait as long as three months, that time might soften the intensity of his grief, and his mind be relieved of the oppression of sad memories, sufficiently to admit of his resuming the active duties of his pastorate. This considerate action on the part of the congregation shows that Rev. Mr. Best's brief period of ministration to their spiritual wants, has developed qualities that have greatly endeared him to his flock, and is a practical proof of his usefulness and efficiency as a gospel minister.

TOWN COUNCIL.

A Summary of the Proceedings.

Owing to the demands on our space today, we are compelled to condense the report of the proceedings at the meeting of the Council on Monday night. All the members were present, acting Mayor Menzies in the chair.

PETITIONS

were presented

From Wm. Cluxton and 95 others, asking the Council to make a grant of $200 to the Fire Brigade to assist in the celebration of Canada's natal day.

Mr. Rutherford pronounced such demonstrations as physioge, childish, and he thought the Fire Brigade could be better employed.

A motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Kelly, to grant $100, was allowed to stand over till next meeting as notice of motion.

A petition of W. H. Moore and 20 others, for a walk on Bethune street, was referred to the Street Committee.

An account of Messrs. Douglass & Logan, for a wagon—the town carriage—amounting to $60, was ordered to be paid.

A petition of Wm. Cumming, Collector, for an increase of salary, was received.

MARKET IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. Sawers, Chairman of the Market Committee, reported that the Committee had conferred with the Town Trust Commissioners in the matter of improving the market accommodation, and the latter had, in agreeing to make the needed improvements, asked that plans be prepared. The Committee had prepared plans which they submitted to the Council for their approval.

Mr. Sawers explained that it was proposed to make an extension westward of the present market building, 46 x 40 feet, fitted internally with tables and other conveniences, and also a covering over the market platforms, and he moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that the said plans be adopted.

Mr. Cahill remarked that this was the most important question that had engaged the attention of the Council for years. In making such a change it should be a proper and permanent one. If it were not well done it would be an eye-sore in perpetuity. He would not object to cost if a good job. He strongly objected to the market being cut in two parts, and the present plans would only aggravate that evil. He would prefer selling the Bank of Toronto building, and extending the present market building northward and southward along Water street and making the additions sufficient to accommodate town offices. Thus all the market grounds would be thrown together. Whatever we do we should do well. We could also have accommodations for a lock-up, which was badly needed. He suggested that the matter should be left over for more mature consideration.

Mr. Paterson thought the plans would suit the wants of the town better than any other.

Mr. McNaughton condemned the plans.

Mr. Denne strongly opposed delay in making market improvements. If we did not make improvements farmers would soon refuse to pay tolls, and at the present rates the tolls would soon pay for the proposed improvements.

Mr. Kelly agreed with Mr. Cahill, and suggested that another set of plans be prepared—in accordance with Mr. Cahill's proposal.

Mr. Sawers said that Mr. Belcher asserted that the old market buildings could not be changed as Mr. Cahill suggested.

Mr. Douglass said, in answer to a Councillor, that the outside cost would be $1,700.

Mr. Rutherford said the plans carried out would cost over $3,000.

Mr. Cahill moved in amendment that the matter be left over till the next meeting of the Council, the Committee to have plans prepared of an extension of the old market building along water street, and that provisions be made in the plans for a lock-up.

The amendment was adopted, and Mr. Cahill's name added to the Committee.

STREET WATERING.

The motion of Mr. Davidson left over from last meeting, in reference to accepting the Water Works Company's verbal offer to give the use of eight hydrants at $40 per month for street watering was allowed after much talk to stand as a notice of motion.

RAILWAY STREET CROSSINGS.

A motion of Mr. Sawers, seconded by Mr. Paterson, that all property owners whose property was likely to be injured by railways now under construction, should send in their names and a description of their damages to the Council, was, after spirited discussion, adopted by a vote of 5 to 4.

THE COW BY-LAW.

On motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Douglas, it was resolved to strictly enforce the cow by-law in one week from date, and policemen Pidgeon and Adams were instructed to enforce the by-law, and 50c. was voted to pay assistants; and the Mayor was authorized to secure two pounding premises, one at the south and one at the north end of the town.

An amendment of Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, for one month's notice was lost.

MR. YELLAND'S SIDING.

The matter of Mr. Yelland's petition for a siding to his coal yard on Bethune street, as well as Mr. Douglas' motion, that the Midland Railway be allowed to put in no sidings till property owners were compensated, was referred to a special committee—Messrs. Paterson, Kelly, Denne, McNaughton and Sawers.

The Council adjourned for one week.

DICKSON'S RACE REINFORCED.

An Important Public Work,

Pushed by Private Means—The Water Power Brought to Hunter Street—A Splendid Site for Manufacturing Establishments.

The building of Wilson's woollen mill on the river front at the west end of the Hunter street bridge made it necessary to perfect arrangements for the furnishing of adequate water power, and in securing this Mr. Haxlitt is making an important change in the water power capacity of Dickson's Race. For some time past work has been going on vigorously in raising the eastern bank and extending the race from its former southern limits to Hunter street, a distance of about 1,500 feet. The eastern bank will be raised to about fifteen feet in height, about thirty feet wide at the base, and fifteen at the top. At the southern extremity

SUBSTANTIAL CEDAR CRIB WORK has been thrown across the raceway, and the earth will be filled in from the crib work to Hunter street, a distance of about forty-five feet. The top line of the eastern embankment will be about six feet above the level of Hunter street. The work is being pushed briskly now, but the filling in cannot be completed at present, owing to the ground required being occupied by buildings that cannot at once be removed. It is contemplated to make a most thorough job of the undertaking, and an expenditure of about $10,000 will give a

MAGNIDICENT WATER POWER

all along the race from Brodie's mill to Hunter street, and, if necessary, by tapping the southern end and carrying a flume under Hunter street, power can be furnished for one or more manufacturing establishments on the river bank south of Wilson's Woollen Factory. Thus it will be seen that Dickson's race will furnish water power facilities for a dozen or more—according to size—manufactories south of the Otonabee Woollen Mills, with from 20 to 24 feet head; and above Brodie's there is room for seven or eight more, besides the room that will be available when the exhaustion of the timber limits—which will be in about ten years—makes the Dickson Estate saw mills' "occupation gone." This idea suggests the necessity of attracting manufacturing industries to Peterborough. The town has thriven and waxed fat on lumber, but the supply is becoming necessarily exhausted, and manufacturing is the only means to be sought that will satisfy her industrial and commercial appetite. With the improvements above noted on Dickson's Race, and other water power facilities that could be utilized, should necessity demand it, the town of Peterborough presents an available wealth of water power difficult to be excelled in the Dominion. Manufacturers in search of sites for their establishments, should take Captain Cuttle's advice and, with their eye on Peterborough's

UNRIVALLED WATER POWER,

WILSON'S WOOLEN WORKS.

A New, Neat and Complete Establishment.

Last fall, in the fire that destroyed Whyte's foundry Mr. E. B. Wilson's woollen mills were also consumed. Restless when unemployed, Mr. Wilson's energy found an expression in an entire new establishment. In the depth of winter a new factory building was begun for him by Mr. Hazlett, and so vigorously was the work pushed, that on Monday work began in the completed mills.

THE BUILDING

is 60x40 feet in size, and three stories in height, and situated on the south side of Hunter street at the west end of the iron bridge. The structure is as solid and substantial as it is possible to make a wooden building. The power is furnished by a 30-horse-power (under 24 feet head) turbine water wheel, made at Mr. Wm. Hamilton's machine shops. The wheel is contained in a wheel house, containing also the bulkhead. The power is communicated to the mill from the wheel by an iron shaft, that passes through a water-tight tunnel, viable to a man, under Hunter street, and the wheel is controllable from the inner side of the mill as easily as though the wheel were inside the building. On the

BASEMENT FLOOR

are the picking, fulling, carding and dressing machines, and all the facilities necessary for custom carding, etc. On the

SECOND FLOOR

will be found the weaving and warping machinery. There are at present at work two looms—a broad loom for blankets and a narrow one for cloths, etc.; but, as soon as the rush of custom work is over—and Mr. Wilson's reputation as a custom carder, etc., makes a busy custom season certain—two more looms will be put in.

THE THIRD FLOOR

contains the manufacturing machinery, the carding machines, spinning jack and all the machinery necessary to the manufacture of yarns for fulled cloths, flannels, blankets, etc. The garret contains the wool drying rooms and general storage rooms. The mill is as complete in all its appointments in machinery, both motive and manufacturing, as any mill of its capacity in Canada. Mr. Wilson is in a position to defy competition in custom work, spinning, fulling and dressing, and also in the manufacture of fulled cloths, flannels, blankets, etc. He will take wool and give in exchange cloths of any kind, or he will pay cash for wool. He can execute orders for custom work with satisfactory promptness. From our knowledge of the skill and reliability of Mr. Wilson, and a personal inspection of his completely equipped establishment, we can safely recommend the public to avail themselves of his services.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE TORONTO CONFERENCE.

Dr. Cochrane Elected President, and the Rev. J. S. Clark, Secretary.

The Conference opened this morning at nine o'clock, the President, Rev. Dr. Sutherland in the chair. An hour was spent in prayer, after which the roll was called.

The first business on the order paper was the election of officers.

Ballots were distributed for the presidency amid considerable interest. It was calculated that the vote would be very close. Such turned out to be the case. 165 ballots were cast, and 83 votes were necessary to a choice. The interest increased as the president called out the votes, it being evident that the votes were very evenly divided. The final announcement—Rev. Dr. Cochrane, 94; Rev. Dr. Dewart, 80; scattering, 2—was received with applause.

The retiring President briefly introduced the newly elected presiding officer, who took his seat amid loud applause.

The vote for Secretary stood, Rev. J. S. Clark, 92; Rev. H. S. Matthews, 40; Rev. J. Bredin, 17; balance scattering.

The Secretary was heartily received upon taking his seat on the platform. He nominated as his assistants, Rev. W. H. Elmsley and Rev. R. M. Barne.

COUNTY ORANGE LODGE.

Arranging for the Glorious Twelfth.

Port Hope to be the Place—Presentation to Mr. John Smith.

The Semi-annual meeting of West Peterborough County Orange Lodge, held at Lakefield on Tuesday night was very largely attended. After deliberation it was decided to accept the invitation received from Port Hope, and go to that town to celebrate the 12th of July.

After the meeting the Lakefield brethren entertained the Peterborough brethren at a supper.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

The most pleasant of the events of the evening was the presentation to Brother John Smith, past County Secretary, of a handsome watch and guard and the following address.

To Bro. John Smith, (Past County Sec.):

On behalf of the committee acting for the Orangemen of West Peterborough, who have known your zeal and fidelity to the Orange Order, and seen the courteous manner in which you have performed your duties as County Secretary for the past 17 years, I will request you to accept of this Watch and Guard, not as a reward for those services, but as a memento of our appreciation of them. It represents the feelings and sentiments of those who have had the pleasure of associating with you and had the advantage of your council and advice, in the prominent position which you have held in our society for so many years. It is with regret we accepted of your resignation as County Secretary, but reviewing the number of years you have worked so faithfully in the interest of our Order, we feel it would not be treating you with that brotherly kindness which you so well deserve, were we to insist on you retaining that position. I believe that I express the feeling of every brother in the County when I say, that there is not an Orangeman in Peterboro' more respected and admired by the members of the Society, than yourself, and well are you entitled to that respect and admiration on account of your consistency and the interest you have always taken in our Society. The example you have set is one that may be safely followed by all Orangemen. Although we cannot have your services as Secretary, we hope that you may be long spared to give us the benefit of your council and advice, and our earnest wish is that the remainder of your days may be blessed with health and happiness.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS.

Mr. Smith made the following

REPLY.

Worshipful County Master and Brethren:

I had some intimation that the Brethren of West Peterborough intended to present me with some memento at this meeting, but I never expected to be made the recipient of such a handsome and valuable gift as the watch with which you have presented me. I will wear it in grateful remembrance of the many pleasant associations we have had during the past twenty-nine years in which I have been working with my brethren in connection with the Orange Association in Peterborough, though many—nearly all—of my former associates have gone to their reward.

It is not the intrinsic value of the gift that I prize most, but the kind and fraternal motives that prompted its bestowal. I can assure you, brethren, that in retiring from the more active work of our noble Order, I feel not only gratified but really flattered to think that I occupy so high a place in your esteem, and I trust that during the future I will be so guided that no act of mine will lower me in your estimation. The principles that bind us together have always been dear to me, and I have endeavored to promote them, believing them to be the best for the union of the Empire, the stability of the Throne, and the good of society. Our emblem is an open Bible, our watchword, No Surrender.

Again thanking you for your generous gift, and the good wishes expressed in your very flattering address,

I have the honor to be your humble servant,
JOHN SMITH.

Rev. E. H. Dewart, and Rev. G. Beynon, are registered at the Choate House to-day. Rev. William Hall, and J. M. Ferris, M. P., are registered at the Oriental.

Mr. A. B. McCay, of Napanee, is at the Caisse House. He is in town in the interests of a Temperance excursion, over the Midland and Grand Trunk to Toronto and Niagara Falls, on June 25th.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, A.F. and A.M., V. W. brother Geo. D. Hall of Whitby was elected G. D. of C. and R. W. brother G. D. Fletcher, G. D. D. M. of Ontario District.

The delegates to the High Court of Canadian Order of Foresters, which begins at Gananoque to-morrow, left town last night. They were—from Peterboro', Messrs. Jas. Byrne, H. W. Watson, Thos. Hooper and John Fanning; from Lakefield, Mr. Robert Graham.

Mr. G. J. Goggen, principal of the public school, Port Hope, has, we understand, purchased the Port Hope Times for the sum of $7,000. Mr. Goggin as principal of the school gave the utmost satisfaction to all. He is a genial fellow, and we welcome him into the opulent ranks of journalism.

Mr. E. B. Edwards has been appointed one of the executive committee in connection with Toronto University, "to consider nearly all business and to arrange business for submission to convocation." The fact of Mr. Edwards being one of the only four appointed outside of Toronto, is a pleasant tribute to his loyalty to his alma mater and to his executive ability.

The Orillia Packet says:—Messrs. Adam Hall, Andrew Hall, Thos. Hall, T. W. Robinson, of Peterborough; Mrs. Jas. Mann, of Bridgenorth; Nathan Choate, Esq., of Port Hope; Dr. W. L. Herriman and wife, of Lindsay Mr. Hy. Beamer and wife, of Tilsonburg, and Mr. Maxwell Hall, of Longford, were in town last week, attending the funeral of the late G. W. Robinson, of the Turtle Mountain District, and father of Mr. T. H. Robinson, of Orillia.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

MAGISTRATES' COURT.

On Saturday afternoon last a case of peculiar interest was brought up for trial before Magistrates J. Breckenridge, H. Drain and P. Preston. The litigants were Mr. John Davidson, Principal of the Norwood High and Public School, and Mrs. James Scott, of this place. The charge preferred by the former against the latter was for "wilfully and maliciously disturbing and interrupting the school." Mr. T. M. Grover appeared for the defendant, who pleaded, "Not guilty." There was a very large crowd of people in the court room to witness the proceedings, as the case had stirred the community up to a considerable state of excitement, and the sympathy of all classes was no doubt with the school authorities in this matter, as comments made by the magistrates were in their favor, as well as the verdict of the Bench, were received with applauding approbation by the large audience.

John Davidson, Principal, testified that on Thursday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, he saw Mrs. Scott coming towards the school and, as her husband had been there previously, he expected trouble. He went down stairs, when he found that Mrs. Scott was talking in a very angry tone and abusing Miss Hales, the teacher, and was interrupting the work of the school. He asked her politely to leave the room, but she said she would not. He then went up-stairs to his work, and heard her still abusing Miss Hales. It was impossible, in his opinion, to carry on the work of the school.

Cross-examined by Mr. Grover—Did not punish Mrs. Scott's son several times, but punished him once. Did not know whether other teachers had done so or not, but thought they had, as he was a very bad boy. Refused to give explanations to Mrs. Scott regarding the punishment of her son. Did not know whether Mrs. Scott came to enquire about his punishment or not. Mr. Scott asked him on the street if he was the man who had punished his boy, and he said he was. He did not consider it best under ordinary circumstances to notify parents regarding the punishment of a pupil. Did not resort to corporal punishment except in extreme cases.

Miss Hales, teacher, certified that on the day mentioned, about two o'clock, Mrs. Scott came into her room and loudly called out, "Robert Scott, come home," and continued to speak in an angry and loud tone of voice. She asked her politely to retire and not disturb the school; but she said she would stay and disturb the school as long as she liked. Her son in the meantime had taken his books and went away. Mr. Davidson came down and remonstrated with her, but she could not be induced to leave, when he went away to his room; and after continuing to talk in a loud voice, she finally left of her own accord. She was in her room about ten minutes. Witness found it impossible to go on with the work of the school.

Miss Brooks, also teacher of the public school, corroborated the evidence of the above witness.

After a short consultation by the magistrates, Mrs. Scott was adjudged guilty of the charge, and fined $6, with costs, $3.70. Mr. Drain, however, dissenting, and refusing to sign the judgment of his colleagues. At any rate it was quite evident the decision of the magistrates was viewed as a just one by the large number of people present, as a prompt outburst of applause followed the announcement of the decision. Mrs. Scott has appealed.

THE FREE METHODISTS.

A young man, formerly a workman in a lumber shanty has been successfully working up a religious revival in the neighborhood, a couple of miles north of Norwood, and has established a congregation which is called the "Free Methodists," a member of which must live without sin. The preacher himself declares that he is as pure as our Saviour, and lives without sin. He is a great enthusiast, and abuses the Queen's English in a frightful manner. He held forth in Norwood on Sunday last, in the drill-shed, which was filled by people from all quarters of the community. On the audience, at any rate he made a very poor impression.

PERSONAL.

Mr. H. Lumsden and Mr. H. Ryan, of the Ontario & Quebec Railway, were in town on Thursday last, and in company with Mr. Bray, C.E., of this place, inspected a large portion of that line east and west of Norwood, and expressed themselves highly pleased with the quality and progress of the grading, filling and other portion of the work under way for the great Ontario & Quebec railway. The line in this vicinity will be ready for the ties in about five or six weeks.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 14, 1883.

Tory Morality.

While the Tory organs generally claim that the Pacific scandal of 1873 is a "slander," thereby denying the fact of a corrupt compact with Sir Hugh Allan regarding the elections of that time, Sir John with greater honesty accepts the correctness of the "scandal" nomenclature. But, he, indeed, goes farther; he fails to see anything wrong in a government—it must be a Tory one of course—accepting thousands of dollars from a contractor to promote the success of the government party at the polls. But, lest Sir John's admissions be not accepted as proof of a corrupt compact with Sir Hugh Allan, the public memory may be refreshed with a reproduction of the evidence, which shows that it was a scandal, not a "slander."

On the 26th of July, 1872, Sir George Cartier, then a member of the Government, requested Sir Hugh Allan to meet him at Ottawa. Hugh Allan and Mr. Abbott, his agent, met Sir George the following day. The concessions to Sir Hugh made that day were afterwards laid bare in published evidence; one of the most pregnant of the transactions of the day, is described, in the following letter:

"Private and confidential.

"MONTREAL, 30th July, 1872.

"DEAR SIR HUGH.—The friends of the Government will expect to be assisted with funds in the pending elections, and any amount which you or your company shall advance for that purpose shall be recouped to you.

"A memorandum of immediate requirements is below.

"Very truly yours,

"(Signed) "GEORGE E. CARTIER.

"Sir Hugh Allan."

"NOW WANTED.

"Sir John A. Macdonald	$25,000
"Hon. Mr. Langevin	15,000
"Sir G. E. C.	20,000
"Sir J. A. (add'l)	10,000
"Hon. Mr. Langevin (add'l)	10,000
"Sir G. E. C.	30,000"

The evidence produced before the Royal Commission that investigated the charges made against the Government by the Opposition shows how the money asked for in the above "memorandum" was drawn and how it was expended. Sir Hugh Allan and Sir John Macdonald were among the unwilling witnesses that confirmed all that had been charged.

Among the telegrams was the following sent from Toronto to Mr. Abbott, Sir Hugh Allan's agent:—

"Immediate—Private.

"I must have another ten thousand—will be the last time of calling. Do not fail me. Answer to-day.

"JOHN A. MACDONALD."

Sir John admitted before the Commission that he had received $45,000 of this fund, $25,000 in one sum, and $10,000 twice afterwards. Sir Hugh's statement of his own share in the payments to the Government he gave himself to the Commission as follows:—

"To Sir George E. Cartier's Committee	$ 85,000
"To Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, towards election expenses in Ontario	40,000
"To Hon. H. L. Langevin, towards Quebec	32,000
	$163,000

Sir Hugh, in a letter to G. W. McMullen, gives $343,000 as the amount paid out by him, with $13,500 still to pay—or a total of $356,500 actually disbursed.

After reading such evidence as the above, which is to be found officially set down in the report of the Royal Commission constituted to investigate the charges of Hon. Mr. Huntington, can any honest man for a moment doubt whether to call the infamous compact for corrupting the honesty of the franchise of a nation, a scandal or rather a "slander"? Tory morality must be dreadfully degraded when such a foul conspiracy as that covered by the name of the Pacific Scandal, is condoned, justified, and practically regarded as a legitimate means of promoting the success of their party.

It is difficult to find out whether the Queen is very ill or only slightly so. Each day's despatches tell a different tale. Cablegrams say she is suffering from a dropsical affection, and may become a confirmed invalid. The greatest solicitude in regard to Her Majesty's health is felt the world over, and the daily bulletins are eagerly looked for.

Henry Ward Beecher has a pretty good idea of the newspaper. He observed last Sunday that though newspapers were divine they did not always carry divinity stamped upon them. They were winged diffusers of knowledge and if blotted out the world would go back a thousand years.

Comparative Prosperity.

We are always gratified to note the progress of the County of Peterborough. Without exulting in the advances we make beyond our neighbors, we submit the following table to show that while, during the year from 1882 to 1883, Peterborough County has not only held her own in the way of population but shows a substantial increase, other counties have fallen behind:

	Pop. in '82.	Pop. in '83.
Peterborough	13,145	13,286	inc. 21
Victoria	22,228	21,797	dec. 546
Northumberland	27,711	26,696	dec. 1015
Durham	22,615	21,948	dec. 667
Ontario	35,576	35,402	dec. 174

These figures are taken from the returns of the township assessors. It would appear that there has been a decrease of the population of all the rural districts including Peterborough County. Of course the above figures under the heading of Peterborough include the town, and as there has been an increase of 310 in the population of the town itself during the past year, it follows that there has been a decrease in our rural districts of 719. The figures relating to the other counties go to show that there has been no increase of the population of the towns, or if there has, the decrease in the rural population has been too large to admit of the increase of the towns, as in the case of Peterborough, converting the minority of population into a majority. Of course the cause of the decrease is not far to seek. The attractions of the Great Northwest as a place of settlement for the farmer, explain a great deal, but in a young country like this where we have, even in the older provinces, a larger area of land awaiting settlement, it is natural to expect that the inflow of immigration would account for the depletion caused by the exodus to the Northwest. But it has not done so; and will not be likely to do so, till the glamour of novelty has worn off the Northwest; till farmers learn, in many cases by sad experience, that, considering everything, the agriculturist who is comfortably situated in Ontario, makes a mistake in exchanging the certainty of a comfortable competence for the doubtful benefit of more expanded acres, with their attendant drawbacks in the way of climate, water, traffic-communication, social conditions, educational and church privileges, etc. It is decidedly an unsafe experiment to transplant the roof tree firmly rooted and thrifty in Ontario soil, to the more fertile, perhaps, but otherwise less attractive soil of the Great Northwest. It is generally wise to let well enough alone, or, to vary the language of Hamlet, to rather enjoy the good we have, than fly to other that we know not of.

"Why the People Will Believe Anything of this Government."

If Mr. Manning, the "out in the cold" member of the section B. syndicate, did not assert, he at least assented to the truth of the statement, that the people are prepared to believe anything of the present Dominion Government. One reason is that they are essentially the same as the Government which concocted the Pacific scandal compact with Sir Hugh Allan. Other reasons are given in the following, taken from the Globe of Saturday:—

That the same persons who form the majority of this Government sold themselves to Sir Hugh Allan for $300,000.

That the leader of the Government says that there was nothing wrong in his thus selling himself.

That there has been fraud in the section B contract ever since the tenders were first opened.

That the work for sections A and B was wrongfully divided, and thus kept away from the lowest tenderers, Morse & Co.

That the next tenderers, Andrews, Jones & C., were jockeyed out of the contract by the conjoint efforts of Sir Chas. Tupper, Fraser & Grant, and some of the firm of Manning, Shields & Macdonald.

That Andrews, Jones, & Co. were given less than three days in which to put up $200,000 security, and that the persons who had engaged to be their security were tampered with.

That Tupper at first agreed slightly to extend this period, and then, having by this means induced the contractors to relax a little their efforts to find the money, suddenly refused to extend the time at all, though half of the money was put up.

That Andrews, Jones & Co.'s $200,000 were all put up before the contract was awarded, and that Sir Charles Tupper, who had refused to wait one minute for them, waited three weeks before the contract with Manning & Co. was signed.

That Sir Charles Tupper knew and admitted that his Nova Scotia friends, Fraser & Grant, were not financially equal to the work; that he knew Manning & Co. were the real persons behind this Fraser & Grant's tender.

That soon after the contract was signed Fraser & Grant withdrew from it, taking out $50,000.

That a partnership with the same firm of Fraser & Grant was forced upon poor Joseph Whithead in the midst of embarassments which there is reason to believe were produced by Sir Charles Tupper in collusion with his creditors.

That as soon as this partnership was made the Government took possession of the work, agreeing to pay Whitehead's firm the difference between the cost of the work and the contract price.

That by this arrangement Fraser & Grant probably get another large sum of money without doing a stroke of work for it.

That the contractors on Section B "demanded" the removal of an honest and competent inspecting engineer because he would not measure and classify work as they desired.

That a re-measurement and re-classification of this work has been made in the interest of the contractors giving an increase of $300,000 to them. That on the recent transfer of the unfinished work to the Canadian Pacific Company, the contractors were allowed 15 per cent. for prospective profits taken away, estimated to amount to $120,000.

That Mr. Shields one of the contractors, has been very busy running about on secret errands among the constituencies before the elections.

Mr. Shields spent very large sums of money during these elections.

That this could not have been his own private money, he having been, according to Mr. Manning's own evidence, a bankrupt at the time the section B contract was signed.

And that the Dominion Government asserts that it is no sin to "recoup" contractors for money subscribed to corruption funds.

That being so, and official proof being forthcoming for every one of the assertions made above, how can the people be blamed for their willingness to "believe anything of this Government."

Editorial Notes.

The healthfulness of the climate of Ontario is shown by the fact that over sixteen percent of the total number of deaths are caused by old age.

The total lumber cut of Wisconsin and Minnesota last year exceeds four billion feet, representing the growth of 1,250 square miles. This is the largest cut in the history of the North West.

"Who tells the lie?" queries the Ottawa Free Press. Sir John swore that Shields settled with Gen. Hewson on his behalf for $2,500. Shields says "under oath" that not one dollar was paid on Sir John's behalf by or through him!

Undertakers furnish the most pronounced examples of business jealousy on record. The way they cling to life to deprive an opponent an undertaking job is something remarkable. Out of 5583 deaths recorded in this Province in 1881 there was only one undertaker.

The agile intellect of the Toronto World detects a mystery in the singular fact that New York papers published verbatim et literatim the new revenue laws before Canadian papers could get a synopsis of the act? That's "Canada on the Canadians," according to Tory ideas,.

The cable brings us the intelligence that Lord Dufferin has received his promised decoration, as a mark of his success as a diplomat in the East. The noble Earl has had conferred on him the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. Since he entered public life, Lord Dufferin's success has been marked.

The Manitoban, of Emerson, says the recent sale of Government land within the "mile belt" was a most iniquitous proceeding, as it deprived fifty squatter settlers of their homes. Their ejection will be no easy matter, as no civil force will be found willing to vindicate the law. There ought to be enough land in the Northwest without ejectment. The pity of it is that we haven't enough squatters.

England, with twenty-seven millions of inhabitants, has only one hundred and forty thousand residents of foreign birth; Germany, with forty-five millions, only two hundred and seventy thousand; while France, with thirty-seven millions four hundred thousand, has more than a million. In France there has been an increase of two hundred thousand in the last five years.

At the banquet to Mr. Anglin last Tuesday night, Hon. C. F. Frazer alluded to the attempts that had been made by the infamous agencies, to turn out the present Administration. He had no fear for the future. "We hold the fort," he said, "and are determined to hold the fort in spite of all the attempts of the Tories, and we will hold it, however Section B may bleed."

The Montreal Methodist conference declared for union last Wednesday afternoon by sixty-six to fifty-one. This is the first of the six conferences to vote upon the question; Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick being the three eastern conferences; the others being in Old Canada. The general opinion is that, the central conference having spoken in favor of the movement, the others will do the same.

Mr. Leprohon, the assistant clerk of the Dominion Commons, was induced to ante-date a letter asking for superannuation by the Government for purposes of its own, upon promise of a gratuity and superannuation. Their purpose having been accomplished, the Government failed to pass the appropriation, and when Mr. Leprohon appealed to some of the Ministers for redress, he was significantly advised to "go into the contracting business."

Some doubts having arisen as to the forfeiture of the deposit made by Mr. J. R. Currey, the Tory candidate for North Brant at the election in June last year, Mr. Shenston, the returning officer, explains in a letter to the Globe that the money was forfeited and duly credited by him on account of election expenses in the return he made to the Government. This fully explains the apparent inaccuracy of the return recently made to the House of Commons.

SOUTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL.

The Council met pursuant to call of the reeve. Present, Wm. Rutherford, Reeve, and Councillors Lightfoot, Riddell, Perrin and Byers. Members were sworn in as Court of Revision, and the revision of the assessment roll was proceeded with. The Reeve in the chair.

Moved by Mr. Byers, seconded by Mr. Perrin, that Richard Latimer's name be added to the assessment roll as co-tenant with James Latimer, Jr., for the east half of lot 4 in the sixth concession.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Perrin, seconded by Mr. Byers, that John Whittington be assessed $200 as tenant of Henry Perrin, and that Henry Perrin's assessment be lowered from $650 to $450.—Carried.

The Court of Revision then adjourned and the Council took up the ordinary routine of business.

Wm. Rodgers askd to have a drain opened up to draw off the surplus water on his lot. The Reeve and Councillor Lightfoot were appointed as a committee to inspect and report.

A communication from J. J. Lilley, public school inspector, having reference to an application to allow children belonging to S.S. No. 5, of the township of South Monaghan to withdraw, and join S.S. No. 12 of the Township of Cavan, received. Action deferred until the other school sections affected be properly notified.

Moved by Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Byers, that the Council on June 5th proceed to inspect the roads and bridges of the township, and report at the next meeting.

David Woods, of school section No. 12, Cavan, petitioned the Council to have a referee appointed to meet the Cavan referee and J. J. Lilley to allow his children to withdraw and join S.S. No. 5 of South Monaghan.—Granted.

On motion of Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Byers. Wm. Morrison, J.P., was appointed referee. The Clerk to notify Mr. Lilley of the appointment.

ACCOUNTS.

Dr. J. W. Gray's bill for medicine and attendance on R. Montgomery, $16, was, on motion of Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Riddell, reduced to $12, and an order drawn on treasurer for amount.

A joint bill of Drs. Gray, Sidey and Greer for examining R. Montgomery, certifying to his insanity, and for mileage, amounting to $21.20, was on motion of Mr. Riddell, seconded by Mr. Byers, ordered to be paid.

John Kerr's bill, $4, repairing Squirrel bridge, paid.

A. E. Hayters, for advertising Court of Revision, paid.

Wm. Smithson, for drawing a map of the school sections of the township, was, on motion of Mr. Byers, seconded by Mr. Riddell, allowed $3.

Moved by Mr. Perrin, sec. by Lightfoot, that Wm. Morrison, collector, be granted a rebate of $57.20, $1.20 uncollected taxes and $56 salary for the years 1881-2.

Moved by Mr. Riddell, seconded by Mr. Perrin, that the clerk procure 50 copies of a list of the township officers.

Moved by Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Perrin, that the sum of $4 additional be paid collector Morrison for services for 1881-2.—Carried and order drawn.

The committee on bridges reported the Anderson bridge, on 2nd concession line, finished according to contract; an order for $25.20 was drawn on treasurer in favor of the contractor, J. G. Donaldson.

On motion Councillor Riddell was empowered to collect an order drawn by John Mays on Richard Sparks.

The Council then adjourned.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Send a three-cent stamp for a copy of their International News, published monthly at 173 Church st., Toronto. 15-tf

WHY?

There are many reasons why H. LeBRUN, of the City Clothing Store, has now the confidence of the public, and some of them may be briefly stated.

FIRST.

The firm has a business experience extending over ten years.

SECOND.

The Establishment is the largest in town, and the stock the most extensive.

THIRD.

The City Clothing Store sets the prices, which are always lower than any other house in Peterborough.

FOURTH.

The styles are always correct, for the reason that MR. LeBRUN employs none but the most skilful workmen.

FIFTH.

The fit, finish and durability of every garment made is perfect, because all the details of the business come under the minutest inspection.

SIXTH.

H. LeBRUN, City Clothing Store never allows a customer to go unless they are satisfied. The good reputation of the firm will be sustained in the selection he has made.

BOYS' SUITS.—The largest and best assorted stock of Boys' and Children's Clothing ever shown in town at very low prices. TWEEDS for Children's [illegible] very cheap, and cut free of charge.

Canada Methodist Church.

THE TORONTO CONFERENCE

Our Ministerial Guests—Their Civic Hosts—The Temporary Homes of the Ministers—Christian Co-operation.

Seven years ago the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada held its annual session in Peterborough. This year the town is again honored with its presence, a fact warranting the inference that the authorities of the Church were well satisfied with the hospitality then received. And we are sure that this year their welcome will be equally warm. The number attending this annual conference—300—is large, and the domiciliary resources of the town are pretty well taxed, yet the requisite accommodation has been secured, and not, we are pleased to note, from Methodists alone. Other denominations have cordially co-operated with them in extending hospitality to the ministers of a common faith.

Below will be found a list of the ministers expected to be present and their homes during their temporary enjoyment of Peterborough citizenship:—

Remember This.

If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails.

If you are costive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill, for Hop Bitters are a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

If you are wasting away with any form of Kidney disease, stop tempting Death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are sick with that terrible sickness Nervousness, you will find a "Balm in Gilead" in the use of Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequenter, or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malarial, epidemic, bilious, and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply, or sallow skin, bad breath, pains and aches, and feel miserable generally, Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, rich blood, sweetest breath, health, and comfort.

In short they cure all Diseases of the stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Bright's Disease. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

That poor, bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of health, by a few bottles of Hop Bitters, costing but a trifle. Will you let them suffer? 22-4t

His Strike was Very Brief.

"Johnny, hurry up and get ready to go to school, or you'll be too late."

"I ain't goin', mother."

"Not going! And why not?"

"I've struck."

"Struck! What do you mean by that?"

"Why, didn't papa read in the paper last night about persons strikin' and that it was right for the oppressed to strike."

"And I hope you don't call yourself oppressed, do you?"

"Of course I am. If a feller dosen't want to go to school and his mother makes him go, isn't he oppressed?"

"So you have struck, have you? Well I'll see if I can strike, too."

And just as soon as Johnny saw his mother reaching for the strap, his first strike came to an end, for he darted out of the house and was down at the schoolhouse in a twinkling.

People wishing their Teeth to look white, Use "TEABERRY" daily—at morning and night;
It sweetens the Breath and reddens the gums,
Enhances the beauty of daughters and sons.

Know

That SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will make the weak strong and gives the feeble, nerve.

Will increase the muscular force and double the staying power.

Will insure a hearty appetite and increased digestion.

Will give sleep, sound and refreshing in due season.

Builds up the constitution and makes the weakest rugged.

Strengthens feeble women and makes puny children strong.

Cures General Debility and gives a new lease of life.

Will infuse with new life the weakest invalid.

The Habits, occupations, vices and unnatural modes of living which seem to follow civilization have the effect of depleting the human system of its necessary supply of Iron, and science having determined this was bound to find means to re-establish that supply. It was an important and difficult task. But it has been accomplished. In the SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS which have so quickly secured the endorsement of medical men as well as the public generally.

Iron in combination with other vital Tonics is found in a proper form for quick assimilation and the opinion of the ablest medical men who have examined this preparation is that it is the best thing of the kind ever invented.

THE PERRY DAVIS PAIN KILLER acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails, when taken at the commencement of an attack, to cure

Cholera, Cholera Morbus,

as well as all summer complaints of a similar nature.

For Toothache, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, &c.

the PAIN KILLER will be found a willing physician, ready and able to relieve your suffering without delay, and at a very insignificant cost. For

Colic, Cramps,
—AND—Dysentery in Horses,

the PAIN KILLER has no equal, and it has never been known to fail to effect a cure in a single instance. It is used in some of the largest livery stables and horse infirmaries in the world. To resuscitate young lambs or other stock chilled and dying from cold, a little PAIN KILLER mixed with milk will restore them to health very quickly.

☞ The PAIN KILLER is for sale by Druggists Apothecaries, Grocers and Medicine Dealers throughout the world.

☞ For several years we have furnished the [illegible] of America with an excellent artificial color for butter; so meritorious that it met with great success everywhere receiving the highest and only prizes at both International Dairy Fairs.

☞ But by patient and scientific chemical research we have improved in several points, and now offer this new color as the best in the world.

It Will Not Color the Buttermilk.

Will Not Turn Rancid. It is the Strongest, Brightest and Cheapest Color Made.

☞ And, while prepared in oil, is so compounded that it is impossible for it to become rancid.

☞ BEWARE of all imitations, and of all other oil colors, for they are liable to become rancid and spoil the butter.

☞ If you cannot get the "improved" write us to know where and how to get it without extra expense. (46)

Peterborough Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 14, 1883.

Daily "Examiner."

During the session of the Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church, which commenced its sittings in the George Street Methodist Church here yesterday morning, the EXAMINER will issue as a daily paper, appearing each evening at five o'clock. A full report of the Conference proceedings, together with local news, editorial matter, the latest telegraphic despatches, and all that goes to the making of a live evening journal will constitute our "make up."

The Methodist Conference.

The Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church will be opened here to-morrow. It is by far the largest of the conferences of the connection, embracing, not only a larger district in Ontario, but the missions in British Columbia and Japan. Questions of supreme importance will come before the attending ministers. The most important will be the proposed union of the various Methodist bodies—Bible Christians, Methodist Episcopals and Canada Methodists. A few years ago a partial union of Methodist interests was effected. The present aspect of the union question has loomed up with surprising rapidity. After great care and attention a basis of union was agreed upon by the representatives of the denominations, lay and clerical. The laymen of the Canada Methodists have already adopted the basis by a very large majority. The others are now voting, and reports indicate that the question will be treated in a similar manner. It is evident that the final settlement of the question will rest with the ministers. That they fully recognize the responsibility devolving upon them, there cannot be any doubt. In the conference convening here, it is understood that the anti-unionists embrace many of the oldest of the connection. The main differences of opinion are about the length of the term and powers of the general superintendent or Bishop, the financial basis and lay representation. Upon any one of those rocks the whole fabric may be wrecked. Present indications, however, are that the spirit of mutual concession will prevail, and that a grand united Canadian Methodism will eventually present itself to the world. One of the first acts of the conference will be the election of a president for the ensuing year. It is not at all unlikely that the union and anti-union advocates will then face each other in friendly rivalry. But a victory of either one or the other on this vote will not, by any means, decide the great question. It will come up in proper order. The discussion will, do doubt, be carried on with marked ability on both sides. The settlement of such a question is not only of interest to the Methodists, but will be watched with intense earnestness by all classes. We shall endeavor, in the columns of the DAILY EXAMINER to give a full report of the deliberations of this important gathering, which we are satisfied will meet with cordial appreciation, not only in this locality, but throughout the Province.

The Review commenting on the appointment of Mr. Jas. Young as Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Agriculture says:—"We are glad to be able to congratulate Mr. Mowat on taking a wise step." It is a relief to know that Mr. Mowat has at last done something at which the most cowardly Conservative journal in the Province is pleased.

Consistency.

The journalistic defenders of Professor Foster, have found it hard work to reconcile with his political acts, his loud claim to being an honest and consistent advocate of temperance, especially when the maintenance of his principles come in conflict with his subservient and uncompromising loyalty to his party. In the debate or the license bill, Prof. Foster as a contemporary points out, voted against the apparently earnest convictions, which he had expressed on the principle of the license bill only a few minutes before, at a crack of the ministerial whip wielded by Sir Leonard and Sir John. Of course Prof. Foster has a right to change his mind; but so sudden and violent a change as that made by him on the License Bill, plainly calls on him to resign the role of a temperance advocate or that of a party politican. In his case especially, the two cannot consist. But he is not the only inconsistent temperance man, in the House. Sir Leonard Tilly showed how he preferred the sweets of party gain to the promotion of temperance principles; and even the member for West Peterborough in his course in relation to the License Bill did not justify the pretensions on which his election was largely gained. By virtue of his temperance professions, he received a large vote which he would not have secured on political grounds. Yet, his course in the House of Commons did not reveal that concern in the vital temperance interests involved in the late Liquor License Legislation, which his duty to a large class of his constituents demanded. Not once was his voice raised on behalf of further restriction of the Liquor Traffic and we cannot perceive where he even recorded his vote on the matter. The fact that his advocacy or vote would not probably have made any difference in the result is no excuse; he might at least have exhibited a little temperance consistency by showing which side was on.

Is it "Business" or "Bluff."

Mr. John Shields, the central figure in the second Pacific scandal, of course hotly repudiates the idea of his immaculate character being assailed with such a charge as that made by the Globe in its recent exposures; to vindicate his character he has actually instituted a libel suit against the Globe. Mr. Shields uses brave words through his solicitors, but it will be interesting to observe how long he will maintain his present bold attitude.

If Mr. Shields expected that his institution of legal proceedings would strike terror to the heart of Mr. Cameron, managing editor of the Globe, he must be not a little disconcerted to notice that Mr. Cameron, not only takes the matter very cooly, but actually encourages Mr. Shields in his rather herculean task of vindicating his reputation. Mr. Shields' solicitors have sent the following letter:—

"John Cameron, Esq., General Manager of the Globe Printing Company; Hon. T. W. Anglin, James David Edgar, Esq., James Cotton, Esq., and Butt Hewson, Esq.

"GENTLEMEN,—We are instructed by Mr. John Shields to take proceedings against you for libel published upon him and Mr. John J. Macdonald in an article contained in the issue of the Globe newspaper of Friday, the 1st June last, in reference to their use of the moneys of the firm of Manning, Macdonald, McLaren & Co, for corrupt purposes in elections. Mr. Shields and Mr. Manning have replied over their own signatures to your charges, and Mr. Macdonald is at present in the North-West, where he has not yet had an opportunity of reading the article in question, or communicating in reference to it; but notwithstanding the replies already published, the Globe newspaper has continued in subsequent articles to repeat the charges in an altered and modified shape.

"We are instructed that the articles were concocted by the several parties other than the Globe Printing Company, to whom this letter is addressed, and were written by Mr. Anglin, and we therefore purpose to join all as defendants in the proceedings we are instructed to take.

"Unless the libellous charges against Mr. Shields are withdrawn and an adequate apology published forthwith, we shall take such proceedings in the matter as we may be advised.

"We are, Sirs,
"Your obedient servants,
"CAMERON & MCPHILLIPS.

"Toronto, June 5, 1883."

The reply of Mr. Cameron to this formidable epistle does not make the threat of a libel suit appear to have stricken much terror to the heart of the Globe manager. Here it is:—

"GLOBE OFFICE, TORONTO,
"June 6, 1883.

"To Messrs. Cameron & McPhillips, Solicitors:

"GENTLEMEN,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 5th inst. threatening proceedings on behalf of Mr. John Shields in consequence of articles lately published in the Daily Globe. In reply I beg to say, that if any action is brought against the Globe, it will be prepared to defend itself.

"Your obedient servant,
"JOHN CAMERON,
"General Manager."

The answer of Mr. Cameron does not indicate any fear of the result. This bearing on the part of the Globe seems to be prima facie evidence of the charges constituting the Second Pacific Scandal being largely impregnated with truth, and the indignant attitude of injured innocence assumed by Mr. Shields seems to lead naturally to the inference that he has resorted to a favorite device of a desperate gambler, the game of "bluff." The public will await with great interest the issue of events in this connection. Nobody will be deceived by the denials of Mr. Shields, which have, in the matter of accuracy come into conflict with the admissions of Mr. Manning. When Hon. Mr. Huntingdon made his charges in the first Pacific scandal, the facts which were at first denied so strongly, were afterwards proven before the Royal Commission. On the floor of the House, even Sir John solemnly averred that his "hands were clean," and everybody knows how well his solemn declaration of innocence accorded with the subsequently developed facts. The public has no greater reason to think that Mr. Shields is more worthy of belief than the "Chieftain." In the face of the strong points brought out by the Globe, Mr. Shields' libel suit has the appearance of bravado.

The Review, even, cannot resist showing that it conforms to the general tone of Tory morality as exhibited in connection with the above matters. It publishes the letter of Mr. Shields' solicitors threatening the Globe with a libel suit, with a great flourish of trumpets. Yet it carefully suppresses the courageous reply of the Globe manager, thus seeking to create the impression that the Globe, from a consciousness of guilt, and the terror of the threat, is too greatly paralyzed to even reply. This may be journalistic honesty, but an unperverted moral sense cannot regard it as such.

Grumbling and Garbling.

Our sensitive down street cotem. is grieved because the leading journal of the Reform party describes the Tory party in Canada to-day, as "a compound of the relics of the Family Compact, the uneducated and unenlightened of the people—the selfish and mercenary—and of the driftwood of society that seeks a temporary resting-place under the protection of Sir John Macdonald." This we confess is a pretty strong opinion, but the Review omits to add the opinion of the chief organ of its own party. Not long ago the Mail characterized certain members of its own party as a "clique of imbeciles who have flabby intellects." Thus our contemporary will perceive that though the Globe and Mail express their opinions in different language, the import is the same, so that in at least their estimate of the Tory party they agree admirably. But the Review, in referring to the matter, garbles, and therefore misrepresents what the Globe really did say about the Tory party. The Globe qualifies its strong language as above by the explanation:

"We do not for one moment assert that every adherent of the Tory party is without principle in political affairs—we simply assert that the party is without principles, that its leaders and the exponents of its policy are wholly guided by expediency. We have considerable sympathy with a genuine Tory of the old school—we have only contempt for the modern mongrel. We can understand how a man could conscientiously follow the lead of the Duke of Wellington—we cannot understand how any man at once honest and intelligent can support the authors of the Pacific Scandals, the Pacific Railway Contract, and the Gerrymandering Bill. For the ignorant and misguided we have only sympathy, for the abettors of these party crimes nothing but contempt and indignation."

This serves to show the dishonesty of the Review's quotation, and its "base,"—to borrow a favorite word of our confrere—attempt to deceive the public by the suppression of the context that deprives the obnoxious extract of objections which it might be credited with when standing alone. The Review is never known to quote honestly, when garbling and misrepresentation better answers its purpose.

Is Unbelief Increasing?

I.

A more important question than is propounded by the heading of our article can scarcely be conceived. Certainly it has a deep interest for all sorts and conditions of men. It affects the cultured scholar, the brilliant philosopher, and the clever but sceptical scientist,—in a word, all men of genius, and those of no genius, who pretend to despise Christianity, and who seek its overthrow. It touches still more vitally the hearts of the great majority among all ranks to whom the religion of the Christ is dear, and who, though they look on at times with dread on the wide breach between modern culture and Christianity, have still firm faith in the Church's future, and in the glorious promises of the Redeemer's Kingdom.

——It is, we know, by no means unusual for men to look back with longing eyes on the golden past, and to enquire, as some did nearly three thousand years ago, "What is the cause that the former days were better than these?" There is a natural tendency in most minds to exalt the days that have passed away at the expense of the present, and to look back regretfully as on some fond dream on former years, especially as men draw near the close of life's journey.

Many a Jeremiad is uttered on all sides, regarding the present condition of Christianity and the boldness of its foes. Not a few urge that the power of scepticism is so great, and the increase of rationalism and agnosticism so widespread, that the Church is in imminent danger of destruction, and some affirm that the Ark of God is rapidly sweeping onward to the vortex of despair.

——For ourselves, we confess we have but little faith in those "good old times," of which so many seem enamoured. We believe there is much that is evil around and about us, but we question if, after all has been thoughtfully considered, the present age can for a moment compare with the immorality, the cruelty, the licentiousness, the irreligion and the open vice of certain periods in the past history of our own nation.

However, we do not wish to anticipate an answer to our question. We purpose examining the matter in a series of short articles. We desire to look into the present condition of Christianity and the aspect of unbelief, so far as the brief space we can allot to the subject will allow. In such a wide field we perhaps cannot glean full information, but we shall at least "nothing extenuate nor aught set down in malice." And it may be that our enquiries shall help to the better understanding of the whole subject, and shall in some measure, advance the cause of truth.

——First, then, to survey our field, following the wise maxim of Spinoza, "Human things are neither to be laughed at nor wept over; our duty is to understand them" At the outset we must admit the foes of Christianity are numerous and untiring. A perpetual war has been waged against the gospel from the beginning, and the end is yet far off. Deep-seated mistrust of the Christian faith exists in many lands. Some of the most important doctrines of Christ's religion have been quietly put aside by thousands, or are boldly dissolved in the crucible of a Hobbes, a Hume or a Voltaire. It is, in fact, considered a sign of superior intelligence to be sceptical. And not a few are ready to repeat the axiom of Diderot: "True religion is to have none at all!"

——To devout and pious minds it is no doubt painful to dwell upon the assaults made with such increasing bitterness on the faith once delivered to the saints. We should remember, however, what the experience of the past assures us has ever been the case, that the more powerful has been the development of Christianity, the stronger has been the opposition to it, and the more untiring and unscrupulous its foes. Moreover, it should not be forgotten that if Christ's religion is founded on absolute truth, and if His promises are to be fulfilled, every attack made upon it must bring out still more clearly its real character, and tend to establish it more firmly. Open and honorable antagonism will always intensify and enrich those truths on which the Church is founded. Therefore the louder the opposition and the hotter the conflict, the greater will be the gain and the nearer do we approach the hour of complete and final victory.

——The present opposition to Christianity is due to many and varied causes, on which we have neither time nor space to dwell here. But we must at least before closing mention one prolific cause of unbelief, and that is the evil within the Church itself. As a well known German theologian writes, "the outbreak of heresies goes hand in hand with the loss of spiritual life in the Church at large." Widespread corruption among her members, fruitless controversies and stern anathemas against opponents, these things have robbed the Church of many who might have been retained within her fold, and have through the Church's own fault, largely swelled the number of unbelievers.

——The absence of all spiritual life and fervor, the coldness and deadness witnessed among vast numbers of professing believers, the harsh dogmatism of the pulpits, the neglect of real theological training in schools of divinity, and the stupid opposition made by the Church to what is true science and undoubted fact,—these have all contributed their quota to the increase of scepticism.

In considering the question with which we set out, it would be folly to shut our eyes to the real state of affairs. This we have no desire to do. But, while we admit the audacity of the foes of Christianity, and notice their strenuous efforts in opposition to it, we must also give the Church credit for making wondrous strides in all genuine deeds of piety and charity within the last hundred years. To this subject we shall revert in a subsequent issue.

A Fair Exchange.

Will you exchange a chronic case of Dyspepsia, or agree to break up a Bilious Temperament—to give your torpid Liver activity, and thus strengthen your Digestion, regain energy, comfort, health and spirits, all for 75c? A single bottle of ZOPESA will do this. A few doses surprise those who try Zopesa. For Biliousness and Dyspepsia in their many forms Zopesa is a Panacea, and is warranted to cure them. It acts speedily and pleasantly. Try a ten cent sample. For sale by J. D. Tully. 22-tf

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

The Fruits of the Flood.

Breaking of Hazlitt's Boom—Large Loss of Logs—Uncommonly High Water.

The almost perpetual rains that have fallen this spring, ably supplemented by the deluge of yesterday, raised the water of the river to a height quite unusual at this season of the year. Last night the high wind and the water combined broke Hazlitt's boom, and the result was that six thousand logs, upon which the mills was to start sawing this morning, went over the dam. The force of the water may be imagined when it is known that the boom had been doubled in strength in anticipation of trouble. Owing to the carelessness of the Government, the loss to Mr. Hazlitt will be very considerable. The Government boom in the Little Lake had been left open, and, of course, the most of the logs passed over the locks, and the expense of recovery will be more than the value of the logs, which will altogether likely have to be sawn at Harwood.

MIDLAND DISTRICT NEWS.

The Cream of Contributed Matter Selected from Contemporary Columns.

WARSAW.

The anniversary of the battle of the Boyne will be celebrated this year by the Orangemen of this district at Warsaw. L.O.L. 24, of this place, has engaged the services of the Norwood cornet band for the day.

HASTINGS.

A young gentleman made the run from Norwood to this place, last Saturday, a distance of 6 miles, on a bicycle in 24 minutes. So the Star says.

Work on the bridge is progressing, and judging from what is already done, Mr. Wynn will do a very substantial job.

NORWOOD.

A very successful temperance entertainment, under the auspices of the Norwood Presbyterian temperance society, was held in the basement of the of Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening last. The readings, recitations, etc., were all well rendered, and a better satisfied audience never existed. The result, financially, was also a success.

ASPHODEL.

A couple of young gentlemen from Asphodel, says the Hastings Star, are destined to make their mark in the cricket world. "We refer to Messrs Farrar and Lender, both of whom made good records during the recent matches held in Port Hope. The bowling of Mr. Farrar, in swiftness and accuracy, is acknowledged to be equal, if not superior to any in Canada."

DESERONTO.

An attempt was made to burn the M. E. Church in Deseronto on Wednesday night. A quantity of fine wood and shavings were pilled against the entrance and set on fire. The door was also slivered up to admit of the fire entering the building The attempt was unsuccessful, as the kindling material was not thoroughly seasoned, and the fire went out of itself, otherwise the building might have been consumed. An anonymous letter was found the following morning in the parsonage yard by the pastor.

PORT HOPE.

Three weddings are booked for this month.

Englishtown has a house under the roof of which four generations reside happily.

Port Hope has now fifty-three telephones in operation, and will shortly, according to the Times, have over 70.

The contractor for the new post office buildings has been in town. The building is going on at once.

A well known townsman, Mr. Joseph B. Hall, was astonished to read his own obituary, as printed in the Kingston News.

OMEMEE.

The Bishop of the diocese confirmed ten condidates in Christ church, last week. A large number were present to witness the ceremony.

On Wednesday evening last, Fred, eldest son of Mr. Geo. Clemmitt, of this village, while diving off the railway bridge struck his head against a sharp stone, sticking up from the bottom of the river, inflicting an ugly wound.

On Monday last Mr. James Tully, salesman in Mr. J. D. Thornton's store in this village, while jumping over a bar struck the ground in such a way as to break his right leg in two places above the ankle.

BELLEVILLE.

Belleville is happy at last. The Ontario says that Mr. Cox has placed a special "market train" on the Grand Junction for the accommodation of persons along the line wishing to visit Belleville on market days. This train will make trips on Thursdays and Saturdays.

Mr. Patrick O'Brien, who has been appointed caretaker of the Parliament building, Toronto, was on Wednesday night presented by his friends with an address and a gold watch and chain.

On Sunday two young men forced a four year old son of Mr. Dickson, Q.C., to eat a rotten egg in which they had mixed some paint. The victim of this atrocious act is in a dangerous condition.

PENELON FALLS.

The Gazette says:—"For three successive years the blood mare owned by our neighbour, Mr. W. H. Stevenson, has produced a fine horse colt, all of them sired by Mr. John Simpson's Lapidist Chief (the horse that figured so prominently in the races in Peterborough last winter). The first colt was sold at weaning time to Captain Bottum for $50, and the second, at the same age, to Mr. M. Boyd, jr., for the same amount. These were good prices, but this year Mr. Stevenson did better; for on Wednesday last the foal, though less than three weeks old, showed such speed and action while trotting down street after his dam, that Mr. Simpson bought him for $65 and paid $20 of the purchase money on the spot. This shows how well it pays to raise good colts instead of common ones."

LINDSAY.

The board of education has increased the salary of teachers.

Last Thursday evening the ceremony of confirmation took place at St. Paul's church in this town, a class of thirty-six being confirmed by the Bishop of Toronto.

The Post records the death of Mr. Jno. Morrison, an old and esteemed resident of Ops and Lindsay, who died on Thursday, 7th instant, at his residence in Lindsay, at the age of 63 years.

Dr. H. O'Keefe, formerly of Lindsay, but now of Minto, Dakota, was in town during the past week on a pleasant errand. On Tuesday morning Dr. O'Keefe wedded Miss Eliza Connolly, daughter of Mr. John Connolly, ex-reeve of Ops. The marriage ceremony took place in St. Mary's church and was performed by Rev. Father Lynch.

Early Wednesday morning a very severe thunder storm passed of this section. The rain for a time came down at "right smart pace," and the lightning acted in many ways very capriciously. On the farm of Mr. J. Fitzpatrick in Ops two good horses were struck dead in their stable, while other horses were so terrified as to drop down with fright. The lightning also struck the house, demolishing a couple of stoves and playing havoc with the furniture generally, but luckily not one of the family received any injury. The Mansion house flag pole at the top of the building was struck by lightning, and considerable damage was done to the hotel at the back end, where the lightning seemed to descend. Reports come in from all sides of damage to growing crops, barns and fences, as well as serious collaions with telegrahic poles. The storm appears to have been worst felt and most dangerous immediately round Lindsay, and several houses, etc., are reported to have been struck and otherwise damaged. Further north there was considerable rain, but little thunder.

HARVEY.

The Harvey Council met at the Town Hall July 4th, all present. On motion the members formed a Court of Revision. Only three appeals:—1st, Wm. Kelso, assessment reduced fifty dollars. 2nd, H. Laferre, assessment confirmed, and 3rd, David H. Montgomery was entered for two village lots formerly owned by Wm. Copeland. The Roll as revised was finally passed. The court arose and the members resumed in council:—Minutes of the last meeting read and confirmed. Charles M'Ilmoyle was authorized to procure a road scraper, and stone hammer. Joseph Brodie, one road scraper, James Hicks, one scraper and two stone hammers, one scraper and two stone hammers for the Buckhorn road, and Thomas Brunwell, one stone hammer and crowbar.

The following items passed, and orders were drawn on the Treasurer for payments, viz:—

Joseph Brodie road Com., for 1882	$14.75
James Dickson, P. L. Surveyor	18.00
Jas. Richmond, Salary as assessor, 1883	35.00
Narcisse Feeley, and others helping surveyor	29.75
Ralph Murdoch, for land taken for road	20.00
William Irwin, salary as collector 1882	60.00

Appropriations for roads $200 on roads in north Harvey, $200 in south Harvey and $50 on the Government road in east Harvey. James Goodenough, Joseph Brodie and Wm. Bennett, were appointed as road commissioners, to expend the same by contracts. The council adjourned to meet at Lark Hall on the third Monday in August.

New additions to Turnbull's already attractive stock of Millinery this week.

LARDINE MACHINE OIL

Farmers, Threshers and Mill Men generally, should try the Celebrated Lardine Machine Oil, it does not Gum or Clog Machinery, and wears equal to Castor Oil.

In fact it will prolong the life of a machine if used exclusively, as it contains no Grit or other injurious substances which is found in the majority of oils made now-a-days.

Green Manures.

There are a great many poor soils that can be benefitted by plowing down green manures during the present summer; and for a buckwheat crop June is the month. The principle of plowing under buckwheat, clover or any other plant, is simply returning to the soil the elements of food absorbed by the plant during growth from the atmosphere; and as this amounts to about 95 per cent. of the whole structure, green manures supply a large amount of nitrogen. The plowing under of a green crop is nothing more than following out nature; the hoarded up supply of virgin fertility in our new lands and in the Northwest, has been from decayed vegetable matter. Buckwheat as a green manure is highly beneficial; although it is not as good or strong a fertiliser as clover, yet the mechanical effects, owing to the coarse straw, are superior for heavy clay land. The middle of June will be an excellent time to sow buckwheat for a plowing down crop; but the earlier the better, for unless it be plowed under early in August, it will not sufficiently rot to benefit the fall wheat. It should be borne in mind that all soils, to receive the greatest good from the application of green manures, should be capable of bringing them forth with such an abundance as to produce a complete shade to the surface during their growth—when a process of nitrification goes on in the soil—and there should be a large enough mass of vegetable matter to cause rapid and constant fermentation or decomposition when plowed under. With the present scarcity of stock to increase the manure heap, our farmers cannot do better this season than turn down plenty of green manure to increase the fertility of their soil.

Parsnips for Cows.

Those farmers who have not yet adopted the ensilage system of preserving green food for winter use, and who use roots instead, should bear in mind the claims of parsnips as cattle a feed. It is one of the most nutritious of roots, and can be grown without more trouble than carrots. We have never had milk cows increase in milk or butter productions much faster upon any extra feed than when a peck of parsnips was added daily to their rations of hay and grain. Parsnips may be sown any time in June, if the ground is fitted, as it always should be for root crops, by being deeply plowed, well manured and finely pulverized. They should be sown in drills about fourteen to eighteen inches apart and the seed covered about half an inch deep. When two or three inches high thin to six inches apart and keep well hoed. Do not harvest in the fall, but allow them to remain in the ground until spring, and when the beets, mangels, turnips, and small potatoes and the like are all consumed, and the "spring appetite" of the animal begins to crave the green grass which has not started, then dig your parsnips and feed them out. One great advantage of the parsnip is that it will winter perfectly well in the ground, and will be in its best condition at a season of the year when the animal most needs roots, and when other varieties have either decayed or lost much of their value as feed, if indeed you have been able to keep them at all.

General Farm Notes.

A trial of harvesting implements will take place on the Model Farm, Guelph, during the Provincial Exhibition, from the 24th to the 29th of September next.

It is a matter of economy to give early clipped sheep some protection against late wintry blasts such as are experienced about this season of the year.

Where land is covered with weeds it seldom or never pays to let them grow for the purpose of plowing under as green manure. Almost all weeds are robbers of fertility, and only help the soil by being turned to decay at as early a stage as possible.

Few farmers know that clover is one of the best crops to clean out foul weeds from their soil. Its rapid growth enables it to smother all except the strongest rooted perennials, and even these it will greatly keep in check. But it will only do this if cattle and other stock are kept off at all times.

It is pretty generally believed that the rag weed, which is more or less present on every farm, is the cause of bitter milk, wherever it appears. It is one of the worst pests upon a farm. It covers, when it gets a start, everything. It is even believed that the pollen from the blossom produces the hay fever, indirectly if not directly.

Take a handful of hellebore, sift it fine into a large water-pot, pour three quarts of boiling water on it, stir it well, and fill pot full of cold water. Take a syringe, or fine rose of a water-pot, and sprinkle the cabbages. In a few hours the worms will be killed.

There is a greater general improvement in the breed of hogs than in any other farm stock. Farmers find that the only profit in a hog at present prices of grain, is in having a good breed and keeping them always growing. The race of pigs that, as the pioneer said, he had to tie knots in their tails of, to keep them in the pen, is much less common now than formerly.

If your horses are thin skinned and very much annoyed by flies when working or driving, steep up a handful of the wild wormwood or bitter weed, wet a cloth in it and just moisten the hair, especially on ears, neck and legs, before taking them out of the stable; or a few walnut leaves will have the same effect. It will make the animal more comfortable and much more pleasant to drive.

The question of the "milk supply of cities" is solved by an ingenious Scotchman, named Bewick, who has invented an artificial milk that costs only one-sixth as much as the genuine product of the cow, but yet resembles it so closely as to "deceive even the taste of the calf." With this and oleomargarine to fall back upon, the most conscientious of boarding-house keepers need not worry about the high price of dairy products.

A bit of wire about the size of a knitting needle is an efficient weapon with which to attack the apple tree borer, or the borer in any other tree. Look around the butt of the tree, near the ground, and when you find his tracks, just insert the wire and push it into the hole until it reaches his retreat. It effectually prevents his doing any more mischief. Every tree should be examined and treated in this way every two weeks during the growing season. In old trees which have been neglected and which have been badly bored by these pests, it may restore the tree to vigor more quickly if the holes are plugged with a little grafting wax.

Kitchen Knowledge.

LEMON CUSTARD.—Beat two cups of sugar and half a cup of butter until light, then add four well beaten eggs, two grated crackers, the grated rind and juice of two lemons and half a pint of milk.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One pint of sugar, dissolved in as little water as possible, half a cup of butter, one tablespoonful of vinegar, one cup of grated chocolate; boil until quite thick, put in buttered tins, and cut in squares when partly cooled.

APPLE FRITTERS.—Make a batter, not very stiff, with one pint of milk, two eggs and flour to bring it to a right consistence. Pare and core six large apples, chop them small, and mix them well in the batter. Fry in lard, and serve with powdered sugar sifted over them.

STARCH TO GLOSS LINEN.—Take 2 oz. white gum arabic powder, put into a pitcher, and pour on it a pint of boiling water; then, having covered it, let it stand all night. In the morning, pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle; keep for use. A tablespoonful of gum water stirred into a pint of starch that has been made in the usual manner, will give linen collars, shirts, etc., a look of newness when nothing else can restore them after washing.

RHUBARB PIE.—Stew rhubarb; add the grated rind and juice of a lemon, the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, and sweeten with white sugar; line pie tins with a good crust and fill with rhubarb, bake until the crust is a delicate brown; beat the whites to a stiff froth—it will be necessary to add three tablespoonsful of powdered sugar, flavor with vanilla, and spread over the tops of the pies; return to the oven until a light brown. The eggs and lemon given are enough for two pies.

Dress Dresses.

The Jersey tunic is an imported model.

Gold-braid bonnets in small shapes are much worn.

Tucks on skirts, draperies, sleeves and corsage are very fashionable.

Real lace holds its own in spite of various clever imitations in the market.

Among eccentricities in millinery are felt travelling hats trimmed with shawl straps.

Ribbons have never been worn in greater variety or profusion than at the present time.

Dancing dresses are made with short skirts, having narrow fronts and bouffant draperies.

Lunch cloths with white centres and gay-colored borders and d'oylies to match, have superseded the solid colored cloths.

A costume of terra cotta satin, the train turned back with powdered blue satin, and trimmed with ruchings of antique lace, is very handsome.

Vegetables have come to the front in millinery trimmings. There are bonnets decorated with brilliant-hued tomatoes, half concealed beneath prettily-shaded leaves.

Novelties in summer parasols are those covered with rough, cream-colored Turkish towelling, with simulated cross-stitch embroidery all over, principally in red or blue or red and black.

INCOME TAX EXMPTIONS.

In reply to an "Enquirer" concerning exemptions from the income tax, the Ottawa free press finds the following are the statutory exemptions:—

The official incomes of the Governor-General and the Lieutenant Governor.

Pensions and gratuities derived from the Imperial treasury, or elsewhere out of this Province.

Pensions of $200 a year and under, payable by the Province or the Dominion.

The income of a farmer derived from his farm, and the incomes of merchants, mechanics and other persons derived from capital liable to assessment.

Income from dividends on bank stock and railway stock are assessed against the receivers. Incomes from building society stock are assessable, but are charged to the societies in lump sums under "personal property" instead of being assessed to each individual stockholder.

Incomes below $400 are exempt.

Incomes of clergymen up to $1.000 are exempt.

Rental derived from real estate is exempt.

In addition to these, the judges have decided that members of the Civil Service are exempt. The consequence is a special, partial and wholly one-sided and oppressive tax, bearing most heavily on the professional and salaried classes.

EPHEMERAL FAME.

Waldo Messaros, the eloquent Greek who has made such a stir among the Presbyterians of Philadelphia, is drawing larger crowds than any other Presbyterian minister in that city. He and his congregation are cutting loose from Presbyterianism, and will set themselves up as an independent church. The building occupied by the Messaros congregation consists of a church auditorium, with a chapel attached. It has been found necessary to take away the partition from between these two, so as to throw the whole space together. Even with this enlargement it is not easy to find seats for all who crowd to hear the brilliant young preacher. The old-line Presbyterians, who are much confounded by the young man's popularity, say that he is shallow, and that the public will become tired of him.

The Blues.

We get many letters from druggists stating pleasant results from customers of Bilious temperaments having used Zopessa.

Those subject to depression or low spirits, caused by Indigestion or Liver troubles will be surprised how rapidly and pleasantly it acts. It corrects the secretions, strengthens digestion. Usually a 10-cent sample convinces one of its value. For sale by J. D. Tully. 22-tf

THE COLD SUMMER.

The raw and backward state of the present spring, with its fugitive glimpses of sunshine and warm air, and its frequently recurring periods of cold, provoke the indulgence of reminiscences of other similar seasons, and the year 1816, known as the "cold summer," is a case in point.

In that year January and February were mild; March was cold; April began warm, but ended in snow and ice. Ice formed an inch thick in May, and fields were planted over and over again till it was too late to replant. June was the coldest month ever known in this latitude; frost and ice were common. Almost every green thing was killed; fruit nearly all destroyed. Snow fell to the depth of ten inches in Vermont, seven in Maine, three in the interior of New York, also in Massachusetts. There were a few warm days. It was called a dry season. But little rain fell. The wind blew steadily from the north, cold and fierce. Mothers knit extra socks and mittens for their children in the spring, and woodpiles—that usually disappeared during the warm spell—in front of the houses were speedily built up again. Planting and shivering were done together, and the farmers who worked out their taxes on the country roads wore overcoats and mittens. On the 17th of June a heavy snow fell in New England. The cold was intense.

A farmer who had a large field of corn in Tewkesbury built fires around it at night to ward off the frost; many an evening he and his neighbors took turns watching them. He was rewarded with the only crop of corn in the neighborhood. Considerable damage was done in New Orleans in consequence of the rapid rise of the Mississippi River. Fears were entertained that the sun was cooling off, and throughout New England pic-nics were strictly prohibited.

July was accompanied with frost and ice. Indian corn was nearly all destroyed. August was more cheerless, if possible, than the summer months which preceded it. Ice was formed half an inch in thickness. Indian corn was so frozen that the greater part was cut down and dried for fodder. Almost every green thing was destroyed in this country and in Europe. On the 30th snow fell at Barnet, forty miles from London. Very little corn ripened in New England and the Middle States. Farmers supplied themselves from corn produced in 1815 for seed for the spring of 1817. It sold at from $4 to $5 per bushel.

September furnished about two weeks of the pleasantest weather of the season, but in the latter part of the month ice formed an inch thick. October had more than its share of cold weather. November was cold and snowy. December was comfortable, and the winter following was mild. Very little vegetation was matured in the Eastern and Middle States. The sun's rays seemed to be destitute of heat during the summer, all nature was clad in a sable hue, and men exhibited no little anxiety concerning the future of this life.

The average price of flour in the New York market was $13 per barrel. The average price of wheat in England was 97 shillings per quarter. Bread riots occurred throughout Great Britain in 1817 in consequence of the high price of the staff of life.

THE MIDLAND ELEVATOR.

From the close to the opening of navigation the work of improvement was carried on at this, the best equipped elevator in the Province of Ontario. Those who were familiar with the interior of the building last summer would be astonished to see the alterations and improvements that have been effected. In loading cars a great deal of labor will be saved by the self-loading spouts that have been introduced into both ends of the building. It is estimated that 125 cars can be loaded in a day, but they calculate to load, with ease, 100 cars in ten hours. Last fall with the spouts in one end only they loaded 78 cars in one day. By the use of the revolving spouts which have been introduced, as soon as one bin is full the grain can be turned into another without loss of time. If they are filling a bin in the west end they can change to one in the east end in an instant, as the grain can be conveyed from one bin to another at will. Four of these revolving spouts control upwards of fifty bins. The blower, which was placed in the elevator during the past season is the only one in Canada, and its real value can scarcely be estimated. In the unloading process the grain if conducted from the vessels to the blower, and while passing through numerous sieves all dust and dirt are separated from it by a powerful fan which revolves five hundred times to the minute. Nothing but pure, clean grain can pass into the bins from the blower. Shippers attach a great deal of importance to the blowing process, for it increases the value, and the grain classes a grade higher when it reaches the eastern market.—Free Press.

CHINA'S FIGHTING STRENGTH.

Regarding the impending war between France and China, the Secretary of the Chinese Legation at Washington says his country is anxious to demonstrate the great improvements it has made in the modern arts and sciences, and its great progress in the art of warfare. It is but natural that the pride of Chinamen should be aroused when the country is threatened by a European power. The Chinese navy consists of 50 to 60 effective ships, and a number of ironclads and steel-plated vessels have recently been ordered. It will be easy for China to concentrate 100,000 to 150,000 alone from the southern provinces, and if necessary half a million troops can be in a short time marched to the field.

A SCENE IN THE PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

A Harrisburg special says there was a disgraceful scene in the house early on Wednesday morning before adjournment. The members were intoxicated and very disorderly. A mattrass belonging to one of the watchmen was thrown from the gallery on the head of the Speaker (pro tem) Mackin, and afterwards Representative Gentner emptied a pitcher of water on him. Mackin caught Gentner by the throat threatening to kill him, but other members interfered and locked Gentner in a room to keep him away from Mackin.

A BIG TRANSACTION IN TIMBER

Mr. Senecal on Thursday signed a deed for the purchase of the Hall estate for $1,600,000, and paid down $250,000 cash on the transfer being signed. The estate includes 2,700 square miles of timber limits, the Montmorenci mills, Radner forges, etc., in Quebec.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

IT Price in a sealed envelope, on 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife: pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

IT This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

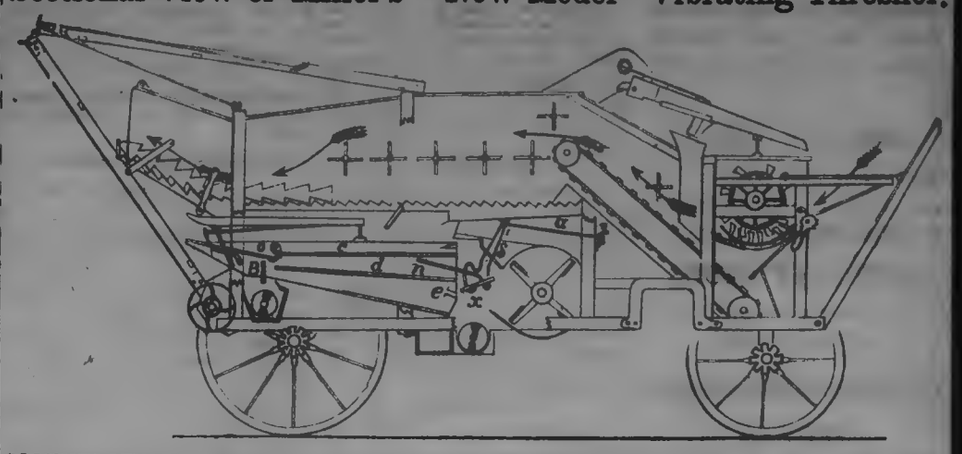
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher.



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing myself for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model is the best one I have ever seen, or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they had ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

A SHORT SYNOPSIS

ONCE MORE, CLOTHING!

Clothing for Mens', Youths' or Boys' wear, for dress, business or school wear; for town, country or travel. Clothing that wears well, that fits well, that looks well, that's good, that's finished, that's stylish. That's our clothing all over.

If there's any manner of person, any sort of taste, kind of use, not provided for by us, we'd like to hear of it. We certainly can conceive of none.

From the staid head of the family, who don't bend enough to "knee" his pants, to the small boy with a liking for marbles and rough fences, the wants of all have been considered by us. We've provided for the entire convocation.

Strong stitches are put where they will do the most good. Ample pockets where they'll be of most service. Style and beauty of finish, where they'll be the most appreciated; and honest plainess, together with honest workmanship, where only these qualities are asked for.

Doesn't the above schedule of points all grappled with, strike you as laps in our favour? Course they do. Then act promptly and intelligently on our showing.

Put your eye on this platform. Deal with DOLAN & CO., a Thoroughly Reliable House, conducted on the Most Enterprising Principles. It never was beaten yet in Qualities and Prices. It never will be. Look at our goods. Look at our work, We like to be compared with any or all. The result is invariably in our favour.

Scarcely any disease to which human beings are subjected, is so thoroughly discouraging as Fever and Ague. The periodical return of alternate chills, fever and sweating, is terribly depressing. Ayer's Ague Cure is the only remedy known which is certain to cure permanently, by expelling the malarial poison which produces the disease. It does this surely, and leaves no ill effects upon the system.

Thousands bear witness to the positive curative powers of the Great German Invigorator, the only remedy that has proved itself a Specific for general debility, seminal weakness, impotency, etc., and all diseases that arise from self abuse or overtaxed brain, finally ending in consumption, insanity and a premature grave. Sold by all druggists, or will be sent free on receipt of $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5.00. Adress F. J. Cheney, Toledo, Ohio, sole agent for the United States. Send for circular and testimonials of genuine cures. 24-2t

For one victim of Zymotic disease a holocaust perish from failure of their digestive processes. For one infant or adult in the last sleep from the germs of fever poison a thousand have wasted away from improper food and imperfect digestion. The central idea in devising Wheeler's Phosphates and Calisaya was to secure digestion and assimilation by furnishing those elements of brain and nerve nutrition, without which nervous energy is impossible, in an easily assimilable form, when the digestive apparatus is too feeble to eliminate them from food.

THE QUEEN'S HEALTH.

It is said that the refusal of Mr. Gladstone in the House of Commons, to give the facts connected with the Duke of Albany's Canadian offer to become Governor of the Dominion, caused much comment, and is regarded in London as significant as to the condition of the Queen's health. It is said to have been directly at the prompt of the Queen, that the Ministry refused to discuss the matter, as it was at her command the Premier declined to accept the Duke of Albany's proffered services. Her Majesty recognizes the precarious condition of her health, and doesn't wish any of her children to leave the country at present. The Marquis of Lorne would have liked to remain in Canada another year, but the Queen would not permit, and Princess Louise would have been recalled to England permanently early this spring, had it not been that such excuse would would have been misunderstood and misconstrued. The Queen's health affects the detail of Government matters in many respects, and since her fall from the stairway, with the nervous troubles that followed, the Ministry and those who personally surround the Queen have had frequent cause of anxiety. Hence such action as that of Mr. Gladstone in turn causes some popular anxiety.

THE CZAR.

The emperor who has just been crowned at Moscow is six feet high, and is deep chested and broad shouldered, His light gray eyes resemble those of his mother's relations at Hesse Darmstadt more than his father, the late emperor's, who had dark blue eyes (such as the French call blue black), which are to be seen in the pictures of Alexander I., Paul and Peter the Great. In figure and style he is also like his uncle, the late grand duke of Hesse Darmstadt. The shape of his head, which is above the average size, like most of his family, is rather peculiar. His forehead is high. A small mouth, with extremely good teeth, which he only shows when he laughs, is his best feature. His hair is auburn, and his complexion very fair. In St. Petersburg he is always attired in uniform, but when on a holiday he wears the black and white shepherd's plaid, such a favorite with English noblemen, a black tie, white hat, but no gloves (though he carries them), ring or watch. That he has been no carpet soldier is evident from the marks of frost bites on the third and fourth fingers on his left hand, and a scar on his temple, where a Turkish bullet grazed his head.

DROWNED IN SIGHT OF HIS FATHER.

On Tuesday Mr. Robert Dunn, of Bryanston, near London, with his two sons engaged washing sheep, and after the completion of the job, the two boys, neither of whom could swim, went into the creek to bathe. One of the boys, William W., thirteen years of age, shortly after going in, found himself sinking and called for help. His father who was on the bridge above, at first paid no attention, thinking the boys were merely enjoying themselves, and only became aware of the danger as his boy sank only to rise again as a corpse.

ROANTREE'S
GRIST MILLS,
NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

R. B. ROANTREE.

Depression

IN TRADE.

Owing to the great depression in the Dry Goods trade all over the Country for the past three months, Merchants are offering great inducements to their Customers in order to realize on the heavy stocks at present held by them.

To substantiate that such is the case, I am offering the following goods at extraordinary low figures:

10 pieces Debige Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Brocaded Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
15 pieces Colored Cashmere, 15c a yard.
10 pieces Langtry Cloth, 20c a yard.

Our 65c. Black Cashmeres, for 50 Cents.

20 pieces Fast Colored Prints, 5c a yard.
7½ pieces Polka Dot Prints, 10c a yard.
100 pieces Dark Fancy Prints, worth 12½ cts. for 10c a yard.
20 pieces Bordered Prints, 12½c a yard.

Tapestry Carpets, 37½ cents.

10 pieces Hemp Carpet, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Heavy Twill Carpet, 15c a yard.
25 pieces Floor Oil Cloth from 25c a yard.
20 pieces Cretonnes from 10c a yard.
20 pieces Curtain Nets from 12½c a yard.
25 pieces Roller Towelling from 5c a yard.

Lybster Cotton Shirtings, 15c. a yard.

50 Doz. 2 button Lisle Thread Gloves 5c a pr.
20 Doz. Boys Cotton Socks, 2 pair for 5c.
12 Doz. Ladies Lace Ties, 5c each.
25 Doz. Ladies Linen Collars, 5c each.
15 Doz. Children's Colored Hose, 5c a pair.

50 Dozen Louise Corsets, 35c. a pair.

It is a well known fact that a great many Merchants advertise certain lines of goods to deceive the public, which they never had in their store.

CAUTION!

To obviate this pernicious practice we would advise all parties to cut out such advertisements and bring them with them. To convince you that we have the goods, adopt the above principles and we are sure of your patronage.

JOHN HACKETT.

Local News Record.

Resignation Accepted

At the earnest request of the Rev. Mr. Best, the Baptist Church has, we understand, relieved him from the pastorate.

Confirmation Services.

His Lordship Bishop Jamot is prosecuting the duties of his episcopate with the zeal and energy for which he has become noted. On Sunday last he held confirmation services at Campbellford and on Monday at Warkworth.

Court of Revision.

At a session of the Court held on Wednesday evening the assessment of the Ontario and Quebec Railway was confirmed, and the appeal of Rev. Wm. Bennett, claiming exemption as a clergyman, agreed to. The consideration of other appeals was deferred.

Stationing Committee.

The first draft of the list of stations of ministers as agreed upon by the Stationing Committee will appear in to-morrow's issue. It is in type, but in deference to the rule of the Conference that it is not to be published till after the Conference meets, it is withheld.

Weather Forecasts.

The chilly gloomy weather of yesterday and last night, were succeeded by fine warm weather. The weather probabilities furnished from Toronto up to one o'clock p.m., are given thus:—Fresh, strong, south to east winds; fair to cloudy weather with local rains and thunder storms.

Open Air Concert.

The Band gave their first open air concert from the stand on the Market Square on Friday night. There was even a larger attendance than at the concert in the Drill Shed the week before, and the delightful programme of selections, delightfully rendered, made the occasion one of great enjoyment. The boys are playing better every time they get together.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the Midland railway for the week ending June 2nd, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $5,073.51; freight, $20,744.81; total, $25,818.32, as compared with 20,335.64 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $5,482.68; and the aggregate traffic to date is $390,034.58, being an increase of $15,673.79 over 1882.

Diocese of Toronto.

The Synod meets in Toronto to-day. Mr. Bradshaw, of St. Luke's, went up last night. Of the lay delegates Dr. Burritt is already in Toronto, and Mr. H. T. Strickland is absent in New York, whither he went on business on Saturday night. Rev. Mr. Beck also went to the city on Monday evening, but the lay delegates of St. John, unless perhaps Dr. Burnham, will not be able to attend.

Lacrosse.

The Peterborough Club have secured the Victorias, of Toronto, to play a match game on the Ashburnham grounds, on Monday, July 2nd—"acting" Dominion Day. It is not yet certain whether the match will be played in the morning or afternoon. We hope our lads will make the Toronto boys feel like changing the name of their club. The local club has also challenged Lindsay, and expected to play them here this week or next; but, up to to-day, there has been no answer received to the challenge.

Excursion.

The first annual excursion under the auspices of the Keene Brass Band, will take place on Saturday the 16th of June from Keene to Gore's Landing on the Golden Eye, calling at Idyl Wild on the return for about an hour. The committee are making complete arrangements for the enjoyment and comfort of all who will favor the excursion with their presence. Parties from Peterborough desiring to attend can do so by leaving on the morning train. The boat will leave the wharf at 8 a. m. Tickets 25 cts. A good Quadrille Band will be on board and a palace scow will be attached.

Cheese Market.

At the semi-monthly cheese market, about 1,000 boxes were on sale. No transactions; 10¾ cents was offered up to June 15th.

Paper Nuisance.

It is thought that most of the waste paper being blown about the streets comes from the front doors of the shops. This should not be so. We trust the nuisance will be speedily abated.

Victoria College.

Negotiations are now going on which may lead to the removal of Victoria College from Cobourg to Toronto. The proposal is to erect the college building at Rosedale, north of second iron bridge. The cost will probably be about $150,000. To show what rumour and a reporter's hand-upsees for any item can do, we are informed that Principal Nelles denies that there is any intention of making the removal hinted at.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

A Double Disaster.

On Wednesday evening Master Willie Stenson, son of Mr. Jas. T. Stenson, Reid street, while using a bicycle on Water street, in some way got his feet entangled in the spokes, and the result was a dislocated ankle and a break of the bone of the leg above the ankle. The poor lad was removed home, where he will be compelled to stay about a couple of months, and to also forego for the greater part of the summer the delights of outdoor exercise and sport.

Vital Statistics.

From the last volume of the provincial returns relating to births, marriages and deaths, we learn some interesting facts. In the county of Peterborough for the year 1881 (the latest covered by the report) the number of births recorded was 857, a decrease of 54 under 1880; marriages, 210, a decrease of 10; deaths, 398, an increase of 102 over 1880. In the town for the same year the births were 198, an increase of 9 over 1880; marriages, 84; a decrease of 10, and deaths 104, an increase of 6 over 1880.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Press Association.

Mr. W. R. Climie, secretary of the Canadian association, is in receipt of a communication from the secretary of the Quebec Press Association, conveying in the most kindly terms, fraternal greetings from that body, and inviting their confreres of this province to visit Quebec on their excursion this year. It is expected that the annual meeting will be held in Montreal the latter part of July or early in August, with excursion down the St. Lawrence and up the far-famed Saguenay—the members of the Quebec Association to join in the excursion on a steamer specially chartered for the occasion. Mr. Climie is at present perfecting arrangements.

Rainfall and Snowfall.

The following is a summary of the snow fall, rain fall, etc., for the first four months, as taken at the Peterborough observatory:—January, 1 day's rain, with a fall of 30-100 of an inch; 8 days snow, with a fall of 20 inches. February, 2 days rain, with a fall of 1 inch; 6 days snow, to a depth of 18 inches. March, 6 days snow, with a depth of 23 inches. April, 5 days rain, with a depth of 2 40-100 inches; 2 days snow with a depth of 5 inches. The total number of days of rain for the four months was 8, and the total depth 3 70-100 inches. The total number of days on which snow fell was 22, and the total depth was 68 inches, or 5 feet 8 inches.

The Bikes Become a Club.

On Wednesday evening last the Peterborough bicyclists held a meeting and organized a club with the following officers:—

PRESIDENT—Mr. John Green.
CAPTAIN—Mr. Frank Hilliard.
SUB-CAPTAIN—Mr. Andrew Mercer.
SEC.-TREAS.—Mr. Frank Kingan.
BUGLER—Mr. Wm. Dixon.
COMMITTEE—Messrs. Charles McClelland, William Taylor, Charles Horghan and H. Rogers.

The next meeting of the club will take place on Wednesday night. The organization of the club will doubtless tempt many unacquainted with the dizzy delights of bicycling to enter upon the practice of the exhilerating exercise, for wheel or for woe.

A Good Example.

The guild of cordwainers being accustomed to setting good things on foot, explains why the shoe shops have taken the initiative in closing their business places at 7 o'clock, every evening except Saturday. The shoemakers, though generally at the last, are this time the first to take a measure that will be a fit, and one, the salesmen think, that has a good deal of soul to it. Other merchants should follow this good example. The public will soon become accustomed to the new order, and will govern themselves in their buying operations accordingly. In Brantford the merchants have agreed to give their salesmen a half holiday—every Wednesday afternoon—and Peterborough merchants will lose nothing by showing their employees that they regard them as human beings, having need of recreation and amusements.

How can Turnbull sell Hand-Painted Parasols for one-half what it cost to make them? Because he has bought this week a set of wholesale samples at a job price.

More Rain.

The showers this season have been almost tropical in their frequency and violence. A little rain is a thing to be prayed for, but such a deluging as the earth has got so far this year, must have a bad effect on the crops. In some places the soil has never become dry since the snow went away.

Weather Outlook.

The weather to-day has been bright with a boreal tone in the breezes, which came chiefly from the north. The weather probabilities from Toronto suggest that we shall have for the next 24 hours, moderate to fresh, west to northwest winds, fair warm weather with some local showers. Fine weather on Thursday.

A Sarcastic Pastor.

We should judge that the Rev. Mr. Silcox, pastor of the Winnipeg Congregational Church, has a vein of sarcasm in his composition. After reading the customary announcements from the pulpit the other evening, he added: "I would also announce that the services at this church commence at eleven in the morning and seven in the evening."

A Deplorable Catastrophe.

On Wednesday morning a newspaper man from a neighbouring town met with a loss whose repair will tax an ordinary editor's financial resources for years. He visited the Conference at the George Street Methodist Church. While watching the proceedings somebody made way with his hat. Adding bareheadedness to barefacedness was adding insult to injury. He borrowed a hat to get down town, where, with the assistance of friends with credit, he is likely to be successful in his negotiations for the purchase of a new tile.

Ennismore Pic-Nic.

Lovers of out-door sports should not forget the pic-nic to be held on "The Plains," near Bridgenorth, on the 21st instant. The grounds are beautifully situated on the shore of Chemong Lake, about six miles from Peterborough. An efficient committee have prepared a programme of amusements calculated to please. A quadrille and brass band will be in attendance. During the forenoon a game of lacrosse or base ball will be played, and the afternoon will be occupied with athletic and aquatic sports. It is expected from the number of tickets disposed of that the pic-nic will be a success. 1w-1d

Real Estate Enterprise.

We understand that Dr. Halliday has closed negotiations with Mr. Jas. Stevenson for the purchase of a fifty feet lot on Water street, fronting the Court House Park, and next south of Mr. Stapleton's premises. It is Dr. Halliday's intention to erect thereon a handsome brick residence and office, a fact that shows his confidence, both in the future of the town, and in the stability of his practice. To show the influence of a good example, it is certain that when Dr. Halliday builds his residence Mr. Stevenson will put up a substantial building on the lot next south, and Mr. Stapleton will not allow his near neighbors to outshine him in the matter of a residence.

A nice variety of Printed Muslins to be seen this week at Turnbull's.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

Hymen Unites Hearts and Hands.

An interesting social event took place at "Maplehurst," the handsome residence of Mrs. Gilmour, Park street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was the marriage of Mr. F. G. Haultain, of Collingwood, formerly of this town, and Miss Mary Gilmour. Owing to the affliction that visited the family of the bridegroom within the year, the wedding, while characterized by an elegant regard for the proprieties, accordant with the social position of the contracting parties, was of the most quiet and unostentatious nature. Only one or two favored guests, outside the families, was present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Torrance. Miss Nellie Gilmour and Miss Haultain fulfilled the duties of bridesmaids, and Mr. G. M. Roger acted as best man. The bride was richly but quietly attired. Notwithstanding the subdued nature of the festivities of the occasion, the bride received abundant evidence of her popularity amongst her hosts of friends, in the shape of a very large number of very valuable bridal presents, among which was an elegant solid walnut davenport, presented by the members and adherents of Aylmer Street Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Haultain will take the evening train to proceed on their wedding tour, after returning from which they will take up residence in Collingwood, where Mr. Haultain is in business. Mr. Haultain and Miss Gilmour were long residents of Peterborough, and enjoyed the highest regard of the circle in which they moved, and their marriage is followed by warmest congratulations and best wishes, to which we beg to add our own.

DOMINION DAY, 1883.

A Grand Sporting Programme for the Day's Celebration.

Last week we briefly announced that steps were being taken to have a grand celebration on Dominion Day this year in Peterborough, and that a joint committee of firemen and citizens had been appointed to carry out the work. Since then the committee have been actively at work, and we are pleased to state matters are progressing so favorably that there is every reason to believe that Peterborough will outstrip all neighboring towns in the extent and variety of sports and amusements for the day, and will excel any celebration ever held in this district. Posters will be issued in a few days giving full particulars. The programme set down for the day is varied, and cannot help but please and amuse, and will consist of the following events:—Masquerade cavalcade and pantamorphite procession; grand athletic sports at which valuable prizes will be awarded, lacrosse match—Peterborough vs. Victorias, of Toronto; regatta on the Little Lake under the auspices of the Peterborough Boat Club; promenade concert in the evening, torchlight procession, and a magnificent display of fireworks.

TOWN COUNCIL.

Condensed Summary of the Proceedings.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment on Monday night June 18th, acting Mayor, Menzies in the chair and all the members present.

After routine,

COMMUNICATIONS

were received from John B. Graham of Montreal, offering to construct water works for the town, with terms and conditions.—Received.

From J. E. Belcher C. E., Town Engineer, reporting in reference to the course of the Ontario & Quebec Railway, showing that the railway enters the town at Water street not open now, and in its course to its exit from the town at the boundary the road crosses eleven streets diagonally. At George street, the rails will be 4 feet 6 inches above the level of George street; at Aylmer 4 feet 6 inches below the street level; at Wolf street 7 feet above the street level.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to see that the railway make the proper grades.

PETITIONS

were presented: from John Thompson asking permission to erect a wooden shed on lot 5 north of Charlotte and west of Geo. street.—Referred to the Building Committee to report.

From John Sawers asking street improvements on Donegal street.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From R. C. Wright, requesting refund of income tax $3.57 paid under protest—granted.

An account of E. McKelvey for provisions for the Billings family, $6.14, was paid.

MR. YELLAND'S SIDING.

The special committee appointed in reference to Mr. Yelland's petition for a siding to his coal yard on Bethune street, reported that they considered it would injure property in the neighborhood, and recommended that the privilege be not granted till compensation is provided for. The committee also reported that they considered the crossing of the Missing Link over Brock street, was dangerous, and that the attention of the Midland Railway be directed to the matter. Report adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton that a special committee composed of Messrs. Cahill, Patterson, Kelly and Denne, confer with the Midland Railway and the Ontario and Quebec Railway, in reference to proposed workshops, locations for which are soon to be selected. The motion was adopted.

GRANT TO FIRE BRIGADE.

On motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Kelly a $100 bonus was granted to the Fire Brigade to assist in celebrating Dominion day.

On motion, Mrs. Bird's taxes $4.50, were remitted,

A petition from Mr. J. F. Jeffers and others for a sidewalk on the west side of Stewart street, and for a gas lamp on the corner of Stewart and Murray streets, was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee,

Mr. Sawers enquired whether the Ontario and Quebec railway Bridge across the Otonabee was to be provided with a swing.

Mr. Rutherford replied that there was not to be a swing according to the plans on which the company was now acting.

MARKET EXTENSION.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Sawers that the plan presented to the Council for the further extension of the market building, along Water street a distance of 50x44 feet, be adopted, and that only the northern extension be proceeded with this year. This motion and all plans were referred to the Market Committee to report upon.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. Paterson, that the matter of the proposed mode of construction of the Ontario and Quebec Railway bridge over the Otonabee, be referred to a special committee, composed of Messrs. Cahill, Paterson, Denne and the mover, said committee to report to the Council.

The gaps in Turnbull's stock of Hosiery filled up this week with several new lines by express.

CANADIAN FORESTERS.

SECOND ANNUAL SESSION AT CANANOQUE.

At the second session of the Canadian order of Foresters' high court, the executive committee were sustained in admitting a large number of members who left the Independent Order of Foresters in London and other places by almost a unanimous vote.

The afternoon session was mainly occupied in the election of officers, resulting as follows; R.W.H.C.R., E. H. Long Waterford; R.W.H.V.R., B. Elliott, Listowel; R.W.H. secretary, Geo. Lindley, Brantford; R.W.H. treasurer; R.W.H. chaplain, James Pritchard, Manchester; R.W.H. register, Alex. McIntyre, Lucknow; R.H.H.S., W. Bryant, Sherbrooke; B.W.V.J.W., A. Woochman, Lonsboro'; R.W.H.S.B., John Tweed, London; R.W.H., J. B. Lee, Toronto. The medical board consists of W. M. Stanley, M. D., chairman, Waterford; Dr. Young, Ridgetown; Dr. J. R. Flack, London, referee.

Toronto was appointed as the place where the high court shall meet next year.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

June Session.

The June session of the County Council was commenced this afternoon at 2 o'clock p. m. All the members of the Council were present. Mr. O'Rielly taking the place of Mr. Rorke who had resigned the Reeveship of asphodel since last meeting.

The minutes of the last day of the January session were read and confirmed.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

John Moloney Esq., warden, then read the following address:—

To the Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—It is a pleasure to meet again at this season of the year when nature is clad in her brightest garb, and the appearance of the fields gives promise of abundance for the coming year.

BRIDGES.

I had at one time during the spring apprehensions of serious damage to several bridges in the county, having had warning notices personally, and through the county engineer, from several parts of the county, notably Pigeon Creek, Mud Lake, Young's Point, Burleigh and Crow River. Such precautions as were possible were taken; but owing to the thickness of the ice and the very high water the floating bridges on Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek suffered not a little, the Mud Lake bridge being badly shaken and otherwise damaged, all of which will be explained in the County Engineer's report. The contract for the erection of the swing to the lock's bridge has been let to the Toronto Bridge Company, their tender being the lowest of several tenders received, the papers and correspondence concerning which will be at the proper time laid before you. A delay will occur in the erection of the Nassau bridge, owing to the flood carrying the pier over the dam, while being set by the contractor, Mr. Charles Wynn; this, however, he secured a few days after, and has it now ready to sink in position when opportunity offers.

PROVINCIAL PLOUGHING MATCH.

I received a letter from Mr. John Carnegie, M.P.P., requesting me to call your attention to the Provincial Ploughing match to be held in the neighborhood of Peterborough this fall, and requesting a grant of $100 for that purpose.

GRAND JUNCTION VS. COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

I have been served with a writ in a new action commenced by the Grand Junction Railway Company and the Midland Railway Company of Canada, as plaintiffs, against the Corporation of the County of Peterborough, claiming the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars and interest thereon, under the by-law, and also claiming a mandamus to compel the county to execute and deliver to the plaintiffs the debentures for said sum under the by-law.

From this it may be concluded that the old suit has been dropped, and there will be no appeal in it to the Privy Council, but that an attempt will be made to recover the amount, in this new action, in the Court of Queen's Bench.

KINMOUNT BRIDGE.

The action brought by the County of Peterborough against the County of Victoria, to prevent the County of Victoria from proceeding further under the by-law passed by them to compel the County of Peterborough to contribute to the rebuilding of the Kinmount bridge, was tried before Chief Justice Wilson at our last assizes, on the 26th and 27th of March, and judgment was reserved by him, but afterwards he gave judgment in favor of the County of Peterborough, without costs, the Chief Justice holding that the County of Peterborough was in no way liable to keep up the Kinmount bridge. The County of Victoria has appealed against this judgment, but the appeal will not be argued until next November. I instructed Mr. Dennistoun to take the necessary steps to defend the interests of this county.

The town having passed a by-law accepting the offer of this county, as to the amount to be paid by the town for the administration of justice and other expenses, etc., I suggest you pass a by-law similar to that passed last year.

PRISONERS' AID ASSOCIATION.

I have been requested to bring to your favorable notice an application for a grant to the Prisoners' Aid Association. Some copies of their annual report of the year 1882 have been sent me for your information.

When you were last in session it was suggested that the Attorney-General be communicated with in reference to the question of the right of farmer's sons to count in the enumeration made for the purpose of ascertaining whether a municipality is entitled to be represented by a deputy reeve or deputy reeves. I now suggest that a memorial in relation to this matter be prepared, requesting such legislation as will remove all doubts.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

I called a meeting of this Committee and on the 16th of May the Joint Committee met, that is to say, if the presence of one member only (Thos. Menzies Esq.) makes a Joint Committee. No business was transacted in consequence of the absence of the town members. The Clerk at my request has notified the Town Clerk of the present meeting of our Council, and suggested that the Town Committee meet our Committee, in order that some decision may be arrived at. He also sent copies of the report of the committee on House of Refuge, submitted to this Council on the 25th of January last.

The certificate of appointment of Chas. O'Reily, Esq., as Reeve of Asphodel in the place of Thomas Rork, resigned, has been filed with your clerk.

The equalization of the assessment rolls and the striking of the rate to meet the current expenses are duties which will demand your special attention, and I have no doubt they will receive the same.

Of course there are are many other matters that will come before you, and I feel confident that they will receive the careful consideration their nature and importance require.

JOHN MOLONEY.
Warden.

County Council Chamber.
Peterborough June 19th, 1883.

PAPERS REFERRED TO COMMITTEES.

On motion the accounts, communications and other papers in the hands of the Warden and Clerk were referred to the proper committees.

COMMITTEE ON WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

On motion the Warden's address was referred to a special committee to report thereon to the Council.

The Council then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

WEDNESDAY.

Council met at 10 a.m., all the members present—the Warden in the chair.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

After routine, the committee on the Warden's address reported as follows:

The Special Committee, composed of Messrs. Collins, chairman; Sanderson, Burnham, Strickland and Pearce, reported as follows:

1. That your committee refer that portion of the Warden's address pertaining to the Bridges to the Road and Bridge Committee for their consideration on receiving the report of the County Engineer.

2. That your committee refer the matter of a grant of $100 to the Ploughing Match to the Finance Committee.

3. That this Committee regret that the Midland Railway have not seen proper to accede to the decision of the courts in reference to the alleged Grand Junction bonus and that they still persist in urging their unjust claims and have instituted a fresh suit; and this Committee recommend that the Warden take all necessary measures to protect the interest of the County in the matter.

4. That the Committee approve of the Warden's action in the suit of appeal of this County vs. the County of Victoria, concerning the Kinmount bridge.

5. That the Committee is not prepared to express an opinion on the passing of a memorial regarding the qualification of farmers sons to be counted in electing Deputy Reeves or Reeves, but refer the same to the expression of the whole Council.

6. The Committee are of opinion that it would be advisable that the Town Council Committee should meet this Committee whilst in session, with regard to the question of the House of Refuge and regret that they have not hitherto taken action thereon, which if they decline hereafter to do, this Council will let the matter drop.

7. That whilst noticing that Asphodel has sent us a new representative in the person of Mr. Charles O'Rielly, this Committee cannot help taking this opportunity of expressing its regret at the absence of Mr. Rork, the former representative.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Strickland, the jailor was directed to keep Catharine Ross in the jail premises till she recovers, the county to pay all necessary expenses.

Mr. O'Riely's name was substituted for that of Mr. Rork on the various committees.

The Council adjourned for the benefit of Committees.

"THE DAILY EXAMINER."

Words of Praise from the Press Brotherhood.

Speaking of the DAILY EXAMINER the Millbrook Messenger says: Temporary or permanent, it is a credit to the enterprise of the Publisher.

The Peterborough EXAMINER has decided to come out a daily now. The first number—a nice sheet—made its appearance yesterday. Success, friend EXAMINER.—Port Hope Guide.

During the session of the Conference, the Peterborough EXAMINER is issuing a daily, giving full reports of the proceedings, the first number of which is at hand. Port Hope Times.

Our contemporary, the Peterborough EXAMINER, is issuing a daily. We have received the first two numbers, which present a very neat appearance, and is a credit to the publisher.—West Durham News.

DAILY EXAMINER.—During the session of the Methodist Conference at Peterborough the EXAMINER is being issued daily. It is a most creditable sheet, well printed and filled with interesting matter. Cobourg World.

With characteristic enterprise the Peterborough EXAMINER comes out as a spicy daily during the Methodist Conference in that town. Rather singularly, however, it enquires "Is infidelity increasing?" We should say not.—Lindsay Post.

The Peterborough EXAMINER is issuing a daily edition during the Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church, which is being held there this week. It is a model sheet. Friend Stratton should make it a permanent institution.—Napanee Express.

The first number of the DAILY EXAMINER, of Peterborough, came to hand this morning. It is a neat and bright little sheet. The WEEKLY EXAMINER, of which the DAILY is a counterpart, is one of the best papers in Canada.—Belleville Ontario.

The Peterborough EXAMINER has commenced the issue of a daily edition. The appearance of the paper is highly creditable to the publisher, and gives evidence of excellent management in both business and editorial departments.—Napanee Standard.

During the sittings of the Methodist Conference the Peterborough EXAMINER comes out as a daily—and a very creditable daily it is. With the increasing importance of Peterborough as a railway and commercial centre, it is expected that the DAILY EXAMINER will soon become one of its permanent institutions.—Daily Globe.

With the characteristic enterprise of the proprietor of the Peterborough EXAMINER, he has decided to issue a daily edition of his journal during the session of the Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church now convened in that town. The issues received are full of interesting matter and contain full reports of the Conference proceedings. We feel sure his enterprise will be fully appreciated.—Bowmanville Statesman.

Chunder Mozoomdar, one of the greatest preachers of the Brahma Somaj (Church of God) in India, recently addressed an important meeting in London and, says the Echo, "no foreigner ever before, with the exception of Kossuth, so revealed and used the rich resources of English language.

American Canoe Association.

Pushing Preliminary Preparations.

The Reports of Committees—The Camp Sites Selected—Money and Members Coming in—A Big Attendance Probable.

A meeting of the General Committee, was held in their rooms in the Post Office block, last night, and several important sub-committees presented satisfactory reports.

The Intelligence Committee reported that they had prepared a pamphlet accompanied by maps giving all possible information of a canoeing character respecting this district. The pamphlet and maps would be issued this week and transmitted to members. The pamphlet will contain all the information that canoeists visiting the meeting at Stoney Lake, from August 10th to the 24th, can possibly make useful or feel interested in.

The Works Committee, reported that they had visited Stoney Lake and selected suitable sites for camps. The main camp site has been placed at the eastern side of the Island, a location that is excellently adapted to its destined use. The southern end of the Island is devoted to the ladies' camp and camping ground for family parties.

The Membership and Finance Committee, reported the favorable progress of the work entrusted to them and said that at the end of the week they would be prepared to show a large addition to the roll of membership and a corresponding augmentation of the funds.

In fact all the committees whose work admits of definite completion before the date of the meeting—August 10th, are well through with it, and those committees whose duties are, from their nature, continuous, are doing all that can be expected, and are keeping their work well in advance.

It is probable that there will be an immense attendance at the meet, for already letters are being received from members signifying their intention of being present next August; and, already American canoeists have made known their intention of leaving for Canada at an early day and making a tour of our magnificent inland water stretches, bringup of course at Stoney Lake Camp. So far local enthusiasts have promptly and energetically conducted the work required of them, which involves the most complete and systematic arrangements for the hospitable reception of our next summer's numerous guests.

BUILDING BRICKS.

Where They are Placed and to be Placed.

Below is presented the first instalment of a list of the building operations, present and prospective, in the town this year.

Mr. J. J. Lundy is erecting a double solid brick two story tenement house on Queen street, east side. Contractors—carpentry, Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald; brickwork, Mr. John Carlisle.

Mr. John Carlisle is erecting two white brick tenement villas on Weller street. To be ready for occupation by the middle of September.

Mr. Carlisle has also just finished a two story brick tenement terrace on Park street.

Mr. William Fitzgerald is putting up a brick residence for himself on Dublin street, corner of Water street.

Mr. James Graham is erecting a frame dwelling for himself on Dublin street.

Mr. Thomas Rutherford is building a frame house for himself on Union street, and Mr. Wm. Hill is building a frame dwelling.

Mr. Geo. Gillespie is building a house next north of Mr. Rutherford's, for his own occupancy.

Mr. James Martin is putting up a house for himself on the corner of Aylmer and Edinburgh streets.

On Aylmer street, between London and Dublin, Mr. Richard Lund has completed a handsome brick house for himself.—Thos. Thornton, carpentry; John Carlisle, brickwork. Mr. Lund is also putting up a brick veneered shop on the corner of McDonell and Aylmer street.

Mr. J. Frith Jeffers has made considerable additions to his residence and improved it generally, including the grounds.

Mr. T. G. Hazlitt will improve the house next east of Mrs. Dickson's residence, now occupied by Mr. Brodie, Murray street, by raising the house to two stories, veneering with brick, and adding a two story wing on the east side. The grounds down to Dickson's race are also to be terraced.

A new two story brick hotel is to be erected for Mr. John Wilson, of the "Royal Oak," next west of his present hotel, and including the ground occupied by the one story wing of the existing hostelrie. Operations are only waiting for brick.

Mantles made to order on shortest notice at Turnbull's. Special attention paid to this department.

A Wretchedly Bad Bit of Road.

It is time that attention was strongly called to the wretched condition of the short stretch of road—from the Locks' swing bridge to Downer's Corners. It lies between the corporations of Ashburnham and Otonabee, and is certainly the worst piece of road, with its bulging boulders, projecting stumps and generally lumpy condition, in the county of Peterborough, or even the Province of Ontario. It is dangerous to travellers, and being a direct route to Peterborough from the populous township of Otonabee, the public are put to great inconvenience through its condition. Some of these dark nights an accident will happen, and Ashburnham or Otonabee, or both, will have to pay in damages probably more than the amount necessary to put it in good shape. Now that the Locks swing is being rebuilt, a good chance is presented for putting this disgraceful and dangerous bit of road in at least a passable condition. The authorities cannot move in the matter a day too soon.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 21, 1883.

Methodist Union.

The Methodist Churches of Canada have arrived at a most important crisis of their history, and a few days will decide what the result will be. That the feeling in favor of union is very strong amongst the laity of all the sister bodies is manifest enough, but in the annual conferences, now in session, of the largest and most influential of them all, the laity have no say, and there is strong opposition to the movement amongst the clergy. At Ottawa a few days ago the Union basis was adopted by a slender majority, but in view of the strenuous opposition and great influence of the Montreal city contingent, the victory of the union party was very significant. The further progress of the movement, especially in connection with the action of the Toronto Conference, now in session here, will be watched with the deepest interest. The Methodist denomination, including all its branches, is an extremely powerful and influential communion, and its course on any subject of public interest must be fraught with good or evil to the community. We cannot help the feeling that the union would be for the better, and not for the worse, and in saying this we believe that we are only speaking the opinion of all outside well-wishers of the Methodist Church.

Only those who are acquainted with the state of affairs in the villages and rural districts of Canada, can form any adequate idea of the need there is for union. In a great many places the Methodist laity are supporting at needless expense to themselves, two or three pastors to do work that could be done by one, and this without any essential difference between forms of doctrine and modes of work. What does it matter to a humble lay member of the great Methodist denomination in his every day life whether the conference of the branch he belongs to is presided over by an officer called General Superintendent or by an officer called a "President"? It does make a great difference to him, on the other hand, whether he is a member of a congregation of fifty paying members or of a hundred paying members, under a single pastorate. Union could doubtless be purchased at too high a price, but many of the objections to the present basis have so little force in laymen's eyes that the clergy will make a great mistake if they resolve to block the way with them.

The experience of the Presbyterian Churches of Canada shows that a united body can easily accommodate itself to a basis of union, which is far from perfect, and still farther from being what any particular section would like it to be. After union our Methodist friends will find themselves melting insensibly into the common mass, and will in a year or two find themselves so comfortable in their new associations that they will wonder why they did not unite sooner. Union accomplished would be a grand victory for toleration. There is no odium like the odium theologicum for intensity, and of this particular species the odium between severed sections of the same body is apt to be most rancorous. Union in this way could not but prove an important source of fresh religious life and denominational enthusiasm, and at a time when mission work in the Northwest is demanding so much assistance from the various churches in the older provinces, union would be a perfect God-send. We trust the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada will give a good account of itself when the time for decision comes.

Sunday Selling.

An interesting controversy has grown up about the state of the Ontario liquor law as regards the rights of hotel keepers to sell to their guests on Sunday. In the secret committee which drafted Sir John Macdonald's license law, passed last session at Ottawa, the temperance men concurred in a clause allowing hotel keepers to sell at certain hours, which include the usual meal hours. This concession was defended by Prof. Foster and others at the time, and it is still defended by the Government organs, on the ground that it is an advance in the right direction on the Crook's Act, which, they allege, allows the hotel keeper to sell to his guests at any hour on Sunday. The controversy is as to what the Crook's Act really does authorize him to do.

There can be no question as to what was intended when the Act was passed, and as to what the law has been generally believed to be in this Province for many years back. The obvious intention of the exactment is to forbid all selling of liquor on Sunday by any person whomsoever, to any person whomsoever, and for any purpose whatsoever, except as a medicine. Under this exception apothecaries are permitted to sell it as they would any other drug, the ordinary sale of which is prohibited. If the Crooks Act, properly construed in a legal sense, does not place so sweeping an interdict on Sunday selling, then the language of the Act does not carry out the object the framers had in view, and it must be amended. To allow bars to be kept open at certain times on Sunday under the plea of selling to guests, would be to open a loophole for the escape of notorious and persistent violators of the law. It is hard enough to convict them now, it would be practically impossible under a law [illegible] as Ottawa.

The people of Ontario are, if we take acute opinion [illegible] world stop in temperance legislation. The law prohibiting entirely the sale of intoxicating drinks on Saturday evening and on Sunday has been a boon of untold value to every section of this Province. But for it every town and village in Ontario would be a pandemonium on the day of general cessation from work. Wages are generally paid on Saturday, and no one knows better than the workingman's wife and family what a difference it would make in many cases to have a relaxation of this law. On this point the people are more sensitive than on any other, and even such a resolution as Sir John Macdonald's Act gives, was a great mistake. Of this even Prof. Foster will soon be convinced, if he is not convinced already. How much the opening of his eyes will effect him is doubtful, however, for he seems to have devoted himself so completely to the objects of political ambition that no trifle will now be allowed to stand in his way.

The Future of Confederation.

It is a somewhat remarkable thing to find in this, the sixteenth year after the union of the British American Provinces, a keen discussion going on about the permanence of the Dominion. It is surely worth while looking under the surface to ascertain the cause of the discontent now prevailing, and see whether it admits of a remedy. If the union is worth preserving, the fact should be easily demonstrated; if it is not, the sooner it is burst up the better. To endeavor to maintain a political system which has no natural basis to rest upon would be both futile and suicidal, a course no practical people would long persevere in.

——It is easy to point out the immediate cause of the renewed discussion about the expediency of the union. During the past 3 years there have been a succession of assaults from Ottawa on the rights of Ontario, which, if they are persevered in, must drive her out of Confederation, or compel her to submit to what is nothing short of spoliation. The refusal of the Dominion Parliament to ratify the boundary award, and the attempt to hand over a large portion of the territory covered by it to Manitoba was a gross breach of faith which must lead to permanent mischief unless something is done to counteract it. Every day makes it more clear that the awarded territory is very valuable for its timber, minerals, agricultural resources, and fisheries. No judgment of the Privy Council taking the territory from us now would be satisfactory. It is morally and equitably ours, and it must be left with us. Giving us undisputed possession robs no other Province, and we have the best and only title to it.

——The refusal to ratify the award was followed by the repeated disallowance of the Streams Act. About our right to pass such a law there is no shadow of doubt. The Act was rendered necessary by the confusion into which the control of floatable streams was thrown by a legal decision, and that advantage has not been taken of that confusion by lumbermen generally is due to the fact that there were few "Peter McLaren's" amongst them. The disallowance of the Streams Act was a piece of gratuitous impertinence, prompted by Sir John Macdonald's desire to gratify a political supporter and his contempt for the Provincial Legislature which passed it.

——Equally gratuitous and equally impertinent was the interference with the Provincial control, hitherto unquestioned, over the liquor traffic. Each Province has a system suited to the ideas of its own people, some being more stringent than others, according as the temperance views are more or less advanced. This is as it should be. The more completely the settlement of such social questions is left to the people of each locality, on the principle of local option, the better. To make the invasion of Provincial rights more flagrant in Ontario, the license law was, before Confederation, and is still, part of the municipal law of the Province, so that the Dominion Parliament has the same right regulate the mode of electing reeves and mayors as it has to prescribe who shall serve as license commissioners. The interference was in this case utterly wanton, for there does not exist in any Province a state of affairs causing scandal from lax administration of the liquor laws. The new Dominion License Act is a piece of impudent usurpation, intended to insult the people of Ontario, and calculated to work incalculable mischief by throwing the liquor traffic into confusion.

——The only other invasion of Provincial rights necessary to notice here is the assumption by the Dominion Parliament of all control over our Provincial railways. There is not a particle of justification for this act of spoilation. No evil exists which can in this way be remedied. The same act deprives us of all control over all roads hereafter to be built, and even if they are built by public money. This state of affairs is intolerable, and the people of Ontario would be unworthy of the name of a free people if they were to submit tamely to it.

——What wonder, then, that in this sixteenth year of confederation people should be discussing with themselves and with each other whether the Dominion is going to last much longer. Such discussion is for the Dominion a misfortune, but the blame must rest on those who have provoked it. If they do not cease their aggressions and retrace their steps the consequences will be serious. We are on the eve of a period of depression, which may of itself give cause for alarm The people of Manitoba are irritated at the working of railway monopoly and the excessive duty on agricultural implements. The people of the maritime provinces are chafing under the destruction of their trade by the tariff. Ontario, which is the keystone of confederation, is rapidly becoming unsettled. Once more we repeat that the talk about confederation being still on its trial is not surprising. The wonder is that the mutterings of discontent are not louder.

The Mail astonishes its readers in this section, both by quoting the Peterborough Times in reference to remarks on the Provincial Treasurer, and also by calling it a "Grit" journal. That's a sample of the way the Mail propagates truth. The Times is a Reform journal about as much as the Mail is an honest, fair dealing and respectable newspaper. We can't make denial stronger. The Times has always supported Tory candidates at elections—a course that deprives it of the least shadow of a right to be classed as a "Grit" journal.

Is Unbelief Increasing?

II.

In a former article we have touched on this question, and have referred to the breach at present existing between modern culture and Christianity. In order to answer the query propounded by us we must, however, survey the present condition of Christianity and contrast it with the past. We must, also, as far as possible, within the limits we can at present allot to this subject, contemplate the aspect of unbelief in the age in which we live and compare it with the state of scepticism in former years. To this latter point we shall at present refer. There is no great need to go very far back in order to fulfil our purpose, nor will it be necessary to give more than a few striking examples, as proofs of what we shall advance. Still, black as the picture is, we believe no student of history can be at a loss in recalling many periods, when error was more general and stronger than it is to-day, but to this we shall not allude further at present.

——We do not deny scepticism is widespread. On the contrary, we affirm it, and acknowledge it is far more open and aggressive now than formerly. But granting all this, and lamenting its disastrous influence on public morals, ours is by no means the worst of ages. True, it is affirmed that churches, especially among the educated and working classes in towns, are thinly attended. In some European cities the average of church goers is as low as two per cent. of the population. England makes a better exhibit, so also, we are glad to say, does Canada. But in the present day infidel publications have a tremendous power, and are read greedily by hundreds of thousands. Strauss and Renan are studied carefully and implicitly believed in by the majority of artisans and working men in the cities of Italy, Germany and France. Popular articles, full of atheism, find their way into almost every well known magazine and are widely circulated. In these the praises of science are sung and all thought of God is carefully excluded, while much is made of empty phrases such as "the religion of humanity," and "the worship of genius." Infidelity and immorality among the masses are still further increased by the enormous stream of infidel publications which are constantly issuing from the press. To give one example in proof of our assertion, it is said twelve million copies of atheistic and other infidel publications issued from the London press in one year, and to this enormous total must be added twenty-nine million copies of immoral publications, all of which, or nearly all, were distributed among the working classes This total is larger than all the issues of the combined Bible and religious tract societies of the same city.

——In France and Italy, it is said, the great majority of educated persons have not only silently broken with their church, but openly avow their unbelief. There all infidel publications have their most splendid triumphs. Only priests and women in those countries, it is affirmed, are religious. Renan's writings are very widely circulated, and on all sides men hear the same tale at public gatherings:—"The old faith is obsolete; belief in miracles is absurd; only hypocrites and the ignorant profess to adhere to Christianity."

Belgium is honey-combed with societies whose members bind themselves not to permit the visit of a priest in case of death, who refuse to take part in any except civil marriages, who determine not to allow their children to be baptized or instructed in the Christian faith. In many of the colleges and popular schools throughout Europe teachers consider themselves too enlightened to share the simple faith of the common people. Prussia has, among mere school boys of thirteen years of age, societies whose rules affirm that belief in God is a bar to any one's election as member. Religious instruction is, it may be expected, at a low ebb in such countries.

——Many cling to secularism as their chief stay. This is the doctrine that the present life and its belongings is everything, and that men should only care for such things. Assaults on the Bible and articles against the faith, are received with eagerness everywhere. Witness the hearty reception given to the Essays and Reviews, and to Colenso's lucubrations against the Pentateuch. In Germany critics of this sort abound, and all have followers. Rationalism, i. e., the denial of all opinions and doctrines that cannot be explained by mere human reason, also numbers there and in other countries many professed adherents. By scores of literary men Christianity is regarded as a hindrance to true culture. Eckardt would prefer the modern drama to true religion as a teacher of society. He says: "The theatre is my temple where I would see inaugurated a new form of worship. The theatre should be regarded as a house of God, as it was among the ancient Greeks. Religion and the drama I would fain see identified."

——Such, then, it would appear is the present religious condition of many countries, especially in the Old World. Or if the description we have given does not exactly apply at this moment, it was at least a true account within the last thirty years.

Our picture, we are aware, is incomplete, but we must pause here. We cannot go further into details. We have gathered the facts from the most reliable and trustworthy sources. The details any thoughtful person can supply. If the scene we have presented is bleak and dark, with nothing to relieve it, then we must reply to our question in the affirmative. But we believe a flood of golden light can be thrown upon this picture in depicting the grand advances the Church has made, and to this much pleasanter and agreeable task we shall apply ourselves in a future number.

III.

Having in previous numbers given prominence to the present aspect of scepticism, we come now to contrast it with the [illegible] Christianity and the [illegible] To [illegible] will be long require two additional articles. Many make themselves unhappy over the alleged exceptional prevalence and power of infidelity. We have tried to expose its worst features ourselves, and we do not find them so very alarming. The power of scepticism is wonderfully exaggerated. For ten articles on this subject in the secular press there is not one respecting the advocate truth is making. Atheism and materialism struggle hard and assume much, but they are by no means as formidable as they appear.

But we have no doubt that our readers should accept our unsupported statements in such deep matters. We shall therefore strengthen our assertions by some quotations from the writings of a few master minds—men well qualified to judge as regards the present condition of the religious world and the growth of unbelief.

——John Fiske says, "In my estimation it is a very serious mistake, though a very common one, to suppose the tendency of modern philosophic thought is towards materialism. It seems to me that the course of modern philosophy is distinctly in the opposite direction. The latest and ripest philosophic speculation leaves the gulf between mind and matter quite as impassible as it appeared in the time of Descartes."

Joseph Cook, perhaps more than almost any other man living, can speak authoritatively of the condition of the religion of Jesus Christ. He has just recently completed his tour around the world, has lectured almost everywhere, and came in contact with all classes of people. The testimony he gives is that "infidelity and materialism are actually decreasing, and Christianity is spreading, not only in America, but all over the world." In an article in the "Bibliotheca Sacra" on the religious condition of Germany, he has made similar statements, and his views are endorsed by such eminent men as Professors Tholuck, Christlieb, and Kahnis, and also by Dr. Swartz, court preacher at Gotha.

——The greatness of the change in one country in Europe is shown by the following fact, the truth of which is vouched for. "In 1826, at Halle, all the students except five, who were the only ones that believed in the Deity of one Lord, and all the professors united in a petition against Tholuck's appointment, solely on the ground of his Evangelical belief." Less than twelve years ago a vast number of Germany's able and influential thinkers assembled to do honor to this same noble Christian professor and expounder of the faith!

George Riply, an accomplished literary critic and philosophic observer, said not long before his death that "materialism and unbelief had during the last few decades been steadily and surely declining, and that science was becoming ever more ready to confess the spiritual and immortal nature of the soul, and showing more humility and reverence in their attitude toward God." Mr. Frothingham, himself at one time an avowed atheist, now asserts that the orthodox churches have grown stronger rather than weaker during the last twenty years.

——Those who underrate the present times, and who imagine Christianity is becoming effete, would do well to refresh their memories by a peep into the history of the past.

Take, for example, the question of morals. We unhesitatingly affirm that the absence of faith means the presence of immorality. We know sceptics assert otherwise, but they cannot produce a tittle of evidence in their favor. With them the eclipse of faith does not necessarily involve the eclipse of morality also. But history and experience are all against them. Atheism and infidelity have ever opened the flood gates of immorality. Scepticism means not only the complete overthrow of all the hallowed relationships of human kith and kind, but the uprooting and destruction of all civil governments. Voltaire himself confessed that if there were no God, it would be necessary to invent one in order to bind society together. Renan acknowledges that though he kept his purity, he felt himself under no obligation to be moral, when he laid aside the faith. It is clear, therefore, that religion and morality go hand in hand. Dynamite plotters and midnight assassins of the present day are either invariably agnostics, or they make a show of possessing religion. It is undoubtedly true that if we throw overboard the Christianity of the day, most certainly morality will go along with it.

But to take a leaf from the past, no one who has the faintest idea of the condition of affairs, say in the time of Charles the Second, would want to go back to it. The state of morals in that day was simply shocking; the history of the period reveals a picture so revolting, that every decent person must turn away from it in utter loathing. Taine, in his "English Literature," gives us a glimpse of the licentiousness and cruelty of that age, and of the base conduct of those who are by courtesy called "nobles." We do not wish to sully our pages by giving an outline of its black vileness and horrible sin, but let those who imagine Christianity has accomplished nothing, think of the foul description he gives us of the Dukes of York and Buckingham, and of scores of others in that day. Bad as our times are, we have nothing, thank God, like that. No doubt there is much sin—secret and open—among us now; but how little in comparison with the past! As some writer has said: "If one of the old martyrs, who had seen the corruptness of the Roman Empire and the little effect of Christianity, could see the Church as it is now, with all its faults, he would say, 'the millenium had begun.'"

So, while there is much to keep us humble and repress self-satisfaction, there is much also in the present outlook which is cheering and hopeful, and which bids us thank God and take courage.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE TORONTO CONFERENCE.

WEDNESDAY.

The Conference again met at 2 p.m. sharp.

The minutes of the morning's meeting were read and confirmed.

In addition to what appeared in our issue of yesterday, in reference to the morning's proceedings,

Dr Harper moved, seconded by Rev. J. G. Laird, a vote of thanks to the Rev. Dr. Sutherland for the able way in which his duties had been performed, expressing at the same time a wish and prayer that his life might long be spared for further usefulness.

It was also moved by Rev. J. G. Laird, seconded by Rev. Mr. Patterson, that a vote of thanks be tendered Rev. W. H. Laird for the careful manner in which he had discharged the laborious duties as secretary of the previous Conference.

COMMITTEE.

The regular business was then taken up. On motion, a committee on nomination and another on statistics were appointed.

GREETING.

The President, Rev. Dr. Cochrane, then read a telegram just received from the London Conference, signed by W. R. Parker, President, and D. G. Sutherland, Secretary, sending greeting, and referring them to 2 Thessalonians, 1st chapter, and 11th and 12th verses.

On motion the President and Secretary were appointed to draw up a reply, which was as follows: "The Toronto Conference cordially responds to greeting. See Thessalonians 2nd chapter, 13th, 14th and 15th verses."

ELEGIBLE FOR ADMISSION.

The following gentlemen who had been probationers of four years, and had pursued the full course of study were considered elegible for ordination, and will be ordained during the present session :—

Toronto	district,	Joseph R. Reil.
Whitby	"	Benjamin Greatrace and Wm. J. West.
Belleville	"	W. G. Wilson.
Bradford	"	W. F. Wilson.
Bracebridge	"	G. W. Marghan.
Turtle Mountain		A. T. Wheeler.

The Committee on Nominations reported.

On motion of Rev. W. H. Laird it was ordered that hereafter the names of district secretaries appear in the minutes of the Conference as a recognition of their position and labors.

The remaining proceedings of the afternoon were of a strictly business character and uninteresting to our readers or laymen It was principally spent in admitting and settling the standing of students prepared for the Methodist ministry.

EVENING SERVICES AND SERMON.

In the evening the Conference Communion service was held in the George Street Church. A large and attentive congregation was present. The Rev. S. D. Rice, D.D., President of the General Conference, delivered a very able and thoughtful sermon, on the conclusion of which the Rev. Dr. Cochran administered the Lord's Supper. The service was solemn and impressive.

The Rev. Dr. Rice took as his text part of I. John 3, 8,—"For this purpose the Son of God was manifested that He might destroy the works of the Devil,"—a brief outline of which we here insert.

The most profound truths are simple. As those things which are necessary for life are most abundant, so the simpler teachings of the Gospel are most prominent. Our understandings may not reach around the vast accumulations of truth which may grow out of a divine statement of truth, yet sufficiently clear are those statements which have to do with questions of present salvation. The Son of God, etc. Hardly will you find so much in the same number of words in the scriptures. It seems to embrace all classes of thought in connection with the provisions of the gospel for the working out of salvation. Before man was created the terrible fact of defection was manifested amongst the angels. Mighty was the power of that terrible being who brought into condemnation those people from whom we are descended. The question of the government of God must be the grandest question that could be raised. Those fall spirits were cast down from thrones of glory. A penalty was associated with the transgression. When we come to the question of our own race we may look upon the point by which the divine government is established. There are several facts to be met in the outset. The maintenance of God's government is essential to the life of the good. The maintenance of law by a penalty is necessary. There is such a statement in the book to our first parents, "The day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die." God foresaw all things, and yet declared that a penalty is attached and will be inflicted, and God cannot lie. If the race is to be saved there must be some method by which it can be saved in accordance with the laws of God. It is by mediation—by the vicarious offering of a substitute, our Saviour—For this purpose, the Son of God was manifested that he might destroy the works of the devil. Who was this son of God? The son of Joseph, the human or the divine son of our own Father. As I look upon that substitute my first thought is his dignity. I then look upon his life—his character. He did no sin. A pure, immaculate being, he never transgressed in thought, or word or deed. His life was full of sorrow—and why? The answer is: "he was wounded for our trangressions—he was wounded for our iniquities. With his stripes are we healed." How clear is the utterance of our vicarious offering. Can God forgive the sin or mortals? Can God remit the penalty attaching to our transgressions? God, in Christ, reconciled the world to Himself. "It is necessary for you that I go away," said Christ; and this brings me to the second thought, the method by which the destructions of the works of the Devil is accomplished. By the Vicarious Sacrifice, God is just. The law can be maintained through mediation. Through what agency? He can renew these corrupt bodies of ours as he can destroy them. Therefore there comes the necessity of an Almighty energy. "It is necessary," said Christ, "that I go away." The statement is made to His people by God, "I will dwell in them, and walk with them. I will be to them a God." Know we not that our spirits are the temples of the Holy Ghost? Is this power adequate to destroy the power of the Devil? Can He do it. From the hour of the promise of God it was possible to be delivered from sin. Man becomes a new creature in Christ. The blood of the Lord Jesus Christ cleanses from sin. May God help us to a full and free salvation.

THURSDAY.

This morning the Conference opened at the regular hour. There was a large attendance. After engaging in singing the Secretary read the 12th Chapter of Romans, and Rev. W. L. Scott offered an earnest prayer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

PROBATIONS.

Some time was spent in considering the cases of the probationers, which had been referred over from yesterday's work.

SABBATH PROFANATION.

The Rev. Dr. Hunter said he had received a communication from the Toronto Ministerial Association, in which they direct attention to the profanation of the Lord's Day by work on the Canada Pacific Railway, by excursions thereon, and by keeping open saloons, cigar shops, etc., in violation of the Act; that there was need of enforcing the law; that unity of action was desirable, and that steps should be taken to arouse the Christian community. He therefore moved, seconded by Rev. Hugh Johnstone, that Rev. Drs. Rice, Cochrane, Dewart and Sutherland, and Messrs. John McDonald, John Rose, and Warren Kennedy, be appointed a committee to act in reference to this subject in conjunction with other Christian Committees.

Rev. Dr. Rice, in supporting the motion, wished that some method could be pursued that would concentrate its strength upon this matter. There is no doubt the Sabbath is the foundation of our religious life. In Chicago the Sabbath is a day of pleasure and dissipation. We must avoid this. He was confident a spirit would be raised in this country that would prevent such practice.

The President in a few words also supported the motion.

It was moved by Rev. W. W. Leach, seconded by Rev. Mr. Tyndall, that a committee be appointed by the nominating committee to prepare a report on Sabbath observance.

The last part of the morning's meeting was spent in considering the cases of the several students who are to be taken on trial, with a view to the perfection of their studies and entrance into the Church. Many points of Church discipline arose, and many breezy passages at arms passed between the brethren.

Immediately on the conclusion of the sitting the Memorial Committee and the Committee on State of the Work, met.

The Educational Committee will meet in basement of Church at 5 o'clock

A pleasing treat in the proceedings was caused by the introduction of Rev. Prof. Shaw, of Montreal Conference, and Rev. Messrs. J. A. Jackson, Chas. Meyers and W. B. Second, of Newfoundland.

Rev. O. D. Crossley, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was also introduced to the Conference by Rev. Dr. Sutherland, who stated that Mr. Crossley had now one brother in the London Conference, but that he would soon have 200 in this. This pleasant reference to Union was well received.

The President gave the benediction and meeting adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session of the Conference was opened by singing the 160th hymn. The Rev. Mr. Rupert, chairman of the Walkerton District, then offered a short and earnest prayer.

The President introduced to the assembled members the Rev. Mr. Cather, a venerable member of the Irish Conference, now on a short visit to Canada.

The Rev. gentleman in acknowledging the courtesy shown him, said he had the privilege of attending the Hamilton and London conferences, and expressed his delight and pleasure with the intercourse he was having with the brethren here.

It was moved and seconded that the Memorial service be held Friday morning at 10 a. m.—Carried.

The greater part of the afternoon was spent in considering the cases of the Superannuated and Supernumerary Ministers. The majority of applications to be placed on the list met with no discussion and required a merely formal confirmation. The remaining cases were referred to the committee on Superannuation.

The Rev. Dr. Hunter applied to be placed on the Superannuation list for one year. He thought that those present were in sympathy with him. His heart and life and soul were in the work to which he had been called. For the last three months his feelings were indescribable. His difficulty was not such as to effect his general health. Internal knowledge had been induced by physical exertion and mental strain. He had gone to New York and consulted eminent physicians, and they had informed him that there was no organic disease but warned him that if he continued his work in the Ministry there was great and imminent danger. God had blessed him eminently in his past ministerial life. He hoped to turn his attention to work not incompatible with his ministerial position and the wants of his family and he hoped to refund everything he should ever receive.

Dr. Hunter met with the sympathy and attention of his hearers and it was unanimously resolved to grant his request.

The Rev. Dr. Harper then took the chair.

It was moved by the Rev. Mr. Manning, and seconded by the Rev. Mr. Sanderson, to the effect that the Conference meet next year at Toronto, and provide for their own accommodation.

Mr. Manning said he made the resolution, not because the people were unwilling to entertain them, but owing to the difficulty of stationing them.

An amendment and an amendment to this amendment were made, and the opinions of many of the members were evolved. Finally it was resolved to defer the discussion of this question for the time.

The sittings closed by the Rev. Dr. Harper delivering the benediction.

Evening Services.

ANNUAL MISSIONARY MEETING.

A large congregation met in the George Methodist Church in order to hear the thoughts and personal experiences of several of the more prominent missionaries, who had promised to deliver short addresses. The service was well conducted, and the speeches both lively and entertaining. The meeting opened by singing the 750th hymn, after which the choir rendered with excellent effect "Shout the Glad Tidings."

In introducing the first speaker the President referred to their other missions but specially to the work in Japan. Bro. Eby there had taken a new departure in the line of Christian work A house had been built for the purpose of holding scientific debates and the study of civilization. He had met with great success. A large class of young men who had learned sufficient of English to make somewhat out of English had become lecturers. Many of the lectures were in Japanese, and had been printed. Dr. Macdonald was doing a noble work in that land. Dr. Meachem another missionary became so thoroughly beloved by his people that when he was leaving the country, his little church said they wished him to stay with them for ever. At the present time a convocation is in session in Tokio, and the spirit of blessing rested upon them, and many native evangelists had been ordained. We thank God the work is going on. It will not be many years if God favors them with prosperity, before all the people have the word of God in their own tongue. I myself have realized how strong is the bond by which we are united to them in brotherhood and love, and how barriers of mountains crumble to nothing. It is a faithful saying worthy of all acceptation that God came into the world to save sinners.

Rev. T. W. Hall, of the Brandon District, North-West Territories, was then called upon.

Mr. Hall did not expect to be on the platform, and had only learned, since dinner-time, of this invitation to be present, and would therefore give a plain and ungarnished story. He felt proud in being a missionary. For nine years he had been in the work. Six years of these had been spent in Ontario, in the backwoods. Many things he had learned there, and one especially genuflection. He was taught to stoop, although it took him one year to learn the lesson. His house was small, 12 x 15, cut into three rooms, with no up-stairs. In these quarters he was greatly honored by a visit from the President of our Conference, the Rev. Mr. Breden. But the picture was not all dark. We had our pleasant hours. It was his pleasure to receive into the fold of the Lord Jesus Christ about 175 souls, and if one soul is worth more than a world, 175 souls are worth more than 175,000 worlds like this. Muskoka is a poor land; yet we must follow the example of Christ and not forget the poor. Three years ago the Stationing Committee saw fit to send him to the North-West. It was a great change. His third Sunday in that land was spent in a big mission field, and he preached his first sermon under a tree on the banks of a stream. He related his rough experiences and the deprivation and discomfort to which he was subject, but sooner than that the Gospel should not be preached he would freely pass through them again. His field was large. It embraced what was called the Grand Field, and also what was called the Souris Field, but it had been so cut up that he could go over his whole charge in three weeks. His parsonage and church property are now valued at $19,450. One parish contains 263 members, and he had raised $7,000. Out there they have the cream of Society, but there are many who have not the Gospel.

Mr. Hall closed with an earnest appeal for money and workers for that district.

The Rev. C. M. Tait was the next speaker. He was introduced as the missionary from the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Tait said his country was termed one of magnificent distances. His nearest neighbor was the Rev. Mr. Crosby, who lived 200 miles from him. It would be necessary to travel 400 miles for his morning's beefsteak. Notwithstanding this they carried the glad tidings. He had gone to British Columbia 13 years ago, to Nanaimo, the nursery of missionaries. Rev. Mr. Robson, the first missionary, had translated a hymn into the Chinook tongue, and in their services they could find no more orderly congregation. Rev. Mr. Crosby had followed Mr. Robson, and the speaker Mr. Crosby. His next station was Chilouack. Afterwards he removed to Bella Bella, an entirely new mission, where the natives had never heard the gospel. He found there terrible cruelties and horrible practices. The men there were slaves to their chiefs. Whatever they gained was handed over. We found there mad dances and sorcerers and degradation. Not only do they find salvation for themselves, but several young men have gone fresh to work in the cause. Bella Bella is a large circuit. One point is 95 miles, another 110 miles, and another 40 miles from the other. Half my time is spent travelling. In British Columbia there are 50,000 Chinese, and the Flat-head nation of 20,000 Indians without missionaries. Who will go to carry the word of salvation? In British Columbia we have nearly 1,000 members, 20 churches, and 2 ordained ministers. There is a vast territory unoccupied. Subsequently we started for Bella Cola. The reverend gentleman concluded his interesting address by an appeal for aid and laborers.

Dr. S. P. Ford, the next speaker, appeared, he supposed, as a representative of the lay-element. His address was witty and eloquent and was listened to with wrapt attention. He appealed directly to the hearts of his hearers for aid for Mission work.

The Rev. A. B. Haines, another Missionary from the North West Territory, gave an account of his labours there. In concluding he said, the tide of emigration is flowing in; since we came here I received a letter from a brother in that country. He writes, there are at least six new townships in our district and in all, only one to preach the gospel. Is there no one willing to sacrifice himself, with the love of God in his heart to unfurl the banner of Salvation?

Rev. Dr. Young, Missionary Superintendent of the Northwest Territories, was pleased with the spirit that had prevailed since the opening. The Northwest was not occupied exclusively by Methodists. In 1818 the Roman Catholics sent missionaries, in 1820 the Anglicans, in 1850 the Presbyterians sent missionaries. In 1868 we sent missionaries to settlers, and in 1878 to the Indians. He wanted to bring out a few facts in answer to what has appeared in print tending to minify our work. We have now in the Northwest Territory 67 missions on printed lists, 360 detaching stations or appointments, 40 churches, 25 parsonages, and 103 preachers, including supernumeraries, and several local preachers. In these fields we have 3,000 members and 16,000 hearers. In addition there are hundreds unreported in fields beyond our mission. When all things are taken into account, as far as settlers are concerned, although we began only 15 years ago, no church has a larger number of preachers doing such good work and touching so many of the people. It must not be forgotten that many rising places have no preachers. If we get missionaries for these we will have indeed an advance. One source of embarrassment is railways. The settlers become scattered. Another is their inability to build a place of worship. In order to meet that it has been decided to assist these settlements, and already several have been assisted. I know of no place in which our wealthy people could contribute so advantageously. On the Big Plains there are about 1,900 young men. There is a marvellous tendency to the free and easy. They form habits injurious; we cannot allow them to deteriorate; we must follow them; we are bound to look after them. I pray that the blessing of God may continue in the work.

The service was closed by the President pronouncing the benediction.

FRIDAY MORNING.

The Conference was opened this morning at the usual hour by singing the 370th hymn. The Secretary then read the 2nd Epistle to the Corinthians and 5th chapter, after which the Rev. Mr. Savage, of Tweed, lead in prayer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Rev. Hugh Johnston referred to a communication from the Women's Christian Temperance Association, in reference to introducing text books into schools which would point out the injurious effects of alcholic liquors, Moved that it be referred to the Temperance Committee.—Carried.

The President read a telegram just received from the London Conference, that "William's amendment carried—101 to 88."

The "William's amendment" was that the bases of Union be not accepted. The following are extracts from the Report of the Educational Committee :—

Bal. on hand	$ 383 36
Net Income from districts	2606 51
Refunded by students, &c	220 00

The following students were recommended to go to college :—W. Elliott, F. H. Punshon, W. W. Andrews, J. R. Reil, as undergraduates, and J. McAllester, W. B. Necker, A. Locke and D. Salford, third year students at Cobourg. J. C. Spear, J. Morgan, W. H. Leroid and A. Adams at Montreal Theological College.

Dr. Harper wished to ask leave to go to Europe for three months. He found his former vigor decreasing and his circuit had consented.

It was moved by Rev. N. R. Willoughby, and seconded by Rev. Dr. Sutherland, that his request be granted.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Rev. Dr. Cochran, on rising, said God buries his workers, but carries on his work. It is a great consolation we all have in preaching an undying gospel. Whilst there are departures and accessions to our ranks, yet there is no real loss. The band of brethren is one band, reaching from beginning to end. The Church is an undivided living unity. Heaven holds all together. No departures there to set against arrivals. All brethren whom we love whose forms are missed are brethren still. These are gone to a land that is fairer than day.

The Revs. Dr. Rose and Dr. Cather then offered up short prayers.

Brief obituary notices were read and commendatory remarks were made upon the late

Rev. W. Price, Toronto District; Rev. V. B. Howard and Rev. Wm. Steer, Cobourg district; Rev. Ashton Fletcher, Peterborough distric, and the Rev. R. G. James, of the Lindsay district, who was drowned in the Asia disaster.

This sittings closed with a hymn and the benediction.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The proceedings of the afternoon Sittings of the Conference were opened by singing and by the Rev. J. Webster leading in prayer. A list of ministers who had been transferred from one Conference to another were read.

On motion, the reception and ordination of Jos. R. Real, was deferred in order that he might attend College.

Considerable discussion arose on the point as to whether the public reception and ordination on Friday evening was a necessary requisite to the student being considered a legal member of the Conference and entitled to vote and take part in its proceedings or not. It was resolved the act was not merely formal but necessary.

A large number of memorials for funds and assistance from various districts, were sent in and received.

The Rev. Wm. Briggs presented the report of the "Book and Publishing House," which showed a gratifying increase of circulation. The Christian Guardian had increased to the extent of 1500 copies for the year—the magazine 700. The increase of Sabbath School periodicals was 40,000 during the same time. The report showed the year to be one of great financial prosperity. The Montreal branch Book-room was also reported as in a healthy business condition. Dr Dewart, Editor of the Christian Guardian, was then called upon. He reminded his hearers that they had great connectional interests which could not be trifled with, without weakening the church. The Methodist Church had recognized the duty. There was a recognition of the value of the press by Wesley. Not only did the latter publish periodicals and other works but he had members and bands of workers to disseminate these. If they had an intelligent people, there would be a stability which was never known among the ignorant. Among the educated, there is a greater liberality. They execute more liberal things and not only execute but plan prospects.

The paper of the Methodist body yielded a mighty energy and their wants could be supplied by no other. It was needed to defend their principles, to instruct their church and to stimulate the young. They must not depend on other agencies. After having served as Editor a longer time than any other gentleman, he felt it an honor to be re-elected. He had always conducted the Guardian as a religious and instructive newspaper. Its good results they could never fully know.

It was moved by the Rev. Dr. Harper, and seconded by the Rev. Mr. Williams, that having heard the report of Rev. Wm. Briggs, and the address of the editor of the Guardian, this Conference express its great satisfaction at the present prosperous condition of, and the healthy advances made in the several departments of their charge, and tender their thanks to the Rev. Messrs. Briggs, Dewart and Withrow.—Carried.

Judge Dean, of Lindsay, was then presented to the Conference, and on being called on for a speech, made a short and brilliant address, in which he touched upon union, and put in a delicate protest and plea in its favor. This part of his remarks was received with varied degrees of assent and dissent by his hearers.

On motion of Rev. Mr. Webster, it was resolved by the Conference that this Conference disapprove of the action of the Toronto Conference Missionary Board in granting missionary money to self-sustaining circuits, which is contrary to the law of the church, and militates against the income of missionary societies.

A memorial from 41 widows of ministers was received and referred to the proper committee. It recited the prospects of union and the danger that their claims would not receive adequate consideration, and prayed that before proceeding further in the movement, greater definiteness in arranging their fund should be observed.

It was moved by Rev. J. W. Totten, and seconded by Rev. W. Leach, that the customary memorial service be held in the evening.—Lost.

It was moved by Dr. Hunter that the plan of services for 1884 shall be prepared by the President of the Conference, by the Superintendent of the Circuit at which the Conference meets, and the Superintendent of the adjoining circuit.

It was moved in amendment by the Rev. Dr. Jeffers, and seconded by Rev. Dr. Dewart, that the Nominating Committee be appointed to nominate a committee of five to prepare Conference services.

The original motion was carried.

The session then adjourned.

RECEPTION SERVICE.

The evening services were unusually interesting and brilliant. The occasion was the reception into full connection with the Methodist Church of those probationers who had fulfilled the preparatory requisites, and who are about to be ordained next Sunday. The service was opened by the President announcing the 678th hymn. The Rev. Dr. Jones then offered up a peculiarly appropriate prayer, after which the choir rendered a beautiful voluntary. "How beautiful on the mountains."

Dr. Cochran, on rising, said this service has heretofore been one of unusual interest. It centres in the young men who are brought into full connection with the Conference, and who enter upon the work as ordained ministers of the church. From the beginning in Methodism it has been held that conversion to God is requisite in order to the first step towards the work of the ministry. The first call of each is from God by the holy spirit, and this is supported by the call of the Church. The divine spirit makes his own selection for the work of the ministry, and we believe when the call comes it is recognized, and that where the heart is moved by the holy spirit to enter upon this work, the Church receives light to open the door. The first step is in the laity. Being approved in those offices in their gift and the persuasion comes upon the Church that God has still a wider sphere, and the way is therefore opened. After due examination, being approved and recommended by the district meeting to the Conference, being received on trial as probationers, trained under the care of the church during four years, they are admitted into full connection. With regard to these young men all the steps have been taken. We have reason to believe they are converted men.

The church has reason to believe they are called. To-night we shall hear some words from them in reference to their calling. Next Sunday they will be ordained.

The following gentlemen were then named and it was proposed that they be received into full connection preliminary to ordination: Benjamin Greatrace, G. W. Marvin, W. J. West, W. G. Wilson, W. F. Wilton, Jas. A. Wood, Mirzagawa Minori, and A. T. Wheeler. Of these Mr. Wood is a missionary on the Pacific Coast. Mirzagawa Minori, is a native of Japan and A. T. Wheeler is a missionary in the North West. The last three being at scene of their labours are present at the unable to be ordained at this conference.

The Rev. Messrs. West, Marvin and W. J. Wilson then briefly gave the history of their conversion to God. The relation was entirely unaffected and left a most solemn impression upon the large and attentive congregation.

The Rev. Drs. Jeffers and Burwash then respectively moved and seconded that the above named probationers be publicly recognized and received into full connection with the Methodist Church. Their addresses were magnificent and will be long remembered by their hearers. We regret that, owing to lack of space, we are unable to give even synopses of them.

On motion of the President the above probationers were recognized by ministers in full connection.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland was then called upon to give words of advice to those thus accepted. He impressed upon them to preach Christ. In carrying out this, to aim at the highest excellence. In regard to matter, have something to say; choose words which will clearly and vividly ex-

PETEBBOROUGH, JUNE 21, 1883.

Tupperism.

——Tupperism is Nova Scotia's contribution to Canadian public life. It is a disease, a plague spot, and worse than all it is contagious. We have had all along political corruption of our own, but the virus was mild in comparison with that developed amongst our bluenose friends, and infused by them into the public life of the Dominion. This at once becomes apparent, when the nature and history of the epidemic are exposed.

——Many years ago, Dr. Tupper, whilst still a struggling practicioner, was the successful applicant for the position of health officer of the city of Halifax, at a salary of not more than $300 a year. At that time, even so small a sum as this, was to him a boon. After holding the office awhile he entered Parliament, and by his ability, soon placed himself at the head of the Tory party, having opposed to him such men as the late Mr. Howe, the present Lieut. Governor Archibald, and his present colleague, A. W. McLelan, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. By a turn of the political wheel, the Tories came into office, and then Dr. Tupper's opportunity began.

——Contracts had been let for the construction of a railway from Halifax to Pictou, and in this public work, a large amount of Provincial money was to be sunk. The engineer appointed by the Nova Scotian Government to oversee the work of construction, was Mr. Sanford Flemming. In some way or other, certain contractors on the road found themselves crowded to the wall and forced to surrender their contracts. The unfinished work was taken up and finished by the Tupper Government, under the superintendance of Mr. Flemming. How it came about, we are not prepared to say; but from that time forward Mr. Sandford Flemming was regarded as a wealthy man, and Dr. Tupper ceased to be dependent on a petty municipal office for part of his living. He blossomed out as a prospective millionaire and took up his residence in a mansion situate in the most aristocratic suburb. The contractors alleged that they had been "skinned," and Mr. Archibald and Mr. McLelan took the matter up in the Legislature. The latter denounced Dr. Tupper as "the High Priest of corruption," described him as no better than a public robber and a sneaking one at that, and avowed his determination to drive him out of public life by the exposure of his villainy. But Dr. Tupper knew the measure of his men. Suddenly Mr. Archibald dropped the clues he held in his hand, and he has never from that day to this opened his mouth on the subject. Mr. McLelan's anger died out, and he has since accepted high personal favors at the hands he once described as reeking with corruption. But in spite of their suspicious silence, the main facts, as we have put them above, have been persistently asserted ever since, and have never been denied. Both Tupper and McLelan have been brought face to face with them on the floor of the House of Commons within the past few years, and neither of them has been able to clear his skirts.

——Sometime after the Pictou Railway Scandal, came the union of the Provinces and the appointment of Mr. Sandford Flemming as Chief Engineer—need it be said by whose influence? The incompetence and waste which characterised the government of that road during the process of construction, have passed into a proverb, and for this incompetence, Mr. Flemming and Mr. McLelan were largely responsible, the former as engineer, the latter as one of the three Commissioners entrusted with the business supervision of the work. While holding this position Mr. McLelan was allowed also to hold, in defiance of the spirit of the Independence of Parliament Act, the seat in the senate to which he had been appointed in order to silence him as an anti-confederate member of the House of Commons. Even Mr. Howe himself was constrained to succumb to Dr. Tuppers influence exercised through Sir John Macdonald, and with his surrender came the triumph of Tupperism in Nova Scotian politics—insomuch that when he was recently reminded of Mr. McLelan's old denunciations of his corruption, he was able boldly to say on the floor of the House of Commons, that all his former opponents had not merely ceased to denounce him, but had come over to his side.

——With the initiation of the project to build the Canada Pacific Railway, came another outbreak of Tupperism—the most virulent of all. Mr. Sandford Flemming was placed in charge of the work, and squandered millions of dollars to little purpose in the prosecution of surveys so little practical in their character, that his route was promptly discarded by the syndicate. We pass over, here, the first great "Pacific Scandal," and the Mackenzie administration, and come down to the letting of the contracts on the Thunder Bay branch by Sir Charles Tupper, on tenders advertised for by Mr. Mackenzie. The lowest tender for section B, extending from Rat Portage to Eagle River, was not put in by friends of Sir Charles, but some of his old Pictou Railway friends did put in one a good deal higher up in the list. Andrews, Jones & Co., had a tender below that of the Nova Scotians, Fraser, Pitblade & Co. When the contract was offered to Andrews, Jones & Co., they asked for time in which to put up their deposit, and again for an extension of the time for only a day or two. The latter request was denied them though they had most of the money up at the time and were confident of getting the rest. Fraser & Pitblade were strongly recommended by Sandford Flemming, who knew them of old, in connection with the Pictou Railway, and they got the contract with plenty of time to prepare their deposit. They were compelled to take in other partners. Manning & McLaren, and Fraser & Pitblade soon retired with a bonus, only to fasten on Whitehead and be placed with respect to his contract, in a position to make a little more money in an easy way. The whole of this history is extremely discreditable to all the parties concerned. It bodes ill for the future of the Dominion, that men like Tupper and Flemming and their Nova Scotian creatures, should be able to work so persistently and openly for their own advantage, and find a majority in Ontario willing to condone their misdeeds. Why should we tolerate at Ottawa, corruption which we would not think of tolerating at Toronto?

The North Brant Election.

The re-election of the new Provincial Treasurer by the magnificent majority of 550 is a great triumph for the Mowat Government and the Liberal party. Mr. Young had a majority in every polling division in the town as well as in the townships, a state of affairs which never occurred before in the riding. In 1879, when he was first elected for North Brant, he had a majority of 340; the victory of Saturday last shows an increase of 200 in his majority, or nearly 60 per cent. A similar increase in any constituencies the members of which may happen to be unseated by the Election Courts, will put a stop to the announcement of the Tory organ that, "Mowat must go."

The defeat of the Opposition on Saturday was a most crushing one. They strained every nerve to win, and made use of every argument. The most was made of the fact that Mr. Young is a non-resident. The further fact that the two Brants are to be represented by two Cabinet Ministers was dwelt upon. The poetical Senator from Niagara stuck to the riding for days. He had the bumptious Hawkins for his right hand man, and Meredith, Creighton and Lauder could not resist the temptation of being in at the death, each hoping to take the lion's share of the credit. It is said that money was used on the Tory side and if it was not we may thank the sterling character of the electors and not the scruples of the party of bribers.

The contest was fought out and won on the Provincial rights issue, and therefore the verdict is a condemnation of the Dominion Government. Mr. Meredith is only the tool of Sir John Macdonald on the boundary question, and it is useless to expect him to be anything else on the license question, in spite of his declaration that if the Ontario Legislature has not the right to control the license traffic it ought to have it. We sometimes hear of a threatened plot with Lieutenant-Governor Robinson to throw the country into a general election; the North Brant victory will put a stop to any nonsense of that kind, for beyond all question the Province at large would show a reaction in favor of Provincial rights, if it had the chance. The railway outrage and the license outrage have been perpetrated since the Ontario general election, and Mr. Young's increased majority is one of the results.

Mr. Young is to be congratulated personally on his triumph. He has the capacity to make an excellent administrator, and as he will be in charge of the license branch, as well as the treasury, the public may count upon a vigorous enforcement of the license law. This is as it should be, for the allegations about the Crooks Act have had reference to its administration rather than its provisions.

The Section B. Scandal.

Write have been at last issued against the managers of the Toronto Globe, and against Messrs. Anglin, Edgar and Hewson, charging them with libelling Mr. John Shields. The charge was that he had made use of money belonging to the firm of Manning, McLaren & Co., in the Ontario elections. As the Globe intends to plead justification, and will defend itself vigorously, an interesting trial may be expected. It is almost impossible that it shall not bring out some unpleasant facts for the government.

According to the London Standard, Mr. Gladstone has no immediate intention of retiring from public life. This view is corroborated by other sources of information, and there is every reason to believe that it is the correct one.

The Ontario License Law.

One benefit gained by the friends of temperance by the discussions provoked by the attempt to pass a Dominion Houses law is a distinct improvement in the position of the temperance question generally. While we believe that in the interest alike of morality and of Provincial rights the control of the liquor traffic is now and should be left in the hands of the Provincial Legislatures, the events of the late session show that there is a strong temperance sentiment in the House of Commons. The knowledge of this fact has stimulated the temperance movement in this Province into new life and vigor, and the result is the commencement of an agitation for the improvement of the Crooks Act. There is every likelihood of this agitation being completely successful, and as the Crooks Act is a stringent license law now, it bids fair to become shortly an exceedingly perfect measure.

The following are a few of the amendments already talked of:—

1. The insertion of a provision compelling the holders of shop licenses to engage in no grocery or provision trade.
2. The giving of authority to the proper officers to seize and destroy all alcoholic liquors that they may find kept for sale in unlicensed houses.
3. The infliction of the penalty of imprisonment without the option of a fine for the third offence against the license law.
4. Making it illegal to sell at any time or to any person on Saturday night or Sunday.
5. Making it illegal to sell to children under a certain age—say fourteen; and lastly,
6. The extension of the local option principle, which is already embodied to some extent in the Crooks Act.

The North-West Lands.

Every day brings reports of the hard usage to which the settlers are subjected in the North-West in the matter of titles to their land. Squatters go in and improve lots and live on them for months, only to find themselves ordered off at last. What is the remedy? The squatter is to go to a land where his rights will be respected, and he does this very frequently. But that is bad for our own country, and is, moreover, unnecessary. The squatter who settles on land bona fide, is a good, industrial, wealth-producing member of society, and, he is usually the very best kind of a pioneer settler. Far more consideration should be shown by the Government to the actual settler, and far less to the speculator. Speculation has been fostered in the North-West until it has almost ruined the country, the evils it has produced being such as will affect the well being of the community for many years to come. No Government ever had so fine an opportunity of putting so large a quantity of land on a proper footing, and it is a matter for regret that the opportunity has been frittered away. The whole of the land should have been sold on condition of actual and immediate settlement, and no man, who was not prepared to go at once on his farm and improve it, should have been allowed to purchase or hold it. It is probably useless to plead with the men in power for a change now, for they have too many followers to reward, but it is our duty to call public attention to the evil all the same.

Liberal Donations.

The season for our ecclesiastical parliament has again come round. About this time the supreme courts of the different denominations meet, review the work of the past year, and lay out new plans for the future. If we may judge from the tone of the denominational journals, the past year has been one of unusual activity and prosperity with most of the religeous bodies. A new era seems to be dawning in most denominations in the matter of gifts, especially in cities and large towns. Some of our wealthy Canadians are beginning to give liberal donations to churches. Prominent among those who spend their money in this way are Mr. John McDonald, of Toronto, in the Methodist church, Hon. Wm. McMaster in the Baptist, and Mr. Morrice and Mr. Maclaren in the Presbyterian. The late Edward and Joseph Mackay, of Montreal, bequeathed princely sums to the churches to which they belonged. Many others might be mentioned whose benefactions, though not so liberal, as those mentioned, are immensely large if compared with what anybody in Canada gave twenty years ago. We have no doubt it will be seen when the different reports are published, that more money was raised last year for ecclesiastical purposes, than during any year in the history of the Dominion. More new churches have been erected, and more missionaries sent to distant fields than during any previous year.

The Census Bungle.

The New Glasgow, N. S., Eastern Chronicle, referring to the third volume of the census recently issued, says:

"According to the census there are no sash, door and blind factories in Pictou county. There has been a factory of that kind in active operation in this town for several years. The census makes return of only one shingle mill. There are two at all events. Only one photograph gallery is given. There are certainly three, and have been any time during the last five years. Only two printing offices are given. There was at the time the census was taken four certainly, and, we think, five. The census says there were no painters or glaziers in the county in 1881. How absurd! There is also stated to have been but one jeweller and watchmaker; whereas there were, at all events at that time, four in New Glasgow, not to mention the other towns of the county. When such glaring errors as these occur under heads where an error can easily be detected, we leave it to the reader to judge what is the likelihood of any greater degree of correctness in the departments where a mistake could only be discovered after careful investigation."

The Election Trials.

Only a few election petitions have as yet been fixed for trial at precise dates. Each petition occupies two judges, and the few now fixed are expected to absorb the spare time until the fall sittings of the courts intervene. It is possible that some of the petitions may not be tried at all this year, there being so many of them and the judges being so overworked. If Sir John Macdonald would appoint the new one provided for by the Provincial Parliament last session, a measure of relief would be afforded. If something is not done the arrears in the administration of justice will soon become a scandal to the courts, the judges of which are not to blame. They work hard and energetically, but they cannot do impossibilities. Moreover, some of them are getting to be too old, and one, at least, has been for a long time in failing health. Let us by all means have the new judge as soon as possible.

JUDICIAL SALE
OF VALUABLE
Freehold Property

Under and by virtue of an order of the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, made in a certain action of MANSON v. MANSON and with the approbation of Thomas Hodgins, Esq., Q.C., Master in Ordinary of the Supreme Court of Judicature, there will be sold by Public Auction,

At the CAISSE HOUSE,

in the TOWN of PETERBOROUGH, on

Saturday, the 7th day of July, 1883

at 12 o'clock noon, by CHAS. STAPLETON, Auctioneer, the following Valuable Freehold Property, described as the

North East Fifty Acres of Lot Number Nine, and the West Half of Lot Number Ten, in the Second Concession of the

TOWNSHIP OF ASPHODEL,

In the County of Peterborough.

Except certain village lots sold to J. Fife, R. Fife, and W. Sharpe. The property is well situated, the Village of Westwood being partly built on its northern boundary, and Birdsall's Station on the Grand Junction Railway being about 1½ miles to the south. The Villages of Hastings and Norwood are about 7 miles distant, and the Village of Keene is about ten miles distant, all of which places are good grain markets. At the said Village of Westwood, are a Post Office, Stores, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, Schools, &c. The stream which drives the Westwood grist mill to the north, and the Welbeck saw mill to the south, runs to the farm, making it a very desirable place for stock raising. On the property there is a good pine and hardwood bush of eight or nine acres in extent. The farm is in a good state of cultivation, and is well fenced, mainly with cedar. The buildings consist of a log barn and stables, and a dwelling house, partly frame and partly log, all of which are in a good state of repair.

TERMS OF SALE.—Ten per cent. of the purchase money is to be paid at the time of sale, to the Vendors, or their Solicitor, and the balance into Court to the credit of the Master, within one month thereafter, without interest.

The other conditions of sale are the standing conditions of the High Court of Justice.

The property will be sold subject to a reserved bid.

For further particulars apply to MESSRS. McCARTHY, OSLER, HOSKIN & CREELMAN, Temple Chambers, Toronto; or, WILLIAM MORTIMER CLARE, Esquire, Barrister, 3 Union Block, Toronto.

Dated 12th June, 1883.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE TORONTO CONFERENCE.

press your meaning, and after having spoken what you have to say, pray for grace to stop. Never be satisfied with what you have done. Do not think you are only imitators. Believe me, God hath more truth yet to break out of his word. He who goes deepest will bring up the richest gems. Never make the mistake of seeking after laurels. Speak the things that become sound doctrine. In your intercourse with the people, avoid insufferable egotism. Guard against an affectation of humility. Beware of the flatterer's net. Guard against all unholy ambition. In all intercourse, guard as against a pestilence, the spirit of jealousy. It mars your usefulness and enjoyment. Its approach is insidious. Above all things be alive to God and the question of the hour.

The Rev. Dr.'s words were noble and stirring, and cannot but affect deeply the future lives and conduct of those to whom he directed them. The service closed by singing and the President delivering the benediction.

SATURDAY.

The Conference met at 9 a. m. this morning. Hymn 673 was sung, on the conclusion of which the Secretary read the 4th chapter of Ephesians. The Rev. G. F. Richardson then offered prayer.

The record of the last meeting was read and confirmed.

Rev. R. Brooking moved, that this Conference recommend that the first district prayer-meeting of each month be devoted to Mission work, and that Missionary information be given at these meetings.

Rev. Dr. Withrow, editor of the Sunday School Magazine and other periodicals, then made his report. He did not intend to say much of his charge of 8 distinct periodicals, but to refer to his new office. Last Conference he was elected secretary of the Sunday School Board, and had now in his hands a report. The entire income of the fund of this society was $3,983, of which this Conference had contributed $1,040. The fund are raised principally by collections in Sunday Schools, and is strictly connectional. During the last eight months there had been 153 grants to needy Sunday Schools. During the two previous years there were only 92. During the last few weeks 30 to 40 new schools have been nursed into life by this fund. During the last four years the increase in schools had been 12½ per cent.; in schools using catechisms, 60 per cent. During the same time there had been reported 481 conversions of children in Sunday Schools. It was from this source our church is to be recruited. The report was long and contained a large amount of interesting information.

Rev. Geo. Cornish, of the London Conference, and editor of the Encyclopædia of Methodism, was introduced to the assembly, and referred shortly to his work and the vast expense which he had incurred in its completion.

Rev. Richard Duke moved, that inasmuch as the Book Room had distributed gratuitous copies of the life and labours of Dr. Duff, the Ministers of this Conference return thanks to the unknown donor for his liberality and kindness.

Rev. Dr. Rose laid before the Conference some interesting information in reference to the Ministerial Aid Society and disclosed the working aims and objects of the Annuitant Society.

Rev. Mr. Blackstock moved that the thanks of the Conference are due to Rev. Dr. Rose for his great pains in enquiring into this question and for the diffuse statement of its affairs.—Carried,

It was moved by Rev. Mr. Harper that a committee of five be appointed by Rev. Dr. Rose to meet with committees appointed by the conference to consider the questions touched on by the latter gentleman.—Carried.

The Committee on Superannuation here reported recommending Rev P. Willis to the Conference for superannuation for one year. Rev. W. Tyndall for the same time, and Rev. H. Wilkinson for permanent superannuation. Adopted

Rev. Dr. Hunter said that they had received no funds from the Victoria and New Westminster districts, although two collections are required to be taken up by the law of the Church. He therefore moved that the President be instructed to call the attention of the chairman of those districts to the omission.—Carried.

The Memorial Fund Committee now reported. It was recommended, among other things, that the Catechumen classes be not started. A petition from 41 widows was referred to the careful consideration of the Conference on the discussion of the basis of union. Part of the report in reference to the petition, "and we are of opinion there is no ground for their anxiety," was expunged. The remainder was referred back to the Committee to reconsider, on a vote of 58 to 48.

Rev. Mr. Bredin read the report of the Stationing Committee. It recommended the opening of several new districts, and was adopted with slight alterations.

The session then adjourned.

MONDAY.

The Conference opened this morning 10 a.m. by singing the 772nd hymn. The Secretary then read a chapter of scripture after which the Rev. Mr. Matthews lead in prayer, He asked especially that God would give them a large spirit of Holy power in their deliberations and consultations that under the influence of God, every decision arrived at might be for the advancement of His Kingdom of Glory.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

A notice of motion referring to the basis of union was given by Dr. Sutherland.

Rev. S. J. Hunter moved an amendment thereto, and the Rev. Dr. Hunter, an amendment to the amendment. These resolutions will be found in an other column.

Rev. E. R. Young moved that a kindly message of condolence be sent to Father McFadden of Brampton, now stricken with paralysis, assuring him of our sincerest love and affection in his affliction.

Rev. Dr. Rose seconded the motion and referred to the fact that Father McFadden and himself had been ordained together and were the only remaining members of the class of that year.—Carried.

Rev. J. S. Clarkson moved that the letter-writers be instructed to send the sympathy and brotherly greeting of this Conference to the Rev. Dr. Wood.—Car.

Rev. Dr. Harper moved, seconded by Rev. Dr. Rose, that the cordial thanks of this Conference be presented to Rev. Dr. Sutherland, for the very able and scholary sermon preached by him on Sunday morning last, and that he be requested to supply the same for publication.

Dr. Sutherland acknowledged the sentiment therein, and said he too must beware of the flatterer's web. He appreciated the kindly expressed words of the mover.

It was also moved by the Rev. John Hunt, and seconded by the Rev. E. E. Scatterson, that the Rev. Hugh Johnston, M.A., be returned thanks for his excellent sermon on Sunday evening, and that he be requested to publish the same.—Carried.

A motion of similar effect in reference to Rev. Dr. Rice, was made, but that gentleman thought invidious distinction should not be made, that other ministers had preached well and ably, but that it was proper to recognize the sermon of Dr. Sutherland which had been officially delivered.

Rev. Mr. Stafford, of the Montreal Conference, was introduced by the President, and thanked the members for this act of grace and generosity.

A motion by Rev. N. E. Hill, to limit speakers in the union debate to 10 minutes, with increase of time to move and second—lost by an overwhelming majority. (Loud Applause.)

Dr. Sutherland jocularly suggested that the preachers to occupy the local pulpits next Sunday should be now selected. (Loud laughter.)

The Rev. I. Graham, of the London Conference, was introduced. He referred to certain property jointly owned by several of the Conferences, and asked for a committee to act in reference to its distribution. His request was granted.

The Revs. H. S. Matthews and J. Rice were appointed Auditors of Contingent Fund.

Dr. Burwash read the report of the Educational Committee, in which it was recommended that Rev. Robt. Whittington, M.A., be allowed to attend college next year.

The Rev. R. D. Barns, treasurer of the Superannuation Fund, read the report, which was received and adopted.

It showed receipts from circuits in 1883 to be $6,832.66, and from ministers $3,122.00—a total of $9,954.66, being an increase of $650.11 over the receipts of last year.

The report of the Temperance Committee was read by Rev. T. Cullen. It recited that the prohibitory liquor law of the North-West Territories was being infringed, and recommended that the strongest pressure be brought to bear upon proper authorities. It also recommended that children should be advised in principles of total abstinence, for the purpose of inculcating which the Minister of Education should be petitioned to introduce text books—that annual sermons should be preached and collections taken up thereat. It also assured the Women's Temperance Union that the Conference would co-operate in their arduous labors. The question of the purity of Sacrament was also touched upon, and strong recommendations were made in reference thereto.

Rev. Messrs. Burns, Rice, Brown, Sutherland, Nelles, Rice and Rose offered suggestions, and all earnestly recommended that only the pure, unfermented juice of the grape should be used for sacramental purposes.

The Rev. J. W. Totten read a long report of Church Property Committee, it was adopted with slight variations.

The Rev. Mr. Matthews read the report of the Superannuation Committee. It recommended that Rev. J. Hodgson be not granted the Superannuation relation, and that the Rev. Geo. James, if a suitable India station could not be found, should be superannuated—that Rev. J.B. Armstrong and W. E. Smith should receive this relation for one year. The report was adopted.

The Conference then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

The debate on the all-absorbing question of Methodistic union, begun on Monday afternoon, and has been continued ever since. Up to the hour of going to press no vote has been taken.

AN IMPORTANT PROJECT.

Interesting to the Timber Trade.

We learn from the Orillia Packet that the Mayor of Orillia has appointed a committee to confer with Mr. G. A. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, in reference to means to be employed to make arrangements for the removal of the sawmill of Messrs. R. & G. Strickland, of Lakefield, from Bradford to Orillia. The following letter is from Mr. Cox to the the Orillia Council:

"We have been in communication with Messrs. R. & G. Strickland in reference to the removal of the Bradford Mills to some point on the Midland. We have suggested to them Orillia, and they have pointed out to us the difficulty in bringing logs from the Black River to Lake Couchiching, over the Portage Company's tramway. If this difficulty were removed, Messrs. Strickland say all their timber on the Black River about 150 million feet, could be brought to Orillia. They suggest that the town of Orillia, and ourselves, ought to take steps to connect Lake St. John with Lake Couchiching, by a canal, which would at once open a water highway for all the productions of the forest on those waters, which are reported to be very extensive. It seems to me that the idea is a good one, and it is strange Orillia has not taken action in the matter before instead of allowing all the forest produce go past them by way of the Severn to Georgian Bay, and Muskoka River to Gravehurst. Messrs. Strickland, think to accomplish this end the outlay would not exceed $30,000. My object in writing is that if you think it advisable, I would meet a committee of your Council, and invite the Messrs. Strickland to attend, who are now holders of the Dominion Bank limits, Thompson Smith limits and Hilliard, which are all tributary to the Black River, and if the mill was removed to Orillia, they would pay out annualy from fifty to sixty thousand dollars, and give employment to a large number of men."

Editorial Notes.

A contract has been given out to build the Gatineau railway from Ottawa for seventy miles up through the district where the phosphate mines are situated. The cost is estimated at $16,000 per mile.

It is understood that Sir A. T. Galt will not take a seat in the Cabinet, but will devote his whole attention to the settlement of his large tracts of land in the North-West and the development of the coal fields, of which he is an extensive owner.

During the absence of the Hon. Mr. Mowat in England, whither he has gone to watch over the interests of the Province in certain cases appealed to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the Hon. Mr. Pardee will take charge of the Attorney-General's Department.

The Good Templars of the County of Carleton will hold a meeting at Fallowfield on Saturday next at 10 o'clock, to pass a verdict on the Dominion Act in relation to licenses, which was passed at the last session of parliament. It is understood that while some of the phases of the Bill please them, there are many clauses, such as the extension of the sale of liquor on Sundays, with which they are extremely dissatisfied. It may be fairly said that the Crook's Act was more to their minds in every respect.

The Paris Star, which in 1878 left the Reform ranks and went over to the Tories, has returned to its first love. It says:—"The cloud has passed away and the Star will be found shining brighter than ever in the ranks of Reform journals, and will always be found advocating measures that will be for the advantage, improvement and advancement of the country generally, and that will benefit the majority of the people. It will be found opposing all monopolies, personal aggrandizement and measures for the benefit of the few, at the expense of the many."

The Rev. Mr. Talmage has been defining the practical bearing of his religion, and for a good, honest, every day, thorough paced religion, we commend it to the world. It is a religion that "labels goods correctly; that prevents telling that a Massachusetts watch was made in Geneva; that will keep ground glass and sand out of sugar; and will rip off the fictitious soles of shoes and show the pasteboard sandwich between the leather that will pull the plug from the ale adulterated syrup; that will dump into the ash barrel the cassia buds sold for cinnamon; that will sift out Prussian blue from tea leaves; that will not mix ground plaster-of-Paris and soapstone with flour."

Hon. James Young Provincial Treasurer, was re-elected for North Brant on Saturday, by a majority of five hundred and forty-nine over the strongest candidate the Tories could bring against him. Of course the latters chance was hopeless, but the Tories could not resist the temptation to squander the public money in a contest with a foregone result, for the sake of putting Reformers to the trouble of a contest. Notwithstanding that the riding has during the past week been canvassed by leading members of the Conservative party, such as Senator Plumb, Messrs. Meredith, Lauder, Creighton, the usurper of Bothwell, and the defeated of South Waterloo, the Reform candidate obtained the largest majority ever given in North Brant.

PERSONAL.

Mr. R. B. Rogers, C. E., has returned to town from Winnipeg.

Judge Dean, of Lindsay, was registered at the Choate House last evening.

Mr. J. E. Belcher has been appointed Sessional Clerk of the Council, for the Session.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ludgate returned home on Thursday evening from their bridal tour down the St. Lawrence.

George Stewart, Esq., Deputy Reeve of Otonabee, returned from the North-west on Saturday last and was present at the meeting of the County Council.

Messrs. W. F. Hall and J. S. Haydon, directors of the Napanee, Tamworth & Quebec Railway, were in town on official business yesterday and to-day.

Mr. Law has purchased the interest of Messrs. McLean and Brayshaw in the Central Iron Works and will in future conduct the business.

Mr. Fred E. Burnham is again in the field for Emerson, He was elected but resigned his seat owing to the indiscreetness of one of his supporters.

We are pleased to notice that Mr. W. A. Morrow, who has been confined to the house for the past week from the effects of a bad cold, has so far recovered as to be out again.

Mr. John R, Scott of Napanee, managing director of the Pulp mills, and wife are registered at the Oriental. It is probable that they will become permanent residents of the town.

The many warm friends of the Rev. E. Roberts of Toronto, formerly of this town will be pleased to learn that he has been honored by being elected President of the Bible Christian Conference.

The district officers of the Peterborough and Victoria Bible Christian Church for the ensuing year are: Superintendent, W. Jolliffe; Church Secretary, W. Simbert; S. S. Secretary, N. Metherell.

Rev. Jas. L. Wood, who was ordained some time ago and who is at present acting as a Missionary in British Columbia, is to be received into full connection with the Canada Methodist Church. Mr. Wood spent several years attending our Institute, Peterborough.

The Port Hope Guide says that Mr. J. D. Barnett, (Mechanical Superintendent of the Midland Railway) and his father, Mr. Geo. Barnett, of England, who is visiting his son here, started on Saturday morning for Chicago, to attend the Railway Exposition now being held in that city.

The following members of the Peterborough Presbytery are in London, attending the meeting of the General Assembly: Ministers, Messrs. Peter Duncan, E. F. Torrance, M.A., Wm. Bennett, D. L. McCrae, J. S. Ross, B.A. Elders—W. H. Taylor, M.D., W. E. Roxburgh, W. Scott, Joseph Henderson, J. Russell.

A TRAGEDY AT BOSTON.

BOSTON.—At noon on Wednesday H. E. McColl, laborer, in a fit of melancholy attacked his wife with a razor. After a terrible struggle, in which the woman became exhausted, the husband cut her throat from ear to ear. Immediately afterwards he drew a weapon across his own throat, severing the jugular vein and dying. The woman cannot recover. There are nine terrible gashes in the throat and face, besides innumerable cuts on the hands, McColl recently lost three children.

Work on the Missing Link is being pushed with great vigor.

It is not all likely that the 57th battalion will go into camp this year

Mosquitoes have begun to take the census. They do their work thoroughly.

Mr. John Doherty has made extensive improvements in two of his tenement dwellings on Simcoe street.

There are now 379 workmen employed on five miles of the Missing Link works, making about 75 to the mile.

The residents on McDonnell street between Harvey and Water street are grumbling about the delapadated condition of the walks.

There was abundant raw material for missionary work in the seventy-five Italian navvies that arrived in town last night.

Mr. John Stevenson, mechanical superintendent of the Ontario Canoe Company's works, Ashburnham, is the pioneer canoe builder of Peterborough, if not of Ontario.

Dr. Cohrane retires from the Moderatorship of the Presbyterian General Assembly, as Dr. Cochran assumes the Presidency of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church.

The prize list of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition is issued. The typography is gorgeously fine, as befits the programme of what Torontonians modestly call "Canada's Great Show."

Fitzgerald's corner, Charlotte street, in its spruce neatness, is a fine contrast to the fire-blackened ruins rampant there of two months ago. Money and enterprise, well directed, do marvels.

Where will the Midland Railway workshops be located, when Peterborough receives them? It's time the town fathers sought a site, and they may have to seek "a night" till a site is found.

Wm. Hamilton's foundry is very busy these days. Three large engines are "on the floor." One for a Severn river tug and two for saw mills, one for a saw mill for the firm of Manning, Shields & McDonald, Kewatin.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

Mr. J. R. Stenson, Reid street, has greatly improved his residence this year. He has put up a new brick house, boulevarded the street front, and generally added to the neatness and attractiveness of his grounds.

The population of Peterborough has increased by about 475 within the past week—300 ministers and the balance the sons of sunny Italy—navvies—one class to make straight, moral ways, and the other to make material ways straight.

The Midland Elevator Company is pushed with business. 200,000 bushels of grain are now in the Midland elevator. The machinery is kept running day and night. The building and contents are insured against fire for $200,000.

The Lindsay Post says of Mrs. Theodore Ludgate. The many friends in Lindsay will read with interest the notice elsewhere of the nuptials of Miss Agnes Orr, the amiable and accomplished daughter of our venerable friend at Bobcaygeon. The fortunate gentleman is to be congratulated on carrying away a prize.

At Cobourg Saturday, in the trial of the Centreville homicides, McClung was found guilty and Atkins acquitted. Retouching.

Those wishing to learn the art of retouching will consult their interest by reading Miss Canniff's card in another column. Miss Canniff's reputation in this line is the best in this country. Applications should be made at once, as she remains in town only a limited time.

Market Extension.

There have been already two plans prepared for the extension of the market building, and it is said that orders have been given for a plan of an entirely new building on a grand scale of magnificence If these things go on the rate of taxation must be run up extravagantly, and the tax payers will have to sweat for it. It's much easier to sit in Council and vote away the corporation funds than to pay with hard earned cash the resulting taxes. Ratepayers will find it to their interest to pay closer attention to the movements of their representatives.

Hackett's Happy Hits in Bargains.

Everybody is always ready to save money, and the splendid opportunities presented at Mr. John Hackett's dry goods establishment, the details of which will be found in his advertisement in another column, cannot be missed without direct loss to the purchaser. Read his advertisement, visit his store, and it will be found that a better chance for big bargains are not to be found every day.

Heartless Cruelty.

On Tuesday, Mr. Walter Paterson, Sr., Aylmer street, picked up a sparrow in an apparently dying condition. On examination it was found that the poor bird had been gagged, and had thus been deprived of food and water for many days. The cruel gagging was done with a small ring cut out of leather. The ring had been forced into the bird's mouth, drawn back as far as possible, and then forced tightly over the back of the bird's head in such a way that no efforts of the suffering little thing could release it. Thus it was found in a dying state from which Mr. Paterson promptly relieved it. The human fiend who could be guilty of such an act of gratuitous and brutal cruelty is a dangerous member of society and will one day probably distinguish himself by the commission of some heinous crime.

THE DOMAIN OF THE DEAD.

Marked Improvements—Fountains and Unvarying Verdure—More Beautiful than Ever—A Spot Worth Visiting.

When the graceful genius of Keats begot the line so delightfully descriptive of itself—"A thing of beauty is a joy forever"—he did not anticipate, perhaps, how universally quoted it would become, or how the impulse of associating it with the beautiful in any form, would bring it to mind even in connection with the loveliness of the last resting places of the dead. Yet in a chastened and subdued sense, its applicability to Little Lake Cemetery will not be questioned. For, a spot more charmingly adapted by nature or more skillfully and tastefully improved by art, than the beautiful peninsula, formed by the crystal circle of the Otonabee's embrace, is not to be easily found; and to the bereaved there is a melancholy satisfaction, if not "joy," in the feeling that the lavish loveliness of nature, heightened by cunningest care of art, here combine to fulfil all the conditions of reverence due the loved and lamented dead, that the most devoted affection can exact.

Nothing but a visit to Little Lake Cemetery, can supply an adequate idea of how much nature has done for it in the way of site and scenery, or how much the skill of art has accomplished in seizing and adapting these advantages, to making this cemetery one of the most charming burial grounds in the Dominion, of course, excepting the larger cities.

At present the cemetery is

AT IT'S FINEST.

Even in mid June, the abundant and frequent showers, have clothed the closely shorn sward with Hibernian greenness. The luxuriant leafage of stately trees and humbler shrub; the opulent bloom of many-hued flowers; the trim and level faces of the wide and winding sweep of drives; the verdant terraces dropping towards the murmuring river, like stairways for sylvan deities; the snowy shafts of monumental marble piercing the rich verdure of their emerald environments, all make the scene worthy of an enchanted hour of admiration.

To come to this season's operations in the present stage of the improvements, which the directors of the company are, under the skilled supervision of the superintendent, Mr. Kelly, continually making, the matter of is receiving commendable attention. Recently a windmill was erected on the grounds north of the chapel, for the purpose of raising water from the well, but it did not in this position catch the wind except from one direction sufficiently to operate it. The wind engine has been, therefore, removed to Cemetery Point, where a tower 60 feet high has been built for its elevation. Here it will work admirably, catching the wind from every direction. Operated by it, a force pump sends the water through the pipes laid under the drives to two tanks on a platform, supported by timbers, about 100 feet north of the chapel. These tanks contain about 300 gallons. They are, as well as the system of piping, being put in under the superintendency of Mr. G. W. Ranney, C. E. Mr. William Forsyth supplies, and erects the windmill. We would suggest to the directors that the tank be enclosed with wooden walls and roofed in a style to correspond with the architecture of the chapel. This will serve both to conceal the deus ex machina—the unsightly wooden realism of the staging to support the tanks, and also serve as a useful tool house for the gardeners.

USING THE WATER.

The water will be distributed to rotating lawn sprinklers, situated in different parts of the ground, and a perpetual supply of water will keep the grounds in fine condition, even under the dry regime of the Dog Star.

In addition, permanent fountains will be placed in several places. One will occupy the site of the beautiful circular flower bed formerly fronting the entrance gates, one will be placed near the chapel and one in the ornamental square in the valley to the east of the chapel.

The owners of plots are showing a pious rivalry in decorating the graves of the dead. A great increase in the amount of ornamental shrubbery and flowers planted this spring is noticeable.

Taken altogether the cemetery is thriving grandly this year, and is a more attractive resort than ever. It will richly reward the visitor whose tastes tend to an admiration of the graceful combination of art and nature which this beautiful God's Acre presents.

REV. DR. COCHRAN.

A Brief Sketch of the New President.

"For promotion cometh neither from the East, nor from the west, nor from the south."

Rev. George Cochran, D. D., who was elected President of the Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church yesterday, is about six feet in height, in complexion dark, with keen black eyes, crested with abundant eyebrows, with full beard and moustache. The latter, as well as his hair, is only slightly threaded with silver although their owner is verging on fifty years of age. He must have an iron constitution, for, notwithstanding his thirty years in ministerial harness, many passed in the prosecution of mission labours whose arduousness robbed these of the danger of being entitled holiday work, his personal appearance would convey the impression of his being a man in the first prime of life. Dr. Cochran was in 1834. He came to Canada at the age of three years, so that practically he is a Canadian. He ENTERED THE MINISTRY of the Methodist Church in the year 1853. The first charge to which he was appointed was Elora. Since that time he has passed through all the changes of duty that fall to the lot of the Methodist minister, who entered on his calling thirty years ago. He has wrought for his Master in the distant and dreary mission fields of the back woods, which were so little removed from the primitive savagery of nature, that in passing from one post of duty to another, he was often compelled to traverse trackless stretches of shaggy wood, where even a horse could not go; to pass through dismal swamps and howling wilds, to endure hunger, heat and cold, and, at the best, to fare coarsely and comfortless at board and bed. He has passed through all the ameliorated gradations of station, from such fields of labor, to the opulent surroundings and christian refinement of metropolitan charges. He was pastor of the Richmond St. Church, Toronto from 1868 to 1870, and pastor of the Adelaide street church, Toronto, from 1871 to 1873, 3 years in each case. This latter church, afterwards merged in the Metropolitan, of which he may be called, in his ministerial capacity, the builder,

BORN IN IRELAND

A CHURCH,

It isat once a magnificent monument of Methodist liberality, and a commemoration of the glorious triumphs of a century of aggressive and progressive Methodism. It must not be forgotten that Rev. Dr. Punshon was a member of the congregation, and much of the success was due to his assistance.

The splendid ecclesiastical pile was completed in the middle period of his pastorate, and for one and a half years he ministered in spiritual things to the throngs that filled its courts. How highly he was esteemed in love for his work's sake, and how great was the confidence of the Church in his zeal and ability, may be inferred from the fact that in 1873 Rev. Dr. Cochran (the degree of D. D. was conferred on him at the convocation of Victoria College in 1882) was sent as the

FIRST MISSIONARY TO JAPAN

of the Methodist Church in Canada. In June, 1873, in company with Rev. Dr. Davidson McDonald, he set out for Japan, where he organized a mission, which is now a flourishing district of the Toronto Conference, with seven stations, twelve native ministers, and a membership of 272. For six years Dr. Cochran laboured among the "French of the Far East," and succeeded, in the face of the fierce prejudices of a jealous Paganism, in with a membership of 200, with four native ministers. He went into the country with no knowledge of the Japanese language, yet in four years he sufficiently mastered the intricacies of that agglutinate tongue to preach the gospel in the vernacular. He still retains his interest in Japan, and is in constant communication with the mission. In personal intercourse Dr. Cochran is affable and paternal, without being patronizing. In demeanor he is quiet, unassuming, and his modest bearing does not suggest the possession of the scholarly culture and eminent abilities that yesterday secured so flattering a recognition of them as implied in his selection as President of the Conference.

ESTABLISHING A MISSION,

He is an earnest, laborious and intelligent Biblical student, and for Christian culture, Christian zeal, and effective executive ability, stands among the first of the many brilliant men within the bounds of the Conference.

In the pulpit, he is a speaker of great power; in delivery, he is deliberate; in argument, pointed and logical; in application, earnest with an ardor that infects his hearers in a manner only possible by the eloquence, that comes from the heart.

His selection is popular among the ministers of the Conference and his practical knowledge of every department of church work, urban and rural, domestic and foreign, contribute with other qualifications, to amply vindicate the wisdom of the choice of the Conference in their selection of him as its President.

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

Sulphur and Iron Bitters will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. 3rst 1882.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood diseases, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give Sulphur and Iron Bitters a trial I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.

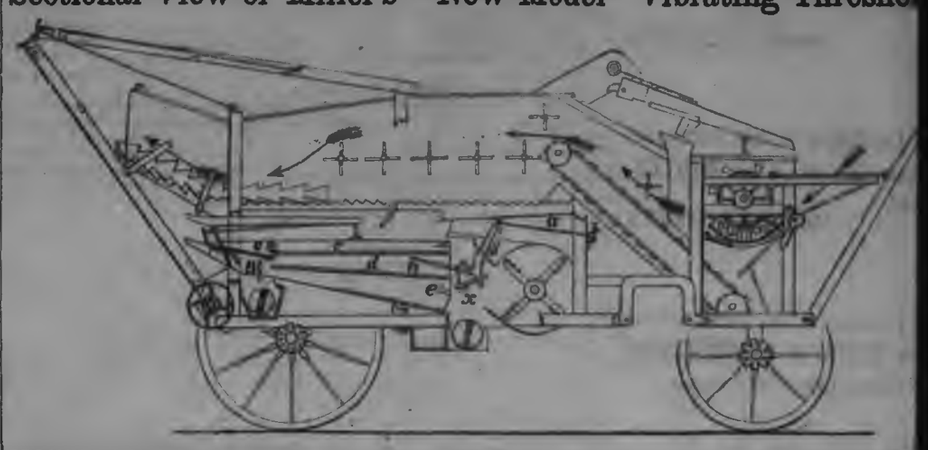
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ON

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing now for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model" is the best one I have ever used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth, the machine has given me entire satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who want me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERRITT.

Be sure and examine the "New Model" before you purchase.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

A SHORT SYNOPSIS

OF THE PRESENT SITUATION

Clothing for Mens', Youths' or Boys' wear, for dress, business or school wear; for town, country or travel. Clothing that wears well, that fits well, that looks well, that's good, that's finished, that's stylish. That's our clothing all over.

If there's any manner of person, any sort of taste, kind of use, not provided for by us, we'd like to hear of it. We certainly can conceive of none.

From the staid head of the family, who don't bend enough to "knee" his pants, to the small boy with a liking for marbles and rough fences, the wants of all have been considered by us. We've provided for the entire convocation.

Strong stitches are put where they will do the most good. Ample pockets where they'll be of most service. Style and beauty of finish, where they'll be the most appreciated; and honest plainess, together with honest workmanship, where only these qualities are asked for.

Doesn't the above schedule of points all grappled with, strike you as laps in our favour? Course they do. Then act promptly and intelligently on our showing.

Put your eye on this platform. Deal with DOLAN & CO., a Thoroughly Reliable House, conducted on the Most Enterprising Principles. It never was beaten yet in Qualities and Prices. It never will be. Look at our goods. Look at our work, We like to be compared with any or all. The result is invariably in our favour.

A weak stomach or enfeebled circulation is like a rope about our necks. We are strung up and unstrung alternately till existence becomes unbearable, Burdock Blood Bitters will arrest all this misery. Burdock Blood Bitters is a boon to the sick. Let us remember this fact. 24-2t

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. ROANTREE'S
GRIST MILLS,
NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

Depression

IN TRADE.

Owing to the great depression in the Dry Goods trade all over the Country for the past three months. Merchants are offering great inducements to their Customers in order to realize on the heavy stocks at present held by them.

To substantiate that such is the case, I am offering the following goods at extraordinary low figures:

10 pieces Debige Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Brocaded Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
15 pieces Colored Cashmere, 15c a yard.
10 pieces Leagtry Cloth, 20c a yard.

Our 65c. Black Cashmeres, for 50 Cents.

20 pieces Fast Colored Prints, 5c a yard.
75 pieces Polka Dot Prints, 10c a yard.
100 pieces Dark Fancy Prints, worth 12½ cts, for 10c a yard.
20 pieces Bordered Prints, 12½c a yard.

Tapestry Carpets, 37½ cents.

50 pieces Hemp Carpet, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Heavy Twill Carpet, 15c a yard.
20 pieces Floor Oil Cloth from 25c a yard.
30 pieces Cretonnes from 10c a yard.
20 pieces Curtain Nets from 12½c a yard.
25 pieces Roller Towelling from 5c a yard.

Lybster Cotton Shirtings, 15c, a yard.

50 Doz. 2 button Lisle Thread Gloves 5c a p'r.
20 Doz. Boys Cotton Socks, 2 pair for 5c.
17 Doz. Ladies Lace Ties, 5c each.
25 Doz. Ladies Linen Collars, 5c each.
10 Doz. Children's Colored Hose, 5c a pair.

50 Dozen Louise Corsets, 35c. a pair.

It is a well known fact that a great many Merchants advertise certain lines of goods, to deceive the public, which they never had in their store.

CAUTION!

To obviate this pernicious practice we would advise all parties to cut out such advertisements and bring them with them. To convince you that we have the goods, adopt the above principles and we are sure of your patronage.

JOHN HACKETT.

Local News Record.

The Jersey Lily.

Mrs Langtry, the famous "Jersey Lily," will probably visit Peterborough on a theatrical tour in November.

The Next Conference.

It is understood that the next meeting of the Toronto Conference will be held at Picton, on the Bay of Quinte.

Complimentary.

The following Peterboro gentlemen have been placed on the Educational Committee:—J. F. Jeffers, M.A., Geo. A. Cox, Esq., John Campbell, M.A., D. W. Dumble, B.A.

Dickson's Mill.

Notwithstanding the accident yesterday, this mill will continue cutting, having a sufficient supply of logs on hand to keep them busy until the second drive arrives.

Brodie's Woollen Mills.

These works are in a flourishing condition and are running day and night. Another set of cards has been put in operation and ten new broad looms, making twenty-one that are in operation constantly to their full capacity.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the Midland railway for the week ending June 9th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $5,013.73; freight, $23,730.12; total, $28,743.85, as compared with $27,825.44 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $918.41; and the aggregate traffic to date is $418,778.43, being an increase of $16,792,20 over 1882.

New Harness Shop.

Mr. W. H. Mitchell has returned to town from Brantford, and will open up in a saddlery and harness shop in Dunsford's block—old post office—Water street. Here he will keep a thoroughly equipped establishment, and will be happy to see the faces of all old customers, and as many new ones as desire to be served cheaply and efficiently in his line.

A Fire.

A noise emanating from the ward fire bells, last night about midnight, was construed by the Fire Department into an alarm of fire. The brigade turned out, and after the usual delay the engine was got to the scene of the fire. A vacant house between Stewart and Reid streets, formerly owned by Mrs. Ross, that had been removed from the line of the Missing Link, had taken fire and was so far consumed when the engine arrived that there was no hope of saving it. It was owned by the Midland Railway and was not insured.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Synod of Toronto Diocese.

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw is Chairman of the Sunday School and Book and Tract Committee.

Rev. J. W R. Beck has been appointed member of the Executive Committee of the Anglican Synod now in session in Toronto. He is also a member of the Mission Board.

Rev. V. Clementi is a member of the Clergy Commutation Trust Committee.

C. J. Bloomfield, Esq., is a member of the Mission Board.

A. P. Pousette, Esq., appears on the Widows and Orphans' Fund and Theological Students' Fund Committee, as does also Dr. H. C. Burritt.

The right place to go for Dress Goods, Prints, Cottons, Cretonnes, Lace Curtains Ducks, Shirtings, Parasols, Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets and Fancy Goods, is at WALLACE'S, Lakefield. 23-4ins.

St. Paul's Church.

The building committee met on Saturday night, but as there was not a full representation, no tenders were accepted. There will be another meeting to night.

Boulevarding.

Nothing more clearly shows the increase of public spirit and a taste for the beautiful, than the amount of boulevarding being done on various streets. All such efforts to improve the town should be encouraged.

Masonic Sermon.

Rev. Mr. Matthews will preach a sermon to the Masonic brotherhood of Peterborough on Sunday next, June 24th, St. John the Baptist's Day, in the George Street Methodist Church.

Dust to Dust.

During the past year the interments in Little Lake Cemetery have been as follows: January, 8; February, 10; March, 10; April, 22; May, 13. Total, 63; against about 59 for the corresponding period of last year.

A Centenarian.

Yesterday afternoon we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Daniel Sheehan, who lives on lot 1, 5th concession of Douro. He is hale and hearty and 101 years of age. He was born in Ireland in 1783, and came to Peterborough county in 1825. He is on the list of superannuated teachers, and drew his pension of $116 yesterday. His wife died in March, 1881, aged 84.

Murdered in Mexico.

We learn from the Rochester Herald that Mr. R. F. McCabe, of Rochester, nephew of Messrs. James and S. P. McCabe, of this town, and cousin of Mr. Ernest McCabe, foreman of the EXAMINER press rooms, was murdered in Mexico on the 22nd of May. McCabe and another employee on a railway got into an altercation, shots were exchanged, and both men killed.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet,

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

Miss Sanderson's New Shop.

The usual attractiveness which the public have been accustomed to find in Miss Sanderson's establishment, George street, has been greatly intensified by the marked improvements Mr. Cox has made in providing, the ront with plate glass, and otherwise greatly adding to the fittings and appointments of the premises. The renewed shop is now a becoming setting to her beautiful stock of fancy goods, high art embroideries, and the beautiful frivolities that tempt the tastes of the gentler sex.

The Ex-Premier's Opinion.

In presenting an address to Captain Smith, of the Circassian,, the Hon. A. Mackenzie, says the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, in the course of his remarks, stated:—I am sure that I speak the views of at least all Canadians, when I say that we are proud of the Allen Line of Canadian steamships, and that no money was ever better spent than the comparatively small amount which the company received from the government to carry the mails and aid in securing a first-class steam communication with England.

Town Parks.

Mr. C. W. Sawers, has drawn up a petition, in conformity with the late Act of the Ontario Legislature, in reference to the providing of public parks and it is in circulation. If the town is ever in the opinion of the people to have parks, now is the time to expropeate property required for the sites. The longer the matter is delayed the more will be the cost. Peterborough is growing rapidly, and fast approaching the condition of cities who have public parks and consider them as necessary to the dignity their civic status demands, as good streets or street lamps.

Bible Christian Stations.

The following are the appointments for this district of the Bible Christian Church. The Rev. Mr. Joliffe goes to Charlottetown P. E. I. He endeared himself to his congregation here very much. What is Peterborough's loss is Charlottetown's gain.

PETERBOROUGH AND VICTORIA DISTRICT.—Peterborough J. Whitlock, Little Britain, W. C. Beer, R. Mallett, B. A., F. Woodger, Lakefield, R. Allin, Fenelon, M. Metheral, Lindsay, W. Limbert, Manvers and Cartwright, E. A. Tonkin, W. Down, Ashburnham, to be supplied.

COBOURG DISTRICT.—Cobourg, J. J. Rice, Camborne, W. Caombe, Welcome, R. T. Courtice, H. C. Bayley, Port Hope, J. H. Copeland, Huntingdon, T. Brown, Campbellford, G. Dunkley, Belleville, D. Williams.

Otonabee Woollen Mills.

Mr. T. G. Hazlitt is making important improvements in the Otonabee Woollen Mills buildings. More room being required in the factory building proper for machinery, this is secured by the removal of the stairways, which admits of the entire space being devoted to machinery. Access is to be gained to the different floors by winding stairs, to accommodate which a tower fourteen feet square is being erected against the middle portion of the southern end of the mill. This tower, which will be eighty-five feet in height, will be furnished with a fine-toned bell. The winding stairs will occupy the outer portion of the space inclosed by the tower walls, leaving the well for the hoist in the centre, five feet square. The hoist will combine the most recent improvements in elevating appliances, and will be operated by power furnished from the machinery of the mills. The hoist will be used for the lowering and elevation of material as the business of manufacturing demands, and will greatly facilitate work and contribute to making to the entire equipment of Brodie's Woolen Mills, second to none in Ontario. The work on the tower has been delayed by the temporary withdrawal of the workmen to put the saw mills in sawing shape, but the tower will be completed in a short time.

A Beautiful Town.

There is no more beautiful town in the Dominion than Peterborough. Let any one drive through our streets just now, and also take in a view from some of our neighboring hills and then say if this not true. A great deal may still be done to make the town attractive, which should be borne in mind by wealthy and public spirited citizens.

Music in Presbyterian Churches.

It looks as if there were still a strong feeling in Scotland against the use of instrumental music in Presbyterian churches. A petition signed by 84,000 members and adherents has been presented to the General Assembly of the Free church against sanctioning the use of organs. In the Presbyterian Church here, a vote was taken a short time since on the question, the majority being in favor of instrumental music.

Potatoe Bugs.

The Colorado beetle seems to be one of the insect pests that has come to stay. This year the potatoes are attacked by large numbers and the eggs laid on the leaves that are just peeping from the ground. The Rural New Yorker, about the best authority in America, says that picking the bugs has no appreciable effect, no matter how thoroughly done—the only sure destruction is Paris Green, which may be mixed with plaster in the ratio of one to a hundred—a very harmless mixture, most people will think, but sufficient to do for the beetles in the Rural experiment ground.

Customs and the Canoe Association.

The collector of Customs here, has been authorized by the honorable, the Minister of Customs to pass, duty free "the canoes and kit," of members of the American Canoe Association attending the camp beginning the 10th of August at Stony Lake, in this County, on presentation of member's badge, or certificate of membership from Dr. C. A. Neide, the secretary of the association, or from N. D. Beck, Local Secretary. The secretaries would do well to have a certificate ready, with blank for name, and thus prevent any delay at the Custom House.

A Caution.

A singular incident happened to Mr. John Borland, Lot 29 in the third concession of Otonabee, last Thursday morning, by which a conflagration was nearly caused. A milk can newly washed had been placed to dry on the wood pile, and the rays of the sun were reflected from the shining surface of the can and focussed so strongly on the dry chips that they took fire. The fact was discovered in in time to prevent serious results. This is a warning to farmers not to make their milk cans too bright, or, if they will be so cleanly, not to place their cans where the rays of the sun can combine to operate destructively on dry chips.

Ontario Sabbath School Association.

We are indebted to the kindness of Mr. Sheriff Hall, the member for Peterborough of the executive committee of the Sabbath School Association of Canada, for placing on our table a copy of the seventeenth Provincial Sabbath School Report. This report of the convention held at Brampton last October is valuable to all Sabbath School workers, as setting forth the principles and methods of this important department of Christian effort; besides, instructive and stirring addresses from Canadian ministers; the matured judgments and helpful utterances of Dr. John Vincent, of the United States, together with careful reports from the sections of the convention on primary, intermediate, senior and normal classes, render this pamphlet desirable for Sabbath School teachers. Copies can be had by applying to the newly appointed secretary, Rev. John McEwan, Toronto.

Church Dedication at Campbellford.

The new Methodist Church in Campbellford will be dedicated to the worship of God by the Rev. A Sutherland, D. D., assisted by the Rev. John Bredin, on Friday, the 22nd day of June, 1883. At ten o'clock a sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Sutherland, followed by the dedicatory service. At 12 o'clock dinner will be served. At 2 o'clock a platform meeting will be held. In the evening a tea meeting will be held. The chair will be taken by W. Gooderham, Esq., of Toronto. Addresses may be expected from Revds. Dr. Sutherland, Bredin, Dr. Neil, Weldon, D. Sutherland, Edmison, Crossley, Beattie, Buchanan and Lewis. A bazaar is to be held by the Ladies' Aid. Dedicatory services will be continued over the following Sabbath, June 24th. Return tickets at one fare will be issued at all the stations of the Midland Railway for both days.

China Hall.

The establishment of an exclusively class store like Mr. McFarlane Wilson's China Hall and Silver Bazaar, is the addition of another city characteristic among the many others that point to the fact that Peterborough will soon take her place in the sisterhood of cities. Of course Mr. Wilson, dealing exclusively in china, glassware, crockery and silver goods, is enabled to buy to advantage, and consequently place his prices low down in the interest of customers. His establishment is large, well lighted, and well calculated for the display of his goods to the best advantage. The most excellent taste that marks the disposal of the goods, and the windows attractively dressed with selections from the goods in stock, makes China Hall a stopping place for every passer-by, with an eye for the beautiful. The stock exhibits wonderful variety of material and pattern, and constant receipts of direct importations present frequent novelties. A new line of china tea sets, with square cups, plates, saucers, etc., hand painted in the highest style of the decorative art, are worthy of all admiration. The stock of glassware is immense. In one day last week sixty-three huge packing cases of glass goods were received. New consignments of silverware make this department full of beautiful and elaborate designs. In a brief space it is impossible to even hint at the extensive display that will greet the eyes of the visitor. And visitors are cordially invited to inspect the establishment, and will not be urged to buy; but a personal experience leads to the prediction that those who come to look will remain to buy. Visiting ministers will find China Hall worth a call, and they will be cordially welcomed in case they wish to delight themselves with a half hour in one of the most complete china, glassware and silverware establishments between Toronto and Montreal.

Bonnemere.

Our meteorological correspondent informs us that the mercury of the thermometer clomb, as the poets would say, on Sunday last, June 17, to 97° in the shade.

The Grip Sack.

Grip's summer book of "latter" is on its way to the bookstores. The advance pages have reached us. Ice cream is well enough in its way, but for pleasure combined with instruction give us the Grip-Sack. It will be out early in July. Price as usual, 25 cents.

Church Re-opening.

The unfinished details of the work of completing the restoration of Charlotte Street Methodist Church are being done, and the renewed edifice will be in full readiness for the opening services, which will take place on Sunday, July 1st. The programme of services for the day is not yet arranged, nor is it yet known what distinguished ministers will officiate on the occasion. The new stained glass windows from the Dominion Stained Glass Works, Toronto, are being put in, and are exceedingly fine, especially the beautiful Catharine wheel window in the northern gable.

Another Argument.

Recently the lady managers of the Protestant Home, called on the Town Council in reference to the establishment of a hospital in connection with or distinct from the Home. But nothing was done, nor is likely to be done. Another argument and a practical one in favor of such an institution presented itself at the police court this morning. Adam Dobbin was committed to jail as a vagrant—not because he refused to work, but because he is unable from ill health to do so—and there being no hospital, he is compelled to take his place among criminals to save himself from starvation and suffering. It is hard that a man who has spent the best years of his life in the service of the corporation, should, when disease seizes him and funds fail, be sent to an institution erected especially for criminals, a place where from the nature of things he cannot receive the treatment and care his disease demands. His case is a proof that some action should be taken, whereby our afflicted poor may be treated in accordance with at least the common laws of humanity and not, while being innocent of any crime, except poverty, destitution and disease, be compelled to share, in jail, the punishment of reprobates and rascals.

American Canoe Association.

One of the leading attractions of the camp at Stony Lake, commencing on the 10th of August next, will be the camp-fire. There is plenty of dry wood in the neighborhood to furnish a roaring fire each evening, and when all the campers gather around it, it will be strange if there be not material enough amongst them to have a thoroughly jolly time. Songs, choruses, stories of personal adventures, of sailing, cruising, or fishing, with, perhaps, some amateur theatricals or charades, will make the time pass pleasantly and quickly, and serve to bring the canoeists together, so that they may become thoroughly acquainted with each other.

In each club there are usually some good voices, and in addition to joining in the general choruses, they will have club songs of their own, new to the members of other clubs. The local committee on entertainment and music met last evening and decided to secure copies of suitable part songs and choruses, with the music, and to have the words of a number of them printed in the shape of a small pamphlet, for ready use. Without going into any formal preparation it is expected that before the camp, the members who can sing will have some practice together, so as to be prepared to do their share in the entertainment at the camp fire.

A further feature will be the publication, in manuscript form, of a camp newspaper, to be read at the camp-fire, giving all items of news as to camp, the arrivals, proceedings, &c., with articles on canoeing, fishing and hunting, poems, legends and tales of adventures by flood and field.

The first resolution passed by the local Committee on "Commissariat," was to adopt the rule in force at the last two Camps at Lorma Island, Lake George: "The sale or open use of intoxicating liquors upon the Island is prohibited." The Committee has completed arrangements with a firm of grocers, whose members are active in promoting the success of the meet, to open a camp store on the Island, where they will keep and sell at town prices, tea, coffee sugar and other groceries, canned meats, vegetables and other canned goods, bread, potatoes, butter and milk. They will also have charge of the supply of ice laid in at the Island for the free use of members. In addition, they have agreed to keep ready at all times, hot tea and coffee at a small charge, so that the canoeist returning to camp tired and hungry after a long paddle, may be able at once to obtain something to refresh himself, without waiting to start his camp fire. In the absence of hotels in the neighbourhood, it was not deemed advisable to try to make any arrangement for furnishing regular meals, so that the members will have the best of opportunities to learn and practice that very necessary point of "the true canoeists,"—cooking.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

June Session.

WEDNESDAY.

Wednesday afternoon the Council resumed at 3 p. m.

A deputation of citizens in reference to the Court House Park was heard.

Mr. James Stevenson, being called on, desired to see if steps could not be taken to open the Court House Park to the public. The people of the town had no resort besides that place. It has been suggested that the County Council should appoint two or three trustees to be responsible for the grounds, the Town to appoint policemen to watch over the park while open. The Town could also appoint a caretaker, and prison labour be utilized. He (Mr. Stevenson) thought that the ground could be beautified at a small expense, and that as the town would be getting the greater benefit, it should bear the greatest part of the expenses.

Dr. Burritt hoped they would allow the park to be opened, especially to the Band, and appoint proper persons to watch over it while it was occupied.

Mr. G. M. Roger reminded the Council that the grounds were held in trust by the county for the purposes of a public park. By allowing the park to be beautified and used, it would not only vastly improve the beauty of the Court House property, but conduce greatly to the pleasure and enjoyment of the citizens of the town. Now, with proper protection he did not think that there was any danger of damage being done, especially after the novelty had worn off.

Mr. Walter Paterson, jr., endorsed what had been said, and thought it a pity that so delightful a retreat should be closed to the public.

In answer to Mr. Burnham, Mr. Stevenson said he thought the park should be provided with walks and flower beds.

Mr. Burnham stated that under the Public Parks Act an arrangement could be made, by which the park could be leased by the county to the town.

Mr. Roger said if the county would allow the use of prison labor in keeping the park in order, he was sure the town would provide the funds necessary.

Mr. Collins asked what the Town proposed to do with the "Old Burying Ground," which was given over subject to the control of the Town.

Mr. Paterson explained that the grounds had been leased to the Agricultural Society, and had only recently come under the control of the town.

After further informal discussion,

Mr. Strickland moved, seconded by Mr. Kidd, that the matter be referred to a committee, composed of Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson and the Warden, with power to execute a lease of the Court House Park to the Town Council, the Horticultural Society or any other parties they think proper, for the purpose of beautifying the same and throwing the grounds open to the public.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Mr. Strickland said that he referred to the matter of the House of Refuge, because he had taken a great deal of trouble, as well as other members of the Council, and recollecting the way in which the Town Council Committee had refused to attend the meeting of the two committees, he would hereafter be very reluctant in taking part in any project where joint action between the town and county was involved.

Mr. Collins said that according to the report of the committee on the Warden's address the Town Council would have to take action this week or the House of Refuge project would fall through. He felt the Town Council had treated the County Council with considerable discourtesy in the matter.

REGISTRY FEES.

Mr. Burnham said that in making the following motion, he disclaimed, as might be attributed to him, any political motive. His only desire was to protect the interests of the public, involved as explained by the resolution.

Moved by Mr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Strickland, that whereas it appears by the books of the County Treasurer, that the moneys received by the county under the statute from the registry office for the past ten years amounts to the sum of $1551.86; and whereas no sum would be payable to the County for the current year if an appointment should be made of a Registrar before the first day of January next: Therefore it is resolved that this Council request the Government to defer making the appointment till after the first day of January next.

The motion was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Crow, seconded by Mr. Mansfield, the Council resolved to visit the Mud Lake bridge on Thursday.

BOUNDARY BRIDGE.

On motion of Mr. Elmhirst, seconded by Mr. Pearce, fifty dollars were granted towards the building of a bridge over Deer River, Chandos, on condition of the County of Hastings giving a like amount.

BY-LAW.

A by-law was passed confirming two by-laws of the township of Asphodel on opening up road allowances.

The Council adjourned till 10 o'clock Friday morning.

FRIDAY.

The whole of the forenoon was occupied with work in committees, and in the afternoon the committee on

COUNTY PROPERTY

reported as follows:—

1. That Mr. Nesbitt be allowed to cut and remove the grass on the Court House Green, the same to be cut in a neat manner, and the grass to be removed from the premises on or before the 12th of July next.

2. That the sidewalk on the west side of the Court House be removed and replaced and made good, some few feet to the west of its present position, from the entrance gate to the north side of the Court House and that turned cedar posts with iron wire fencing be fixed thereto as a protection against cattle for the entire length of the Court House front.

That the fencing around the Court House green be replaced, and that the fence immediately in front of the Court House, and the entrance gates at the south and north of the Court House be repaired and painted, the expense thereof to be shared equally by the town and county.

(Signed) MICHAEL SANDERSON, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

The Committee on

reported as follows:

That a committee be appointed to investigate the matter complained of by the trustees of school section No. 5 in the township of Smith; also with regard to the petition of the trustees of school section No. 11 in the Township of Otonabee, and your committee recommend the appointment of the Warden to act in conjunction with the County Judge and Public School Inspector on said committe.

(Signed) GEO. STEWART, Chairman.

The committee on

That no action be taken as to territorial certificates to school teachers.

That this Council memoralize the Minister of Education to allow the School Inspector to grant permits to teachers for remote and poor school sections as hitherto.

(Signed) CHAS. O'REILLY, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

The Committee on

ROADS AND BRIDGES

reported as follows:—

1. That no action be taken in the matter of the notification forwarded from the County Clerk of Victoria County, concerning the repairs and painting of the Bobcaygeon bridge, and that the Warden be authorized to defend any action taken by the County of Victoria in the matter.

2.—That a sum of $25 be granted as a special grant to the municipality of Harvey towards the repair of the bridge over Nogie's creek, the balance to be borne by said municipality, and that the Reeve of Harvey be commissioner for the same.

3.—That the Council memoralize the Local Government to grant a sum of money for the repair of the roads and bridges connecting Buckhorn and the Bobcaygeon road, in the township of Harvey.

4.—That the report of the County Engineer in reference to the Mud Lake Bridge be adopted, and that he and the Warden be authorized to carry out the recommendations therein contained.

5.—That the County Clerk notify the county of Victoria that the approach to the Pigeon Creek bridge at the county of Victoria end is out of repair, and that unless they immediately repair the same, as per agreement, this county will not expend any more money on the said bridge.

6.—That Mr. Elmhirst, Reeve of Burleigh, be instructed to have driftwood at Perry's creek bridge removed, so as to clear the water way.

7.—That this county bear half of the expense of the new bridge over the boundary between this county and the county of Hastings, in the township of Belmont, under the supervision of our County Engineer, and the Reeve of Belmont, as commissioner,

8.—That a special grant of $50 be granted to the municipality of Belmont & Methuen towards the rebuilding of the Preston bridge in the township of Belmont, and that the Reeve be a commissioner for the expenditure of the grant.

(Signed) JOHN LANG, Chairman.

Report adopted.

SATURDAY.

Council met at 10 o'clock, all the members present; the Warden in the Chair.

After routine,

A DEPUTATION

of ladies, escorted by Drs. Bell and Kincaid, and consisting of Mead ames Gilmour and Smith, and Miss Roger, were heard before the Council.

Mrs. Gilmour said they had learned from the papers that unless the Town Council took action the present session the House of Refuge project would fall through. The deputation asked that the matter might be kept alive by the committee being allowed to continue some time longer. The County Council were not to blame, but the Town Council was guilty of delinquency in the matter. If the project was allowed to drop it would be difficult to revive it.

Mr. Strickland said part of the delay was due to the absence of Mr. Carnegie and Mayor Smith, and he moved, seconded by Mr. Kidd, that the committee be continued till the January session, with a view of co-operating with the Town Council; at the request of the deputation of ladies.

Mr. Collins explained that he had done his part in the matter. He had personally, but unsuccessfully, solicited Town Councillors to attend the meeting of the committees, and at a joint meeting called, only one councillor was present, and he was down on the project.

Dr. Kincaid was heard, and said he had advocated such an institution in the Town Council years ago, but in the numerous changes in that body from bad to worse (laughter) nothing had been done. He recognised the importance of such an institution, especially with a small hospital attached. He would do all in his power to promote its success.

Dr. Bell also endorsed the project, and spoke strongly in its favor.

The motion was adopted, and the ladies, thanking the Council for their courtesy, withdrew.

DIRECTORY.

On motion of Mr. Kidd, seconded by Mr. Burnham, the Council decided to subscribe for 50 copies of the directory and book of reference now being issued by the Times office, on the following division:

YEAS.—McCliggott, Burnham, Strickland, Kidd, Pearce, O'Rielly, Brown, Collins and Elmhirst—9.

NAYS.—Mansfield, Crough, Sanderson, Fitzgerald, Oliver, Lang and Stewart—7.

Mr. Pearce presented the report of the

EQUALIZATION

Committee, as below, recommending:—

That the basis adopted by the Committee and Council last year be the basis of assessment for all county purposes for the year 1883.

That the committee on the examination of the assessment rolls of the several municipalities found numerous inaccuracies, particularly in the additions, and as this complaint has been made known to the several clerks of townships, without apparent improvement, the committee recommend that when errors occur in the rolls in the future the same be rectified by a competent accountant, and the expenses incurred thereby be collected from the municipalities in which errors are found in the roll.

On motion to adopt the report,

Mr. Mansfield moved, seconded by Mr. McCliggott, that the report be not adopted, but referred back to the committee to amend by increasing the valuation of Norwood, Lakefield and Ashburnham 30, 20 and 10 per cent. respectively, and that said per centage be struck on the basis of last year's assessment.

Mr. Pearce defended the report of the committee, and reminded the mover of the amendment, that in villages the fire risks were greater.

Mr. Mansfield said that forest fires often devastated rural districts.

After remarks by Mr. Burnham against the amendment, especially on the ground of want of notice, and remarks in its favor by Mr. Kidd, Mr. Mansfield, with the consent of the Council, withdrew the amendment till the January session, and the report was adopted.

WHITEWASHING.

On motion of Mr. Sanderson, seconded by Mr. Collins, it was resolved to whitewash the Court House halls.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Mr. Kidd, chairman, presented the report of the Committee on Finance, which reported as below, recommending that the following accounts be paid.

John Grady, removing drift wood on Indian River	$ 4 00
Toker & Co., Clerk of Peace	6 20
Dr. Bell, exam'g lunatics—3	25 00
Toker & Co., registry office	15 00
Toker & Co., Treas'. office	44 01
Bell Telephone Co	15 00
Geo. Stewart, com's fees	8 00
Geo. Stethem, Mud Lake bridge	9 15
J. E. Belcher, county eng'r	38 30
Mellville Miller, hardware	19 80
D. Belleghem, burying prisoners	19 00

That a special grant of $100 be made to the committee of the district Provincial ploughing match, providing the same is held in the county of Peterborough, and that the Warden be a member of the committee on behalf of the county.

That the salary of the caretaker of the locks bridge be at the rate of $20 per year as the County's share, and that the treasurer pay at that rate for the year 1883.

That a grant of $25 be given to the Village of Norwood for the purpose of partitions in the lock-up.

That one copy of the index of the consolidated municpal act be provided for the County Clerk.

That in the event of a person dying in the gaol no medical witnesses be summoned unless authorized by the coroner's jury.

That the debt due by the township of Burleigh to the county school fund be reduced as to the sum of $600 payable, $150 by the 1st day of March next without interest—$450 in three equal annual instalments, with interest from the first day of June, 1883, at 5 per cent. Provided that if the said $450 be paid by the 1st of March, 1886, no interest shall be charged, and that the non-resident taxes now in the treasurer's hands shall belong to the county.

That in the matter of debenture rates your committee recommend that inasmuch as it appears that the amount that is provided shall be levied under debenture by-laws 365 and 373, will produce a sum largely in excess of the amount required, the clerk be instructed to levy such an amount only as will be sufficient to meet this year's sinking fund and interest, and that one-half only of the rate provided under by-law 454, be collected, for the reason that only one-half of the debentures authorised to be issued thereunder have been issued.

That owing to the construction of the new bridge at Nassau and a swing at the locks, properly chargeable to capital account, the sum required be obtained by the sale of unsold debentures now in the hands of the treasurer, whenever the money may be required, and the balance of the current year's expenditure, less the estimated resources, be met by the levying of 2½ mills in the dollar, to be levied and collected on the equalised value of the county.

(Signed) A. R. KIDD, Chairman.

FARMER'S SONS.

Mr. Burnham moved, seconded by Mr. Pearce, that a memorial be presented to the Attorney-General asking legislation to remove doubts as to the right to count farmer's sons for reeves and deputy reeves in the County Council, and that the Council are of opinion that farmer's sons should be so counted.

The motion was agreed to and the Council adjourned.

ENNISMORE PICNIC.

Music and Merriment—Dining and Dancing—General Enjoyment—The Sports and Games—Fine Financial Results.

The annual pic-nic of the R. C. Parish of Ennismore, under the auspices of Rev. Father Keilty, P.P., yesterday, was not only the first in point of time in these parts, but will likely be in the way of a successful development of the programme, the first in the way of success. The pic-nic was held on the grounds of the Hatton Estate, known as the Bridgenorth picnic grounds. The there having been, according to good judges, at least two thousand persons present. The attendance from Peterborough comprised a large proportion of the number.

ATTENDANCE WAS GREAT,

During the whole day our citizens kept arriving at the grounds, and at a not very late hour in the day, not a horse could be secured at the livery stables, and a cab was as much an impossibility as perpetual motion.

The programme was sufficiently varied to appeal to all tastes.

DANCING

seemed to approach nearest to the monopoly of the amusements. It was begun at an early hour and kept up with unflagging interest till the shades of evening began to darken the scene. The music for this was furnished by Freeman's Quadrille Band, which did not complain for lack of steady employment during the day.

The Indian Village brass band also liberally supplied excellent music.

The Rev. Father Keilty, as manager, acquitted himself nobly in contributing to the that prevailed throughout the day, both as regards the conduct of the crowd and the orderly succession of the various events that composed the stirring programme of pleasures that made the entire day an unbroken round of enjoyment. In this work he was ably seconded by the energetic and excellent executive ability of Rev. Father Conway, of St. Peter's Cathedral.

EXCELLENT ORDER

IN THE DANCING CONTESTS

there was a keen competition, and Peterboro's share of the prizes was the lion's share.

In the jig dance, Mr. Walter McIlmoyle and Miss Collins won first prize, and Mr. M. Dunn and Miss Hickey second prize.

The first prize for hornpipe fell to Mr. Hoolighan and Miss Tagney, and Mr. Dovey and Miss Hickson came in for second money.

Mr. Johnny Cronin gave great pleasure and gained great applause by presenting several exhibition hornpipe steps.

The clog dance prize fell to Mr. M. Tierney, a Mr. Brennan taking second place.

In the sports and games Mr. P. Welsh was first in the mile race. In the 100 yards J. Reynold's came in first, and A. Mooney second. In this class also Mr. M. Dunn won a prize, consisting of a variety of domestic articles, for brick jumping.

THE MOST GRATIFYING TRIUMPH

was the award of the prize of being the most popular young lady, to Miss Mary Ann Sullivan, of Peterborough, who contested the palm with Miss Crough, of Ennismore. This contest alone added $45 to the funds of the picnic.

Besides, there were other expedients, involving the taking of chances, which were very successful; one of the most fortunate being that engineered by Mr. R. W. Muncaster.

The extraordinary liberality of the people in contributing was demonstrated by the fact that early in the afternoon there was a great stringency in the money market, and an unspent quarter-dollar piece was a novelty. The prepared by the ladies of the parish, was abundant in store, and first-class in quality.

Two twelves of the Lacrosse Club contributed largely to the amusement of the gathering, though the ground was very lumpy. The teams took each a game.

The members of the County Council, who had gone out in a body to inspect the Mud Lake bridge, took advantage of the opportunity and most of them visited the pic-nic grounds and submitted to the process of financial depletion with good grace.

In all respects the picnic was a

THOROUGH SUCCESS.

The best of order was maintained. Not a drop of intoxicating liquor was allowed on the grounds. The financial outcome, which amounted to about $650, was, (the main object of the occasion, being the increase of the church funds of the parish), naturally one of the most gratifying features of a most delightful day's unalloyed pleasure.

Sunday Selling.

As some people are disposed to take Mr. Foster, M.P. for Kings, N.B., as their authority on temperance, we propose to cite his opinions on one important point in connection with the movement—the question of selling liquor on Sunday. It has been represented, and Mr. Foster himself, has not been above allowing the impression to go abroad—that the Sixty Minute, or the McCarthy Act, is in advance of the Crooks Act in the extent to which it prohibits selling on Sunday in hotels. We shall prove beyond the possibility of controversy, that Mr. Foster has, in voting for the McCarthy Act, as it stands, put his hand to a retrograde measure, and that in respect of Sunday selling, the Crooks Act is far in advance of it.

Mr. Foster, in Committee of the Whole House, on May 21st, made a speech on the license question, in the course of which he repeated the assertion of Mr. Hodge, "That in Ontario saloon keepers were obliged by law to furnish their guests with liquors at any hour of the day between the hours of 7 p.m. on Saturday and 6 p.m. on Monday." Now, Mr. Foster, when he was citing this opinion of Mr. Hodge's, knew quite well that the Crooks Act does not require the saloon keepers to do anything of the sort, but that, on the contrary, it absolutely prohibits all selling of liquors between the hours mentioned, and makes no exception in favor of even hotel guests at meal hours. He knew that Mr. Hodge was wrong in his version of the Crooks Act, but he was not honest enough to set him right, while quoting him on the floor of the House. For proof that he is aware of the real character of the Crooks Act prohibition, we have his own word for it in the Mail of Saturday last. Here is what he says on this point:

> A great deal has been said with reference to the supplying of bona-fide guests at hotels on Sunday. The clause in the Crooks Act referring to this really prohibits the sale of liquor in hotels on Sunday, but it is so worded that nine out of ten persons reading it over would conclude that it did allow the supplying of liquors to lodgers on that day."

However others may have been deceived by the working of the clause—and the prohibition is plain enough, Mr. Foster was not deceived. He had served for some years in Ontario as an officer of one of our most powerful temperance organizations, and was perfectly familiar with the Crooks Act. We leave our readers to form their own estimate of his honesty in citing Mr. Hodge's false interpretation, without, at the same time, supplying the true one. Further on in the same speech, he "thought it would not be a great hardship for the guests to supply themselves on Saturday night." This is exactly what the Crooks Act contemplates, for while it absolutely prohibits the sale to guests on Sunday, it permits the liquor, "whether sold or not," to be drunk.

On Mr. Foster's own written admission then, he deliberately supported a measure which substituted for the absolute prohibition of the Crooks Act, the permitted sale of liquor to hotel guests at certain hours on Sunday. This provision was in the report of the Committee, and it remained in the bill unchanged through all the stages of the latter, until it came to a third reading on the 22nd of May. Mr. G. W. Ross then moved that the bill be referred back to the Committee, in order that the clause authorizing the sale of liquors on Sunday, might be struck out. This would have left the prohibition absolute as it is now in the Crooks Act, and Mr. Foster voted with Mr. Ross for the amendment.

We have now given a plain, unvarnished statement of the position occupied by Mr. Foster on this question of Sunday selling, and we leave it to our readers to say whether he has been calumniated or not. He has assisted in placing on the Statute book, a law more lax with respect to this most important matter than the Crooks Act is, and yet, afraid of temperance opinion on the subject, he would like it to appear that he has been helping to produce a more repressive measure. Away with such hypocrisy!

Ball's Health Preserving Corset, so highly recommended, to be found at Turnbull's.

The number of deaths caused by the terrible disaster at Sunderland has now reached 202. The victims of the tragedy were publicly buried amid universal mourning of the sympathetic and grief-stricken populace. Generous subscriptions are flowing in to defray the cost of burial and relieve the injured victims.

Unnecessary Solicitude.

In the present progressiveness of human affairs, newspaper men often find themselves called upon to herald events of considerable importance to the public, while, perhaps, the event may partake largely of a personal nature. In the growth and prospects of our town it would be impossible that every citizen should proportionately appropriate a share of that prosperity. It generally happens that a few lucky individuals get the lion's share of the wealth and honor. It is, perhaps, unfair that we should attempt to find fault with this order of things, yet, we cannot help imagining a possible state of danger where one or two men may become the owner or owners of the bulk of the property of the town. These remarks are the outcome of the intelligence that the Gilmour Estate, corner of George and Hunter streets, has changed hands and is now owned by Mr. Geo. A. Cox.

The price at which he has purchased it is of no great concern to any but the curious, but the fact that Mr. Cox now owns such a large part of the business portion of the town is, perhaps, to some alarmists, ominous; as the influence that so much wealth is likely to ensure, unless wisely directed, may be a source of evil to the town, even if it be a source of pride and pleasure to its owner.

It is true, that if Mr. Cox chooses to invest his money in real estate in the town, instead of lending on mortgage securities, it can be nobody's affair, and we may be accused of sounding an unnecessary note of alarm on account of Mr. Cox's accumulating influence. We cannot but admit that his success is owing to business tact, or shrewdness, and we should not be disturbed if he prefers investing his acquired wealth in town property. His doing so is a strong indication of his faith in the future of our town. He now owns 46 or 47 of the best business places in the town, and within a few days has also invested in property in the surburbs, and if his real estate in the town were sold at prices corresponding to those current in every day transactions, it would realize over $300,000. The only fear is that all the property of the town, or nearly all, may pass into the hands of two or three men, and thereby future progress be somewhat hampered, if a contrary spirit should take possession of the owners. So far, Mr. Cox has shown himself liberal, progressive, and moderate in his public and private life. He exhibits a desire to make his property a source of beauty as well as profit. He is not sparing in fitting up his shops in the most tasty manner; and he has shown no niggardly spirit in anything that concerns the well-being of all. Yet, the fear may be justified that he may become selfish on attaining the height of his ambition, and then become a less useful citizen than all now heartily acknowledge him to be.

If two or three men, ill-inclined, should secure a controlling ownership of the bulk of the real estate of the town, evil results to its property might ensue. But such a contingency is not to be feared from the past actions of Mr. Cox, nor from the disposition he has hitherto developed. But, if such a reason were not sufficient, there are others that come into play. Self interest is a controlling influence of humanity. It is Mr. Cox's interest to see that the tenants of his shops are kept in good humor by their premises being kept in a tasty and convenient condition, a fact that affects the town as maintaining a creditable appearance of business thrift and tastefulness. In the second place, tenants to become good tenants must do a good business, and every addition to the population means an augmentation of their prosperity. In this way, self-interest impels Mr. Cox, whose real estate interests are not by any means all in business blocks, to encourage by as low rents as possible the settlement of new citizens in the town. And any course that tends to increase the population of the town must also tend to increase its prosperity. We have reason to believe Mr. Cox's theories on this subject will ere long be demonstrated by practical acts, which will, while tending to make the acquisition of real estate easy to those intending to become permanent citizens, show that the fears of the dangers likely to result from a comparative monopoly of real estate ownership, as far as he is concerned, are largely imaginary.

The Two Parties.

It is sometimes said that there is no difference between the Liberal and Conservative parties in Canada. Whatever may have been the case in this respect some time ago, the remark certainly does not hold good now, for there has within the past few months, been developed as sharp a line of demarcation, as the most pronounced party man could desire. The Liberals are strongly in favor of preserving the Provincial constitution as part of our federal system: the Conservatives are eager for the centralization of all legislative jurisdiction in the Dominion Parliament. In this respect the two parties are acting according to their natures, and are wide as the poles asunder.

It is useless to tell us as some of the Conservative organs do, that for every invasion of Provincial rights so far complained of, there is warrant to be found in the British North America Act; that it authorised the Dominion Government to veto the Ontario Streams bill and the Manitoba Railway charters; that it empowered the Dominion Parliament to transfer from Provincial to Dominion jurisdiction, all Provincial railways, and that it sanctioned the attempt to wrest from Provincial legislatures the control of the liquor traffic. The answer is that the framers of the Confederation system never meant the Provinces to be interfered with in these ways, and to this extent. The British North America Act, as interpreted at Ottawa for two years past, does not embody the views of those who loyally supported the union movement in 1864-67, and who supported it chiefly because under a federal system, Ontario would have the right to manage her own affairs without outside interference.

Those who wish to keep our Provincial independence intact, are now brought face to face with the issue raised by Sir John Macdonald and his followers. For purposes best known to himself, he has for some time past, been deliberately making war on Provincial jurisdiction, and they have been applauding all he does. Many of his supporters openly argue in favor of abolishing local Legislatures on the score of expense, assuming as a matter of course, that if it comes to be a struggle for existence between the Provincial and the Federal Parliament, the latter must survive. This assumption is a most unfounded and dangerous one. There is no reason to suppose that the people of any Province are yet prepared to give up the control of their own local affairs to outsiders, and the only effect of compelling them to surrender part of their control, will be to make the federal union repugnant to them. Sir John Macdonald, by his present policy is helping to drive the Provinces apart, instead of bringing them more closely together.

What sympathy or community of interest is there between the people of Ontario and the people of Manitoba? The [illegible] Dominion Parliament, regard farmers of the North-west as fit subjects for railroading monopoly and an agricultural implement tax. The Dominion Government has made out of the North-west a preserve for speculators and corruptionists. Instead of keeping the land for the settler, it has given millions upon millions of acres away to railway companies, colonization companies and land companies. It has squandered valuable timber lands by bestowing them on servile followers who have at the expense of a few thousands of dollars, acquired property really worth hundreds of thousands. The North-west is rapidly filling up with a class of immigrants who will soon assert their right to put a stop to all this. They will soon show the Dominion Government that they mean to be freemen, and not the slaves of any Ottawa created corporation. This may make the prospect for centralisation a dark one, but who will regret this except the harpies now let loose in crowds on the devoted district?

What is wanted on the part of the Provincial Government, and especially on the part of the Ontario Government, is decided action. The proposal for a revision of the British North America Act must be pressed until granted by the Imperial authorities. If any obstruction is offered from the present Ottawa Government, so much the worse for those who obstruct. We must have the privilege of freemen to manage our own affairs as we please, and the sooner we insist on having it, the sooner we shall succeed.

The Horrors of War.

The pomp and circumstances of war are well calculated to throw a glamour over the eyes of the unreflecting, and if victory supervenes, to shut man's ears to the horrifying and consequent attendant evils that follow closely on the footsteps of successes gained on the battle field. The carnage of battle, and the evils of warfare are not pondered as they ought to be, by the victors, at any rate. Only the vanquished perhaps know the dread sufferings which war brings in its train. But the wounded and the diseased among the conquering heroes could also a dire tale unfold. To appreciate aright the cruelties and the horrors of the battle field, one must, to use a vulgar expression, have been there.

——The next best thing, in order to arrive at a right conclusion in such a matter, is to have the evidence of eye-witnesses in an accessible form. From circumstantial proofs tendered by reliable experts, one can judge pretty closely what is the true state of affairs. If the tribunal conducting such an an enquiry is calm and cautious, weighing carefully the evidence and basing their report upon actual facts, it will supply unmistakable proof of the state of the case which cannot be forthcoming by any other means. On such a question the dispatches of the commanding generals are of far less real import than the testimony of medical experts, and no war correspondent's letters, however interesting they may be, can give more than a faint idea of the attendant horrors under which the sick and wounded heavily groan.

We have been led to these reflections by a brief study of the report on the late Egyptian war, issued by Lord Morley's committee. In the evidence given before this commission one will find abundant matter for painful and humiliating reflection. The cruelty and scandal of the medical administration in the Egyptian campaign is by no means pleasant reading. The stories told by distinguished officers of the fearful things they saw with their own eyes, and the accounts given by surviving victims, take away much of the glitter attached to the late war with Egypt. If there was one thing more than another on which the principles in that campaign prated themselves, it was the humanity shown in carrying it out, the tender regard for the comforts of the soldiers, the nice consideration for their every want. This was the assumption. But the evidence adduced proves that it was all mere pretence. In the conduct of the war there is not the slightest particle of appearance in the evidence of most trustworthy and reliable witnesses, to strengthen such a claim. Instead of first class appliances on every hand to aid the sick and wounded, all was bungling and mismanagement.

——The facts brought before the commission are very terrible indeed. There is absolutely no conflict of evidence as to the shamefully gratuitous nature of the sufferings to which the wounded were exposed in camp and hospital. Witnesses assert that in the mere despatch of the expedition it was found that hospital stoves were in one transport, and the patients for whose use they were intended in another. Many of the poor invalids were dumped on the bare ground at Cairo and Ismaila for want of beds. Hundreds of them lay there for hours and hours without food. The bread served to them was quite unfit for use, though excellent rations could be purchased at the adjoining bazaar. The wounded and infirm lay sweltering in their foul clothes, their faces covered so thickly with flies that their features were unrecognizable. Add to this horrible state of affairs the defect of medical attendance, and the negligence of the nurses. Lord Wolseley himself testifies that much of the creature comforts, ordered for the invalids, when they happened to be procured, were consumed by the brutal nurses!

——On whom should the responsibility for this sad lack of necessaries and fearful mismanagement rest? This question is now being fully debated. The medical department blame the commissariat, and say it was their fault. The officers in that department plead in extenuation, that they had only English flour, and that all which was sent out was bad. We have heard it often affirmed that several of the Arctic expeditions were lost by means of putrid canned meats. Commander Cheyne, who experienced terrible hardships in the frozen regions, vouches for this fact. Many a brave Englishman doubtless went to his last resting place in the Egyptian campaign through the horrible bread which was supplied to him and which was not sufficient to keep body and soul together. Every one knows that the real misery of campaigns lies not in fighting, nor in the chance of death in engagements. No, it is dirt, insufficient food, and no care, hunger, thirst, and the anguish of neglected wounds—these give war its real horrors. If conspicuous blunders and shocking failures mark, as it would seem, the treatment which the wounded received in the last war, then victory is turned into defeat. Nor is it the subordinates merely that are to be blamed. Those who claim credit for the success in Egypt must perforce accept the deeper responsibility for failure. No extenuating circumstances have, as yet, been forthcoming. But we hope that searching enquiry will yet be made, and the no right to grant licenses within the territory at all, and whatever may be done by Sir John Macdonald to reward his followers, by giving them land grants in the North-west, nothing of the sort can be tolerated in North-western Ontario. Now that the railway is open through to Winnipeg, the timber lands should be put up to sale or lease along the line, and the district would soon be filled with a self-constituted police force of the most effective kind. The people of Rat Portage have already asked for recognition by Ontario. Let the Government grant it, and they may make perfectly sure that whatever steps are necessary for following this initial one, the people will approve of.

The Temperance Movement.

It is a most encouraging and gratifying sign of the times to notice the growth of the temperance movement, both in this country and in England. Most pleasing testimony in this direction may be seen in almost every paper we take up at present. The decision of the Anglican Synod of Toronto the other day, is one striking proof that temperance is progressing. It will unanimously approving that an annual sermon on the subject of temperance should be preached in all the churches of the Diocese. A few years ago the passage of such a resolution would have been utterly impossible. On this occasion it was the outcome of a memorial from the Dominion Alliance, whose platform, it is well known, is entire prohibition. The feeling in the Synod as regards restrictive legislation in its extreme form, was, that such a thing is neither desirable nor practicable. Nevertheless, the members, both clerical and lay, were thoroughly agreed as to the evils of intemperance, and to the need of the church working more earnestly in this direction of social reform. The folly of indulgence in intoxicating drinks, and the terrible sins to which such an evil habit leads, ought to be more and more brought to the notice of the people. In this particular both the pulpit and press have a mission, and right nobly should it be fulfilled.

In the Old World the leading dignitaries of the Church of England are taking a very prominent part in the temperance movement. A great number of them are themselves total abstainers, and active Diocesan temperance organizations are the rule. At one time total abstainers were subject to sneers and contemptuous abuse, but now there is an improved feeling on all sides, and the Blue Ribbon movement is extending in every direction.

The brewers find the demand for their productions so decreased, that they have been obliged to begin the manufacture of soda-water, lemonade and other non-intoxicants. Many of them are alarmed at the decrease in the number of licensed houses, and as the principal brewers own much property of this description, they are at their wits' end to know what course to pursue. The publicans wish to form an association with a capital of over a million dollars, in order to protect their interests against further hostile legislation. This they naturally expect, owing to the increased activity in temperance circles.

That there is much room for improvement yet, cannot be denied. We have seen a private account written by a Canadian who was present at the Derby this year, which speaks of the drunkenness among men and women as something terrible. All along the roadside from London, men in all stages of intoxication were to be seen, some of them in rags and tatters, and many bearing tokens of severe pugilistic encounters. The number of drunken women, who seem lost to all sense of shame, in such cities as Edinburgh, Glasgow and London, is a fearful revelation to one accustomed to the ordinary quiet and decent ways of the same sex in our Canadian towns and cities.

The annual drink bill of England for 1881, while it marks a decided falling off in the consumption of foreign wines and spirits, still show an aggregate increase of 3.9 per cent. on the previous year. This increase, we are glad to notice, is chiefly in beer, of which over 970 millions of gallons were consumed. Mr. Hoyles calculates that the total expenditure upon intoxicating liquors in Great Britain during the past ten years has averaged 880 millions of dollars annually! This, it is actually proven, is more than the rental of all the houses and lands in the United Kingdom, and in five years aggregates a sum equal to the amount of the national debt! When we add to these horrifying results the additional fact, that during the last twenty years the convictions for crimes of all kinds has been doubled, that the number of lunatics has also greatly increased, while vagrants have nearly trebled in number, and that these evils spring very largely from habits of drinking. We have no reason to rest satisfied with the progress temperance has as yet made.

Those were solemn words spoken of intemperance by the late Archbishop of Canterbury. "It is," he said, "a dreadful evil, eating out the very heart of society, destroying domestic life among our working classes, and, perhaps, doing more positive harm than any other cause that could be named in this age. It is, in fact, the public source of misery, poverty and crime."

The Disputed Territory.

We hope to see the Mowat Government, now that its ranks are filled up again, take some active steps to give Ontario practical possession of the territory awarded to her under the arbitration of 1878. It is useless to wait for a settlement by the courts. There are now three Governments interested in the matter from different points of view, and to get up a case for submission to the Privy Council, which would be satisfactory to them all, would be a very difficult matter. Even if it were not, this Province is not called on to go to the Courts. The territory was awarded to her after a full investigation by competent arbitrators, and the task of disputing her claim must now be left to others. The Government should at once put a stop to all trespassing by all who have no permission from them, to cut timber or dig minerals. The Dominion Government have

HASTINGS.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A sad accident occured about a mile west of the village, Monday evening, by which a young man named William White lost his life by drowning. It appears that the deceased and a young man named Sandy Lobb, were out fishing in a ricketty canoe, when a terrific squall struck the frail craft, which upset. Young White clung to the boat for a few moments when he let go and endeavored to reach the shore, which was only distant some twenty yards, by swimming; though an average swimmer he failed. The young man Lobb clung to the boat, which drifted ashore. A party from the village went up to search for the body, which was recovered about 11.30 yesterday.—Star.

THE TORONTO CONFERENCE

THE BASIS OF UNION ADOPTED.

MAJORITY 100!

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

The Conference met this afternoon at 2 p. m. After singing the 402nd hymn, Rev. Mr. Green lead in prayer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The Rev. Mr. HILL then called to the platform Rev. Mr. Manning, B. A., and presented him with a small purse and the following address:—

"With regard to your kindly services in the post-office, it is my pleasure to present you with this list of illustrious names of your brethren, and this purse, which will speak in silvery accents of our gratitude for your constant attention."

The Rev. T. W. JEFFRAY read the report of the Committee on the State of the Work.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Young, seconded by Rev. J. Hunt, the report was adopted.

Rev. Dr. RICE (continuing)—I was giving a short time to the resolution of Dr. Hunter, and I now wish to turn to the veto power. In one of our union committee meetings Mr. Langford thought this power was of no moment, and was fast becoming of less account. Why was this veto power called up? I say it was simply because it was decided to admit the laity in equal numbers into your Conference. The basis proposed that all questions affecting annual Conferences become law only on a three-fourths majority of the General Conference, and if required by a two-thirds majority of each order of Ministry and laity voting separately. Why did we have this equal number of lay and clerical members in Conference? The reason was the representatives of the Primitive Methodist Church said we must have equal lay and clerical representation in the annual Conference or in Stationing Committees. We enforced the first, there was no principle at stake.

Let me refer to this spectre, this episcopacy—this Pope. There is a class of ships half brig and half schooner called hermaphrodite and of such a kind is our ecclesiastical constitution. To the charge, "you have exceeded your instructions," I say we had no instructions and I know what passed in the General Conference at that time. We were sent to find a basis of union and we found it. Where is the difficulty as to General Superintendency? All union committees acted under the restrictive rules and we therefore did not put them in the basis. These were understood to be incorporated. In the the Episcopal Methodists said we cannot put away Superintendency without an almost unanimous vote of the laity, which could not be gained and so we accepted this form of Superintendency. As to Bishop Carman, it is of no consequence what he says. The question is, what are we bringing into the new church? We are alone to look to the treaty, for by its terms we are bound. Bishop Carman is no more an Episcopal, in the Anglican sense, than I am. He came into committee a non-unionist and came out a unionist. I ask, what have we taken from the Presidency of Annual Conferences? Have we interfered with his rights to ordain? No. Is there any degredation in the Superintendent alternately occupying the chair? The power of ordination is co-ordinate, except that the President of the Annual Conference is more prominent. Then why recognize the Superintendency? Simply because the Episcopal Methodists could not come in unless the form of head was altered. I have no power to call a General Conference, unless there be for this basis a two-thirds majority of the laity and a majority of the ministry. I am adventurous and yet I cannot, like Dr. Hunter, hold out any hopes in that direction. If you stand by Dr. Hunter's motion the General Conference cannot be convened, and the basis will be lost. I look into the future of Methodism and if we are faithful to the head of the Church, and God, it will be as upward as the past. We want a simple church—a noble brotherhood—and our glory will multiply in Israel.

UNION COMMITTEE MEETINGS

DR. JEFFERS, on rising to speak, was greeted with loud and continued applause, and said in effect:—

I think this Conference so far has shown a most excellent spirit, and though violent things have been said by the speakers, yet they were mixed up with such rollicking fun and honest and pathetic sentiment that I cannot believe they were meant. I came to this conference not intending to speak at all in the discussion. I have been told repeatedly by my constituency, being an old member, and thoroughly acquainted with our past history. I might say, on the platform I have never yet whipped anybody, and can never realise that in these matters there can be a personal issue. In these general discussions I never but always believe we meet to help one another with our advice and counsel.

WISH FOR VICTORY,

With regard to the union, I regret to refer to the doubts that were thrown upon the honesty of those who oppose it. I say, that although personally favorable to union, the price may be too dear, and a little delay may make it more feasible. Several actions of the speakers I do not approve of such as the prophecies of success and defeat indulged in by the speakers, and the declaration that we are placed in such a position that it is compulsory for us to go on, and that we must accept the basis or go to war with the laity. Why should we be placed in such a position? I say the promoters of this union have sought to put us in a corner by such appeals, and no one who has heard the vehemence with which they have urged these objections can doubt of their intention.

I never was afraid of the laity. We would be far better to have them present in our Conferences to understand our actions and motives. Should any laymen say to me, it is selfishness on the part of the ministers not to support union, I ask them if, when 400 or 500 additional ministers are added to our circuits, and when expenses are so largely increased and so many superannuated added to our lists, the laity will supply our demands.

The incomes of the other churches seeking union are not as high as ours, and it will come to this, that there will be two ministers then where there is now one. I do not believe they will bring in a support proportionate to the numbers of their ministers. You will plunge yourselves into debt.

I do not believe there is such unanimity among the quarterly boards as the supporters of union affirm.

They labored under a mistake. They thought the ministry were in its favor. Another thing was that the two Toronto dailies strongly furthered this object. What would you say if such articles were written, not as the opinions of the public and political press, but by ministers supporting the union.

At the Hamilton Conference I said let us talk charitably about other denominations, so that if union fails this time there will be no impediment to future union, and this counsel I have always followed. I wish to speak of the restrictive rules. Dr. Rice spoke a great deal about honest men, and trust in this and that. No man should ask us to give him office or authority merely because he is honest. We have nothing to do with such pleas, but must settle the question on principles of common human nature and common Christianity.

As to the veto power, I cannot trust any general conference with unlimited power. Let us suppose union consummated, and the Superintendent taking the chair. A Nominating Committee is appointed—will not he be chairman and make everything secure for the remainder of the session? Where is the patronage in the Methodist Church, if not in the Stationing Committee? They have power to place us where we cannot educate or support our families, to do with as they please. Suppose a few men of each Conference be his auxiliaries—a central clique—men occupying chief offices, who have the power of controlling the funds and moving the Stationing Committee. Suppose this is all known, which of us will not say, I will no longer meddle in conference agitations. I will not become one of the opposition. I will merely work quietly for God. Is there then no danger in centralizing power? I dare say every secession from our Church has been owing to this centralizing power.

I say, too, that the promoters of this union, in anticipation of this office of Superintendent, voted him a salary of $2,000. Why? Unless his duties were wider than they say, unless the intention was that his labours should be permanent, and that he should interfere with the prerogatives of annual conferences. I am of opinion the Union Committee was restricted. If not, what was the purport of the motion of Rev. Mr. Shaw? I think we ought to go for union. I advocated it 20 years ago in the Guardian, and still advocate it. I took then, and still take the position if it is not practicable, let us work steadily for it, and at Hamilton I proposed that four years should be allowed to each of the contracting parties to adjust their finances and arrange all matters which were in question.

THE REV. DR. BURWASH

on rising to move a "rider", to the original motion of Dr. Sutherland, was heartily applauded and said:—I feel a trepidation in entering upon the question, but I shall consider it as calmly and dispassionately as possible.

As I understand, both the substitute of Rev. S. J. Hunter and the amendment to the substitute by Dr Hunter reject the basis, and it is equally clear my "rider" accepts it, and seeks only to guard the legal points in connection with the progress of the union, and meet the views of those who are opposed to it and who counsel delay. We should take care, lest, even if the basis is carried, difficulties and legal points should arise. The first question is, does the whole basis come before us properly and legally today? The powers of the

UNION COMMITTEE

were either defined by resolution or were general. In neither of the resolutions regarding the appointment of the Conference, is there a word which defines the powers of this Committee. They were, therefore, the ordinary powers of such committees, and I contend did not exceed jurisdiction. The speaker then referred to the question of the Superintendency, and said that the many heirs of the Episcopal Church in Cobourg had said: "If you do not accept this proposition, our restrictive rules prevent any hope of accomplishing the union." The Committee therefore threw upon the General Conference the responsibility of accepting or rejecting the proposition. We are called upon to

LOOK AT THE BASIS

and say is there anything so objectionable as to reject the union of Methodism in this country. I myself am prepared to accept the basis, although I do not think it a perfect ecclesiastical constitution. So long as men differ it will be impossible to arrive at anything except in the nature of a compromise. The speaker then touched upon the question of the restrictive clauses and the composition of the annual Conference. As to the question of introduction of Episcopacy, what are the duties of a Bishop? His functions are fourfold—presiding over the courts of Presbyters, ordination and the power of appointment and discipline. Do we then vest the Superintendent with Episcopal power? No. He presides, but only in conjunction with other men. He has the power of ordination, but only with other men, and if ordination is merely a religious service what is there in the superintendency which confers Episcopal functions. But the most important attributes are the power of stationing and discipline. A Bishop can remove at pleasure. Does the basis propose anything like this? Our Stationing Committee remains as before, and the Superintendent is not even a member of any such committee. Where then are the

GERMS OF EPISCOPACY?

And now as to the financial question? How much are we likely to suffer? To take an example. In my district there are 34 ministers, whose duties could be performed by 25 married men, and those 25 circuits would be stronger and better able to support 25. Will those who are thus thrown out give trouble. Suppose there are 100 surplus men on readjusting all the circuits, in three years every man would be provided for. The North-West opens its fields at present, and is crying for workers. By a united church we would have a mightier influence, a grander field and a higher position for all time to come.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Learoyd, seconded by the Rev. Mr. Savage, it was moved that the time allowed for each speaker hereafter be limited to ten minutes.—Carried.

The Conference then adjourned.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

On Wednesday evening, after the usual routine, the debate on the Union was resumed, and a motion to extend the time to each speaker to 15 minutes was lost.

Before entering upon the debate, the Rev. Mr. Tait asked permission to give explanations in reference to the condition of the Indians on his Bella Bella, British Columbia, mission and appealed to the members of the Conference for contributions towards buying a portable saw mill to cut lumber for building houses for the converts.

On resuming the union debate,

REV. J. B. CLARKSON, M. A.

thought we were rising on the tide leading on to ecclesiastical fortune. The C. M. Church was a child of providence. The whole union question was a question of organization. We set more closely to the polity of the church than the laity. the discipline is a part of its ministerial life. The polity of the church cannot be interferred with, laws can be made but not opinions.

The functions of the Union Committee were to find a basis, they were and their greatness consisted in the belief in a possible basis. The laity approve of it but the ministers find some things objectionable. The basis is the only plan to unite the four bodies of Methodists, and the only nurse that can cherish the Methodist bodies into a whole. He admitted that necessity impelled these bodies to unite as it had driven the speaker to Christ. Necessity is the outcome of a combination of difficulties. We must expect to make sacrifices, as Christ himself laid aside his glory to build the church. Amidst the diversity of modes among Methodists there was a unity of doctrine. He urged the necessity of going on with the great work of Union.

REV. A. BROWNING

explained his reason for voting for the basis, with Dr. Burwash's rider attached He was a union man ever since he was a Methodist preacher. He preferred union before everything else. Another reason was that the Conferences would cease to be separated by a Chinese wall. He wanted to get nearer his ministerial brethren, he wanted laymen in the Conference, especially in the Stationing Committee. Another reason was the glory of God would be promoted. He was prepared to make sacrifices for Christ and the union. He favored the rider to cover legal objections. Those who have opposed the basis were sincere, but he preferred postponement in order to bring opponents of union into line. He longed for the day when united Methodism would be a fact.

REV. R. DUKE

said Dr. Rice could not call together the General Conference without the authorizing majorities of the other Conferences. He favored the basis because it assured us that we were not taking action without legal authority. Opponents of union who threatened to secede would court ecclesiastical ostracism. The Romish church was waiting to carry to the Propaganda at Rome the welcome news of the defeat of the basis of a united Methodism. The speaker tersely pointed out the advantages of union.

REV. R. JONES

said he was one of the few that were left, who had witnessed the early struggles of Methodism. He did not except the threatened raid of the missionary committee of the British Conference in 1832. At that time we made great changes and sacrifices for the sake of unity. Regarding the changes of fifty years he had no fears of the wisdom of the present contemplated changes. He was surprised to see the position taken on the subject of union by the organ of the church, in accusing the promoters of insincerity. Time was called, but the venerable gentleman, amidst applause, thrust in the emphatic assertion—"I want you to understand I am for the basis."

REV. W. H. EMSLEY

was in favor of union, but not of the basis. He supported Dr. Hunter's amendment.

REV. E. STAFFORD

regarded the strong opposition to the basis as an advantage. It would show the weak points. What is the attitude now of those of the Montreal Conference who acknowledged themselves defeated. There was a firm determined opposition but we carried the basis without loss of friendship. They felt they were the first Conference, and the glory of defeating it would be the greater, but upon our gaining a narrow majority of 15, many crowded around us with congratulations and three men said to me that now that all is over and the excitement calmed, they were glad we gained the victory. I claim we are unanimous in working out the basis and no man is authorized to say that 60 men or even three men will hold out.

THE REV. J. G. LAIRD was a Union man and voted in the General Conference on this question. He was strong for union, from head to foot but yet as strong anti-basis. He opposed the basis on account of the Episcopal form of Superintendency—God was in union and it must prosper.

THE REV. DR. CARROLL

thought that when a young couple had done courting, the sooner they got married the better. We have done our courting thoroughly and if we had lovers' quarrels he didn't think there was need of postponing the union.

REV. PETER ADDISON

thought that this agitation had begun among the smaller bodies not here. He knew the smaller bodies were joining through necessity, if you accept the basis and adopt the amendment of Dr. Hunter I say it will only delay and not reject the union. It is not legislation that is required, but the binding of heart and soul together. I am ashamed of arguments like these:—Let us get them in our power and then handle them as we will. It is nonsense, that episcopacy is not coming into our church.

THE REV. E. B. YOUNG had come to this Conference unpledged. He was going to vote for basis as a loyal Canadian for the sake of the North West because they could not get better terms even if they delayed—because their tendency of the age is towards union, and because in union is strength.

THE REV. T. W. JEFFREY

in a few minutes' speech contended that the formation of a Committee by Dr. Douglas at Hamilton was illegal.

REV. J. HUNT

was stirred while Dr. Rice was describing the heart-burnings in the church in 1847. He said there never was such terrible feeling at that time. He would vote against it.

AT THIS JUNCTURE

It was moved by Rev. R. N. Willoughby, and seconded by Rev. W. H. Laird, that this Conference now take necessary steps preliminary to voting.—Carried.

By this motion it was understood that all further discussion should be closed except the replies of Rev. Dr. Hunter, the Rev. S. J. Hunter, and Rev. Dr. Dr. Sutherland.

DR. HUNTER,

on rising, said that Dr. Rice had made him blush at the high compliment given him, when he assured the Conference, that he (the speaker) was a most adroit debater. He had referred to the dictionary for the meaning of the word, and saw it was a good one. It meant dexterous, active, and straightforward. (Dr. Nelles.—also, on the right side.) I have been on the side of union from the beginning, and consistently. I stand here and declare before God, that in the drafting and presentation of that motion, I had no idea of splitting the vote. It was not concocted in a caucus, but alone. Every word was the conviction of his heart. The speaker referred to the men who had voted at Montreal and London, and those who were now about to vote against the union, and asked if when these men have such profound convictions and said "here I stand," they must go elsewhere. (No, no.)

The speaker then took up objections of the several speakers against his motion, and concluded by saying:—"If you accept this resolution of mine, and if the General Conference be summoned, I shall be there to secure what I wished and prayed for—a united Methodism—to secure peace, harmony and cordiality in the church, and the cause of God among us.

The Rev. S. J. HUNTER on rising to reply referred to the story of Clay, who, when running for President, did things that had displeased some friends. People came to him and said, if you do these things you will ruin your prospects. I had rather, said he in reply, do right than be President. That was his position. He wished to know who objected to lay representation. He did not. Impressions were sought to be conveyed that this body had given up nothing, yet we had given up the right to appoint an annual superintendent. We are adopting the distinguishing incident of Anglicanism. We will reap a large share of connectional power, and the veto power of annual conferences. He then referred to the question, could he reject the basis and justify himself before the Court of Conscience. He could, and wondered if those who smiled and curled their lips at these things did not measure him by their own buahel. He thought he could afford to face the so-called public sentiment. If Methodism depended on sentiment, and not righteousness, God help it. In the two conferences of London and Montreal, there were 156 voted against the basis. Are these men obstructionists? Are they loyal? Have they ever rallied round your interests, and when these men say they are governed by no factious temper or selfish desire, and yet cannot accept some of the provisions of the basis, are these men to go out of the Church? (No, no.) Then vote against the basis.

The Rev. Dr. SUTHERLAND, on rising, was greeted with loud applause and said:—A member of parliament addressed a brother member, and said there is no use talking, you will not change a vote. Have you never been changed? asked the other. Yes; said he, I have changed my opinion, but not my vote. I trust we shall never fall into party lines and vote right or wrong. A wise man changes his mind often, a fool never.

There was just a little disposition to abuse the plaintiffs' counsel, but he rejoiced in the general good spirit that prevailed, and congratulated the opposition for the plucky manner in which they had fought a failing cause. One good brother had tried to get me on the dissecting table, but he would find me a lively corpse. The Dr. then corrected the misrepresentations indulged in in reference to other churches, and read letters from prominent men of those bodies to verify his statements. He then met the arguments of the several speakers in vigorous style, and concluded a noble and eloquent speech by an appeal to stand by shoulder to shoulder, to contend for a united Christian Church throughout the whole world.

A vote was then taken and stood as follows:—

After singing "O for a thousand tongues to sing," the Conference adjourned at 1.05 a.m.

THURSDAY.

The Conference met this morning at 9 a.m., and opened with the usual devotional exercises.

The Rev. T. W. Campbell, B.A., read the annual pastoral address.

On motion of Dr. Burwash, it was received, adopted and ordered to be printed.

It was moved by Rev. E. Young, and seconded by Rev. Dr. Rice, that the very cordial thanks of the Conference be presented to the inhabitants of Peterborough, who so kindly, hospitably and cordially entertained us during the present Conference, and we beg to assure them that our sincerest thanks and prayers and best wishes are for their continued temporal and spiritual prosperity.

On motion of Dr. Burwash, the thanks of the Conference were given to the Ministers of Peterborough for their kind attention during this Conference.

It was moved by Rev. Dr. Hunt and seconded by Rev. Dr. Dewart, that a vote of thanks be given to the press, for their full and accurate reports of our proceedings.

A vote of thanks was also passed in favor of the railways, and especially to Geo. A. Cox, Esq., of this town.

On motion, the Assistant Secretary was instructed to send greeting to the Eastern Conference now sitting at Yarmouth.

The Rev. Geo. Washington, M.A., read the report of the Contingent fund, which was received and adopted.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Burwash, the Rev. R. Jones was appointed Treasurer of the Educational Fund.

The Rev. John Breden then read the report of the Board of Examiners.

It was recommended, among other things, that the Revs. Dr. Harper and Dr. Withrow be the examiners for Victoria College; that the Revs. Dr. Cochran and John Shaw be the examiners for the Theological College in Montreal. The names of the Board of Examiners for 1884 were given also therein.

It was moved by Rev. Dr. Nelles, seconded by Rev. W. S. Blackstock, that the report be received and adopted.

The meeting then adjourned.

Hop Bitters are the Purest and Best Bitters Ever Made.

They are compounded from Hops, Malt, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion,—the oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other remedies, being the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigor to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Apetizer, Tonic and mild Stimulant, Hop Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Hop Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use Hop Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

Do not suffer or let your friends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop Bitters.

Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, drugged, drunken nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the Bitters to-day. 26-4t

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Rest and Comfort to the Suffering.

"BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA" has no equal for relieving pain, both internal and external. It cures Pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, Lumbago and any kind of a Pain or Ache. "It will most surely quicken the Blood and Heal, as its acting power is wonderful." "Brown's Household Panacea," being acknowledged as the great Pain Reliever, and of double the strength of any other Elixir or Liniment in the world, should be in every family, handy for use when wanted, "as it really is the the best remedy in the world for Cramps in the stomach, and Pains and Aches of all kinds," and is for sale by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle. 6-1y

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

PETEBBOROUGH, JUNE 28, 1883.

A Sophistical Pleader.

Anything more unfair than the special plea put forward by Mr. Foster, in support of the McCarthy License Law could not well be imagined. Take a few points by way of illustration. He says:—

"In Nova Scotia, no license could be granted unless two-thirds of the ratepayers petitioned in its favor. Under the new Act only one-third of the ratepayers are required to petition in favor of the applicant. But Nova Scotia is more than compensated for this loss by the fact that the people, by actual vote, in a parish or municipality, may prohibit all licenses for three years; and, what is still better, may have a paid system of enforcement provided in all the license districts and in all counties which have adopted the Canada Temperance Act. This last was vitally necessary in Nova Scotia, where already nearly two-thirds of the counties have adopted the Canada Temperance Act, and others are working in the same direction. The same remark applies, but with greater force, to Prince Edward Island, where all the territory is under the Canada Temperance Act, but where a proper system of enforcement is sadly needed."

To this we reply (1) that in so far as the enforcement of the Canada Temperance Act, usually called the Scott Act, is concerned, the provision praised by Mr. Foster could have been inserted in the Scott Act itself without deranging the whole liquor traffic by intermeddling with the ordinary license laws; (2) that the people of Nova Scotia do not think they are compensated for what they would be deprived of if the McCarthy Act were to be substituted for their own; (3) that anyone can see for himself they are not so compensated, and this, on Mr. Foster's own showing. The proof of our second statement is to be found in the testimony of two Presbyterian clergymen who, at the Assembly meeting in London the other day, declared that in the opinion of the Nova Scotians the new act is a quarter of a century behind their own. A glance at the provisions will suffice to show the truth of our third assertion. Experience has shown that in Nova Scotia it is extremely difficult to get two-thirds of the ratepayers in a district to petition for a license, and in many localities this difficulty amounts to absolute prohibition. Now it will be comparatively easy to get one-third of the ratepayers, while the prohibitory privilege can be exercised only by a cumbrous system of expressing popular opinion. There is no compensation in this. Had the Dominion license law been as stringent in all other respects as the Provincial laws collectively, Mr. Foster would, apart from the question of jurisdiction, have had a case. As it is he has none.

He deals with Quebec and Manitoba in the same way. At present in Quebec, one-half the ratepayers in a polling subdivision, can prevent, by petition, a license from being granted. The McCarthy Act makes it necessary to procure a two-thirds petition. And what is the compensation? That each new applicant for a license must get one-third of the ratepayers, instead of 25, to petition. The power to veto the whole traffic for three years is already conferred by the Scott Act. In Manitoba an applicant has to get 16 out of the 20 nearest ratepayers, a much severer task than getting one-third of them all. Mr. Forster will have to give stronger reasons before the people of Nova Scotia, Quebec or Manitoba will regard favorably a law which comes to them weighted with the objection that it is a gratuitous invasion of provincial rights.

In one point the McCarthy Act is so far behind the Crooks Act that this defect alone would prevent its acceptance by the temperance people of this Province. If there is one thing on which they are more sensitive than on all others, it is Sunday selling. Now, Mr. Foster admits the Crooks Act absolutely forbids the sale of liquor between seven on Saturday evening and six on Monday morning. Exception is made in favor of liquor sold for medicinal purposes, but no exception is made in favor of hotel guests. The McCarthy Sunday selling clause is copied from the Crooks Act, with an addition legalizing the sale of liquor by hotel keepers to their guests at meal-time. This is so much of a retrograde step that it will not be accepted by the temperance people, whatever party exigencies may constrain Mr. Foster to do about it. As a matter of fact his acceptance of this clause and subsequent defence of it have completely shaken the faith of his former co-workers in his firmness and consistency.

A choice selection of Summer Millinery still to be found in Turnbull's Show Room.

A Wide Awake Reeve.

The ratepayers of Burleigh are to be congratulated on having as their representative in the County Council, a gentleman who takes so active an interest in the affairs of the municipality as Mr. Elmhirst. The municipality is not by any means a wealthy one, and the payment of the taxes is a serious matter to many of the ratepayers. The school debt to the county was looked on as no inconsiderable burden, but thanks to the indefatigable exertions of Mr. Elmhirst the burden has been greatly reduced. Through his active movement in the matter at the last session of the County Council, that body appreciated the position of Burleigh, and the school debt of some $1100 due the county, was reduced to $600, as will be seen by a reference to our council report. The terms of payment were also so arranged as to make the burden as light as possible. While credit is due the County Council for their disposition to deal generously with Burleigh, that municipality is none the less indebted to Mr. Elmhirst for presenting the matter in the interest of his constituents so strongly before the members of the council. Mr. Elmhirst by the active interest he has shown in the affairs of Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos, proves that he is the right man in the right place.

A Threatened Danger.

The people of the Midland District will be not only disagreeably astonished but greatly alarmed at the facts pointed out in the following remarks, taken from the Globe of Wednesday:—

"Among the subsidies voted to aid railway construction at the last Ottawa session there was an additional bonus of $6,000 per mile to assist a line from Gravenhurst to Callender. At a previous session the Dominion Government had carried through a grant for the same purpose of $6,000 per mile. There is, therefore, at the disposal of the Government $12,000 per mile to aid this line. As subsidies go in Ontario this is a large one, but we do not absolutely say that it is excessive until it can be ascertained beyond a doubt whether the work might not be done for a smaller amount of public aid. If, however, so large a grant is to be made, there are several points which must be insisted upon in the public interest.

This line will form the chief link between the Ontario railway system and the Canadian Pacific, and over this link every Ontario railway must have equal rights, and the traffic of every part of the Province must have absolutely fair play. The two systems which reach Gravenhurst are the Northern by its own line, and the Midland by statutory running powers over the Northern from Atherly Junction to Gravenhurst. Neither of these railways should have the slightest advantage over the other from Gravenhurst northward, but the neutral link of subsidized line should be outside of and independent of them both. The Northern and North-Western serve Toronto, Hamilton and the West, and therefore they should have the fullest fair play, and equal rights with the Midland. The Midland is a Toronto standard guage road now, and by it Toronto is the same distance from Atherly and Gravenhurst as by the Northern. Therefore Toronto, in order to have its two routes to Callender, must have the Midland's rights secured over the neutral link. The Grand Trunk is in close connection with the Midland, and every place on its great system in Western Ontario must insist that the Midland shall receive fair play. In addition to this, the whole of the Province from Toronto to Kingston will be subjected to a grossly unfair discrimination if the Midland does not stand on absolutely the same footing as its rival, the Northern.

There is another consideration in this question that must not be overlooked. The settlers of the Muskoka and Parry Sound districts have been long hoping for a railway to the front, and have always had the advocacy of The Globe to help them. But there is one thing that they do not want, and will not submit to, —that is, a railway monopoly for their local traffic. If a railway is built by private capital, or moderate public aid, it may require to have a monopoly of traffic to pay its interest. A line which is to receive $12,000 per mile, however, must never be a monopoly. Both the Midland and the Northern must have the same rights as to local traffic over the neutral link.

In view of the unanswerable arguments in favor of the independence of the Callender line, the public will be startled to hear that a bold effort is now being made to throw the whole Dominion subsidy into the hands of the Northern Railway! Last session the attempt was unsuccessfully made to secure legislation to accomplish this, but now it is openly claimed that the Northern has secured control of the stock in the McCarthy Company, which has a charter to build to Callender, and intends to "demand" the whole Dominion subsidy, and construct and operate the line. It is almost inconceivable that in the heart of Ontario, and with the vast interests involved, such a plot should succeed. We warn the commercial communities, and we warn the settlers of Muskoka in time. The President of the Northern has also a vast in the Dunkin Government, and boasts of his power to secure this subsidy. Besides, no one can fail to recall the contributions to Conservative election funds, and to testimonials to the Premier himself, which were lavishly made by this same Northern Railway Company. Let us see if the Northern is to be "re-couped" by getting the practical control of this sum of $1,320,000 and the monopoly in local traffic, and the advantage over all other lines in the through traffic.

The article itself shows the danger that menaces the interests of the Midland system, and therefore, necessarily, those of Peterborough and the Midland district. The near approach of our hour of going to press, and the demands on our space compel us to reserve remarks on the subject which the occasion suggests. The subject is one that interests every business man and citizen, and not a moment should be lost to set on foot such an opposition as will prevent the carrying out of a scheme to give the Northern an immense monopoly.

MAGISTRATE'T COURT.

There was a very full calendar at a Magistrate's Court held here on Saturday, four cases in all, about as many as now generally comes before our County Judge at his semi-monthly sittings at this place. The attendance of spectators as usual was large, as there is nothing else particularly to engage the attention of a large portion of our community now. The magistrates sitting on these cases were Messrs. Hugh Drain, John Breakenridge, T. Murphy and Thos. Burke. The first case was

Jas. McLaughlan vs. Wm Anderson.—Both litigants are from Belmont. The charge laid by the former against the latter was for assault and battery. Defendent pleaded "not guilty." Several witnesses were called by McLaughlin, only one giving any evidence to prove the charge. Mr. Anderson was fined $3 with costs $4.50.

Wm. Anderson vs. James McLaughlin.—The plaintiff and defendent of the above case being reversed in this one. The defendant was charged with using abusive and threatening language towards the plaintiff and several members of his family. Several witnesses were called who substantiated the charge. McLaughlin was fined $2, with costs $4.50.

Arch. Frazer vs. Robert Scott.—The defendent, son of Mr. James Scott, of this village, was charged with assaulting and severely beating John Fraser, son of the complainant. This case caused a good deal of merriment in court, and produced a scene that might well be re-enacted on some of our leading theatrical stages, the magistrates, as well as our whole commnnity, being the recipients of a great deal of virulent abuse. Mr. Scott, for his son, pleaded "not guilty." The charge, however, was proved by a credible witness, who saw the Scott boy pounding the smaller boy Frazer. A fine of five dollars was imposed for the offence, with $3.50 costs, a much needed contribution for the construction of our sidewalks.

DOMINION DAY.

Monday, the 2nd of July, promises to be a gala day here, as preparations on a most extensive scale are being made to celebrate the day in a manner that will compare favorably with the great festivities observed elsewhere on this occasion. A grand lacrosse match, between the Sioux club, of Madoc, and the Norwood Lacrosse Club, will be one of the leading features of the day. The former vanquished the latter club a short time ago at Madoc, but the home team expect this time to retrieve their fortunes. At any rate the Norwoodites are vigorously practising, and no doubt will be able then to give a good account of themselves.

LACROSSE.

A game of lacrosse will be played today (Thursday) between the Belleville and Norwood Lacrosse Clubs. The members of the latter are in good form, and it is expected that the match will be a lively and interesting one.

OUR RAILWAY STATION.

On Monday last Mr. Bray, C. E. of the Ontario & Quebec Railway, located the additional grounds on Mr. McCarthy's farm for the station of that line at Norwood. The village, according to agreement, gave the Company a quantity of land just north of the cemetery, but this not being sufficient the latter have added additional ground for shunting purposes.

PERSONAL.

Miss Kate Buck and Mrs. George Jones of this village, took part in the dedication services of the Methodist Church at Campbellford on Friday and Sunday last, the former as organist and the latter as a vocalist.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell, Presbyterian minister of Belleville, preached here in the morning in the Presbyterian Church, and in the evening occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church. On both occasions he delivered eloquent and impressive sermons.

His Lordship, Bishop Jamot, of Peterborough, officiated in the Roman Catholic Church here on Tuesday of last week, and administered the rite of confirmation to a number of young people of this parish. The ceremony was a very impressive one, and was witnessed by a large number of people from all denominations of this community.

D. Kelly vs. James Wasson, both of Asphodel, litigation concerning the filling of a drain by defendant. Case postponed till next Saturday.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

[We are compelled to condense this correspondence.

The school board met in special session on Tuesday evening. Amongst other business was the appointment of a committee, in compliance with a letter of Mr. Bird, to investigate past accounts of the Board. Committee, Messrs. Galvin, Wilson and Dr. Armour.

The Canoe and Boating Club will not hold any amusements here on the 2nd of July.

The Foresters will probably have an excursion up the lakes and a pic-nic on Monday.

The local club defeated the Peterborough team neatly at cricket on Saturday.

Teams are taking the plant up to Buckhorn for the canal works. About forty men are now employed.

Clementi Lodge meets in the Masonic Hall, Tuesday, July 3rd.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Mr. Bradshaw on Sunday last conducted both morning and evening service and preached the sermons in St. John's, (the Baptist Church,) Lakefield.

Mr. G. Williams, of Toronto, comes to Peterborough in August as permanent secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

Rev. Mr. Farncombe preached in St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, last Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. John Shaw and G. A. Cox, Esq., occupied positions on the platform at the closing exercises of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, on Tuesday.

Mr. R. W. Grubbe, teller of the Bank of Toronto here, was the other day presented by his fellow clerks with a handsome meerschaum pipe on the occasion of his completing his twentieth year in the employ of the bank. We are pleased to add that the public generally, as well as the customers of the bank heartily sympathize with the feeling that prompted the presentation. Mr. Grubbe has won an enviable popularity, as well by his obliging and courteous treatment of customers, as by his gentlemanly bearing in every social relation.

A Model Sheet.

The publisher of the Peterborough EXAMINER has been issuing a daily during the session of the Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church in that town. The daily is a model sheet in every respect, and Peterborough is to be congratulated in having such an enterprising publisher as Mr. Stratton undoubtedly is.—Bruce Reporter.

Dominion Day.

Dominion Day celebration preparations are going forward briskly. Next Monday will witness the biggest celebration ever held in the town. Be sure and read bills and programmes. Never before were so complete and extensive preparations made. In the way of celebrations no town has ever attempted or promised to present such a complete and magnificent demonstration. A faint idea may be gathered from the posters and programmes.

Strawberry Festival.

Although the strawberry festival season is late in arriving, it will open in town in becoming style. The Young People's Association of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will give a Strawberry Festival at the residence of Geo. Edmison, Esq., Rubidge Street, on Thursday evening, July 5th. The hour of assembling is 8 p.m. In addition to the luscious refreshments, there will be excellent vocal and instrumental music. Admission 15 cents, refreshments extra. No efforts will be spared to make this festival, as the opening one of the season, a phenomenal and sample one. The public cordially invited.

If Messrs. Meredith, Creighton, Plumb, Lander and Hawkins can, by invading a constituency, increase a Reform majority to 880, how many more of the party would be necessary to raise it to a thousand?

I am a man sixty years of age; hair and moustache as white as snow. I can give you any number of references, as I am well known in this State. I have been diseased all my life with pain in my stomach. This fall I was taken sick and could get no relief from the best doctors, with all their skill, our city could afford, but grew worse until I went to using your ZOPESA. It brought me out all right by using one bottle, and I am better now and my system is more regular than for years. J. C. BROWN.

JUDICIAL SALE

OF VALUABLE

Freehold Property

Under and by virtue of an order of the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, made in a certain action of MANSON v. MANSON and with the approbation of Thomas Hodgins, Esq., Q.C., Master in Ordinary of the Supreme Court of Judicature, there will be sold by Public Auction,

At the CAISSE HOUSE,

in the TOWN of PETERBOROUGH, on

Saturday, the 7th day of July, 1883

at 12 o'clock noon, by CHAS. STAPLETON, Auctioneer, the following Valuable Freehold Property, described as the

North East Fifty Acres of Lot Number Nine, and the West Half of Lot Number Ten, in the Second Concession of the

TOWNSHIP OF ASPHODEL,

In the County of Peterborough.

Except certain village lots sold to J. Fife, R. Fife, and W. Sharpe. The property is well situated, the Village of Westwood being partly built on its northern boundary, and Birdsall's Station on the Grand Junction Railway being about 1½ miles to the south. The Villages of Hastings and Norwood are about 7 miles distant, and the Village of Keene is about ten miles distant, all of which places are good grain markets. At the said Village of Westwood, are a Post Office, Stores, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, Schools, &c. The stream which drives the Westwood grist mill to the north, and the Welbeck saw mill to the south, runs to the farm, making it a very desirable place for stock raising. On the property there is a good pine and hardwood bush of eight or nine acres in extent. The farm is in a good state of cultivation, and is well fenced, mainly with cedar. The buildings consist of a log barn and stables, and a dwelling house, partly frame and partly log, all of which are in a good state of repair.

TERMS OF SALE.—Ten per cent. of the purchase money is to be paid at the time of sale, to the Vendors, or their Solicitor, and the balance into Court to the credit of the Master, within one month thereafter, without interest.

The other conditions of sale are the standing conditions of the High Court of Justice.

The property will be sold subject to a reserved bid.

For further particulars apply to MESSRS. McCARTHY, OSLER, HOSKIN & CREELMAN, Temple Chambers, Toronto; or, WILLIAM MORTIMER CLARK, Esquire, Barrister, 3 Union Block, Toronto.

Dated 12th June, 1883.

MASONIC SERMON.

Preached by the Rev. H. B. Matthews of Bracebridge, Formerly of Peterborough, in the George Street Methodist Church on St. John the Baptist's Day, June 24th, 1883, under the Auspices of Corinthian Lodge, No. 151, and Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A.F. and A.M.

"In the fourth year was the foundation of the house of the Lord laid. In the month of Zif; and in the eleventh year, in the month of Bul, which is the eighth month, was the house finished throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the fashion of it.—I Kings. vi. 37-38."

The month of Zif corresponds to our month of May, and Bul to November, so that the temple was about seven years and six months in building. Our text brings before us Solomon. He was the son of David by Bethsheba, and the third king of the Hebrew nation. He ascended the throne B.C. 1016. David, about six months before his death, relinquished the government and voluntarily gave it into the hands of Solomon, to whom he gave a solemn charge respecting its administration. Solomon was celebrated throughout the world for his wealth, splendor and wisdom. He is the author of three thousand proverbs. He planned and executed the most perfect system of irrigation that the world had ever seen; busied himself in maritime affairs, establishing magnificent fleets of merchant vessels, and no mean navy; but the most wonderful event of his life was the erection of the great temple on the summit of Mount Moriah.

The foundation was laid in the fourth year of the reign of Solomon, or B. C. 1012. In the preparation of materials and its erection, no less than 183,600 persons were employed. The sacred edifice was oblong. It was 105 feet in length, 35 in breadth, and 52½ in height. In the porch of the temple there are two pillars, the one to the left is Boaz, meaning it is strength, and on the right Jachin, meaning "he shall establish it;" conjointly, as every Mason is aware they mean "to establish." At the end of seven and one-half years the temple stood complete in all its splendor, the glory of Jerusalem, and the most magnificent edifice in the world.

In the word of God spiritual lessons are drawn from it. In Isaiah, "Thus saith the Lord, behold I lay in Zion for a foundation," etc. In I Cor., "For other foundations can no man," etc. We have, "Ye are God's building," "Ye are the temple of the Holy Ghost," etc.

I. We direct your attention to the foundation.

A building, to remain unshaken by the winds, and stand securely in the storm, must have a good solid fundation. It may be difficult to understand that although Solomon's temple is absolutely gone—effaced from the earth, so that not a fragment can be seen, yet the foundation on which it was built remains. But let us look at it more closely, and it will appear stranger still. Mount Moriah was a knobby, narrow, crooked ridge. Let us take a rectangle, 1,600 feet by 1,000, and we have 36½ acres of land. Build a wall around it of great stones, 8, 10, 12, and even 40 feet long, and of proportionate breadth and thickness; bind the stones firmly together with clamps of iron and lead, and in the same manner fasten them to the native rock below; then raise that wall to an average height of one hundred and fifty feet, of solid mason work; fill up solidly that space of 36½ acres, and you have the platform erected by Solomon's craftsmen, on which to place the foundation of that mighty temple. This foundation was of calcareous limestone.

But in the foundation of masonary we find the idea of excelling in workmanship and benevolence. There were three master-minds, Solomon, Hiram, King of Tyre, the friend of Solomon, and Hiram Abiff. In this we have that which is older than the orders of the Golden Fleece or Roman Eagle, and shall I say, more honorable than the order of the Star and Garter, and which had its origin in the advance of intelligence and the benefit of the human race.

And the foundation of the Christian Church rests on Christ. The doctrine of Christ crucified was the foundation of the Apostolic Church, and has continued down through the ages. Whether we look at particular branches or at the great Church of Christ, it is this doctrine that God blesses to conversion. Let us rest on this firm, immovable and true foundation.

II. The building was properly framed together.

A building is not merely a heap of materials. That would be an unsightly mass. But for a building, it is necessary (1) that the materials be prepared before being used. In Solomon's temple, so thoroughly was this attanded that when they put the building together there was not the sound of hammer, axe, or any tool of iron heard. All was quiet and noiseless.

And in Freemasonry, the candidates are first prepared before they enter on their mission of usefulness. No man can enter a Masonic Lodge without being free-born and of good moral character. Its doors are not open to the deformed in body, and bankrupt in character.

(2) That the materials be formed by some rule.

The materials were so formed that the protuberances and roughnesses were not only smoothed down and polished off, but so measured and squared that they suited the foundation as well as superstructure.

And in Masonry, while it is not religion, while it is not the Grace of God, while it has no Redeemer in it, yet it impresses some of the most important duties, and teaches some of the most useful lessons of life. It is two-fold.

(1) It is operative. It teaches industry, and every Mason is expected and required to be industrious. It requires the use of our physical and mental powers, that in the cultivation of our minds we may be rendered better fitted members for properly constituted society.

The Grand Master of the Craft is either of Blood Royal or else a scholarly man.

(2) It is speculative. Just like that vessel out upon the waste of waters, while the storms rage and tempests roar, ploughs through the deep blue sea and carries her commodities from shore to shore to benefit mankind, so masonry, in the domestic ties and moral obligations, seeks to bind man to man, and thus benefit the human race.

And in the Church of our Lord Jesus Christ the materials are prepared. It is only by repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ that we truly rest on the foundation. Likeness to our Lord Jesus Christ is our bond of agreement. We become one with Christ in his Gospel, government and spirit, and being conformed to his image grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord; form a part of his Church and advance his glorious kingdom.

3. The temple was for the comfort of God's people. In the temple and its service they found true comfort. They regarded it as their great centre, and three times a year did all the males appear before God, bringing their offerings with them. In the service of God had they joy, quietness and satisfaction.

And in Masonry there is much true comfort. (1) It is shown in its charity. Like that vine, which strikes its tendrils into and entwines around the tree on yonder plain. The raging winds may blow and the snow-flakes fall, but it remains safe for it is supported by the tree. There is not one of us but has dropped the tear of sympathy for the poor straggling widow, and the suffering fatherless. Masonry teachers us to relieve the wants of the widow, and almost with a father's solicitude, tenderness and care, the fatherless. It expends yearly large watch oversame in relieving the distress-disbursed year no less than $13,000 was ed. Last in charities. And so it is every year. No true Mason ever sought bread at the hands of Mason and was sent empty away.

But we rise to the broader plane and take the higher ground of charity for the views of each other. If we differ, we respect the opinion of each other. And while in the beautiful language of our ritual, we cover the innocent "faibles of life with the broad mantle of a Mason's charity," in true charity we delight to speak of excellencies.

(2) It is shown in brotherly love. In Masonry all stand upon the same level, they are men, brethren. A Mason's inmost thoughts are safe in the breast of a true mason,, while it is his great delight to show a brother's watchfulness and care. Brotherly love not only sparkles as the stars or glimmers as the moon, but shines forth in the strength and glory of the blazing sun.

But in the Church of Christ it is our privilege to enjoy richness and fullness of comfort. As Christ dwells in the heart by faith, we have blessed hopes of immortality. We trust in him, and our peace flows as the calm and placid river, and in happiness, joy and comfort we press "toward the mark of the prize of our high calling," until we come to God's right hand, where there is fullness of joy and pleasures for evermore.

3. It was a means of safety to the nation. The Jews looked to Jerusalem and Solomon's temple as their delight, and as they taught them to trust in the Lord Jehovah they became a source of strength. In that wonderful prayer at the dedication of the temple; if neighbour offended neighbour; if the land suffered from mildew or pestilence; if war with all its ravages and blasting effects were to come upon the people, then were they to find safety as they lifted their hearts to God in prayer. It thus became a means of safety to the people.

And masonry becomes a means of safety in this, that it teaches a reverence for God and the things that pertain to God. Travellers tell us that you may stand on the banks of the Rhine, which rises in Lake Constance in Switzerland and empties into the German Ocean, and for twenty miles you may trace the river until you see the broad, calm and beautiful sheet of water. Masonry teaches us to constantly look to and trust in God.

But there is one view more striking still, and that is that Freemasonry is a bulwark against infidelity. The Bible lies at the door of every lodge, and no man can enter without affirming his belief in its inspiration; in its glorious truths and in future rewards and punishment. Infidelity may endeavour to lift her hydra head and curse mankind with her cold negations, but Masonry stands forth and says, we believe and therefore we trust. I have stood on the hill top at Marquette when Lake Superior felt the force of the storm. I have seen the angry waves rise higher and higher still, and in fury break at my feet. But they subsided, the foam disappeared and the lake became calm, and the good old hill stood there as firmly as ever. And though infidelity may assail our faith, we rest our feet upon the Bible, and the Bible shuts it out of the Lodge Room.

"Should all the forms that men devise
Assault my faith with treacherous art,
I'd call them vanity and lies,
And bind thy Gospel to my heart.

And in the Church of Christ there is true safety. Our lives are hid with Christ in God. We have safety from a guilty conscience and perplexing doubts. We have safety from the sting of death and darkness of the grave, and we have safety eternally. Let us then, as Masons and friends, enjoy the favour of God, and and have safety in the love of Jesus Christ.

CONCLUSION.

After seven years of unwearying diligence and industry, that majestic structure was completed and the temple was finished. Says Croley, in reference to it, "I see the court of the Gentiles circling the whole, a fortress of the purest marble, with its wall rising six hundred feet from the valley; its kingly entrance worthy of the fame of Solomon; its innumerable and stately buildings for the priests and officers of the temple, and above them glittering like a succession of diadems those alabaster porticos and colonnades in which the chiefs and sages of Jerusalem sat teaching the people, or walked breathing the air and gazing on the grandeur of a landscape that swept the whole amphitheatre of the mountains. I see rising above this stupendous boundary the court of the Jewish woman, separated by its porphyry pillars and richly sculptured wall; above this the separated court of the men; still higher the court of the priests; and highest the crowning splendor of all, the central temples, the place of the sanctuary, and the Holy of Holies covered with plates of gold, its roof planted with lofty spear heads of gold, the most precious metals and marbles everywhere flashing back the day, till Mount Moriah stood forth to the eye of the stranger approaching Jerusalem, what it had so often been described by its bards and people, a mountain of snow studded with jewels." There, on the summit of Mount Moriah, with its masses of white marble and squares of gold glittering in the sun, stood the finished temple in all her beauty, grandeur and glory.

And the Masonic Temple is getting larger and larger. Nearly all the crowned heads of Europe, the leading public men in every country in the world, many of the best minds in the church and state, ministers of the Gospel, judges, lawyers and medical men, all feel it a privilege and pleasure to belong to the Craft. And as the earth by revolving on its axis in every part is brought under the influence of the sun, so the sun with beaming rays is constantly shining on Masonic temples. It is extending over the kingdoms of earth, inculcating lessons of sympathy for the suffering; teaching brotherly love to all as descendants of Adam, our federal head; and endeavouring to bless mankind with its benign influence.

And the Church of Jesus Christ is destined to rise superior to all difficulties; extend "from the rivers to the ends of the earth;" and prove instrumental in causing the "kingdoms of this world to be the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ." Then shall the glory of the Lord shine forth in its fullness and power, and all shall own Christ as Lord of all.

Masons! be true to your obligations and faithful unto God, that when the Grand Master calls you from labour to refreshment, Heaven may be your temple, your home, your abode forever.

Followers of Christ! let fidelity in the discharge of every duty be characteristic of you, that when called away from earth you may hear the Lord say, "Well done," and in that blessed home beyond the grave possess the joy and glory of Heaven forever.

BAPTIST MINISTER'S TESTIMONY

Through the use of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, I was cured of rheumatism so severe that I could not rest at night from the severity of the pain. I was crippled in both knees, and almost had given up hope. The action of the Liniment was marvellous in the nature of the result and the speed with which relief was obtained. I trust you will publish this, as I know there are many martyrs to rheumatism who might be relieved and permanently by the wonderful Liniment if only known.

INTERESTING TO MAKERS AND CONSUMERS.

PRACTICAL POINTS IN CHEESE MAKING.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR.—The following is about the best article on cheese making I have seen for a long time. The publication of it in the EXAMINER will be no doubt of real value to all the cheese factories in this county, and those of your many readers who are interested in cheese making. Will you kindly give it an insertion.

Yours truly,
ONE INTERESTED.

A large part of the cheese made is spoiled because of some little error of mismanagement in the making or curing of it. If one knows how, it is not much more difficult to make the first quality of cheese than to make the poorest. Those who make the best cheese have no difficulty in selling it for a good price, and find it profitable; but those who make poor cheese find difficulty to sell it at any price, and complain that it costs more to make cheese than it will sell for. There is quite a difference between the price of the best cheese and that of the poorest. It undoubtedly seems to those who make poor cheese that there is too great a difference made; but those that consume the cheese sometimes think that the difference is not great enough.

Good cheese, well ripened, is a valuable and wholesome article of food. It contains a large percentage of valuable nourishment, in an easily digested form. In fact, such cheese is sometimes an aid to weak stomachs, promoting the digestion of other food. The rennet used in making the cheese carries on in the cheese during the process of ripening a digestive process, and like yeast multiplies itself, so that in well-cured cheese there is present considerable digestive ferment, which assists the stomach in digesting food. Imperfectly cured cheese, on the other hand, is very difficult of digestion. The curd of which it was made has never been softened down by the digestive action of the rennet, but remains hard and indigestable. Such cheese is no aid to a weak stomach. On the contrary, only the strongest stomachs are capable of digesting it. Such cheese is dear at any price.

CAUSES OF POOR CHEESE.

The causes of poor cheese are many. It is very easy to spoil a cheese, but not so easy to make a faultless one. The cause of failure may be in the milk. The cows may have been out of health, or eaten something which impaired the quality of the milk. The most frequent cause of injury to milk is want of cleanliness in milking, or in the care of the milk utensils. The most scrupulous cleanliness is requisite in all the operations concerned in cheese making. Cheese may be injured by having the milk too hot when the rennet is added, by using tainted rennet, by improper management of the curd, by insufficient or uneven salting, by injudicious pressing, and by keeping, during the curing process, in a room that is too warm or too cold, too damp or too dry. These and other causes may injure the cheese, so that it may readily be seen that the making of the best cheese is not a process which is likely to be hit upon by accident.

COMMON DEFECTS IN AMERICAN CHEESE.

Only a small part of the cheese made is of the finest quality. The greater part of the cheese made by factories and private dairies is deficient in flavor and porous in texture. The poor flavor of cheese so commonly met with, is a serious defect. As to the cause of it, an able dairy writer says:

The causes of bad flavor in cheese are various—insufficient and uneven salting; a faulty separation of the whey from the curds before going to press and while pressing, putting the curds to press too hot; high heat and a rapid manipulation of the curds; getting them to press before the proper chemical changes have been affected. But the chief cause of bad flavor in well-manufactured cheese are, in my opinion, bad milk, bad rennets, and bad curing of the cheese.

The bad flavor of the cheese may also be due to the cows eating objectionable weeds which impart a bad flavor to the milk, and by the cows being chased by dogs or over-driven.

REQUISITES FOR MAKING GOOD CHEESE.

The first requisite for making good cheese is good milk. The rennet must be untainted and of good quality, and used in sufficient amount to bring the milk to a curd hard enough to cut in about fifty minutes. The temperature of the milk when the rennet is added should be about 90°. If the temperature is much above that, the quality of the curd will be injured. If it is much below, the process of preparing the curd for pressing will be more complicated, and require greater skill in properly conducting it. The cheese must be properly cured after having been well made. A uniform temperature and a certain degree of moisture are essential to properly curing cheese. A temperature of 60° to 70° for rich, whole milk cheese is favorable to the ripening process. For cheeses not quite so rich a temperature of 70° to 75°, and for skim-milk cheese a temperature of 75° to 80° is needed. The curing of cheese is a chemical process, and a certain degree of heat uniformly maintained is essential to secure the best quality of cheese. On the point of curing summer cheese, Mr. X. A. Willard says that experiments made in 1866 satisfied him that with properly managed curing rooms, with walls containing air-chambers, with ventilators coming through the roof, and with water at ventilating openings at the level of the floor and elsewhere, July and August cheese can be kept in flavor, and cured down mellow, rich and improved in weight. The secret lies in the avoidance of undue fermentation, and in preventing the too rapid evaporation during the process of curing. In the experiments referred to the result was a rich, fine-flavored product, of good keeping quality. Some of the cheese was kept till the next season, and was excellent in flavor and rich and mellow in taste. [illegible] cheese appear to the taste more rich in butter than analysis would indicate. Two of the most common causes of poor cheese are the setting of the milk at an improper temperature, and defective curing of the cheese.

CHARACTERISTICS OF RIPE CHEESE.

The characteristics of well-ripened cheese should be familiar to all who make or buy cheese, so that they will be able to recognise a good article when seen. Professor Arnold gives the following characteristics by which it may be judged:

Well ripened cheese has no elasticity when pressed with the finger; it feels as if breaking under the pressure and the dent remains; it has a salvy, oily appearance when mashed between the finger and thumb, and melts on the tongue like a ripe pear; the cut surface remains soft and oily for a long time, not readily drying up. Unripe, cheese, on the contrary is elastic when pressed; hard and tough when mashed between the thumb and finger; soon dries and cracks when exposed to the air; when tested by the tongue is found deficient in fat, and does not dissolve readily. Cheese that dries readily on being cut has not yielded up its curdy nature to cheesy fermentation, and is therefore unfavorable to digestion.

THE BRIDE OF AN HOUR.

Her Bridal Dress Her Winding Sheet.

The Campbellford Herald supplies us with the full particulars of the terrible event that happened near Campbellford, as recorded in our last issue.

"One of the saddest occurrences which it has been our duty to relate for some time past, occurred at Meyersburg yesterday, about noon. Albert Kesler, a young man of 21 years of age, and Miss Ida Campbell, both of whose parents reside in Norham, drove into Campbellford and were married by the Rev. D. O. Crossley. After the ceremony they returned homewards, and at Meyersburg Kesler drove to the river's edge to give his horse a drink. The animal was afraid of the water, so Kesler turned him around with the back of the buggy to the water, and brought a pailful from a pump. In doing this, he took the bit out of the horse's mouth, and started for another pail. Just then the horse became frightened and tried to run away. Kesler grabbed the horse by the nose, but when they reached the road he fell. Miss Campbell, was still in the buggy, and she clung to the lines, but seeing no safety, she attempted to get out of the buggy in the rear. In doing so she fell upon the wheel which threw her headmost to the ground, and she was instantly killed.

A number of men ran to her assistance immediately and Dr. Goldsmith, of this village, who was riding past at the time, was summoned to the body of the unfortunate young woman. He found the base of the skull fractured, and blood was oozing from her mouth, nose and ears. Life was extinct.

Young Kesler was heart-broken with grief, and could not comprehend that his bride was dead, though the doctor assured him such was too true. The young lady was very chatty, pleasant and full of life only one hour before, and was looking forward to a time of greeting from friends at their home. The news of the sad occurrence sent a thrill of horror through every person to whom the story was told.

We Want Cox.

From the Orillia Times.

We congratulate the Council upon having secured an audience with Mr. G. A. Cox. We hope it is fixed for an early day. He is a first-rate business man and a man of energy and foresight, and, as Manager of the Midland Railway, has more opportunities for estimating the capabilities of this district than perhaps any other man in it. The Strickland Mills matter is only a secondary consideration. We will give them every encouragement consistent with good citizenship. But we want to hear Mr. Cox on Orillia's prospects. Here we are!. A smart, thriving town, and business in a booming state, and more business buildings clamorously demanded. And those car shops! * * * It is an easy matter to broach the question. The business is getting heavier every day at this end of the line. The Midland Elevator Company is pushed with business. The elevator at this moment contains 200,000 bushels of grain. The machinery is kept running day and night. And yet this is only one line of the Company a enormous business. We are as near the centre of convenience as any other place. And circumstances are entirely in our favor if the question is regarded entirely from that point of view. And this is the only point from which, in justice to the shareholders of the Midland Railway, it should be regarded. We hope that Mr. Cox will be sounded on the subject. It will not be difficult to gather from his answer whether the management are inclined to be favorable or not. There is no doubt that Mr. Cox himself will be allowed a very large amount of discretionary power. Perhaps he will really have the entire say in it. However it be, let us hear from him.

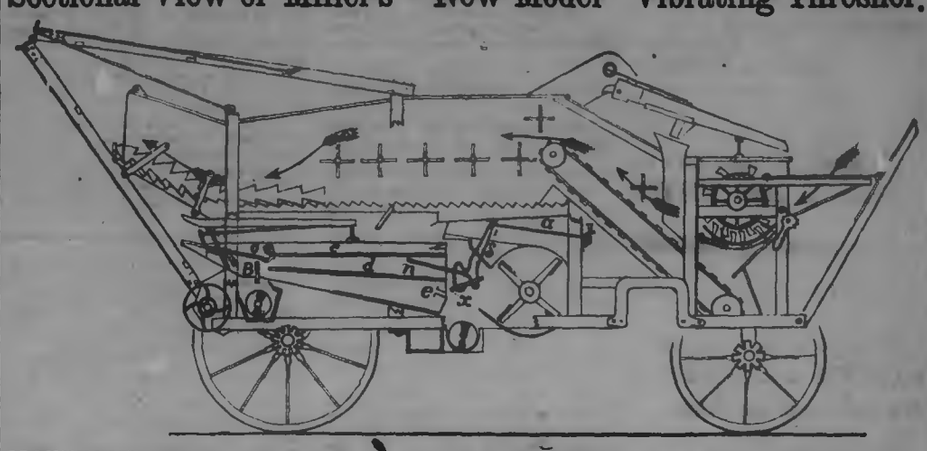
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher.



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR.—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was so well satisfied with a machine as I am with thier I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR.—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR.—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing myself for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model is the best one I have ever seen or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR.—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they had ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, on 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

WE LEAVE IT TO YOU

Fashionable Stylish as 'tis Honestly Made.

Our assortment is at its very best, and properly so. Now is the time, at the threshold or the hot season, to buy what you need in light or medium Summer Clothing. The heat's been delayed,—we'll have it up in the nineties soon enough.

We'll not tire you in repeating what we have already said in backing up our superior goods, cloths and make-up, but we will remind you that in material, make and style, they're—GOOD.

That we've hit the mark our returns show. We've studied the wants of Young Canada in this matter of dress, and as a result offer garments in every way equal to the tug and wear that will be their every-day experience. But in providing for Service never neglect STYLE.

Fix it in your mind that we can serve you well. Keep in sight the fact that our prices are right—and that often when they may be the same as elsewhere, our qualities are always better. There's no brag in this; literally saying plainly and in one of the ways we can, that we hold it to be our duty to see that those who buy from us get the most that can be gotten for the money paid to us.

And our platform—"Clothing that's in every way reliable, that's in every respect desirable, that's low in price, and that's within the reach of all,—OUR CLOTHING." and that's as fashionably stylish as 'tis honestly good.

THE LATEST FASHION.

See the woman with the pokes—
Horrid pokes—
What a world of discontent their ugliness provokes;
In the mid-hair of June,
Bowing, wobble, wobble,
While the French-heeled beauties hobble,
And the gentlemen escorts gobble
Swing time, Corinthians,
Keeping time, time, time,
In a sort of jerry rhyme,
To the hop and bobbing motion that the mincing gait invokes.
From the pokes, pokes, pokes, pokes,
Pokes, pokes, pokes,
From the hobbing and the wobbling of the pokes.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers, look to your health! The many painful and weakening diseases from which you suffer, despairing of a cure, can be remedied by that unfailing regulator and unfailing tonic—Burdock Blood Bitters. Ask your druggist for proof. 26-2t

"You needn't be so crusty," said Todkins to his better half. "Better be a little crusty than not half baked," was the reply of his amiable wife.

PERFECT, POSITIVE and PERMANENT are the cures effected by DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Relief in all cases of Kidney Disease is obtained after a few doses. See that your Druggist gives you DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 19-8t

A journal in the north of England recently contained the following correction: "We have to thank the intelligent proof-reader for the necessity which compells us to make this statement. In our editorial, yesterday, on Irish affairs, we were made to say, 'The Government police should be hanged,' whereas we wrote, 'The Government policy should be changed.'"

A man the other day was brought before a county magistrate in England for poaching in preserved covers. "So, my man," said the worthy magistrate, "you've got into a preserve, eh?" "Noa," said the man; "please your worship, I've got into a pickle."

No person can enjoy health while suffering Constipation of the bowels. Harsh purgatives always do harm, Burdock Blood Bitters is Nature's own Cathartic; it unlocks the scretions, regulates, purifies and strengthens the system. 26-2t

At a wedding up town the other day, where the bride was very dilatory in arriving at the church, a lady remarked, concerning the affair: "Well, the idea of that woman being late in getting here, when she has been waiting 26 years for just such a chance as this!"

A SECRET—The secret of beauty lies in pure blood and good health. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand key that unlocks all the secretions. It cures all Scrofulous Diseases, acts on the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Skin and bowels, and brings the bloom of health to the pallid cheek. 26-2t

"Why did you run away from your wife?" "Because she poisoned my very existence." Then how did you come to take a second wife if the first one poisoned your existence?" "I took her as an antidote."

When it is more commonly known that consumption is not an entity or peculiar form of disease that can be antidoted by a cure-all or specific, but is rather a wasting away or tissue starvation from lack of nerve power, and failure of food supply owing to indigestion and mal-assimilation, invalids will cease to irritate and overstimulate the organic functions by strychnine, whiskey and opium preparations, which do positive harm and resort only to those sources of energy nature furnishes for the nutrition of the body as combined in Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya.

Herrick deprecated dress reform 250 years ago in the following beautiful verse:—

A sweet disorder in the dress
Kindles in clothes a wantonness;
A lawn about the shoulders thrown
Into a fine distraction;
An erring lace, which here and there
Enthrals the crimson stomacher;
A cuff neglectful, and thereby
Ribbons to flow confusedly;
A winning wave, deserving note,
In the tempestous petticoat;
A careless shoestring, in whose tie
I see a wild civility:
Do more bewitch me than when art
Is too precise in every part.

"Sweet Curing Seeds" was the translation of the name given to Ayer's Pills by a high mandarin of China, in his letter of acknowledgement and thanks to Dr. Ayer for having introduced them into the Celestial Empire—a very appropriate name! They are sweet, they cure, and are, therefore, the most profitable seeds a sick man can invest in.

McGEOCH'S GRAND SMASH.

A contemporary explains how the last Chicago failure occurred: Peter McGeoch, the Milwaukee millionaire, undertook to get a corner on the lard market so as to control the price throughout the country. His action caused a steady flow of hogs to Chicago, even Cincinnati shipped them thither. But there were too many hogs in the country, and they were too fat to make it easy for one man to control the lard market. Phil. Armour took in the situation at a glance, and when he found everybody crazy on the subject of lard he stepped in quietly and bought all that was offered at two or three points off. Thus he pocketed a profit of one or two millions, which McGeoch lost.

GRIST MILLS,

NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and will direct attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

Depression

IN TRADE.

Owing to the great depression in the Dry Goods trade all over the Country for the past three months, Merchants are offering great inducements to their Customers in order to realize on the heavy stocks at present held by them.

To substantiate that such is the case, I am offering the following goods at extraordinary low figures:

10 pieces Debige Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Brocaded Dress Goods, 10c a yard.
15 pieces Colored Cashmere, 15c a yard.
20 pieces Langtry Cloth, 20c a yard.

Our 65c. Black Cashmeres, for 50 Cents.

40 pieces Fast Colored Prints, 5c a yard.
75 pieces Polka Dot Prints, 10c a yard.
100 pieces Dark Fancy Prints, worth 12½ cts. for 10c a yard.
30 pieces Bordered Prints, 12½c a yard.

Tapestry Carpets, 37½ cents.

10 pieces Hemp Carpet, 10c a yard.
12 pieces Heavy Twill Carpet, 15c a yard.
26 pieces Floor Oil Cloth from 25c a yard.
30 pieces Cretonnes from 10c a yard.
20 pieces Curtain Nets from 12½c a yard.
25 pieces Roller Towelling from 5c a yard.

Lybster Cotton Shirtings, 15c, a yard.

50 Doz. 2 button Lisle Thread Gloves 5c a p'r.
20 Doz. Hemp Cotton Socks, 2 pair for 5c.
12 Doz. Ladies Lace Ties, 5c each.
20 Doz. Ladies Linen Collars, 5c each.
10 Doz. Children's Colored Hose, 5c a pair.

50 Dozen Louise Corsets, 35c. a pair.

It is a well known fact that a great many Merchants advertise certain lines of goods, to deceive the public, which they never had in their store.

CAUTION!

To obviate this pernicious practice we would advise all parties to cut out such advertisements and bring them with them. To convince you that we have the goods, adopt the above principles and we are sure of your patronage.

Change of Residence.

Mr. Job's office and residence are removed to Murray Street, opposite the Roman Catholic School.

Real Estate.

Mr. T. Dolan, of T. Dolan & Co., has purchased from Mr. Robert Walton the half acre lot on Brock Street, known as the Robert Walton property, for $3,125 cash. He will build a fine residence on the property next season.

Farm Labor.

Farm laborers are still scarce in the neighborhood of Peterborough. It is impossible to procure help at unusually high wages. Unless something is done to meet the supply soon, farmers will be in hard straits during harvest this year.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the Midland railway for the week ending June 16th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $6,321.99; freight, $19,413.87; total, $25,735.86, as compared with $23,698.89 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $2,036.97; and the aggregate traffic to date is $444,514.29, being an increase of $18,929.17 over 1882.

Victoria University.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"We learn to-day from a person who is in a position to know that Mr. Geo. A. Cox has offered a plot of eight acres of land and one hundred thousand dollars in cash to the Methodist Church, if they move Victoria University from Cobourg to Peterborough. It is said the authorities are seriously considering the proposition. We shall see, what we shall see."

Pointless Criticism.

A correspondent of the Review blames Acting-Mayor Menzies for the omission of the word "cow" in the published notice of the enforcement of the by-law. The facts are that the omission was plainly a clerical error, and nobody or nothing except the fallibility of human nature, is to blame. Acting-Mayor Menzies knew nothing—nor did his duties require him to know anything—of the notices till he saw them posted.

A Practical Compliment.

The daily issue of THE EXAMINER during the sittings of the Conference here is amply justified by the immense demand for the paper. From the first issue of 600, the circulation has jumped up by 200 daily, till 1,500 were issued every evening. Not only have the public flatteringly appreciated our Conference reports, but their completeness and accuracy have been practically testified to in another manner. The special Conference correspondent of the Mail has fulfilled his duties to that journal by simply telegraphing each day a copy of the EXAMINER'S Conference report. We don't so much mind obliging the reporter and the Mail's readers by furnishing them with a good report, but the weakness of human nature, which the exalted morality of a newspaper office cannot wholly subdue, leads us to think that at least credit might have been given where credit was due.

Independent Action.

It is time for the Town Council to look to their laurels, when the citizens of the town feel that they have to take action themselves in any matter that is of importance to the town and needs prompt and business-like attention. A case in point. The public recognize the necessity of a place of amusement and recreation, and desiring to secure the opening of Court House Park to the public, a deputation of citizens who wished that something should be done at once, and did not think the matter should be dwaddled over all summer, took the case in their own hands, and waited on the County Council. They have, as will be seen by our report of the County Council, set on foot measures that will probably secure the opening of the Court House Park to the public at an early day. To his credit one member of the Council, in his capacity as a private citizen—Mr. Walter Paterson, jr.,—formed one of the deputation.

Deserves Success.

The Peterborough EXAMINER appears as a daily. Its make up is very creditable and the paper deserves success.—Montreal Daily Star

Orange Reunion.

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw will preach a sermon to the Orangemen and True Blues, in St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, on Sunday evening next.

News and Newsy.

The Peterborough EXAMINER has been issuing a neat and newsy daily since the opening of the Methodist (Toronto) Conference in that town. It is very creditable.—North Hastings Review.

Lacrosse.

A match game was played on Saturday last between the Cretes and another juvenile club on the Ashburnham grounds. The Cretes were captained by Johnny Harvey, and the other club, whose name does not appear to have been registered, by Frank Sherwood. The Cretes won in three straight games. Mr. W. A. Sanderson acted as referee.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

Church Re-opening.

The services in connection with the re-opening for public worship of the renewed Charlotte Street Methodist Church will take place next Sunday. Rev. Dr. Dewart, editor of the Christian Guardian Toronto, will preach in the morning, and the Rev. Dr. Nelles, President of Victoria College, Cobourg, in the evening, and on Tuesday evening Rev. Dr. Jeffers will deliver his celebrated lecture on the New Dominion. The rebuilt, enlarged, and beautiful church with its fine new organ and efficient choir, will be a most attractive place of worship, and is a credit to the christian enterprise and liberality of the congregation who worship there.

The Stony Lake Canoe Meet.

We are happy to say that the ladies are not to be debarred from contributing their share to the success of the meeting of the American Canoe Association to be held on Stony Lake next August, from the 10th to the 24th. There will be required as prizes in the different racing events, trophies to serve a rewards to the victors. These will not derive their value from their intrinsic worth, but will be prized as souvenirs of success in hard fought contests. They will probably consist of pennons or something of a similar nature, and their preparation will furnish scope for the exercise of the artistic needlework, which is a distinguishing characteristic of the accomplishments of Peterborough ladies. Ladies willing to promote in this way the success of the Association meeting, may receive further information by applying to Mr. H. T. Strickland, a member of the regatta committee, who will no doubt be happy to encourage any ambition in the direction indicated.

Cricket Match.

The return match between Lakefield and Peterborough took place on the Lakefield grounds on Saturday, and the result was a victory for Lakefield with four wickets to fall. Peterborough went first to the bat, and the last man retired to the small score of twenty-seven, the bowling of the Watson's being very effective. Lakefield then defended their wickets from the bowling of Stratton and Heigham, when they retired with only a score of thirty to their credit. Peterborough's chances seemed brighter, and the score of their second innings mounting up to 63, gave Lakefield considerable concern as to the probability of their winning at last. Of the above score Hartley rolled up twenty-four, which was handsomely trumped by Hammond's two dozen. Lakefield had now to make 60 to tie, and 61 to win, and they went at it with a right good will, the two Watson's adding 15 and 12 to the score respectively. To their steady play and that of the others, and the loose fielding of the home team, is due the fact that Lakefield piled up the required 61 with four wickets to fall. The fielding of Lakefield was good, while that of the home team was far below the mark. The result of the match will show the Peterborough club the necessity of practice and of taking a good team with them if they expect to win. Everything passed off pleasantly. Nearly a Fatal Accident.

On Monday forenoon Mr. Payton, of the firm of Wright & Payton, pump makers, Charlotte street, met with an accident that, but for prompt assistance might have resulted fatally. He and Mr. Wright were putting in or repairing a pump at the residence of Mr. Conductor Morris, Charlotte street. Mr. Payton descended the well, which was about 20 feet deep, with ten feet of water in it, for the purpose of removing a block of wood floating on the water. When he had nearly reached the water the stone wall of the well gave way partially, and the stones falling on Mr. Payton, he was badly bruised and cut about the face and body. Though severely stunned, he managed to retain his foothold, and help being near he was rescued. Had his footing failed, and had he fallen into the water, he might have been drowned before he could have been removed.

TESTIMONIAL TO A TEACHER.

Handsome Present to Mr. John Braden.

A Retiring Teacher's Popularity Tangibly Tendered To—An Illustrated Reading to a Long Career.

After over thirteen years' connection with the schools of Peterborough, Mr. John Braden, headmaster of the Public Schools, retires from the profession of teaching at the end of the present term, to engage in business. In view of this event the pupils of the Public Schools contributed to a handsome testimonial, which was presented to Mr. Braden on Tuesday afternoon, accompanied with the following

ADDRESS:

"DEAR MR. BRADEN,—As your pupils, fellow-teachers and friends, we, who are gathered here to-day, express the feelings, not only of those present, but also of the large number who have during the past nine years passed under your care as scholars, and been associated with you as fellow-workers and supporters. Your recent action in resigning the headmastership of the Public Schools of the town has taken us by surprise, for we had hoped that the efforts to induce you to have reconsidered your intention would have prevailed, and that after the holidays we should see you again among us.

"We learn with unfeigned regret, however, that it is to be otherwise, and that to-day is the last in the continuance of those relations which have been fraught with so much pleasure and profit.

"While we hope that you will forget our faults, and only remember wherein we have tried to follow your precepts and benefit by your teaching and practice, rest assured that your kindness towards us, interest in our welfare, and diligent zeal for our good, shall ever be fresh in our memory.

"As an earnest of this assurance we beg for yourself and Mrs. Braden to accept of this tea-service as a small token of our love, esteem and best wishes for your united prosperity. May a kind Providence ever shadow you both and lead you and your family into green pastures and beside the still waters.

"Signed, in behalf of the teachers and pupils of the Peterborough Public Schools,

"EMMA DAVIDSON,
"EMMA DENNE,
"AGGIE MERCER,
"MINNIE COX."

Mr. Braden replied in a few words of thanks for the magnificent, and he must think munificent, present with which he had been honored. He had no idea of being so delightfully surprised till a short time previously. His vocabulary was deficient in words to adequately express his feelings of gratitude for the handsome gift, which should ever be prized as a token of the pleasant relations that had always existed between himself and pupils. For thirteen and a half years he had been connected with the highest department of the Public Schools, and he could, he felt, justly claim to be the oldest teacher in connection with them. He felt in no ordinary manner the pain of severing his connection with the pupils of the Public Schools, which from long association had seemed to have become a part of himself.

Mr. O'Conner, headmaster of the Collegiate Institute, said that although he had known Mr. Braden but a short time, he had seen enough of the excellent character of his style of instruction to be able to say that in the retirement of Mr. Braden the Public Schools were suffering a real loss.

Mr. Campbell, classical master, regretted deeply that Mr. Braden's services were to pass beyond the claim of the Public Schools. He knew Mr. Braden well for years, and had formed a very exalted opinion of him, both as a teacher and a man, and the present occasion was a proof that he enjoyed the general esteem of the town—pupils as well as public. After satirically picturing the pleasures and unbroken serenity of a teacher's life, Mr. Campbell concluded his address by enjoining the children to remember both the moral and educational lessons Mr. Braden had imparted.

Mr. Stratton, Inspector, referred to the fact that he had been Inspector or occupied an equivalent relation to the schools during the whole of Mr. Braden's career, and he could testify to the eminent success that had attended him as a teacher. He had won golden opinions from pupils, fellow-teachers and the people. He could not name any other teacher who was to be preferred to Mr. Braden during the entire period of his connection with the Public Schools. He knew that Mr. Braden could not lose interest in school matters, and the speaker hoped to see the day when his advice would be available at the School Board.

The address was read by Miss Emma Davidson, and the presentation made by Miss Emma Denne. The gift was an elegant silver tea service of five pieces, from China Hall, and in beauty and value might well pass current as a fitting symbol of the golden opinions which Mr. Braden has not only won, but earned during a long and successful career. We congratulate him on the honors that have marked his retirement, and wish him every success in his new sphere of action.

Lacrosse Match.

The lacrosse match between the first and second twelves on Friday night was a brisk and lively set to. In spite of the expected disparity between the two teams the seconds made it sultry for the firsts, and for a long time it was twelve of one and a dozen of the other, but at last blood told, and the first won by a score of three straight games. It was an excellent hour's practice.

Decoration Day.

The Oddfellows of Peterborough will on Friday next decorate all graves of departed Oddfellows at the Little Lake Cemetery with flowers as tokens of pious remembrance. The members of the order will assemble at Peterborough lodge rooms at 2 p.m., whence, accompanied by the band, they will proceed on their mission of love and respect, to the cemetery. Relatives of deceased friends willing to contribute flowers or foliage will kindly leave their offerings at Mr. Clurton's office up to twelve o'clock noon, of Friday. The proposed tribute to the memory of the dead shows that the distinguishing charity of Oddfellowship, not only finds expression in deeds of kindness to the living, but follows with graceful persistence of kindly remembrance the beloved and departed dead to their last resting places. We understand that this ceremony is to be made a permanent institution of the order here.

Mantles made to order on shortest notice at Turnbull's. Special attention paid to this department.

DOMINION DAY DOINGS.

Celebrating Our Sixteenth Birthday.

An Elaborate, Complete and Successful Celebration—Thousands of Visitors—The Regatta—The Grand, Gorgeous, Glittering, Grotesque and Grim-begetting Pantamorphite Procession—The Lacrosse Players—The Sports and Games—The Promenade Concert—The Torchlight Procession—The Fireworks.

If anything were needed to show that Dominion Day as a national holiday was firmly established, as an abiding "institution," it would be supplied by the hearty enthusiasm with which our citizens—especially the younger, to whom national sentiment would naturally appeal more strongly—entered upon a befitting celebration of the day. Additional evidence could also be produced in the interest taken by the people generally. And strong collateral proof is furnished by the fact that our national birthday has inherited the that has almost invariably marked Her Majesty's natal day. During the past sixteen years there has hardly been a First of July that did not bring fine weather. On Monday last the morning looked threatening, but the people had faith in fine weather, and poured into town at an early hour; about noon the weather cleared, and the afternoon was as fine a day as could be wished.

Seldom, if ever, has there been a larger attendance of visitors at any public demonstration than that which thronged the streets of the town on Monday. At about 1.30, the time of the Physiog procession, both sides of George street, from Murray street to Charlotte street, were thronged with thousands of spectators, and through the afternoon the number received continual additions.

The first event on the programme was on Little Lake, under the auspices of the Peterborough Boating Club. At 9.45 the steamer "Golden Eye," lying at her wharf, foot of Sherbrooke street, was loaded with passengers. She steamed down the river, with the Fire Brigade Band on board, to the lake, and tied up to a pier close to Burnham's point, about 100 yards off shore, midway of which distance was placed the starting flag. The high shore of Burnham's point was lined with throngs of spectators in holiday attire. Hundreds of boats and canoes were darting over the surface of the lake, and the steamer "King Fisher" added a considerable contingent of spectators to the scene. It appears that there had been no satisfactory arrangements for Judges, Messrs. T. Cahill, R. S. Davidson and John McClelland having been selected on board the steamer, while Col. Rogers acted as starter from the shore. After a time it transpired that the aquatic judges had been deposed and that a shore set had been appointed, consisting of Rev. V. Clementi, president of the Boating Club, Mr. R. E. Wood, vice-president, and Col. Harry Rogers.

THE REGATTA

The first event was the FOUR OAR RACE.

For this there entered two canoes, namely, Capt. Edwards' crew, consisting of Capt. Edwards, stroke, and Messrs. Eastwood, Cottingham and Rutherford; A. E. Elliott's crew, consisting of A. Elliott, stroke, Messrs. Mercer, Geo. Stevenson and E. W. Cox.

The Elliott crew got the best catch on the water at the start, but the other crew pluckily pulled up to the even, but having the outside position in the current, they fell behind and the others led them, and came in at the finish at a rattling rate some half a dozen boat lengths in the lead. The other crew pulled pluckily to the last and as they passed the winning flag cheers were exchanged between the crews. It is only fair to explain that although the winning crew pulled strongly and well together, and might have won in any event, that Capt. Edwards' crew was an emergency one, and had not had sufficient practice together to give them a chance.

The course, it should be explained, was half a mile with a turn, extending from the starting buoy, before indicated, due east to near the Ashburnham shore.

The double scull race was declared off, owing to an accident to one of the shells.

SINGLE CANOE RACE.

In this there were only two entries, Geo. Fitzgerald and John Sherlock. Fitzgerald had the inside place, and, of course, the advantage, which would have been useful had not his staying powers made him independent of such an advantage. The result was that he won by six lengths.

DOUBLE CANOE RACE.

The entries for this event were Messrs. A. Stratton and M. Cottingham, who had inside position, and Messrs. Graham and Ritchie. This was one of the best and closest races of the series, though the winners came in four lengths ahead. It was hardly contested throughout, and both crews dipped "for all they were worth."

SINGLE SCULL RACE.

For this the entries were A. E. Elliott and D. Cameron, who rowed in outrigger shells, the former having the in-shore position. At the start Cameron caught the water first. For a short distance the noses of the shells kept pretty even, but the current, as well as Elliott's long, swinging stroke told on Cameron and at the finish he was pretty well exhausted, while Elliott passed the winning flag "in a canter" and comparatively fresh. The turn was made in three minutes, and the winner passed the flag, making the mile in seven minutes.

SAILING RACE.

A sailing race, which was not down on the programme, took place. The entries were Capt. Edwards (who gave the other competitors a handicap of one minute) W. Turner, F. Adams and J. E. Hawkins. By this time the steamers had left and the weather was equally; Capt. Edwards' mast was broken square off by a vicious catspaw before he was under way. At the turn a similar accident happened to Turner. The others went over the course, Hawkins coming in first and Adams second.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

During the morning a telegram was received by the Secretary of the Lacrosse Club to the effect that the Victoria Lacrosse team, of Toronto, had missed the train and could not come to Peterborough. This was not only greatly disappointing but also a little surprising, as there was more than one train by which the Victorias could have reached Peterborough.

INTERMISSION FOR DINNER.

Twelve o'clock being the popular dinner hour, a general cessation of proceedings took place. The abundant wants of the inner man having been supplied in a solid sense at least—the spirituous in some cases seemed to require a constant inpouring—the streets at one o'clock were literally alive with the populace in expectation of the

GRAND PANTAMORPHITE PROCESSION.

The procession proper was abundantly heralded by very vividly painted Indians mounted on cayuse mustangs, who swept up and down George Street with blood-curdling war whoops and—some of the noble red men—with rather insecure seats. At length the grand cavalcade of ridiculosity made its appearance at the turning of Murray street into George. Something that to the uninitiated seemed like death on the pale horse, led the procession, and next came the grand allegorical car representing by bannerets the different provinces, and Canada herself seated in an easy chair in snowy robes. This car was attended by a gorgeous retinue of mounted knights in armour and otherwise.

Next came a sarcastic representation of the celebrated Grand Trunk band with most preposterous tin horns and outlandish costumes.

This was followed by a pot pourri, taking off the notorious inefficiency of the ward fire bells, which the acting mayor had likened in sound to "cracked kettles."

The next figure in the cavalcade was a grotesque and ridiculous caricature of the fire engine with its steam gauge labelled "strictly private," accompanied by a rather ramshackle hook and ladder wagon.

The next equipage represented the water works, and the next the town fathers, with cutting delineations of the foibles of this honored body.

The eighth scene was a cut at the operations of whiskey detectives, and the ninth was a criticism on our gas works.

The Midland Railway came in for its share, and the shadowy possibility of the Trent Valley canal was represented.

Following these came representations of the cow by-law nuisance, made understandable by the accompanying foot note of two led cows on foot.

Then followed representations of several trades and callings and caricatures of sporting events, Indian scenes, etc. The ridiculous procession closed with a crushing take-off of the sporting mania in all its departments.

There were a few good "hits" but on the chief the merit of the procession was its supreme and unadulterated ridiculousness.

The procession returned to the Agricultural grounds, where began at once, the Fire Brigade Band furnishing music at intervals.

THE ATHLETIC SPORTS

Messrs. A. T. Smith, Ed. Brown and J. E. McIntyre and A. D. Brown acted as judges, and performed their duties to universal satisfaction.

There was a very large attendance of spectators, but the interest was somewhat dampened by some of the contestants being slow to come to time.

The following events took place, with the results annexed:—

HALF MILE HORSE RACE (INDIANS).—J. Mervin, 1st; W. Gibbs, 2nd. There were three entries.

BOYS' RACE, ¼ MILE.—Eighteen entries. J. Begley, 1st; D. Davidson, 2nd.

GIRL'S RACE, 100 YARDS.—Twenty entries. Annie Andrews, 1st; Jennie Billings, 2nd; May McFarlane, 3rd.

ONE MILE, AMATEUR.—For this there entered: T. Kindred, (1st); Wm. Sutton, (2nd); S. Sharp and J. Hannah.

STANDING JUMP.—M. Collins, 1st; W. McIlmoyle, 2nd.

ONE MILE RACE, OPEN.—For this there were three entries—M. Bird, D. Hartley and G. Stevenson. The latter dropped out on the third lap, and Bird won easily.

QUARTER MILE RACE, BOYS.—Edwy Stratton, 1st; F. Guyott, 2nd; and W. Holliway 3rd.

HUNDRED YARDS RACE, AMATEUR.—Six entries. A. Mooney, 1st, T. Kindred, 2nd.

THREE LEGGED RACE.—Pillar and McCaul, 1st; W. Ross and Frank Armstrong, 2nd.

THREE MILE RACE.—Entries. M. Bird, D. Hartley and J. Shepard. Hartley led the first four rounds, Shepard dropping out the fourth lap. At the fifth lap Bird passed his man, after which the lead was alternate till the 10th lap, when Bird took the lead and kept it, winning easily.

QUARTER MILE RACE, (Amateur).—Seven entries. A. Morse, 1st; T. Kindred 2nd.

HUNDRED YARDS RACE.—Four entries. Reynolds being the only one that started at the word "go," ran over the course and of course was 1st. A race afterwards between A. Mooney and Reynolds "for fun" resulted in Mooney winning by about a yard.

TUG OF WAR.—Between a team of the band composed of J. Miller, J. T. Brydon, J. Fraser, Joseph Hill, B. Hill, Jas. Watson, R. Billington, R. Weir, A. Freeman and W. Green, and a team of the Fire Brigade, S. Clegg, T. Rutherford, C. Rutherford, J. Hayes, Jno. Craig, T. Billings, T. Clotherow, D. Brown, R. Hamilton and Joseph Gibbs. There were two sets of tugs, but the firemen won both bouts.

THE LACROSSE MATCH.

Not to disappoint the public the Lacrosse Club organized an exhibition game between the first and second twelves. Accordingly they marched to the grounds and a very large crowd followed them, the attendance being about seven hundred. They were entertained by three rattling games of first class lacrosse.

The composition of the teams was as follows:—

First Twelve.—J. Giroux, M. Tierney, Geo. Giroux, M. McDonald, P. Welsh, F. Ferrin, J. Sheehey, A. Yelland, R. Fortye, W. Morrow, W. Rudkins and J. Howden, W. J. Devlin field captain.

Second twelve.—J. Joyal, W. Callaghan, R. Stevenson, A. Mercer, W. Welsh, W. Delaney, J. Reynolds, M. Halpin, J. Carveth, J. Shevlin, J. Heeps, B. Taylor, H. Canning, R. Begley and E. Rogers, H. LeBrun, field captain.

Mr. A. Elliott was umpire for the firsts, Mr. T. Munro for the seconds, and Mr. A. McNeil acted as referee.

The first game was a lively one though the first twelve had an advantage that they had to work hard to keep. After ten minutes play Sheehey tipped the ball to Rudkins, who transferred it to Morrow who sent it between the stakes.

The second game though brief was very brisk and was for a few minutes something fine to look at. The first twelve worked hard but the juniors downed them fairly, Rufus Stevenson shooting the ball through by a good clear low shot, about eight minutes after the face.

The third bout was a long and a strong pull, and the juniors holding the firsts for twenty-nine minutes, showed them that they couldn't have everything their own way. At last, a conspiracy hatched by Sheehey, assisted by Morrow and carried out by Rudkins tipping the ball through, gained the first twelve the second game and the match. The crowd was highly pleased with the splendid exhibition presented by the boys.

THE EVENING'S PROGRAMME.

The Promenade Concert held in the drill shed, at which the band played several choice selections in first class style, attracted an immense crowd, nearly 2,000 persons being present. A very presentable athletic and acrobatic exhibition, consisting of club swinging by Mr. T. McNaughton, and acrobatic feats by amateurs was given at intervals.

THE FIREWORKS

programme, though brief, was a very fine one, and succeeded the concert. The display was most creditable, and presented a most brilliant spectacle.

THE TORCHLIGHT TERMINATION.

Perhaps the finest event of the day was the grand torchlight procession which was formed as the grand finale. The procession reached the distance from Murray street to the market square. As it passed along the street it looked like a flaming rivulet of fire with jets of colored flame in the shape of rockets shooting into the air.

The celebration may be pronounced a most gratifying one. The whole programme was carried out with a smoothness that calls on us to "mark one" for the managing committee. Remarkably good order, for so crowded a state of the town, was maintained throughout the day. The disappointment caused by the failure of the Victorias to "catch the train" was great, but the public will have a chance to see a match with as good a club before long.

DITCHES AND WATERCOURSES.

One of the most important Acts passed during the last session of the Provincial Legislature was one relating to ditches and watercourses. This Act was much needed and will no doubt obviate much of the delay and annoyance experienced under the old law. An exchange has the following brief summary of the Act: Under the new law the duty of dealing with the subject is taken from the fence-viewers and placed under the supervision of an engineer, and it is now the duty of the municipal council of the township to appoint an engineer for the township. Before any person desiring the making of a drain files a notice with the clerk of the township, such persons must serve a notice in writing upon the others, naming the day or hour, convenient to the ditch where the parties are to meet, at least six days before the time of meeting, to see, if possible, whether they may not agree upon the portion of the ditch to be made by each, and if the agreement shall be signed by all the parties, and within four days filed with the clerk of the municipality, and the agreement shall set forth the kind of ditch, the portion to be completed by each, and the time in which the work shall be done, and such an agreement shall have the same force as an award by the engineer. If they fail to agree then the township engineer shall determine the character of the ditch, and the amount to be done by the respective parties, and the time within which it shall be done, the amount of the expenses and fees to be paid each, and this award filed with the clerk of the municipality is binding. Any one dissatisfied with the award may appeal to the County Court Judge. The work is to be inspected by the engineer upon completion. If the work apportioned is not done as directed, it is sold at public sale to the lowest bidder, and the cost of said portion is charged against the owner and added to the collector's roll and collected the same as ordinary taxes

MORALITY AND DIGESTION.

The question, "Is life worth the living?" and the answer, "That depends entirely upon the liver," express more than merely verbal play. Dr. Holmes' remark, that a large amount of piety originates below the diaphragm, is an example of his fine fun that indicates no disordered digestion. Byron's physicial health was far from robust, and he professed to look upon life as simply a bore:

Carlyle's digestion was still worse. Always a martyr to dyspepsia, his great mind seemed to find expression in one prolonged growl. What can be more savage than the following extract from one of his letters to Emerson, in which he expresses his abdominal views of the human race:

"Men, all men, seem radically dumb jabbering mere jargons and noises from the teeth outward; the inner meaning of them—of them and of me, poor devils—remaining shut, buried forever. Certainly, could one generation of men be forced to live without rhetoric, babble-west hearsay—in short, with the tongue well cut out of them altogether, their fortunate successors would find almost an improved world to start upon."

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

LACROSSE.

A highly interesting and exciting game of lacrosse was played here on Friday afternoon between the Campbellford and Norwood lacrosse clubs. The day was propitious in every respect and the players were in capital form. There was a large attendance of spectators, among whom was a goodly number of the fair sex, who apparently very much enjoyed the game, and manifested their interest in the match by frequently applauding an exhibition of good play on the part of a member of either team. The ball was faced at 2.30, and in one minute's playing the first goal was taken by the Campbellford Club. This looked rather discouraging to the home team, as it seemed that they were nowhere in the hands of their formidable opponents, but a further development of the game proved the contrary. After playing for about 15 minutes a well directed throw of the rubber by Mr. Alex Robertson gave the home team their first game. After four minutes intermission play was again resumed. The third game was the best one of the match, when some really skilful playing was done by the Norwoodites, particularly by J. McCauley, A. Robertson, F. Pearce, John McKalvy and G. Atkinson. After a hard tug of twenty-four minutes McKalvy with a sharp and rapid shot took the Campbellford goal. The match now became exceedingly exciting. After a short intermission for rest and drinks (of a temperate nature, however) play was again called, the Campbellford team now showing evidences of fatigue. In this game the home team exhibited increased skill in the manipulating of the rubber. After seven minutes playing a magnificent throw was made and the goal of the Campbellford team was again captured amid enthusiastic cheers by the Norwoodites and their friends. This game terminated the match, the Norwoodites taking three straight games. The utmost good-feeling prevailed during the match, and the Campbellford club returned home with a very favorable impression of the attainments of the Norwood lacrosse players as well as of their hospitality.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.

Our Band gave an open air concert on Friday evening, and was richly enjoyed by the large number of people, young and old, who promenaded in the vicinity of the band stand during the playing There was a noticeable improvement in the playing of the band since their last appearance in public.

DOMINION DAY.

The was an unusually fine demonstration here on the 2nd. The village was deluged with people and any amount of fun, consisting of horse races, athletic sports and the chief feature, a lacrosse match between the Madoc and home clubs. It was a most exciting struggle and was won by Norwood in three straight games in 23 minutes, all told. The Methodist strawberry festival in the drill shed was a big success—proceeds, $73, while the lacrosse gate money was $88.

THE WEEKLY NEWS NARRATIVE

Told Without Waste of Words.

Ushering Children into Port Hope on the 13th of July.

In Montreal the scheme for a monster summer hotel on Mount Royal is taking substantial shape, and there is little doubt but that it will be carried through.

The Grand Trunk railway has made application to the United States Customs to have all baggage entered for the Dominion at Chicago examined there, as is done at the Montreal depot for American baggage.

The Secretary of the Tuke Irish emigration fund declares that all emigrants who have been assisted to America by the fund have been sent direct to relatives or friends in that country, and have been provided with money on landing.

In 1867 the Reform majority in South Brant was 84, in 1871 it was 252, in 1875 it was 115, in 1879 it was 340, in February, 1883, the Reformer was elected by acclamation, and in June he had a majority of 550. All of which is respectfully submitted to the earnest consideration of those gentlemen who assert that Mowat must go.

The Montreal English evening papers animadvert very strongly on the action of the corporation in remitting the debt of $800,000 due the city for many years by the Grand Trunk. An action against each member of the corporation voting for the measure has been taken by a wealthy citizen.

The majority of the Province of Quebec Civil Service Commission have presented a report to the Government upon their enquiries up to the present time. They say that they have found a terrible waste of public funds in progess, and point out wherein over $30,000 per annum can be saved. The enquiry is not nearly completed, and a still greater saving they say, can be effected. The dissentient to the report is an official.

The buisness of the Nova Scotia Methodist Conference at Yarmouth was concluded on Thursday. A letter from London, Ont, was read, stating that owing to the strong vote against the basis of union the advocates of the basis were prepared to back down on the legal aspects of the case, and expressing the hope that the Maritime Provinces will increase their influence in that direction. A committee of ten was appointed to prepare a memorial to the General Conference on the modifications of the basis suggested by the advocates of that measure.

Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 5, 1883.

A Lame Defence.

Our local contemporary is considerably exercised over our recent exposure of the particular form of political corruption that has overspread the Dominion from Nova Scotia. We like our brethren down by the sea very much, but we cannot stand a great deal of dabbling in railway contracts, and we submit that the influx of what we described as Tupperism has been altogether too much for the least fastidious. Our object was to expose this phase of recent Canadian politics, and if Mr. Sandford Fleming happened to be standing so near Dr. Tupper as to come in for a touch of the coloring material now and then, that was no fault of ours. We may add that Mr. Fleming is no "new victim," as the Review has it. He was charged at the time, and in the most public manner, with wrong-doing, as we shall presently show on the testimony of the present Minister of Marine and Fisheries. The exposure of the Pictou railway scandal was made by the then Liberal leaders in the Nova Scotian Legislature, the present Lieut.-Governor Archibald, and the Hon. A. W. McLelan. From a speech made by the latter on the floor of the Legislative Assembly we make some quotations for the benefit of both Dr. Tupper and Mr. Fleming, premising that Mr. McLelan is, of course, "an honorable man." Speaking of the Pictou railway, he said:

"On the present occasion we have something more than the mere expenditure of money to consider—something rising higher than dollars and cents; we have to consider whether this work has assumed that aspect which gives grounds for suspicion that our public men have betrayed their trust and dealt unjustly with the interests of the Province."

After the failure of the contractors the work was handed over to Mr. Fleming, who resigned his position as Government Engineer in order to undertake it. This will explain the following remarks by Mr. McLelan:

"We left here last year having on our statute book a law which we considered that no government would dare to disregard. * * * We left with an Act which provided in one section that the railway should be built by tender and contract, duly advertised for, after the issue of plans and specifications; in another section, that no member of the Legislature should be a contractor, or the surety for a contractor; and in another section, providing that on the occurrence of unforseen difficulties the Government shall have power to suspend the work and await the meeting of the Legislature. With all these guards thrown around the construction of that work, we might well be amazed when he (Dr. Tupper) told us that the Government had secretly months before given that contract in total disregard of this law. * * * In this case the Government did not even pursue the course which he says was intended by the statute, for they withdrew the work from the contractors nearly twelve months after the contracts had been entered into, and they handed it over, when entirely new conditions existed, by a private bargain, and instead of giving it at the sum for which tenders had been made, they gave it for a higher sum by $250,000. * * * May you not suppose that from the very hour when the other contractors entered on the work, Mr. Fleming commenced to plan, and that his condemning the material and harrassing those who were employed was intended to drive them out? He had been invested with the sole power of saying what species of work should be done; there was no appeal from his decision; and I ask, if he were seeking for himself the contract, can there be any wonder that these men brought their cases here and told us they were ruined? Sir, I never like to hear of ruin. It brings to my mind visions of men bowed and broken in spirit; of wives perishing in want; of children crying for bread; and when the Provincial Secretary called up the picture, there were with it another character—an engineer clothed with despotic power, a very autocrat placing his despotic heel on these men, grinding them to the dust until they begged permission to go. But the picture, dark as it is, had something blacker still. I see them standing in the back-ground, the Provincial Secretary of Nova Scotia privately handing over to this same engineer a contract for the whole work. I see him shroud it in darkness, and bury it for months in the grave of secrecy. And now the Provincial Secretary comes forward and tells us it was so hidden to serve the public interest; to enable Sandford Fleming, after he had taken the contract, to make better terms with the old contractors; to grind a few more dollars out of them. Public interest, indeed! Sandford Fleming's interest alone. Sir, I know conduct [illegible] opinion—but in private life it is called extorting money under false pretenses, and our laws make it indictable knavery.

It was in this same speech that Mr. McLelan designated Dr. Tupper "the great high priest of jobbery and corruption." These charges against him and Sandford Fleming remain to this day unretracted, and we point the Review to this certificate of character as our reply to its own aspersions on us. We did not invent the charges, and we did not lug them into our review of Dr. Tupper's career. If Mr. Fleming comes out of the discussion blacker than there was any necessity for, he may thank Mr. McLelan and the Review.

Is Unbelief Increasing?

IV.

——We have not yet by any means exhausted our subject. Indeed, the more it is examined, the more we perceive how much can be written upon it. Hitherto, in these articles, we have but skimmed the surface of this great question, and we begin to perceive how difficult it is to give any adequate idea of it in all its bearings in an abbreviated and popular form.

——What are the chief position and unmistakable signs that scepticism is waning and the church extending? No doubt the proofs we have already advanced from the writings of thoughful and intelligent men are strong evidences in favor of Christianity. But the great mass of the people require something more tangible. They want the unmistakable evidence of facts and figures to bear out such assertions. They want living proofs of the deep and wide-spread growth of the kingdom of peace. To such persons as these, like the inscription on the monument erected to Sir Christopher Wren we would say, "If you want to see these proofs, look about you."

——No intelligent person can fail to see the hold the Gospel has upon the great bulk of the people everywhere.

Never before have the Scriptures been so eagerly read, and never have they been so clearly illuminated by copious comment. The zeal and enterprise of scholars in discovering, collating and translating manuscripts of the Bible, is only equalled by the desire of the masses, who demand millions of the New Testament revision in a single day.

Men may loudly assert that it is a critical time for creeds and all ancient institutions. But never in any age have people flocked so readily to hear the Gospel of the Grace of God, when it has been fairly, plainly and forcibly presented. Who can command for such a lengthened period, and in the same degree, the close attention of interested multitudes, as the eloquent and popular evangelists of the day?

—We shall not attempt to describe the innumerable benevolent institutions fostered everywhere by the charities of the Church, nor try to pourtray the growth of goodness in this regard within the last half century. To speak of this would indeed fill many volumes, but the unwritten story is one of the strongest evidences that the Church is rapidly growing, while it is at the same time one of the brightest jewels in her crown. Who ever heard of unostentatious liberality towards the poor and suffering on the part of atheists et hoc genus omne? Where has the first infidel hospital or charity school been erected! And who are the unpaid volunteer workers in the slums and vile purlieus of every great city? Not agnostics most certainly; not unbelievers. If we want to find aggressive activity exhibited in combatting all forms of evil, we shall not find it among the disciples of Paine or Voltaire or Bob Ingersol. Wherever the eye falls all over our country to-day, and we perceive noble laborers endeavoring, with great self sacrifice, to cope in all sorts of ways with human sin and suffering and misery, cheering with their sympathy and help the sorrowing and distressed, the bereaved and poverty-stricken, and raising men to purer, holier, nobler lives, it is not due to atheists. When we ask the motive power that moves it all, the answer come, the Cross of Christ.

——And now, we turn to the irresistible logic of numbers, which, for many, have even a higher charm. "Tell us, do figures show that the church is growing?" is the first enquiry made on all sides. To this we answer emphatically, yes!

To accomplish our purpose, and prove an answer correctly, we shall contrast the growth of the church under the most favorable conditions in the purest primitive days, with its extension under somewhat serious circumstances of difficulty on our own continent within the present century.

It has been computed that at the end of the first century of the Christian era, there were about 500,000 adherents of the Christian faith. At the end of the fourth century this number had increased to ten millions, and at the lapse of an additional four hundred years, i.e., at the end of the eighth century, these had grown to thirty millions.

——How has it been in the United States? Statistics, which have been gathered with the utmost care, prove that in 1800, in all the evangelical denominations in that country there were 364,872 members, and in 1880 there were 10,065,963. That is, within eighty years there had been a positive increase of over nine millions. Again, in 1800 there was but one communicant to every fifteen of population; in 1880 one for every five. In [illegible] population [illegible] years about [illegible] communicants increased almost twenty-eight fold, and all this during a period of intense opposition from every phase of free thought and unbelief. So these facts prove that in the United States the number of enrolled communicants had increased 9,700,000 in 80 years, being nearly as many as the aggregate number of adherents to Christianity at the end of the 4th century. While, if we take the calculation on the basis of "adherents," the United States actually presents an increase during the 80 years, of thirty-five millions—more than the entire Christian body at the end of eight centuries.

There is still another feature which deserves attention in the consideration of our subject, the growth of missions, but the work of the Church in this direction has been so very extensive, and furnishes such valuable proof in behalf of our contention, that we shall reserve it for another and concluding article. Nothing, we believe, has so contributed to the welfare and prosperity of the church at home; by nothing else has her high aims and projects been so greatly advanced, both there and abroad, and in no other sphere of labor has she so effectually closed the mouths of her numerous enemies, as in her obedience to the Master's commands, "Go teach all nations."

Before producing this additional proof in favor of the advance Christianity is making all along the line, let our readers carefully reflect upon and digest the evidence we have already produced. If they but do so earnestly, impartially, and without prejudice, they must, we believe, be convinced by our reasoning, and by the stern logic of facts, that they have nothing to fear from infidelity, and that the Church is surely and steadily advancing in growth and numbers and holy work. All this, we venture to say, should prompt them to offer a glad "Te Deum" in fervent thanksgiving and gratitude to him who is the Church's Head.

Notes of the Day.

The California wheat crop is estimated at fifty million bushels.

The movement in favor of woman suffrage in England appears to be gaining strength. A memorial to the Prime Minister is signed by 108 Liberal members, including the "most cautious Whigs and most gushing Radicals," by a dozen members of the Administration, and by Sir Stafford Northcote and several Conservatives.

A process by which planks can be manufactured from straw has been perfected, and in Chicago a building six stories high and occupying an entire block is being erected for the new industry. The board is manufactured by converting straw pulp into thin paper like sheets, which are passed through a bath containing certain chemicals in solution. They are subjected to enormous pressure and finally to a thorough drying process.

Nearly 200 women of New York city, wives of some of the best known citizens, have petitioned the board of education to make the teaching of sewing to girls between ten and twelve compulsory in the primary schools. A plan of teaching accompanies the petition, and provides that after attaining a certain proficiency the children may bring their own work. And as these good women point out, sewing in a majority of cases is of much more importance to the mother of a poor family than arithmetic, geography, or history.

In the recent article in the Clinical Brief, Dr. Morris asserts in regard to trichinæ in swine that it is a well-established fact that the real source of infection in swine lies entirely in the rat. A committee of Vienna physicians found in Moravia 37 per cent. of rats examined, trichinous; in Vienna and its environs 10 per cent., and in Lower Austria about 4 per cent. The well-known voracity of the hog, and its special fondness for meat, cause it to feed upon the flesh and excrements of other animals infested with these parasites, and especially rats and mice. To prevent trichinous swine it is highly important to cut off all the sources of disease in the diet of these animals.

It is calculated that there are 250 life assurance companies in the world—(107 being British, 38 American, and 9 Canadian)—that the annual premium income now amounts to £50,000,000; and that the total income is £75,000,000. The claims and other payments due to policyholders are reckoned at £50,000,000. Assets rank for £500,000,000, and assurances in force are put down at £1,375,000,000. There are probably 300,000 life assurance agents employed by the companies of the world, besides 15,000 officers and clerks. There are about 9,000,000 policyholders, who with their families represent about 45,000,000 people, who are directly interested in life assurance and benefit by its operations. Close upon £2,000,000,000 has already been returned to policyholders by the combined companies.

A pastoral letter from Cardinal Manning, of England, to the clergy and laity of Westminster was read in the churches and chapels of the diocese recently. Referring to recent events Cardinal Manning says: "No civil order in the world ever sank as low as the Christian world is sinking now and will be sunk, if the name of God be erased from its public laws. You have lately asked of those who make our laws that none should legislate for us except those who believe that there is a divine Law-giver, whose [illegible] from [illegible] there is no escape; as if in a little while the public life and laws of the world will be no longer Christian or Christian, nor based upon a belief in God."

The extent of the depression in the United [illegible] estimated, [illegible] one-third of the spindles of cards in New England are shut down. The Boston Advertiser hears of 750 shut down. The estimated [illegible] each [illegible] 600 [illegible] now [illegible] the total consumption of 230,700 pounds a day, or about 7,000,000 pounds a month. The actual reduction is doubtless greater than this, for the reason that the returns made do not include all of the stopped mills. The important bearing of this marked depression on the woollen industry of the country is apparent when it is remembered that New England is the chief seat of that industry in the United States. According to the census of 1880, one-fourth of all the woollen mills in the United States and more than a third of the sets of cards are in New England, while New England mills consume more than half of all the wool used in the country and turn out more than half of the goods made.

The Tug of two Twelves for the Championship.

Peterborough vs. Uxbridge—The Home Team Strengthens its Grip on the Championship.—Uxbridge Routed in Three Straight Games—No Medal-ing with the Medal Allowed.

Last Thursday Uxbridge and Peterboro' had a struggle for the possession of the championship of Central Ontario and the association gold medal. A great deal of interest was manifested in the game. There was a large attendance of spectators, the fine new range of seats on the left of the entrance gates being pretty thickly filled, ladies largely predominating. The Fire Brigade Band played the two clubs from Crevier's hotel, their headquarters, to the grounds, and favored the spectators with selections of their choice music.

No time was lost in getting to work, and the two teams were drawn up for operation as below:

PETERBOROUGH.

T. Lowe.....Field Captain.

Mr. A. Elliott umpired the home team and Mr. G. L. Bustin performed the like office for Uxbridge. Mr. Drury, of Toronto, acted as referee.

At 3.20 the ball was faced by Sheehey and Fralick. The latter, of course, secured the sphere and consigned it to the Uxbridge goal, when for a minute or two there was signs of danger to the opponents' flags. The ball was sent to the other end of the field, where, however, it did not long remain. The winning of the first game for Peterborough was a fine piece of play. Yelland captured the centre-house in centre field, and, threatened with check, tipped it to Rowley, a few feet distant, who with the ball, crossed the field and sped towards the Uxbridge flags, dodging with ease whill the captain of Uxbridge till he was even with the flags. He then tapped the rubber confidingly to Rudkins, who proved worthy of the trust and sent it flying through the goal, thus finishing the first game in six minutes.

Those who had backed Uxbridge on the grounds of their never having been beaten in a match, now began to feel that they had not even a "fleeting show"

After the usual interlude play was resumed. The visitors apparently having lost hope of winning a game, played entirely on the defensive, but their new tactics did not avail them anything. [illegible] Dance, at the end of four minutes, Rudkins, who had the ball in charge, sending the flying ball on Rutherford's face, dropped the [illegible] to the latter, who neatly put it where it did the most good, winning the second game in four minutes.

The third game began, and the visitors played defence more decidedly than ever. Their goal was constantly threatened, and [illegible] dangerous drop shots were made, but no skill could force the rubber through the almost solid fence of clubs that guarded the Uxbridge [illegible]. [illegible] intermissions for drinks—oatmeal mash—were [illegible] digestions. Finally after 32 minutes play, Rutherford seized the sphere and swished it between the poles, scoring the third point and winning the match in three straight games.

The customary cheers were given and the event was over. The game was played with the utmost good feeling on both sides. Not a dispute, nor a word of disagreement, nor a rough check, marred the progress of the playing. The visitors put a good, active, strong team in the field, equal, to appearance, in strength and agility with our own men; but they lacked the little arts of finesse, the admirable playing together, that distinguished the performance of the home twelve. Peterborough twelve has improved wonderfully over last year, and all the players are so good that it would be unfair to particularize.

During the evening the home club entertained their visitors most agreeably, and by their graceful attentions of hem gallantry, softened the regret that attended their defeat. As gentlemen the Uxbridge boys are pleasant to meet, and it is to be hoped that the two twelves will soon cross sticks again.

THE ONTARIO & PACIFIC.

The Contract for Building the Road said to be Signed.

One of the Largest Railroads in Canada—Dimensions of the Line—Sir Borgia, M. P., the Big Pusher in the Concern.

OTTAWA, June 26.—It was ascertained, says the Toronto World, that a contract was signed yesterday morning for the building of the Ontario and Pacific railway, a line in which Dr. Bergin, M. P., has taken a particular interest in. The main line from Cornwall to Sault Ste. Marie is a distance of 500 miles, and the branch lines from Cornwall to Smith's Falls, Carleton Place and Almonte are about 700 miles, which will be next in importance only to the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific railways. The syndicate of capitalists who have contracted to build the road are Americans, principally from New York, Mr. L. N. Gatis of the latter place, being the head of the syndicate. Work will be commenced at an early day and will be prosecuted vigorously until such time as the whole road will be built.

Ball's Health Preserving Corset, so highly recommended, to be found at Turnbull's.

THE GREAT NORTHWEST.

The great increase in travel to the Northwest, has forced the "Famous Albert Lea Route" to put upon its line magnificent Dining Cars, in which passengers will be served meals second in quality to no first-class hotel, for the small sum of seventy-five cents each.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway, which controls this route, has always maintained a reputation for giving travellers first-class meals on its dining cars, and in putting on this line the same class of cars, it fills a want that the travelling public will appreciate.

"The Albert Lea Route" is carrying a very large share of the Northwestern travel, and, although early in the season, has commenced to sell tourists' tickets to the various pleasure resorts in a volume sufficiently large to guarantee an immense summer traffic.

A HORSE THAT TROTS.

The American trotting horse cannot yet be called a definite breed; it is rather a most instructive example of a breed in the process of formation, a new breed being molded into shape by a curious combination of influences. To trot fast has not heretofore been natural to horses; we are in the act of making a breed in which it is the natural gait when at speed, and the next century will see a breed of trotters with two-minute horses as common as one minute fifty seconds runners now are. The breed is in process of evolution, in obedience to definite laws, to meet wants imposed by the new phases of our modern civilization.

HENRY BERG.

We can recommend to Mr. Henry Berg, the dumb animal's friend, if not already aware of its virtues, Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, as the following will show. "Last winter, during one of our heavy storms, my horse, a valuable one, cut himself badly. I called at the first store and the trader recommended Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. I poured it in the cut, and in less than an hour he was as well as ever. I always carry it with me for similar cases."

R. B. CRUDER,
Knowlton, P. Q.

Plain Black Muslins for Old Ladies' wear to be found at Turnbull's.

Not long ago a new member of the U.S. Congress was invited to dinner. He describes it thus; There was nothing on the table when I got there but some forks spoons and bricky-brac. Presently they brought in some soup. As I didn't see nothing else, I thought I'd eat all the soup I could, though soup is a mighty poor dinner to invite a fellar to. So I was helped four times and then come the finest dinner I ever ate and there I sot," groaned he, "chock full of soup!"

MRS. LANGTRY, according to the latest statement of her manager, cleared $100,000 in her dramatic tour. She is going to study in Paris, and return to America, to travel in a parlor car, and appear in a new play. The best thing she can do is to walk away about $50,000 as the basis of an income, while times are good. But that is something dramatic people seldom do. They soon permit quickly earned fortunes to slip through their fingers.

DECORATION DAY.

The Oddfellows Sweeten the Memory of the Dead with Flowers.

Introduction of the Custom of Decoration Day in Peterborough—A Most Auspicious Illustration—An Impressive Procession—The Ceremony at Little Lake Cemetery—The Graves of Departed Brethren Buried in Bloom.

Last Friday the Peterborough brethren of the triple tie, inaugurated the graceful and pious custom of decorating with appropriate ceremonies the graves of deceased brethren with flowers. The great success with which the first attempt was attended, will doubtless result in the becoming an annual recurrence.

For the first attempt the arrangements were remarkably well made, and were carried out with hardly an appreciable hitch. Both Peterborough and Otonabee lodges entered into the project with a heartiness which shows that the triple link is not an unmeaning bond.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the brethren assembled at Peterborough Lodge rooms, and decorated themselves with sprigs and badges bearing the names of their respective lodges. They then formed in procession, and, preceded by the full band of the Fire Brigade, marched to Little Lake Cemetery. The scene was an impressive and striking one—the long line of Oddfellows, each clad in black, bearing on their breasts crimson badges, fastened with a knot of brighter flowers, and each holding in his white gloved hands bouquets, crosses, wreaths or sheafs of flowers, among which blazed the gorgeous tints of the verbena, geranium and phlox; the sobered yet richer hues of the pansy, while the creamy petals of the viburnum nestled odorously amongst the verdure of wreath and harp.

Arriving

AT THE CEMETERY

the brethern formed in open file, facing inwards, on the green immediately south of the entrance gates, under the shadow of the pines. Here, accompanied by the cornets of the band, the brethern sang that beautiful hymn, "Nearer my God to Thee," the mournful dispason of the breeze swept pines, harmonizing with the solemn strains of the melody.

The band took up a position to the east of the chapel, where at intervals they discoursed, in fine style, several of the sacred airs found in their repertoire.

The procession of Oddfellows, led by the Noble Grands, then visited the graves of their departed brethern. The first grave decorated was that of Judge Hall, upon which Noble Grand Cluxton, Otonabee Lodge, and Noble Grand Lacy, of Peterborough Lodge, laid their flowers, with the formula,

"We deposit these flowers in affectionate remembrance of Judge Hall, first Noble Grand of Otonabee Lodge."

all the brethern surrounding the grave reverently, uncovered. The same ceremony and formula were repeated over the thirty-two different graves, varied only by the change of names according to the following list:—

Sheriff W. S. Conger, Otonabee Lodge.
Col. Alex. McDonald, Otonabee Lodge.
Sheriff James Hall, Otonabee Lodge.
Samuel W. Albro, Otonabee Lodge.
William Hall, Otonabee Lodge.
James Hamilton, Otonabee Lodge.
W. H. Wrighton, Otonabee Lodge.
George Jenkins, Otonabee Lodge.
Augustus Sawers, Otonabee Lodge.
F. Ferguson, Otonabee Lodge.
Jas. Ferguson, Otonabee Lodge.
W. H. Scott, Peterborough Lodge.
James Harvey, Otonabee Lodge.
F. J. B. Buckett, Peterborough Lodge.
James Martin, Peterborough Lodge.
John Robinson, Otonabee Lodge.
Charles Perry, Otonabee Lodge.
Thomas Fortye, Otonabee Lodge.
J. L. Hughes, Otonabee Lodge.
W. A. Allen, Peterborough Lodge.
David Carlisle, Peterborough Lodge.
Dr. James Bird, Otonabee Lodge.
John Reid, P.L.S., Otonabee Lodge.
Walter Beal, Peterborough Lodge.
Alex. Baptie, Peterborough Lodge.
Wm. H. Visard, Otonabee Lodge.
John Read, Otonabee Lodge.
Dr. John McNabb, Otonabee Lodge.
Samuel White, Peterborough Lodge.
James Foley, Otonabee Lodge.
F. W. Rubidge, Peterborough Lodge.
John Haggart, Otonabee Lodge.
Capt. A. S. Fraser, Otonabee Lodge.

There was an IMMENSE ATTENDANCE

of the general public, who seemed deeply interested in the solemn and impressive proceedings. The graves of the Oddfellows after the floral offerings had been deposited, were literal mounds of brilliant bloom. The cemetery was in its richest garb of green, and highest state of culture and care. Before leaving the cemetery the brethern formed in a similar manner to that on their entrance, and sang in excellent manner "The Sweet Bye and Bye." The rendition by the brethern of this hymn, as well as that of the first one was done in a style that reflected credit on their musical abilities and execution.

After this the procession reformed and returned to town.

Hundreds of others not Oddfellows took advantage of the occasion to lay upon the graves of departed relatives similar beautiful tokens of affectionate remembrance. The weather was delightful, and everything contributed to making the first decoration day of the Peterborough Oddfellows a significant success.

JUDICIAL SALE

OF VALUABLE

Freehold Property

Under and by virtue of an order of the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, made in a certain action of MANSON v. MANSON and with the approbation of Thomas Hodgins, Esq., Q.C., Master in Ordinary of the Supreme Court of Judicature, there will be sold by Public Auction,

At the CAISSE HOUSE,

in the TOWN of PETERBOROUGH, on

Saturday, the 7th day of July, 1883

at 12 o'clock noon, by CHAS. STAPLETON, Auctioneer, the following Valuable Freehold Property, described as the

North East Fifty Acres of Lot Number Nine, and the West Half of Lot Number Ten, in the Second Concession of the

TOWNSHIP OF ASPHODEL,

In the County of Peterborough.

Except certain village lots sold to J. Fife, R. Fife, and W. Sharpe. The property is well situated, the Village of Westwood being partly built on its northern boundary, and Birdsall's Station on the Grand Junction Railway being about 1½ miles to the south. The Villages of Hastings and Norwood are about 7 miles distant, and the Village of Keene is about ten miles distant, all of which places are good grain markets. At the said Village of Westwood, are a Post Office, Stores, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, Schools, &c. The stream which drives the Westwood grist mill to the north, and the Welbeck saw mill to the south, runs to the farm, making it a very desirable place for stock raising. On the property there is a good pine and hardwood bush of eight or nine acres in extent. The farm is in a good state of cultivation, and is well fenced, mainly with cedar. The buildings consist of a log barn and stables, and a dwelling house, partly frame and partly log, all of which are in a good state of repair.

TERMS OF SALE.—Ten per cent. of the purchase money is to be paid at the time of sale, to the Vendors, or their Solicitor, and the balance into Court to the credit of the Master, within one month thereafter, without interest.

The other conditions of sale are the standing conditions of the High Court of Justice.

The property will be sold subject to a reserved bid.

For further particulars apply to MESSRS. McCARTHY, OSLER, HOSKIN & CREELMAN, Temple Chambers, Toronto; or, WILLIAM MORTIMER CLARK, Esquire, Barrister, 3 Union Block, Toronto.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 5, 1883.

Sunday Selling.

The Review was recently very angry and had not sense enough to keep from showing it. So long as we asserted on our own authority, that the Crook's Act absolutely prohibits all liquor selling on Sunday except for medicinal purposes, we were "slandering Mr. Foster," whose pet license law for the Dominion legalizes selling on Sunday by hotel keepers to their guests. Now, that we have Mr. Foster's own written admission that we were right, the Review, instead of frankly admitting the fact, which would have been courteous, or pitching into Mr. Foster, which would have been consistent, whines over its defeat and goes off on a new tack. While we are glad to find our interpretation of the law endorsed by a man of Mr. Foster's ability, we are not prepared to admit that "nine persons out of ten would come to the opposite conclusion" on reading the enactment. To do so, would be to claim for ourselves very exceptional powers in the way of correctly interpreting statutes—a claim which modesty forbids us to make. For the purpose of showing how plain the Crook's Act really is on the point, we quote the entire section relating to Sunday selling, revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 181, section 43 :—

"In all places where intoxicating liquors are, or may be, sold by wholesale or retail, no sale or other disposal of the said liquors shall take place therein, or on the premises thereof, or out of or from the same, to any person or persons whomsoever, from or after the hour of seven of the clock on Saturday night, till six of the o'clock on Monday morning thereafter, and during any further time on the said days, and any hours on other days during which by any statute in force in this Province, or by any by-law in force in the municipality wherein such place or places may be situated, the same, or the bar-room or bar-rooms thereof ought to be kept closed.

"Save and except in cases where a requisition for medical purposes, signed by a licensed medical practitioner or by a justice of the peace, is produced by the vendee or his agent.

"Nor shall any such liquor, whether sold or not, be permitted or allowed to be drunk in any such places during the time prohibited by this Act for the sale of the same.

"Except by the occupant, or some member of his family, or lodger in his house."

We have taken the liberty of italicising certain words for the purpose of making clearer what we conceive to be the meaning of the clause as it stands. The "such" in the first line of the third paragraph obviously refers back to the word intoxicating in the first line of the first paragraph. The words "or other disposal" are intended to prevent liquor from being sold under color of giving it away. The word "lodger" is intended to include such persons as guests staying at a hotel. The controversy turns on the force and intent of the expression, "whether sold or not," and we submit that these must be construed in the light of the other expression "to be drunk" immediately below it. By our arrangement of the section in paragraphs the purpose of the whole enactment is made more intelligible than when it is read in the usual form. The first paragraph is absolutely and universally prohibitory of all sale of liquor by licensed victuallers, not merely on Sunday, but during any other interval when these bars or shops are forbidden by Dominion, Provincial or municipal law to be kept open. The second paragraph contains the only exception to this universal and absolute interdict of selling. The third paragraph is absolute by prohibitory of all drinking, during the times specified, on the premises of the license holders. The fourth paragraph contains the only exception to this absolute and universal interdict of drinking. There is nothing in this section to prevent a hotel-keepers' guest from purchasing his supply of liquor on Saturday and drinking it on Sunday, but the hotel-keeper cannot legally sell it to him on Sunday, unless under the authority of a requisition for medical purposes. To show how stringent the clause really is we have only to add that liquor purchased from the hotel-keeper by any other person than one of his own guests, even on a medical requisition, cannot legally be drunk on his premises. This is the true intent of the expression "whether sold or not."

So far from the section being obscure in the sense, and on the point referred to by the Review it is, in our opinion, singularly lucid and intentionally stringent. If there is any clumsiness in the wording it is in the latter part of the first paragraph given above, and with respect to it we have only to say that it was adopted almost word for word by Messrs. McCarthy and Foster as good enough for their own act. Now that temperance people, including commissioners and inspectors, have had their attention directed to the real meaning of the law relating to Sunday selling, we trust that they will take steps to see that it is enforced, for there is only too much truth in the Review's statement that the law has, so far as guests in hotels are concerned, been for the most part a dead letter. Mr. Hodge, the representative of the licensed victuallers at Ottawa, told the committee which drafted the license bill, that hotel-keepers are pestered by parties asking for liquor through this alleged loophole. Now that even Mr. Foster admits there is no loophole the hotel-keepers can plead the illegality of the sale when a thirsty guest, or a pretended guest, wants to buy.

That Connecting Link.

A week ago we called attention to the danger which threatened the Midland District in connection with the proposed line of railway from Gravenhurst to Callender. Last year a charter was granted by the Dominion Parliament for the construction of this connecting link between the Canada Pacific and the Ontario railway system. At the same time a subsidy of $6,000 a mile was voted in order to promote the undertaking, and this year $6,000 additional per mile was granted. As the route presents few engineering difficulties, this total bonus of $12,000 a mile is probably almost sufficient to put the road bed in readiness for the rolling stock, so that there need be no difficulty in keeping the line thoroughly independent of all existing lines. The policy of making the enterprise practically self-sustaining at the outset was a sound one, since any other course would have been sure to lead to the speedy absorption of the new link by either the Northern or the Grand Trunk.

It will be remembered that last session an attempt was made in the House of Commons to give the Northern an advantage over all others in connection with the expenditure of the subsidy and the control of the line. This little scheme was under the engineering care of Mr. Hector Cameron, but the House of Commons could not be induced to adopt his clauses or abet his plan. Had Mr. Cameron had his way the whole Midland District would have been placed completely at the mercy of a railway terminating in Toronto. We commend this specimen of their member's doings in Parliament to the consideration of the people of North Victoria, and return to the danger which still threatens us.

The purpose of getting control of the $12,000 a mile has not yet been abandoned by the Northern Railway intriguers. A determined effort is being made to secure by stealth what could not be captured above board. Mr. Dalton McCarthy's Company, which obtained the charter to construct the new line, has, it is alleged, allowed a controlling interest in it to pass into the hands of people interested in the the Northern Railway. The President of the latter is the Hon. Frank Smith, who is now one of Sir John Macdonald's colleagues in the Cabinet. If the story about the control of the stock be true, the danger of both franchise and subsidy being gobbled up by the Northern is anything but imaginary.

We trust that in some way or other the scheme set on foot last session, and entrusted to Mr. Hector Cameron to carry through the House of Commons, will fail. The great Midland District cannot afford to be put in such a position as to be at the mercy of a Toronto line. We have a road of our own, which traverses the district in several directions. The completion of the Omemee cut-off will place Peterborough on the main line of this Midland system, and every instinct of self-preservation calls for immediate and concerted action on the part of all who are interested in the prosperity of this locality to prevent the consummation of what would be of serious check to its progress. We notice that both Toronto and Hamilton re entering vigorous protests against allowing the Northern and Northwestern system to absorb the new link. Hamilton has access to Toronto by the Grand Trunk, and both have access to Gravenhurst—on the west side of Lake Simcoe by the Northern, and on the east side by the Midland, It is clearly to their interest, therefore, that the perfect neutrality of the link be maintained, and the people of the Midland District can count with absolute certainty on their co-operation. The people of Montreal are also deeply interested in the maintenance of the independence of the line. They want to get what they can of the local traffic of the country through which it will pass, and their only chance of doing so is to see that the Grand Trunk and Midland systems are placed in as favourable a position as the Northern in connection with the charter and bonus of the Gravenhurst-Callender link.

The question is one that deeply interests the whole region tributary to the Grand Trunk in Western Ontario, and also that part of the Province immediately west of Kingston. The completion of the Kingston and Pembroke line will give the people of that locality independent access to the Canadian Pacific, and why should the people of the Midland District be any worse off in this respect than their neighbors? Further east still the people have in their very midst a terminus of the Canadian Pacific itself, and will have, by means of it, direct access to the North-West. Why should the Midland District be the only one compelled to pay tribute to an improperly constituted monopoly in order to reach that distant part of the Dominion.

We have no doubt that the further progress of the new line, and the development of intrigues connected with it, will be closely watched by all parties and localities interested. We have no doubt, also, that the people of North Victoria will keep a sharp look-out on Mr. Hector Cameron and his movements in connection with any further plots to divert the charter and bonus from the purpose they were intended by Parliament to serve.

Slandering Mr. Foster.

It is not often that a man is found guilty of slandering himself, but according to the Review this is the present position of Mr. Foster, M. P. That gentleman has taken upon himself the task of publicly defending the McCarthy Act. He has resorted to all sorts of special pleas, some them not very ingenious, to establish his case. He has not hesitated to use strong language about those who differ from him, but if anything is said against him, or if he is charged with inconsistency for being a party to the relaxation of the liquor regulations he is "slandered." Who is this Mr. Foster that he should enjoy immunity from criticism while he is busy with tongue and pen in the work of assailing others? Having become a public man he must be prepared to have his course judged by the rules that are applied to others.

The Review contends that the Crook's Act authorizes the sale of liquors by hotel-keepers on Sundays to their guests, and asserts that the statute was amended for the very purpose of making it lawful for them to sell it. We have already pointed out that it does nothing of the sort. The enactment is absolutely prohibitory of all sale between 7 p.m. on Saturday and 6 a.m. on Monday. We challenge the Review to reproduce section 43 of the Crook's Act as it stands in the revised statutes, and we challenge any lawyer to stake his reputation on the assertion that it authorizes Sunday selling, A single glance at the section will convince any one not hopelessly obtuse that the expression "whether sold or not," has reference to liquor purchased for medicinal purposes, which is spoken of immediately before. In other words, a hotel keeper may sell liquor to his guest, not to be used at his meals but to be used as medicine, and that liquor the guest may drink on the premises, but he can get it only on a requisition signed by a licensed medical practitioner, or by a justice of the peace. The Review says :

"The fact is that after six years of a general belief to the contrary this quibble was invented merely to aid the slanders against Mr. Foster, who was falsely accused of favouring Sunday liquor selling. The pretence has still been maintained as a means of attacking the Conservative administration and opposing its temperance legislation."

We have said that according to our contemporary Mr. Foster is an abettor of those who are slandering himself about this Sunday selling. No man knows the Crook's Act better than he does, for he is not by any means obtuse. He was employed by the Ontario Alliance for years as their chief man of business, and he passed through several Scott Act campaigns in which his opponents were constantly demonstrating the merits of th Crook's Act as a regulating measure. If there had been the slightest chance of contending that the Crook's Act authorizes Sunday selling he would have promptly pointed it out when he was charged with being a party to relaxing the law. Instead of doing so, however, he deliberately publishes an exactly opposite opinion long after the close of the session. Here are his own words as published in the Mail on Saturday last :

"A great deal has been said with reference to supplying bona fide guests at hotels on Sunday. The clause in the Crook's Act referring to this really prohibits the sale of liquor in hotels on Sunday."

This is clear and explicit testimony as to what section 43 of the Crook's Act means. Mr. Foster goes on to point out that this view of its meaning has not been enforced. That is not to the point, however, in a comparison of enactments. It is quite possible that the McCarthy Act, if it is ever put in operation at all, may be not better enforced. It was part of Mr. Foster's duty as agent of the alliance to see that the proper construction was put on the section, and to educate the temperance people up to their duty. The point to be kept perfectly clear just now is that the Crook's Act, according to Mr. Foster, absolutely prohibits all Sunday selling to guests except for medicinal purposes, while the McCarthy Act expressly authorizes selling to guests at the two principal meals of the day.

It is said that Sir A. T. Galt will devote the remainder of his career to land speculation in the North-West. That he is to assume the leadership of the Tory party, is the opinion entertained in other quarters.

East Northumberland Protest.

J. R. Ferris, Esq., M. P. P. for East Northumberland, is fighting the protest vigorously. The trial began on Tuesday, at Cobourg, at ten o'clock. He will carry the war into Africa, by summoning agents of the Tory candidate to show why they should not be adjudged guilty of corrupt practices. Mr. Wade may have more than he bargained for when, to suit Sir John's purposes, he obeyed orders to enter the protest against Mr. Ferris' return.

Editorial Notes.

Just before the election of June last, the Review assured the electors that millions of foreign capital only awaited the assurance that the tariff would be permanent to flow into Canada. It would now be in order for the truthful editor to mention why the capital does not flow in.

The Presbyterian church in Canada embraces thirty-six Presbyteries and four Synods; has within its bounds 800 pastoral churches, 114 vacancies, 700 ordained ministers, 1,524 churches, 68,208 families; 113,977 communicants and a total Presbyterian population of 676,165. The total revenue last year was $1,409,748, or an increase of $164,350 over the year previous.

The following is the estimate of Hon. John Bright of English Conservative newspapers: "It is unfortunate for the Tory party that they never seem to have gentlemen to conduct their newspapers. I suppose what gentlemen would write is not thought likely to suit the appetite of such of the party as are readers of newspapers." There are certain Tory organs in Canada—and not many miles from Peterborough either—to which we think the above descrption, at the present time, exceedingly applicable.

The Grand Lodge of the I.O.G.T. held their thirtieth annual meeting in Woodstock, the Grand Worthy Chief Templar, J. H. Flagg, of Mitchell, presiding. The report of the Grand Secretary showed an increase in the number of lodges and also in the aggregate membership for the past year. The total number of lodges is 244; instituted during the year 22; reorganized 14; total membership, 10,907; initiated during the year, 3,579. The treasurer reports the receipts for the past year to be $4,544.21, and expenditure $4.447.16, leaving a balance in hand of $97,05.

Mr. White, Separate School Inspector, has made his first annual report, which shows that the total attendance at those schools for 1882 was 24,819, with an average of a little over 13,000. The total receipts for 1882 were over $137,000; the amount paid to 105 male and 269 female teachers was $75,880. Of the 374 teachers, 10 hold first class, 49 second class, and 99 third class Ontario certificates; 34 teachers hold Quebec certificates, which the Inspector wishes no longer to recognize. He estimates that about 56,500 of the 85,000 Catholic children in this Province attend the Public Schools.

It is asserted that the deficit m Winnipeg's civic accounts at the end of the year will be at least $300,000. The Winnipeggers have been too intent on speculation. While they have been getting even with the new settlers, and making all they could out of them, corporation jobbers and adventurers have improved the shining hour. The city has comparatively little to show for its two million dollars of debt, and it will have to go to the money market for a large sum to meet ordinary civic expenses, notwithstanding that property is assessed for much more than its legitimate value.

The non-progressive element in the British House of Lords has once more thrown out the bill legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister. The third reading was defeated by 145 to 140. It is evident that the bill would have been carried without any difficulty had there been an efficient whip of their Lordships. When it was read a second time, it was carried by 7 majority, 165 members voting for it. This time the vote for the measure was reduced by 20. As usual, the Bishops of the Episcopal Church, over 20 in number, voted solidly against the bill. If the House were composed entirely of laymen, as it should be, the reform would have been carried long ere now.

The Buffalo Courier writes in this vigorous fashion of the unwarrantable assumption of jurisdiction by the Dominion Government :—

"With a folly that looks to the unprejudiced spectator like political madness, the Conservative ministry has set itself to override the Liberal sentiment of Ontario. Unable to get control of the province at the polls, the Premier seemed determined to get control of it through a stretch of Federal authority. Our northern neighbors are therefore brought once more face to face with the problem of home rule, which they had supposed was settled some years ago. If the Federal Government insists upon the right to annul the action of the Provincial Governments, and assume the management of concerns that localities should control, then the whole Federal system is a humbug, and the sooner it is broken up by a revolution or the establishment of a legislative union the better."

There is a deeply rooted feeling in the minds of many of the leading Irishmen that the appointment of Lord Lansdowne as Governor-General is an unwise one. On the other hand Rev. Father Nelligan, who is now in Ottawa, who is the chief curate of the parish of Kenmore, and who has come to Canada by the direction of the Right Rev. Dr. Higgins, Bishop of Kerry, to report regarding the prospects of intending emigrants, says with respect to attacks that have been made upon that nobleman since his appointment to the Governor-Generalship, that they are grossly unjust and untrue. Instead of being a bad landlord, as represented, the Marquis has always been a good landlord, but the greater portion of his estate is composed of very poor land, and it is doubtful if the condition of the tenantry would be improved if the area of the holdings were doubled or quadrupled.

In the course of his speech at the Halifax banquet, Sir Chas. Tupper told about the masterly way in which he defeated Hon. Joseph Howe in Cumberland in 1855. His version was somewhat different from that of Mr. Howe, given in 1867. This is Mr. Howe's version and is worthy of reproduction :—

"During the Crimean war our army was decimated by the great battles of the Alma, Balaclava and Inkerman. Surrounded by hordes of Russians, and suffering for supplies, there was some risk that they might be driven into the sea. Reinforcements were urgently required, and a Foreign Enlistment Act was passed. To assist in carrying out that act, I risked my life for two months in the United States, surrounded by Russian agents, American sympathizers and Fenians. Mr. Gibson, now in this room, was in New York at the time, and knew the state of feeling, and urged me to quit the service and not risk imprisonment or personal violence. I persevered, rarely sleeping twice in the same bed till recalled, and this I did for England in her hour of peril. * * * Now, what was Dr. Tupper doing at this time? He was scouring the county of Cumberland, and while I was absent on the service of the Crown, meanly endeavoring to deprive me of my seat. He slandered me in every part of the country; he invented stories that I was imprisoned and would not be back. I only got back a few days before the elections, too late for any canvas or efficient organization, of course. IN THIS DISHONORABLE MODE HE WON THE SEAT HE NOW HOLDS, and certainly illustrated his devotion to his sovereign after a mode that ought to be remembered.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Restored and Re-opened.

The Opening Services—Eloquent Sermons by Rev. Dr. Dewart and Rev. Dr. Nelles—Fine Music—Crowded Congregations.

The services in connection with the re-opening of the renewed and beautiful Charlotte Street Church took place on Sunday last, and were marked by gratifying success in every particular. We very recently gave a full description of the architectural changes and improvements effected by the restoration and enlargement. It is only necessary, perhaps, to add that the Charlotte Street Church is now one of the most tidy and beautiful little churches in Ontario.

On Sunday morning there was a full congregation assembled to listen to an eloquent sermon delivered by editor of the Christian Guardian, Toronto, and, by the way, a native of this county, he having been born in the township of Dummer.

REV. E. H. DEWART,

It is only just to allude in terms of praise to the excellent character of the musical portion of the services. Mr. Heathfield, organist of the George Street Church, presided on the occasion, at the splendid new organ with which the church has been provided, and the choir, led by Mrs. Chambers, whose reputation as a vocalist and teacher of music is too solidly established to require the aid of further, though well-deserved, praise, furnished excellent music.

Rev. Dr. Dewart took for his text a part of the tenth verse of the twenty-second chapter of the Acts of the Apostles —"What shall I do, Lord?" In introducing his subject, the preacher remarked that the occasion, that of Paul's visit to Jerusalem and his imprisonment by the Jews, invested the words with peculiar significance. The words of the text were words uttered by St. Paul at the time of his miraculous conversion, and were stricken out of the heart of the great apostle in the crisis of his spiritual history. The conversion of St. Paul, the preacher asserted, was one of the grandest evidences of the power and truth of Christianity; in fact, there was no evidence of the truth of the religion of Jesus Christ like the spiritual transformation of the darkened soul. The result was a complete change in the thoughts, aspirations, hopes and deeds of the converted. Paul the persecuter became Paul the apostle. The speaker went on to point out in answer to the question what to do, that God's will was the supreme law of human life, and obedience to that will was the only true guide. The following of the natural impulses was not safe. Many of the great crimes that stained the world resulted from the following of natural impulses. Obedience to God's will was the foundation of all moral obligation and conduct, and there was no other incentive to correct moral action. If the great Lawgiver was ignored there was no law, and every man would be a law unto himself. Scientists might essay to build up a religion of science, stealing the phraseology of true religion, but there was nothing worthy of the name of religion in it. True religion was the faith of the trusting heart in the living God, and the foundation of hope of life beyond the grave. If there was no God there was no religion; if there was no heaven there would be no hope. God's will, the supreme law, was to be learned from his works, in which he speaks to us, and in the spiritual nature of man with its spiritual instincts. He was also unveiled in his word, whose authenticity the true believer feels to his comfort and peace. God's will was also learned by the witness of His spirit, through communion with the soul. The speaker eloquently depicted how this fact was the key truth; God had created us with a spiritual nature, configured to his own, so that we might have fellowship with him. The text suggested the thought that God had a work for each to do. Each was required to work out his own salvation. The christian's life was all work for God. God had a work for each redeemed soul. This idea gave dignity and grandeur to the lowliest life. God thinks of all and has special plans in relation to each individual. The reverend gentleman closed an impressive and practical sermon by a telling exhortation to each one present to enter upon the work which God had given him or her to do.

In the evening there was, if possible, a larger attendance to listen to a discourse by president of Victoria University. He took for his text part of the twelfth verse of the sixth chapter of the first epistle to Timothy, "Lay hold on eternal life." The preacher alluded to the different forms of life and traced their progress in development from the plant to the animal; from the animal to human life; from the human to the angelic; from that to the life of the ever living God. Human life was complex above all other forms, inasmuch as it combined the animal and spiritual. This union of two natures accounts for most of the temptations and tragedies that darken human life. Man could become more degraded than the brute, for he has greater heights to fall from. Humanity was capable of the highest exaltation or of the deepest degradation. The life of man was a ladder, the foot resting on earth and the top in heaven. Man was intended to rise, and he never became himself till he began to rise. This was shown by the possession of these higher gifts. The eagle rose high in air but he had no aspirations and no hopes beyond his mere physical elevation, while human life was full of aspiration and hope. No one, the preacher asserted, could perfectly define the unbounded significance of eternal life, for even the mysteries of the lowest forms of plant life were inexplicable. Eternal life was not to be doubted because it could not be explained. Eternal life was not heaven, it was not immortality, although it included and implied both. It was not indefinite existence, for the fallen angels had that, though they had lost the principles of eternal life by the fall. The possession of eternal life did not imply enjoyment alone, for at his best man's life was strife, struggle and self-denial. God did not love the world because Christ died for it, but Christ died because God loved the world. Eternal life was embraced in the story of the manger, the garden and the cross. Christ came to give us higher conceptions of human life. There was no other definition to be given. Eternal life began on earth, and those who did not grasp it here would have no chance in the changeless future. The speaker concluded by urging his hearers to lay hold on eternal life, and they would pass from its earthly enjoyment to the full enjoyment of heaven. [illegible] was suggestive of a prosperous future for the Charlotte street Methodist Church. The only fear is that the congregation may speedily outgrow the capacity of the church.

Peterborough Markets.

[Supplied by W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer, and General Grocer, George Street.]

PETERBOROUGH, July 5th, 1883.

Not much doing in Grain. Wheat continues flat in outside markets, but is fairly steady here at 98c. to $1 for Spring; 95c. to 96c. for Fall; Goose Wheat 90c. to 91c. Nothing doing in Barley or Peas. Oats are quiet and lower, selling down to 42c. Wool 18c. to 18½c.

On the market there is not much doing. Butter brings in rolls 16c. to 18c., in lots 15c. to 16c. Eggs 14c. Other commodities unchanged.

WEATHER NOTES FOR JUNE.

May was a wet rainy month, rain falling considerably above the average; but it must yield the palm to June. While May's total rainfall on 19 days was to the depth of 4 87-100 inches, June has a record of rain falling on 16 days, to the enormous depth of 8¼ inches—a depth seldom reached. Sometimes local thunder storms may give a heavy downfall, but I believe our late heavy storms have been pretty general according to the different reports received. From its commencement at 5 o'clock on the morning of the 25th, continuing for nearly three days, it fell 3¼ inches. Our creeks and swamps were higher on the 27th than during our spring floods. We have had thunder on 7 different occasions; but it would appear to be accompanying the rain, more than the rain following the thunder, as is generally the case. We had white frost on two mornings, namely: the 2nd and 14th; but the plums are the only things apparantly injured, the red ones being mostly destroyed. The highest temperature reached was on the 17th and 23rd—attaining 96° and 93° respectively, in the shade, but on the whole the month has had a uniform temperature, averaging 60° degrees at sunrise and sunset, while June of '82 averaged 56°.

THE CROPS.

Fall wheat looks well. Should the weather dry up, to prevent rusting, there will be a good average crop. Hay is good, but especially young clover is an extra heavy crop. The outlook is good, if only well saved. Of other crops, the prospect is gloomy indeed. Having so much heavy rains a large quantity has been badly scalded, and considerable killed entirely. A number of our summer fallows are not plowed yet, and from the wetness of the fields in many cases it is impossible to haul out the manure. Take it all in all, from the setting in of winter in '82, it has been up hill work with the farmer, between snow and rain.

THE SUCCULENT STRAWBERRY.

A CORDIAL CALL TO CORDACH.

A Morning Ramble over the Delightful Run in Urbe of S. M. Rogers, Esq.—A Stroll Among the Strawberries—A Big Crop—The Quality Good—The Amount Consumed.

The plant and its fruit of the genus Fragaria, is the day dictionary way of describing a fruit that is practically indescribable. It is the sweet synonym of all that is delicious in the field of fruit. Abounding wild in the fields, or easy of growth in gardens, the strawberry is emphatically the people's fruit. The rich have no monopoly of it. To vary the Horatian saying: The blushing strawberry tops with equal taste at the pampered palate of the prince and the tongue of the poor man. Its luscious wine-flushed flesh, that nestles like nectar on the tongue, and its glorious richness in mock-cream combination with cream, have made it the empress of small fruits. Even the exigeant goddess of fashion has laid the rotund and ruby corpse of "crushed strawberry" on her altars; in the hands of a "ladies' aid" committee, the strawberry feels the Midas touch and is transmuted into gospel gold on the shrines of the church. In a word, its virtues and charms are all included in the quaint comprehensiveness of the remark of Dr. Butler, made over 300 years ago, in reference to the fruit now on the plate before the reader; "Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did."

BEARDING THE BERRY IN ITS DEN.

Last Friday morning, therefore it may be presumed, we accepted with pleasure an invitation from the genial proprietor to "drop in and see his strawberries," little thinking how much of pleasure these simple words implied. Entering upon his beautiful little urban farm, at the Park street gates, and passing by the main drive, beyond the venerable stone farm house, one comes upon the vegetable garden. Here one sees a fine garden in the highest state of tilth; the celery showing greenly in the trenches; the robust potato plants, with the young tubers an appetizing size in the hills; rows of lusty tomato plants with fruit the size of filberts on the vines; long ranks of currant bushes, bending with the rich bunches of green fruit like clusters of emeralds; the delicate onion holding up its graceful green arms heavenward, and sending forth its Sampsonian fragrance, and the utilitarian aspect of the scene, relieved by the presence of tastefully trim borders of flowers in full bloom.

Passing on westward, crossing a style and the Missing Link, that shockingly mutilates the farm by passing through it, the visitor reaches a brawling brook. Beyond this, a few steps through a green field, brings one to the goal, the piece de resistance of the horticultural menu,

THE STRAWBERRY FIELD.

The vines which are principally situated on the eastern aspect of the hill sloping to the valley of the brook, cover about an acre of ground, which, as well as the gardens, is under the skilled charge of Mr. Arthur Blade, head gardener to "Cordach." The vines are in an unusually thriving condition, having come through the winter in fine form. They are laden profusely with the fruit now beginning to ripen rapidly. Some of the varieties mature fruit of immense size. Out of curiosity the gardener was persuaded to measure one of the most bloated of berry aristocrats, whose girth indicated a circumferance of

FIVE AND THREE-QUARTER INCHES.

This was not a phenomenal berry; hundreds were to be seen of nearly equal size. With very little selection twenty-five or six berries were selected that filled a quart measure. These were found on the Sharpless Seedling vines, which produce the largest berry. The Duchess, however, is held to be the finest in flavour. There are a great many varieties grown here; the Wilson being a later variety, is in full bearing when nearly all other varieties are exhausted. This year the fruit is exceptionally abundant, there being many single plants that will mature a quart each, in the season. In a day or two the season will be at its height, and it will require half a dozen brisk pickers to to keep pace with the ripening of the fruit. From 200 to 300 quarts ripen daily, and the season lasting about three weeks, will make the yield of this acre about 5,000 OR 6,000 QUARTS.

The berries are nominally picked twice a day, but really they ripen so rapidly that the pickers are constantly employed. The berries when gathered are delivered at a storehouse on the grounds, where they are put in baskets, made at Oakville, holding a full quart each, in which condition they are sent to the dealers. The quality of the fruit this year is excellent.

Adjoining the strawberries is a fine plot of raspberries—the Philadelphia red—which will produce about 2,000 quarts. In point of ripening they succeed the strawberries, and will be in full bearing when the latter fail.

Our hour's visit to "Cordach" was a perpetually renewed delight, and it would be a quest about as difficult as that of Sir Galahad, to find a little farm more thoroughly and intelligently tilled, and with results that generally do not attend fancy farming, that this same tidy little domain of "Cordach."

From the Northern to the Midland.

How Freight Will Be Handled.

Those who read the item in our Tuesday's issue in reference to the removal of the Messrs. Strickland's saw mills from Bradford to Griffin (from the line of the Northern Railway to the Midland), did not, perhaps, reflect on what this transfer means. It means the diverting of the immense traffic to result from the development of eighty miles of the extensive timber limits of Black River, from the Northern Railway and Toronto to the Midland Railway and Peterborough. If the canal to connect Lake St. John with the Couchiching is built, and there is little doubt of it—the distance being only 400 yards and the cost only $30,000; the product of the Messrs. Strickland's saw mills, and their timber making operations (their timber on the Black River amounts to 150 million feet), will be sent over the Midland Railway via the Missing Link, and will pass through Peterborough.

Last year the firm sent 250,000 cubic feet of timber over the Northern Railway, and this year, so far, they have sent 125,000 cubic feet. Their lumber cut, which amounted to 7,000,000 feet last year, and this year, so far, to 4,000,000 feet, will also go over the Northern Railroad. This is only the business of one firm, but when the operations of all the other timber and lumber business on the Black River become tributary to the Midland and Peterborough, some idea may be formed of the immense traffic that will be diverted from the Northern to the Midland. Where the benefit to Peterborough is likely to come in, is in the commercial business arising from the change. The supplies for the lumbering operations literally come in over all routes over which the products of the lumbering operations find an outlet. The matter of camp supplies, the expenditure of their wages by labourers and workmen, will naturally look to Peterborough as the nearest commercially competent base of supplies. The repairs to mill machinery, and all the work of that kind, will also naturally find way to Peterborough, the nearest point where proper facilities for their execution are to be found. The expenditure of the Messrs. Strickland alone amount to from $40,000 to $50,000 per year. We have no figures for the other establishments and companies that will become tributary to the Midland route, but there is no doubt that it would mean a handsome increase of business to both the Midland and Peterborough. The matter is in the right hands, those of Mr. Cox, the Messrs Strickland and the Otonabee Town Council, all interested, and success to there far being brought to a satisfactory solution.

The gaps in Turnbull's stock of Hosiery filled up this week with several new lines by express.

Episcopal Visitation.

On Saturday last, His Lordship Bishop Jamot paid his first official visit to the village of Hastings, to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. He was accompanied by the Revs. Fathers Keating and Quirk. On arriving at Hastings, they were met by a large number of the congregation of St. Mary's Church, and escorted to the parochial manse. On arrival at the church, after the ceremonies customary on such occasions were performed, His Lordship was presented with a very flattering address, which was read by Mr. T. Coughlin, sr. Public expression of the feelings of the congregation for their esteemed and devoted pastor, were also mentioned in the address, who has for many years labored zealously and indefatigably for their spiritual advancement and success. The Right Rev. Dr. Jamot in reply, expressed his pleasure at meeting the faithful in that part of his diocese, and his gratitude for the kind sentiments expressed towards the Holy Father and himself, conveyed in the address. He thanked them for meeting him at the station in such large numbers. He knew that they were giving expression to the feelings of their hearts. He was glad to see them prospering, and that it would ever be his duty to instruct them in spiritual and advise them in temporal matters. They were aware of the duty which called him here on this occasion. It was to administer the Holy rite of Confirmation, virtually making those receiving the sacrament, children of the church. On the following day, (Sunday) his Lordship administered confirmation to 120, after which he delivered a very impressive discourse warning his people against the evils of intoxication, and in response to his appeal all the younger members knelt and took the pledge. His Lordship also depicted the evil effects, resulting from the pernicious literature so prevalent. The church was filled with a devout congregation, who listened with wrapt attention to an eloquent sermon from Rev. Father Keating. On Monday, His Lordship visited the school, where he was presented with an address by Lillie Graham, Annie Brennan, and Jessie Mckennon, on behalf of the school. His Lordship expressed his pleasure at finding the school in such an efficient state.

Of Interest to Peterborough.

Very many persons will be interested in knowing that the Canada Consolidated Gold Mining Company (Marmora), which failed, through lack of funds, to complete the necessary works and to develop the Marmora mine, are considering the offers of a Syndicate of New York capitalists. This syndicate propose, we understand, to lease the mine, complete the works and develop the resources of the mine to a paying point. This arrangement, which promises to be successfully negotiated, contemplates, also, eventual payment of the indebtedness of the Company. It was to promote these ends that Mr. H. T. Strickland has accepted a position on the Board of Directors of the Company. He has just returned from New York, where he was attending to the promotion of the matters in question. We hope to announce at an early day that the negotiations have been carried to a successful issue. On the success or failure of the development of the Marmora mine depends the success of the development of the mining interests of this district, in which Peterborough is more generally interested than is generally thought.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Council met at Centreville at the call of the Reeve. Present, the Reeve, Wm. Rutherford Esq., and Councillors Lightfoot, Riddell, Byers and Purvis. Communication from R. E. Edwards, Esq., giving legal opinion as to the proper steps to be taken to close the road between lots 18 and 19 in the 4th concession, and open up a road across lot 19 to lot 20.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

In the matter of opening a drain at Fraserville, petitioned for by William Rogers, the committee reported unfavorably.

The Committee appointed to inspect the roads and bridges of the township, reported in favor of granting $76 for gravelling opposite lots 5 and 6 on the the first concession, $100 for gravelling opposite lots 5 and 6 on the second concession, $50 for gravelling on 4th concession, between Wallace Point bridge and Squirrel bridge. To grade with clay taken from Clark's hill 250 yards of the 3rd concession, opposite lots one and two. To grade with clay taken from Bonar's hill the entire length of Squirrel bridge, 1 foot deep and 9 feet wide. To grade with clay from Brayton's hill 110 yards opposite lot 8, 2 yards of clay to each rod. Also to gravel 60 yards at the rate of two yards to each rod opposite lot 8 in the 4th concession. To build a new culvert (18 foot span) opposite lot 10 in the fourth concession. To build new culvert (18 foot span) opposite Truscott's gate, and the putting in of new sleepers and repairing of the culvert opposite Tippett's gate, both on the third concession. Also to gravel at the rate of 2 yards of gravel to the rod, from the most eastern culvert to the eastern terminus of the swamps opposite lots 1 and 2 in the 3rd concession.

COMMITTEES.

The Reeve and Mr. Lightfoot were appointed to inspect the claying of Squirrel bridge, and gravelling to be done on the 4th concession.

The Reeve and Mr. Riddell to inspect all the work done on the 3rd concession, the building of the culvert opposite lot 10, and the grading and gravelling opposite lot 8, 4th concession.

Messrs. Perrin and Byers to inspect all work done on 1st and 2nd concessions.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were passed, and orders drawn on the treasurer for the amount: A. Reynolds, half price for building culvert over west boundary $9.50; John [illegible] for care of John Mayes while sick, $2,00; W. Rutherford, for coffin and other supplies to the late Samuel Bonar as trustee, $11.50.

W. Rutherford, Esq., Reeve paid to the treasurer $25, refunded by County Council, of the money advanced by this municipality for certificates of insanity, etc, in the case of Robert Montgomery.

Council adjourned to meet at the call of the Reeve.

Hop Bitters are the Purest and Best Bitters Ever Made.

They are compounded from Hops, Malt, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion,—the oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other remedies, being the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigor to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Apetizer, Tonic and mild Stimulant, Hop Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Hop Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use Hop Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

Do not suffer or let your friends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop Bitters.

Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, drugged, drunken nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the Bitters to-day. 26-4t

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher.

MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the sereens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORO, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing myself for the past thirteen years, and find the New Model is the best one I have ever seen, or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

MARRYING OFF THE GIRLS.

"Brown," said a neighbor to him one day, "I don't see how it is that your girls all marry off as soon as they get old enough, while none of mine can marry."

"Oh! that's simple enough," he replied, "I marry my girls off on the buckwheat straw principle."

"But what principle is that? Never heard of that before."

"Well I raised [illegible] acres a good deal of buckwheat and it puzzled me to know how to get rid of the straw. Nothing would eat it and it was a bother to me. At last I thought of a plan. I stacked my buckwheat straw nicely and built a high rail fence around it. My cattle of course concluded that it must be something good and at once tore down the fence and began to eat the straw. I drove them away, and put up the fence several times; but the more I hunted them off the more anxious they became to eat the straw, and eat it they did, [illegible] of it. As I did I marry my girls on the same principle. When a young man that I don't like begins to call on my girls I encourage him every way I can. I tell him to come often and stay as late as he pleases, and I take pains to hint to the girls that I think they had better set their cap for him. It works first rate. He don't make many calls, for the girls treat him as coolly as they can. But when a young fellow that I like comes around, a man that I think would suit me for a son-in-law, I don't let him make many calls before I give to understand that he isn't wanted about my house. I tell the girls too, that they shall not have anything to do with him, and give them orders never to speak to him again. The plan always works as I wish. The young folks begin to pity and sympathize with each other, and the next thing that I know is that they are engaged to be married. When I see that they are determined to marry I, of cottrse, give in and pretend to make the best of it. That's the way I manage it."

DEAD AT LAST.

A French [illegible] by the name of Fouques, [illegible] the Algerian capital, whose singular fortune it was to be thrice at long intervals pronounced dead, and laid out in his coffin. His first experience was in 1842 when he fell into a trance, from which he recovered in time to knock violently on the coffin as the bearers were carrying him to the grave. In 1866 an attack of the cholera ended, to all appearance in death, and he was again on the point of being buried when he recovered consciousness. A few weeks ago the doctor once more declared that Fouques was dead, but his friends mindful of two narrow escapes, resorted to all known means of resuscitation, and refused to bury the body until the most unmistakable evidences of dissolution appeared.

A SMALL PHILOSOPHICAL DEDUCTION.

A young lady, says Puck, whose name we withhold, writes to say that it is very strange that an animal may hear people speak a language from the time it is born, and yet never understand a word of it; while a child, who is born entirely ignorant of a single word or its meaning, learns the whole language of which that word is a member. We do not think it at all strange, because a duckling, who is hatched out without any idea of aquatics, can swim half a mile the first time it goes into the water, while some men, born with the same ignorance, can never be taught to swim a stroke.

By promoting the digestion and assimilation of the food and securing increase of nerve force and muscular energy, the use of WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA will bring up constitutional vigor to its normal plane. 27-2t

A little girl recently went to visit her grandfather's in the country. She is fond of milk, but firmly refused to drink any while there, without giving any reason. When she returned she was asked: "You had nice milk there to drink, didn't you?" "I guess I didn't drink any of that milk," she indignantly replied. "Do you know where grandpa got it? I saw him squeeze it out of the old cow!"

A vigilant sentinel is posted at the door of a picture gallery with strict orders of the customary character. A sightseer happens along and is promptly halted. "Here, sir, you must leave your cane at the door!" "But, my friend, I haven't got any cane!" "Then go back and get one! No one is allowed to pass in here unless he leaves his cane at the door. Orders is orders."

ROANTREE'S GRIST MILLS, NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

30 Doz. Ladies Linen Collars, 10 each.
10 Doz. Children's Cotton Hose, 5c a pair.

50 Dozen Louise Corsets, 35c. a pair.

It is a well known fact that a great many Merchants advertise certain lines of goods, to deceive the public, which they never had in their store.

CAUTION!

To obviate this pernicious practice we would advise all parties to cut out such advertisements and bring them with them. To convince you that we have the goods, adopt the above principles and we are sure of your patronage.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

Talent Appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Shaw's popularity as a solid and sound divine and excellent preacher is attested by the frequent demand on his services. On Sunday next he will preach at Baillieboro, on the occasion of the opening of the new Methodist Church there, and will also deliver an address in connection with the opening services on Monday. On the Sunday following the reverend gentleman will occupy the pulpit of the Stirling M. E. Church on the occasion of the first anniversary.

A New Brand of Navvy.

On Thursday morning a new brand of navvy arrived at the Midland Station. They were from the classic shores of Greece, and were far above the average navvy in intelligence and thrift. They were well supplied with money—in fact, they paid their own fares from Peterborough to Madoc, where they were sent by Mr. John Kinsella to work on Sim's contract on the O. & Q. Two of them gave Mr. Kinsella $50 and $20 bills respectively, to purchase tickets for them. Popular experience with the ordinary navvy would be surprised at the latter having a fifty or a twenty cent piece.

Worthy of Commendation.

The enterprise manifested by the Peterborough EXAMINER is worthy of its energetic and indefatigable proprietor. The Toronto Conference of the C. M. Church was held in Peterborough during the present month. The proceedings of said Conference were of universal public interest, and with a view of supplying the public with full and accurate reports, the proprietor of the EXAMINER issued a daily paper, thus furnishing his numerous readers with a daily, full and accurate report of the interesting proceedings. The effort was highly commendable and deserves public recognition.—Ontario Observer.

The Caisse House Complimented.

The Christian Guardian, the official organ of the Canada Methodist Church, has the following in its last issue respecting the Caisse House, which was the home of so many ministers during the recent conference session:—

"During the recent Conference in Peterborough the editor of this paper and Rev. John Bredin were the guests of Mr. T. G. Choate, of the Caisse House. Several other ministers stayed there also. We have much pleasure in acknowledging the very courteous attentions of Mr. Choate during our stay. This hotel is orderly and well kept, the rooms clean and pleasant, and the table good. We can recommend any of our readers who may visit Peterboro to patronize 'mine host' of the Caisse House."

Struck by Lightning.

During the terrific thunderstorm of Tuesday night, the lightning struck the residence of Mrs. Mascip, Water street, south of McDonnel. The only damage done was knocking several bricks from the chimney, and giving a great shock and fright to the occupants.

The Cherry Trees.

We hear numerous complaints this year that the black knot, which has done such serious injury to the plum trees has also attacked the red cherry in different localities and they are dying in large numbers. Owners of trees should keep a strict watch and see that all affected parts are at once removed and destroyed, this is the most effectual way to prevent it.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Part II, first class,—1st, Maggie Kelly; 2nd, Edith Guerin; 3rd, Archie Putvin and Thos. Curren. Part I, first class,—1st, Jimmie Kelly; 2nd, Annie Watson; 3rd; Freddie Kelly and Archie LaRoque.

Closing of the Mails.

The morning mails now close at 5.30 a.m. for both east and west, and the latter go by Grand Trunk to Toronto. Afternoon mails close at 3 o'clock, and go by Midland to Toronto. The evening mail closes at 7.30 p.m., to go by the 8 o'clock Midland train for Montreal and the east. Mails will arrive as usual. The Post Office Inspector who has been in town, is bound that the mail service of Peterborough shall be satisfactory. He has contracted with Mr. Robt. White to bring the mails from Millbrook by stage, and the first mail arrived on Wednesday morning in good time.

History of Peterborough County.

Mr. S. L. Moffatt is making his head quarters at the Caisse House, while he is collecting material for a popular history of the County of Peterborough, a work of 800 pages, to be issued by Mr. C. Blackett Robinson, whose name alone is a good guarantee. The work will consist of the earliest attainable history of the county, brought down of course to the present time. The physical and industrial features of the county will be fully dealt with, and personal sketches of prominent citizens, which will be accompanied by their portraits, will give interest to the work. The work of gathering information is difficult, and it is to be hoped that any one that can throw any light on the early history of the county will freely favor Mr. Moffatt with all the information at their disposal when he calls on them.

A Big Thunder Storm.

The spots on the sun are having their effect. The very biggest thing in thunder storms that has happened, this year, at least, took place on Tuesday night. The evening was close and sultry and about eight o'clock the storm began to gather. At a quarter to nine it broke. The rain came in driving sheets, the lightning in vivid bursts of wide spread blaze, and the thunder in terrible crashes. For about half an hour the flashes of lightning were all but incessant—with only a few seconds intervals. The swiftly recurring gleams showed the streets swimming in water, ploughed by the "big rain," and the trees bending and groaning before the blast that blew fiercely from the west. To vary the terrible monotony of skybroad flashes of electric fire, a bolt like a flaming sword would gleam out from the sky, at frequent intervals, followed by crashing, grinding peals of thunder that shook the town and sounded as if giants of the Cyclopean age were ripping up the rocky foundations of Dummer.

Navvies at War.

On Monday the navvies on the missing link celebrated Dominion Day in a dangerously realistic manner, about a dozen revolver shots having been fired and several men wounded. It appears that a gang of Italians struck for higher wages, and trouble was anticipated. A foreman, who was accompanied by several navvies of another nationality, went to the Italians' shanty to effect a compromise. This had been done, and the malcontents were about to resume work when one evil spirit refused and declared he would not accept the wages agreed on, nor go to work. He was about to be ejected, when another Italian drew a revolver, but he was at once covered by several others and retreated a certain distance and then turned and fired. This precepitated the row that had been brewing, and a free fight ensued, in which shots—some fifteen—were exchanged, and other available, but not very innocent weapons were used. Some were pretty badly punished in the fight, and three Italians were hit with bullets—the one that fired the first shot, in the cheek, another in the wrist, and another where a brave man is never hit—in the back. Thirty Italians have left the works, and all is now quiet on the link.

Large stock of Tweed Goods opened this week at Turnbull's.

Otonabee Fall Show.

The annual fall exhibition of the Otonabee Agricultural Society will be held at Keene on Friday, Oct. 12th. A large amount will be given in prizes.

Crystal Photographs.

Mr. H. E. Caswell is at present in town executing photographs in the French crystal style. An ordinary photograph is taken and colored and mounted in glass in such a manner as to vastly improve its appearance, and to make it a colored photograph, a gem of art. The pictures resulting from this process are very fine. Specimens may be seen at A. L. Davis & Co's book store where orders may be left.

New Midland Time Table.

The Midland Railway have issued a new time table which took effect on Wednesday, and for the information of the travelling public we give the following particulars respecting the departures and arrivals of trains from and at Peterborough and the connections made:—

Midland trains will leave the Midland station at 6.15 a.m. and connect with the local train of the G.T.R. going west at Port Hope at 8.35 a.m.

Or by all Midland route, parties leaving by the 6.15 a.m. train will reach Toronto at 10.55 a. m. and returning can leave Toronto at 4.15 p.m. and reach Peterborough at 9.15 p.m.

Or leaving Toronto at 7 a.m. the traveller can reach Peterborough at 11.55 a.m.

Connection is made with the Grand Trunk going east by the train leaving Peterborough at 8 p.m., reaching Port Hope Junction at 9.25 p.m., connecting with the eastern express at 10.05 p.m., which will reach Montreal at 6.55 (Toronto time) next morning.

GRAND JUNCTION DIVISION.

The trains of this division leave Peterborough at 6 a.m., reaching Belleville at 10.15 a.m., or leaving Peterborough at 3 p.m. reach Belleville at 7.30 p.m.

Trains leave Belleville for Peterborough at 6.45 a.m. and arrive at Peterborough at 11.45 a.m.; leave Belleville at 2.40 p.m., arriving in Peterborough at 7.20. p.m

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Regular Meeting.

A Brief Business Programme—Attendance for May & June—Resignation Accepted.

The Board met in regular session on Tuesday evening, July 3rd. Present,—Mr. Jas. Stevenson, in the chair, and Messrs. Dumble, Stratton, Rutherford, Wrighton, Robinson, Weir and Deane.

After routine,

INQUIRIES

were made by Mr. Deane, who asked why he gave leave to teachers to absent themselves from schools before time at the time of the Methodist Conference? The practice was becoming common.

The Chairman said he had given no permission.

Mr. Stratton remarked that he had also received inquiries as to the cause of teachers being absent.

Messrs. Deane and Wrighton said that the headmaster should keep a report of such absences, and that a book should be kept for the purpose.

UNPUNCTUALITY.

Mr. Stratton said the Board should consider a complaint made by parents that pupils, especially boys, were not at school in time.

Mr. Rutherford said that teachers were also remiss in this respect.

Mr. Deane asked whose duty it was to teach young children, the teacher or parents? He had heard that teachers suggested teaching by parents, when unsatisfactory progress was complained of.

Mr. Dumble said that where a teacher had 75 or 80 pupils she could not give each one a proper degree of attention.

ACCOUNTS.

Accounts for advertising Examinations were received from the Times and Review, $3.00 each, and ordered to be paid when certified to.

COMMUNICATIONS

were read,

From John Braden, headmaster of the Public Schools, tendering his resignation as headmaster of the same.

On motion of Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. Stratton, a resolution was adopted, accepting the resignation and highly complimenting Mr. Braden on his success as a teacher.

From Mr. Braden, headmaster, presenting report of attendance for May, as follows:

	On Roll.	Av. Atten.
Union School	572	472
South Ward	233	146
West Ward	167	111
Total	972	729

The attendance for June was as follows:

	On Roll.	Av. Atten.
Union School	541	395
South Ward	291	177
West Ward	172	140
Total	994	563

From T. B. Braden, applying to be appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. Braden.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

From Wm. Rae, Secretary of the Ottawa School Board, requesting the Board to co-operate with them in securing the placing on the list of text books, an elementary work treating on the effects of intoxicating liquors.—Received.

Moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. Stratton, that the Secretary be instructed to advertise in the Globe and Mail for a headmaster for the Public Schools, duties to commence immediately after the holidays. Applicants to state salary and give references.

The motion was agreed to.

DRAWING.

Mr. Dumble, from the special committee to employ a teacher on elementary drawing, explained that Miss Smith, who had been engaged pro tempore, had given the best of satisfaction, and as her services could be secured at reasonable figures, he suggested that negotiations should be opened for her permanent re-engagement.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Mr. Rutherford gave notice that at the next meeting of the Board he would move, seconded by Mr. Denne, a resolution, in view of the County Council at the June session neglecting to make a grant to the Collegiate Institute, that the fees for non-resident pupils be $4.00 per month, and for resident pupils 50 cents per month.

A thunder storm threatening, the Board adjourned sine die.

No unseasonable goods to clear at Turnbull's. (Reason why.) Our customers know we always sell cheap, and have come and bought in season.

CONGREGATION DE NOTRE DAME.

The yearly examination of the pupils of the junior classes of this institution took place on Tuesday, 26th June, and that of the senior classes on the 28th. His Lordship, Right Rev. J. F. Jamot, presided, assisted by Rev. Fathers Conway and Keating, J. F. Lynch, Esq., and other friends of the institution. The following are the names of the young ladies who distinguished themselves:—

JUNIOR CLASS.—Silver medal for application—equally merited by Misses Margaret McCabe, Margaret Doherty, Catharine Lynch, Mary Anne McNamara, Olive Wright, Esther Crommey, Catharine Calcutt. Obtained by Miss Olive Wright.

SENIOR CLASS.—Miss Margaret E. Cahill, being absent from school on account of sickness, did not compete for prizes, but she merited a testimonial of satisfaction for ladylike deportment and constant application to class duties. Silver medals, presented by His Lordship, Bishop Jamot, for excellence in deportment and for application to class duties, awarded to Misses Azeline Mercier, Mary Tierney and Anne Dunn. First Prize—equally merited by Misses Catharine Rogers, Mary A. O'Connell, Rola Martin and Mary F. Leonard—obtained by Miss Rogers Silver Cross—prize for punctuality—equally merited by Misses Ellen O'Connell, Margaret McAuliffe, Johanna Donegan and Elizabeth Donegan,—obtained by Miss McAuliffe.

TOWN COUNCIL.

SPECIAL MEETING.

A Deputation of Ladies—Fifteen Hydrants Asked for—A Long List of Street Improvements—A Midnight Session.

Council met in special session on Monday night. Present, Acting Mayor Menzies in the chair, Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, Kelly, Paterson, Rutherford, Denne and Douglass.

After routine

COMMUNICATIONS

were received

From R. Pearce, enclosing resolutions of County Council in reference to repairs of Court House Park fence.—Referred to joint committee with power to act.

From D. W. Dumble, calling attention to lack of ventilation in lockup, and suggesting improvements.—Received.

From E. Pearce, enclosing copy of resolution in respect to committee of County Council in re House of Refuge.—Referred to joint committee with Mr. McNaughton's name added to the committee.

PETITIONS.

From E. Cookson, asking street improvements.—Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

From T. L. Huffman and 16 others, asking drain to be put in on Albert street.—Referred to the health committee to report, and enquire into similar cases.

From D. W. Dumble and 226 others asking that the Public Park's Act be adopted.—Referred to special committee consisting of Messrs. Cahill, Kelly, Yelland, Denne and Hartley.

From R. Kingan, asking the Council to assist him in respect to the injury to his property by the Missing Link.—Referred to special committee to report.

From R. E. Wood and 19 others, asking street improvements on London street.—Referred to street committee with power to act.

ACCOUNTS

Were presented from Toker & Co., $24.78; Adam Hall, $7.12.—Ordered to be paid. W. Yelland, repairs to water cart.—Referred to Fire, Water, and Gas Committee.

DEPUTATION OF LADIES.

Mr. D. W. Dumble introduced a deputation from the Orphan's Home, consisting of Mesdames Gilmour and Jeffers and Miss Roger, who wished to consult the Council in reference to demands made frequently on the charity of the home.

Mrs. Gilmour said that the home was giving shelter to one John Mills and the Home thought the Council should give a share of the support of this case, which was only a sample of the applications frequently made to the Home.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson said he had known Mills for 40 years, and he thought him a fit object of charity. As a large ratepayer he thought that there should be a more systematic mode of distributing charity, and asked the ladies of the Home.

It reply to Mr. Sawers, Mrs. Gilmour said that the home kept such parties at $1.50 per week.

Mr. Denne suggested that the Town Council should support the House of Refuge scheme.

Mr. Cahill said the ladies of the Home deserved the thanks of the Council and he moved, seconded by Mr. Sawers, that the ladies of the Home be allowed $1.50 per week for the support of Mills during the pleasure of the Council.—Carried.

PLEA FOR HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Mr. Dumble wished to make some remarks respecting the destitution that came under his notice. He was, in his official capacity, often called on to send persons to jail to save them from starvation, who were guilty of no crime. He recited the case of one poor man who was found in a sleigh under a shed, sent to gaol as a vagrant, and who died in three days. The Town should unite with the County Council to establish a House of Refuge.

STREET WATERING.

A petition from G. A. Cox and others, asking for hydrants on George street for fire and other purposes, the cost not to exceed $50 each, to be paid by local taxation, and the number of hydrants not to exceed fifteen.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Paterson, that the petition of G. A. Cox and others, asking for hydrants, be referred to the Town Clerk and the Fire, Water and Gas Committee to ascertain that the petition is in accordance with the law, and if so, to have prepared a by-law to give the same effect.

Mr. Clarkson, President of the Water Works Company, being present was invited to address the Council.

He said that as far as the capacity of the water works was concerned they were as good as any in America. They would bear any test, and had been tested to the full satisfaction of the company. But if the Council or citizens desired another test it could be made better now, and the company was perfectly willing to have it made. He spoke of the bitter opposition the company had met with, and he would sooner pay water rates than insurance.

Mr. James Stevenson, who had circulated the petition, said he had not received one refusal, except one or two parties who wished to be satisfied by a fuller test, which he (Mr. S.) believed the company was willing to give. He had no stock in the company; in fact, the stringency of the by-law had prevented his investing in stock. He had circulated the petition because he felt the responsibility arising from inadequate fire protection. The limits to be prescribed by the petition, which he had left the Council to fix, he suggested should be five hundred feet from each hydrant.

Mr. Clarkson added that the adoption of the petition would not profit the company, for they would have to expend more than they received for keeping the pressure on all night. He had no hope of profit. He only acted as president of the company for the sake of the town and for the protection of property.

Mr. Rutherford's motion was agreed to.

A TEST DECIDED ON.

Mr. Denne moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the Water Works Company be requested to give a test of the water works in accordance with the by-law, or to the satisfaction of the Council, and that Mr. Wm. Hamilton be requested to stand at the gauge during the test and to report to the Council. The same to be done before next meeting of the Council, and that the Fire, Water and Gas Committee furnish the necessary hose and get the Fire Company to assist the Water Works Company in the test.

The motion was agreed to.

CHURCHES TO PAY THEIR SHARE.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that the several places of worship within the limits embraced by the petition of Mr. G. A. Cox and others, be taxed locally, and that the trustees be allowed a chance to sign the petition.

The motion was adopted.

A petition of Dr. McCrea and others, asking that Hunter street be watered from Queen street to lot 8, was referred to Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Cahill, Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, presented their report, which recommended the following street improvements:—

BETHUNE STREET.—The Midland Railway authorities, when they obtained permission to put down a switch on the street, agreed to expend the sum of $50 to take off the surface water, which they have stopped from following the natural channel. This has not yet been done, and the committee recommend that the clerk be requested to ask the authorities to have the same attended to.

Sidewalk on west side, from Hunter to Simcoe street, to be re-built.

HUNTER STREET.—Sidewalk on south side from Bethune street to Rubidge street to be re-constructed six feet wide.

STEWART STREET.—That the sidewalk north of Hunter street be repaired, and that the Midland Railway be required to build an overhead bridge over their track on said street, as required by law.

RUBIDGE STREET.—The sidewalk on the east side to be extended north from Kirk street.

REID STREET.—The sidewalk on the east side from Murray to McDonnel street to be re-built.

RUBIDGE STREET.—The portion of this street between McDonnel and London street be used as a park for the present, provided the neighborhood provide the necessary funds to erect an open fence and turnstiles on either end thereof, the same to be open to the public. In reference to that portion of Rubidge street between McDonnel and Murray streets, the committee recommend that the Midland Railway be requested to build an overhead bridge as in the case of Stewart street.

STEWART STREET.—Sidewalk between McDonnell street and the street be rebuilt.

DONNEY STREET—At its intersection with McDonnell street the sidewalk over the creek to be extended so as to cover said creek between the sidewalk and the roadway.

DONEGAL STREET.—To be watertabled north from Brock street, and a sidewalk as far as H. Snider's house.

DOWNEY STREET.—The bank on the the east side of this street, north of Simcoe street, to be cut down and the material to be deposited on the south side of Simcoe street.

REID STREET.—To be graded and gravelled from Charlotte street to Sherbrook street

RUBIDGE STREET.—A crossing to be built at the intersection of Wolf street, and another at the intersection of Wolf and Townsend streets, also a crossing on Rubidge street at Mr. Shambo's lot.

PARK STREET.—A small culvert to be built near the Midland Railway.

PERRY STREET.—The sidewalk to be completed to Lake street.

WATER STREET.—That the town engineer be instructed to strike the grade between McDonnell and Smith streets, that the same be graded and water tabled, and that the surplus material be deposited in the Goose Pond, also that the sidewalk on the east side of said street be raised near McDonnell street.

GEORGE STREET.—At the intersection of Perry street, that the town engineer strike the grade on these streets and that the same be graded, and the surplus earth be removed therefrom and be deposited on Rink street, west of George.

To be watertabled from King to Dalhousie Street.

PERRY STREET.—That a sidewalk be laid down on the south side, from the railway crossing to Park street.

HUNTER STREET.—The sidewalk on the south side near Queen street to be at once renewed.

AYLMER STREET.—To be water tabled from Hunter to Charlotte street, and the roadway to be otherwise improved, also that the sidewalk on the south side be repaired.

SHERIDAN TERRACE.—That the street at the intersection of Hunter street be cut down so as to make the ascent easier, and also that a sidewalk be laid down on the east side of said street for a short distance north.

PARK STREET.—To be graded from Bonaccord to McDonnell street, the town engineer to strike the grade, cost, say $50.

WATER STREET.—From the northern boundary to the Midland Railway to be water tabled and gravelled and two or three culverts to be put down in each place as may hereafter be designated.

MCDONNELL STREET.—To be water tabled on the east, and the material taken therefrom to be deposited between College and Harvey streets on the north side.

MURRAY STREET.—That the bridge on this street, over Dickson's race, and the sidewalk be rebuilt from London street south as far as may be necessary.

ROMAINE STREET.—To be water tabled from Crescent to Park street.

WATER STREET.—To be water tabled from Charlotte to King street.

BETHUNE STREET.—The side walk on this street to be renewed from London to Edinburgh street.

The committee recommended that the whole or any portion of the above work may be let by contract or otherwise as may be deemed expedient.

(Signed,) THOS. CAHILL, Chairman.

July 9th, 1883.

Mr. Cahill, in moving the adoption of the report, said that the improvements recommended in the report would cost about $1,000.

Mr. Denne said that some means should be adopted to remove boulders on George and Water streets.

Mr. Rutherford said that Race street was not a public street, and money should not be granted it till it should be made over to the town.

The Clerk said the town had the street by right of possession.

Mr. Cahill said that the bridge at Murray street should be attended to at once as it was in a dangerous condition, and if the Council decided not to expend money on the street it should be closed.

The report was adopted.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the special committee to investigate the accounts of the Charity Committee be dissolved, and that another consisting of Messrs. Davidson, Paterson, Rutherford and Denne be appointed.—Carried.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Denne, that the Clerk be authorized to ask for tenders for one or more watercarts, single or double, or the barrel system, and report.—Carried.

HAND ENGINES.

Moved by Mr. Peterson, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the Fire, Water and Gas Committee be instructed to call in the small hand engines and sell them, and that 500 feet of new hose be purchased.—Carried.

The Council adjourned at half-past eleven for one week.

Railway Fences.

At the last session of the Dominion Parliament some important amendments were made in the law regarding the keeping up of fences by railway companies. Under the old Act it appears that the companies were not responsible for damages caused by fences not being put up unless the owners' notified the company to do so. The act has been amended thus:—

"Fences shall be erected and maintained on each side of the railway, of the height and strength of an ordinary division fence, with openings or gates or bars therein at farm crossings of the road, for the use of the proprietors of the lands adjoining the railway, and also cattle guards at all road crossings, suitable and sufficient to prevent cattle and animals from getting on the railway.

"The words 'openings, gates, or bars,' shall be held to mean and shall in all cases imply sliding gates, commonly called hurdle gates, with proper fenoings.

"Until such fences and cattle guards are duly made, the Company shall be liable for all damages which may be done by their trains or engines to cattle, horses or other animals on the railway.

"After the fences or guards have been duly made, and while they are duly maintained, no such liability shall accrue for any such damages, unless negligently or wilfully done.

"Within six months after any lands have been taken for the use of the railway, and if thereunto required by the proprietors of the adjoining lands respectively, but not otherwise, the company shall, at their own costs and charges, set and make on the lands so taken, and from time to time maintain, support, and keep in repair a sufficient post or rail, hedge, ditch, bank or other fence, sufficient to keep off hogs, sheep and cattle, and thereby divide and separate and keep constantly divided and separated such lands from the lands or grounds adjoining thereto.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A SAD RESIGNATION.

There has been a sequel to the festivities of the 2nd July but few anticipated here, and that is the unlooked for resignation of Mr. Pearce as Reeve of the village. He has been led to this step by the harping or croaking of a few individuals who make themselves very conspicuous by their saying a great deal and doing very little. Of course, all corporations have their grumblers, but Norwood is blessed with a superabundance of them. They grumble against a certain official for not doing certain things, and then charge him with over-officiousness because he did do them. Such has been the position of Mr. Pearce as Reeve for some time back, and to please these grumblers he has resigned the Reeveship, to give place to some one who, in his own opinion, will be fully competent to please all classes of the community. It is conceded by all our people that Mr. Pearce has discharged his duties faithfully and advantageously to the village, and has even made great pecuniary and personal sacrifice to attend to the meetings of the Council, where his presence was particularly required. However, the loss of Mr. Pearce as Reeve will be a serious matter to the village, as it will be very difficult to find one here so thoroughly capable to discharge the onerous duties of that office.

A GOOD RESIGNATION.

Mr. Lyons, a teacher for some months back in our Public School, has anticipated the School Board in asking for his resignation by sending the same in a few days before the summer vacation. There has been a falling off in the attendance of pupils in his department since his incumbency, as well as many complaints of his management of the school.

Enoch Pratt has executed a deed of the Pratt free library on Malberry street to the city of Baltimore, and given his check for $833,333.33 for the support of the library.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A MOONLIGHT EXCURSION

took place on the Ovaion on the 4th instant. On her return the steamer went aground and stuck fast, the crew being unable to get her off. After considerable delay Mr. R. A. Strickland came to the rescue, but it was early in the morning when the excursionists returned to Lakefield. No doubt moonlight would have prevented the accident.

ACCIDENT.

A young lad, son of Mr. Colman Blewett, of North Smith, met with what might have proved a serious accident, on the 4th inst. While playing with a bottle containing ammonia, it shot out into his face, burning it. A medical man attended to the injury, and we learn that the eyes narrowly escaped being severely burnt.

BROKEN BOOM.

The boom of a very large drive of logs owned by Messrs. Rathbun & Son, gave way on Saturday last below Young's Point, completely stopping navigation. The steamers Cruiser and Foley were respectively above and below the logs, and could not reach their destination. Passengers have, however, been conveyed from one boat to the other in the meantime.

HALF HOLIDAY.

Our merchants have agreed to close their respective places of business during the present month and August every Wednesday afternoon, from one o'clock. It will be well for the farmers to bear this in mind.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The directors of the Smith, Ennismore, North Monaghan and Lakefield Agricultural Society met in the Council Chamber, Lakefield, on Tuesday afternoon.

Present,—Mr. John Garbutt, President, in the chair, and Messrs. John C. Sherin, T. E. Bell, Alex. Fitzgerald, Geo. Elliott, John Preston, Dr. Caldwell, R. A. Strickland, Geo. W. Fitzgerald and Sam. McKibbon.

Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

After revising the prize list the meeting adjourned.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Present,—The Chairman, Mr. J. Galvin, and Messrs. Wilson, Gordon and Caldwell.

An account of H. R. Patterson for repairing clock, 75 cents, was presented and ordered to be paid.

A list of repairs required for the school house was laid before the Board, and the managing committee received authority to make the necessary repairs during the holidays.

The report of the committee appointed to investigate the past accounts of the School Board was handed in and accepted

TERRIFIC COLLISION.

Two Grand Trunk Freight Trains Strike at Full Speed.

$200,000 of "Smitherenes."

A terrific collision occured just east of the Port Hope viaduct about 6 o'clock Friday morning between two freight trains, one bound east, with Graham, engineer, and Willoughby fireman, and one going west, Baird engineer, and Clay, fireman. The west bound train being a regular one, had the right of way. When the train from the west arrived at Port Hope, the conductor pulled up for orders. He was handed an order cancelling the regular train, thus giving him the right of way to Cobourg, to which he pushed on through the heavy fog. As he reached the heaviest part of the down grade, he saw the locomotive of the other train just turning the curve south of the toll-gate, and he whistled for brakes, but the grade and the loaded cars were too much to make any possible difference in the speed of his train. At the same moment the engineer from the east observed the train ahead, but had got on the fullest head of steam so as to ascend the grade. As a collision was unavoidable, the engineers prepared to save themselves by jumping or running over the cars. Those who jumped escaped without injury. Fireman Clay ran to the third car and jumped, spraining his shoulders. Porter, of Belleville, was the most seriously hurt, being thrown from a car top, and injured internally, and has since died.

The huge locomotives came together with

A FEARFUL CRASH.

Mr. Philp, living on the old Carveth Farm, saw the collision. He says when the steam monsters came together they were thrown up in the air, and then they tumbled to the south side of the track, locked together. Not less than eleven or twelve freight cars were destroyed. Half of them at least were smashed into splinters. locomotives were destroyed completely; the boilers and machinery were smashed into a thousand atoms, even some of the great wheels being damaged beyond repair. The track is torn up for about a dozen of car lengths, ties being broken into splinters and rails twisted out of shape. The damage cannot be covered with less than $200,000 and will porbably exceed that sum. The cause of collision is said to rest with the operator at Port Hope, but nothing definite could be ascertained on this matter pending an official investigation.

Is Unbelief Increasing?

V.

The special point to which we shall next make reference, and which will close the present series of articles, is the wondrous growth of missions in our day. In every quarter of the globe the Evangelical churches are rapidly gathering in the heathen. Never in any age has such activity been witnessed in the foreign field? The churches of the English speaking races especially are giving freely of their men and means to plant the blood-stained banner of the cross amongst those who are still in darkness and superstition. And they are reaping golden harvests everywhere. Converts are numbered by thousands and tens of thousands. Country after country has thrown wide its doors to receive the peaceful soldiers of the cross. Nations which but a few years ago were considered quite inaccessible, are now glad to secure and profit by the teaching of faithful missionaries. This progress and zeal and devotion abroad have greatly benefitted the church at home. Before foreign mission work was thus entered upon, the state of Christendom was, it must be admitted, very sad. Cold, lifeless, apathetic, spiritually dead—these are the only terms we can truthfully apply to its condition.

——Gladstone, in his "Church and State," speaks of the blight which had smitten the Church of Christ in the middle of the last century. Vecker confesses of the same period, "we had lost too many of our people by not preaching in a manner sufficiently evangelical," and he adds, "the Church exhibited a melancholy picture both as regards doctrine and discipline." It 1770 Sir William Blackstone, the eminent lawyer, then residing in London, determined to hear every clergyman of eminence in the metropolis, that among them he might make his choice. But he tells us "that he did not hear a single discourse that had more Christianity in it than the writings of Cicero; and that he never could discover, from what he heard, whether the preacher was a follower of Confucius, or Mahomet, or of Christ.'

Dr. Watts, writing about the same time, says, "There is a general decay of vital religion in the hearts and lives of men."

——The most thoughtful and intelligent confess this apathy was chiefly due to the neglect of real, earnest missionary work. Culture and Christianity can, it is affirmed, make no real progress apart from missions of the Gospel. The religion of the Bible, if anything, is missionary. But only ninety years ago, when Dr. Carey proposed that a discussion should take place on the Church's duty with regard to missions, he was straitway commanded to be silent. Ten years later the Scottish Conference, during a discussion on the subject of missions, declared a similar motion to be "fanatical and absurd; dangerous, indeed, and revolutionary." On our own continent the Andover students, headed by Adoniram Judson, were obliged to ask the conference whether the idea of missions which filled their hearts was visionary and impracticable, "I doubt," says Dr. Mullins, "if a single convert had been made before the year 1800 in foreign lands." Thus the present century began. True, three missionery societies, the Christian Knowledge Society, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, and the Church Missionary Society, had been formed, but they had seen no visible results of their labours.

——And new behold the change. Joseph Cook reckons the triumph of Christianity as one of the modern wonders of the world. In the first fifteen hundred years religion had gained one hundred million adherents. In the next three hundred years it gained an additional hundred million. Within the present century, up to the close of the year 1882, it had gained two hundred and ten millions! And these represent communicants, not merely adherents. The Bible, too, is fast becoming the constitution of nations in every land. Where can infidelity point to such triumphs? Even the advocates of infidelity have said that Germany and a few other lands much more than counterbalanced by the marvellous successes of the church on every side? In fact we live in the golden age of Universal Christian mission, when the light of the glorious gospel is awakening the nations everywhere to newness of life.

——Take a few comparative statements which will serve as specimens of a multitude of others. The information we supply, our readers may rest assured, is recent, authentic and reliable.

In 1800 England had but 14 missionary stations in the entire heathen world. To-day she can number over a thousand. Then there were but seven missionary societies on the face of the earth, now there are upwards of seventy, and of these 18 belong to America. Eighty years ago Professor Christlieb estimates the total number of heathen converts at about 50,000; now there are at least two millions; the number of schools in foreign lands was then not over 70; now there are over 12,000, with hundreds of native teachers and an army of native candidates for the ministry. The Scriptures at the beginning of the present century existed in some 50 translations, the total circulation being about five million copies. Now the Bible has been translated into 226 languages and dialects, while the issue is about 150 million copies. At the opening of this century all Protestant Christendom expended only $250,000 annually for missions. It expends to-day $7,500,000 for that purpose.

——If we take instances from the growth of missions in particular countries the account reads perhaps still more satisfactory. On all sides we witness most cheering evidences of progress and prosperity. In some cases the results are in fact unparalleled.

Thus India, one of the most interesting countries of the world, and where Christianity has to contend with almost insuperable difficulties, shows the growth of native Christians during the last decade as no less than 100 per cent. In the ten years ending 1851 the ratio of increase was but 53 per cent. Lord Lytton speaks of the change now going on there as "the greatest and most momentous revolution, at once social, moral, religious and political, which, perhaps, the world has ever witnessed."

Sierra Leon, it is well known, is a colony for liberated slaves. The population is 37,000, embracing a hundred distinct tribes. Thirty thousand of these are now professed Christians. To accomplish this noble work fifty-three missionaries have laid down their lives. The climate, it is well known, is deadly to Europeans.

Forty years ago the people of the Fiji Islands were notorious cannibals. Now, out of a population of 120,000, 102,000 are regular worshippers in the churches, while in every family there is daily prayer.

New Zealand, formerly given up to perpetual warfare, and wholly pagan, has been made a prosperous and civilized colony. Nearly 16,000 natives are members of the Christian church.

Only thirty years ago to be a Christian in Madagascar was a capital offence. In that island there are now over 70,000 church members, and more than a quarter of a million adherents.

——These are but glimpses from the mission field, but they speak volumes. We could largely add to them but we forbear. The evidences we have produced largely prove that the Church is steadily advancing, and that her labours in the past have been intensely satisfactory. The leaven is working. Much of course remains to be done. Millions are yet untaught. There are nations still in darkness and unbelief. But the past bids us go on nothing doubting. Its experience says: Sursum corda.—"Lift up your hearts."

Men may rail at the good old gospel. They may say atheism and infidelity are spreading. But the logic of facts, if they prove anything, show the onward march of the truth of Christ. The promises belong to the Church, and if her sons are faithful, victory in the future is assured.

If we have contributed anything by our articles to the better understanding of the question with which we set out, or if we have in any measure encouraged and cheered the despairing and hopeless, or strengthened the hands of the toilers for Christ, we shall be more than satisfied.

The Late Father Burke.

The cable announces the death of Rev. Thomas N. Burke, a simple priest as to title, but who has won a name, and achieved a record of faithful service to the Church, which might be envied by many mitred prelates. This eminent Dominican was born in 1830, in Galway, Ireland, and went to Rome when 17 years of age. He soon went to Perugia, where he entered the Order of St. Dominic and studied philosophy. Later he studied in Rome. After five years study in Italy he went to England and was ordained a priest. For a number of years he was engaged at a mission in Gloucester, and then founded in Tallaght, near Dublin, a novitiate and school for his Order, where he spent seven years. For a time he was superior of a monastry in Italy, and on his return to Ireland was attached to St. Saviour's Church in Dublin. He visited the United States in 1872 as visitor to the Dominican houses in America. His sermons and lectures delivered in all parts of the country gained him much popularity as an orator.

Two Richmond, Va., editors have been fighting a duel, and as a result one of them is now lugging around a bullet in his thigh. Editors, says the London Times, should be "solid" men, not "leaded."

An assessor in the county of Welland has been committed to gaol for six months and fined $200 for assessing his own property at a sum much below its value. One of the pleas made on behalf of the prisoner was that other assessors in the county were guilty of similar irregularities. The penalty was a severe one, but will probably have its desired effect, in acting as a warning to others.

Mr. Woodworth, M.P., had a farm in Manitoba that cost him about $1900. The railway officials got some gravel from him which they valued at $72, and arbitrators appointed put it at $100. In the estimation of his own modest self, this gravel was valued at $19,317. The Government has compromised the matter by allowing him $8,300. This man was one of Sir John's most servile followers during the last session. Comment is unnecessary.

One of the most remarkable projects of modern times is that for the accomplishment of which the Abbe Moigno has formed a company in Paris, and has raised $150,000 for the purpose of dragging the Red Sea and Bitter lake, in order to recover the chariots, treasure, arms and other remains of Pharaoh's host, which he believes to be there, covered with saline deposit. The research will be prosecuted by divers. The expedition is ready to leave Marseilles, and is only detained by the outbreak of cholera at the Red Sea ports.

The huge group of sun spots which made its appearance a week ago has now approached close to the centre of the sun's disk, and for several days has exhibited indications of intense activity, accompanied at night by displays of the aurora borealis. This group, like most of the great sun spots which have been accompanied by the auroras and magnetic storms, is evidently subjected to cyclonic action, the effect which is perceived in the changes of form it undergoes. It is fully as large as the group of spots that broke out on the sun at the time of the great magnetic storm of April, 1882, and can be seen without a telescope more easily than the planet of Venus was during her transit in December last.

What a lot of people who speak about the battle of Bunker's Hill know very little about it after all. This, however, is sure, that Bunker's hill is not far from Boston—that on the 17th of June, 1775, the British and the Yankees had their first noticeable brush there, under a clear, blue cloudless summer sky, and with multitudes of spectators on house-tops, hills and spires, watching anxiously how the battle went, and that, though the British at last carried the hill at the point of the bayonet and thus gained the victory, somehow or other the Yankees were wonderfully encouraged by the result, and have ever looked back to that first stricken field as one of the most glorious in their war of independence. The greatest upholder of Britain and British institutions can also rejoice in the issue of that contest, for he knows that it would have been ill for liberty the world over had the result been different.

There have been some gigantic railway projects carried out on this continent lately, but the one now on the tapis at Indianapolis, Ind., eclipses them all. Its future must now be regarded as highly problematical. The idea is to organize what is called the "People's Railroad Company of America," the purpose of which is to build two lines, double track, narrow gauge, from New York to San Francisco, and from Chicago to New Orleans. $300,000,000 of stock is to be subscribed in shares say of $50 each, so that every poor man in the country can be a stockholder in the railroad. Earl Kennedy of Indianapolis is at the head of the scheme and has had men travelling throughout the country soliciting subscriptions. Over $100,000 has been procured in that state alone.

It would be an idle task to recapitulate to-day the qualities that have made Mr. Bright's name a power in the land. His eloquence has been analysed a thousand times, and full justice has never been wanting to its nobility, simplicity and impressive weight. Lord Palmerston once indulged in an ill-bred sneer at one of Mr. Bright's speeches by referring to him after in the debate as "the reverend gentleman." It is just what Palmerston hit at in his unmanerly sarcasm that has made Mr. Bright's oratory a great political force. The secret of it is that there has always been a soul in his speeches and his politics, a humanity, a morality. But at the back of his eloquence there has always been his character, its steadfastness, its plainness, its sincerity, its mass. There could be no better illustration than Mr. Bright's peculiar place in the affectionate esteem of his countrymen of the ascendency of character, apart almost from opinions and from achievements. — Pall Mall Gazette.

That the time of Christ's crucifixion may be appropriately demonstrated by astronomical calculation, after paying due regard to the historical data which we possess, is asserted by Judge Joseph P. Bradly of the Supreme Court of the United States. The cardinal conditions postulated are that the Passover was brought within the Intercalatory of Pontius Pilate; secondly, it must be after the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius, and after the 30th year of Christ's age; thirdly, it must occur on the fifteenth of the Jewish month Nisan (or Ahib), and on the 6th day of the week, or Friday. After a close and extended calculation, his Honor reached this conclusion: "There were only three years from A.D. 27 to A.D. 35 inclusive, in which the the first of Nisan, and consequently the 14th of Nisan happened on Friday, and these were A.D. 27, 30 and 33, the last of which is very doubtful. But the crucifixion could not have happened before A.D. 28, and probably not later than A.D. 32. Therefore, the year 30 is the only one which satisfies all the conditions of the problem. It does satisfy them, because it gives opportunity for Jesus to teach publicly for about three years and to attend three Passovers during his ministry, or four, according as it commences before or after April 3rd A.D. 27. Now, since in A.D. 30 the first of Nisan fell on Friday, the 24th of March, the 15th fell on Friday, the 7th of April, which was the day of the crucifixion.

INVINCIBLES IN WAX.

Four young men entered a waxwork exhibition in Lime Street, Liverpool, and proceeded to a gallery where there was a group of figures representing the murders in Phœnix Park. The group represented Mr. Burke lying on the ground and Kelly in the act of plunging a knife into his body. Lord Cavendish was depicted in a standing position, struggling with Fagan and Brady stabbing him in the back. The figures of the other "Invincibles" connected with the assassinations were among the group. When the four young men entered they leaped over the brass rails and dashed the figures to the floor and then jumped upon them. Carey's figure stood in the long criminal gallery, close to those of "Skin the Goat" and "Curley," and his head was knocked off and thrown among the ruined group. The police were summoned and three of the men were captured. When charged at the Police Station the prisoners gave the names of Robert Brownrigg, Joseph Hobden and Henry Lloyd. The last named spoke with a strong Irish accent. The other two were palpably under the influence of drink, but Lloyd was sober. The charge preferred against the three was one of "wilfully damaging seven wax figures representing the Phœnix Park tragedy to the amount of £200." To the charge the prisoners replied, "We don't know anything about it." On the way to the Police Station one of them said, "I have knocked Carey's head off, now you can hang me if you please."

'T is only a fact that all people should know —
Everybody high, everybody low—
All who, desiring their teeth to look white,
Brush with "TEABERRY" each morning, each night,
Each speck of Tartar will yield to its power,
Removes instantly all substances sour;
Really, you'll find it a very great treasure;
You'll prove by its use—try it at leisure.

WHY?

There are many reasons why H. LeBRUN, of the City Clothing Store, has now the confidence of the public, and some of them may be briefly stated.

FIRST.

The firm has a business experience extending over ten years.

SECOND.

The Establishment is the largest in town, and the stock the most extensive.

THIRD.

The City Clothing Store sets the prices, which are always lower than any other house in Peterborough.

FOURTH.

The styles are always correct, for the reason that MR. LeBRUN employs none but the most skilful workmen.

FIFTH.

The fit, finish and durability of every garment made is perfect, because all the details of the business come under the minutest inspection.

SIXTH.

H. LeBRUN, City Clothing, Store never allows a customer to go unless they are satisfied. The good reputation of the firm will be sustained in the selection he has made.

BOYS' SUITS.—The largest and best assorted stock of Boys and Children's Clothing ever shown in town at very low prices. TWEEDS for Children's suitings very cheap, and cut free of charge.

THE REGISTRARSHIP STILL UNAWARDED

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Truth is a SOLID FACT, more solid than the granite rock; it is the richest coin of the purest metal, free from alloy of every description, the shaft of envy will not deface it, neither will the shots of prejudice enter it. It is surrounded on all sides by a thousand foes; but each and all, without exception, are mute beneath its piercing glance. It is a fact, as sold as the above, that

W. J. DEVLIN'S

Reputation as the leading harness maker of Peterborough, is as immovably and assuredly established as the Rock of Ages. None can do better than call and inspect the magnificent stock from which he is prepared to supply the Town and Country with any quantity of Horse Furnishings of every description, comprising

HARNESS of Every Description, (Light and Heavy)

ALSO, A WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Saddles, Bridles, Whips, Buggy Rugs, Lap Dusters, Harness Oils and Varnishes.

All Collars Warranted, and no gall shoulders from misfits guaranteed.

Ladies and Gentlemen wishing to purchase TRUNKS and VALISES, will find the largest and best assorted stock in town to select from at

The East End City Harness Depot, Hunter Street, East of George and West of Water Street.

This is positively no Jew Store, as there is only one price, and one price only.

ONE DAY'S CRIMES.

The telegraphic despatches of July 3rd, from the United States, brought the following list of crimes happening in one day. Judging by precedent about one per cent. only of the criminals will be adequately punished:—

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

Two men were robbed by highwaymen at Red Rock camp meeting, near St. Paul, Minnesota, to-day. Pistols were placed at their victims' heads. The robbery occurred within the camp grounds.

A FALSE WIFE ORDERS HER HUSBAND SHOT.

Abram Coppernoll, a farmer of the town of Victory, near Auburn, N.Y., was shot three times with a large navy revolver to-day by Lew French, a young farm laborer. Suspected intimacy with Coppernoll's wife was the cause of the trouble. The wife was present at the shooting and ordered French to fire. Both French and Mrs. Coppernoll are under arrest. The victim will die, all three shots taking effect in his body.

SHOT IN THE HARVEST FIELD.

Intelligence was received at Lynchburg, Virginia, to-day of a homicide near Breckinridge, Henry County, Joe Grant fatally shooting a man named Washington Manning. Several days ago the latter made remarks reflecting upon the character of Grant's mother, hearing of which Grant armed himself, and going into the harvest field where Manning was at work shot him five times and then stabbed him. The murderer fled.

BEATEN TO DEATH WITH A BLUDGEON.

Reinhardt Wagner and will Burkhardt, of Glasgow, Missouri, each about 18 years old, went out skiff riding last evening on the creek and quarrelled over some trifling matter. Between words and blows the time was short. Each secured a stout club and went at it in dead earnest. Wagner struck Burkhart on the right temple, and the latter sank to the ground dying.

AN OUTRAGER LYNCHED.

A negro named Bill McDowell, of Louisiana, Missouri, was lodged in jail at Bowling Green for assaulting Kate Murray. Early this morning 100 masked men from the vicinity went to Bowling Green, broke into the jail, seized McDowell and started with him towards Louisiana. About a mile from the town the party halted, and, after extorting a full confession from the negro, they hung him to a tree. McDowell also confessed to having fled from Southern Missouri on account of of a similar crime there.

KILLED WITH A BASEBALL BAT.

On Thursday, in the town of Murray, Iowa, while a wizard oilman was engaged in tinkering his lamp preparatory to lighting up for the sale of his wares, he made some remarks which were offensive to a young man who sat with a lady relative in a carriage near by. The young man drove home, put up his horse, and returned to the scene of the street vendor's operations with a ball bat, and, stepping up behind the wizard oilman, he dealt him a heavy blow on the back of the head, crushing the skull and causing a wound, from the effect of which death ensued. There is talk of lynching the offender, and the officers have taken him to Osceola for safe keeping.

A HUSBAND SHOOTS HIS WIFE.

Mrs. Agnes L. Wynne, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was fatally shot to-day by her husband, James H. Wynne. Mrs. Wynne is 19 years old, and her husband is one year younger. They were married eighteen months ago, and had one child 3 months old. For some time they had lived unhappily together, and Wynne says he had intended to separate from her. He had been drinking heavily lately, and [illegible] Saturday they quarrelled. He threatened to shoot her, and answered: "I dare you to do it." At the time she was lying on the bed with her baby beside her. The young husband drew his revolver and fired, the bullet entering her breast. He made no attempt to escape, but went for a physician. Subsequently Mrs. Wynne was taken to the hospital, where her wound was pronounced fatal. Wynne was arrested. Two former playmates of Mrs. Wynne were present when the shooting occurred.

HEARTLESS PARENTS.

D. E. Westcott and his wife, of Scranton, Pa., have created a sensation by their cruelty toward Charles and Willie, their children. The boys seemed to have had a mania for stealing, and in order to break them off the habit the parents resorted to very inhuman treatment. Mrs. Westcott took Willie, knelt by a hot stove, and, placing his bare hands on it, prayed for him, asking him to unite with her. But the pain was so intense that the boy begged most piteously for mercy, yelling so loud that the neighbors were startled. Charles was tortured in the same manner by both father and mother. Still they continued to steal. Nothing seemed severe enough to reform them, so they were arrested and the jury convicted Charles of the crime.

PROGRESSIVE DESIGNS UPON THE HOLY LAND.

China and Japan, after the lapse of centuries, were at last compelled to open their ports to foreign trade, and to adopt many of the improvements of higher civilizations. And now it is proposed that the Holy Land shall be aroused from its lethargy to experience a thrill of the progress which has lifted the surrounding nations into commercial prosperity and political greatness. An English company, with the Duke of Marlborough at its head, has been formed to make the preliminary surveys to find out whether it will be practicable to carry out several suggested enterprises. The first contemplates a canal twenty-five miles in length from Hoifa, on the Bay of Acre, through the plain of Asdraelon to the valley of the Jordon, to be two hundred feet wide, which would conduct the waters of the Mediterranean into the heart of Palestine. It is further proposed to build a canal twenty miles in length from the head of the Gulf of Akaboah to the Dead Sea. The London Railway News says: "If these plans are carried out it is expected that an inland sea, about two hundred miles long, varying in width from three to ten miles, and deep enough to float vessels of the largest size, would extend from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea." Supposing it possible to overcome all the engineering difficulties in the prosecution of these grand works the consent of the Porte will be necessary before they are undertaken; and it is feared that certain European powers would offer objection to any privileges of an exclusive character being granted to England. The London Times refers to the proposed enterprise as follows: "It is possible the new enterprise may be proved to the satisfaction of many devout men and women to be the fulfillment of the prophecy of Ezekiel, to the effect that there is to be a broad sea in the desert, and that 'the fishes shall stand upon it from En-dedi even unto En-eglaim.'"

DEATH OF SIR ALBERT SMITH.

Sir Albert Smith is dead and a prominent political figure has been removed from the stage of action. The deceased was born at Shediac county, Westmoreland, and when a very young man went to Dorchester to study law with the Hon. E. B. Chandler. Soon after he was called to the bar he gained a large and lucrative business. As years went on he invested largely in shipping, became one of the principal owners of a large fleet owned in Dorchester and was reputed wealthy. In 1852-3 he was elected one of the representatives of the Westmoreland in the New Brunswick Legislature, in opposition to the local Family Compact Tory party, and he soon gained a prominent position. He became a member without office of the first Liberal Administration formed in the Province. After Confederation Mr. Smith became a member of the House of Commons, and for some years held aloof from both parties. He was offered a seat in the Macdonald Cabinet and declined it. In 1872-3 he was offered the Governorship of New Brunswick, and that also he declined.

He refused for a time to believe Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues capable of the great crime of selling the Canadian Pacific Railway charter, but when he saw how strong the evidence was he joined heartily with those who thought that so great a crime should not go unpunished. He became Minister of Marine in the Government formed by Mr. Mackenzie, and held that office until the fall of the Government in 1878. He did much to bring about the long delayed sitting of the Fishery Commission.

PERILOUS ADVENTURE OF A BABY.

The 1½ year old son of Benjamin Pierce, of Wilmington, Deleware, narrowly escaped a terrible death. The Pierce family occupied rooms on the third floor of No. 509 Market street, and yesterday morning, about 8 o'clock, the child was laying on a sofa in night clothes opposite a window facing the police station. Mrs. Pierce had her back to the window, and turned round just in time to see the child's body disappear. Half wild with fright she tore down stairs, expecting to find the mangled remains of her boy on the pavement below, but upon reaching the ground she was attracted by screams, and, looking up, saw her child suspended in the air by his nightgown, which had fortunately caught on a nail protruding from the window sill. The mother shrieked and started up stairs, fearing the boy would fall before she could reach him. The cloth was strong, however, and the boy was rescued from his perilous position uninjured. After the excitement was over Mrs. Pierce fell in a dead faint across the window sill, but she was soon revived with the assistance of the neighbors.

FON DU LAC, DEC, 20. '82.

I am a man sixty years of age; hair and moustache as white as snow. I can give you any number of references, as I am well known in this State. I have been diseased all my life with pain in my stomach. This fall I was taken sick and could get no relief from the best doctors, with all their skill, our city could afford, but grew worse until I went to using your ZOPESA. It brought me out all right by using one bottle, and I am better now and my system is more regular than for years. J. C. BROWN.

WINNIPEG REGISTRY MUDDLE.

Col. Kennedy's Explanation.

In reference to this matter the Winnipeg Free Press says:—

"The Committee of Public Accounts were occupied Wednesday night in discussing Colonel Kennedy's accounts as Registrar of Winnipeg. Col. Kennedy was present with his counsel, Mr. Sedley Blanchard. He explained fully the accounts which he claimed from the Government as Registrar both for Winnipeg and the County of Selkirk, in the years 1881 and 1882. Considerable discussion took place. The members of the Committee, upon examination of the accounts, admitted that a large part of the accounts was chargeable to the Government. This included a charge for copying documents, an act necessitated by the transfer of a large portion of the business from the county to the city office, when the latter was created. But as to the remainder of the accounts the general opinion expressed was that although the expenditure might have been properly incurred by Col. Kennedy, it was not chargeable to the Government of this Province, but to the city of Winnipeg and the county of Selkirk. In reference to these points, Mr. Kennedy said that he was compelled to charge to the Government the whole amount of his contra account; because the law, as it now stood upon the statute book, did not give him the power to compel the county and the city to pay the running expenses of his office. He therefore contended that as it was certainly not fair that he should pay the amount out of his own pocket, he should look to the Government for what he claims to be fairly due him.

"The Committee decided that Col. Kennedy should be requested to pay over to the Government the sum of six thousand dollars, being the amount considered chargeable to the city and county; and that instructions should also be given to the Inspector of Registry Offices and to the Provincial Auditor to examine all the accounts and report as soon as possible to the Public Accounts Committee.

"The main difficulty is the improper organization of the county councils. But the new Act now before the Legislature will obviate any difficulty of the kind arising again."

THE WEEKLY NEWS NARRATIVE

Told Without Waste of Words.

Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, died Thursday.

Cholera has made its appearance at Cairo, and, it is believed, at Berlin.

Li-Hung-Chang, the Chinese commander-in-chief, has rejected the French proposals.

Two of the soldiers of the sanitary cordon around Samanoud, Egypt, have died of cholera.

The Kingston Presbytery has adopted a resolution protesting against the new Sunday train service on the Grand Trunk railway.

An Ennis farmer named Griffey has been shot and seriously wounded for taking a farm from which the previous tenant had been evicted, in Ireland.

The Duke of Marlborough died suddenly on Thursday of heart disease. He retired in apparently good health the night before, and was found dead in the morning.

It is reported that Major McGill has appointed adjutant at the Royal Military College, Kingston, and Major Gordon, of the 14th, P.W.O. Rifles, adjutant of the Toronto School of Infantry.

A writ has been issued for an election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons for Halifax county caused by the appointment of Mr. Richey to the Lieut.-Governorship of Nova Scotia.

Information has been received in Montreal that Madame Carlyle, who victimized young ladies and storekeepers in that city lately, has been playing the same game successfully in Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Trevelyan stated in the House of Commons on Thursday that in view of the action of the New York Emmigration Commissioners the deportation of destitute emigrants from Ireland would be discontinued.

Two unsuccessful attempts have been made to raise the Daphne, which capsized in the Clyde the other day. The Queen has sent a letter to the Mayor of Glasgow, expressing sympathy with those who lost friends by the disaster.

It seems that the Executive Committee of the Dominion Exhibition, which is to be held at St. John, N.B., this year, do not propose to offer medals and diplomas in the manufacturing and mechanical departments, and there is great disgust in consequence in Nova Scotia.

During the progress of the election trial at Cobourg on Thursday, a panic was occasioned by a crash overhead, which subsequently proved to have been caused by an opera troupe upsetting some furniture they were moving in the hall above. A general stampede took place, the judges alone keeping their seats. As the heavens did not fall, the stampeders looked foolish when they returned, and the laugh was all on the judges' side.

SPANKING A BOY FOR GETTING MARRIED.

The novel spectacle of a man and woman pursuing a fleeing 17-year-old boy up a street and belaboring him at every bound with a clap-board and willow switches attracted a crowd of people on M street, Washington, on Friday. The boy was Ernest C. Lowe, and he was being spanked and switched for getting married. Ernest procured a marriage license, stating to the clerk that he was over 21 years old, and in the afternoon was married to Rosa L. Buckley, a damsel about his own age. Later he called at the parental domicile and introduced the the fair Rosa as his bride. The surprised parent said nothing, but disappeared through the back door, and returning with a stout switch ordered the young woman out. He then began to belabor the boy, who stood it for a moment, but soon broke away and ran down the street, the father following, plying the switch and ably supported by the mother, who had procured a clap-board, which she laid on with vigor. Ernest was finally captured and taken home, but an hour later joined his bride at her father's, where they were serenaded by a brass band.

THE GIRL ON THE TRICYCLE.

The girl on a tricycle has already made her appearance at the summer resorts. As observed at Newport, she sat between two wheels, which were connected by a short axle-tree, on a kind of saddle—astride of it, but not as circumstanced as to make divided garments necessary, as in riding horseback, man fashion. Her feet reached down to treadles and her hands were employed in steering, by means of a device connected with a low front wheel. Her posture was not that of sitting, however, but her figure was suspended nearly perpendicular, and her legs were moved a great deal like those of a horse afflicted with springhalt or a swimmer treading water. Her knees came up high, with an action more productive of good exercise than of grace. And yet she was "a symmetrical and pleasing traveller." The prescribed costume is soft, thin flannel, with a blouse waist and a skirt reaching just to the gaiter tops. It is obvious that the latter level could not be steadily maintained, in view of the high treading required to work the tricycle, without some special modification of the garment. This want has been supplied by taking an idea from the equestrian habit. "Lengthwise of the skirt in front two gussets are set in at points where the knees will protrude into them in rising."

PETEBBOROUGH, JULY 12, 1883.

The Permanency of Confederation.

A confederation of the Australian British Colonies is under consideration. It is perfectly proper for our antipodean brethren to consider the matter, but, owing to the attempts made by the Tory party, as represented by Sir John Macdonald, it is to be feared that the advocates of a federal union of the south sea provinces cannot use with great advantage the argument of the success of the Dominion union, if the evil counsels that now animate the present central government prevail. Naturally, at first, there was some dissatisfaction among some of the provinces of the Canadian Confederation, arising principally out of matters of detail, or certain terms requiring modification, in the opinion of the provinces concerned. But these difficulties had no sooner got in a fair train for amicable adjustment when the partizan greed of the Tory party imported fresh disturbing elements. Provincial independence, or the right of each province to exclusively control its own internal affairs, according to the terms of the Act of Confederation, was one of the chief cardinal principles upon which the union of the provinces was consummated. And it follows that the foundation of the structure of confederation being disturbed, the stability of the entire fabric is threatened. The onslaught made on the integrity of provincial rights is become so pronounced, so aggressive, and so undisguised that, admitting their success, the future of confederation has but few encouraging features. The attack on the principle of the federal union has begun a conflict for the life of the union that is practically one of life and death. For the most patent of reasons the province of Ontario has been made the object of attack. For the past dozen years this province, by the maintenance of a solid Reform front, has incurred the special enmity of Sir John Macdonald—otherwise the Tory party. It has been a stumbling block in the way of the schemes of that grasping politician, and the plans adopted by him to wrest her from her allegiance to principles of Reform, and, these failing, to punish her for her contumacious loyalty to honest government, have not been few nor of the fairest. The iniquitous Gerrymander was, politically speaking, a most villainous attack on the liberties of a province, with a view to bringing her in bondage to a political obligarcy at Ottawa. The gigantic schemes of bribery concocted at Ottawa, to influence the last provincial election, were another blow, and that failing to injure Ontario as intended, it was followed by the scheme, emanating from the centralizing machine at Ottawa, to attempt, by the vilest of means, the most unscrupulous tricks, to give in the Election Courts, the political coup de grace to Ontario, which is now in operation, with, fortunately, a prospect of no better results than the stirring up of political strife and rancour, and the perpetuation of animosities.

The attempt to deprive us of our territory, though so freely discussed and well understood, loses by familiarity none of its features of gigantic unfairness and hatred to Ontario. Aided by Quebec Tories and a recreant following of Ontario Tories, Sir John has made attack after attack on the provincial rights of Ontario. Railways built by provincial capital, and essentially provincial property, have been wrested from her control. The control of her own license system, unmistakably hers by right of the Act of Union, has been shamelessly usurped. All these outrages must be resisted, and if resistance fails, confederation is deemed. In all Sir John—otherwise the Tory party—has been the aggressor and assailant, and the Tory party of this province have been faithful to partyism as against the rights of their own province. To such overt acts of tyranny and unjust attempt the people of Ontario are of the wrong metal to submit. They will defend their rights, and we have faith to believe will maintain their rights. Upon this province is thrown the responsibility of preserving the integrity of the confederation. She must resist to the last extremity the encroachments of centralizing politicians, or the very essence, and consequently the very existence of the union—provincial independence in local affairs, as guaranteed by the Act of Union—is destroyed. As predominantly due to the Reform party was the establishment of confederation, its preservation is by the acts of its enemies, now in the hands of the Reform party. This province, every province concerned in the maintenance of the union, the Dominion itself, owes a debt of gratitude to Hon. Oliver Mowat, who, at this crisis, stands so firm against the fearful odds the enemies of confederation are bringing against it. While prominent members of the Dominion Government are disporting at the public expense, with the costly frivolities of the High Commissionership in London, Hon. Mr. Mowat is alive to the interests of Ontario, in soliciting the assistance of the Imperial authorities for the maintenance of provincial rights, and consequently, according to the guarantee of the federal constitution, the integrity of the constitution itself.

Contemporary Opinion.

The Port Hope News thus alludes to the controversy in the Mousseau matter:

"Last week the Cobourg World handled the Review, re the Mousseau speech, without gloves. To say that the Review was knocked out of existence is but the simple truth. There was not the ghost of a kick left in our Peterboro' contemporary by the time the World got half through. The World may fairly be congratulated on having placed hors du combat the most unscrupulous tory sheet in the province. Friend Hough must be congratulated."

But it is not to be hoped that the drubbing will have a curative effect upon our contemporary. The habit of emitting billingsgate has become so confirmed as to be irresistible, and the employment of abuse for argument is an old and favorite "lay" of our contemporary. The public can well remember a long course of transgression in this respect, from the ignoble hitting beneath the belt which Mr. John Bertram will recollect, to the recent grossly abusive personal attack on the proprietor of this journal; and a contemporary can not differ on the most trifling matter with the Review without the latter letting loose a flow of abusive invective which is a disgrace to decent journalism. Our contemporary's weakness and filthiness in this respect is so well recognized by its contemporaries, that it is a standard and a synonym for low journalistic language and a butt for many an item like this from a cotem:

The Peterborough Review is improving. It says: "A viler and more baseless slander"—"a fouler and more dastardly insult."—These words do not describe the act of the Review in calling the Cobourg World "a hog" and "a boor," but are levelled at the Belleville Ontario. Phrases like these make votes for Mr. Carnegie. The latter on his return will have to revenge himself on the Review by publishing a card disowning it, just as the Review during the campaign had to publish a card disowning Mr. Carnegie.

Not only this, but the well-known characteristic furnishes opposing journals with a text for ungenerous criticisms of our town. For instance the Lindsay Post says;

One effect of the coarse and demoralizing language employed every day by the Review towards its political opponents was shown in the indecent and degrading public display or procession in Peterboro' on Dominion Day.

We trust that the purifying influence of so much cold water will have its effect on the editorial mind, even as its power is exercised on its presses.

The Controverted Election Trials.

Of the protests entered at the bidding of Sir John Macdonald, who, having found that he could not Toryize Ontario by direct bribery, resorted to an indirect form, and placed the Ottawa corruption fund at the service of protest fishers—several have been disposed of. The petition against the return of Mr. N. Awrey, M.P.P. for South Wentworth, has been dropped, the petitioner being unable to find or make evidence to support his charges. The said petitioner, one McIlroy, refused to say who furnished the $1,000 guarantee of costs. The local Tories did not do it, and the Ottawa inference is inevitable. The London Advertiser says that the petition in the matter of the East Middlesex protest against Mr. D. A. McKenzie, has been abandoned. The same disposal has been practically made in the North Ontario election case. It has been postponed indefinitely at the urgent request of Mr. Madill. In the East Northumberland case the matter was allowed to come to trial, but no conclusive evidence having been forthcoming to substantiate the merely tentative charges, an adjournment was demanded on the ground of absence of witnesses, and the judges allowed an adjournment till August second. This shows that the Tories feel that they have not yet secured sufficient evidence to unseat Mr. Ferris, and when the case comes on again it is not likely that fishing for further evidence will be sufficiently successful to answer the ardent Tory longing for electoral purity. In the Welland case the most infamous trickery has been resorted to to secure evidence, but so far none sufficiently strong to unseat Col. Morin appears to have been adduced. A host of petty charges have been dismissed, some of them unsupported by the slightest show of evidence. The further hearing of the cases has been adjourned until the 8th day of September, in the Court of Appeal, Toronto, when decision will be given in the cases reserved, and a day fixed for proceeding with and finishing the case at Welland. The South Renfrew and South Victoria trials began at Renfrew and Lindsay, respectively, on Monday last.

Editorial Notes.

Reports from all parts of the country indicate an average wheat crop, a heavy hay crop, and roots below the average.

The $4.000 bequest to McGill College by late Geo. Greenshields will be expended in endowing a chair of chemistry and mineralogy.

Sir Hector H. Langivin and the Hon. Mackenzie Bowell are now the Government of Canada, all the other members having deserted their posts.

It is said that Sir John Macdonald has has reconciled the discordant elements among the contractors of Section B, and, as a word of fatherly advice, earnestly entreated them to have nothing to do with libel suits.

The Welland Tribune in referring to the Welland protested Election trial says:—"This protested trial and the dirty tactics employed to unseat Col. Marin have increased the Grit Majority of the county by over a round hundred."

The Hamilton school board has consented to an increase in the salaries of the city teachers amounting in all to $3976. Thirty-six teachers get an advance of $50 each; 67 an advance of $25 each; four headmasters $400 each; and one principal $100.

A Manitoba paper points out another weak spot in the new McCarthy License Act. That Act provides that the license commissioners shall be the mayor of the city or warden of the county, the judge of the county court and a third appointed by the government. In Manitoba there are numerous districts which have neither a mayor nor a warden. What is to become of them?

The Globe says:—It is to be regretted that H. H. Smith, general electioneering agent of the Tory party and dispenser of their funds during the late Ontario election should have been sent out of the country at a time when his presence is very much wanted in the Election Courts. Mr. Smith knows a good deal that the public have a right to know, and we trust that some means may yet be found of making him tell it.

The Kingston Whig says that the petition against the return of Sir John Macdonald for Lennox has not been dropped. Now that the technical obstacle in the way of bringing the case to trial has been removed by the late judgment of the Supreme Court it will be proceeded with. For this persistency the bitterness of A. H. Roe and other Conservative politicians is to blame. The Reformers are merely fighting back.

An association has been organized in Toronto for the purpose of propagating a spelling reform. It is to be known as "The Canadian Spelling Reform Association." Its object is to secure a simpler system of spelling, and the dissemination of information and ideas towards the end. All in sympathy with the reform in question may join by paying a fee of fifty cents per annum. Mr. Richard Lewis was appointed president. Dr. Hamilton, Port Hope; W. W. Tamblyn, M. A., Bowmanville; and W. Huston, M. A., Pickering College, are Vice-Presidents of the new organization.

The Review in a column editorial expresses the opinion that the Dominion Government will not give the Northern railway a monopoly of the line to be constructed from Gravenhurst to Callander, and that the Midland and other roads will have running powers over this line when constructed. If it had taken the same space to urge on the Government the importance of doing this instead of abusing the Globe, the article might have been of some service. It was a poor washy washy article, which, if never written, would not hereafter have to be taken back.

The Review is evidently hard up for editorial ammunition. Mr. Carnegie on his return will have to publish a card disowning the Review. If he takes the trouble to read the files of that journal during his absence his heart will turn sick. Last week it republished by the column its stale platitudes of a year ago, as to the redistribution of six seats by the Ontario Government in 1874, as an excuse for the outrage perpetrated on this province by the disgraceful gerrymanding bill of Sir John Macdonald. Could the organ not find something new to write about? If it must show its gross ignorance by writing upon this subject, why does it not try to get somewhere in the vicinity of the truth? The Review is getting so outrageous in its statements that the wonder is anybody believes it at all. The Cobourg World sized our contemporary so well that he has not yet recovered from the effects of the sound drubbing he so richly deserved.

The Gravenhurst-Callender Link.

Below we give expressions of opinion of several of our local contemporaries in reference to this all important subject:—

EXTORTIONATE CHARGES.

"This new line will prove a valuable connection to the whole railway system of Ontario, provided one company is not given the monopoly of it, and we cannot believe the Government will consent to such a grave piece of injustice being perpetrated. The Midland Railway, as at present constituted, is one of the most important lines in the Province, and as it possesses running-powers over the Northern from Atherly Junction to Gravenhurst, by giving it, and other railways, equal rights with the Northern over the new line so heavily bonused by the Government, the people will have the benefit of competition in rates and fares; whereas, if one road had the entire monopoly, extortionate charges and inefficient facilities would be sure to form part of numerous inconveniences the public will have to put up with."—Port Hope Times.

THE PUBLIC IS SO HOSTILE.

"It is believed in many political quarters that it is the desire of Sir John Macdonald to give the whole of this large subsidy to the McCarthy scheme, thereby enabling the latter and his colleagues to sell out to the Northern, and net a handsome profit by the transaction. However, the general feeling of the public is so hostile to the proposal, that the whole question for the present seems to hang fire. We hear that a syndicate of independent gentlemen has just been formed and has sent in a proposal to build the line at once, and make it a thoroughly neutral and independent railway. The new syndicate, we believe, is composed of such men as the Messrs. Gooderham, of Toronto, Messrs. Folger, of Kingston, Mr. Gilbert Scott, of Montreal, and others. We trust that matters will be got into shape and the construction of the road pushed forward vigorously in the near future. Meanwhile, it is due from the Dominion Government that they show by prompt and independent action that they are actuated only for the public interest, and that the grave suspicions now resting upon them in this connection are without foundation.—Free Grant Gazette.

THEIR GAME HAS BEEN WATCHED.

With the Callender line in the hands of a neutral company, the Midland and the Northern will bid against each other to carry freight to Gravenhurst. The whole country will have to contribute to the bonus of $12,000 a mile. It would be unfair to have one railway company reap the benefit to the exclusion of the rest. The people pay the money for their own good, not for the good of a railway company. * * * Messrs. McCarthy, Smith and Barker played for a valuable stake, but their game has been watched, and we think it will be defeated. Should they refuse to go in on equal terms with the other companies and with the men who are guarding the interests of Port Hope, Toronto and Hamilton, the Government can build the Callendar line. That would be better than to have it fall into the hands of the Northern schemers, but an independent company is better for the people than Government control."—Hamilton Times.

WE WANT NO MORE OF IT.

"Shut off the competition of the Midland, however, and the public are placed at the entire mercy of another railroad monopoly. Canada is to-day paying dearly enough for this sort of thing, encouraged in a large degree by the wild rein that has been given to the Canada Pacific Syndicate by our monopolist rulers at Ottawa But we want no more of it. The Chronicle joins hands with leading cotems, both to the north and west of us, in entering an earnest protest against this latest effort to increase railway monopoly in Canada. Competition in railway matters, not monopoly, is what Canadians must, with every energy, strive for to-day. And especially should this be insisted upon when, as is the case with the Gravenhurst line, so large a bonus as $12,000 per mile has been granted by the Dominion Government."—Whitby Chronicle.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

"From the reports of the Hamilton gentlemen who were at Ottawa this week there can be no doubt that the attempt of Messrs. Smith, Barker & Co. to get the Dominion bonus of $12,000 a mile into the hands of the Northern Railway Company has been defeated. Sir John Macdonald took in the situation, and decided to give the bonus to an independent company, that would treat "e Northern, the Midland and the Northwestern all alike. This is an important decision, and much credit is due to Messrs. Proctor and Hendrie, who detected the game and called timely assistance to defeat it."—Hamilton Times.

The Times speaks in a sanguine mood, but the belief expressed must be mixed with a pretty liberal grain of salt. Those who in the past have watched Sir John's career, know how "Old To-morrow" keeps his promises, and it would not be surprising if this apparent and suspiciously ready assent to maintain the independence of the link, should prove to be a pretext to shut off opposition till a plan can be matured to give the McCarthy schemers the inside track, which Sir John is disposed to give his friends so long as he can make them subservient to his political purposes. Those interested should not for one moment relax their efforts till the matter is placed beyond the power of any monopoly.—[ED. EXAMINER.

THE GREATEST OF THE GRACES.

ELOQUENT CHARITY SERMON.

Rev. Father Keating Preaches in St. Peter's Cathedral a Stirring Sermon under the Auspices of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Peterborough.

On Sunday evening last the Cathedral Church of St. Peter was well filled to listen to a charity sermon by the Rev. Father Keating. The subject was the life of St. Vincent de Paul, and the text selected, alluding to an incident in the life of Jacob, was suggestively typical of the career of St. Vincent. It is found in the tenth chapter of the book of wisdom, and the following verses :—

9. But Wisdom has delive red from sorrow them that attend upon her.

10. She conducted the just when he fled from his mother's wrath through the right ways, and showed him the kingdom of God, and gave him the knowledge of the holy things, made him honorable in his labors and accomplished his labors.

11. In the deceit of them that overreached her, she stood by him and made him honorable.

12. She kept him safe from his enemies, and she defended him from seducers and gave him a strong conflict that he might overcome and know that Wisdom was mightier than all.

We regret that our limited space will only permit our giving an outline of this able sermon. The Rev. Father said that the words of his text showed that there were times when God protected man through difficult ways and assisted him in the accomplishment of his work and watched over him even in bondage. This was not often done, but it sometimes conspicuously occurred. Man was the merest instrument in working out God's predestined plans. Moses was such in delivering the Israelites. Knowledge, wisdom, and the spread of the gospel now, made special displays of providential dealing unnecessary as in former times. St. Vincent de Paul was born in Gascony in the year 1576, the son of an humble farmer, who at an early age destined him for the work of the Church. He was educated accordingly most thoroughly. It was sometimes said that there was little learning required for priests in those days, yet St. Vincent destined only for a poor country priest, spent twelve years in close and severe study and preparation. He was ordained in 1600. His future promised well but God sent troubles and trials. He was captured at Marseilles by Turks, and sold as a slave in Tunis. Vincent won by his gentle demeanor the love of his first master, a chemist, who tried to convert him to Mahomedanism. He promised him wealth and freedom—a terrible temptation to a poor bond slave. But Vincent's Christian zeal triumphed. The God who had protected Joseph and the chaste Susannah stood by Vincent, and the temptation had no power. His next master was an apostate Italian. One of his wives came under the influence of Vincent's piety, and through her the apostate returned to the true religion, and with Vincent he went to France. Here opened out Vincent's truly apostolic mission, in which he became an instrument of God. The speaker, after contrasting the modes of action of other great and holy men with that of St. Vincent, recited that the latter, by accident, was called to visit a sick woman, and the abundant response to his appeal for alms resulted in his grand conception of the Sisters of Charity—a grand sisterhood which, amidst all the aspersions that had fallen on the church from heretics and atheists, had never had one word spoken against it. The preacher eloquently depicted the history of France in the time of Richelieu, and showed how that great man's preference of France before the church led to the latter's suffering from the corruption of the nation, and being subjected to the assaults of the brilliant intellects of the Voltairists. The latter in their heretical zeal came in contact with a band of students, who withstood for the sake of Mother Church the assaults of her foes. This led to an awakening of zeal to do something for the depressed state of religion. One way selected was to aid the poor of Jesus Christ. This was the very humble beginning of the society. The first two years it had only eight members, the third 100, but from this time it increased rapidly by the blessing of God. The members were doctors and lawyers, keen men of the world, with a full knowledge of it, and they visited the haunts of the poor and found for themselves and relieved those worthy of charity. The speaker insisted on the necessity of discretion in almsgiving. Giving charity to a healthy person was a wrong and sin; alms that encouraged idleness was vice. Self-reliance was destroyed. But he who aided the helpless and suffering widow was doing God's work and would be rewarded by a just God. The Society of St. Vincent de Paul was composed of shrewd business men who were sharp to detect imposition, and they never aided the undeserving nor refused to aid those who needed charity. The society in 1859 had 10,000 members, which had grown to 150,000 in 1881, and in 1880 it gave in charity in France $500,000; a proportionate amount in Germany, and in Ireland, $26,000. The work was done quietly and unostentatiously, alms being given only where needed and deserved. The preacher related an incident of great destitution that came under his own notice through the society, and he urged his hearers to make the case their own, and made a stirring appeal to the charity of the congregation. The St. Vincent de Paul Society of Peterborough was composed of shrewd business men not easily imposed on, and the charitable could confidently count on their contributions being judiciously expended, and only on real objects of charity.

It is gratifying to add that the sermon, besides the indirect results of the good seed sown, resulted in the addition of about $125 to the funds of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

THE PIC-NIC.

(Written for the EXAMINER.)

Bright and lovely dawned the morning;
Anxious eyes grew bright with joy;
Sorrow found no place to linger;
Not a cloud o'er cast the sky.
Faces, wreathed with smiles of gladness,
Answered that the heart was gay;
Baskets with the choicest laden—
All foretold a gala day.

Groups together planned and wondered
What they first and last would do;
What they liked, and that expected—
Minutes passed, impatience grew.
Here are two expostulating;
There two praise the speedy boat;
Here another pins a bouquet
On her doting lover's coat.

On the water glides their bearer—
Throwing from her sides the spray—
Seeming, as she furrows onward,
That she, too, were glad and gay.
None the less the aged parents,
As they smiling 'round do gaze,
While the filial scenes recalling
Bring them such bright happy days.

While the boat is at her mooring,
Out they pour—with radiance teem—
While their merry, childish faces
Tell they realize their dream.
Some are running, some are jumping,
Others merrily do sing.
Yonder, they have formed a circle,
Playing kisses in the ring.

Old ones chatting, group together
Underneath the shade, at ease;
While the puerile laughter ringing
Is wafted to them on the breeze.
Soon calm even's shades entwining—
Lovers for the moment mourn,
As in pairs they wend reluctant
To the the boat to home return.

Homeward, swiftly they are sailing—
Some are sleeping, some elate—
Some have felt love's fascinations
And, perchance, have met their fate.
Near they see their destination—
Satisfaction rules the throng—
O'er the calm and moon-lit waters
Sweetly steals their evening song.

Peterborough Markets.

[Supplied by W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer, and General Grocer, George Street.]

PETERBOROUGH, July 12th, 1883.

Wheat has had quite a break in Chicago with every indication of lower prices. This market does not appear to be affected by any other market. Spring wheat has been selling from 98c. to $1.01. fall 97c. to $1; goose wheat 91 to 93c. Nothing doing in barley. A few loads of peas brought 71c. Oats selling about 43c. to 44c. Wool coming slowly, and bringing 18 to 18½. On the market there is no particular change. Eggs are not quite so plentiful, selling in lots 14c. and retail 14½ to 15c. Potatoes are rather scarce, and sell quick at 75c.

BUSINESS FAILURES.

The mercantile failures for the first half of the present year are greatly in excess of those for the corresponding period of the two previous years. The number of persons who failed in Canada for the first half of 1881 was 322; for the first half of 1882, 362; and for the first half of the present year, 746. There is also a corresponding difference in the the aggregate amount for which parties have failed. The general liabilities of those who failed in 1881 was $4,409,957; in 1882, $3,531,068, and for the first half of 1883, $8,671,734. Those who made such glowing promises as to the effect of the N.P. would do well to explain how it is that bankruptcy in business continues, and that during this, the last year, the business of the country seems to have taken the back track, and a period of depression has prematurely returned. During the past three months the number of failures is 337, against 137 in the second quarter of 1882. When we look at the classification given by Bradstreet's Journal we find that those who failed in Canada are classified as follow :—

Carpenters, masons and contractors	6
Dealers in clothing and cloths	19

What it did for an Old Lady.

COSHOCTON STATION, N.Y., Dec. 28, 1878.

GENTS—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over seventy years, had been sick for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, I sent to Deposit, forty-five miles away, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbor's, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children also have derived great benefit from their use.

SEASONABLE FARM SUGGESTIONS.

CARROTS.

Do not let the carrots get overrun with weeds. Take them in hand early and thin them to six inches.

MILDEW ON GRAPEVINES.

Watch closely this, the greatest enemy of the grape grower. Apply sulphur with a bellows on a still day.

ONIONS FOR POULTRY.

Mix chopped onions with the food once a day for several days and ground ginger two or three times a week and you may check early symptoms of cholera. Afterward give both once a week.

IDLE LAND.

Do not leave any unoccupied land to grow a crop of weeds. When an early crop is removed sow at once any crop that will keep them down. Buckwheat or peas are good and may be turned under before frost.

CELERY.

Most failures to grow celery originate in not having the soil rich enough. The manure intended for this crop should, if possible, be applied the previous fall, so that it may become thoroughly incorporated with the soil. This will help keep the soil moist during summer droughts.

MILKING.

If your cows leak their milk it will be well to milk them three times a day while they are in full flow. Care should be used in handling an animal whose udder is distended by an unusually large flow of milk, lest some of the milk glands be ruptured. Be gentle and do not milk too rapidly.

POTATO VINES.

Save the late potato vines for covering strawberry beds in winter. Spread them thinly over the ground late in the fall, and they will afford sufficient protection through the cold weather. When spring comes they will be found so rotted away as not to interfere with the growth of the plants. They have also the advantage of containing no weed seeds.

SPREADING MANURE.

One of the best machines for spreading manure is an easily made device on which we learn there is no patent. The device is similar in many respects to a two-horse cart, with a row of slats extending across the bottom, bolted together upon the principle of an endless chain. The cart is loaded at the manure pile and drawn to the field, which being reached the gears are brought together and the motion of the large wheels sets the bottom moving backward, allowing the manure to be evenly distributed as the vehicle moves over the land. There is no question as to the value of this device as a labor-saving implement.

THE HUGE HAY CROP.

Whatever may be the effect of the recent rains on the wheat crop, the moist season has ensured us an enormous yield of hay. Few people realize how important the hay crop is. In Canada, grass is king, no matter how few know it. In the census year, 1881, the crop in Canada was 5,058,810 tons. A fair average price for this may be $10 a ton. This was a small crop, and there is no reason to doubt that we shall this year get at least 8,000,000 tons. Now, in 1881, according to the Dominion census, the wheat crop was only 32,000,000 bushels, for which a fair average price is a dollar a bushel. What is to be desired now is that the rain should cease for a few weeks in order that the hay crop may be secured and the cereals have a chance to mature.

LACE STOCKINGS OVER TINTED SILK.

A bride who is to be married next week will wear an exquisite dress of white brocaded velvet, trained dress opening over a petticoat of magnificent white satin, trimmed with ruffles of Venetian lace. The dress is made in Queen Anne style, with bodice rounded at the back and sleeves high and full on the shoulder. The veil, fan and stockings are all of lace, matching in design, the stockings to be worn over a second pair of primrose-tinted silk.—New York Evening Post.

LOCOMOTION RESTORED.

Mr. E. P. Stone, Wellinton, N. S., writes: "I had not been able to walk for two months in consequences of a lame back and constant pain in my side. One bottle of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment made me entirely well; its virtue is in its great strength, it being too powerful even to be used internally. Those who have used it properly, almost as a unit, speak in unmeasured terms of its great value.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Sir Charles Tupper, by accepting an office of emolument under the Crown, has forfeited his seat in Parliament. That is the law.

If Sir Chas. Tupper does not draw salary as High Commissioner he is going to receive $7,000 per annum very easily as Minister of Railways.

The varnish manufactory of Jas. Harty & Co., Kingston, has been closed, owing to U.S. duty, which was arranged apparently on purpose to strangle it.

The Ottawa Free Press solicitously enquires: "Do we want a Governor-General?" Our esteemed contemporary is reminded that the Tories once found a Governor-General very useful as a target for eggs that had passed the prime of life.—London Advertiser. The Tories were also of the opinion that they did want a Governor-General, for they threatened to take Lord Lord Elgin's life.—Ottawa Free Press.

As in South Wentworth, so in West Elgin, the petitioners against the Reform M.P.Ps. who were returned at last election confessed that they were entirely ignorant of any disqualifying acts committed by the respondents or their agents. It is a fishing expedition in both cases, and it is safe to say would never have been resolved on but for the telegrams sent by Sir John Macdonald to protect the elections whether their was evidence of corrupt practices or not. What think respectable Tories of such disgraceful tactics?

Rev. John May, who contested Carleton June last against Sir John Macdonald, has been appointed immigration agent in the North-West. Mr. May, when resigning his post as school inspector, announced his determination to contest the county again for the Dominion Commons as soon as an opportunity offered, and Sir John at once undertook to get rid of him some way. The North-West, it seems, is looked upon by the Premier as a sort of penal colony for Tories who threaten to cause trouble within the party ranks.

The latest rumour regarding the Government disposition of Sir A. T. Galt is that he is soon to succeed Mr. Dewdney as Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West Territories. Many Conservatives have declared that Sir John's defence of Mr. Dewdney's land jobbery was the most humiliating spectacle ever witnessed in Parliament, and in the face of the protests, public and private, against Mr. Dewdney's administration, it is probable that some change will soon be made. As to Sir Alexander Galt, he is in about the same position as Joseph Howe was when he consented to enter the Tory administration. Sir John Macdonald has had his revenge. He is one who neither forgives nor forgets, and he now has the satisfaction of seeing the man who denounced him in 1865, cringing at his feet, and living upon his bounty.

Large cases of Fresh Goods opened this week at Turnbull's.

A SWIMMER'S ADVICE.

HOW AN INEXPERIENCED PERSON MAY SAVE HIMSELF FROM DROWNING.

An old swimmer writes:—"I have been a swimmer for a considerable number of years, so that I must know something about floating, and the way to do it is this: When you find yourself in deep water you will sink first a few feet down, but if you do not struggle you will come quickly to the surface again, which on reaching immediately draw a full breath, throw your head back, and this will have the effect of placing you in a recumbent position on the surface of the water. Now, this is a most critical time for those who don't know what to do next. Extend your arms at once on a level with your shoulders, palms of hands downwards, fingers close together, so that the water cannot penetrate them, and begin gently paddling the water with the movement of the hands from the wrist only. Extend your legs quietly and slowly in a line with your body. If you raise your arms or your legs above the surface of the water you will sink, but if you have the presence of mind not to do so, or struggle about, you will never sink, so long as you keep paddling gently, without exertion, with your hands, and so you may float on until you are picked up or until you are numbed by cold."

A TON OF SILVEL DOLLARS AND DIMES.

"We have been turning out about a ton of silver a day for some time past," said Supt. Snowdon, of the Philadelphia mint, Wednesday, "The most of this is in dollars, and some small coin, notably dimes. The demand for five-cent nickels is a little ahead of us, and although we turn out $5,000 worth a day, weighing some 16,000 ounces, we find that we are behindhand, but we will catch up before the end of the week. About three-quarters of a ton of pennies are manufactured daily, and they are in demand as fast as made. It strikes me that the South and West must be beginning to use pennies again, more especially the former."

Hop Bitters are the Purest and Best Bitters Ever Made.

They are compounded from Hops, Malt, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion,—the oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other remedies, being the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigor to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Apetizer, Tonic and mild Stimulant, Hop Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Hop Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use Hop Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

Do not suffer or let your friends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop Bitters.

Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, drugged, drunken nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the Bitters to-day. 26-4t

MANVERS.

John Galloway vs. the township of Manvers.—This was an application to the High Court of Justice (in single court), Queen's Bench division, Toronto, on behalf of Galloway, to set aside in favour of the township an award made by Mr. Wm. Evans and Dr. Chas. H. Brereton, M.P.P., two of the arbitrators, the other arbitrator, Mr. Isaac Preston, not concurring in the award setting apart for gravel for township purposes part of the north half of lot 15, con. 7, in the township of Manvers. The Court held the award bad, the arbitrators having exceeded their authority, and set the same aside with costs. Martin & Hopkins, solicitors for Galloway; H. H. Scott, for township of Manvers.

NORWOOD.

Mr. J. B. Pearce has resigned the reeveship of Norwood, and in doing so, very generously handed in a cheque to cover the expense of a new election. The resignation was accepted by the Council, which adopted a complimentary resolution. Mr. Pearce has been reeve of the village continuously since its incorporation.

LINDSAY.

Tenders are being asked for the alteration and improvements in the Ontario Bank premises in Lindsay.

A movement is on foot to erect a drinking fountain in the centre of the crossings of Kent and William streets. The fountain will be supplied with water from the spring on the rise of ground just north of Peel street, near the Baptist church.

The procession in Lindsay on the first, says the Post, was a failure—it was more than a failure, it was simply disgraceful. In fact it was Lindsay all over, as far as the stamina and public spirit of its young men were concerned. A few who could be got to work on the committee worked hard. They had on hand, up to June 30th, about ten thousand promises. An immense number of representations were promised, and when the day came around there was a general back-out.

PORT HOPE.

Trinity College School closing day is fixed for Wednesday, the 11th of July.

This year the eighteenth Provincial Sabbath School convention will be held in Port Hope.

The Port Hope Times, has not changed hands. It has been numerously reported au numerously denied.

Perhaps the departure of no Methodist ministers says the Times has been so much regretted as that of Rev. Mr. Jeffery, who preached his farewell sermon last Sunday evening.

It is said that a branch of the Toronto Central Bank will be established in this town shortly.

Col. Williams, M.P., has received a promise from the Grand Trunk authorities that the fast train east and west shall stop at Port Hope.

Rev. T. W. Jeffrey preached his farewell sermon on Sunday evening last to a large congregation. The rev. gentleman delivered an eloquent and feeling discourse, many of his hearers feeling deeply touched at the thought of losing a pastor so much beloved. On Tuesday night a purse of $100 was presented him.

BOBCAYGEON.

The crowd of visitors is increasing rapidly.

It is understood, says the Independent, that the Bishop of Toronto has been pleased to appoint the Rev. Mr. Farncomb to the incumbency of Bobcaygeon, and that the new Incumbent will give service in Christ church and at Dunsford on Sunday, the 22nd.

The Independent supplies the following particulars of the death of Mrs. Gallagher by lightning:—"One of the saddest occurrences that has befallen the neighborhood for a considerable period took place on Tuesday night, during the storm. At about ten o'clock, when the storm was at its height, Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher, of North Verulam, who reside in a one story house, were seeing that everything was secure. Mr. Gallagher was standing by the door, and Mrs. Gallagher, noticing a leak in the roof, was going towards it with a lamp in her hand when a shaft of lightning shot through the roof, and striking her on the back of the neck; the unfortunate lady sank lifeless to the floor. Mr. Gallagher and the children were unhurt. The injury to the roof is scarcely discernable. The funeral took place on Thursday, and was very largely attended, the deceased lady being loved by an extensive circle of relatives. She was a sister of Mr. Deputy-Reeve Junkin, of Verulam, and Mr. Irvine Junkin, of Bobcaygeon.

In the modern keen race of business competition the dyspeptic is heavily handicapped, and is like a man fighting with one hand tied. The brain is disabled from insufficient phosphorized fat to carry on the mental processes, and the feeling of intellectual paralysis is very distressing, and a serious drawback to mental workers. There is poisoning from the products of indigestion getting into the blood, fogging the brain, exciting headaches, neuralgic pains and a general sense of discomfort, wretchedness and inability of consecutive thought. In WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA we have a remedy for stomach troubles as nearly as specific as quinine is ague.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers &c.

IMPROVED BUTTER COLOR A NEW DISCOVERY.

☞ For several years we have furnished the Dairymen of America with an excellent artificial color for butter, so meritorious that it met with great success everywhere receiving the highest and only prizes at both International Dairy Fairs.

☞ But by patient and scientific chemical research we have improved in several points, and now offer this new color as the best in the world.

It Will Not Color the Buttermilk. It Will Not Turn Rancid. It is the Strongest, Brightest and Cheapest Color Made.

☞ And, while prepared in oil, is so compounded that it is impossible for it to become rancid.

BEWARE of all imitations, and of all other oil colors, for they are liable to become rancid and spoil the butter.

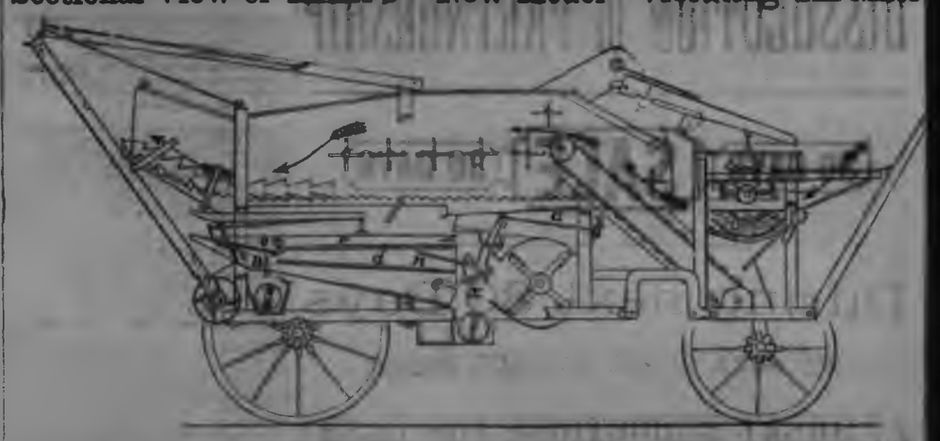
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing with them for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model" is the best one I have ever seen or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last fall. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed, and could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had to thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHIRK.

Be sure and examine the "New Model" before you purchase.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, only two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Giving You a Bargain

IN ALL THE DEPARTMENTS.

OUR NOTICE OF FACTS

July the first has passed. Summer Stock "must go." To make it travel we'll give inducements—good offers—BARGAINS, if you like to call it that name. What is a Bargain? Does a low price constitute a Bargain? Yes and No.

Practical Buyers who 'can't afford to buy Cheap Goods," will tell you that, AS A RULE, the cheapest goods in Price are about equal in final cost to extravagantly priced goods. Extremes meet.

Everyone wants a Bargain of some sort. That we'll give. Give it in either Dress Goods, Clothing, House Furnishings, or an Ordered Suit.

A dealer should be able to give you a reason for his bargain offer, and one too that won't insult your common sense in accepting it. We can offer you a Bargain to our mutual profit. We bought early—we bought largely—we bought cheaply. We've sold well. We can afford to sell the remainder in all lines—sell them cheaply, and make our own.

Changing Styles make Bargains. Our Styles always change. We're progressive, practical, and grip the ideas of the public. Our new goods show this.

"Will You be One"

To secure Bargains. Come to our counters and work out the problem of making One Dollar go as far with you as it—seven times out of eleven—does elsewhere.

Flies and Bugs.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

It was Fuller who said, "He who spends all his life in sport is like one who wears nothing but fringes and eats nothing but sauces."

DON'T NEGLECT on the first appearance of Kidney troubles to go to your druggist and get a bottle of DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It will give immediate relief, save years of suffering and effect a permanent cure. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

The lecture season is mostly over, excepting perhaps the season of "the lecture called the curtain," and that knows no north, no south, no summer and no winter.

A Fine Hit.

When the proprietors of Burdock Blood Bitters put this renowned medicine on the market, they hit it exactly. They hit dyspepsia, indigestion, and liver and kidney complaints a hard blow, from which they will never recover. 28-2t

People say sadly that they are weary of living, but the truth is not in them. In their heart of hearts they are constantly quoting Shakespeare, "O excellent! I love long life better than figs!"

NEVER forget that at your druggist's you can always obtain DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It is the only known remedy that speedily relieves all Kidney Diseases, and if persisted in will effect a permanent cure. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

A great many people in this world praise goodness, and then do as they have a mind to. They follow the advice of George Herbert to "Praise the sea, but keep on land."

Thousands upon Thousands

Of dollars have been spent in advertising the celebrated Burdock Blood Bitters, but this fact accounts only in part for its enormous sale. Its merit has made it what it is—the best blood medicine ever devised by man. 28-2t

Lavater could tell a man's character by the crook in his nose and the curl in his hair. It was he who said, "The affectation of sanctity is a blotch on the face of piety."

THE MOST frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain the back, it hurries the sufferer to a premature grave. DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal results. Take it in time. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

Louis Charles, of Princetown, Ont., alleged to have been 104 years old, died last week. He was an old hotel-keeper, and had been a resident of Brant county for over 70 years.

BE ADVISED in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as simple backache now, to run into a disease of the Kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it at once. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

A welcome change has come over English society. Professional beauties have run their course, and, if not extinct, they seem by the latest reports of London events to be ignored. People will stare at Lady Dudley and Lady Lonsdale, it is said, but they have never courted notoriety by photograph or otherwise, and so have escaped condemnation for their looks.

Wherever coughs, cold and consumption exist, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral ought to be known and used. There never existed a sentiment so universal among all classes in favour of any other medicine, as is entertained the world over in regard to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The humblest patient in the pioneer's cabin, and the proudest dame in the metropolis, alike use it, appreciate it, and speak its praises.

WON.

At last I have thee safe—
Thou wilt no longer chafe
Against the chain.
Thou canst not, though you would,
Be aught but true and good
Ever again.

Yes, now thou art my wife:
The suit to win, the strife
To keep are o'er.
The weakness of the flesh,
The spirit's waywardness
Will vex no more.

No more will anger harm,
Or jealousy alarm.
Now thou art mine.
Thy other lovers all,
Hearing that grim recall,
The chase resign.

They do not greatly care
If thou be foul or fair.
Single or wed.
To me they yield their claim
On body, soul and name—
Now thou art dead.

WHY HE MARRIED THE BACHELOR.

A postman left two letters at the residence of a Chicago minister, both of which contained an application to perform the marriage ceremony at the same time.

"I hardly know what to do," he remarked to his wife, "I can't accommodate them both. Let me see—Mr. A. has been married before has he not?"

"Oh, yes," replied the wife, "he lost his first wife six months ago."

"And Mr. B. is a bachelor?"

"Yes."

"That settles it, then, I shall marry Mr. B. When a man marries the second time he never pays the minister any more than the law allows, but young bachelors are sometimes very foolish," and the good man rubbed his hands mildly.

TOPNOODY'S SUMMER RESORT.

When Mr. Topnoody had settled down after supper Saturday evening, his wife, after a few preliminary coughs, remarked:

"Mr. Topnoody, have you thought anything about where we would spend the summer?"

"Yes, my dear, I have given the subject some deliberation."

"And have you decided on a place, dear?"

"Yes, love, I have."

"Oh, you sweet thing. Where is it to be?"

"At home, love; the dearest place on earth, the conservatory of our affections, in which bloom the freshest, fairest flowers of hope and happiness, contentment and satisfied serenity."

BROTHER GARDNER ON MARRIAGE.

If you mus' marry, let common sense have a show in de transackshun. Doan' go off your feet bekase you meet a gal who kin sing like a robin, smile like a rose, and jump off a street keer widout boderin' de driver to stop. A wife will have much to do besides singin' an' cultivatin' dimples. If you am gwine to marry, ax yerselves how fur $10 per week will go when divided up fur clothes an' pervishuns an' house rent an' fewel and incidentials. Befo' you fall in love wid a gal who looks too sweet for anythin' in a red plush sacque, kinder figger on how many such duds your income would afford her. Befo' you am all broke up ober a gal who plays the planner, talks French, paints landscapes, an' reads poetry, just sit down an' figger who am to cook yer meat an' taters, patch yer close, darn yer socks an' help ye make $12 buy $15 worth of things. Befo' ye let a pa'r o' flashin' eyes an' a cunnin' dimple captivate ye, look aroun' a little an' see if de owner has got a temper like a wild-cat. Marriage am a lottery simply bekase people take each odder unsight an' unseen. Let us now prognosticate to bizness.

The New Story.

Not a tale of failure or disappointment; not the old story of the victim of caustic applications and the evils attending their use; but the new story of success of freedom form pain and consequently absence of spots left in the flesh. PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR gives inspiration for happier reports, and sufferers from corns need not hesitate to try it. Sold everywhere by druggists and dealers in medicine. N. C. POLSON & Co., Kingston, Proprietors.

Thousands Say So.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and the best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaint. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle at Taylor & McDonald.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Send a three-cent stamp for a copy of their International News, published monthly at 173 Church st., Toronto. 15-tf

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

GRIST MILLS,

NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic returns of the Midland Railway of Canada for the week ending June 30th 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $7,279.74; freight, $22,537.37; total, $29,817.11, as compared with $28,165.64 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $1,651.47; and the aggregate traffic to date is $500,434.18, being an increase of $20,795.20 over 1882.

The Midland Elevator.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that the negotiations for the transfer of the Rathbun property at the foot of Front street to the Midland Railway Company have closed, and the latter now own the premises. The long talked of elevator will now be built and work on the structure be begun on Wednesday next—at least that is the first offertory of the programme.

Strawberry Festival.

A strawberry festival will be given in Tully's School House, Second Line Smith, in aid of the Sabbath School, on Tuesday evening, the 17th inst., commencing at 7 p.m. A choice programme will be rendered during the evening. Admission 25 cents. As the proceeds are to be devoted to assist in the purchasing of a new library, it is to be hoped that the profits of the festival will be large.

Peterborough Galop.

We have received a copy of a fine piece of music, just issued by Claxton, of Toronto, and the composition of a former resident, Mr. W. A. Hawley, whose impressible heart still retains the memory of the beauty of the town, for the young author has gallantly dedicated his production to "the ladies of Peterborough." Musicians speak highly of the musical merits of the composition.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

Band Challenge.

The Trenton Fire Brigade Band has challenged the Oddfellows Band, of Belleville, to a competition for a sum of from $100 to $250 a side. Fifty dollars of forfeit placed, attests the bona fides of the challenge. Each band to select a judge, and the two judges a third. The competition is to take place within thirty days from July 5th. As the competition is to take place in any town or city in Ontario but Napanee, Trenton or Belleville, Peterborough might be selected. We are so well accustomed to good music that, in order to a better appreciation of it, our citizens would like to hear other bands.

A New Navigation Company.

According to the Ontario Gazette applications have been made for the incorporation of the Trent Valley Navigation Company, whose powers are to be to navigate our inland lakes. At the present the operations of the company, says the Post, are confined to the lakes convenient to Lindsay, Peterborough, etc. Already the company has leased the Beaubocage and Victoria, the former boat running between here and Bobcaygeon. Her time table is published, and we understand that nothing is to be allowed to interfere with her regularlity and punctuality in her trips. The applicants for a charter are M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, J. R. Dundas, John A. Barron and W. Darling of Lindsay, G. A. Cox and A. White of Peterborough, and Robert Jaffary and G. S. C. Bethune of Toronto.

Watches, Clocks, Jewellry, etc., carefully repaired and warranted at Hughan's. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

The annual excursion of the George street Methodist Sunday School on Tuesday was very largely attended, and was altogether most successful. There were seven or eight coaches filled that took the excursionists to Hastings, where the day was pleasantly spent. The party returned at eight o'clock.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Special Attention

We would call special notice to the advertisement of Chase Brothers, elsewhere who have delivered nursery stock in our town and vicinity for the past ten years or more in large quantities. The fact that they deal with the same customers year after year is the most convincing testimony that they do only an honorable trade, and supply only first class stock, true to name and kind. All intending purchasers will find it to their advantage to hold their orders ready for Mr. H. Bletcher, their local agent, who will undoubtedly call on them shortly. The town can be made even much more beautiful than it now is by proper selection of ornamental shade trees for the streets, and choice flowering shrubs of every color, as well as some of the finest trees for the lawns, and Mr. Bletcher has an excellent display of the newest, choicest and most hardy varieties.

The Eason Homestead.

We call the attention of real estate investors to the advertisement of the sale of the Alexander Eason estate in our advertising columns. This is without doubt one of the finest farms in Otonabee. In soil, location and all other advantages that are to be sought in a first-class farm it cannot be surpassed. The farm, or farms are situate only fourteen miles from Peterborough, one of the best market towns, if not the very best market town, in the Midland district, and only one mile from Blezard station on the Grand Junction railway. The sale takes place by auction, at the Caisse House, Peterborough, and he who is in search of a first-class farm property will miss the chance of a lifetime by failing to attend this sale. Recollect, the Caisse House, Peterborough, on Saturday, July 14, at 2 o'clock P. M.

New Life Assurance Business.

Mr. E. E. Henderson, well known in town, has been appointed to the general agency of the British Empire Life Assurance Company for Peterborough. It can easily be prophesied that Mr. Henderson's new venture will be successful. The company he represents is a strong and stable one, possessing accumulated assets of four and a half million dollars, an annual income of $800,000, has paid six million dollars of claims, has the $100,000 deposit with the Canadian Government, and other advantages which Mr. Henderson will in due time fully explain to all those interested, and to whose good graces we commend him. Mr. Henderson is well qualified for the business, possessing a first-class business training, and the angelic amiability and fiendish facility of talk, necessary to a successful assurance agent. We wish him every success in his undertaking.

Mistaken Identity.

Mr. A. T. Smith, the popular and efficient agent of the Bell Telephone Company here, experienced a rather startling episode in returning from Toronto by way of Lindsay on Monday evening. The train drew up at the station, and Mr. Smith stepped on the platform for a breathing spell. Suddenly he was considerably startled by a tap on the shoulder, followed by a firm clutch, and the assurance of a big policeman that he was his prisoner. "Hello!" said Mr. Smith, true to the language of his business, "what does this mean?" The cop replied that he had a telegram authorizing the arrest of a "fellow that looked like him." The prisoner pro tem indignantly volunteered the somewhat vague information that he was Smith of Peterborough, and demanded to be released, but bobby was bound to make sure of his prey and kept his clutch. At length a friend came along who identified Mr. Smith, and testified that he was the last man in Canada liable to be arrested on his merits, and the bobby sadly slunk away. The complement of the joke is that, while the minion of the law was hanging on grimly to the wrong man, the right man, the true culprit, made his escape.

Water Power Printing.

Our contemporary, the Review, is no longer printed by steam; it has turned temperate and has become a cold water establishment. Owing to the boiler inspector of the insurance company, in the course of his duty, having, in making an official tap, driven his hammer through the plate of the boiler, the proprietors were compelled to make a change of some kind, and a Teurck's water motor commending itself on the score of cheapness and efficiency, one was accordingly put in, and has been driving the Review's machinery for a week in a very satisfactory manner. The apparatus, which is very compact (being a cylinder about two feet in diameter and six inches in length), is driven by water from the Water Works Company's mains. The motor, however, while being a decided improvement in summer will, in the winter time, entail the disadvantage of not supplying the heat derived from a boiler. This motor is well adapted for supplying power to sewing machines, watchmaker's, machinery, etc., and as the Water Company are inclined to deal liberally with customers, its use will no doubt become common. If the motor drives satisfactorily the Review's three presses, and with a reserve of power, we have no doubt it will be powerful enough to supply motive power to the EXAMINER'S four large presses, and we shall probably, if our contemporary's experience with the motor is satisfactory, replace our new steam engine with one of them.

First colored Gingham sold with a profit at 15 cents a yard at Turnbull's; 10c. cents a yard about wholesale cost of these goods.

Belmontgomery.

Mr. Joseph Goulais, the well known proprietor of the Forest House, died on Tuesday last of a rheumatic affection.

Early Closing.

The business men of Lakefield have decided to close their shops on the afternoon of every Wednesday at 1 p.m. during the months of July and August. 23-2t

Should be Made Permanent.

The publication of the Peterboro Daily EXAMINER has been discontinued. The intention of the proprietor was only to issue the paper during conference. It's a pity Peterboro should not have a perpetual conference, if only to make the Daily EXAMINER a permanent institution. —Lindsay Post

The Eastern Mail.

We understand that the Grand Junction train will when pending negotiations are closed be delayed about twenty minutes at Belleville to catch the eastern mail, which will therefore arrive here in the evening, so that the public can get their eastern mail matter immediately on the opening of the office in the morning.

As Pretty as a Picture.

We are sorry the daily edition of the EXAMINER has been discontinued. It was one of the best written, and well conducted little dailies in the Province, while its typographical appearance was as pretty as a picture to a printer's eye. Mr. Stratton only issued the daily during the Methodist Conference, and that being over, he has quietly put aside the out-fit (as we have ours) for future use. The Conference is under great obligations to the EXAMINER for its admirable and lengthy reports. It will be welcome when it again appears as a daily.—Port Hope Times.

St. Luke's Anniversary.

The seventh anniversary of the parish of St. Luke's was celebrated on Sunday and Monday. On Sunday Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, the popular and successful incumbent, preached excellent sermons, as is his wont. On Monday evening the church officials and congregation assembled in the school room. After service Dr. Burritt took the chair, and read a congratulatory address to Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, accompanied by a handsome and useful present, consisting of ten volumes of the "Speaker's Commentary." Mrs. Bradshaw was also presented with an elegant silver cake basket. Mr. Bradshaw gave a feeling reply to the address, the text of which we are very sorry we have not space for this issue. The anniversary services were eminently successful, and were a gratifying reflection of the progressive prosperity of the parish.

Incendiary Fire.

On Tuesday night a determined incendiary attempt was made to burn a two-story rough-cast tenement on Chambers street, owned by Mr. Bradburn. The building was fired in two places at least. The Fire Brigade turned out promptly, and the way they worked is worthy of all praise. To their well directed exertions is due the fact that a huge conflagration did not take place, for the surroundings were all favourable to it. As it was, the building was gutted, but the main timbers and walls are left standing. One of the tenements was vacant; the other was occupied by Mr. W. S. Cooks, whose furniture was removed in the usual damaged condition. It was protected by an insurance of $300. The building was well insured. A vigorous attempt should be made to detect the dastardly incendiaries, who, but for the splendid work of the Fire Brigade, would have made a disastrous record of loss of property.

Cheese Market.

At the semi-monthly cheese market held here on Wednesday the several factories were represented as follows:—

	Boxes.
Lily Lake	70
Lakefield	40
Keene	186
Warminster	134
Downeyville	123
Star	119
North Ope	74
Cherry Grove	85
South Douro	72
South Dummer	140
Otonabee Union	52
Trewern	35
Lakehurst	75
Brook	105
South Ope	33
Myrtle	34
Selwyn	230
Total	1516

The cheese offered was principally of the last half of June, and was of excellent quality. All the factories sold except four, and one factory's make, Selwyn, is subject to sale by telegraph to Messrs. Dundas & Flavelle, who purchased the above lot at 9 1-16th cents.

Crushed to Death.

Last Friday afternoon Patrick Connor, a resident of this town, lost his life in a terrible manner. He was firing engine No. 34, Albert Hamlin, driver. The train was standing on the grade at Lorneville Junction, with the Nipissing way-freight ahead. The engine had been detached from its train and had run forward towards the way-freight and was waiting orders. Contrary to Hamlin's instructions, it appears, and without the latter's knowledge, Connor went under the engine to clean out the ash pan. The way-freight in taking slack to start ran against Hamlin's engine. The brakeman, who was lying beside the track, saw Connor's danger and shouted to Hamlin, who threw on all steam to hold the Nipissing train, but too late, for Connor was crushed under the low hung ash box of the engine and killed instantly. The body was brought to town, and the funeral, held on Sunday, was largely attended. A procession composed of the G. T. R. Firemen's brotherhood, and the brotherhood of Engineers, (who had come from Port Hope by special) the train hands and conductors of the Midland offices, the President and other officials, and a long line of the general public, followed the remains from the mother's residence, Wolf street, to the Cathedral, and thence to the R. C. Cemetery. The deceased was a sober, industrious young man, the only support of a widowed mother, who in the death of Patrick, lost the last of nine children who have passed away before her.

New Grocery.

Mr. J. Braden has opened out a new grocery store on George street, in the premises formerly occupied by the 5 cent store. His stock of groceries is complete, new and fresh, and customers who favor him may count on square dealing and first class goods. Go and see and give him a call.

Strawberries.

The strawberry festival held at the residence of Geo. Edmison, Esq., on Rubidge street, last Thursday night, under the patronage of the young people of St. Andrew's was peculiarly pleasant and successful. The abundant refreshments were served in a tent on the lawn. Excellent music was provided, and everything combined to make the festive occasion a success in every way.

Promenade Concert.

The promenade concert held in the Murray Street Separate School grounds on Thursday night was a model entertainment. The grounds, occupied by the band, were brightly lighted, the school rooms were full of light laughter and music of the very best kind, and the refreshments were excellent and tastefully served. There was a large crowd of delighted guests, and the financial outcome was most gratifying. The promoters are to be congratulated on their success.

Æsthetic Thieves.

Mr. McFarlane Wilson, of China Hall, had some lovely samples of geraniums, a glowing mass of abundant bloom, which were indeed rarely splendid specimens. They together with some fine fuchsias were kept in two large lawn vases at his residence Reid street. On Saturday night some sacrilegious thief uprooted and carried off the contents of the vases, except one fuchsia plant Mr. Wilson valued the flowers very highly, and is naturally greatly annoyed at having the fine results of months of careful tending and culture carried off by thieving hands. Others having fine plants outside might be on the qui vive.

Chandos School Pic-Nic.

A pic-nic and entertainment on behalf of school section No. 2, Chandos, and the union S. S., took place on the 2nd July. The children and friends, numbering upwards of one hundred, met in the woods of Mr. Charles Burt. After swinging and various pastimes, together with partaking of a very sumptuous repast, the afternoon's enjoyment was succeeded by an entertainment, consisting of recitations, dialogues, etc. These were interspersed with sacred songs, etc. Addresses were delivered by Revs. Ratcliff (Baptist) and Ross (Presbyterian) suitable to the occasion. The Apsley brass band enlivened the company by some excellent music. On the whole the occasion was a very enjoyable one, and much calculated to cheer and encourage both teachers and scholars in their work.

FIRE HALL STABLES.

An account of Patrick McNamara, $68, for extra work on the Fire Hall stables was presented.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

CHARITY.

Mr. Sawers, from the Charity Committee, reported, recommending that the account of J. W. Flavelle be paid.—Report adopted.

O. & Q. RAILWAY BRIDGE.

Mr. Sawers from the special committee in reference to the Ontario and Quebec railway bridge, reported.

The report recounted the history of the negotiations with the Government and the railway company, and submitted a copy of the agreement between the O. & Q. Railway and the Government and the committee considered that the said agreement was a very one-sided one and too favorable to the railway, and did not protect the interests of the town as it should, and the committee felt that the Government in granting permission to build the bridge without a swing deprived the corporation a voice in the matter.

The committee called attention to the fact that if the Company should build a swing over the proposed Trent Valley Canal they will under no circumstances build one in the railway bridge.

Mr. Sawers in commenting on the plans stated that the bridge was 720 feet in length, with an embankment in mid river 250 feet in length, with a span of 120 feet on the east side of the river, and two spans of 120 feet each on the western side. The lower surface of the bridge would at high tide be only three and a half feet above the water, at the ordinary level, seven feet, and at low water, ten feet.

The report was received, and a committee composed of Messrs. Cahill, McNaughton, Paterson, Douglas and Denne was appointed to consider what action be taken to have the rights and interests of the town on the Otonabee river protected. The committee to have power to add to its numbers from the Council or citizens.

MR. KINGAN AND THE MISSING LINK.

Mr. Sawers, from the special committee to consider the complaint of Mr. R. Kingan in reference to the injury done his property by the Missing Link, reported,

The report cited the negotiations that had taken place in reference to the matter, and stated that the committee came to the conclusion that the railway authorities did not intend to move in the matter, but would continue to use the crossing complained of. The committee further reported that the said crossing was a dangerous one, and recommended under the circumstances that the Street Inspector be directed to remove the line of the said railway at said crossing, and put the street in its former condition.

Mr. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, was heard in explanation. He said that as soon as the line began to be used the Company would deal with the matter. At present it was not known whether the line would suit or not. In fact the engineer of the company had already received instructions to survey a new line that would pass further west, right through Mr. Kingan's property, and this the Company could expropriate and pay for at a price to be fixed by arbitration. As yet no parties had been injured by the Missing Link, and the company at the proper time would consider and deal justly with all parties. He had explained the state of affairs to Mr. Kingan and different members of the Council, and he hadn't time to be attending to such matters that could not be settled till further experience showed the suitability of the present line. In due time the Company would consider the claims of all parties, and everybody would get justice.

Mr. Cahill said that during last fall and winter the Street and Bridge Committee had received similar assurances from Mr. Cox. He (Mr. Cahill) urged the Council to pause before adopting the strong course the report suggested, and consider the grave responsibility they would be assuming.

Mr. Kingan said he had grave grounds for complaints, and that so far nothing had been done to give him redress.

Mr. McNaughton believed that Mr. Kingan was only asking what was due him.

Mr. Denne thought the Council was called on to do something for Mr. Kingan unless the latter would accept Mr. Cox's assurance.

Mr. Douglass asked how soon the line would be finished.

Mr. Cox said that the line was not finished yet. That $400,000 had been spent on it. The company was bound to get through to Omemee, but owing to the difficulties of work the matter had been delayed. There was no absolute certainty of the present line answering the purpose, and the company would be foolish to pay for property affected by the line, when it was not sure the line would be used. Nobody had suffered yet, and the company was willing to do what was right. He thought that in view of the town at one time having been willing to bonus the Missing Link, it would, as a matter of business, pay the town to assist the railway to enter the town.

Mr. Rutherford said the town had been fortunate in the matter of railways, never having had to pay a cent in the way of bonuses. Some time since a committee had been appointed to see about getting the railway workshops located here, and it was a fine way to secure that object by bothering the railway with petty annoyances. Considering the benefit the Midland Railway was to the town, he thought the Council could afford to pay Mr. Kingan for any loss he had or might sustain. He thought the adoption of the report a grave affair. The proposal of Mr. Cox was a fair one, and he could be depended on to keep a faith he had never yet broken with the town.

On the motion to adopt the report being put, Mr. Denne said he would not second the motion if Mr. Kingan would agree to wait.

Mr. Kelly said Mr. Kingan was willing to wait a reasonable time.

AN EASIER WAY.

Mr. Paterson moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that the complaints respecting the railway, of Messrs. Kingan, Roe and Lundy, and Mrs. McNamara, be referred to the Street Committee with a view of getting the interested parties together and effecting an amicable adjustment of the matters involved.

Mr. Cahill said he was favorable to railways. He was glad to get the Midland and the O. & Q., and would welcome half a dozen others if they came.

Mr. Cox explained that the siding complained of by Mrs. McNamara was only temporarily put down to assist the O. & Q. in getting ties to their line.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, a motion requiring Messrs. Pearce and Macdonald, auditors of 1880, to investigate respecting the claim of the town to stock in the Midland Railway and report to this Council.

Mr. Sawers explained that the amount of stock owned by the town was some $600,000.

Mr. Douglass said his name as seconder of the motion had been used without his consent. (Laughter.)

Mr. Cox explained that the town at first held £30,000 of stock in the old Midland, but that they had exchanged this for a £20,000 first preference mortgage on the amalgamated road, on which the town had been receiving interest, and it would be foolish to make an exchange now.

Mr. Sawers asserted that the Council thought there was something in the matter.

Mr. Cox replied that he would be happy to do all he could to assist the town to make itself sure on the point. As a considerable property holder here he would be glad to know that the town had $600,000 of Midland stock.

Mr. Douglass consented to allow his name to stand as seconder, and the motion was agreed to.

THE TOWN CLOCK.

On motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, Mr. McClelland was requested to keep the town clock as near railway time (Toronto time) as possible.

After a discussion respecting the last auditors' report, which, it appeared, had not yet been adopted, the Council adjourned for one week.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic returns of the Midland Railway of Canada for the week ending July 7th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $8,223.37; freight, $11,878.32; total, $20,101.69, as compared with $23,165.83 for the corresponding week of 1882, being a decrease of 3,064.14; and the aggregate traffic to date is $520,536.87, being an increase of $17,731.06 over 1882.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." PUBLIC MEETING.

A public meeting was held in the Town Hall here on Friday last to select a Reeve in the place of Mr. Pearce, resigned. There was a sparse attendance of the ratepayers, very few caring whether there was a Reeve elected or not. Several persons present were nominated, who promptly rejected the honorable position; but one gentleman, not present, Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, was also nominated, and declared duly elected. Since, however, he has also refused to hold the reins of our municipal government. Our borough is in a nice fix, all through the croaking of a few individuals who do not care a straw for the interests of the village generally, but are very sensitive when their own personal interests are involved. It is to be hoped some of these grumblers will have an opportunity of showing their municipal administrative powers.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A very sad occurrence took place on a section of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, near Norwood, on Thursday last. One of the navvies was instructed to drive a team of horses attached to a plow, and carelessly dropped his shovel near where he was working. After proceeding to plow he found that the shovel was in his way, and taking it up gave it a throw upwards, when it unfortunately dropped on the head of a boy named Sidney Scott, about 14 years of age, and son of Mr. Scott, foreman of the works, and inflicted a very dangerous wound, the implement sinking deeply into the skull and taking off a portion of the scalp. The boy was at once taken to the residence of Mr. Macdonald, in the village, and several physicians at once called and every attention was paid to the little sufferer. At last accounts he is doing as well as can be expected.

NEARLY A BLAZE.

On Sunday morning last, as Mr. Thos. Cuthbertson, residing about half a mile north of the village, was coming out of his front door, he saw smoke issuing from a wood-pile belonging to him. He at once went over to ascertain the cause of the unusual appearance, when he found that a large fire had been ignited in the centre of the pile, and was rapidly working its way to both ends. With the assistance of his sons he promptly extinguished the flames. The fire was no doubt caused by an incendiary. There were about 70 cords in the pile, and its destruction would have entailed serious loss to Mr. Cuthbertson.

LACROSSE.

A lacrosse match was played at Belleville on Friday last between teams of the Belleville and Norwood clubs. The first game was won by the Norwoods, and the three following games were taken by the Belleville team. However, there is not the least danger that such a thing will occur again, as the Norwoods had several unexpected things to contend against, the principal one being that the Belleville team was too much for them.

BEGUN WORK.

Mr. R & G Strickland's mill commenced running this week, having been completely overhauled and put in thorough repair. Mr. Richard Proute, of Keene, a first class mechanic, has had charge of the work. The cutting capacity of the mill will now be 60,000 feet per day. Mr. Fred Dinwoodie, goes to Bradford to take charge of Messrs. Strickland's mill there for the season. The mill will probably be removed from Brandford after this summer, but we learn that it is not yet decided. The Northern and Midland Railways are both anxious to have it on their respective lines.

PERSONAL.

Mr. T. Donnelly, of Belleville, was in town this week on business.

Mr. Albert Shaw departed on Monday night for the North-West with his wife. He takes up residence at Whitemouth.

Mr. John Carnegie, M.P.P., returned home from his trip to the old country on Thursday night last.

Messrs. Thos. Esterbrook, W. G. Ferguson and J. F. Stenson have gone on a trip across the "herring pond."

Prof. Orm. Dixon, Canada's most versatile ventriloquest, is home on a visit. His recent engagement was a great success.

Rev. K. F. Torrance, Minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, here, filled the pulpit in the first Presbyterian Church Port Hope, last Sunday.

Rev. Father Lynch, of Lindsay, spent a day a or two in Peterborough this week en route to the St. Lawrence, where he will spend his well earned holidays.

Mr. M. Porteous, formerly of Christ Church, Dublin, possessor of a fine baritone voice, has consented to sing in the choir of Charlotte Street Methodist Church, and his presence will add much to the present effective excellence of the musical portion of the services.

Grand Master Spry, in his address to the Grand Lodge, in alluding to the death of brethern, spoke of the late Samuel White as follows: "V. W. Bro. The Disposal of Sewage.

The average reader's mind is not very earnestly influenced by the words at the head of this paragraph, yet the subject suggested by them is pregnant with the deepest interest to every one. It involves both health and sickness, life and death. To any thinking and intelligent man it is unnecessary to urge the importance of such a subject, yet nearly everybody, especially in this town, requires to be awakened to an active interest. To a town insufficiently and in every way inadequately supplied with drainage facilities, the question of a disposal of sewage is a doubly vital one. In this position Peterborough is unfortunately placed. The terrible outbreak of the Arabian cholera in Egypt will force upon public attention the subject of public cleanliness. The filth and squalor of the Egyptians form a favorable nidus for the developement of the dreadful disease. Eminent authorities assert that the Arabian cholera in its periodical ravages almost invariably spreads to the western-most confines of Europe. If this be so, and this scourge should find its way to Western Europe, there is reason to fear that it may be transported to this continent. The activity of commercial pursuits, resulting in constant intercourse, and the extensive travel between the two continents are both favorable to the spread of the disease. As the presence of filth, insufficient drainage and disregard of sanitary laws generally are favorable to the spread of cholera, so on the other hand are public cleanliness, efficient drainage and a strict regard to the laws of health the most effective preventives. In connection with this subject the little pamphlet recently issued by the Ontario Board of Health is, or should be, of particular interest. The work treats practically and plainly of the proper care of wells, cisterns, closets, drains, and quotes scientific and sanitary authorities as to the proper treatment of troubles arising from sanitary disadvantages of location and surroundings. It is a book that should be in every household, and which should be carefully studied by every householder, and its teachings laid to heart. It is a pity that so useful a publication could not be liberally distributed—sown broadcast. If public attention is not strongly directed to the matter of sanitary precautions the public are destined to a rude awakening some time; and if the dreadful scourge of cholera should visit our shores, there can be little doubt but that its virulence and fatality will be in direct ratio to the public disregard of the rules of health, whether related to personal attention to sanitary laws or the cleanlessness of premises and surrounings.

The Protest Fizzles.

Sir John Macdonald—the Tory party—hates Ontario for being Reform, and he has not only not neglected any opportunity of showing his—its—animosity against it, but has also taken every chance to turn over this province to Tory control by means the most unscrupulous and corrupt. The iniquitous gerrymander did its work well in the June contest, but it was not to be depended upon for the local elections. Therefore more direct and favorite means were tried. The influence of the Dominion Government both official and personal, were with a lavish corruption fund, thrown into the scale against honest voting. Still "Mowat" did not "go." They didn't spend money enough. But they had plenty left. The next move was to enter protests against the return of Reformers in ridings where majorities were narrow, the money for the guarantee fund of which, came from Ottawa. This, with the hope that, in case a riding was opened a more liberal scattering of the corruption fund would secure the election of a Tory tool.

But the result so far has been a disastrous failure. The petition against Mr. Awrey, of North Wentworth, has been withdrawn; a confession that the petition was a trumped up matter without a tittle of evidence to support it. The petition was dismissed with costs against the petitioner.

The petition against Mr. Mackenzie, of East Middlesex, has been also dropped; the same treatment has befallen the west Elgin petition. North Ontario, at Mr. Madill's urgent request, has been postponed, and will not likely come on for trial. In East Northumberland the fishing for evidence was continued three days, without success, and the trial has been postponed for a month. In South Victoria the attempt was a most miserable failure. Not only has Mr. McIntyre been sustained in his seat, but he has been complimented by the judges for having had a remarkably pure election; while the petitioner was soundly lectured by the judges on the trivial nature of the trumped-up charges. In the Welland case five days were spent and only one case of illicit expenditure—$6.50 payment of fare to voter—was proven, and that without the candidate's knowledge or consent, or without proving the agency of the party making the expenditure. The petitioner doubtless put his strongest cases forward first. Out of 110 charges made, fifty have been dismissed or abandoned, and as the petitioner put his strongest cases first, it is more than probable that the trial, which has been postponed till September 8th, will not be resumed. The South Renfrew trial of the petition against Dr. Dowling, after lasting some time did not "pan" out strongly enough to warrant its being continued, and it also has been adjourned on account of the "absence of witnesses." The West Hastings petition against the return of Mr. Sills, has been indefinitely postponed at the request of the respondent. The trial was to have begun on Tuesday last. In the North Renfrew case the Tories attempted to make a compromise. Before concluding to abandon the charges against Mr. Murray, they T tried to secure, as an offset, the withdrawal of a petition against an Opposition member. Mr. Murray at once declined the proposition, and an adjournment of the case was granted to let the petition "down easy." So far, at least, the Tories in their hunt after corrupt practices have not met with any encouragement. No language is too strong to characterize the dishonest greed of the desperate Tories in the tactics pursued, and perhaps the disastrous results of the election petitions will teach our Tory friends to be content with a popular verdict, and not to enter speculative protests, with no probable result but that of harrassing Reform members-elect and perpetuating the animosities and excited political feeling that characterize an election season. So far their last effort to make "Mowat go" can be described by the one significant word, failure.

Notes of the Day.

Mr. Gladstone, replying to questions in the Commons, declared the Government had admitted that some parts of the Irish land act required amendment, and intimated they might consider the subject when the time arrived.

All the six Conferences of the Methodist Church of Canada have now voted on the union basis, and five have adopted it by a majority of 13. Only the London Conference rejected the basis by a majority of 13. The M. E. Conference Boards have voted as follows:—For, 70; ties, 5; against, 6.

In spite of all adverse influences Mormonism is increasing at an astonishing rate. Mormon missionaries are laboring successfully in the Southern States as well as in Europe, and Brigham Young expects to draw from the Old and the New World 35,000 deluded victims before the first of next January.

There are now only three men in the British House of Commons who were there when Victoria ascended the throne, forty-six years ago. They are Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Talbot, member for Glamorganshire, and Mr. Villiers, member for Wolverhampton. Earl Grey is the only living member of the Cabinet that was in office at that time.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada embraces thirty-six Presbyteries and four Synods; has within its bounds 800 pastoral churches, 114 vacancies, 700 ordained ministers, 1,524 churches, 68,208 families; 119,977 communicants, and a total Presbyterian population of 676,165. The total revenue last year was $1,409-748, or an increase of $164,250 over the year previous.

Every day adds to the terrible record of disasters which have marked the year 1883 as the most singularly fatal known to history. Canada was more fortunate as a rule than the United States, but the report of the flood on the Thames near London, Ont., warns us that like conditions for destruction and disaster from natural causes, are here as well as there and may at any time come upon us.

The Port Hope News says that the Senate has outlived its day and generation. Nearly two-thirds of the present House are appointees of Sir John Macdonald. They are there, not as legislators, but as registers of his will. There is not another such so-called constitutional chamber on the face of the globe. In the corrupting influence of a one man autocratic power, Canada stands unparalleled in the history of responsible government.

STIRRING EXPOSURE FROM STIRLING.

HOW THE REV. MR. SHAW IS APPRECIATED ABROAD.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:—

DEAR SIR.—Perhaps you would like to know how the genial, good natured and able minister of the New Testament, Rev. John Shaw, acquits himself when abroad. Well, we Methodist Episcopal folks in Stirling dedicated one year ago one of the finest churches in this Dominion for a village, and last Sabbath and Monday being the time for anniversary services they were proceeded with in a most becoming manner. Perhaps you know, Mr. Editor, that this Stirling village is quite enthusiastic on both sides of the house on the subject of Methodist Union, particularly since the blessed union revival held last spring. Words sometimes amount to little, but acts speak volumes. So we determined to exhibit our profession by summoning a C. M. minister to our aid. Having become acquainted with Bro. Shaw at the Union Committee, it only took about one minute to decide where to look, and the result was glorious. The ministers present on the occasion were Revs. Dr. Badgley, J. Shaw, C.M., Jas. Campbell, D. O. Crossley, R. Walker, C.M., J. Leach, C.M., and R. Denike. The sermons on Sabbath were delivered by Rev. E. J. Badgley, B.D., and Rev. J. Shaw, and rank among the foremost expositions of divine truth to which it has been our pleasure to listen. Anything like a description would be to weaken the great effect produced. They savored of the pith and marrow of the gospel, and kindled the flame of the old fashioned fires that burnt on Methodistic altars in days of yore.

In the afternoon at the platform meeting these brethern acquitted themselves nobly, and won golden opinions from all present.

On Monday a sumptuous dinner at 12 and a first class starawberry and ice cream treat at 7 added no little to the enjoyment of the occasion. Here the powers of description fail so I add nil.

The literary entertainment of each was genuine, as one after another of the above speakers spoke eloquently on their varied topics in a manner that delighted the crowds assembled. Second to none among these luminaries stood our patient Peterborough cleric for two more discourses, bearing the continual pressure with great fortitude, and in such a manner as to win laurels to himself. If our good brother carries with him as high an opinion of the Stirlingites as he left with them of himself, we are a happy people, and shall hold ourselves in readiness to ask to be the centre of a district, after the confederation, with the Rev. John Shaw as Presiding Elder. The music throughout was rendered by the choir of the church and was grand. The patronage of other churches was good, and we all said, "Behold how good and how pleasant a thing it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

WHY?

There are many reasons why H. LeBRUN, of the City Clothing Store, has now the confidence of the public, and some of them may be briefly stated.

FIRST.

The firm has a business experience extending over ten years.

SECOND.

The Establishment is the largest in town, and the stock the most extensive.

THIRD.

The City Clothing Store sets the prices, which are always lower than any other house in Peterborough.

FOURTH.

The styles are always correct, for the reason that MR. LeBRUN employs none but the most skilful workmen.

FIFTH.

The fit, finish and durability of every garment made is perfect, because all the details of the business come under the minutest inspection.

SIXTH.

H. LeBRUN, City Clothing, Store never allows a customer to go unless they are satisfied. The good reputation of the firm will be sustained in the selection has made.

ST. LUKE'S ANNIVERSARY.

A Well-Beloved Pastor's Fidelity Recognized.

We give below the text of the address presented to Rev. Mr. Bradshaw and his reply on the occasion of the seventh anniversary of the establishment of the parish of St. Luke's, Ashburnham. We are pleased to add that the address, while conferring with such gratifying cordiality to Mr. Bradshaw's services and good qualities, very inadequately indicates the strong feeling of respect and affection entertained for him by his flock. What words can do, the address expresses, but the spirit that animated the proceedings throughout at the school room on the occasion, spoke a language of deeper and more touching impressiveness than any mere words could do :—

To the Reverend William Charles Bradshaw, Incumbent of St. Luke's, Ashburnham :

DEAR SIR,—This being the seventh anniversary of the establishment of the parish of Ashburnham, it would have been in accordance with the usual custom to have celebrated it by a festivity of some kind ; but the congregation felt that it would be more appropriate to dispense with anything of that nature this year, owing to the great loss both the Church and yourself have sustained in the death of George Charles Rogers, Esquire.

However, the congregation considered that at all events it would not be right to let the occasion pass by without marking in some way their appreciation of the industry and energy you have always manifested in the service of the Church, and have therefore requested us on their behalf to present you with this address and the accompanying set of books, desiring your acceptance thereof as a slight token of their approval of your earnest work since you came here.

It will not be amiss if, on this occasion, we take a retrospective view and contrast seven years ago with now. When you took charge in 1876 of what is now the Parish of Ashburnham, the church there was languishing and daily losing ground. The small brick school house in which we first held our services more than sufficed for the remnant of the Church left. By the blessing of God, and owing to your zeal and energy, the congregation increased so rapidly that we were obliged to provide increased accommodation, and in the year 1877 the Church we now worship in was consecrated. In 1880 the congregation, feeling that the stipend paid you was altogether inadequate, and in order to increase it by providing a free residence, built the parsonage you now occupy. These works tasked fully the energy and resources of the congregation, and they would not have been able to have done so much if it had not been for the liberal assistance of outsiders in supplementing their efforts. The debt now remaining upon the parsonage we hope we will be enabled to meet, and that those who have heretofore aided our struggling efforts, will still continue to do so. For two years after you came we could only pay you $600 per annum. Subsequently, through the improved spirit of liberality brought about by your thorough Christian teaching, we were enabled to pay $800 per annum, and provide a free residence ; and were able to present you during the past year with a further sum of $300, a special contribution by those who felt it their duty to give it owing to the increased burden thrown upon you by the expansion of your field of labour since the establishment of this parish and Otonabee (which through unavoidable circumstances was added to Ashburnham) nearly two hundred persons have been confirmed by the Bishop, and have, we believe become communicants. When the mission of Ashburnham and Otonabee was established there were no Church schools in the territory embraced, now there are four. At that time the only Church service held in that district was at St. Mark's Otonabee. Since then you have extended the mission until nine stations have been established ; and we regret that the withdrawal of the Rev. Mr. Marsh, whose assistance you had about a year, prevents regular services being held at three of these stations at present ; and we feel that your duties in connection with the remaining six, is too severe a strain on your strength if not on your energies. The congregation hope that the Mission Board may be able at an early day to render you that assistance which, in the interests of the Church, you are entitled to, so that the ground gained through your efforts may be retained.

Wishing Mrs. Bradshaw and yourself enjoyment of health and all happiness, and that you may long continue to minister to the congregation of St. Luke's with the same acceptance as you have have hitherto done, we remain,

Your faithful Parishioners,

W. H. BURRITT,
JOHN BURNHAM,
H. T. STRICKLAND,
On behalf of the Congregation.

Ashburnham, July 9th, A.D., 1883.

To Messrs. W. H. Burritt, M.D., John Burnham, M.P., and H. T. Strickland :

GENTLEMEN,—I accept with extreme gratification the kind and affectionate address, and the handsome present which accompanies it, which you have been good enough to present to me on behalf of the congregation, on this, the seventh anniversary of the parish. I have received so many tokens of your appreciation and thoughtful kindness in the past, that I must say I am surprised that you should once more mark in such a signal way your too flattering estimation of my labors among you. Indeed the gift is as unexpected as it is undeserved.

Greatly do I regret, in common with you all, that a bereavement of no ordinary character not only deprives you of the customary pleasure which generally marks our anniversaries, but much more, because, through the deplorable and untimely end of Mr. Geo. C. Rogers, St. Luke's Church has suffered an incalculable loss in the removal of one universally beloved as a good man, a faithful friend, an attached member of our Church and an indefatigable worker in every righteous cause.

In taking a retrospective glance, your reference to the condition of the parish at the time of my appointment is peculiarly appropriate. This is a matter which, of course, comes more within the personal knowledge of older residents than myself, and few among our community are better qualified to speak upon it than the signers of this address.

As I stated yesterday, the total number of communicants in connection with this village and St. Mark's, Otonabee, in July, 1876, was thirty-five. At the present time, after heavy losses by death and from removals, there are two hundred and fifteen, or more than six times the actual number at the formation of the parish. This is the best and surest test of growth and advancement, and is a very cheering sign of progress and and prosperity. Other tokens are not wanting.

You remind me of the more apparent signs of growth which almost every year marked our onward progress as a congregation. The erection of both church and parsonage, and the purchase of every fitting accessory for Divine worship, within the brief space of seven years, are largely due to the untiring efforts of a united congregation, and supply practical evidence on your part of a spirit of liberality, zeal and desire to further the interests of the church, which are beyond all praise.

It is right to recollect that all your efforts have received abundant and ready aid from numerous sympathizers, and their generous assistance deserves a cordial recognition and a grateful acknowledgement, which, I am sure, we all freely and gladly offer them.

But I hope you also gratefully remember that it was above all to the practical encouragement and liberal offerings of one faithful benefactor, now gone to his rest, you owe, not only the inception of church work here, and the site of the church buildings, and large donations to both church and school, but almost your very existence as a parish.

Had it not been for the very generous grant of $200 per annum given towards my stipend by the Rev. Mark Burnham, it would have been utterly impossible either to commence or carry on that work, which, under the fostering care of the Almighty, has been productive of such beneficial and happy results. It was by means of this very large supplemental grant alone that you were enabled to offer at the commencement, even the very moderate salary of $600.

The country district under my charge is, as you remark, most extensive. I am sensible of my utter inability to work it as it ought to be, but at the various places where services are held, I am cheered by the manifestation of deeper interest, better responding, increasing congregations, and an eagerness on the part of many worshippers to know something more of the doctrine and principles of our beloved church. Such agreeable marks of appreciation are enough to make one labour to the full extent of physical and mental endurance.

Increased clerical assistance, constant visiting, more services, and the faithful and zealous teaching these should supply, would do much to make the mission of Otonabee much more fruitful, and to win many to the fold of Christ's Church. The Bishop, you will rejoice to know, is fully alive to the great need of more help here, and a Deacon will, this very week, enter upon the field, and strive to resuscitate the services that have lapsed.

I thank you most heartily in Mrs. Bradshaw's name and in my own, for all your numerous tokens of kindness and appreciation, and especially for your sincere and earnest wishes regarding my future career as your minister.

My prayer shall ever be that God may endow me with needed grace to prove worthy of your esteem and affection, and that He may enable me to feed faithfully the flock committed to my charge, and may grant His prospering blessing on all our endeavours to advance His Kingdom.

I sincerely hope that the mutual confidence, respect and affection which have so far subsisted between us as co-workers in the Lord's vineyard may but be increased and strengthened as the years roll on, and I trust that I may be sustained and upheld in the future, as in the past, through all my trials and in all my duties, by your unstinted sympathy, your valued assistance and hearty support, and above all, by your sincere and constant prayers at the Throne of Grace, for my work and office, as "your servant for Jesus' sake."

Believe me,

Very faithfully and gratefully yours,

W. C. BRADSHAW.

Ashburnham, 9th July, 1883.

Hop Bitters are the Purest and Best Medicine Ever Made.

They are compounded from Hops, Malt, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion, the oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other remedies, being the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. Convertible Morality.

Ever since the appointment of Mr. S. S. Peck as stipendary magistrate of Haliburton, the Review has been abusing and berating the Ontario Government for the appointment of this gentleman. From the amount of quasi righteous indignation expressed in its peculiar scurrilous style, one would fancy that our contemporary regarded the Tory party as composed of persons of angelic purity. But it is not to be expected that a journal that can defend the Pacific Scandal and justify the Gerrymander will notice such venial sins as those committed by Chapleau, the ex-Secretary of so pure and virtuous a politician as Sir Charles Tupper. According to sworn testimony given before the Pacific Railway commission, Mr. Secretary Chapleau, a servant of the Dominion in the Public Works Department, basely bargained, in consideration of $4,000, to corruptly prevent a certain contractor from making good his tender, thus giving the contract to a tenderer so much higher as to make a payment of a $4,000 bribe warrantable. Of this amount $500 was actually paid to Sir Charles Tupper's secretary. Furthermore, Mr. Chapleau unblushingly testifies that he was to receive $40 a month to serve the interests of a Yankee contractor against the interests of the Dominion, whose paid servant he was. This $40 per month was in consideration of his betraying official secrets for the benefit of a foreign party. And so faithfully did Sir Charles look after the public interests that he swore that he did not know that any official of his department derived the least benefit from contracts, except what had transpired in reference to Mr. Chapleau, and of which he had not the slightest knowledge or suspicion until it was made public at the investigation.

But how has the Tory government at Ottawa punished Mr. ex-Secretary Chapleau for his share in the corrupt contract-broking iniquities that have made odious the administration of the department of Sir Charles Tupper? He has not been punished; but rewarded by an appointment to a lucrative shrievalty in the Northwest. Cannot our Tory contemporary give us another exhibition of righteous indignation in respect of this appointment of a self-confessed political felon to a responsible public position? Not by any means; circumstances alter cases, and it makes all the difference in the world whose ox is gored. To our contemporary a venial offence in a Reformer is a great crime, and a great crime in a Tory is a venial offence. This is the way the convertible morality of the Review enables it to regard political matters.

Taking Possession.

Mr. Mowat has shown himself ever alive to the interests of this Province, and in combatting for the possession of the territory given Ontario by the award of 1878, has fought manfully against formidable odds. The Dominion Government having in the continued refusal to ratify the award, denied the territorial rights of this Province, the Ontario Government have adopted the only resource left and taken the initial steps for the organization of the disputed territory. Municipal institutions will be given the large and rapidly growing population in Rainy River and Rat Portage districts, all disputed titles to property will be investigated and the conflicting claims of squatters will be generously and equitably dealt with. Measures will be taken to give effect to the legal system introduced. A commission, consisting of Messrs. Burden and Patullo, has been issued to take evidence on conflicting claims, even-handed justice will be dealt out, and the fatuous system of speculators being preferred to bona fide settlers, although they may be squatters, as practiced by the Dominion Government, will receive a deathblow. There is no doubt that the action of the Mowat Government in seizing the administration of the affairs of the disputed region will receive the support of the entire Province, for the following reasons tersely given by the Toronto World: "Ontario ought to take possession of the disputed territory and administer it in the meantime. In the first place she ought to seize it because possession is nine-tenths of the law. Secondly, neither the Dominion nor Manitoba would administer it so well. Thirdly, the disputed territory would be immediately benefitted by such a course. Fourthly, no one has so good a right to the territory."

A Loss to the Press.

We very much regret to announce that with last Friday's issue the Port Hope News, one of the brightest, most hard-hitting, and aggressive local newspapers in Central Canada, ceased to exist. After an existence of four years, during which time it worked its way vigorously to the front rank of journals, it has been amalgamated with the Guide. The lack of public appreciation of a first-class weekly is not the prime cause of the suspension of the publication of the News. The proprietor received a liberal offer of a responsible position, in connection with Mr. Geo. A. Cox's private business. This offer he decided to accept, because the liberal salary attached to it was, in justice to the demands of his family, to be preferred to the profits of a newspaper published in a contracted sphere, where two other papers had long been established. The News has been amalgamated with the Guide, and the combined plant, combined subscription list and patronage of the two journals, should make, so to speak, "a strong team." The result is the new newspaper will be enlarged to a fourteen page, seventy column journal. We give the new paper our most cordial wishes for success.

In Mr. Preston's retirement from active journalistic life, the Reform press will miss a trenchant and facile writer, whose contributions to the News have been marked by a deep knowledge of the facts he dealt with, and a rare skill in marshalling them in fighting order, and we shall personally miss the bright weekly visits of the News. Mr. Preston is also a fluent and effective platform speaker, and in this way he has also done yeoman service to the Reform cause. We welcome him to the citizenship of Peterborough, and while knowing that his new duties will be efficiently discharged we feel assured that when the cause of Reform and good government may require his assistance, it will be given with cheerful readiness.

More Press Opinion.

Our local contemporary is still receiving complimentary notices from his brethren of the press. The Port Hope News in its last number thus vigorously hits off the peculiarities of the Review. The language is strong, and the latter has the satisfaction of knowing that, by its coarse and abusive style, it has brought such a scathing on its head. The News says:—

"The Peterborough Review is not only remarkably conceited but wonderfully sensitive. The News complimented the World on having placed the Review hors du combat on the Mousseau-Boundary question. The Review forthwith waxes wrathy, calls hard names and then deplores the bitterness of journalism, thus inferentially apologising for its excessive use of Billingsgate. We hope that the World will accept the Review's apology, and again extend the right hand of fellowship to its profane confrere. It must be remembered that the Review enjoys a sort of double-headed editorial existence. It has two writers. One never does wrong, at least he think so. The other is always blundering, and as frequently apologising. If anything appears in the Review that is likely to damage the "infallible" in the estimation of the public, the "blunderer" anxiously offers himself as a sacrifice in mitigation of damages. The "infallible" is becoming imperious in manner; while the "blunderer" stumbles publicly and privately, in order that humble apologies may be offered. The dual headship of the Review sometimes gets mixed—vide the Mousseau controversy, The "infallible" declared during the recent election that Mousseau never delivered that famous St. Jerome speech—the "blunderer" owns up to the speech, but endeavors to distort the only reasonable construction capable of being placed on the words. The World not only routed the Review in fact and argument, but cleverly roasted that journal with sarcasm and wit. The Review was made the laughing stock of the whole journalistic community—a self-evident fact to every one but its dull-witted self. The Review poses as a journalistic Adonis, because it once published a tardy condemnation of the Mail's abuse, but it is really a journalistic prostitute of the most depraved character The most palpable facts are openly lied about—perversion is its stock in trade. An occasional diversification is offered by the vicarious sacrifice of one of its dual headships through a public apology. Truly the Review is a journalistic wonder. The News accepts the Review's apology most freely."

It is asserted the Mr. Mousseau's civil service commission, has showed one way by which the Province of Quebec under Tory rule has become plunged into fifteen millions of dollars of debt. The civil service is rotten to the degree that $100,000 can be saved and yet the public service be efficiently performed. And yet the Tories want to supplant a Reform Government in Ontario that can show a surplus of five millions as against a Quebec debt of fifteen millions piled up under Tory misrule.

Desirable BUILDING Lots

In a convenient part of the town.

MR. DONNELLY, of Belleville

Having decided to dispose of all his property in Peterborough, has instructed me to offer for sale by auction.

At the Caisse House,

At TWO o'clock p.m.,

On Saturday, July the 28th,

30 Desirable Building Lots on Wescott St., at foot of George Street. This property is situated within a few minutes walk of the market, and is quite convenient to the proposed new station of the Ontario & Quebec Railway.

In order to close the whole transaction off, it has been decided to offer each lot at an upset price, so low that intending purchasers will do well to be promptly on time.

TERMS OF PAYMENT.—One-third cash, balance in three equal annual instalments at six per cent.

Persons purchasing one lot will have the option of the adjoining lot at same price.

☞ For plan of lots see large posters.

29-2t. C. STAPLETON, Auctioneer.

FOR SALE.

A DESIRABLE

PROPERTY.

The residence of the undersigned, BLOCK B., on Simcoe St., containing ONE ACRE, having a street frontage on all sides. There is an Artesian well of pure spring water at a depth of 40 feet, and soft and spring water pipes brought into the kitchen; also, hot and cold water & gas, bath closets with Marble Washstands in the bath room and Butler's pantry. The plumbing was done by a Toronto house, and cost $1,000. The brick building is expensively finished with low down grates and heavy marbled mantels. The carpenter work is finished in oiled chestnut wood from the States. The soil is loam, on a clay bottom—no gravel, and is a very early garden. To make a complete mansion, all that is necessary, if desirable, would be to build a brick front of 3 walls in place of the present rough cast, on the existing stone basement to connect with the brick building in the rear.

The size of the building is 65 x45. The situation is healthy, on rising ground, separated from other properties by the streets, and offers a rare opportunity for a family requiring a beautiful home.

☞ TERMS:—One-fourth cash, balance can remain for a term of 5 or 10 years, at buyer's option.

LOCAL NEWS RECORD.

Out-Glanting the Giant T.

The rapidly increasing demands of the business of Mr. Adam Hall, proprietor of the "Giant T," George street, have made his premises entirely too small for the requirements of his business. With his characteristic enterprise he has decided to enlarge the building by widening the two-story rear portion about six feet, to a uniform breadth with the front part. The entire rear part will be completely re-built to three stories, the present structure removed and a cellar excavated. The result will be a building 100 feet deep, 21 feet wide, and three stories in height, with cellar, every foot of which will be devoted to Mr. Hall's enormous stove and tinware business.

Pyrotechnics and Promenade Concert.

The first of a series of promenade concerts, accompanied by a splendid display of fireworks, will take place in the Drill Shed grounds on Friday night next, July 20th, at 8 o'clock p.m. The music furnished by the Fire Brigade Band will, of course, be first class, and the display of fireworks furnished by the renowned Professor Hand, of Hamilton, will be a grand one as witness the following extracts from the programme: chapel of roses; large floral fountain; large vertical wheel; small battery; large bomb shell; Chinese fan; extra large bomb shell; small floral fountain; extra large colored star mines; large monitor battery; "the devil among the tailors," very amusing; diamond star; a very large piece with motto, "God Save the Queen"; twenty feet meteoric balloon; also a large quantity of rockets, coloured bengals, Roman candles, port fires, flower pots, Japanese torpedoes, signal lights, etc., etc. The balloon will be the largest ever sent up in town. It is arranged that only those admitted to the grounds can see the display. Admission to the grounds 15 cents, children 10c. This concert and display of pyrotechnics will, if successfully patronized, be the first of a series during the summer season. It will be well worth seeing.

Matrimony Made Easy.

A pretty face, an easily smitten youth, and puppy love ad nauseam, are too often considered the necessary elements to a matrimonial union; in the heyday of youth and hope more substantial considerations are often lost sight of. "Money makes the mare go" and money is as necessary to make the marriage go smoothly. From lack of it many matches which might lead to great success are broken off and two blighted lives result. But a study of the advertisement of the Mutual Marriage Aid Association would remove the financial trouble. This Association was established in Hamilton in 1881, and by the payment of a small premium a young man or young woman is entitled to draw from the funds of this society at marriage from $500 to $5,000 in proportion to the amount of premium paid. Young man, who contemplate marriage, stop wasting money on ice-cream and nasty cigars, that make both you and your neighbor sick, or split sodas and billiards, and spend your money to purchase certificates in the Marriage Aid Association. Young woman, spend less money on face powder, laces and tan colored gloves that hug at the wrist, and invest your savings in a like manner, and when you marry you can draw together $2,000 or $3,000, which will purchase and furnish a nice cottage, where love will stay the longer for not being starved. Read the advertisement in this paper.

Cure and Cold Poison.

The spirit of Lucretia Borgia seems to be abroad in Peterborough. Dogs have been repeatedly poisoned in a most mysterious manner. A gentleman in conversation suggested a solution—the animals were poisoned out of revenge—sacrificed to the manes of murdered sleep. By their nocturnal howlings they had robbed somebody of sleep, and the latter had returned good for evil and sent the canine nuisances to an everlasting repose. It is indeed excruciating after tossing about in bed in a half cooked condition on a hot July night for hours, and, after getting asleep through sheer exhaustion, to have some brute of a dog come under one's window and raise row enough to waken the dead, and only bark the louder when the persuasive eloquence of a boot-jack, hair brush, soap dish or other missle urges his departure, and the same hours of tossing wakefulness have to be suffered again. Nervous persons are terribly annoyed by dogs howling at night; and it is no wonder that such an one, whose rest is broken night after night, and who rises morning after morning unrefreshed, should become desperate and purchase poison to end his misery, and, by a happy thought, make the ululating cur that has ruined his rest, the object of a vicarious felo de se. It is no wonder; it is simply a dog-gone conclusion. Seriously, those having valuable dogs, by shutting them up nights, may dismiss all fears of having to take up the wail,

"Empty is the dog-house; Towser's pisened."

A Little Lech-ture on Furs.

With the thermometer prancing about ninety in the shade, the subject of furs is a hot one, yet the present is a most brisk and busy season with Mr. Wm. Lech, the veteran furrier, George Street. He has a large staff of hands employed in the manufacture of furs for the coming season. In manufacturing, the furs are sewed together by a very ingenious machine. The greatest attention is paid to strength, the seam of all jackets being strengthened by a broad band of stout rubber cloth, pressed on by heat. The excellence of Mr. Lech's work is shown by the fact that former customers always come back to him, even from great distances. We saw letters from parties in the North-West with orders for fur goods, stating that the reason for sending to Mr. Lech was the excellent satisfaction derived from the goods purchased from him. He has now a very large stock of furs and fur goods on hand, one box we noticed only three feet square, containing over $2,000. Now is the time for leaving orders for repairing, it can receive better attention than when the busy selling season sets in. Mr. Lech has had a business experience here of 22 years, guarantees all his goods and sells at prices that cannot be approached for similar qualities of furs. Reliability, first-class material and strong and durable work are the chief characteristics of Mr. Lech's establishment. Keep him in mind when preparing against the howling winds of the coming winter.

OVER THE FALLS.

Captain Webb's Foolhardy Feats.

Webb proposes to go over the Falls on July 21st. The captain says he intends to make the attempt in a rubber ball four feet and one-half in diameter and one-fourth of an inch thick. He proposes to enter this ball, after which it will be closed up air-tight. Air will then be forced into the ball until it will bear any outside pressure to which it might be submitted. The ball will be carried into the river and allowed to float over the Falls. He is confident that the scheme will be successfully accomplished. Whether it is or not $10,000 and a percentage of the admission to the bridge, parks, etc. will be paid to Captain Webb or his heirs. A point has been selected in the river where a ball, when cast off, follows the current over the centre of the great Horse Shoe Falls. Here the river is free from rocks, and the water at the crest of the falls is about twenty feet deep. To determine whether or not life would exist in a ball while the passage is being made a dog was enclosed and sent over the Falls, and came out alive. In response to a question Captain Webb said he expected to be shaken up, but had been shaken up many times before and guessed he could stand it. At least he would be ready for dinner when the passage had been made.

No unseasonable goods to clear at Turnbull's. (Reason why.) Our customers know we always sell cheap, and have come and bought in season.

THE LIVE GRAND TRUNK.

Out-Vanderbilting Vanderbilt.

An alliance has been made between the Grand Trunk, Wabash and Baltimore and Ohio. The contract, to be for twenty years, gives the Grand Trunk a line to Chicago shorter than the Michigan Central. The route will be Grand Trunk to Detroit, Wabash from Detroit to Auburn Junction, Indiana and Baltimore and Ohio from Auburn Junction to Chicago. Of Joseph Hickson, the General Manager, it may be vulgarly said that it is a cold day when he gets left.

GOOD FOR MAN AND BEAST.

Mr. Wm. G. Waterson, Mattawa, Ont., writes: "Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment cured my horse which was injured while plowing. In trying to step over a stump it cut its hind leg. He only was laid up part of a day, and it left no blemish." Mr. Waterson says he would not be without it for ten times its price. This is only one of many cases which might be recited.

A MURDERESS AT FOURTEEN.

Mrs. Minnie Brown, and Mrs. Crawford, of Tallahasse, Flordia, with their children went fishing. While at the river Mrs. Crawford's daughter, age fourteen, beat Mrs. Brown's child, then held its head under the water until it was rowned.

I am a man sixty years of age; hair and moustache as white as snow. I can give you any number of references, as I am well known in this State. I have been diseased all my life with pain in my stomach. This fall I was taken sick and could get no relief from the best doctors, with all their skill, our city could afford, but grew worse until I went to using your ZOPESA. It brought me out all right by using one bottle, and I am better now and my system is more regular than for years. J. C. BROWN.

PETERBOROUGH, July 19th, 1883.

Very little doing in grain. The few loads of wheat offering sell as follows: Spring, 95c. to 98c.; fall, about the same price; goose wheat, 90c. to 92c. Nothing doing in barley or peas. The few oats offering bring 45c. to 46c. Wheat looks better in Chicago and England. On the market very little doing. Butter in rolls brings 16c. to 18c., with 20c. asked; in some cases lots brings 14c. to 15c. Eggs not so plentiful—have been selling at 14c. to 15c.; in lots 13c. Other commodities unchanged.

BATTLE OF THE BOYNE.

One Hundred and Ninety-Third Anniversary.

The 193rd anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne was celebrated at Port Hope on Thursday last with great enthusiasm, and with perfect decorum and success. In the morning the Lakefield and Nassau lodges, arrived in town, headed by the Fire Brigade Band, which had gone to Lakefield to play them to town. A procession was formed and proceeded by way of George street to the Midland station, where a special train left at 9.30, loaded down with the Orange brethern and other passengers.

Arriving at Port Hope it was found that the usual elaborate preparations had been made by the local lodges for the honoring of the glorious twelfth, with more of the usual eclat. The hearts of the loyal fluttered with the prospects before them. Early in the day crowds began to pour into the town until the streets were thronged. Port Hope district lodges, with the addition of the contingents from Hope, Cobourg, Caven, Emily, Peterboro' and Lindsay soon swelled into an immense concourse. The brass bands from Peterboro', Cobourg and Port Hope were in attendance. As the lodges arrived with their picturesque regalia and concomitant fife and drum bands, they assembled in the market square, where the marshals on horses arranged them for the grand procession. Just after twelve o'clock the word of command was given by District Master Jas. Evans, and the procession, headed by District Secretary James Gallagher, led off in the following order :—District of Lindsay, Peterboro' Emily, Caven, Cobourg, Hope and Port Hope, and marched from the market square through the principal streets and back to the town hall, where three rousing cheers were given for the Queen and an adjournment made for dinner. The procession was one of the largest and most orderly and withal the most attractive ever seen in Port Hope. Not a few who were familiar with the times of twenty and more years ago were contrasting the character of Orange celebrations then and now, with the contrast so much in favor of to-day that comparison is out of the question. Two miles is a modest estimate of the length of the procession. As it passed the cor. of Walton and Mill streets the stands of colors were counted, and exactly three-quarters of an hour was required to pass a given point. Fifty lodges were represented, and it is estimated that 5,000 people came to town to witness the celebration. At three o'clock the procession re-formed at the market square and marched to the town park, were speaking for two hours was the order. The speakers of the occasion were Col. Williams, M. P., Mayor Hugel, of Port Hope; Rev. Mr. Learoyd, Port Hope; Mayor Smith, of Cobourg; Rev. Mr. Pattison, and Jas. Evans. Their addresses were all brief and received well. Durham, Victoria and Peterborough counties are notable Orange districts, and they turned out worthy of themselves. The day was most successfully celebrated in every respect.

DARING ROBBERY.

The Victim Chloroformed.

Money and Other Valuables Stolen.

A daring robbery was committed in Belleville on Friday night below the Queen's Hotel at Mrs. Ormand Taylor's house, when $135.75 was stolen besides other valuables. The thieves also visited Sam. Maybee's grocery and abstracted from his trunk the sum of $3 in silver. The particulars of the robberies were told to the Ontario as follows: Maybee left his back door open when he retired for the night, and in the trunk under the counter in the shop was $3 in silver. This morning he found the trunk in the yard broken open and the money missing. The moonlight mechanics afterwards visited Mrs. Ormond Taylor's grocery one door north of Maybee's, where they had better luck apparently. She heard a voice about 1 o'clock in the morning, but after going to the back door was unable to discover anything about the place. On returning to her bed she did not lock the door, but placed a chair against it, so as to allow a draft. It was after this that the robbery was committed here. The burglar put a plank up to the door with the chair against—which entered into the chamber over the woodshed—and gained access to the dwelling in this way. Mrs. Taylor and her son were given a pretty liberal dose of chloroform, after which the bold visitors consummated their plans. They passed through her bed-room, down into the front shop where they forced open her trunk, and stole a small cash box with $135.75, besides two gold rings, eight yards of silk and twelve yards of lace. The thieves made good their escape through the back door, which was found open.

HARMONIA.

Mrs. Smith and Miss Cardick were drowned last Thursday while crossing the Moira river at this place on a piece of timber, which had been laid across the stream for a temporary foot bridge. One of them became dizzy on crossing the swift current, and caught the other by the hand and both fell into the stream, and were drowned.

STIRLING.

A very heavy thunder storm passed over here Thursday night about 7:30, during which the lightning struck a barn belonging to Dr. Boulter, setting it on fire, which was extinguished before doing much damage. A horse valued at $150, belonging to the doctor, standing in the stall, was killed instantly.

TRENTON.

A very disgraceful report comes from Trenton. A farmer who resides a short distance east of the town and who is over 50 years of age, is accused of outraging a child four years old. The offence was committed on Wednesday, and when it was discovered by the mother of the little one, the accused settled the matter by the payment of $30. The affair leaked out, however, and the people are urging that criminal proceedings be instituted.

COBOURG.

Several parties were fined $3 each by the P. M. the past week for allowing their cows to run at large.

A young man was up before the P. M. yesterday for fast driving and cruelty to a horse on King street Sunday afternoon. He was fined $20 and costs. This should prove a warning to others.

There are nearly three hundred Americans summering in Cobourg this season. This place is fast becoming popular as a summer resort. The hotels and private boarding houses are all filled to overflowing.

The heavy rains of Friday night and Saturday did a large amount of damage in this vicinity. Dams, bridges and fences were swept away, and in a great number of instances the crops were washed out of the ground. The loss will amount to thousands of dollars.

PORT HOPE.

Wm. Cochrane and J. Devaney, two residents of Port Hope, known also to many in Peterborough, were killed on the Credit Valley railway by the engine, on which they (Cochrane, driver, Devaney, fireman,) were, capsizing on account of a wash-out. Both men were literally roasted alive by the escaping steam.

The Dominion Day celebration committee report a surplus of $165 after the payment of all expenses.

Hotel business in Port Hope is booming this month. The receipts at one local bar on Dominion Day amounted to $270.

Mr. Little, a resident on Protestant Hill, aged 99 years, was enjoying Wednesday in a garden hoeing potatoes. The town assessors had the pleasure of interviewing the almost centenarian, and were astonished at the mental vigor and apparent good health of one having attained so many years.

MILLBROOK.

It will cost six or seven hundred dollars to repair Needler's dam at Millbrook after the shaking given it by the overflow on Saturday last.

Mr. R. Howell, of Millbrook, suffered damage to the amount of about $500 by the flooding of his cellar last Saturday.

During the thunder storm on Tuesday evening, the 3rd instant, says the Messenger, Mr. and Mrs. Lancashire, of Millbrook, who were on there way home from South Monaghan, took shelter from the storm in the residence of Robert Waddell, Esq., South Monaghan. Mr. Lancashire's horse was tied to the corner of the fence. The were not long in the house when there was a fearfully vivid flash of lightning and a dreadful crash. Immediately after Mr. Lancashire looked out and observed that his buggy was thrown clean over the horse, the shafts stuck into the ground and broken, and one wheel thrown some distance from the buggy, while the horse was standing trembling but unhurt. With difficulty the horse was released from the wreck. At the same time about eight telegraph poles, in the immediate vicinity, were shattered to splinters, and at the same time, Mr. Waddell, who was in the act of catching his horse, had just put a small tin of oats down, and was taking hold of the horse, when a ball of fire struck between him and the horse. The horse was instantly thrown on its side with the shock, but, not being injured, got up and trotted off.

BOBCAYGEON.

The several boats on these waters have been thoroughly inspected, both by the Inspector of Hulls and the Inspecting Engineer.

The Rev. Mr. Steele has entered upon the duties of his charge as Methodist minister of the parish, and preached his introductory sermon last Sunday.

A general change round has been made with the boats. The "Beaubocage" takes the route between here and Lindsay, running a double trip. The "Eva" is on the lower lake to Bridgenorth, making one trip a day.

It becomes our sad duty, says the Independent, to record the death of one whose name for many years has been intimately associated with that of Bobcaygeon. On Tuesday afternoon the genial, whole-souled Joseph Goulais peacefully passed away, surrounded by those he loved. His illness was of short duration, commencing with an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed with derangement of the heart. His age was 47, comparatively young. The funeral took place on Wednesday evening, and was largely attended by friends from Peterborough and Lindsay, together with those from the immediate neighborhood. His faults were few, his virtues many.

During one of the recent storms, the Independent relates, it was proved that lightning rods really do occasionally perform what they are supposed to do. It was in the morning, just before 6 o'clock, and Mr. Wm. Gidley, the superintendent of the Little Bob saw mill, was engaged with a few hands in starting the machinery. Suddenly the men were startled by Mr. Gidley giving a regular Choctaw Indian war whoop. It appears that in the course of some repairs to the mill, a lightning rod had been misplaced and did not reach the ground. A terrific flash of lightning shot over the immediate vicinity, and some of the electric fluid being attracted by the rod, passed across towards the saws, and struck Mr. Gidley in the arm as if some one had hit him with a hand-spike. The arm was numb for most of the day.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. What it did for an Old Lady.

COSHOCTON STATION, N.Y., Dec. 28, 1878.
GENTS—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over seventy years, had been sick for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, I sent to Deposit, forty-five miles away, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbor's, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children also have derived great benefit from their use.

In contemplating the foolhardy feat that Captain Webb proposes to undertake it becomes a question whether his taking his life in his hands for a wager or the morbid curiosity of those who will be attracted by the risk that he runs of losing his life is more to be wondered at. He proposes on the 21st instant to have himself enclosed in an India rubber ball four feet and half in diameter, and float over the great Horseshoe fall at Niagara. The sum of $10,000 and a per centage of the gate money is to be paid to Captain Webb—or his heirs.

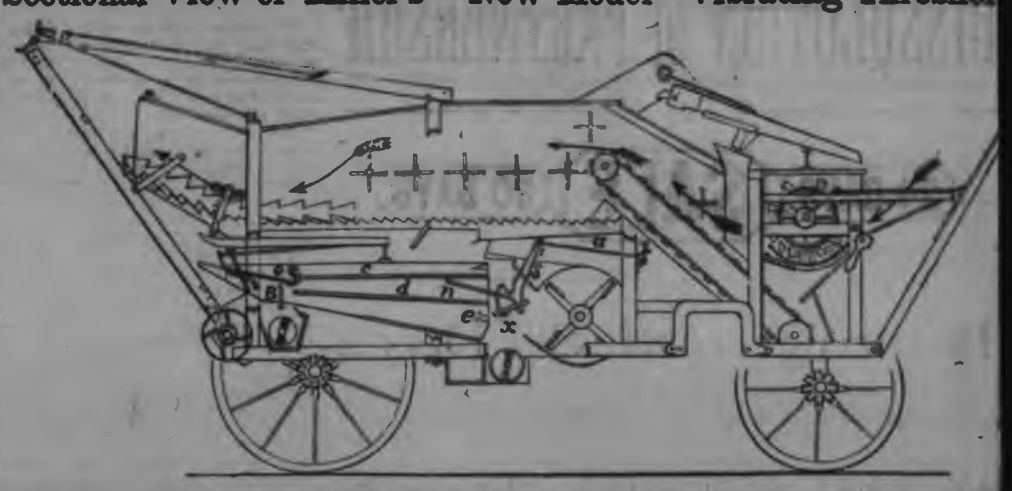
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.
F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.
DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.
Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.
To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:
SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.
Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.
To the Editor of the Canadian Post:
SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing myself for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model" is the best one I have ever seen or used.
Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.
Mr. F. W. Glen:
DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. 'The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had thresh for them.
Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

AUCTION SALE
OF VALUABLE
FARM PROPERTY.

I have received instructions to offer for sale by Public Auction at the CAISSE HOUSE, in the Town of Peterborough, on

SATURDAY,
The 14th Day of July, A.D., 1883,

At the hour of TWO P.M., the following very Valuable Farm Property, that is to say:

The West Halves of Lots Numbers Twenty-two and Twenty-three, in the First Concession of the TOWNSHIP OF OTONABEE, in the County of Peterborough.

The Property will be offered in two Parcels.

PARCEL 1.—Contains about 104 acres and is composed of 12 4-10 acres of the west-half of said Lot No. 23, situated at the south-east corner of said Lot, and also all the west-half of said Lot, No. 22, save and except about 8 acres out of the north-west corner of said Lot.

Upon Parcel No. 1 there is a good Stone House, 26 x 36, with Kitchen, Workshop and Woodshed adjoining. Frame Barn, 40 x 60, with Stable adjoining. There is a good orchard upon this parcel and it is well watered.

MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Giving You a Bargain

IN ALL THE DEPARTMENTS.

OUR NOTICE OF FACTS

July the first has passed. Summer Stock "must go." To make it travel we'll give inducements—good offers—BARGAINS, if you like to call it that name. What is a Bargain? Does a low price constitute a Bargain? Yes and No.

Practical Buyers who "can't afford to buy Cheap Goods," will tell you that, AS A RULE, the cheapest goods in Price are about equal in final cost to extravagantly priced goods. Extremes meet.

Everyone wants a Bargain of some sort. That we'll give. Give it in either Dress Goods, Clothing, House Furnishings, or an Ordered Suit.

A dealer should be able to give you a reason for his bargain offer, and one too that won't insult your common sense in accepting it. We can offer you a Bargain to our mutual profit. We bought early—we bought largely—we bought cheaply. We've sold well. We can afford to sell the remainder in all lines—sell them cheaply, and make our own.

Changing Styles make Bargains. Our Styles always change. We're progressive, practical, and grip the ideas of the public. Our new goods show this.

"Will You be One"

To secure Bargains. Come to our counters and work out the problem of making One Dollar go as far with you as it—seven times out of eleven—does elsewhere.

CLARINDA.

In the mansion near the chapel
Sweet Clarinda's laugh did ring,
Birds would pause and light and listen
As entrancing she would sing
With her eyes of azure beauty
And her soft and golden hair,
Belle of all the village maidens
Reigned elate, Clarinda fair.

Courted by her many lovers
Gaily passed her time away,
Caring naught for manly feelings
Life to her was sport and play.
One sad mortal loved her fondly,
Love he dare not to her tell,
Poverty forbade; disheartened,
Every cherished hope did swell.

Last he wrote a touching letter,
All for one bright hope did plead,
Asking for one word of pity
And to his epistle heed.
Thus he wrote, "with flowers you'll answer,
Do not treat my feelings light,
If there's hope wear yellow roses,
If you scorn me, then wear white."

Sunday morning saw him standing
Near the ancient chapel gate,
Fancy playing silent havoc
With his mind as to his fate.
Soon she passed in all her beauty
With a smile of calm delight,
On her breast was pinned the roses,
And their spotless hue was—white.

HOW PETER McINTYRE WAS MURDERED.

CONFESSION OF A MURDERER.

Our readers will doubtless recollect seeing in the EXAMINER an account of the murder of Peter McIntyre (a former resident of Otonabee) in Lexington Hills, California, on the 11th last March. Nothing further had transpired at that time but the horrible fact. But recently, one of the murderers, so we learn from the San Jose Times, not being able to bear the burden of the terrible secret, made a full confession, showing a fiendish deliberation and cruelty which is seldom paralleled:—

On approaching the house of Renowden, the fiend confesses, on the fatal 11th of March, the plan was for Showers to attend to McIntyre while Jewell would look after Renowden (with whom McIntyre lived). The old man went out of doors to show Jewell the road and on refusing to obey the command to throw up his hands was shot in the cheek. The wound, though painful, was neither severe nor dangerous, and Renowden, who appears to have been as brave as a lion, sprang on Jewell and bore him to the earth. They struggled a moment, and then the old man got a grip on Jewell's throat, and would have finished him then and there had not Showers come out of the house, where he had killed McIntyre, and struck him a heavy blow over the head with the gun. This is how the gun was broken. The blow knocked the old man down, and he lay unsconcious for some time. When he had recovered his senses he was asked to tell where he had hidden his money. The reply was that he had no money hidden about the place. Threats of the direst nature failed to move him. Then it was that a horrible plan of torture was devised. A piece of cloth was procured and saturated with turpentine. The cloth thus prepared was then tied about the abdominal regions and set on fire. Thus tortured and suffering the most excruciating pain, the old man still persisted in the declartion that he had no money. For an hour Jewel and Showers remained with him. At last, when he was faint and exhausted, dying, perhaps, from loss of blood and from the physical agony he had undergone, they fired two bullets into his breast and put an end to his misery. Showers fired one and Jewell the other, and, as the post mortem showed, the wounds were not an inch apart. It is scarcely to be wondered at that after the recital of such a horrible tale Jewell should refuse to go on the stand and tell the whole truth.

NEW UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

AT MATHER'S CORNERS.

W. T. MATHER,

Respectfully informs the public that in addition to his extensive carriage business, and to meet a long felt want in Otonabee, he has decided on carrying on the Undertaking business, and has purchased a first-class Hearse, and is now prepared to carry on the Undertaking business in all its branches. For the convenience of those who may favour him with their orders, he will keep constantly on hand, a full stock of COFFINS, CASKETS, SHROUDS, GLOVES, CRAPE, and all the necessary requisities for furnishing funerals in the best manner.

Funerals Attended to Promptly at Reasonable Rates, and every endeavour made to give satisfaction. 21-13t.

In the House of Commons Friday night Mr. Childers, in reply to Sir Stafford Northcote, said that the proposition to aid the Suez Canal Company by a loan to build a second canal would be submitted to the House, and the statement of Sir Stafford Northcote that he would ask the sense of the member on the loan was received with cheers.

THE MOST frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain the back, it hurries the sufferer to a premature grave. DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal results. Take it in time. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

Of dollars have been spent in advertising the celebrated Burdock Blood Bitters, but this fact accounts only in part for its enormous sale. Its merit has made it what it is—the best blood medicine ever devised by man. 28-2t

Invalids who take with disappointment so many of the new remedy sensations advestised, and lose faith in medicine should reflect that most of the pretentious panaceas are products of minds entirely ignorant of medical science, and designed commonly to trade on the reputation of standard preparations and impose on the credulity and receptivity of the gobe-mouches. A therapeutical agent, to stand the test of universal experience and secure the confidence of physician and patient, must formulate the crystalized experience of many years' medical practice, as in Wheeler's Phosphates and Calisaya—a tonic restorative now everywhere prescribed in all forms of debility.

That Husband of Mine

Is three times the man he was before he began using "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

Headache.

Headache is one of those distressing complaints that depends upon nervous irritation, bad circulation, or a disordered state of the stomach, liver, bowels, etc. The editor and proprietor of the Canada Presbyterian was cured after years of suffering with headache, and now testifies to the virtue of Burdock Blood Bitters. 28-2t

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery; resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

A Moral Power.

Stove-pipes are supposed to move the deepest and most profound desire to swear that it is possible for man to experience. Be that as it may, we venture the opinion that corns produce as many startling exclamations, and the introduction of PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR should be hailed as a moral influence in the world, independent of its power as a reliever of physical suffering. Sold everywhere. Take only Putnam's Extractor. N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, proprietors.

These are Solid Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or whoever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

A Nile-istic Relic.

There has been displayed in the show window of China Hall, a pitcher, "struck," to use the language of medals, in honor of the hero of the Nile and Trafalgar. It is a pitcher of the celebrated Doulton ware, and represents Lord Nelson's bust, his breast covered with medals, of which the finest details are brought out with wonderful clearness. His pig-tail forms the handle of the pitcher which is a rare curiosity, and is the property of Mr. W. S. Cocks.

"The Missionary Problem."

This is a very interesting and compact little work which has been kindly forwarded to us by the compiler, who is also the managing editor of the Presbyterian Record. It gives a sketch of the progress of missions throughout the world in a series of eight chapters, and has besides some interesting statistical tables respecting the great missionary societies. A missionary map of the world accompanies the volume, which is also clearly printed and on good paper. It will be found useful to the clergy and others interested in the spread of the gospel. We should add that the work is undenominational and cosmopolitan.

Action Needed.

The drive to the cemetery along the southern shore of Little Lake is rapidly being washed away by the action of spring frosts and the water, and yet our Town Fathers have shown no signs of taking action to preserve it from total annihilation. By cribbing the shore line, or by a less expensive way—by planting hedges of pollard willow, the washing away might be prevented, and the latter mode would in a few years add a beauty to the drive, which, in its bare and neglected present condition is entirely lacking. It is probable that action will be taken when it is too late, and when thousands of dollars will have to be spent in the expropriation of private property to provide an approach to the cemetery in lieu of the one that is being allowed to be wasted away. A sidewalk for use in dirty weather is an improvement that would not be out of keeping with the requirements of a civilized country.

Uxbridge Excursionists.

Will visit Peterborough on Friday, July 27th. The couldn't come to a finer town. It is probable that a lacrosse match will be one of the attractions of that day.

Obituary.

Rev. Father Sweeney, curate to Rev. Father McCarthy, of Brockville, died at the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, the other day. He began his studies for the priesthood in Peterborough, and was ordained at Trenton last year.

Sons of England Benevolent Society.

As there are now more than enough names on the list to organize the above society, the final meeting before orginizing, will be held at Dr. Sproule's, on Monday evening next, 23rd inst. Englishmen wishing to join are invited to attend this meeting and enrol their names at once.

Uniform Freight Rates.

At a meeting of general freight agents held in Montreal, Mr. A. White, traffic manager of the Midland, was appointed a member of the committee appointed to divide the freight into nine classes. The committee meets in Belleville on Tuesday next, 24th inst.

Telephone Intelligence.

The Midland District telephone system is progressing finely. The line is completed to Mount Pleasant, and will be pushed on to Lindsay in a fortnight. The Peterborough branch will then be built, and in a month or six weeks we can hold telephonic conversation with Lindsay, Port Hope and other places in the district.

To the Northwest.

A trip to the Northwest by way of the Northwest Transportation Company's steamers is, in the heated term, one of the coolest and most delightful routes on the continent. The trip through Lake Superior is cool and bracing in the hottest weather. The cost of the trip by this line is far cheaper than any other route. Be sure to read carefully the advertisement in another column.

Building Lots.

Mr. T. Donnelly, of Belleville, has decided to dispose of all his Peterborough property, and will offer for sale by auction at the Caisse House, at 2 o'clock on Saturday, July 28th, thirty building lots on Westcott street, at the foot of George street. The lots are convenient to the market, and close to the station of the Ontario and Quebec Railway. The upset price has been made very low, and the terms of payment are easy. Large posters contain a plan of the lots. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

The Crops.

In spite of the gloomy forebodings suggested by the gloomy weather of this season the promise of the coming harvest is good. Taking all classes of crops all round, the yield promises to be encouragingly near an average. Hay is an immense crop, though the quality may be affected by the unfavorable weather for curing. Spring crops will be injured by wet on low lands, but on higher grounds the crop will be good. Fall wheat is slightly threatened with rust, but it is too far advanced to receive much injury from this cause. Altogether there is hope of a good harvest. We are advised of the correctness of the above statements by parties of large experience who have paid particular attention to the matter.

The Chance of a Lifetime.

It is seldom that so grand a chance to purchase a magnificent residence property is presented as the sale of Mr. William Cluxton's residence, advertised in our columns, affords. The property is finely situated at the head of Simcoe street, and has streets on all four sides of it. The grand perspective of Simcoe street and the country beyond opens from the grounds. The latter are well ornamented —the north side with well-grown shrubbery and a fine lawn, divided from the vegetable garden, with its warm southern aspect and kindly soil, by a beautiful cedar hedge. No finer residence or site can be found in town. Read the advertisement carefully.

Royal Oak.

Work on the excavation of a hole in which to plant the Royal Oak—hotel,—Hunter street, has been well begun, and the stone for the foundation walls laid down. One would think, the contractor for the construction of Mr. Wilson's hotel, being a member of the Town Council, it would be unnecessary to call the attention of the authorities to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk opposite the site of the proposed building. There is no protection whatever on the edge of the sidewalk to prevent the unwary pedestrian from tumbling down six or eight feet on a heap of stones, or into the raging waters of the brook that rushes southward at this point. Some tipsy traveller, or, in fact, the most sober of passengers, is liable to tumble down and either break his bones or be drowned.

Stony Lake Canoe Meet.

The meeting opens August 10th and continues till the 24th. Commodore Edwards is flooded with letters on the subject. One received this morning from Dr. C. A. Neide, Secretary of the Association, promises fifty canoeists from the Eastern States, and it is certain that from 250 to 300 canoeists will be present in August at Stony Lake—the largest of any of the annual gatherings. The first year only 25 attended; the second, 60; and last year, at Lake George, 120; and this, the fourth meet, at Stony Lake, will score 300. Dr. Neide, in his letter, advises local builders to have a good stock of finished canoes on hand at the camp. He speaks very highly of one of English's canoes, in which he has just completed a long cruise. Many parties have already started on a cruise, to finish up with Stony Lake. The meet promises to be the biggest success of the series. Canoeists consulting the railway list in the pamphlet of the Reception Committee, will please substitute the Utica and Black River R. R. for the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg, which appears in the list by mistake.

Royal Readers.

Campbell & Son's special Canadian edition of the Royal Reader, having received the sanction of Hon. Mr. Hardy, Acting Minister of Education, is now ready for sale to the public.

Giving the Band a Ear.

The Port Hope Guide speaks as follows of our Band, which visited Port Hope on the 12th July:—"Peterborough County sent five lodges and the Peterborough and Lakefield True Blues, headed by the Fire Brigade Band, who discoursed excellent music, to the great gratification of the outsiders."

Pretty Hard on Port Hope.

The other day the conductor on a Grand Trunk train in his punching tour came to an intoxicated passenger who was lacking the necessary pasteboard passenger passport. The bibulous traveller said he had neither money nor ticket. "Where are you going?" asked the knight of the nickel-plated nippers. With profane promptitude the awful example answered, "I'm going to h—l." "Then," said the conductor coolly, "I'll put you off at Port Hope."

Charlotte Street Church.

There seems to be no end to the finishing details to add to the beauty of Charlotte-street Church. On Tuesday Mr. D. Bellegheem's workmen were engaged in laying the carpets underneath the seats and the matting in the aisles. The carpet is a fine quality of tapestry—a small figured pattern in maroon and black. It presents a warm, rich looking effect. It requires over 500 yards to cover the space beneath the seats. On Friday evening last the sittings were disposed of to the number of about and at a very good advantage, some of the seats having brought as high as $50—of course by way of bonus.

Arcadian Ashburnham.

The village of Ashburnham is a live and stirring little suburb of Peterborough —in some respects worthy of the parent town; in others it retains habits of arcadian simplicity and serenity. The familiar cow roams, unmolested, its peaceful streets, and the other day a municipal election "rolled unheededly away." An election was held at the Town Hall, to elect a successor to the late Mr. George C. Rogers in the Village Council. Col. James Z. Rogers was the successor elected—and by acclamation, there having been not another elector present, besides the gentleman that nominated him, Mr. Sargeant, and the village clerk, who seconded the nomination. Honors were easy, and duties will be easy if an exciting event like a municipal election cannot stir the pulse of the lymphatic villagers.

Lacrosse Match.

Our local Lacrosse Club is ever alive to the importance of giving the public, who have so liberally patronized them, a chance of seeing first class play. On Thursday afternoon a match will be played on the Ashburnham grounds between the Maitlands, of Toronto, and the local club. This will be a keenly contested game as the two teams will be two of the best in the province. The following will be the composition of the home team subject to unavoidable changes:—

J. O'Donoghue	Goal
M. Tierney	Point
G. Giroux	C. Point
W. A. Sanderson	Def. Field
M. McDonald	Field
J. Sheehey	Centre Field
A. Yelland	Field
W. Welsh	do
P. H. Fortye	Home Field
C. Rutherford	Home
W. Rudkins	2nd do
M. Halpin	1st do
P. Welsh, J. Howden	Spare Men

Fire Brigade in attendance. Ball faced at 3 o'clock. Be sure and see this match. Good seats for 1,000 spectators.

Borough Brevities.

Cats, as well as curs, are the victims of the poisoning mania.

The Bell Telephone Company will renew their poles in town.

Remember the promenade concert and display of fireworks on Friday night.

George street merchants complain of the way the street watering is—not done.

The cheese sold at the fortnightly fair last Wednesday was shipped on Monday.

Watches, Clocks, Jewellry, etc., carefully repaired and warranted at Hughan's. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

A rattling lacrosse match on the Ashburnham grounds on Thursday afternoon. Ball faced at 3 o'clock. Comfortable seats for 1,000 spectators.

The social in St. Andrew's school room on Tuesday night was a very pleasant success. Mr. Miller gave some interesting experiments in mind reading. Receipts large.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

GRIST MILLS,

NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

TOWN COUNCIL.

ANOTHER MIDNIGHT MEETING.

Oceans of Talk—Water Works Test—Report of the Engineer, Mr. Law—The Auditor's Report Again—Disgraceful Squabbles—The George Street Water Petition—No Action Taken.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, July 23rd, 1883. Present, Acting Mayor Menzies in the chair, Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, Kelly, Paterson, Sawers, Douglass, Denne, Rutherford and Hartley.

After routine

COMMUNICATIONS.

were received from Wm. Hamilton, stating that he had, at the request of the Council, attended at the pump house at the time of the test of the water works on Wednesday last. The pressure was at first 80 pounds, and at the last test from 95 to 100 lbs. The machinery worked with perfect ease, and was well and substantially got up.—Received.

From Thos. Fuller, of the Public Works Department, respecting his visit to make selection of a site for the proposed new post office.

On motion of Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, the Mayor, Mr. James Stevenson, Chairman of the Town Commissioners Board, and the members of the Government were appointed a committee to receive Mr. Fuller and show him the town and various sites for the new post office.

From C. Blackett Robinson, enclosing prospectus of the history of the County of Peterborough.—Finance Committee to report.

From W. H. Law, C.E., reporting respecting the result of the water work's test. This report will be found in another column.

PETITIONS.

From J. Ames respecting street improvements on Edinburgh street.—Street Committee to report.

From J. H. Roper and others, asking for street improvements on Gilmour street.—Street and Bridge Committee to report.

From Jas. Edwards, asking for maps of the cemetery in custody of the Town Clerk.—Granted.

From W. H. Stock and others, residents of Stewart and Sherbrooke streets, asking gas lamp at intersection of the two streets.—Fire, Water and Gas Committee to report.

On Mr. Law's communication coming up, Mr. McNaughton enquired who appointed Mr. Law to act on behalf of the town.

Mr. Rutherford said that he had waited on the majority of the Fire, Water and Gas Committees, and Mr. Law had been appointed, and he (Mr. Rutherford) highly complimented Mr. Law on the full and complete nature of his report.

Mr. Sawers said he had no objection to Mr. Law—he was the best selection that could be made, but he objected to Mr. Rutherford appointing Mr. Law and not the committee.—Report received.

An account of T. Laplant, $12.75 was paid.

FINANCE.

Mr. Paterson, Chairman, presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of the following accounts:—

Toker & Co.	$24 75
Adam Hall	7 12
B. Morrow	13 00

The committee had examined the the auditor's report for 1882, and recommended the allowance of the accounts of the Treasurer and Collector as therein contained.

That the suggestion of the auditors, that all pay lists be certified to by the Chairman of the Finance Committee, as having been examined by the said committee, and that the accounts between the town and the Commissioners of the Town Trust be adjusted.

The Committee had examined the street and bridge pay lists, and recommend in future they contain only the amounts payable to men working by the day, and that all other matters be first submitted to and ordered by the Council.

On motion to adopt the report,

Mr. Sawers moved an amendment, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the report be not adopted, but that the Council do audit the accounts on Thursday next, according to the municipal act, and that the enquiry be made as to the standing of the sureties of the different town officials.

Mr. Sawers said the accounts had not been finally audited according to law by the Council.

Mr. Denne asked now long it took the auditors to do the work, and the Clerk replied that it took them six weeks. (Laughter.)

Mr. Paterson said that if he had to spend six weeks in re-auditing the accounts he would resign first, and other members spoke in a similar strain.

Mr. Cahill said that no member of the Council objected to the full audit of the accounts. Respecting the charge made against the Street Committee by Mr. Sawers, that they did not wish to see the accounts audited, he said he was willing and even anxious to have them audited, and he moved that the Clerk be instructed to have 1,000 copies of the auditors' report printed with all dispatch, and that the Clerk be instructed to have 900 copies distributed to the ratepayers.

Mr. Denne moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that Messrs. Sawers and McNaughton be a committee to audit the auditor's report according to law, and report to the Council.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the names of Messrs. Sawers, Paterson, Davidson, McNaughton and Cahill be substituted for the word "Council," in Mr. Sawers' resolution.

All the other motions were disposed of by the adoption of Mr. Denne's motion to make Messrs. Sawers and McNaughton a committee to audit the Auditors' Report. The report was adopted.

Mr. Sawers characterised the motion as a buncombe one, and an insult, and on attempting to speak further, Mr. Rutherford called him sharply to order, and both continuing to gesticulate and shout recriminations angrily, the Mayor was for a time unable to enforce his order to both fire-eaters to desist and sit down. For a few moments the greatest confusion prevailed. (If these two gentlemen, whose altercations are more numerous than edifying, would enact in their official positions the legend of the Kilkenny cats, the peace and business interests of the Council would be promoted.)

STREET AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Cahill, chairman, presented the report of the Street and Bridge Committee, recounting in reference to the extension of George street south, that the chairman had interviewed the owners of property there, to ascertain if they would be willing to give the right of way, and as they were not anxious the Committee did not advise the expense of purchasing the right of way, but if parties concerned would give the ordinary width of right of way the town would purchase sufficient to widen it to 66 feet. The report was adopted.

HUNTER STREET DRAIN.

Mr. Cluxton was heard respecting the petition of himself and others for rebuilding Hunter street drain, which was now useless. If he had been able to tap it he would have done so and kept it flushed with the water from his roof. The parties to be benefitted by the drain would pay the interest on the cost of building the required drain.

Referred to the Clerk to prepare a by-law to give effect to the petition.

SHERIDAN STREET TERRACE.

Mr. N. D. Beck was heard in reference to the petition of residents in regard to the closing up of the south end of Sheridan street with a stone wall and building steps of approach on each side. He said the street could not be graded without injuring adjacent property.

The matter was referred back to the Street Committee to report as to cost of solicited improvements.

HYDRANTS FOR FIRE PURPOSES.

Mr. James Stevenson was heard in reference to the petition for hydrants on George street, urging the Council not to refuse water for fire protection to those who were willing to pay for it themselves. If the Council refused, the rates of insurance would be doubled this fall. All that was wanted of the Council was to grant George street ratepayers permission to use the water running past their doors.

Mr. Paterson moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that the petition of G. A. Cox and others, asking for hydrants on George street, from London to Sherbrooke streets, be granted.

Mr. Cluxton addressed the Council as a ratepayer, and said that he and others wanted fire protection, and they were willing to pay for the water themselves. The petition to the Council asking for water for fire protection was from the ratepayers, not from the Water Works Company. He explained that at a recent insurance meeting in Toronto a scale of rates corresponding to classification of towns had been prepared, and Peterborough was fourth down on the list. He wanted water, so that the rating of the town would be advanced from D to B, or A if possible, and insurance rates be reduced.

Mr. Cahill said he felt a grave responsibility in the premises. If he, as a member of the Council, refused George street water for fire protection he would dread to meet the losers should a fire occur on that street.

Mr. Douglass made similar remarks to Mr. Cahill.

The matter of amending the petition was brought up, and after a great deal of lost time and talk the Council adjourned for one week, at 11.45 p.m.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

A number of the members of St. John's Church, Cavan, met at the residence of Miss Mary Eastwood on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of presenting her with a small token of their appreciation of her services as organist during the past nine years, when the following address was read by Mr. Robert Vance, jr., on behalf of the ladies of the congregation:—

Dear Miss Eastwood:

It is with feelings of pleasure that we are gathered here this evening. Your long intercourse with us as organist of St. John's Church, Cavan, has been one that merits the good will of all members of the congregation.

As a token of the high esteem in which we hold you, we ask you to accept this watch, and trust that it will serve to keep green in your memory the many years spent in the choir of St. John's Church.

Hoping you may be spared many years to labor in the service of the Divine Master, we are yours sincerely,

Signed, on behalf of the congregation,
MRS. WILKINSON,
MRS. ROBT. VANCE.

Cavan, July 17th, 1883.

Rev. Mr. Forster replied for Miss Eastwood. Quite a large party was present, and the evening was pleasantly spent in the customary manner.

THE LACROSSE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Shamrocks went through the Torontos on Saturday afternoon in a match for the lacrosse championship almost with as much ease as a circus rider through a paper hoop. The teams were much about the same as played a month ago, when the Torontos made such an unexpectedly brilliant showing. On Saturday, however, they appeared by no means up to the mark, and the champions won in nine, two and a-half and twelve minutes.

TEST OF THE WATERWORKS.

The Ordeal Under the Direction of the Town Council.

A Pretty Extensive Test Strong and Lofty Streams—Regular Supply of Water—Report of Mr. W. H. Law, C.E.—Comparison with Other Tests—The Trial Generally Satisfactory.

The Town Council having decided to have a test preliminary to granting the petition of residents of George street for fifteen hydrants, Mr. W. H. Law, C.E., was chosen by the Fire, Water and Gas Committee to superintend the trial of the waterworks on behalf of the town, while Mr. J. G. Macklin, Chief Engineer of the Midland Railway, looked after the interests of the Company. The test began at 5 o'clock, when the fire alarm summoned the firemen, who brought out the hose reels. The proposed test seemed to attract considerable public attention, for George street was densely especially in the vicinity of the hydrants. To popular observers the streams in their height and steadiness seemed to answer every requirement, but as appearances are often deceptive, and as judgment formed on such a subject without special knowledge is not of great value, we content ourselves with giving the following from the elaborate, exhaustive and able report presented by Mr. Law to the Town Council on Monday night:—

LINED WITH SPECTATORS,

The first test was made from the hydrant at McKee's drug store, on George street, one hose pointing north and one pointing south, each about fifty feet in length. On the north hose was a 1⅛ inch ring nozzle, on the south hose a 1⅛ inch smooth nozzle.

THE TEST BEGAN

at a pressure of 70 lbs. to the square inch and ran up to 80. Vertical and horizontal streams were thrown in various directions, but owing to a strong wind it was impossible to get a vertical stream, although the water was of Mr. Cluxton's building several times from the north hose with 1⅛ inch nozzle. During the time the pressure was at 80 pounds, a stream was thrown from the south hose through a 1⅛ inch nozzle 152 feet horizontally.

THROWN OVER THE TOWER

THE SECOND TEST.

was made from the hydrant opposite the telegraph office, George Street, with two lengths of fifty feet of hose, using the same nozzles as in the previous test, pressure 80 lbs. to the square inch. Streams were thrown in various directions, but the wind continued blowing too strong to enable any correct data for a vertical stream. An horizontal stream was thrown through a 1⅛ smooth nozzle 166 feet.

THE THIRD TEST

was made with two hose attached to McKee's hydrant, one hose to the hydrant near the telegraph office, and one to the hydrant near Mr. Yelland's carriage works, each fifty feet long, pressure at pumps 80 lbs. to square inch. During the whole test the four streams were full, and though the wind was still blowing very strongly the water was thrown a considerable height in the vicinity of the different hydrants. An horizontal stream from the telegraph office hydrant was thrown 174 feet with 1⅛ inch smooth nozzle. Another stream from the hose near Mr. Yelland's was thrown 158 feet horisontally.

THE FOURTH TEST

was made from the telegraph office hydrant with 250 feet of hose, and 1⅛ inch nozzle, and from McKee's hydrant, with 130 feet of hose and 1⅛ inch ring nozzle, under a pressure of 90 lbs. During this test water was thrown about 15 feet above the flag staff on Taylor & McDonald's building, not less that 96 feet. A horizontal measurement showed during the same test from the same nozzle that the water had been thrown a DISTANCE OF 157 FEET,

and at McKee's drug store the horizontal distance was 150 feet.

Mr. Law continues his report by saying that after a careful investigation of the above tests it gives him great pleasure to report that the

RESULTS ARE FULLY EQUAL

to other tests made at first-class water works. This he shows by elaborate comparisons with the Springfield water works tests, where so exhaustive a set of experiments was made, that the results of the latter, have come to be a standard comparison, and with them all the test of the works on Wednesday was in all respects equally favorable, and in some cases exceeded the Springfield tests.

Computing from data furnished by the test on Wednesday, Mr. Law finds that under a pressure of 90 pounds, one inch nozzle and 250 feet of hose, a stream could be thrown 56 feet in height at the corner of Antrim and Bethune streets,

HIGHER THAN REQUIRED BY THE "BY-LAW."

During the four streams test with 80 pounds pressure, Mr. Law says that the approximate amount of water ejected from each nozzle would be 260 gallons per minute, or 1,040 gallons per minute from the four nozzles. From this he recommended that in case of fire the Water Works Co. be requested to run the pumps under a pressure of 80 pounds, so that an average of about 250 gallons be discharged from each nozzle. Mr. Law concludes by stating that Mr. Macklin, in the Water Works Company's behalf, rendered every assistance during the test, and showed a willingness to continue the tests to any reasonable point found necessary.

HIS ELABORATE REPORT

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, on behalf of the Town Council, attended at the pump house of the waterworks, and noted the pressure as indicated by the gauge at various stages of the test. He noticed particularly the substantial nature of the machinery, and the steadiness with which the work was done. It appears that the test gave pretty generally satisfactory proof that the waterworks were capable of all that is claimed for them as to reliability. The tone of the report of the town's engineer cannot be misunderstood. The fire departments, also, by the way, are an active feature of the efficiency of the water supply requisite for successfully fighting fire, spoke in complimentary terms of the work done on Wednesday evening, and altogether the test seems to have given general satisfaction.

LACROSSE.

PETERBORO' vs TORONTO.

A "check" as lost for the home team—Success of the Strangers—A lively struggle—Three straight games for the Maitlands.

Last Thursday afternoon there was an immense attendance at the lacrosse grounds, to witness a match between the Maitlands, of Toronto, and a home twelve. Some lively play was expected, and the spectators were not disappointed.

At 3.30 the teams paraded for inspection as below:

PETERBOROUGH.

J. Donohue	Goal.
M. Tierney	Point.
O. Grews	Cover Point.
M. McDonald	Field.
W. A. Sanderson	"
M. Halpin	"
J. Sheehey	Centre Field.
A. Yelland	Field.
R. H. Fortye	"
C. Rutherford	Home.
W. Hedkins	"
J. Reynolds	"

MAITLANDS.

J. Clewes	Goal.
J. Wilson	Point.
D. Small	Cover Point.
J. Wright	Field.
J. J. Walsh	"
W. Norman	"
F. Dickson	Centre Field.
D. U. Nasmith	Field.
J. Thompson	"
D. Fitzgerald	Home.
W. McDonald	"
J. Ryan	"

Mr. D. Rose, secretary of the National Lacrosse Association, acted as referee, and Messrs. Melleville Millar and A. McNeil, as umpires.

The ball was faced by Sheehey and Dixon, and as usual, Sheehey secured it. Presently it travelled toward the home flags, but Tierney averted the danger, and by a clever throw transferred it to the visitor's goal. This game was stubbornly contested, and the home boys had this advantage that the Maitland's goal was in danger no less than seven times, and there were several close shaves for game, Sheehey, Rutherford and Reynolds making some clever shots for goal, which were as neatly parried. At length, Thompson, who showed good play throughout, got the rubber and put it through, thus winning the first game for the foreigners in twelve minutes.

THE SECOND GAME

began briskly, and after continuing for eight minutes with varying success, an accident to Thompson, of the Maitland's, caused a delay. A blow from a crosse across the head put him out of the game, and his place was taken by Hudson. The play was resumed, and the home team had to look out more sharply for their flags than in the first bout. Donohue made an excellent defence, but the visitors evidently were in the best form, and after a stubborn resistance, and fourteen minutes play, the ball was put through the home flags by a brilliant run and shot by Small.

THE THIRD GAME

lasted nine minutes. The team play of the Maitlands, which was excellent, proved too much for the Peterboroughs, who, however, made a hard fight, and gave the visitors tough work to win the third game, which was done by Fitzgerald putting the ball through in a "scrimmage."

The match though decided in three straight games was by no means a tame affair. The Maitlands are one of the best teams in Ontario, and there are very few others that gave them the trouble that Peterborough did last Thursday. This is the first "check" the home team have got for a long time, and it will put them on their mettle so much that the first team that crosses sticks with them will have to put in some big work to get the start of them.

Mr. Rose, the referee, acted in the most thoroughly impartial manner. The game throughout was most pleasantly contested, and the visitors were highly pleased at the reception and treatment given them in Peterborough.

The Fire Brigade Band furnished excellent music during the match.

In the evening the Peterborough boys showed the visitors around the town, and lavished their hospitality upon them in a very liberal manner.

NEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

On Tuesday, Mr. Thos. Fuller, Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, Ottawa, came to town to inspect sites for the new public buildings, for which $15,000 has been appropriated. He was shown about the town by Acting-Mayor Menzies, Jas. Stevenson, Esq., J. E. Belcher, Esq., C.E., as personal friend of Mr. Fuller, and John Garvey, Esq. After driving around the town generally, the following sites were looked over:—

McNeill's corner, north-west corner of Brock and Water streets, J. J. Lundy, proprietor.

South-east corner of Brock and George streets, Kenneally's Hotel, F. Birdsall, Asphodel, proprietor.

North-west corner of Brock and George streets (Langford's), John Burnham, M. P., proprietor.

North-west corner of Water and Hunter streets, C. W. Sawers, proprietor.

South-east corner of Charlotte and George streets, opposite Market, E. Phalen, proprietor.

This concluded the official part of the business, and Mr. Fuller will report to the Department at Ottawa.

Of course no indication was made of the nature of the report, but the knowing ones say that the Market lot will be the site. We are informed that one of the parties concerned forwarded what purported to be a map of the town to Ottawa, which made the town terminate at Brock street; this would show the market about the centre of the town, and that would also explain the "milk in the cocoanut."

Crop Prospects.

The Globe with its usual enterprise and anxiety to furnish its readers with the fullest and most accurate information of importance, on Thursday published its usual annual report of the crop prospects. As our contemporay remarks, the "reports will be read this year with more than usual interest owing to the extraordinary nature of the present season. The almost continuous rain of the past few weeks has excited the gravest apprehensions concerning the crops, for upon them the prosperity of the country ultimately depends." The rain which so many feared would have so disastrous an effect upon the crops, does not seem, from the reports published, to have had a more prejudicial effect than many of the hostile influences that operate upon growing crops every season. If it is not wet it is drouth, if not one thing it is another, and the seasons generally maintain a pretty fair average in Canada at least, and every year almost, croakers miss the mark pretty widely in their forecasts of deficient harvests. The severe weather of last winter however, was very hard on the fall wheat crop, the staple cereal of the country, but in spite of that and in spite of the rainy nature of the past season fall wheat will be about three quarters of a full crop. Spring wheat throughout the province is very little, according to the reports, below an average crop. But the hay crop, which is a most important one to the Ontario farmer, promises an immense yield. Of course the fitful nature of haying weather will operate to injure the quality of hay. Yet it is certain that the total value of the hay crop in Ontario will, in 1883, be far above the average. Taking the crop prospects all around as applied to the usual grains and products raised by the farmers, the outlook is decidedly encouraging. We reproduce below in a tabulated form the promised percentages of yield of twelve different products. The figure of 100 is taken as the standard crop, therefore 90 would be ten per cent below the average, and 110 would be ten per cent. above and so on :—

	Per Cent. of an Average Crop.
Fall wheat	78
Spring wheat	90
Barley	90
Oats	90
Peas	89
Rye	93
Hay	122
Potatoes	95
Corn	74
Roots	93
Apples	64
Other fruit	80

This table gives the average of the reported condition of the crops in every county in Ontario, and from several different sections in the same county, and may be considered as exhaustive a report of the crop probabilities as it is possible to arrive at. If the above table be further simplified, and an average taken of the probable yield of the twelve different crops named in the table, it will be found that the average all around is 90 per cent., so close to a full crop that the country can be congratulated on the prospect of a bountiful harvest. Of course this will depend on no future unfavorable elements, such as storm, drouth, insect pests or other causes, disturbing the present tenor of the crop prospects, while on the other hand favorable weather may improve the outlook.

Forest Preservation.

Apart from the legislation set on foot and carried out by the Ontario Government, their literature is wisely directed towards the supply of an immense amount of practical information that must result in the benefit of the public at large. The Agricultural Commission report is a mine of valuable information, and the latest addition to Government literature, the clever, and it may not be amiss to say, brilliant brochure, the "Report on the Necessity of Preserving and Replanting Forests," by Mr. R. W. Phipps is a happy thought, carried out most happily. Mr. Phipps has thrown around the dry details of statistics a charm of style that makes all work a pleasure to peruse. To give an illustration of his happy style we quote from the opening chapter the first paragraph as follows :

"When the paddles of the Frenchmen first broke the still waters of Toronto Bay, and their canoes grated on the bright beach of sand which then surrounded that harbor, Ontario, from the Detroit to the Ottawa, was under the roof of the forest. It contained at that time, as has been well remarked by one of the best qualified judges in the United States, perhaps the most valuable masses of timber which ever existed in a region of its size. There were hundreds of thousands, nay there were millions of acres of magnificent maples, two feet, three, four feet through, their rugged trunks rising clear, separate, distinct to the lofty arches of the forest, like the pillars of some great cathedral, overshadowing and crushing out by their ponderous vitality all inferior growths, so that below a carriage might have been driven for many miles in any direction unimpeded through the park-like woodland. There were vast sections of beech timber, their clear blue grey stems standing far away in the indefinite perspective of the forest, and here and there reflecting from their shining surface the occasional rays by which the sun was able to penetrate the mass of foliage overhead—great trees—three, or even four, fourteen feet logs to the trunk, a reservoir of plane-wood which would have lasted all the carpenters of the world for a century. There was white oak, which would have ribbed the navies of Europe, and ash sufficient to plank them all to the water-line. There are many perfect works in the forest, there is none more perfect than the white ash. Its shaft, round and perpendicular, sheathed in serrated bark of clear cut channels, unique in their beauty, forms a picture the very axe might be loth to destroy. There were hickory trees by millions, the shaggy outer-covering hanging in strips from the huge red-brown trunks, had kept the world in axe-handles till doomsday. There were miles upon miles—there were hundreds of miles of wide-spreading cedar flats, where the traveller's foot might all day long press the mossy covering of their protruding and gigantic roots, while around him still arose the upright shafts, the curious leaning branches of the most picturesque of trees. There were dark and apparently illimitable forests of hemlock, of which axe and fire have long since found the limit, as the tanners are learning to their cost. There were millions of silver skinned birches, and ironwoods in countless numbers. And above all others in use—above all others in money value, everywhere piercing the hard-wood foliage roof rising to double its height above it; lofty, dense, sombre, fully exposed to, but almost immovable by, the tempest stood in far-spreading masses the giants of the forest—the great Canadian pine."

The work then goes on to point out the dangers of fire to the remaining forest, The scientific aspect of the matter of forest preservation with corroborative evidence from other lands; measures to prevent undue deforesting being taken in other countries, with practical, sensible suggestions as to the action necessary. The report which comprises 138 pages, is full of interest to all, and it is a valuable contribution on the subject of the preservation and restoration of the natural wealth of Canada. The climatic effects of forests upon regular rainfall, the danger of floods and freshets resulting from forest destruction, are graphically dealt with. We cannot spare space we regret for a full review of the work, nor even for more copious extracts, but we shall feel that we are consulting the public interest by borrowing, as we shall do from time to time, extracts from this most valuable and interesting work.

Editorial Notes.

The death is announced of Mr. Thomas S. Wood, father of Hon. S. C. Wood and A. F. Wood, M.P.P. for North Hastings, at the patriarchal age of 93 years.

Count von Moltke, when speaking of the military aspect of the channel tunnel scheme, said : "How to enter England does not trouble me. I know of twenty ways of getting into England, but I don't know of one way to get out."

The banquet in Hamilton in honor of Sir Hector Langevin's visit to that place on Wednesday, where he laid the foundation of the new public building, was a tame affair. Seats were procured for 800 guests, but only 200 were present.

It is reported that Messrs. Blake and Mowat, the Liberal leaders, both of whom are at present in England in connection with Ontario litigation before the Privy Council, will have an informal discussion with the English Liberal leaders as to the Dominion Government's aggressions upon Provincial rights.

It is said that the rainfall in June averaged five inches, being the greatest in any June, with four exceptions, for the last forty-two years. Inasmuch as a square foot of water five inches deep will weigh about 30 lbs., reckoning 43,000 square feet to the acre, the weight of the rainfall in June on each acre would be about 645 tons.

The cotton kings of Quebec have stated that protection has caused over-production, and that the necessary result will be a reduction of the workingmen's wages. If this be true in the cotton trade, why not in the woollen, the iron, and every other industry the N. P. has protected? The breath of life which the vaunted Policy has breathed into those industries, is as likely to become too strong for them as it has for cotton.

The Manitoulin Guide, which has in the past been a Conservative organ, comes out squarely in the present contest in support of the independent candidate, Mr. R. A. Lyon, who has so ably represented Algoma for the past few years. In taking this course the Guide indicates correctly the tendency of the people of the Manitoulin, irrespective of party associations. Mr. Lyon stands a good chance of being re-elected.

It seems that the early reports of the wheat crop in Great Britain have been falsified in the right direction, as, instead of being below the average of last year, it will very likely be above. In France, on the other hand, the crop is almost certain to turn out a failure, the latest reports indicating that the production of wheat is likely to be some seventy or eighty millions of bushels less than last year. France will thus be forced to import wheat for her own consumption.

The election of Healy, the Land League candidate, over Monroe, the Conservative, is significant. County Monaghan, which is said never before to have sent a Catholic representative to Parliament, has always been a Tory stronghold. Therefore the election of Healy, by a large majority, indicates how the people have begun to appreciate the importance of the land question. Healy's election is claimed as a triumph over landlordism.

Premier Norquay is now exceedingly anxious to have a convention of provincial delegates to discuss the revision of the British North America Act, "with a view to secure greater harmony in legislative jurisdiction in the federal and provincial legislatures respectively, and also such re-arrangement of the sources of revenue as will render a uniform basis upon which subsidies are granted to the provinces." We quote from a resolution which he proposed and had passed in the Manitoba Legislature.

During a recent debate in the Imperial Commons it was showed by Sir Lyon Playfair that out of 17,000,000 cases of vaccination, it was doubtful if disease had been produced in four cases; that small-pox was one of the most fatal as well as hideous of diseases; that the rate of mortality before vaccination was introduced was 3,000 per million, and is now 156 per million; and that if sanitation had anything to do with the matter, it would have affected other diseases equally which it has not done. He quoted also the awful mortality caused by small-pox in 1870 in the French Army among the Breton soldiers, whom there was no time to revaccinate.

Prof. Goldwin Smith thinks the usefulness of the Canadian Senate is gone. In his last Bystander he says : "Do not the men of ability whom the Senate contains see that their chamber, if it remains unreformed, is doomed? It is doomed unless the Canadian people fall into dotage. Out of seventy-two senators, fifty-three now owe their appointments to a single politician, and a politician who appoints, and perhaps by the very structure of the combination which he leads is compelled to appoint, on the narrowest party grounds. There is no parallel to this in the political world. The Bystander is not a believer in a second chamber.

The settlement of the Andrew Mercer case, in Toronto, in which the Ontario Government assumed possession of the estate of the late Andrew Mercer, who died without heirs, is now, on appeal, before the Privy Council in England. The Tory press, which, following its political leaders, is always antagonistic to the rights and interests of Ontario, asserts that not Ontario, but the Dominion, is entitled to the estate. The facts seem to be that the Provincial Government has control of all Crown lands, and, therefore, of lands otherwise without an owner. If the Province can give valid titles to land, it seems plain that it can legally claim the reversion of property which, by the owner dying intestate, has no owner. However, thanks to Mr. Mowat, the matter will be speedily settled by the Privy Council.

The annexation schemes of France have seldom been wise, and her latest projects in Tonquin and Madagascar seem to have been particularly injudicious; but despite all this, the craving of the Republic for more colonies has now led to the annexation of the New Hebrides. British subjects in the Pacific are sensitive about the movements of the French, Italians and Germans on neighboring islands, and they could bring a good deal of influence to bear on the Home Government in favor of checking the ambitious schemes of the French. They will be more sensitive now that the English Ministry have refused to sanction the annexation of New-Guinea. That same refusal, however, leaves Mr. Gladstone in an advantageous position in case he does see fit to interfere with this little game of the French.

The Review is hard to please. In face of the decision of the Privy Council, it cannot deny the legal right of the Ontario Government to take possession of the Mercer estate. But it says that a rich province like Ontario should have given the estate to the son, even though he could not prove his legitimacy. In effect the Review argues in favor of the disregard of the social safeguard set up by maintaining the sacredness of the marriage relation. If our cotem. can, for the sake of a fling at Mr. Mowat, thus flout the decision of the Privy Council and advocate the extension of the rights of inheritance to the offspring of social unions unsanctified by wedlock, one need not be surprised to see the Review advocate free-love, if by so doing it fancies it can injure a political opponent.

The Cobourg World and the Review are at daggers drawn in respect of the Mousseau matter. The Review beats about the bush and assumes as its opponent alleges, falsely, that the World withdrew certain charges made in the initial stages of the controversy. In its last issue the World thus speaks of the local quibbler :—"And if the paltry scribbler in the Review really fancies he 'forced us to withdraw' that charge, we here and now deliberately make it again; and we challenge him to argue just that point. But he won't touch it! He had rather get off his diurnal sickly crow about his exploit, without ever coming to the real question; and weep and howl about other people's "abuse," while he himself is the greatest journalistic reviler this moment out of [illegible]. It always excepting the proprietor-editor of the Toronto Mail. We think the best thing to be done by the Peterborough Review is to cable for its responsible editor." The last sentence is a home thrust, and the unkindest cut of all.

There can be no doubt that Sir Charles Tupper, in accepting the position of High Commissioner to England, cannot legally hold the office of minister of Railways in the Government, or his seat in Parliament. The Independence of Parliament act is explicit enough on this point. That act was first passed in 1868, and the clause wholly relating to the subject was amended in 1871 and reads as follows :—

"No person accepting or holding any office, commission, or employment, permanent or temporary, in the service of the Government of Canada, and the nomination of the Crown, to which an annual salary or any fee, allowance, or emolument or profit of any kind or amount whatever from the Crown, is attached, shall be eligible as a member of the house of commons, nor shall he sit or vote in the same during the time he hold such commission or employment."

This is sufficiently clear, but another section goes even farther, and provides that if any member of the House of Commons, by accepting any office, becomes disqualified by law to continue to sit or vote and the seat shall be vacated.

PROGRESS ON THE PACIFIC RAILWAY.

Mr. W. B. Smellie, consulting engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who has just returned to Montreal from a visit to the Lake Superior section of the line, says :—The track layers are now 95 miles west of Callander, the grading beyond that point is well advanced, and the rails will be laid to Sudbury Junction—at the 100th mile—by the end of September, and to 25 miles west of the junction by the end of the season. There are some heavy river crossings on this section. The bridges will be of stone and iron of the most substantial character. On the Algoma branch the track is laid 30 miles eastward from Lake Huron. Grading is fairly advanced, and with the additional labour that will soon be on the ground, the laying of rails will proceed uninterruptedly to Sudbury, reaching that point by the end of the season. The whole of the main line, from the junction of the Algoma branch westward to Napigon, is now occupied by surveying parties, and the work of construction will proceed rapidly. The track is laid east from Port Arthur for about 25 miles, and the east grading is well advanced, and we expect to have at least 100 miles of track laid on that portion by the close of the year. It is 650 miles from Callander to Port Arthur. With 225 miles of track laid at the end of the year, the beginning of 1884 will find us with 425 miles to complete in the section, and that will then be the only gap between Montreal and summit of Rock Mountains.

A London cablegram says : The Canadian exhibit at the Royal Agricultural Society, York, is far in advance of any similar display ever seen in this country. It was specially inspected yesterday by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, who, during his visit to the show, expressed great satisfaction, saying the visit was most instructive and interesting. He specially noticed the specimens of coal from the Northwest as removing all doubts as to the future developement of the country.

WHY?

There are many reasons why H. LeBRUN, of the City Clothing Store, has now the confidence of the public, and some of them may be briefly stated.

FIRST.

The firm has a business experience extending over ten years.

SECOND.

The Establishment is the largest in town, and the stock the most extensive.

THIRD.

The City Clothing Store sets the prices, which are always lower than any other house in Peterborough.

FOURTH.

The styles are always correct, for the reason that MR. LeBRUN employs none but the most skilful workmen.

FIFTH.

The fit, finish and durability of every garment made is perfect, because all the details of the business come under the minutest inspection.

SIXTH.

H. LeBRUN, City Clothing, Store never allows a customer to go unless they are satisfied. The good reputation of the firm will be sustained in the selection he has made.

BOYS' SUITS.—The largest and best assorted stock of Boys and Children's Clothing ever shown in town at very low prices. TWEEDS for Children's suitings very cheap, and cut free of charge.

THE REGISTRARSHIP STILL UNAWARDED

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Truth is a SOLID FACT, more solid than the granite rock; it is the richest coin of the purest metal, free from alloy of every description, the shaft of envy will not deface it, neither will the shots of prejudice enter it. It is surrounded on all sides by a thousand foes; but each and all, without exception, are mute beneath its piercing glance. It is a fact, as cold as the above, that

W. J. DEVLIN'S

Reputation as the leading harness maker of Peterborough, is as immovably and assuredly established as the Rock of Ages. The Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

ONEIDA.

The Waverley Knitting Factory By-law was voted on last Monday. The result showed 22 for and 18 against the scheme. The law requires that two-fifths of all entitled to vote should do so. The number on the Oneoeee voters' list, legally qualified to vote is 115. 46 voters were necessary, and only 40 were polled.

HASTINGS.

Mr. T. Grady purchased J. Kelleher's farm for $3,600.

About sixty Italian navvies arrived here by train last Thursday en route for Norwood.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson was inducted into the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church of this village last Thursday.

NORWOOD.

A young man named Welsh, of Dummer, while repairing a barn last week, fell off a ladder and broke one of his legs.

A young man named Rusaw, of Dummer, met with a sad accident on Saturday last. It appears that he was engaged in felling a tree, and that as the the tree was descending it struck him on the head and shoulders, rendering him insensible. He is hardly expected to recover.

CAMPBELLFORD.

A laundry is to be opened here soon.

The contract for building the new chancel and tower of the English Church has been awarded.

Mr. D. Johnston of Seymour township, sold a short-horn bull calf, on Thursday last, to Mr. Empey of Madoc. The animal is three months old, and was disposed of at $70.

Mr. Burr, the unfortunate man who was so terribly cut by a saw in Gilmour & Co's saw mill, last week, passed away to the other world on Wednesday. night 10 o'clock. He lived just 30 hours after the accident.

COBOURG.

On Tuesday morning between three and four hundred left Cobourg station on the excursion to Toronto and the Falls.

On Tuesday morning about one o'clock some scoundrel set fire to the driving shed in the rear of the Presbyterian Church, expecting, we suppose, to enjoy a night's excitement. The alarm called out the brigade, and the fire was quenched in a few minutes. The damage will amount to less than five dollars.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week, a sad accident occurred on the farm of Mr. Robert Johnston, near Baltimore, by which his son James, aged 12 years and 9 months, lost his life. He was assisting in the hay mow, and got in the rear of the man who was pitching. Not knowing he was there, the latter swung a fork full of hay, and in the turning motion accidentally struck the boy in the temple with one of the prongs of the fork. The iron must have entered the brain, for he became insensible, and died in about half an hour

A little Cobourg seven year old son of Mr. Robert Walton, got on board the lightning express, at Cobourg, to go to the circus at Port Hope, but this train don't stop there, and he was carried through to Toronto, where the mistake was discovered and the little fellow sent back.

PORT HOPE.

On Thursday morning two incendiaries were caught in the very act of setting fire to a wooden building by constable Rankin, and arrested. Their names are McCallum and O'Downes.

Mr. H. Elliott, stock buyer, shipped three hundred fine sheep on Monday for the English market.

About three o'clock last Monday afternoon, Mr. Curtis, mother of Mr. John Curtis, Brown street, was thrown from a buggy opposite her son's residence; her right hip was broken in two places and her left leg at the ankle. "It will go hard with the old lady—she is 72 years of age.

The Midland railway shops at Uxbridge have been removed to Port Hope. This will largely increase the staff of employees there. This action has been taken by the company in the interest of economy. Mayor Hugel, says the Guide, is jubilant over it.

The committee having the Ross monument in hand are anxious to complete arrangements for a monument at as early a date as possible. Those who have collected subscriptions and not yet made their returns to the secretary are requested to do so at once. The books and money can be left with Mr. Geo. Furby.

LINDSAY.

The council on Monday night was the first sitting held under the gas light.

Lindsay is to make an effort to get beyond the status of a one-horse town. The street watering cart is to be drawn hereafter by two horses.

The prospects that a Central exhibition will be held in Lindsay this fall are good, says the Post. The deputation who were appinted to receive subscriptions to a guarantee fund have succeeded very well and over $600 was collected in town alone.

On Wednesday a number of lots, just off William-st., in the south ward, were purchased by the Midland Railway. These lots will be laid out for the necessary switches, side tracks and other rail pieces necessary for handling traffic. In the neighborhood of these lots the new station will stand—when built.

We are informed that Mr. Hugh O'Leary has received a letter from the acting Deputy Minister of Justice at Ottawa stating that a free pardon had been issued in the case of Matthew McCrea of Haliburton, tried at the spring assizes here on a charge of rape. The pardon was issued on the report of Chief Justice Wilson, who tried the case.—Post.

A good deal of enquiry has been made as to why Barnum's great circus did not visit Lindsay nor call at Peterborough. The omission of these towns from the route as well as several places north on the line of the Midland is accounted for, says the Post, on the basis that Mr. Cox asked $3,000 as the price for haulage, use of line, etc., over the line from Toronto to Belleville. The circus company refused, it is said, to pay that amount and offered $2,450. It is evident that terms could not be agreed on as the circus did not show outside of towns on the Grand Trunk. On the other hand there reposes in the pockets of the yeomanry about $5,000 which would have been carried away. Perhaps, after all, Mr. Cox understands what this district needs.

NORTH-WESTERN ONTARIO.

Ontario Officials in Undisturbed Possession—Relinquishing a Manitoban Charter.

A Rat Portage despatch says: While there is much excitement in Winnipeg over Ontario's taking possession, the utmost quietude reigns here. No lumber seizure has yet been made, but on Monday it was deemed desirable by the magistracy to swear in thirty special constables in view of possible contingencies. They were dismissed last night, and it is not likely they will be again required. No further movement has been attempted by the Norquay Government, and their licenses issued a week before the revocation of the Public Works Act here, and not paid for by the recipients, are regarded as useless. The Ontario licenses will be issued this week. Three local commissioners and an inspector have been appointed. The Council, acting under a Manitoba charter of incorporation, say they are ready to resign and reorganize under Ontario if the latter Province will assume all their legitimate indebtedness incurred since their formation last year. The amount, which is said to be in the neighborhood of $2,000, was principally incurred during the smallpox visitation last winter. The feeling of the people generally is excellent, but a few hot Tories, interested in timber dealing and land granting, would create a disturbance if they saw any chance of success. Some of the statements in the Winnipeg papers about affairs here are ludicrous from their untruthfulness and sensationalism.

THE MERCER ESCHEAT CASE.

THE DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT REVERSED.

In the Mercer appeal case on Wednesday, before the judicial committee of the Privy Council, London, England, the Lord Chancellor reversed the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada. The contention of the Ontario Government was, that it was constitutionally empowered to escheat the property of the late Mr. Mercer, who died without making a will and without heirs, as representing the crown in Ontario, while the Dominion Government contended that it and not the Ontario Government was the representative of the Crown, and that the property had therefore escheated to it. The case was very ably argued on both sides, and both the arguments and the judgment elicited considerable interest from the bar in London.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

Below is the result of the election petition trial so far, the names being of those who have been confirmed in their seats: Elgin East—Ermatinger C.; Elgin West—Cascaden L.; Wentworth S—Awrey, L.; Victoria S—McIntyre, L.; Hastings E—Hudson, C. To this list may be added as almost certain: Welland—Morin, L.; Renfrew N—Murray, L. Thus out of seven contested elections so far five Liberals are confirmed in their seats to two Conservatives. This may be accepted as a pretty good indication of how the protest business is going to result. —Ottawa Free Press.

THE HANLAN ROSS RACE.

A WALK OVER FOR THE CANADIAN CHAMPION.

Colonel Ross the Rudest.

The scull race between Edward Hanlan and Wallace Ross, at Odensburg last Monday for $1,500 stakes and a purse of $2,000, was won by Hanlan with the greatest ease. The race was rowed in the St. Lawrence river opposite Ogdensburg, and was over a four mile course, two miles with turn.

The race was a perfectlyfair and square one. The morning broke with a stiff breeze blowing and a lowering sky, and the prospects were decidedly unfavorable almost up to the last minute for a race. Nearly were in town by noon, and the abundance of Hanlan's colors and scarcity of those of Ross was noticeable. Canadians and Ogdensburghers alike seemed to favor Hanlan.

At three o'clock the referee's boat steamed over the course, and the water being found very lumpy, returned to the wharf.

About six o'clock the referee went over the course again, and on his return notified the two scullers to and be in readiness. Both men looked in superb condition as they drew into line about 6.50. Ross won the toss and chose the outside position.

COME TO THE STARTING POINT

Hanlan wore his colors, red cap and blue shirt, and Ross was in white. The was noticeable, Ross being much the largest and heaviest. Both rowed in shells built in Boston, which they had used in other races this season. John E. Eustis, of the Atlanta Boat Club of New York, was referee; John H. Davis judge for Hanlan, and C. E. Courtney to whom Hanlan strongly objected, judge for Ross.

DISPARITY IN SIZE

It was just 6.50 o'clock when the word was given. The water was in a fair rowing condition, but could not be considered. Both caught the water together, and rowed along almost even to the quarter, Hanlan's bow tip being a few inches ahead. Hanlan made the

"GO"

FIRST HALF MILE

in 3 minutes, 15 seconds, and was evidently slowly but surely forging ahead of the St. John man. The stroke, which was 34 for Hanlan and 30 for Ross, was lowered to 29 and 28 at the three-quarters, at which point Hanlan had nearly a length lead. Hanlan made the in 7 minutes, 58 seconds, with 3 lengths to the good.

About here Hanlan stopped for a second and then skimmed along swiftly to the turn, increasing his lead at every stroke. Both rowed 28 up to the

TURNING POINT.

Hanlan took seven seconds to make a very pretty swing, while it took Ross twenty-four seconds to get around his mark. Hanlan made the in 14 minutes, 12½ seconds, Ross taking 14 minutes, 51 seconds to come the distance. The return was a mere procession. When Ross finally straightened out Hanlan was very nearly.

TWO MILES

AN EIGHTH OF A MILE AHEAD, and he called out to the referee's boat to come nearer, that he was getting lonesome. Hanlan made the

TWO AND A HALF MILES

in 17 minutes 34 seconds, and slowed up at the flag to take a drink. He covered the in 20 minutes, 29 seconds, and rowed along with an easy stroke of 28, gaining considerably all the time.

THREE MILES

At this point Ross appeared to be a little pumped, while Hanlan was as fresh as a daisy. The fourth mile was only a repetition of the third, and Hanlan made the

THREE AND A HALF MILES

in 23 minutes 38 seconds, and slipped by the finish the winner by very nearly a QUARTER OF A MILE,

in the quick time of 27 minutes and 57½ seconds. Ross' time was 28 minutes 45 seconds. Hanlan thus beats the record.

After the race Hanlan made a speech, in which he said he could have beaten the record by more than a minute if it had not been for the wash of a steamer and the rough water, which made the course a minute slower. There was not much betting, and what was done was at four and five to one on Hanlan.

A GENEROUS VICTOR.

An interesting scene took place at Mr. J. P. Wiser's stock farm at Prescott on Thursday last. A number of gentlemen spent the morning going over the farm with Ross and Hanlan, and seeing Mr. Wiser's celebrated stock of trotters and thoroughbred cattle. Luncheon followed the ramble. Over the biscuits and wine the conversation naturally turned on the race of the day before. Hanlan said he entertained the greatest respect for Ross, that he had always given him the hardest races he had rowed—it came at last—and that he had proved a plucky opponent. In proof of the esteem in which he held the New Brunswicker, he would make him a present of one-third of the stakes, amounting to $666.66⅔. Capt. John Turner, of Toronto, then said he thought they should make the amount up to a thousand. He would give twenty-five. Mr. John Davis, of Windsor, Mr. Wiser and other gentlemen present agreed with Captain Turner, and the round sum was made up. Ross, in accepting the present, said it was true that he was never so badly beaten as now, both as a rowing man and financially. He would consequently accept the present in the spirit in which it was given and with a deep sense of gratitude.

A TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION.

THREE JUTE VESSELS DESTROYED AND NINE FIREMEN ROASTED ALIVE. FIVE PERSONS DROWNED.

Early Tuesday morning an explosion set fire to a pile of jute, in Brooklyn N. Y. Three Calcutta ships caught fire. The crew jumped overboard. The roof burning, the stone-house caved upon a dozen firemen. All were burned or bruised. Nine were killed. The captain of one vessels, his wife and three children, were reported drowned

GETTING INTO SOCIETY.

A young woman near Tory, New York, recently joined the Episcopal Church for the purpose of "getting into society." On her way to church on Easter morning, where they were greeting each other with "The Lord is risen!" the reply being, "He is indeed!" she was surprised to receive from a gentleman friend, instead of the usual "good morning," a grave look, with the words, "The Lord is risen!" she replied: "You don't tell me!" and passed on, soon to meet another friend, who saluted her with, "The Lord is risen!" "Yes she smilingly replied, "so Mr. Smith just told me."

GRIST MILLS,

NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

Remember the Mills, opposite the Union School Buildings, Colborne St., Norwood.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 26, 1883.

The Andrew Mercer Case.

The celebrated Mercer case has been decided by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in favour of the Province of Ontario. A brief history of the case may not be without interest to our readers. This case arose out of the death of Andrew Mercer, of Toronto, in 1871. Dying intestate and without heirs, the property was taken possession of by the late Attorney-General Macdonald, on behalf of the Province, but every facility was allowed claimants to the estate both in England and Canada, to make valid their claims. The latter failing to do so to the satisfaction of the Courts, the estate escheated to the crown as represented by Ontario. In 1878 application was made by the Attorney-General of this Province, as representative of the Crown, to the Court of Chancery, for possession. The demurrer entered by Andrew F. Mercer was over-ruled by Vice-Chancellor Proudfoot. This decision was appealed against on the ground, chiefly, that if the property really escheated to the Crown from absence of heirs, the property should revert to the Dominion and not to this Province. This plea was decided against by the Ontario Court of Appeal, which unanimously held that property escheating to the Crown reverted to the Province of Ontario. The case was next carried to the Supreme Court on appeal from the decision of the Ontario Court of Appeal, on the ground previously taken by the appellants. By a majority of four out of the six judges the decision of the Ontario Court of Appeal was reversed. Mr. Mowat, strong in his convictions as to the rights of this Province, and with his usual determination to see that the Province for whose interests he acted should receive justice, carried the case to the foot of the Throne. The appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council was argued by Hon. Mr. Mowat, on behalf of the Province of Ontario, and on Wednesday last judgment was pronounced in favour of Ontario. In dealing with this case, and in the carrying of it to a successful issue, a large share of the honor belongs to Mr. Mowat. He has conscientiously devoted time and study to it through all its stages, and he went to England especially to take charge of it before the Privy Council. While he might be gratified naturally with the personal triumph involved in the success of the appeal, we are sure that Mr. Mowat's gratification is felt on far higher grounds. He has fought and won the battle of the rights of this Province against one of the multiform phases of aggression against Provincial rights, which have assailed it. If at the bottom of the popular heart there has been any weakening of confidence in Mr. Mowat, as the Tories claim by the result of the late elections, this triumph, due so largely to Mr. Mowat's untiring perseverance and energy on behalf of the Province, will restore the alleged lost ground. The decided action of his Government in dealing, after mature consideration, with the Disputed Boundary Problem, is another instance that in Mr. Mowat, the Province of Ontario has reason to be proud of a guardian so capable and ready to stand up against the most discouraging odds in favor of the rights of the Province whose interests are entrusted to him.

Mrs. H. H. Smith and son have sailed for England, where they will join Mr. Smith. They may be expected home when this cruel protest war is over.

The Telegrapher's Strike.

On Thursday last the thousands of operators employed at telegraphic work struck at noon, and the greatest derangement in newspaper and commercial circles at once ensued. The strikers comprise the operating staffs of all the principal telegraph lines in the United States and Canada, and are members of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers. The demands of the Canadian strikers have been made by the following scale:—

"An advance of 10 per cent. on salaries of $65 a month and upwards; of 15 per cent. on salaries from $45 to $65; of 20 per cent. on those from $26 to $45; and no salary shall be less than $35 a month. The salaries at present paid range from $10 a month to $70. The latter figure is paid only to operators of the very best class. The average salary paid all over Canada is about $37 a month. Salaries in the States are very much better, ranging from $120 a month downwards. Canadians going across the border, if good operators, received $80 and $75 a month without difficulty. Female operators in Canada receive from $30 to $40 a month. They are united with the men in the strike, the men stipulating for the same concessions to them."

One point noticeable in the demand is the perfectly proper one that female operators should receive the same pay for the same work as men. Of the justice of the demands of the strikers, the latter claim, we understand, that they are over-worked and under-paid, while the telegraph companies are making enormous dividends on enormously watered stock. How long the strike will stand is uncertain. The officials say that they can supply the places of the strikers, and the latter say that with the help of the various labour organizations, who will naturally stand by them, they will be enabled to hold out for a long time. In general the strikers have acted temperately, and by their moderate course elicited public sympathy.

The Late Mossom Boyd.

It is with deep regret that we chronicle, in the person of Mossom Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, the death of one of the oldest, most energetic and most respected pioneers of the Midland District. Mr. Boyd came from Londonderry, Ireland, when about eighteen years of age. His father was a general officer in the British Army. He settled in Bobcaygeon, of which he has been practically a resident ever since, though he resided a short time in Peterborough. He was married twice, the first time to Miss Dunsford, and the second time to an Irish lady, daughter of a naval officer. Mr. Boyd was actively engaged in the lumber business, and he was known as an enterprising member of that bustling class, not only in the Midland District, but throughout Canada. He may be called the founder and builder of Bobcaygeon, of which he owned a large portion, and of which his handsome residence is the chief ornament. He was essentially a worker, and kept in harness till within a few months of his death. His death was caused by an affection of the brain, induced, it is assumed, by over attention to business. In the death of Mr. Boyd the community loses one of the most pushing and energetic of that sturdy class of pioneers whose enterprise and ceaseless endeavor have contributed to convert the wilderness into a thriving panorama of well tilled, waving acres, dotted thickly with the sites of busy manufacturing industries. In politics he was a Conservative.

Dominion Centennial Exhibition.

We have received, with pleasure, the prize list of the Dominion and Centennial Exhibition to be held in St. John, New Brunswick, next fall, from October 2nd to the 5th, inclusive. This enterprise has for its object the commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the landing of the loyalists, by a grand Dominion and Centennial Exhibition, and the completest preparations have been made. A fine suite of the necessary buildings has been provided. Passengers and freights will be conveyed by rail to the buildings, the Intercolonial railway passing almost around the grounds, at its deep water terminus, and the grounds adjoin the sea shore—the Bay of Fundy. This exhibition should be a great success. Apart from the sentimental considerations involved in the centennial of the landing of the loyalists, the impetus which it will give to inter-provincial trade should arouse the sympathy of every Canadian. The success of efforts to promote the trade between the Provinces includes to no small extent the success of the Confederation. From their peculiar position the Maritime Provinces have not shared as fully in inter-provincial intercourse as the other Provinces. The National Policy has failed to develop inter-provincial trade, as was expected by its advocates. Parliament has thought the matter worthy of special attention, yet nothing will tend more strongly to establish a permanent exchange of commodities between the Maratime and the other Provinces like the personal intercourse and visible display and comparison of products, such as this Exhibition will offer an opportunity of doing. Our brethren by the "sounding sea" have acquired the habit of trading with the United States, and commercial, as well as personal habits, are hard to overcome. But a practical demonstration on the part of Ontario, especially, by the exhibition of our manufactures, will show the commercial communities concerned how much to their interest it will be to promote a more extensive interchange of their respective commodities and products. We hope the manufacturers of Ontario will take advantage of the Dominion Centennial Exhibition to advertise their wares and develop new avenues of trade. All requisite information can be procured by addressing the secretary, Julius L. Inches, St. John, N. B.

Editorial Notes.

The Queen has forwarded an autograph congratulation to the Lord Mayor of London on the receipt of £5,000 given in behalf of the London sufferers by the recent flood.

The editor of the Mail is doing yeoman's service for the Liberal party. We hope that the rumour that he is going to be appointed to a position in the Marine and Fishery Department, Ottawa, is unfounded.

The Sun, Winnipeg, has recently published an extensive crop report from various parts of the Province. The prospects are excellent for an abundant harvest, according to this report. Taking into consideration all the different localities from which accounts were received, the average yield of wheat is expected to be about 20 bushels to the acre, oats 57, and barley 40.

The Ottawa Free Press adduces the following facts in order to show how the Dominion Government encourages agriculture and helps the farmer: In 1878 wool was worth 29 cents; in 1883 it is worth only 18 cents! In 1878 the tax on agricultural implements was 17½ per cent; in 1883 it is 35 per cent! Thus the farmers suffer a decrease of 11 cents on their wool, and an increase of 17½ per cent, on the cost of their implements!

The people of the Western United States are having great success with the high license system as an agency for the restriction of the strong drink traffic. In Nebraska the license ranges from $1,000 to $500 per year, according to the population of the town where a license is granted. The licenses for lager beer are less that for other drinks, and the result is an increasing consumption of the diluted lager, and a smaller demand for the deadly whiskey.

Lord Dufferin at a banquet by the London Empire Club referred in the most complementary terms to Canada. He said he believed that before the close of the next century the population of Canada would be forty millions. He also believed the English people were becoming more aware of the feeling of attachment towards the Mother Country existing in the colonies, and would never permit the Government to repeat the errors by which they had lost the United States of America.

A cotton manufacturer dilated eloquently in Montreal recently on what the N.P. was going to accomplish for Canadian manufacturers. It is a common sense remark:—"I believe in manufacturing our own cotton, but I never believed in the protection that was given to it. We never required it. The result is over-production, and we have now to face undue competition. By-and-by we must cut down workingmen's wages to earn anything at all, and then there will be a row. This will be the inevitable result of the present policy.

If Sir John Macdonald continues to reward tenth-rate lawyers by making them Q. C.'s, really good lawyers will soon begin to congratulate themselves on the fact that so far they have escaped being dubbed Queen's Counsel. Another batch or two like the last, and it will be a positive injury to a lawyer in his profession to have Q. C. to his name. We have some good Tory lawyers in Peterborough, who stand head and shoulders over most of those who have been made, and we congratulate them on their escape. The only redeeming feature in the last batch is a negative one. The name of John A. Macdonnell, of Toronto, the hero of the attempt to buy the Catholic vote of Ontario by a paltry bribe, is not in the list. Mr. Macdonnell owes his escape, no doubt, to the fact that he belongs to a denomination of Christians concerning which Sir John said that he "had no confidence in the breed."

The Tory politicians and press maintain with great insistence that reference to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council is the only proper way to settle the Disputed Boundary question. Very well, if the Dominion Government—otherwise the Tory party—thinks that is the right course, let it be pursued. Ontario is satisfied, as one of the parties that consented to leave the matter to arbitration, with the formal and final award of the arbitrators. On the strength of that, and on the persistent refusal of the Dominion Government to accept the award, Ontario has taken possession of the Disputed Territory, and is giving it a vigorous administration. This Province has now peaceable possession, and if the Dominion believes that the claim of the Province, as asserted, is not valid, it is at liberty to make an appeal to the Privy Council. The burden of proof rests with it.
